Many have called out to Me, asking questions about your future. You have asked Me about this thing and that thing, wondering what you are to do next in My name. I have these words to speak to you on this subject: The enemy would have you fretting about your present position. He would have you wringing your hands, wondering if you are presently in the will of your Father. I will tell you this, beloved: If you are seeking Me, spending time with Me, and reading My word, you are in My will. If you are following the edicts of My word to the best of your ability, looking to Me for the reassurance of heart that you crave, you are in My will. If you are following the path that I have set before you, looking to Me to carry you through all circumstances that arise, you are in My will. If you are seeking Me on a daily basis, calling out words of love and encouragement to Me about My work that is shining forth in you and in others, you are in My will. You say, “But, Lord, is there not some task that You are requiring of Me in this hour. Don’t You want Me to go forth teaching and preaching Your word on the streets and in the market place?” I certainly do want you to do this, beloved, but before I send you out, I am preparing you for all that I am calling you to do. You see, beloved, this is a most unusual hour to be alive. This is a most unusual hour to walk in My truth, because I am doing a preparing work in your hearts. I am realigning your thought processes. I am changing you within to match up with My will for you. I am doing a work of establishing you in a certain place for this coming hour. Yes! I am calling you to the highways and the byways for ACTION! But first, I have some things that I want to do in your heart of hearts. I have some things that I wish to correct, and also there is some power to be given to those hearts about which I will need to teach you.

Be reassured, beloved. I am at work. I do have a plan. I am extending a new hour to you when you will walk in a new hope in Me. I am eager to see you grow stronger with each passing day. My intent is to cause man’s system to plummet, and establish My own. You will play an important role in this process – a very important role! So get your hearts ready to receive all that the Beloved has for you – all the strengthening power. All the necessary requirements are being lined up to My specifications, and you will know GREAT success – the GREATEST success in the coming hour.

Now for My explosive words: I have called you, My beloved children, to walk in a new hope in Me. I have made ALL the necessary arrangements for this walk. I want you ready, for the hour is surely coming forth when you will march forward into great splendor and beauty. You will be My shining ones. You will be equipped within to pronounce truths, in the hearing of ALL men, that will establish your destiny. You will be equipped to move forward with the excellence of your God sustaining you, fortifying you, and giving to you the reassurance of heart that you so desire.

I want you to know that man will look on this coming work aghast. Man will look on this coming work and shake his head in disapproval. You must maintain your stance. You must keep going, looking to the Author and Finisher of your faith to bring forth His most perfect will.

There will be a season when the world’s system will rock until it crashes with a LOUD noise, but you, beloved, must pay that crash no heed. You must maintain your focus. You must continue looking to Me to surround you with My glorious presence, and maintain your focus on Me and My will that is shining forth. I want you to know, dear child, that you are in a protected place when you are in Me – a wonderfully secure place. I want you to know that the enemy cannot touch you when you are in this secure place. I want you to know that the lies of the enemy will bounce off you when you are close to Me, looking to Me to remedy the world's situation, according to My most extraordinary expertise.

Yes, rough times lie ahead for the world. Rough times lie ahead for all who look to the world for their security. But you know that your security lies in the Beloved, and His plans are sufficient to encompass you and all your endeavors that He asks of you. I want you to know that the time is surely upon the world when explosions will be a byword – a word that is on the lips of every person alive. There will be explosions in places that have never before known them. Explosions! Explosions! Explosions will be all around, but know this: The only explosions that I want you looking at, My beloved children, are the explosions that I am causing in hearts. For I am about to cause some explosions in hearts, and I am equipping you to go into those areas of devastation and speak life over them. Will you do this? Will you keep your focus on Me, and do My bidding in this area? This, beloved, will bring forth the harvest of all harvests. This is the season of a great harvest, shining forth on the face of the earth. This is the season when My beloved children will shine forth My will in their lives, as they go about speaking My wonderful words with authority and power. You are about to see some things, beloved. You are about to see some things that will cause rancor in the troops, but be not dismayed. Keep your focus on Me and you will know great prosperity of heart. You will know the will of your God from a wonderfully new vantage point, and you will speak with the authority of your great and passionate God, the oracles of justice that He is putting within you for this final hour.

So be prepared to speak explosive words on My behalf. Be prepared to speak them no matter what is going on around you. Many will jeer and sneer at you, dear child, but you will be safe from their insults, for you will be in Me – locked in that wondrous place in My heart – that secure place of love and trust in the Almighty and His plans.

I have declared to you this day some words of truth. I want you to know that they are coming forth by My hand. I want you to know that many will look on the scenes that are about to be displayed aghast, but you, dear child, must keep your focus on Me. You must rise above what you see, and keep your focus on the Beloved. You must be open to speaking My words of truth, realizing that they will promote the will of your God in the masses.

I have called you to come with Me into a new season of hope. The world will not see it as such, but you will see it – you will recognize My hand in all that is coming forth, and you will bow down to Me in reverent awe for what I am presenting. I am equipping you for that hour. Stay in Me. Keep your focus on Me in the days ahead. Practice this task, beloved, for in so doing, you will be strengthened for all that lies ahead. Right now let that be your objective – seeking the Beloved, staying in His Word – abiding in His presence. This is a place of strength and fortification. This is where you need to be at this moment. Rest there until further notice. Rest there until I give you the signal to move, and know deep within that I have called you to participate in this hour equipped and fortified with strength from on high to reveal My goodness – My goodness to all who will receive with a thankful and contrite heart.

I Send You
Mary Clark

June 15, 2004
John 20:21 Jesus therefore said to them again, "Peace be with you; as the Father has sent Me, I also send you."

In a vision, someone passed me the gold-colored container in which the communion cups are served. I lifted the lid, and saw the little cups with juice in them. The juice was fizzing. Why did You show this to me, Lord?

I am calling My children into a new and holy dimension. I want you to know Me – really know Me. I want you to stand for My truth in all that you do. The time is coming, beloved, when familiar things will take on a new look. No more will it be business as usual. No more will you walk without an understanding of My will for you, for you are hungering and thirsting after Me and for My will to be fulfilled in your life.

I want you to stand fast in your calling. I want you to see My will and embrace it. I want you declaring your allegiance to Me at every turn. No more will My children be slaves to sin, for I have freed them. I have given them a divine hope in Me and in My cause that will thrill their hearts.

I am calling you, My beloved, into a new dimension. Things will take on a new look – a powerful look – a look that can only be identified as heavenly. When this occurs, many will be frantic with worry. They will wring their hands. They will pace back and forth. They will be looking to man to justify what is happening. They just will not be able to reconcile what they see with the life that they once knew. But you, My beloved, must hear these words and act on these words. When you see this new and coming dimension of the glory of your God in your midst, you must remain steadfast in your walk. You must keep your focus on Me. You must not veer off the given path. You must accept My ways, acknowledge My goodness, and follow intently the course that I have put before you. I am not calling you into a place of upheaval. I am calling you into a place of rest and security in Me. Trust Me. Trust in My divine intervention on your part. Trust Me to secure you in that place of peace and rest in My heart. Just maintain your focus, beloved, for there is strength in this place – mighty strength.

Let Me tell you this, too: The occurrences that will soon be displayed upon the face of the earth will get the attention of all. Many will not like what they see. Many will look to the world for a solution. But this is what I want you to know about what is to come: When you gather together to meet with Me, I will be demonstrating My ways to you in many profound styles. You will be an insider, beloved, in the work of your God. Don't get smug about this wonder that I will be working in your midst. Know that you are a chosen one of the Almighty, and I am showing you many unusual sights, but all that I am showing you – all that I am doing – is for a good reason. I am demonstrating My strength and power to you in order for you to take a stand publicly that you would not ordinarily be able to take. I am equipping you, fortifying you with strength during these times of coming together. I am showing you many unusual sights that will make you marvel. You will be so delightfully surprised at what I am showing you.

Yes! I am about to make a mighty breakthrough in the midst of My children. This breakthrough will enable you to see My mighty hand at work in your midst. I want you to know that this is a part of the equipping – the strengthening – that I have for you. Rich power will flow in your meetings. Lap it up. It is for you. It is for you to take out and give publicly. Give it freely. Give it to any who ask. For this is the plan that I am unfolding for you. This is part of the plan that you will look on with happy surprise, but again I say, "Do not get smug, beloved." It is for you to give freely. It is to build you up within in order that you may spread liberally among the masses the goodness of your God.

Now we come to those who are going about calling themselves by My name who will not recognize the goodness of the living God – those who will be focused on what is happening in the world – those who are not in a holy union with Me. What shall happen in their meetings? What will the Almighty do to prepare them and strengthen them? As the Father sent Me, so I send you, beloved. I send you to display My goodness to those who call themselves by My name, but know Me not. Yes! Beloved, I send YOU!!!

The Devil Lurks
Mary Clark

June 20, 2004
In a vision, I saw someone with an evil intent, hiding in the curtains backstage at a theatre. Why did You show this to me, Lord?

I want My dear children to know that evil lurks in their lives. Evil is constantly looking on, ready to condemn. You must remember this truth. You must remember that the evil one lurks, ready to pounce the moment you do something – anything. He is always so ready to point his bony finger. While I, on the other hand, am always with you. My words are kind. My correction is even kind. Don’t listen to the enemy’s absurd insinuations, beloved. Don’t listen to his snide remarks. If he tells you something that you did wrong, bearing any truth, turn to Me and say, “Father, I am sorry that I did that. Thank You for forgiving me.” That is enough to keep the enemy off your back. That is enough to hush him up. Remember that he is lurking in the wings ready to pounce – ready to tell you something to hurt your heart. I am the heart Healer. I never say anything to you that will damage your heart. Never!

In this day, the enemy is constantly at work, telling My beloved children that they are not fit. They can do nothing right as far as he is concerned. Look who is judging whom! Let Me be your judge, dear child. Let Me talk to you about things that concern Me. I will do it gently. I will do it when you least expect Me to. I speak to My beloved only when the time is just right. Bear this in mind. Bear this truth in mind: The enemy wishes to make your life miserable. Don’t let him. Don’t give him so much as a nod. Go about your life focused on Me. Listen to My instruction and follow My lead. I will help you maintain your stance in Me. I will enable you to grow stronger in this process. Pay the enemy no mind, dear child. I am instructing you to pay his ugly insinuations no mind. Keep focused on Me. Listen to Me. I will help you along life’s way. He desires to trip you. He desires to hurt your heart, making you miserable. Why would he do such as this? He doesn’t like us. He never has and he never will. But you will not let that stand in the way of living for Me, of following after My heart, will you, dear child? You won’t lose any sleep over that fact, will you?

Embrace Your Cross

Mary Clark

Embrace your cross, beloved, as I embraced Mine. Embrace it knowing that I am with you all the way. I am certainly with you ALL the way.

In times past, men walked seeking after the heart of the Father, and wondering if and when they would experience carrying that back-breaking cross. They kept wondering when the cross that they had chosen in order to follow Me would become such a burden that their backs would break underneath it. They never realized that I was with them. They never realized that I was the One – I the Holy One – was the One Who was embracing that cross with them.

I want you to realize something, beloved. When you choose to take up your cross and follow Me, I am right with you. I am bearing the brunt of that burden. I am strengthening you within in order that you might see My glorious work and walk in the fulfillment of all that I have promised.

I am telling you to take up your cross and follow after Me for a good reason, child of God. I want to assist you. I want to be your Mainstay. I want to support you in every endeavor that you take up for Me. Yes! Dear child, I want to bless you with My abundant presence. I want you to walk in a new understanding of who you are in Me. I want your confidence in Me to stabilize your every move.

Is this too much to ask? I don't believe it is. I believe this is a gift that I have given to you that will enable you to take those final steps into My glory with confidence and thankfulness. I have established a work in you. It is going forth at My command. I want you to go forth in the confident hope that your God can and will work wonders within your heart. I want you to go forth, knowing that I am your burden-bearer. One who chooses to take up his cross and follow Me will NOT – again I say, "WILL NOT!!!" be left comfortless. I am with you, oh you chosen one. I am with you all the way, and I will establish you in that peace that only I can provide. I will enable you to walk in the territory that I have placed before you, knowing that you are not alone. I am with you ALL the way.

Let it suffice to say, beloved, that your God has made a way for you. He has made a way for your feet to tread into the divine nature of His most extraordinary plan for you. He has made a way for you to know His goodness first hand. Now! Would a God Who gave His life for you leave you high and dry now? Now, when the most unusual is about to occur? Now, when the divine will of the living God is about to come into play in the world in a way that will get the whole world's attention? Now, beloved, when the fun is about to turn into something that will cause the devil to turn tail and run? Nope! I don't believe so. I have been with you from the beginning, and I will not forsake you now. So, beloved, do Me and yourself a favor. Lift that cross. Lift it high, for I am with you. I am giving you ALL the support that you need. You will see the light of day in a glorious new way, and you will be in awe at the significance of all for which you were prepared. As My divine will unfolds, you will see My glory penetrate every willing heart, and open a new hour of My majesty as it unfolds for all the world to see and to know that the One Who is true and holy reigns in the hearts of His children. He not only reigns, but He is their burden-bearer through thick and though thin – through all the devil would send their way. Through all of life's exploits I am with you, beloved. I am with you, supporting you with My divine power all the way, and beloved, that is nothing to take lightly – that is nothing to take for granted. I have given you much for which to be grateful. Be grateful, and see the living God shine forth His glory on your behalf, lighting your way into the extremes and passions that only I can give – that only I can provide – that only I can offer to you – My beloved – My own!!!

Father's Love

Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite,
Have you ever noticed that when you are engrossed in something (whether anew, or as part of your routine), you suddenly start seeing that particular thing everywhere? For example, when I was living in the kibbutz they taught me how to weld. Up until that time I never paid much attention to welded metal. However, after working in that profession for a while I would see welds everywhere. Another example is the attention that we pay to the same model or make of car when we buy a new one. Suddenly it appears in all the highways and byways. I sometimes even find myself waving at the driver, as if we suddenly have became close friends.

One of the great discoveries in Christendom, of these past few years, is what has been termed 'Jewish or Hebraic roots'. It has become very important to us to use words like Elohim, Yah, YHVH, Yahwah, or Yahoveh for God, and Yeshua or Yah'shuah for Jesus. Up until that time we, English speakers, basically used the common scriptural terms such as "God", "Lord", "Jesus" etc. But things being as they are in the demonic realm, the enemy will cause men to argue and be divisive over which name is correct, or how to pronounce it, while supplying abundant reasons for endorsing one name or another. Some folk will even gather around one particular usage of the "name", and judge or criticize others who are not in full agreement with them. This all smacks of an unsanctified life.

Within the last year we have been introduced to teachings on sanctification, through which our eyes have been open to the spiritual realm like never before. One of the most important lessons which came out of this teaching, had to do with my relationship with my father, and now with my Heavenly Father. Most of us have never heard our earthly father say, "I love you", or "this is my beloved son/daughter in whom I am well pleased". Can you imagine how Yeshua felt when His Father said those words to Him? I think every son or daughter would give every thing they have just to hear an "I love you," said by their father. But because we have a spiritual enemy, that steals, kills and destroys, our fathers are (or were) in no condition to respond to us in a Godly manner. As a result we all have been robbed of one of life's greatest treasures, the love of a father. This has created a great void in the heart, and has often precluded us from giving and receiving love.

After having our heavenly Father's love ministered to me, my eyes were open to how many times the apostles pointed to our "Father". When Yeshua taught his disciples to pray he said, "our Father"(Math 6:8), and he continued to refer, many times, to His Father and their Father. In his writings, Paul also keeps reminding the believers of their relationship with the Father. "And because you are sons, God has sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying out, 'Abba, Father!'" (Gal. 4:6). "For you did not receive the spirit of bondage again to fear, but you received the Spirit of adoption by whom we cry out, 'Abba, Father'" (Rom. 8:15). Many times the apostles begin their letters to the congregations of believers with this greeting: "Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah".

I began to wonder why we would want to address our Heavenly Father in any other way but "Abba". In the scriptures God is known by many names, and when examined they all speak of fulfilling some need in one's life, especially in the one area that we spoke about above that we long for the most, and that is the Father's love. If we looked at His role as a loving Father, all His names or attributes would be included in that one relationship. So why do we not just call Him with the most endearing of all names (which also helps us set our own identity in order)?

I can honestly say that I did not know His love for me, even after 30 years of being a believer. I knew Him as a good provider, very similar to my earthly father, but something was always missing. Was it a lack of spiritual maturity, or did it have something to do with sanctification? I had to seriously consider the latter, because it wasn't until receiving teaching on this subject that His Father's heart began to be revealed to me.

There were many spiritual blocks in my life that the enemy had set up over the years, blocks which had to be removed. But first I had to recognize and admit to their existence, take responsibility for cooperating with them and then repent and renounce each one of them individually. Amazingly, after they were cast out or down, that which remained in me was… His presence. Thus I am getting to know my Father as that perfect love, and because I have been created in His likeness, I also get to know who I am as a new creation in Messiah.

In the first letter of the Apostle John, he writes: "Behold what manner of love the Father has bestowed on us, that we should be called children of God! Therefore the world does not know us, because it did not know Him. Beloved, now we are children of God; and it has not yet been revealed what we shall be, but we know that when He is revealed, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is. And everyone who has this hope in Him purifies himself, just as He is pure" (1 John 3:1-3).

In this verse we can see the connection between purifying ourselves and seeing the Father. The Greek word for "revealed" is from Strong's 5319: fanero, phaneroo {fan-er-o'-o} "to make manifest, appear, be manifest", from the root "to enlighten". We can never know who we are as His progeny, unless we come to the revelation knowledge of who He is. Our new life as children of a loving heavenly Father should bear the same nature as the Father, and thus anything that is not of Him is also not of us. So how do we proceed when we realize that there are things in us which are a far cry from the Father's expression? "Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God" (2 Cor 7:1). It cannot be clearer! We must take the responsibility to "cleanse [or purify] ourselves" from all filthiness of flesh and spirit. We will not be able to do this if we are ignorant of the spiritual realm and the truths of sanctification. Most of the problems in the Body of Messiah could be resolved if we were rid of many of the spiritual influences that come from Satan's kingdom. Thus, if we see ourselves as children of the same Father and having this same nature, we will easily recognize one another. John puts it this way: "Beloved, let us love one another, for love is of God [our heavenly Father] and everyone who loves is born of God [the Father] and knows God [the Father]. No one has seen God [the Father] at any time. If we love one another, God [the Father] abides in us, and His love has been perfected in us. By this we know that we abide in Him, and He in us, because He has given us of His Spirit. God [the Father] is love, and he who abides in love abides in Him [the Father] a*nd God* [the Father] in him" (1 John 4:7; 12-13; 16). Thus we have fellowship with one another and our joy can be made full.
Have a joy filled Shabbat!

Fathers And Sons
Stephen Hanson

June 12, 2004
MAL 4:5 "See, I will send you the prophet Elijah before that great and dreadful day of the LORD comes. [6] He will turn the hearts of the fathers to their children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers; or else I will come and strike the land with a curse."

1CO 4:14 I am not writing this to shame you, but to warn you, as my dear children. [15] Even though you have ten thousand guardians in Christ, you do not have many fathers, for in Christ Jesus I became your father through the gospel. [16] Therefore I urge you to imitate me. [17] For this reason I am sending to you Timothy, my son whom I love, who is faithful in the Lord. He will remind you of my way of life in Christ Jesus, which agrees with what I teach everywhere in every church. 1JN 2:13 I write to you, fathers, because you have known him who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one. I write to you, dear children, because you have known the Father.

"Without a good father, a son cannot come unto maturity. Without a strong male influence, a nation is without a leader. There are men who claim to be leaders but are not. There are many children who are left without a father. There are many young women who have never known the hand of a good father. Can a nation survive without the hands of the fathers? Can young men know true leadership without them? A curse is coming unless this land can bring the hearts back to the fathers. For there is an emptiness in the land. Many sons have gone astray because of this. But I tell you, there are many young men in the faith who need fathers in their lives. Those who are more mature in the faith need to guide them. We need apostolic fathers. We need prophetic fathers. We need those who can nurture and can guide. Can the young in the faith service without them? We don't need those who lord over other things. Children need boundaries and limits, but a body that is controlled by a single leader is doomed to failure. Those who have known Me, be a strong influence in the lives of others. Be the father to them that they need. Then my body can come unto maturity. "

To Sin, Or To Continue To Sin

I want to speak to you about the concept that we ALL sin, but that if we know God then we will not CONTINUE in sin. There is a difference here, although it may seem like these two issues, or concepts are the same. I felt it important to write about this foundamental issue because oftentimes, there seems to be some confusion within the body of Christ concerning sin and how we are to live our lives as believers. We are told in 1JN 1:8:

If we claim to be without sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us. [9] If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just and will forgive us our sins and purify us from all unrighteousness. [10] If we claim we have not sinned, we make him out to be a liar and his word has no place in our lives.

So, it is plainly seen here from this passage of scripture, that ALL of us sin. We must not be led astray by various teachings that say that we will not sin. We need to know however, what it means to continue in sin, or simply to know that we do sin. When we sin, then we have an advocate with the Father, His son, who cleanses us from our sins.

But now, let us look at the next few verses in 1 John. 1JN 2:1 My dear children, I write this to you so that you will not sin. But if anybody does sin, we have one who speaks to the Father in our defense--Jesus Christ, the Righteous One. [2] He is the atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not only for ours but also for the sins of the whole world.

Why would we be told in these few verses, "so that you will not sin......"? I believe that we must understand that in verses 9 and 10 above that sin here is mentioned as a noun. In the section immediately following it, we find the word "sin" referred to as a verb (I write this to you so that you will not sin.) In this usage here of the word sin, it is in an active tense. The apostle was referring to the "repeated" sin in a person's life. What does that mean? It means I believe, to commit a particular type of sin again and again. That is substantially different than saying that there is NO sin within us. There is sin within us because of our fallen nature.

It is interesting to note that we will not continue in sin because of something that has been planted within us. 1 John 3[9] No one who is born of God will continue to sin, because God's seed remains in him; he cannot go on sinning, because he has been born of God. God's seed, His spirit, has been planted within us through the Holy Spirit. As this seed begins to grow and flourish, then the works that we do will not be works after the flesh, after our carnal nature, but they will be done after the fruit of the spirit. We will begin and will continue to manifest in our lives, love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, [23] gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law. Gal. 5: 22 This is markedly different from the seed of death. James 1 mentions about how sin can give forth to a seed as well: [15] Then, after desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death.

Now, we will still sin, but we will not want to "continue to sin" again and again because of His spirit that is at work within us to conform us to His image. And then even "if" we do continue to sin, God will cleanse us and purify us after we have confessed to Him our sin. Now, we know that we all have had a former way of life, a former way of existence if you will, that was a life without God. This old life though, was a life that was not a life of freedom, but was a life of death. There was no fruit to be found from or in that life, and it was to be done away with: RO [6] For we know that our old self was crucified with him so that the body of sin might be done away with, that we should no longer be slaves to sin--[7] because anyone who has died has been freed from sin. So, when we think of sin and how it still can plague us, we now have the "freedom" to embrace the new life that God has given unto through His Son.

So finally, we are to count ourselves dead to sin, but alive to Christ: RO 6:11 In the same way, count yourselves dead to sin but alive to God in Christ Jesus [14] For sin shall not be your master, because you are not under law, but under grace. This teaching may be Part 1. of two parts, in that the second one will deal more with grace, how wonderful it is, and yet how it can be abused.

The End Of All Things Is At Hand

MT 24:4 Jesus answered: "Watch out that no one deceives you. [5] For many will come in my name, claiming, `I am the Christ, ' and will deceive many. [6] You will hear of wars and rumors of wars, but see to it that you are not alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come. [7] Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places. [8] All these are the beginning of birth pains.

MT 24:9 "Then you will be handed over to be persecuted and put to death, and you will be hated by all nations because of me. [10] At that time many will turn away from the faith and will betray and hate each other, [11] and many false prophets will appear and deceive many people. [12] Because of the increase of wickedness, the love of most will grow cold, [13] but he who stands firm to the end will be saved. [14] And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

"The end of all things is coming and will soon be at hand. Not many more seasons will pass, and then the end will come. I tell you that many deceptions lie in the near future. The rumors that you have heard about the attacks upon America will suddenly materialize. Those who are near the coastlines, beware and take cover; for larger metropolitan areas are targeted. Be forewarned, and be alert! The military will take action and many lives will be lost. These things have been predicted by others, and yet many still bury their heads in the sand. "

"But swiftly I come on the wings of the wind. Many persecutions are ahead for my people. For you will be handed over to the courts but I will plead your case for you. Beware of false prophets promising you many things. There will come many claiming to be a new spiritual leader. I tell you that surely you will know them by their fruits. Those who are near Me and hear my voice, will be a light in a dark place. Many congregations will fall and will split over petty differences. You will hear of a brighter tomorrow forecast by some. Use your discernment to know which is true. For the mature, I ask you to eat strong meat. If you want words of comfort and sugar-coated messages, then go to a psyhic. I tell you that my truth is embodied in my spirit. Those who eat of its fruit will live. Surely, in spite of all of this, I will be hedge of protection for my people. "

FATness

Vicki Camp

For HIS' FATness: 'Open Wide ...'

"........he that putteth his trust in the LORD shall be made fat. " -Prov. 28:25b

1-10-'04 In reading the other day of the 'double doors' of Solomon's Temple (I Kings 6) & Ezekiel's vision Temple (Ezek. 41), I was surprised to find these were louvered doors - that is, two sets of hinged fold back type doors. "And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors." - Ezek. 41:23. Carved wood (cherubim, palm trees, flowers) and then gold overlaid,,, not plain doors -- beautiful paneled doors, foldable to open or shut, these were louvered doors.

As I pondered this with Lord, I was shown a small vision:
A glass bottle, like an old fashioned milk bottle.....and I saw rich milk cream. The mouth of this bottle was open wide and I could see in through the top as it was tipped slightly; See the cream and it's residue dripping thickly on the inner glass bottle neck - Cream that non-homogenized milk has, risen to the top ... with also some thick cream splashes on the outer top rim ...
... and this is what I heard Lord speak,

"Beloved, you have sturdy heart doors of intricate holy carving, for I have carved you and I am fashioning you MySelf.

I speak to you now to do your part; Grab hold of the latch of restraint and open up your inner doors, opening them widely to Me.

OPEN UP the double doors; OPEN WIDE your louvered partitions, for I am coming to invade your premises, says your Lord.

I, Giver of Life am watching and looking for open jars, those who are not in smallness cracked open in hesitant unbelief, but doors flung WIDE to Me.

I am looking with My Eye for My open vessels who wait, yearn, and openly are calling for Me to enter afresh*.*

OPEN UP, for I am the rich cream, The Water of Life Who truly will satisfy you with the fat of My very Being.
.... OPEN Wide your louvered doors of inner chambers. I am coming I say, to invade you with large and heaping double portions; Rich fats of My river that flows out from My Throne, by My Own Hand and of My Own Voice......even MySelf your Word.

Beloved, unlatch your heart doors; Peel back your cover for I am passing over .... Looking.

OPEN now .... and drink Me in."

Is. 55: 1 "Ho! Everyone who thirsts, Come to the waters; And you who have no money, Come, buy and eat. Yes, come, buy wine and milk Without money and without price." - v. 6 "Seek the Lord while He may be found, Call upon Him while He is near."

Sgs. 5:1 "I am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved."

With heart and mouth wide open I am now speaking, "HO ! ... yes,,, Even so, come to us Lord Jesus*... "*

From Chaos To Kingdom
Ron McGatlin

Reference: Psalm 23

Isa 2;3-4: Many people shall come and say, "Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, To the house of the God of Jacob; He will teach us His ways, And we shall walk in His paths." For out of Zion shall go forth the law, And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. He shall judge between the nations, And rebuke many people; They shall beat their swords into plowshares, And their spears into pruning hooks; Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, Neither shall they learn war anymore.

Transition through the valley of the shadow leads to the mountain of light. People of God are now walking through a shadowy valley. God is shaking out the darkness that has invaded the world and the sacred ground of the temple of God (the heart soil of man). Whatever is in the heart of man finds its way into all areas of society including the church.

God is faithful to provide for those who truly seek Him, even through the valley of the shadow and in the presence of enemies. The table is prepared and the green pastures and still waters are before those who love Him and seek Him with their whole heart. Goodness and mercy are wonderful companions on the journey through the valley unto the pristine high mountain meadows of the bright glory and fresh clean air in the kingdom of God from heaven on earth.

Our cup runs over in the valley of the shadow but life explodes into glory on the mountain of light.

Even now as I look into the spiritual realm and see a tinge of the awesome glory of His love, my heart is again overwhelmed. There are not words to describe the impact of just touching the fringe of His garment of love. Emotions are poured out - hearts melt - brokenness beyond compare - as love pours in and tangible glory explodes from utter weakness of our soul within. Tears of humility in the very presence of the power that formed the heavens and now invades our earth. Shaking trembling hyper ventilating wondering if I will live or die in this awesome place of Glory.

Even now it remains true that eye has not seen nor has entered into the heart of man the things that God has prepared for those who love Him (1 Cor 2:9-10). But by the Spirit, He is revealing the reality of His glory as we approach the mountain and transcend from the valley of the shadow to the glory of the mountain.

Isa 60:1-3: Arise, shine; For your light has come! And the glory of the LORD is risen upon you. For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, And deep darkness the people; But the LORD will arise over you, And His glory will be seen upon you. The Gentiles shall come to your light, And kings to the brightness of your rising.

Chaos is reigning in much of the world and in many hearts. Great darkness is covering the land - lack of love, lack of morality, lack of obedience to God and lack of adherence to the ways of God all stem from a lack of abiding in Him and His love.

Men leaving the natural use of the woman and working that which is evil with one another, women with women, confused teens and adults living in fornication and believing it is right to do so, pornography and open sexual display - personal greed and greed in business - vile accusation, gossip, bringing curses upon one another by their evil accusations - resentment and pain of wounding one another - betrayal - deception and lack of discernment - gambling rampant across the land - lying a normal way of communicating even in heads of states, churches, and businesses - children under attack in the womb and on into the schools - multitudes of fatherless children - open sorcery and psychic mediums guiding lives - fear, wars, and terror tormenting lives (Rom 1:26-32).

This is the valley of the shadow of death through which we walk. These kinds of things and the spirits that, by the will of man, perpetrate them are a shadow of death. They result from hearts turned away from God and society removing God and choosing other gods in their midst.

Great shaking is upon the earth to shake all that can be shaken (Heb 12:26). Only that which cannot be shaken (the kingdom of God and His kingdom ways) shall remain. A spiritual kingdom of the King from heaven must reign in the hearts of man (Christ in you) and then in the world (Col 1:27). Christ Jesus came and is now manifesting as the corporate Christ t bring peace on earth and goodwill toward men (Luke 2:14).

Seek first the kingdom of God and all these things shall be added to you(Mat 6:33). The spiritual in working kingdom precedes the outworking practical kingdom of God from heaven on earth.

The love of God is the primary ingredient of the kingdom of God. The world is today tasting the depth of the love of God portrayed in the powerful movie of the Passion of The Christ. Jesus willingly gave himself to be crucified because of love. If He had not willingly given Himself, we could not today experience saturation of intimate passionate holy love in God's manifest presence.

Kingdom The Higher Way
Ron McGatlin

There is a much higher way of life than most people have ever seriously considered. It is the way that leads to the fullness of glory. Have you ever thought about the need for truly holy living and what it would look like and be like? Many may have imagined the power of God and what it might look and feel like in their lives. But there must be purity (holiness) before power.

In the passing church emphasis age most have been satisfied with being forgiven sinners. In the emerging kingdom emphasis age the potential exist to enter into realms of spiritual holiness and purity that will lead to the fullness of the glory of God.

The higher way is the way of love and humility. There is no strife, no frustrating need nor greed in love and humility. There is no fear and no pride - no need of retaliation or resentment. The higher way is not the way of natural man it is the way of God.

Isa 55:8-9: "For My thoughts are not your thoughts, Nor are your ways My ways," says the LORD. "For as the heavens are higher than the earth, So are My ways higher than your ways, And My thoughts than your thoughts.

The thoughts and ways of God must become the thoughts and ways within man in the kingdom of God. Nothing that defiles can enter into the New Jerusalem lifestyle of the kingdom of God. The natural ways of doing business in the church and in the world will not enter the new kingdom age.

These kingdom ways are not religious principles nor doctrinal points to consider in Sunday school. They are practical reality of God living with man on earth and changing the way we do church and the way we do business in every area of life.

There is a much higher way required to walk in the manifest presence and glory of God. Jesus taught of the higher way in Mat 5 & 6. He spoke of such things as loving your enemies, going the extra mile, turning the other cheek, and to look with lust was adultery in the heart and to be angry with your brother was as murder in the heart. Paul wrote of the higher way in Romans 12.

Rom 12:14-21: Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse. Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep. Be of the same mind toward one another. Do not set your mind on high things, but associate with the humble. Do not be wise in your own opinion.

Repay no one evil for evil. Have regard for good things in the sight of all men. If it is possible, as much as depends on you, live peaceably with all men. Beloved, do not avenge yourselves, but rather give place to wrath; for it is written, "Vengeance is Mine, I will repay," says the Lord.

Therefore "If your enemy is hungry, feed him; If he is thirsty, give him a drink; For in so doing you will heap coals of fire on his head." Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

These higher principles were seen in the past by many as unattainable in the world at the time. Indeed they are not within the realm of reality for man in the passing church age. However, in the emerging kingdom age the maturing of "Christ in us" is taking us to a new level. Only God is Holy and only God in man can live in the fullness of true love and humility.

Soaking in the manifest presence of God and partaking fully of the Spirit that raised Christ from the dead can saturate man to the point that the thoughts and ways of God fill and rule his life. The higher way of love and humility will come forth and the glory of God will fill the earth.

Fearless Warriors

Victoria Boyson

Jul 17, 2004

More than any other enemy that the Lord fought, He fought fear in the hearts and minds of those He chose to raise up, and the same is true for us. Fear is the enemy of faith, and without faith it is impossible to please God. He said repeatedly to His disciples, "You of little faith...why did you doubt?" (Mt. 14:31). The enemy tries to sow fear in our hearts because he knows that without faith we are powerless. Fear is our enemy, not our friend, and we must fight against it with all our might!

Fearing the Wind

It pleases God when we trust in Him and it hurts Him when we don't! In Matthew 14 Jesus' disciples were out late at night in a boat fishing when Jesus appeared to them walking on water. His disciples assumed He was a ghost and were terrified. "But Jesus immediately said to them: 'Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid'" (v.27).

Peter was so amazed at the sight of his friend, Jesus, doing the impossible, that he decided he wanted to join Him. Jesus beckoned him to come, "then Peter got down out of the boat, walked on the water and came toward Jesus. But when he saw the wind, he was afraid and beginning to sink, cried out 'Lord, save me!' Immediately Jesus reached out His hand and caught him. 'You of little faith,' He said, 'why did you doubt?'" Mt. 14:29-31.

Peter was actually walking on the water! He was doing the impossible! I feel certain he would have made it all the way to Jesus, had fear not entered his heart. Seeing the wind made his faith give way to fear, and fear robbed him of his ability to do the impossible. He was doing what was impossible in the natural, but when the waves rose up against him, he began to fear. The wind was sent to cause him to fear, and the minute he let fear into his heart, he sank. The fear he felt killed his faith for it was his faith in Jesus that kept him on the water.

The minute they stepped back into the boat, the wind died down, much like the lies of the enemy fade when we they lose their effectiveness. As we endeavor to do the impossible our faith will be tested by the winds and storms of life, we can surely count on it. Yet, when we walk in faith even for a short while as Peter did, we learn more about the enemies of our faith. And we learn more about faith and trusting in God. Every time we step out of the boat and walk even just a few steps, our faith increases.

Every test of faith will increase the resolve in our hearts to fear nothing but God. We learn that in every set of circumstances we face...God is bigger! We learn again and again not to fear our enemy and say, "Greater is He who is in [me] than he who is in the world" (1 John 4:4).

Committed to Victory

Faith in God is trusting in His ability and desire to help us. It is trusting in the fact that no one is bigger than our God, and that our great big God wants to help us. He loves us. We are His kids and as His kids, He has given us HIS authority.

Once we see God as our Father who loves us and is able and willing to do anything to deliver us, there will be no end to our faith in Him. No storm in this life will be able to detour us from following Christ in faith. Fear will have no affect on us.

Likewise, when we trust God with our own physical well being, we will not even fear death. For when we remove the fear of death, we become fearless. Like the Word says in, Ps. 23:4 "Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear NO evil, [Why?] for You are with me." We are fearless because our great big enormous Daddy God is standing right next to us and saying, "You just go ahead and try to touch my kid and I'll stomp you like a bug!" It is not us who should fear the enemy, but believe me the enemy should and does fear us, because God is making us His unstoppable FEARLESS warriors.

If a soldier enters a battle afraid to die, then he will be ineffective on the battle field. He will continually be focused on saving his own life and not on winning the battle. He will not be fighting with his whole heart. He must love the cause he is fighting for more than his own life. "They loved not their own lives even unto death" Rev. 12:11.

When a soldier goes to battle he expects to find fearful events happening, but he learns to charge towards the fighting because he knows that is where the victory lies. He becomes an unstoppable force, a fearless warrior. He becomes victorious before he even fights a battle, because he has committed himself to victory.

"If anyone wishes to come after Me, he must deny himself, and take up his cross daily and follow Me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake, he is the one who will save it" Luke 9:23-24. We must throw our whole self into the battle, being ready to die, not fearing death or we will lose our lives and be consumed by death. A warrior that is FEARLESS is unstoppable! The areas in our hearts where we harbor fear of any kind will continue to keep us vulnerable to the enemy.

Fear God Not Satan
"Do not fear those who kill the body but are unable to kill the soul; but rather fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell" Mt. 10:28.

It is more important that we obey God than fear the enemy. God is the One in control, and He gives us His authority through prayer. So if God asks me to take a stand against the realms of darkness, then I know I have nothing to fear. We should not become presumptuous or arrogant, but we should never fear the enemy, only God.

If we see fear as our enemy, we will fight against it with our trust in God. Our faith in God, even in its smallest measure, will move mountains! Whether we like it or not, we are a target of the enemy, our only hope is to operate in the authority that God has given us through Jesus. We have authority over the powers of darkness, the devil knows it and it is time we believed it!

The Lord cares for you "and even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. So don't be afraid" (Mt. 10:30-31). Our Heavenly Father will stop at nothing to save you and help you. You have only to trust Him! Do not lose faith in Him…He will save you.

Pray this with me:

Though I walk through the very shadow of death, I will NOT fear, because You oh Lord are with me. And because You are with me I refuse to fear! In Jesus' name, Amen.

Christlike Leadership
Victoria Boyson

God is calling His leaders to model His heart!

In Mark 10:42-45 Jesus said, "You know that those who are regarded as rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their high officials exercise authority over them. Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be slave of all. For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many."

True authority in leadership cannot be forced, but it is the God-given ability to influence others, to raise others up, and lead them by example. It is not condescending or intimidating, but temperate. And even in cases where correction is needed, Christlike leadership is firm, but kind. Many people in positions of authority use intimidation to rule over others. But as the Lord said in verse 43, "Not so with you." Intimidation may get quicker results - it may get you what you want - but it is not Christlike authority and it will not produce His likeness in others. And it is not what our Lord desires of us.

The Purpose of Authority

James and John had asked the Lord if they could sit at His right side and left when He reigned over His kingdom. This caused an argument among His disciples. They were still thinking only of Christ's ruling on this earth, and wanted to be a part of that. They did not realize yet that authority is given to serve others, not to rule over them.

The Lord shared with them in verses 42-45 what it meant for them to have positions of authority over people. It was His intention to show His disciples the true purpose of authority. He knew that they would have great authority in the church, and His desire was for them to use that authority to serve His church, not to lord over them.

Jesus told them that even He, the Son of God, did not come to be served, but to give His life as a ransom for many (see Mark 10:45). He was trying to show them that He was sent to them with the purpose of serving them, even to the point of death, and that they should model His example of leadership.

Laying Down Our Lives

Though He had created man, Jesus gave His life to serve and die for those He had created. Everyday He woke with an eternal purpose in His mind: To raise up His church! His life was not lived to serve Himself, to go where He wanted, and to do what He wanted. No, He laid down His own desires to follow the will and plan of His Father.

Not only was His death a sacrifice for us, but His life was a living sacrifice. Every moment of His life on earth was lived for us. He could have been enjoying the splendor of heaven, but instead gave it up to become a sacrificial gift, a "ransom for many."

Like Christ, our lives are not our own. And though we are given positions of authority in this life, we must never use those positions to fulfill our own plans and agendas. For if God chooses to bless us with power and authority, it is for the purposes of heaven and not our own gain.

Power to Serve

In the world's system, it seems to be the powerful who rule over the weak. But we are not to pattern ourselves after the world's system, but after God's. It was His desire that power be used to serve, not rule; to raise up, not to push down.

Jesus knew that a great leader must have no regard for his own life, but must lay down his life for the sake of others. The Lord said in John 15:13, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." Every truly great man or woman in history has regarded his life as less valuable than those he served.

Our Purpose

Our purpose as Christians must be to lay down our own will to do the will of our Father. It is His will that we serve others and see them as more important than ourselves. So often we have seen power corrupt the hearts of men and make them useless for the kingdom of heaven. But if we can keep in mind that power is given to serve our Lord, not ourselves, then we have a safeguard around our heart, keeping it safe from the corruption that power can bring with it. If we can see that all we accomplish is for the Lamb of God, not for ourselves, then we will have access to the power and authority of the God.

As the Body of Christ, we must recognize that we all have the same master, and He did not come to this earth to be served, but to serve. If you have been given authority, then remember His words, "Not so with you." Do not use your authority, whatever its capacity, to control, manipulate or intimidate those placed under you, but use it to liberate them. To love, not hate; to forgive, not judge; to redeem, not to condemn.

Authority is given to us so that we can do for others what God has done for us. We must live our lives openly before those we seek to raise up so they may see the genuineness of our lives. If we fail to treat those under our authority with the proper respect, then we should apologize to them and ask for their forgiveness. If we cannot humble ourselves to do this, it may lead to their resentment of us and cause them to stumble. For their sake and our own, we must humble ourselves.

If God has placed people under your authority then He must think very highly of you, because He has given you something that He cherishes very much. Each person He gives you is a gift as well as a responsibility. These gifts must be appreciated and loved. We must treat them with respect, even when, in their immaturity, they disrespect us.

If you have been given authority, don't use it to lord over others, but to inspire them!

Fear Not

Marie-France McDowell-Smith

Fear Not! Fear Not! Fear Not! All hell is about to break lose.

Run into my arms, waiting arms and repent, receive forgiveness of your sins through the blood of Yeshua ... find peace and life in a world about to go into panic and chaos...run into my waiting arms of love, I wait only a moment longer ... run don't walk, run, run, run NOW!

Come to me, Your Adonai, YHWH, Elohim, I AM, and I wait that none can say they did not have a chance to turn back to me...to run into the ark of My safety, the ark that will ride the overwhelming floods that come into your lives.

The ark that will buoy you up and upon the torrential downpour that will take out all who rebel and chose to go their own way, and not come and repent and live My Way...HE IS THE WAY, the Truth and the Life...HIS name is Yeshua, My Son, My Way, My Sacrifice, HIS Blood that has already paid the price for your Sins! See that the Blood is applied to the doorway to your heart, that I may pass over and you shall be saved and all your family.

Cry out and tell them, this is last call, the last call...before all hell literally breaks lose in this world. I call to you this night and ask that you come...come while the way is still possible, while the path is still clear and visible...when My own ride upon the madness, with provision and peace...will you drown from stubbornness, and disbelief? Will you run to the highest mountain and still be swallowed by the many waters? Will you cry and cry and beg for mercy and find too late? Don't wait rebellious ones, come now, come now, come now and live...I have made provision for all who will to come...Your choice this day, for night comes quickly and none will find their way...save my light shining forth in great darkness.

Noah obeyed, Noah built, Noah trusted, Noah was ridiculed, Noah was surely isolated and thought crazy...Noah knew me. He heard my voice, HE KNEW my voice and he obeyed, his family saved, they lived. Will your family live?

Where are you leading your family? Will you lead them to hell and eternal punishment? Will you lead them to ME, YHWH through Yeshua, the Son, and lead them to eternal life and PEACE during Panic? Where are you leading your family? What have you influenced your family?

Did you show them My love and tenderness and mercy and tell them of my coming judgment...for without justice there is no true love from the Father of Lights.

Come, come and lead your loved ones to ME...hurry. The door will soon shut and the pitch will be applied that no water will enter into the ark of safety...

I am lifting my hand to apply the final protective coating to the ark of safety for those who honor, trust and obey YHWH with all their hearts, and souls and minds...COME! Your father loves you!

all four walls were lined with book cases (there was no door, nor floor, nor ceiling) and saw a 'unicorn' (which I perceived as 'deceptive evil') standing below my perspective view, looking at the books, trying to find something, sensed he did not know I was placed there to observe then the scene was the same but-- a huge impressive Lion was on a library ladder up high, looking at the books, He turned and half smiled at me and turned back around, and knew I was watching, it was HIS doing, I was to learn something that is all and woke up ...

He had a beautiful gold crown upon his head ... and I comprehended that HE KNEW MORE than this library contained or could contain and not just knowledge, but WISDOM and UNDERSTANDING AND knew the end from the beginning ...

did not like seeing the 'unicorn'; calmed and reassured when I saw the enormous and powerful and reigning Lion ...

Fear Not For I Am With You

Dorothea Montague

Fear not, for I am with you; Be not dismayed for I am your God. I will strengthen you, yes, I will help you, I will uphold you with My righteous right hand. (Isa. 41:10)

I am observing so many of you, My precious people, who are living with great fear in your minds and hearts. Every day as you hear and read predictions for the future from your news media you become ever more fearful as you consider the possibility of what is to come upon the world. O, My people, you are not being mindful of My words from Scripture. As I spoke to Job in days of old, so I speak to you, My beloved, today....

Behold, happy is the man whom God corrects; Therefore do not despise the chastening of the Almighty. For He bruises but He binds up; He wounds but His hands make whole. He shall deliver you in six troubles, yes, in seven no evil shall touch you. In famine He shall redeem you from death, and in war from the power of the sword. You shall be hidden from the scourge of the tongue, and you shall not be afraid of destruction when it comes. You shall laugh at destruction and famine and you shall not be afraid of the beasts of the earth. (Job 5: 17-22)

My beloved people, study this portion of Scripture in relation to what has caused fear to come upon you. Does this Scripture not cover most of the destruction that is coming upon the World?

~ "FOR HE BRUISES BUT HE BINDS UP"....Yes, I allow sickness to come upon your body but I also heal you and make you well.
~ "HE WOUNDS BUT HIS HANDS MAKE WHOLE"....I allow trials to come into your life but I also remove them from you.
~ "HE SHALL DELIVER YOU IN SIX TROUBLES, YES, IN SEVEN NO EVIL SHALL TOUCH YOU."....Is this not a great and precious promise? Indeed, I shall deliver you from your troubles.
~ "IN FAMINE HE SHALL REDEEM YOU FROM DEATH"....I shall supply your needs in times of famine.
~ "IN WAR FROM THE POWER OF THE SWORD"....I shall protect My people in time of war and keep you in safety.
~ "YOU SHALL BE HIDDEN FROM THE SCOURGE OF THE TONGUE"....Yes, My children, I shall protect you from the hurts of angry words.

~ "YOU SHALL NOT BE AFRAID OF DESTRUCTION WHEN IT COMES"....You shall hear much of possible destruction to come upon the world but your hearts will not fear or be afraid because you have the assurance that I will be with you.
~ "YOU SHALL LAUGH AT DESTRUCTION AND FAMINE"....Indeed you shall laugh at destruction and famine because you will know that I will not allow fear to come upon you.

O, My people, does this not cover every possibility of what could come upon you? I have been raising you up and preparing you to meet the troubled times ahead. I have been pouring My strength upon you, giving you knowledge that you will need for your ministries, teaching you how to enter into Spiritual warfare against the enemy and preparing you to bring people to salvation in Me and to pray for the sick and see them healed. I am enduing each of you, My people, with the Gift of healing.

O, yes, My people, even as foretold in Scripture very troubled times shall continue throughout your world but in the midst of these times I shall be bringing My plan and purpose for the world into being. Again, I would admonish you....

Fear not for I have redeemed you, I have called you by your name, you are Mine. When you pass through the waters, I will be with you, and through the rivers, they shall not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you shall not be burned, nor shall the flame scorch you, for I am the Lord your God. (Isa. 43: 1b-3a)

Go forth, My children, in the power of the Holy Spirit and touch lives for Me, with all fear gone from you.

Tammy Irvin

1-30-2004
Tammy Irvin
Humbly submitted for your discernment.

I call for a time of weeping, mourning, and of crying out in intercession.
I declare February a month of intercession of weeping, and mourning before your God.
There is a reason that this year February has 29 days in it.
Search out the mystery there of ....!
I call for My intercessors in whom I have seeded My burden for this world,
Travail!,
Travail!,
Travail!....... it shall come forth supernaturally from your inter most parts, as a well of living water it shall water the seed that My Spirit deposited there and begin to spring forth, as My intercessors yield unto My Spirit, during this month of February, much shall be accomplished.
Cry Out,
Cry Out, spare not thy voice from crying.
Not only shall this great intercession break forth across the world, but I shall begin to visit My intercessors and bring them up to new levels.
Many shall be caught up in the spirit.
Many shall receive new battle plans.
Yet beyond increasing dreams, visions, and visitations, this shall birth a move of My Spirit thru out the earth.
As a dam breaks that has held back the natural flow of the thing.
No more shall it be dammed, this move of My Spirit.
But it shall break forth this new thing that I shall do.
Yet is it new?
Have I not seeded it in the earth long ago?
Yet now during this time shall it spring forth.
That, that has been channeled and limited by man it shall break forth.
My Spirit shall not be limited any longer it shall break forth, and flow as I will saith the Lord all across the land.
Ye shall be amazed at what shall begin to happen in the days, and years to come.......
Many shall relate it back to this point in time February 2004
Cry Our, Cry Out, Weep, and Mourn, and see what I shall birth forth and do saith the Lord your God

Fellowship: Passionnate Love For The Brethren

17th of April, 2004

> "If we claim to have fellowship with him yet walk in the darkness, we lie and do yet walk in the darkness, we lie and do not live by the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, purifies us from all sin." 1 John 16-7

The problem in our churches today is that there is in most cases, very little fellowship among us. The sickness of our age – indifference and apathy – has also crept into the Church. We sort of feel we can have a fine walk with God without any serious walk with one another.

Even in churches where people are smiling and hugging each other, it is usually superficial. We do not love our brethren enough to bear them up before the Lord. We do not love them enough to confront them when their sin. We do not love them enough to be transparent with them about our own struggles. There is no fellowship because we are not willing to walk in the light with our brethren.
Our relationship with the brethren matters a lot to God. It is usually the measure of our sanctification or lack of it. We cannot say we love God and be unable to stand our brother. The truth is that if we love God, love for our brother will come naturally. "For anyone who does not love his brother, whom he has seen, cannot love God, whom he has not seen" 1 John 4: 20

Too often we wonder why there are so many hurting and wounded among us and we are seeing so few healings in our midst. Could it be because of this lack of true fellowship in many of our churches? James 5:16 definitely suggest so; "Therefore confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed".

Healing comes as we choose to be vulnerable and transparent with each other and as we begin to pray for one another. God's anointing always flows when there is true fellowship. It is prayers of the righteous that is offered up in an atmosphere of true fellowship that is "powerful and effective" (James 5:17). Un-forgiveness, grudges, bitterness, and mask wearing steals the power from our prayers.

It is time to take off our masks and begin to walk in fellowship. It is time to provoke the outpouring of the dew of Hermon upon Mount Zion.

Comments? Questions? etc. If these messages have been helpful or unclear it would encourage us to hear from you, please write to caprotogo@laposte.tg

PLEASE are you born again? It is not enough to believe in the existence of God, to go to church, or be interested in spiritual things. Jesus said "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me" (John 14:6). Jesus died to deliver you from sin so that you can come to God. (John 3:16) If you ask him to forgive you and give you a new heart he will. (Acts 2:38; Romans 10:9-11).Try it. I'd love to hear from you @ caprotogo@laposte.tg

Free From The Old Husband

The gospel of Jesus Christ, properly preached and understood, is the only cure for the misuse of the law. The good news is the only means of neutralizing legalism, the primary tool of spiritual abuse. When we see that we are completely accepted by God, solely through the life, death and resurrection of Jesus, all religious law loses it's manipulative power over us.

When Paul announces our deliverance from self accusation and declares our freedom from the oppression of legalism, he often speaks of our death to the law. One of the most interesting and helpful instances of this is Romans 7:1-4. Here Paul says, in effect, that we were once married to the law and under the control of the law. Now, in Christ, we have died to that abusive spouse and married Christ.

In the movie, Sleeping with the enemy, Julia Roberts's character is married to a controlling, tyrannical, high powered business executive. Like all conscientious Pharisees, he is obsessed with detailed performance. He demands that his wife hang the bathroom towels straight and that she perform perfectly in public. When she accidentally trespasses on one of his rules, he verbally, emotionally and physically punishes her. His abusive power over her is virtually total and makes her life unbearable.

She must break free of him. Divorcing him is out of the question, he is too possessive and powerful to allow that. One of them must die if her freedom is to be secured, so she fakes her own death. Successfully accomplishing this, she flees to another city hundreds of miles away and assumes a new identity. By her "death" she apparently delivers herself from a life of torment.

If we stop the story there, we have an illustration of Paul's understanding of our death to the law. Rom:7v1-4, Do you not know, brothers-for I am speaking to men that know the law-that the law has authority over a man only as long as he lives? For example, by law a married woman is bound to her husband as long as he is alive, but if her husband dies, she is released from the law of marriage. So then, if she marries another man while her husband is still alive, she is called an adulteress. But if her husband dies, she is released from that law and is not an adulteress, even though she marries another man.

The background to this illustration of how the death of either husband or wife dissolves all legal obligation is found is found in Romans 6:14: "For sin shall not be your master, because you are not under law, but under grace." The law defines sin and indicts us of sinning. The law confirms our guilt and so seals our bondage to sin. As long as the law is our master, we are subject to the constant accusation of being sinners. The only way to escape this oppression and the self accusation that goes with it is to make a radical break with the law.

Paul explains that this happens through death. We are actually "in Christ" in his life, death and resurrection. We really do participate in his experience, even his experience of death.

All the virtue of Christ’s death in meeting the claims of the law become ours, and we are free from the bond service and power of sin to which the law has consigned us. Paul’s point is that the law binds the living not the dead, and we are dead. We are radically liberated from the tyranny of our first spouse, the law. We are now free to marry a new spouse and become subject to him. The fruit of our first marriage is sin and shame. The fruit of our second marriage is the character and works of God.

From Hollywood To Holywood

Francis Frangipane

(comments@frangipane.org)
Many of you will remember that, for several years, we have repeatedly proclaimed that the Lord was not done with the USA. In fact, along with many leaders, we believed that a time would come when the Holy Spirit would even begin to fall upon writers and producers in Hollywood, and that God would use America's entertainment industry to reach the world. We had a little saying that, in time, Hollywood would be known as "Holywood." Beloved, the first fruits of what we have been praying for is emerging in the movie The Passion of the Christ by Mel Gibson.

Instead of a weekly message, I simply want to encourage you to use this movie as the tremendous tool that it is. Let us pray, and while praying, reach to our unsaved families and friends. Remember, Jesus said, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to Myself" (Jn 12:32). This "lifting up" was the demonstration of Christ's love on His cross at Calvary; this media re-enactment of Christ's death is being watched, discussed and broadcast around the world through the media.

Some argue it's too violent; others that it's anti-Semitic. If it was a movie without flaws, it would not be controversial nor would it be the rage of talk shows and news sources around the world. The movie is powerful, heart-rending, close to Scripture and very violent (perhaps, for some, too violent; so be wise about bringing small children). Yet, God is obviously using this movie mightily to stir people's hearts about Jesus Christ.

It's absolutely amazing to me. I am awed, but I cannot find one Internet news service in any country or culture that is not carrying an article about this movie; most are openly discussing the reality of Jesus dying for mankind's sins.

If you go to the internet search engine Google www.google.com and click on their news, you'll find close to 1800 news sites with articles about The Passion of the Christ. Even Al Jazeera, the powerful Arab Muslim news service that has been the outlet for messages from bin Ladin and Al Qaeda, is talking about The Passion of the Christ (See http://english.aljazeera.net/HomePage, search for Gibson to find three articles).

Prayer army, we were created for this day; so, let us fervently increase our prayer. Let us draw our strength from the Almighty, who desires that none should perish, but that all men should come to eternal life through Christ. Let us also pray for Hollywood. After the Janet Jackson offense, a huge national reaction has rolled through the U.S.

Finally, the FCC acted. As a result, at the highest levels of network programming, broadcast CEO's are telling company executives that there will be "zero tolerance" for her kind of stunt. Anyone who pushes the limit will be immediately fired (one example, Infinity Radio www.nypost.com/entertainment/18294.htm). Already many shows are being rewritten and edited to remove more objectionable material, and "shock jocks" are being fired and their shows canceled.

As I have said previously, I believe the time is coming when Hollywood will be called Holywood. Yes, there is something holy and powerful about this gift The Passion of the Christ. But let us also stay sober and focused. Our calling is not merely to stop the enemy but to pursue, overtake, consume and shatter him (see Ps 18:37-38). I wept last night as I watched the news as one reporter after another - people I never imagined even knew Christ - were speaking boldly about accepting His death for their sins. God has His hand on this nation and He is reaching to the world.

Finally, let us pray that European anti-Semitism does not arise because of this movie. Pray also that Israel will accept Jesus Christ, as both their countryman and ultimately as their Savior King and that this will be the beginning of the greatest spiritual awakening to sweep the globe.

AS CHRIST'S PASSION BECOMES OURS

What is it about The Passion of the Christ that stirs people so deeply? After all, it is just a movie, isn't it? Yet, Mel Gibson's portrait of Christ and His sufferings, for many, has awakened emotions people never knew they had; it resurrects longings many thought were dead.

The power of this movie is that it speaks to the very DNA of our spiritual identity as Christians. It does not matter whether we are Lutherans or Catholics, Baptists or Pentecostals, something fundamental about ourselves is being unearthed from antiquity and restored to our souls.

Let me explain.
There is a reason why societies memorialize those who, through their sacrifice or courage, were instrumental in shaping their cultural identity. To forget the legacy of one's forefathers is to actually lose some essence of who we are as a unique people. Thus, we honor our founders and heroes by creating memorials to them. We erect statues, name airports and cities after them and even have national holidays in remembrance of their sacrifices and accomplishments.

Yet, the power of our memorials goes beyond the tribute they offer to the past; they actually connect us to our heritage. For what we truly memorialize, we internalize and make a living part of our souls. Thus, each time a succeeding generation honors a national hero, as they appreciate what made their leaders great, the essence of those values is transferred to them.

As our technology advances, our ability to memorialize has taken modern expressions. For African Americans, the book and movie Roots helped define the uniqueness of the black journey in America. While the movie touched and taught people in general, for those of African American descent, it went much deeper: for many, it was a summary season that connected them with the genesis of their own souls.

The movie communicated more than information; it brought with it impartation from the generations of Africans who suffered and died in slavery. It said: Here is the great price our forebears paid. We owe it to them to prosper in this land of our affliction.

Roots was not just a movie; it became a memorial.
The Jewish people also have their unique memorials. Established in a number of different cities around the world are Holocaust museums, which are memorials to Jewish suffering. For those of us who are Gentiles, we visit, we are touched and we come away with a better understanding and love for the Jewish people.

Seeing the history of their persecution helps us appreciate the passion Jews have for their homeland, Israel. Yet, the images of mass open graves and ovens, of people standing in lines before gas chambers, penetrate much deeper into the soul of a Jew. They see the sufferings of the Holocaust generation and it adds something to their soul, a mandate which rises in their hearts: Never again; never forget!

Such is the nature of memorials: they compel us to remember the sacrifice; they command us to never forget.
Yet, strangely, Christians have not had a memorial dedicated to the sufferings of Christ. Our "Passion plays" and gospel movies are carefully scripted to inspire, but not to offend. We memorialize His life, but not the passions of His death. We know theologically of His sufferings, but we have not truly seen them. In fact, because we know the outcome of the story, even before the scouring and crucifixion scenes are over, our focus shifts ahead to His resurrection.

But in failing to linger, in refusing to gaze steadfastly upon the sorrow and assimilate its staggering cost, we unconsciously cheapen His sacrifice. As we detach ourselves from the price, its impact in us is proportionally diminished.

Just as memorializing the Holocaust continues to serve, even to this day, in defining modern Israel, so The Passion of the Christ brings Christians face-to-face with the cost of our redemption. It cuts us deeply. We, too, are wounded as we see the degree of His wounding; we also are broken by the depth of His brokenness.

Sobs can be heard in the theater. Why are we crying? Didn't we know the story? Yes. We knew the facts, but not the ongoing torture, the abandonment and rejection, the injustice or unspeakable pain. The cost is being transferred to us.

The movie rescues Christ's sacrifice from the realm of cerebral information and secures its power in the holy place of our hearts. Yes, the movie wounds us, but it also heals us by letting us see the demonstration of Christ's love for us.

Must we have the violent images? Yes, the unrelenting torture and the merciless cruelty are the backdrop of darkness that contrasts the brightness of Christ's sacrifice for mankind. To leave them out or minimize the account is to subtract from the totality of His gift.

The word holocaust, legitimately used by Jews to describe their sufferings in Nazi death camps, means "a sacrificial offering entirely consumed." It is a biblical term. Christ's sacrifice was exactly this -- a sacrifice entirely consumed for us.

The critics rage, not merely because they are angry, but because they are afraid. The truth of Christ's love is too powerful to allow back into the mainstream of secular life. For years a vocal, but small minority has sought to remove all but the memory of God from society, but even the memory of what Christ did for us is powerful enough to transform the world.

For many Christians, The Passion of the Christ is not just another movie; it is a memorial to His suffering for our sins. In seeing, we remember, and the power of His sacrifice restores our souls.

Seek My face
Francis Frangipane

When He says, "Seek My face," what does your heart say to Him?

There are some things in life that cannot be attained cheaply or superficially. Scores of scriptures call us to something much more consuming and fulfilling than just having a religion about Jesus Christ. Yet, the challenge is to focus and centralize our efforts to appropriate what Jesus came to give.

He warns, "For the coming of the Son of Man will be just like the days of Noah. For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, they were marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark, and they did not understand until the flood came and took them all away; so shall the coming of the Son of Man be" (Matt 24:37-39).

Redeeming the Time

The biggest battle we each might fight is to stay focused on God long enough to learn how to abide in His presence. Before we can redeem the world, we must redeem our time. And we would think that with all the time saving conveniences we have in life, that this would be easy, but it is not.

The real test at the end of the age is: can we live in a place of focused renewal? Those whom I have known who have fallen into sin, never were taken in suddenly by the enemy. Their failure was always precipitated by an earlier erosion of their focus; their time with God was incrementally replaced with non-spiritual things. Left without the help of God, Satan's temptation came to a heart vulnerable and without strength to resist.

"But be sure of this, that if the head of the house had known at what time of the night the thief was coming, he would have been on the alert and would not have allowed his house to be broken into" (Matt 24:43).

The First Thing the Devil Steals is...

Speaking of the devil, Jesus warned that the "thief comes only to steal, and kill, and destroy" (Jn 10:10). Beloved, the first thing the devil steals is time. Once we surrender our devotional time with God to non-spiritual things; once this world becomes more important to us than the next, the enemy has easy access to "kill, and destroy" our virtue and spiritual strength.

Again, Jesus taught a parable about a certain man who was having a banquet and "sent his slave to say to those who had been invited, 'Come; for everything is ready now.' But they all alike began to make excuses" (Lk:14:17-18).

When the Lord calls us to Himself, do we make excuses? I'm tired. Hungry. Busy. Jesus tells us that the reasons for avoiding Him will seem legitimate: "I have bought a piece of land and I need to go out and look at it; please consider me excused"; "I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I am going to try them out; please consider me excused"; "I have married a wife, and for that reason I cannot come" (Lk 14:19-20).

I know it seems radical, but Jesus' final point is so contrary to the image we have of Him that His next admonition seems almost non-Christian. Let me also remind you that He wasn't only talking to His apostles or other "higher ups" in His staff; He turned and spoke to the "great multitudes [which] were going along with Him" (Lk 14:25).

"If anyone comes to Me, and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple. Whoever does not carry his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple" (Lk 14:-26-27).

Choosing Him Above All

Here's how His words strike my heart. To me, He is saying that I must not let any relationship challenge His love and call upon my life. And, if there is a decision to be made about doing His will, I must always choose Him above everyone else's interests, even my own. By comparison, every other relationship I have could appear like hate when measured by my love and obedience to Jesus.

Of course, loving Jesus brings the very best of heaven into all my other relationships; I possess something of Christ's life that brings greater love back to my family and friends, and even my own soul.

But above all, the choice must be made for Christ.

You say, "This doesn't sound like the Jesus I know; He loves everyone." Yes, but He also knows the battle for our souls will be fierce and that to be successful in our spiritual journey, He must be first.

A Time To Seek God

There are many seasons in life. Proverbs tells us there is a time for every purpose under heaven. Beloved, I believe it is time to draw near to God, to prepare our hearts for His presence. There simply is no substitute for the presence of God.

David was a king. His life was filled with many responsibilities and he was clearly very passionate about many things. Yet he wrote, "When Thou didst say, 'Seek My face,' my heart said to Thee, 'Thy face, O LORD, I shall seek' " (Ps 27:8).

If the Holy Spirit were to whisper to your heart that He wants more of your time, when the Lord says, "Seek My face," what do you say? Oh beloved, here is the true battle for your soul. Your victory is not in getting more counseling, but in your answer to the Lord's call.

The result of seeking God is that He guides us into an absolutely fearless life (see Psalm 27:1-4). David says, "For in the day of trouble He will conceal me in His tabernacle; in the secret place of His tent He will hide me; He will lift me up on a rock" (Ps 27:5).

Today, with so many distractions, what place does the Lord have in your life? If He called you to deepen your walk, to seek His face, how would you respond? When He says, "Seek My face," what does your heart say to Him?

It cuts us deeply. We, too, are wounded as we see the degree of His wounding; we also are broken by the depth of His brokenness.

Sobs can be heard in the theater. Why are we crying? Didn't we know the story? Yes. We knew the facts, but not the ongoing torture, the abandonment and rejection, the injustice or unspeakable pain. The cost is being transferred to us.

The movie rescues Christ's sacrifice from the realm of cerebral information and secures its power in the holy place of our hearts. Yes, the movie wounds us, but it also heals us by letting us see the demonstration of Christ's love for us.

Must we have the violent images? Yes, the unrelenting torture and the merciless cruelty are the backdrop of darkness that contrasts the brightness of Christ's sacrifice for mankind. To leave them out or minimize the account is to subtract from the totality of His gift.

The word holocaust, legitimately used by Jews to describe their sufferings in Nazi death camps, means "a sacrificial offering entirely consumed." It is a biblical term. Christ's sacrifice was exactly this -- a sacrifice entirely consumed for us.

The critics rage, not merely because they are angry, but because they are afraid. The truth of Christ's love is too powerful to allow back into the mainstream of secular life. For years a vocal, but small minority has sought to remove all but the memory of God from society, but even the memory of what Christ did for us is powerful enough to transform the world.

For many Christians, The Passion of the Christ is not just another movie; it is a memorial to His suffering for our sins. In seeing, we remember, and the power of His sacrifice restores our souls.

Seek My face
Francis Frangipane

When He says, "Seek My face," what does your heart say to Him?

There are some things in life that cannot be attained cheaply or superficially. Scores of scriptures call us to something much more consuming and fulfilling than just having a religion about Jesus Christ. Yet, the challenge is to focus and centralize our efforts to appropriate what Jesus came to give.

He warns, "For the coming of the Son of Man will be just like the days of Noah. For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, they were marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark, and they did not understand until the flood came and took them all away; so shall the coming of the Son of Man be" (Matt 24:37-39).

Redeeming the Time

The biggest battle we each might fight is to stay focused on God long enough to learn how to abide in His presence. Before we can redeem the world, we must redeem our time. And we would think that with all the time saving conveniences we have in life, that this would be easy, but it is not.

The real test at the end of the age is: can we live in a place of focused renewal? Those whom I have known who have fallen into sin, never were taken in suddenly by the enemy. Their failure was always precipitated by an earlier erosion of their focus; their time with God was incrementally replaced with non-spiritual things. Left without the help of God, Satan's temptation came to a heart vulnerable and without strength to resist.

"But be sure of this, that if the head of the house had known at what time of the night the thief was coming, he would have been on the alert and would not have allowed his house to be broken into" (Matt 24:43).

The First Thing the Devil Steals is...

Speaking of the devil, Jesus warned that the "thief comes only to steal, and kill, and destroy" (Jn 10:10). Beloved, the first thing the devil steals is time. Once we surrender our devotional time with God to non-spiritual things; once this world becomes more important to us than the next, the enemy has easy access to "kill, and destroy" our virtue and spiritual strength.

Again, Jesus taught a parable about a certain man who was having a banquet and "sent his slave to say to those who had been invited, 'Come; for everything is ready now.' But they all alike began to make excuses" (Lk:14:17-18).

When the Lord calls us to Himself, do we make excuses? I'm tired. Hungry. Busy. Jesus tells us that the reasons for avoiding Him will seem legitimate: "I have bought a piece of land and I need to go out and look at it; please consider me excused"; "I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I am going to try them out; please consider me excused"; "I have married a wife, and for that reason I cannot come" (Lk 14:19-20).

I know it seems radical, but Jesus' final point is so contrary to the image we have of Him that His next admonition seems almost non-Christian. Let me also remind you that He wasn't only talking to His apostles or other "higher ups" in His staff; He turned and spoke to the "great multitudes [which] were going along with Him" (Lk 14:25).

"If anyone comes to Me, and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple. Whoever does not carry his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple" (Lk 14:-26-27).

Choosing Him Above All

Here's how His words strike my heart. To me, He is saying that I must not let any relationship challenge His love and call upon my life. And, if there is a decision to be made about doing His will, I must always choose Him above everyone else's interests, even my own. By comparison, every other relationship I have could appear like hate when measured by my love and obedience to Jesus.

Of course, loving Jesus brings the very best of heaven into all my other relationships; I possess something of Christ's life that brings greater love back to my family and friends, and even my own soul.

But above all, the choice must be made for Christ.

You say, "This doesn't sound like the Jesus I know; He loves everyone." Yes, but He also knows the battle for our souls will be fierce and that to be successful in our spiritual journey, He must be first.

A Time To Seek God

There are many seasons in life. Proverbs tells us there is a time for every purpose under heaven. Beloved, I believe it is time to draw near to God, to prepare our hearts for His presence. There simply is no substitute for the presence of God.

David was a king. His life was filled with many responsibilities and he was clearly very passionate about many things. Yet he wrote, "When Thou didst say, 'Seek My face,' my heart said to Thee, 'Thy face, O LORD, I shall seek' " (Ps 27:8).

If the Holy Spirit were to whisper to your heart that He wants more of your time, when the Lord says, "Seek My face," what do you say? Oh beloved, here is the true battle for your soul. Your victory is not in getting more counseling, but in your answer to the Lord's call.

The result of seeking God is that He guides us into an absolutely fearless life (see Psalm 27:1-4). David says, "For in the day of trouble He will conceal me in His tabernacle; in the secret place of His tent He will hide me; He will lift me up on a rock" (Ps 27:5).

Today, with so many distractions, what place does the Lord have in your life? If He called you to deepen your walk, to seek His face, how would you respond? When He says, "Seek My face," what does your heart say to Him?

Fiberoptics

Priscilla Van Sutphin

Feb 26th, 2004

I tried to look up fiberoptics on Google and found a couple things that stood out. "Cutting edge light source illumination" was one. The other was:

"products that filter, split, attenuate, switch, combine and monitor light in optical networks as well as automate testing of optical devices and sub-systems."

So I asked the Lord why He wants to talk about this and what He wants to say?

Rev 4:8 NKJV The four living creatures, each having six wings, were full of eyes around and within. And they do not rest day or night, saying:

"Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, Who was and is and is to come!"

Ezek 1:17-19 NKJV When they moved, they went toward any one of four directions; they did not turn aside when they went. 18 As for their rims, they were so high they were awesome; and their rims were full of eyes, all around the four of them. 19 When the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

"Man is always looking for better ways to see. But I tell you that I have My own optical system. I am the All-Seeing God and there is nothing hidden from My eyes. I am the Source of all LIGHT. I have some hidden LIGHT that is about to become manifest in all true believers and seekers. The LIGHT of MY GLORY is going to shine and illuminate every part of your being. This is something man cannot even attempt to do on his own.

I will reveal MY GLORY and it will light up your soul and remove all the hindrances that have been there from the enemy to keep you from your destiny in ME. You see I have had a timing. I know all that was, all that is and all that is to come. Now I am about to put on an amazing light show. "

Isa 60:1-5 AMP ARISE [from the depression and prostration in which circumstances have kept you--rise to a new life]! Shine (be radiant with the glory of the Lord), for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you! [Zech 8:23.]

2 For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and dense darkness [all] peoples, but the Lord shall arise upon you [O Jerusalem], and His glory shall be seen on you. [Isa 60:19-22; Mal 4:2; Rev 21:2,3.]

3 And nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising. [Isa 2:2,3; Jer 3:17.]

4 Lift up your eyes round about you and see! They all gather themselves together, they come to you. Your sons shall come from afar, and your daughters shall be carried and nursed in the arms.

5 Then you shall see and be radiant, and your heart shall thrill and tremble with joy [at the glorious deliverance] and be enlarged; because the abundant wealth of the [Dead] Sea shall be turned to you, unto you shall the nations come with their treasures. [Ps 119:32.]

Isa 60:8-9 AMP

8 Who are these who fly like a cloud, and like doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles and distant coastlands shall wait for and expect Me; and the ships of Tarshish [shall come] first, to bring your sons from afar, their silver and gold with them, for the name of the Lord your God, for the Holy one of Israel, because He has beautified and glorified you.

Isa 60:11 AMP And your gates shall be open continually, they shall not be shut day or night, that men may bring to you the wealth of the nations--and their kings led in procession [your voluntary captives]. [Rev 21:24-27.]

Isa 60:14-15 Amp The sons of those who afflicted you shall come bending low to you, and all those who despised you shall bow down at your feet, and they shall call you the City of the Lord, the Zion of the Holy one of Israel [Rev 3:9.] 15 Whereas you have been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through you, I will make you [Jerusalem] an eternal glory, a joy from age to age.

"I am the Divine illustrator. I'm going to turn on the lights of revelation for many and all who are willing to hear and see what the Spirit is saying, and who will not just use it for themselves, but who will share it and teach it to others. I will illuminate scriptures, and show you so many secrets. I will make things clear that have not been understood for many years. Much has been held back for this age.

The teachers are about to come forth who will lay apostolic foundations.

They will not be trying to make a name for themselves, though they will have prominence now. They will only care for the sheep, that they would grow and come into THEIR inheritance. They will be like eunuchs in the sense that they will not take advantage of the sheep and lambs. They will only want to see them nurtured and to grow into all I want to make them to be!

The Word of God is sharper than a two edged sword I have said! It will be truly sharpened in this hour. For as My bride speaks it forth, it will take on the creative life that I give it and it will transform people. It will transform families, and cities, and nations in this hour. I have been trying to get you to stop using the sword against each other. For if you do in this hour. It will come with greater consequence. I want you to FAST from criticism and a wagging tongue! I want you to instead BLESS those who curse you and speak blessing over your families and loved ones, even those who are unsaved! Speak the Word that they might be FREED from their shackles.

Pray MY WORD over people and watch them be transformed! I am putting an accelerator on My spoken Word! Speak My Word that they might attain LIFE in this world and in the next! I came to bring you life. NOW YOU USE THAT LIFE TO CREATE LIFE IN OTHERS! That is what I made you for. NOW DO IT!

At the same time, there will be an unction at times to speak the Word to those who refuse to come to ME, and persist in darkness and loving darkness. The words I ask you to speak may startle you. But this will be only for the few I can trust with such words! Paul set an example. MOSES was an example when Pharoah cursed him and told him he would die the next time he tried to come in his presence.then DEATH came upon Pharoah. Do not be surprised at My judgments! For when they are in the earth the people will learn knowledge and the FEAR OF THE LORD! For the FEAR of the LORD will fall upon the church and fall in the marketplace and men's hearts will fail them for fear because of My mighty signs and wonders I do in judging the wickedness on the earth!

I admonish you, as never before to be quick to listen and SLOW to speak!

Think before you answer someone. Turn away from idle talk that leads to gossip and unhealthy speaking! Remember that out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks, so cleanse your heart from unhealthy suspicions and doubts especially about MY faithfulness and kindness towards you!"

Jer 15:19-21 AMP

19 Therefore thus says the Lord [to Jeremiah]: If you return [and give up this mistaken tone of distrust and despair], then I will give you again a settled place of quiet and safety, and you will be My minister; and if you separate the precious from the vile [cleansing your own heart from unworthy and unwarranted suspicions concerning God's faithfulness], you shall be My mouthpiece. [But do not yield to them.] Let them return to you--not you to [the people].

20 And I will make you to this people a fortified, bronze wall; they will fight against you, but they will not prevail over you, for I am with you to save and deliver you, says the Lord.

21 And I will deliver you out of the hands of the wicked, and I will redeem you out of the palms of the terrible and ruthless tyrants.

Fruit of Wisdom
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Feb 24th , 2004 12:24 am

Prov 3:13-35 NKJV
13 Happy is the man who finds wisdom, and the man who gains understanding; 14 For her proceeds are better than the profits of silver, and her gain than fine gold. 15 She is more precious than rubies, and all the things you may desire cannot compare with her. 16 Length of days is in her right hand in her left hand riches and honor. 17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace. 18 She is a tree of life to those who take hold of her, and happy are all who retain her. 19 The LORD by wisdom founded the earth; By understanding He established the heavens; 20 By His knowledge the depths were broken up, and clouds drop down the dew. 21 My son, let them not depart from your eyes — Keep sound wisdom and discretion; 22 So they will be life to your soul and grace to your neck. 23 Then you will walk safely in your way, and your foot will not stumble. 24 When you lie down, you will not be afraid; Yes, you will lie down and your sleep will be sweet. 25 Do not be afraid of sudden terror, Nor of trouble from the wicked when it comes; 26 For the LORD will be your confidence, and will keep your foot from being caught. 27 Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in the power of your hand to do so. 28 Do not say to your neighbor, "Go, and come back, And tomorrow I will give it, "When you have it with you. 29 Do not devise evil against your neighbor, for he dwells by you for safety's sake. 30 Do not strive with a man without cause, if he has done you no harm. 31 Do not envy the oppressor, and choose none of his ways; 32 For the perverse person is an abomination to the LORD, But His secret counsel is with the upright. 33 The curse of the LORD is on the house of the wicked, But He blesses the home of the just. 34 Surely He scorns the scornful, But gives grace to the humble. 35 The wise shall inherit glory, But shame shall be the legacy of fools.

“ There is a fruit of coming to Me for wisdom for I AM the Source of all wisdom and understanding. Looking to ME, dependency on ME is the key to life, happiness, length of days, understanding and discernment, peace, and safety, wealth of heaven and of earth. Do you want to hear what I have to say? Then you must not lean on your own understanding, but in all your ways, acknowledge ME. Come to ME. Ask Me when you need advice. Ask Me when you need to know what is going on . I AM the Almighty God. I know all things. I established the earth and all that is in it. There is nothing I don’t know. I do nothing lest I tell My prophets.

Yet so many of My people who are called by MY NAME, go by their own wisdom. It is never a waste of time to spend time seeking MY wisdom and understanding. Worship ME, and not the work of your own hands, and you will get wisdom. If you look to ME for wisdom, then you will not fear, for you will know that I watch over all your affairs, and I watch over you. You will lie down in safety and your sleep will indeed be sweet. Look to Me for all the answers to your questions. I love nothing better than communing with you.
You are My Bride, My love, and I will do anything and answer anything for you.

I LOVE YOU MORE THAN YOU CAN IMAGINE! My heart is ever toward you! NOTHING can separate you from My love! NOTHING, NOTHING, NOTHING. YOU MUST LEARN THIS! Otherwise you will fall to guilt, self-condemnation, unbelief, doubt and skepticism.

I know the plans I have for you, plans for good, and not for evil, I said. So TRUST in ME. The whole of life is learning to trust and love ME, that you can also love others who are made in MY LIKENESS! Even those who are wicked and caught up in the schemes of the enemy. For when My Son came to earth, HE was a friend to winebibbers and prostitutes, in order to teach them the Way of LIFE! HE CAME TO DEMONSTRATE MY LOVE TO THE WORLD. Now I need you to do the same!

I HAVE NEED OF YOU! I SAID, I HAVE NEED OF YOU! I can do anything, but I have made you My ambassadors in chains, that you might spread the good news! So I am asking you today to draw closer, that you may gain MY WISDOM. And I am admonishing you to NOT LOOK TO YOUR OWN WISDOM. For I AM the Author and Finisher of your faith. And I know all things. I knew the decisions you would make long before you were born. I foresaw all things, and I am going to come like a whirlwind upon the land. I need YOU to be My ambassadors of LOVE. I need you to be willing to share all I have given you. Lay down your own opinions and seek MINE.

Taste and see that the Lord is good you will say. For you KNOW how I have been kind and patient with you. You will be able to teach others who have no idea of My love and kindness.

Ps 51:6-8 NKJV Behold, You desire truth in the inward parts, and in the hidden part You will make me to know wisdom. 7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. 8 Make me hear joy and gladness, that the bones You have broken may rejoice.

MY WORD IS TRUTH, and it is WISE to know My WORD. My Word is the immune system of the body of Christ. If you know My Word, then you will be able to wield it against the enemy of your soul. He hates it. He knows it. He is not ignorant of it, for he twists it to try to condemn you. He knows it, for he was cast out by the LIVING WORD. He walks in delusion, confusion and fear, for he refused to accept it, and rejected ME. BE NOT LIKE HIM!
Rebellion breeds confusion. Confusion is the fruit of witchcraft and wanting your own way. YIELD to MY WAYS and you will have peace of soul. Meditate on My Word and you will have life. Stay your mind on ME, and you will walk in perfect peace.

Prov 2:1-13 NKJV The Value of Wisdom

My son, if you receive my words, and treasure my commands within you,
2 So that you incline your ear to wisdom, And apply your heart to understanding; 3 Yes, if you cry out for discernment and lift up your voice for understanding, If you seek her as silver, And search for her as for hidden treasures; 5 Then you will understand the fear of the LORD, And find the knowledge of God. For the LORD gives wisdom; From His mouth come knowledge and understanding; 7 He stores up sound wisdom for the upright; He is a shield to those who walk uprightly;
8 He guards the paths of justice, and preserves the way of His saints. 9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice, Equity and every good path.
10 When wisdom enters your heart, and knowledge is pleasant to your soul,
11 Discretion will preserve you; Understanding will keep you, To deliver you from the way of evil, From the man who speaks perverse things, 13 From those who leave the paths of uprightness To walk in the ways of darkness;

Ps 111:10 NKJV The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom;
A good understanding have all those who do His commandments.
His praise endures forever.

Luke 21:15-16 NKJV for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries will not be able to contradict or resist.

Acts 6:10 NKJV And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke.

Rom 11:33-35 NKJV Oh, the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable are His judgments and His ways past finding out! 34 "For who has known the mind of the LORD? Or who has become His counselor?" 35 'Or who has first given to Him and it shall be repaid to him?"

James 1:5-8 NKJV
5 If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach, and it will be given to him. 6 But let him ask in faith, with no doubting, for he who doubts is like a wave of the sea driven and tossed by the wind. 7 For let not that man suppose that he will receive anything from the Lord; 8 he is a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways.

It is Written

Dan 9:13-19 NKJV "As it is written in the Law of Moses, all this disaster has come upon us; yet we have not made our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities and understand Your truth. 14 Therefore the LORD has kept the disaster in mind, and brought it upon us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all the works which He does, though we have not obeyed His voice. 15 And now, O Lord our God, who brought Your people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and made Yourself a name, as it is this day — we have sinned, we have done wickedly!

16 "O Lord, according to all Your righteousness, I pray, let Your anger and Your fury be turned away from Your city Jerusalem, Your holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Your people are a reproach to all those around us. 17 Now therefore, our God, hear the prayer of Your servant, and his supplications, and for the Lord's sake cause Your face to shine on Your sanctuary, which is desolate.
18 O my God, incline Your ear and hear; open Your eyes and see our desolations, and the city which is called by Your name; for we do not present our supplications before You because of our righteous deeds, but because of Your great mercies. 19 O Lord, hear! O Lord, forgive! O Lord, listen and act! Do not delay for Your own sake, my God, for Your city and Your people are called by Your name."

Although many have gone back to business as usual, there are many who have taken seriously the call to prayer and worship and the call to repentance for this nation. So although more judgment is coming and many lives will be devastated by what is allowed to come, there will be a break out of AWAKENING that will shake this nation to it's knees, even with all the natural disasters that come. I will listen and hear from My holy mountain, all the cries of My children for mercy. But the stench of PRIDE that has ruled in the world and in My church which is called by MY name will be eradicated.

Sudden events will catapult this nation to it's knees and the pride of America will be broken. But a new wave of holiness and TRUTH will permeate the land from shore to shore and millions will be saved in this nation alone.

FEAR will grip the heart of many and many will flee to the nations of the earth for fear of what else may come upon them. But no one will be able to avoid My wrath when it comes. They will run, but not be able to hide from Me, as if I were human as they are! The wicked flee when no one pursues, but the righteous are BOLD AS A LION! So I am filling you with BOLDNESS to preach My Word and to do all according to MY will that you may prosper and go forth and take the nations for the Kingdom!

Song came to mind from an old movie : Live and let die!…a James Bond movie.

Live and let die! LIVE so that all that is not of ME may die! Die to your flesh that you may have new life in ME. Many who call themselves Christian are still living as if they are in charge of their own lives. Yet they claim to have surrendered to ME. Which is it? [Saw: a husk of corn] Will you let the kernel…the outside layer of the corn, fall and die in the ground so that the internal part may live and RULE over the flesh?

Rom 8:36-39 NKJV As it is written:
"For Your sake we are killed all day long; We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter."
37 Yet in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us. 38 For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities nor powers, nor things present nor things to come, 39 nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

If you ask, I will come and help you in this. IF YOU ASK, I will COME and change all in your life that you may live truly NEW LIFE that is free from stress and worry. I HAVE A REST I have called you to. But few have come and allowed ME to rule and reign and to order their lives. Shake off all that hinders My love. For I am coming. Ask yourself, “ Does this matter eternally? “ Can this wait? Allow ME first place in your lives that I may fulfill My promises to you. Let me replace the fears and worries with the TRUTH of My WORD. Speak the WORD OF LIFE OUTLOUD. PROCLAIM it over your families! PROCLAIM it over your communities. PROCLAIM it over THE NATIONS! It is NOT an exercise in futility but a call to WAR.

Matt 4:4 NKJV But He answered and said, "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God.

SPEAK TRUTH when others are speaking their lies and deceptions! For the earth is filled with lawlessness and pride. But I will bring down the haughtiness and pride of man. All ARROGANCE will be brought low. NONE are exempt from this. All that is hidden will be EXPOSED in the WICKED!

There will be no place to hide from the probe of My glory! IT will SHINE, and what is darkness will be evident to ALL. And what is good and holy, will be brought to light for a time, then hidden away suddenly from the wrath to come.

Come aside My love…I am longing to hold you in My arms and love on you, and soothe your wounds and heal them. I want a WHOLE and HOLY BRIDE.

Mal 4:5-6 NIV "See, I will send you the prophet Elijah before that great and dreadful day of the LORD comes. 6 He will turn the hearts of the fathers to their children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers; or else I will come and strike the land with a curse."

Mark 1:2-3 NKJV As it is written in the Prophets: "Behold, I send My messenger before Your face,
Who will prepare Your way before You."
3 'The voice of one crying in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way of the LORD;
Make His paths straight.'"

Matt 21:13 NKJV And He said to them, "It is written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer,' but you have made it a 'den of thieves.'"

The Spirit of Elijah has come and it is growing and wooing and it will ERUPT upon My beloveds who are called to prepare the way for My coming. The prodigals will be drawn back to ME. The youth will come back into My arms and they will cry out for JUSTICE and RESTORATION before the great and dreadful day of the LORD. Even as I am preparing My Elijah’s, the enemy is preparing his counterfeits to work lying signs and wonders.

The sad thing for me is that many in the church have looked and blasphemed the Holy Spirit calling what is HOLY false. Revival is about to burst forth through those I have prepared for this time, yet many will rise up against you within the church, and great arguments and disputes will increase as the sifting continues to separate the wheat from the chaff . Do not be surprised at the delusion you see overtake many who have NOT been intimate with ME. They will be seen for what they really are, because they will no longer be able to pretend as they do now. Those who fight against My beloveds, will be fighting with ME. And I will undertake for you! BLESS those who curse you. BUT when I give UTTERANCE, SPEAK FORTH all I put in your mouth to speak. DO NOT BE AFRAID to speak MY WORD and to use it as I SAY! Do NOT speak presumptively about anything! ASK ME for what you should say, and I will show you! The battle belongs to ME. BE as Moses before pharaoh…depend on ME for what to say! Do not try to speak on your own wisdom, or you will fail to be effective. But if you speak what I TELL YOU, YOUR WORDS WILL NOT FALL TO THE GROUND!!!!

Rejoice and be exceedingly GLAD. Worship, and DANCE with ME! I am longing for this time of closeness to ME. I will come and transform your marriages, where there has been waning of love and lack of consideration, LOVE will overtake you both, and there will be true love and delight in each other. Where there has been sickness and torment, it will be HEALED. For I am ARISING to OVERTHROW THE ENEMY! TRUST ME in this, that I will bless those who bless you. I will bless you if you will accept in your heart the fullness of what I want for you! JUST STEP OUT and receive all I have. Lean not on your own understanding, but acknowledge Me in all your ways, and I will make your path straight! I WILL DO ALL I HAVE PURPOSED TO DO IN YOU! NOTHING will hold ME back! JUST COME TO ME! LET ME HEAL those of you who are weary and weak! Lie in My presence and let me heal all the enemy has done to destroy and maim and limit you… I WILL DESTROY ALL HIS RAMPARTS! I WILL BE EXALTED in the earth! And I will lift up the humble!

“There are dangerous games being played in the field of politics all over the world as corruption continues to rob and steal and cause rebellion all over the world. The systems of man will fail. But MY WORD never fails. You cannot count on social security or any other system of man. You will not be able to depend on insurance when multitudes of floods, earthquakes and disasters of all manner strike the earth! So what then will your trust be in when all these systems fail?

The courts have tried to rule against supporting higher education that churns out ministers, so then what do you think they will do when the New World Order takes control? Do you really think these things are happening by chance, and that you have a multitude of years to get through everything and you don’t have to worry? The antichrist spirit is rising in the earth because the man of sin is coming. And with him are coming his legions to carry out the end times scenario. So when will you prepare? WHEN WILL YOU LISTEN TO MY PROPHETS? You boast in your arrogance and you say this year we will do this and that. Can you not see the polarity of what is going on in the world and the divergence, and the violence among ethic groups all over the world? Can you not see the rebellion increasing?

1 Tim 4:1-4 AMP BUT THE [Holy] Spirit distinctly and expressly declares that in latter times some will turn away from the faith, giving attention to deluding and seducing spirits and doctrines that demons teach,
2 Through the hypocrisy and pretensions of liars whose consciences are seared (cauterized),
3 Who forbid people to marry and [teach them] to abstain from [certain kinds of] foods which God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and have [an increasingly clear] knowledge of the truth.
4 For everything God has created is good, and nothing is to be thrown away or refused if it is received with thanksgiving.

2 Tim 3:1- AMP BUT UNDERSTAND this, that in the last days will come (set in) perilous times of great stress and trouble [hard to deal with and hard to bear].
2 For people will be lovers of self and [utterly] self-centered, lovers of money and aroused by an inordinate [greedy] desire for wealth, proud and arrogant and contemptuous boasters. They will be abusive (blasphemous, scoffing), disobedient to parents, ungrateful, unholy and profane.

3 [They will be] without natural [human] affection (callous and inhuman), relentless (admitting of no truce or appeasement); [they will be] slanderers (false accusers, troublemakers), intemperate and loose in morals and conduct, uncontrolled and fierce, haters of good.
4 [They will be] treacherous [betrayers], rash, [and] inflated with self-conceit. [They will be] lovers of sensual pleasures and vain amusements more than and rather than lovers of God.
5 For [although] they hold a form of piety (true religion), they deny and reject and are strangers to the power of it [their conduct belies the genuineness of their profession]. Avoid [all] such people [turn away from them].
6 For among them are those who worm their way into homes and captivate silly and weak-natured and spiritually dwarfed women, loaded down with [the burden of their] sins [and easily] swayed and led away by various evil desires and seductive impulses.
7 [These weak women will listen to anybody who will teach them]; they are forever inquiring and getting information, but are never able to arrive at a recognition and knowledge of the Truth.
8 Now just as Jannes and Jambres were hostile to and resisted Moses, so these men also are hostile to and oppose the Truth. They have depraved and distorted minds, and are reprobate and counterfeit and to be rejected as far as the faith is concerned. [Ex 7:11.]
9 But they will not get very far, for their rash folly will become obvious to everybody, as was that of those [magicians mentioned].
10 Now you have closely observed and diligently followed my teaching, conduct, purpose in life, faith, patience, love, steadfastness,
11 Persecutions, sufferings--such as occurred to me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Lystra, persecutions I endured, but out of them all the Lord delivered me.
12 Indeed all who delight in piety and are determined to live a devoted and godly life in Christ Jesus will meet with persecution [will be made to suffer because of their religious stand].
13 But wicked men and imposters will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and leading astray others and being deceived and led astray themselves.
14 But as for you, continue to hold to the things that you have learned and of which you are convinced, knowing from whom you learned [them],

A great deception is going on in the courts of the kings and rulers of the nations. Great alliances of enemy nations to yours, have been made and will continue to try to thwart the purposes I have to redeem this nation. Do not fear the days that are coming upon you. No matter what happens you must know and believe that I care for you. REMEMBER that MERCY triumphs over judgment! Do not fall to hatred and bitterness because of the ways the world is going. CONTINUE IN WORSHIP and PRAYER and keep in union and communion with ME as you see the day of the LORD approaching. DO NOT FEAR. I AM WITH YOU! And I will keep you in the palm of My HAND!

A great surge of My power is about to be loosed to re-establish the apostolic and to reestablish TRUTH in My church. I AM building foundations for the the church to be able to STAND in the days to come. I have been building behind the scenes but this will escalate and new alignments will be fully established to bring in the HARVEST. So FEW are ready for the flood that is about to ensue. I will do a QUICK WORK in this hour. So anticipate
MY ORDERS! STAND STILL and see the salvation of Your Lord! WAIT on ME for your orders! I am coming and will make the way clear for you.

I am a rewarder of those who DILIGENTLY seek Me. I will by no means leave anyone out. STAND and continue to stand. AND do NOT let the enemy get you sidetracked or distracted from the course I have called you to. I am opening doors that NO MAN, NO DEMON, NOR ANYTHING can shut. I WILL HAVE MY WAY…I WILL REIGN in My church and the gates of HELL will NOT PREVAIL against it!

An old song came to mind….” All you need is love, love, all you need is love “

LOVE leads to repentance. REMEMBER how I woo’d you in the first days you came to ME? REMEMBER how the first year you were saved, everything you seemed to ask and pray for would be answered? LOVE is MY WAY.
So keep your eyes on ME and let ME show you how to deal with this generation. Do NOT do things just because you’ve always done them THAT way! I HAVE A PLAN. COME TO ME, so that I may share it with you!

I am the Source of all WISDOM. Deal with the new believers with LOVE and kindness and patience and MY wisdom. BE ready to give an answer to all who ask you for the reason for your hope. Lean on ME. I will give you all you ask for!

My LOVE will see you through anything. My love is wider and deeper than you can imagine. I did not come into the world to condemn it, but to bring LIFE. I came to redeem Mankind and to draw them back into relationship.
RELATIONSHIP is what is missing in the lives of SO many people today. They are so love starved, they will do anything to get attention. REALIZE the depth of depravity by the depth of rebellion you see! And do not exhaust yourselves on those who still hate ME. Only pray. Some will come to DRAIN you and you must have discernment on who is sent by ME, and who is sent by the enemy to distract you from My purposes, or to draw you away from those I've aligned you with. ASK ME and I will give you wisdom and understanding. "

Fiery Intentions

Dorothy Hedlund

October 15, 2004

[Background – Not being able to attend a fall conference, by divine appointment I was able to have a 4-day retreat in a Lake of the Ozarks cabin, alone with the Lord. In the midst of moments of worship viewing a MorningStar worship video of a prior Harvest Conference, the Father's fiery presence came one night. I found myself on the floor, travailing in spirit as the Spirit of intercession fell, following which came forth this word for our nation & believers across this country. The next day Jesus spoke more about the will of the Father regarding disbursement of this word…]

The Mandate

[JESUS] 10/16/04 – "The Father has given you a message to transcribe – and then it must be presented to other's eyes. It will serve as a light to bring much understanding. Caught up in the moment, you have already forgotten much of what was said. As you listen to it again, its impact in you/through you – will be renewed. My Word shall be 'published' and then run forth from east to west, from north to south. This fiery message will blanket this nation, covering every part. Every detail of what you are to do will be shown to you. Do not share it with ears that are not ready to hear. This will only discourage you. 'Pony Express' riders shall carry it from station to station, every-where I send them, every place they are led. By chain reaction it shall crisscross this nation, as on a map by 'freeway express,' igniting into flame that which was only 'a spark' in many hearts. It will be a fire that affects more than just regions… but the entire United States. This is a word for My entire Church…within this nation."

Prayer of Desperation – 'RUSH on Your People'

[PRAYER] – "Rush, rush, rush on Your people! Rush, rush, rush on Your Bride! Rush, rush, rush on Your body! Come with a fire that will never die! Father God, I know that these words are true. They came right from the throne before this song was played. Father God, I pray that You would RUSH on Your body…RUSH from the throne room. Come with a fire that will never die! Come with a fire that will never die! We HAVE TO HAVE YOUR HELP – WE CAN'T CHANGE BY OURSELVES. We cannot change by ourselves. O God, we've NOT enough DESPERATION in the body of Christ to escort them into the heavenly realms where they NEED to be. I pray, God, for DESPERATION to fall. I pray, God, for THE FIRE OF GOD to BURN UP the chaff of false desires. I pray that You would RUSH from the altar of God…RUSH THROUGH, God, from the very mouth of the Father – RUSH UPON THE EARTH! RELEASE YOURSELF UPON US! Release Yourself upon me! Even now, Jesus, release Yourself upon our loved ones…RUSH upon our children…RUSH!

I PRAY THAT THE ROAR OF HEAVEN would be heard in the spiritual ears of those who have 'ears to hear.' I pray, God, that the voice of Your intercessions before the throne – through the voice of intercessions on the earth – WOULD JOIN in FIRE from earth & FIRE from heaven…in columns of FIRE, lighting up upon the earth! Yes!

Father, I'm asking for 'the portal' …WITHIN the place of Your heart, to OPEN UP! AND THAT YOUR FIRE, GOD, YOUR FIRE – WOULD DESCEND UPON THE EARTH, in Jesus' Name! Rush, rush, rush on Your people! Rush, rush, rush on Your Bride! Rush, rush, rush on Your body! Come with a fire that will never die!" Whirlwinds of fire, God, whirlwinds of fire, descend! Come! Come! Come! Send it down! And from the place that I stand before You, cast it down, Lord…cast it down upon the earth! Come and pour – come and pour – come and pour out on us! Pour out, pour out, pour out on us!"

FIREBRANDS UPON THE EARTH

[FATHER] – "I would not have you ask Me this if it was not the desire of My heart to give. AND BECAUSE HEAVEN & EARTH AGREE IT SHALL BE DONE THROUGH THE NAME OF MY SON, JESUS CHRIST. The Spirit of God is being sent forth. Where you are – He IS. He is coming to MEET YOU…He is coming to meet you…and those ready to receive THE FIRE OF GOD upon the earth.

BUT THERE MUST BE CARRIERS…there must be CARRIERS of this fire: those who are not afraid of the fire … those who LOVE the fire … those who have WALKED IN the fire … those who are willing to LIVE IN the fire … and those that are willing TO SPREAD FIRE. I will FIND THOSE PEOPLE! I will find those people…for I have 'marked them' as FIREBRANDS upon the earth.

This fire will come to young and old alike. Grandfathers & grandmothers will SUDDENLY find themselves, their mouths full, filled with the fire of God. In the inner cities, in the reservations upon the Dakota lands, My burning fire will come. Campfires of past generations that called witchcraft into areas – will SEE THIS FIRE, and they will KNOW that it is a fire that comes from HIGHER ABOVE than from where they are. FIRE! The only thing you have to do to prepare for this fire – is say, "LORD, MAKE ME A FIRE-BRAND UPON THE EARTH." Are you ready to stand? Are you ready to stand? Are you ready to STAND – that people might see you? This fire is A LIGHT that is NOT going to be held 'under a basket' or put out on top of a hill. It is a FIRE THAT WILL BURN IN EVERY REGION, BRIGHTLY, and all the more brightly as I call My 'firebrands' to come together quickly, and assemble for the purpose of becoming 'Olympic torches' throughout regions, for My glory.

YOU CANNOT BE CHANGED, AS MY PEOPLE, WITHOUT MY FIRE. You cannot help impact nations without My fire, nor can there come forth healing virtue, nor the ministry of 'ministers of fire' – if you are not willing to live as one ON FIRE."

PURPOSE OF GOD'S FIRE UPON THE EARTH

"Sons and daughters, do you understand what fire is and does? MY FIRE upon the earth will make it so that peoples of all nations, tribes & tongues – WILL SEE ONLY ONE – they will see no other gods before them. They will see only ONE.

FIRE also comes…to make people ONE. There's 'meltdown,' and all personal agendas are laid aside and SUDDENLY…SUDDENLY…churches, individuals, relationships, people in Christ together – become ONE. Fire melts things together so that never, ever can they be torn apart again. There has not been an adequate supply of fire upon the earth. Had there been, My Body would already be one. SO ASK FOR THE FIRE TO COME. Wherever My fire comes … it BURNS, IT PURGES, BUT ALSO MELTS THINGS TOGETHER. It takes 'this piece of gold' and 'that piece of gold' and IT THROWS IT IN THE KILN – and makes a beautiful bride of Christ, who is without wrinkle, without spot, AND WITHOUT DIVISION in her life.

FIRE comes also, My children, to BURN CHAINS AWAY that cannot be broken any other way. It sets captives free. ONE TOUCH OF MY FIRE from My little finger, one touch of My breathy fire upon a person's life – changes them…it changes them FOREVER – for it comes not as a fire from 'above' to 'the place within' – but MY FIRE, MY SPIRIT COMES TO A PLACE 'WITHIN' and works itself 'OUT' in an individual's life. And because of that purging, purifying working within, the CHAINS are BROKEN FREE and cannot be placed on that individual again.

WHEN MY FIRE COMES, it will specifically take care of CANCER upon the earth, beginning with the body of Christ. There cannot be healers if they have not been weepers. Those who have wept in the night seasons…those afflicted with cancer cells in their bodies – will know the BURNING, PURGING FIRE OF GOD – the fire that looses healing, that brings LIFE from the very bowels of the Father's Being and places it within a believer's 'temple.'

Many 'temple fires' have gone out. There were supposed to be 'altar fires' going 24/7 in the 'houses of God' – that's what the priests were to maintain … but My fires have gone out, not only in My Church – but in the 'little churches' across the earth … in MY PEOPLE, in INDIVIDUALS across the earth. My fire has gone out WITHIN THEM. Do you not understand? This is has allowed sickness and disease, of spirit and body, to creep into people. When the fire comes…when the altar of fire within a person's heart is 'set on fire' again – then the purging of disease and mental illness shall QUICKLY…QUICKLY…QUICKLY, I SAY, leave My people – and leave them as the pure priests of God, the apostles, the prophets, the evangelists, the teachers, the pastors/the shepherds – that they were intended to be, even among My five-fold. There are FIRES THAT HAVE GONE OUT, but WATCH MY FIRE COME. WATCH IT COME TO THEM! WATCH IT COME TO THEM! They are willing to be 'firebrands' for Me. So if they throw their hands up in the air and say unto Me, "Make me a fire-brand for God – I will COME, I will COME – at the most unexpected moment… I will COME, I will COME and make the fires upon the altars of their hearts BURN with FRESH COALS, STRAIGHT FROM MY HEART," says your Father God.

ANOTHER THING MY FIRE DOES is that it burns upon 'altars of righteousness' erected in cities, nations & regions – and it burns so brightly and so fiercely – that all other 'false fires' of false gods, are actually licked up/consumed, WITHIN THE FIRES OF HOLINESS.

If you do not understand yet WHY the 'fire of God' is needed upon the earth – then return to the days when in Sunday School you sing, "This little light of mine, I'm going to let it shine…let it shine, let it shine, let it shine…" IT IS NOT SIMPLY A LIGHT that children sing about. IT IS A FLAME…IT IS A FLAME! People have not understood the fact that every person needs within them the flame of the Lord. Hold your finger up and say, "This little light, I'm going to let it shine" – then picture the fire of God upon it. Offer it up to Me with your hands raised, and I WILL COME AND CONSUME THE SACRIFICE UPON THE ALTAR OF YOUR HEART, SETTING YOUR WHOLE BODY ABLAZE! It will be more than just your little finger – your ENTIRE BEING will be set ablaze with the FIRE OF GOD.

(Hearing/seeing break, listened to a MorningStar Harvest Conference, worship video and amazing words sung: "You will go to the nations…you will go to the nations… and the fire I have put in you, shall spread around the world. Like foxes with their tails on fire, you will go through the fields and set them on fire! You will go to the fields, and you will set FIELDS on fire…set us on fire…set us on fire…set us on fire.) [How does He do that…orchestrate the reception of a word with music before it's even heard? He is God.]

How Long, Father…How Long?

[Prophetic Intercession] "Father God, HOW LONG is this going to take? How long is it going to take, from the praying of this prayer and between the agreement of heaven and earth – FOR THIS FIRE TO COME? I WANT TO KNOW, I ASK YOU: is it going to be weeks, months, or still years before this thing YOU HAVE PROMISED for the United States and for Christians within this nation comes? Millions of people are coming to Christ in crusades around the world, but we need Your fire, here, in THIS nation, God. I want Your fire to BURN THROUGH the third heaven. I WANT IT TO SCORCH AND DESTROY PRINCIPALITIES 'on its way down.' I want You to CRUSH the head of Your enemies, as Your pillar of fire comes through from heaven to earth. Is this too much to ask, Father? IS IT too much to ask? I pray that You would continue making a spectacle of the forces of darkness, make them shudder. I pray you give us spiritual eyes to see the moment when Satan and his hosts & people of wickedness are FORCED TO BOW THEIR KNEE because they recognize and FEAR THE LORD. Is that what this fire is, Lord? Is it a 'fear of the Lord' as well? I ASK FOR THE FEAR OF THE LORD to come as well.

THIS IS ALL ABOUT YOU – AND 'REWARD FOR THE LAMB.' All we are, all we do, all we endeavor to undertake, all our gifts, all our talents, all the things You have promised to do in us & through us, and all rewards in heaven one day gained – it's ALL ABOUT REWARD FOR THE LAMB, a truth the Moravians lived by. NOTHING for our-selves – it's ALL FOR HIM. I'm so weary of those in the body of Christ looking at one another & calling each other by 'high titles.' Those of greatest delight to You are simply called 'sons & daughters.' So DESPERATE for more of You, You have taken them beyond 'beyond the veil' – and on INTO Your very heart ablaze. They don't need title, they don't need position… they hardly want to be seen.

And, Father, I pray that You raise up 'the LaTourneau earth-moving machines' – those retired/hidden away, for whatever reason, until the appointed day. "Some were 'retired' by the world's systems…even the Church's systems, set aside even BEFORE their service years were through, by those saying, "You don't belong here…" or "we have no use for you…" But I pray, NOW, Father, that those who've been in a furnace of purging these past years – would come OUT OF RETIREMENT with their 'BIG RIGS.' I pray that you would MOVE THEM…MOVE THEM…toward the 'skyscrapers' of this world's systems erected by man. I pray that they would PLOW INTO CITIES. I pray the structures of man would be TORN DOWN, and that YOUR GOVERNMENT would come forth as these 'earthmovers' rise up again. Satan hasn't understood a thing about where they're at. He thought he put them away by a word of rejection, by low self-confidence, by being 'turned out to pasture' – he thought he put them away because of depression at times, or lack of finances. BUT LITTLE DID HE KNOW…that buried in the depths of Your thoughts, these ones were going to be called back out, in leadership to emerge STRONG, MIGHTY, RESPECTED, MORAL, FULL OF CHARACTER & LEADERSHIP.

And oh…my God, HOW THEY LOVE TO WORK TOGETHER. I have seen them working together, clearing the way for the runners of the last day…coming through, coming through, who carry the Word of God. GENERATIONS, God, You're bringing generations together. GENERATIONS…build the bridges between generations. We cannot exist one without the other. I pray, God, that you would tear down the blinders in the older folk. I pray that you would tear down the prejudices they have erected in their hearts against tatoos and piercings and all those who are creative in their way of expression in glorifying You. Father God, I pray that blacks & whites & Hispanics, and all peoples represented in cities – would be brought together BY THE FIRE OF GOD. Again I ask,
"How long…how long before this fire comes?" WE NEED IT N O W."

[MOMENTS BETWEEN FATHER & DAUGHTER…]
"Daughter, it is a good thing that you are speaking into a recorder and not writing things down this night, for it frees up your mind to receive Mine at quicker speed than you could possibly transcribe. So carry your little recorder…it shall dance with you. Carry your recorder, it shall kneel with you. Raise your recorder, and it will worship with you. Walk with your recorder, and you will become attuned to the next moving of My voice & Spirit. As truth comes, I allow you 'breathing time' so that your circuits are not 'short-circuited' by this amount of download.

I showed you a lake of fire last night within My heart…a portal on the floor where you have laid before Me on your little belly, soaking up My love within 'The Council of the Lord.' You were then shown another portal on the floor of My heart, a 'lower chamber' into which you were taken down by escort of My Son. And there you saw FIRE, FIRE, FIRE…"

ANOTHER LAKE OF FIRE

He continued, "You were correct in your perceiving that it was a lake of fire. There are two lakes of fire: one reserved for eternal judgment – and one 'an eternal blaze' of My passion & love for redeemed creation and My only begotten Son. I AM A CONSUMING FIRE… and in this fire is a CONSUMMATION, by which you are 'made complete in every way.' In the fire you become one with Me, just as you have become one with My Son.

As Father, you cannot join to Me without consummation (becoming one with Me/ complete) in the fire. You can only approach Me in this place 'escorted in' by My Son. HE IS THE ONLY WAY 'IN.' He was the first to see the fiery depths of My heart – and it is ablaze. The flames are LIGHT, and they are LIFE. They are not to be feared. It is a glory…a hidden glory…a mystery…it is a mystery and a glory. These flames will not burn you; they will not hurt you. They will TRANSFORM you. It is from this place that FIRE is sent forth upon the earth. Every fire in man's heart has come from this very FIRE WITHIN ME. You have seen it. You saw it before My Son poured out His intercessions tonight, asking that fire be sent from heaven to earth soon…in your day.

In the past, I have sent ‘portions’ of My fire through ‘fiery spirits’ as ministering angels, and through My Holy Spirit sent out. I have sent revival fires. I have sent cleansing fires. I have sent fires to burn out & purge out wickedness from nations and turn people to their very Lord. I cannot describe in words that you will understand … but there is a place in Me where this fire will be sent forth from in such a FORCE that it will CHANGE THE REST OF HIS-STORY as people perceive it upon the earth…A SWEEPING, CONSUMING FIRE – I AM READY TO LOOSE FROM THE VERY BOWELS OF MY BEING, MY PEOPLE.

A COMING ‘FIRE OF LIFE’

Because of this strategic, important election, it has finally become clear to the saints who walk in righteousness – that massive numbers of people in this nation (which is to be called ‘ONE NATION, UNDER GOD’ – the amount of division and deception that there is in this nation. Every other person you meet is deceived. Every other person you meet does not walk in truth. And more than every other person you meet will NOT go to heaven. I am not Republican, and I am not Democrat, but this election has set a standard that the Church might see the calamity that this nation is in. And because of that, I am NOT SENDING A FIRE OF JUDGMENT…I AM SENDING A FIRE OF LIFE. Can I make that PLAIN TO YOU … that you might make it plain to the body of Christ?

The fire that comes out of Me in this season, in this time, in the year – is not a fire that is going to destroy – though some (because of the part of Me that is coming forth) – will contain (as just one of the seven-fold flames) … THE FEAR OF THE LORD. But EVERY FLAME within the Spirit of God (Wisdom, Understanding, Counsel, Power/Might, Knowledge and The Fear of the Lord … and the Spirit of God as the Spirit of Prophecy & Revelation) – ALL OF THESE ARE THE FLAMES OF THE LORD … and that is THE FLAME that I carry inside Myself. It produces LIFE.

There are times when if one wants to ‘come alive’ – one must first die. People will see it as judgment … but it is only the purging coming, so that they might step into new realms of LIFE. LIFE!

Yes, judgment will come upon every nation in the entire world one day – and I have been using things of power in My creation to turn people’s hearts to Me. But these ‘acts’ (hurricanes, storms, volcanoes) are but TRUMPET BLASTS. They are TRUMPETS ANNOUNCING TRUTH – but still people’s ears do not hear the voice of the Lord. They have been TRUMPETS TO ANNOUNCE TRUTH – BUT I AM NOT YET JUDGING AMERICA.

Some may differ with that. When the World Trade towers fell, it was because there was a huge GAP IN THE ARMOR OF GOD across the body of Christ within this nation. The enemy came in and pierced the heart of this nation, and of course – when a nation, a people are not walking in truth – they then perceive it as a great judgment.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

THIS WAS SIMPLY AN EFFECT OF THE ARMOR OF GOD NOT BEING PROPERLY WORN BY THE BODY OF CHRIST IN THIS NATION. Therefore the heart of this nation was struck, and thousands died because of it. But still, it was NOT MY HAND OF JUDGMENT. It was CAUSE & EFFECT. It was an ‘OPEN GATE’ by which the enemy could come in because of WICKEDNESS in the market place, UNRIGHTEOUSNESS in the market place…and because MY PEOPLE had not cried out in repentance for what the entire other half of the nation was doing, compared to those who walk in righteousness.

[TRYING TO UNDERSTAND…]
Father, it’s hard to comprehend all that You’re saying. I understand that when judgment comes, we will UNDERSTAND it IS judgment. And I understand cause & effect…like eating too much most likely will cause weight gain. The Church has not been standing in the gap corporately for our nation, crying out as one, putting on the breastplate of righteousness that it be clearly seen. This has allowed the enemy to come in – but it has not been Your judgments, You say? But I don't quite understand. Oral Roberts was brought before You after 9/11 that You might speak with him. He said You said…it WAS a judgment, Father. I can see indirectly that it was…but still it wasn't.

It WAS NOT sent by Your hand, but by enemy plan. YOU COULD NOT PREVENT IT, however, because 'the armor of God' was not in place over our nation, or even being properly worn by within those in the Church, to protect us. Is it possible that what is actually 'cause & effect' may appear as judgment to us?"

GUARDING GATES, WINDOWS & DOORS

"Daughter, let Me make this simple for you. Picture a lion's cage, and picture the lions within it. Now picture the gate being raised. And before the lions stand a crowd of people. The lions have not 'fed' for many days, and they sense that there is no longer any restraint upon them. The lions will leap from that cage, and they will feed. THAT IS WHAT HAPPENED when America's 'gatekeepers' do not WATCH THE GATES. The gates are opened by forces of darkness, and the gatekeepers are not there to watch over their regions, their cities, their states, or even their families. It is NOT ME sending judgment. It is the ENEMY WALKING THROUGH OPEN DOORS & GATES…THAT THE CHURCH SHOULD HAVE BEEN TENDING TO. Do you see the difference? Disaster comes. The enemy strikes – but it was not 'My hand' – but I could not restrain it because the GATE was not guarded, and the gate was opened by the enemy himself. There were not people standing in agreement; the breastplate, the armor, was not in place.

Now picture this…a house with many windows on a bright sunny day. The windows are open. It is 'fair weather.' The occupants leave for a day's journey and forget to shut the windows. They get back after dark, but in mid-afternoon a storm arose & came in from the sea – and the wind and the gusts and the rain BURST THROUGH the house… because THE WINDOWS WERE NOT SHUT, and damage occurred. THIS IS THE SAME THING that has happened in the area of the hurricanes. DOOR/PORTAL/WINDOWS were not being tended to because everything appeared to be 'O.K.' to the body of Christ. They did not see disaster, nor see times & seasons approaching as those who walk in the wisdom of the sons of Issachar. They should have known; they should have guarded & shut the windows during FAIR WEATHER before the storms arose.

DISASTERS & JUDGMENTS ARE NOT THE SAME

I understand that you do not understand completely, the words that are coming through to you now. But as you analyze them…and look at them…and pray over them in coming days, you will see TRUTH in them. It is not judgment…it is cause and effect. When My judgment strikes, IT WILL COME TO ALL IN THIS NATION WHO DO NOT WALK IN RIGHTEOUSNESS. THERE WILL BE NO 'GUESSING' as to whether an earthquake in California…hurricanes in Florida…disasters along the coastline, earthquakes that strike in the night seasons – ALL WILL KNOW THAT IS MY HAND OF JUDGMENT WHEN IT COMES.

Let me clarify this also. DISASTERS and JUDGMENTS ARE NOT THE SAME THING.
Disasters come from 'cause & effect.' Judgment comes when I SAY it's to be sent.

There are people, even My people, who will bring 'disaster' upon their own heads due to cause & effect…but they SEE IT and PERCEIVE IT as My judgment upon their life – when THEY actually created the atmosphere & circumstances – so that 'the thing' began to grow in strength, until it became a DISASTER in their lives. There ARE other things, sent from the enemy directly. These, too, are not MY judgments. When he gets 'through' – it is because the armor has not been on, prayer has not been in place, and the gatekeepers guarding windows & portals & gates upon the earth have become complacent in fulfilling their duties. This, too, My people, is why 'fresh fire' MUST COME.

ASK NOW FOR FIRE TO COME

I ask people to be in AGREEMENT in the Church about this NOW…in this season, NOW – while it is yet 2004, NOW – that it would come … because ONLY FIRE can fix and accomplish all that I told you before it could do. [another section not included in the typing of this article, specific things Father said His fire would accomplish … and what worshipping believers could do to hasten its coming (i.e. fire attracts fire)].

“How do you think fire comes? What do you think releases it? Not anger. Not frustration. Oh, no…it’s THE DANCE OF JOYFUL HEARTS. It’s the PASSION of the Bride, calling for her Bridegroom, in hot pursuit of My heart. THAT’S WHEN THE FLAMES OF MY FIRE WILL BE SHOT FORTH TO THE EARTH. So it is a corporate time for My Church to arise and worship. Yes, I understand ... you say, “But haven’t we been worshipping ever since we became Christians? Has not music improved? Haven’t the avenues through which we express our worship… and the gatherings of Your people culminating in stadiums filled with people – all to praise & worship You – increased upon the earth?”

THIS IS TRUE…but when My Church across the United States gets to ‘hot’ for Me and for My Son … FIRE ATTRACTS FIRE – do you understand? PASSION attracts PASSION. So when I have a passionate Church who is crying out FOR MY FIRE and for My HEART’S AFFECTIONS to be released to come and loose things of MY MAJESTY and SIGNS & WONDERS upon the earth – then My worshipping Church shall be A MAGNET for the fire of God from the throne room, shooting to the earth to reach your heart.

THAT IS HOW THE FIRE WILL COME…initially on THE FIREBRANDS – those who worship Me, who CRY OUT for Me, who have a passionate, zealous desire for Me, who will not rest before their television sets – who will not sit down and read their news-papers at the end of the day … (all this relaxing is fine) … but if they have not had a passionate link to Me in the midst of their day, then already THEIR FLAME is beginning to cool off. REWARD FOR THE LAMB must be the FOCUS of My Church.

Furthermore, prayer meetings MUST CHANGE if they are not in tune with the passion-ate heart of the Bride. There are some so boring that I can barely attend Myself. When I see fire burning, wherever it is, and souls reaching toward Me heavenward, asking for AT LEAST ‘more’ … more fire from heaven – then I will come. It doesn’t have to be a ‘roaring fire’ – but just ‘a fire.’ There are some who no longer live with a fire upon the altar of their hearts. When I see fire, I’ll come. I don’t require very much; I just require a corporate Church that WANTS ME TO COME.

AN OVERLOOKED MISSION FIELD

This must SPREAD into denominational churches. Those who see themselves as ‘Spirit-filled’ shake their heads and wonder at what is wrong with ‘them.’ But have they been as firebrands that go BACK INTO THOSE PLACES and carry FIRE and say, “THIS is a higher call for your life.” By the blood of the Lamb and the word of their testimony – they overcame the enemy.

Some of you need to get ‘the blood of the Lamb’ and the word of your testimony into these dry churches that do not understand or comprehend things of the Spirit. You come into their doors…and you WATCH THE FLOOD OF GOD FOLLOW YOU IN.

Do not shake your heads at them in disdain. They are a part of MY CHURCH. They will be with you IN HEAVEN…and they will say, “Where were those who were to tell us things of the Spirit, but they never entered our doors. We were not keeping them away, but they believed they had better things to do in ‘worship with each other.’” THIS IS HOW FIREBRANDS PARTICIPATE IN SPREADING FIRE.

Some of you are going to have to leave your comfort zones. You have been in your churches so long that you forget that other bodies exist. There is A MISSION FIELD, no doubt 200’ away from your door, and yet you do not spread the gospel, the Good News which includes things of My Spirit and fire and anointing and life and healing and power and miracles – to those neighbors of yours next door.

There is division in MY BODY. They are My Body…and YOU are part of My body. You are the stronger…they are the weaker. Why do you not go to them with the Good News?

There are times when it would be most appropriate to dismiss church at your own church and go into other churches – not to proselytize, but to be a part … to ask Me to open a door … to bring a word of encouragement to those in the congregation … to offer a handshake to the pastor. YOU BRING MY SPIRIT IN THE DOOR IN THE DOOR WITH YOU AS A CARRIER OF FIRE…AND I WILL MAKE SURE THAT YOUR FOOTSTEPS ACROSS THE SANCTUARY & PLATFORM FLOORS, DOWN THE ISLE, WHEREVER YOU WALK – THAT THE RESIDUE OF MY SPIRIT IN YOU – REMAINS AFTER YOU LEAVE. You may not say a word, but you CARRY My FIRE into that place. And you prepare the way for the Son of God to come – and ask the Spirit of God to flood that place as well.

ADOPT A CHURCH

Who is praying for them? ADOPT A CHURCH. They are as lost in things of Spirit and truth as unbelievers who still walk in darkness. Go forth to them and you will see this NATION catch on fire. Every house should be a house of prayer. Even IF those in leadership do not accept your presence or your message (and you must know when 'to keep your mouth shut' and let My Spirit IN YOU, work…) – even if they shut the door to you, simply to as My disciples did in Jesus' day: WIPE THE DUST FROM YOUR FEET … but that's only so YOU don't leave 'tracks' as you're going out their door. DON'T LEAVE THEIR HOUSES 'MESSED UP' AFTER YOU LEAVE. Do you hear this word? Have MY HEART … have MY COMPASSION … have MY MERCY … have MY FIERY ZEAL of LOVE OUTP0URED – and you will GO and DO the work of My heart in those places.

Let Me also make this very clear. You cannot go in an unction of your own soul. If you do, you will go forth 'stinking' and not with the fragrance of Christ upon you. So… it would be good to WORSHIP until the fire comes upon you … and CONSUMES the dross, burns away your flesh for that moment (for even in a day's time, your attitudes can become contaminated by thoughts of pollution from the world about you) – so be CLEANSED before you go forth in My Name – with PURE HEARTS and CLEAN HANDS – and YOU SHALL make a difference to those I send you to.

GATEKEEPERS, MAN YOUR POST

In the unseen realm, this is how you can operate: if you live in a city, in a region, in a neighborhood, in a farming community – you ARE A GATEKEEPER for that area – for that county, for that township, for that city, that region – you are a GATEKEEPER if you are in the body of Christ. Therefore, you have … and I'll give you authority … to SHUT GATES that the enemy is coming through – and to OPEN DOORS & GATES by which My Spirit can come through. Some of you may do NOTHING MORE than go to a church, go within it – or stand outside it – and 'open the doors' in Spirit for the King of Kings to come through, without A WORD being said to the people. BUT DO pronounce things verbally out of your mouths … Lesson #101, Spiritual Warfare: Satan and his hosts cannot hear the thoughts of your mind. You must SPEAK My word as kings and priests who make proclamations and declarations over gateways and doors in your area.

In mass, across the United States at this time, if MY CHURCH did these simple two steps of bringing life to dead places and 'dead bodies' – you would see GREAT CHANGE in this nation – and there would be MORE FIRE, attracting MORE FIRE from the throne-room of heaven, from My heart. YOU, CHURCH… must work, for a NIGHT is coming. But there will first come a day of blazing brightness, when My glory is poured out, as My fiery love comes, as signs & wonders occur, as new sounds in music are heard – as the youth & young adults of your generation are loosed into their inheritance that YOU have built up for them – to do things in the simplest of faith that armies could not do before them. THAT MUCH POWER is coming – but it must SPREAD outside of your 'circles' – even WITHIN MY CHURCH. I am very concerned for My Church. Yes, I'm concerned about the wickedness of the world, but I am concerned for My Church first, in this 'United States of America' that is SO divided.

CLAIM your city block – CLAIM your neighborhood – CLAIM your property for Christ. WALK! PRAY! PROPHESY! PROCLAIM! DECREE! All you NEED are your 'spiritual vitamins' before you leave you house each day, and I will WORK THROUGH YOU:
A – make sure that your ATTITUDE is correctly aligned with Mine

B - BE FILLED with the Spirit continually … and be determined to …
C - CAST DOWN EVERY THOUGHT and imagination that raises itself against the knowledge of Jesus Christ… and then GO to…
E – EVERY PLACE I SEND YOU to …
D – DECLARE My good works, and
F – My FIRE … will come

[a seeing/hearing break… then He addressed me again…]

"Why do you think when there is simply a 'lull' in your reception of things – that I have left? I AM WITH YOU…I NEVER LEAVE YOU. You are the apple of My eye. I am surrounding you. If you could see… there would be flames shooting through the roof of this Ozark cabin to which you have gone in retreat this weekend. They are reaching well above the treetops because of My burning presence about you. I am the ever-living God, and the One that surrounds. You are not by yourself. I simply give you times of rest, during which time the 'fire' lifts for a moment then comes back again, that you might bear it – as one who still lives in a dwelling of flesh…"

[Not understanding why, but led to in the Spirit…I then laid on my back then and started drumming my arms & hands up and down on the floor at my sides…]

LOOSING HIS HEARTBEAT FOR FIRST NATIONS PEOPLE

[FATHER] – "I ask that DRUMS be loosed across the land, as the beat of My heart. This nation is built on the backs of First Nations people – and I ask that those who have the ability to play drums would LOOSE THEM across the nation, making a call for repentance for what was done to My First Nation's people in this land. And it will cancel curses by the playing of drums, where curses were pronounced through 'drums & fire dance.' I CALL YOU TO FIRE DANCE and DRUMMING in places of known injury to First Nations people, places where curses were placed on the land by their forefathers – to protect future generations from the lies of those who came to take their lands and rape them…rape them…of self respect, causing dishonor to those once honored."

[prayer] – "Father, for this region where I am and just was (Ha Ha Tonka State Park earlier in the day) … I pray in the authority of Jesus' Name FOR THESE FIRST NATIONS PEOPLE. Father, I pray for what was taken from them. I pray that You would reverse curses with YOUR FIRE DANCE and DRUMMING BEAT OF YOUR HEART that comes through the drums. I pray that You would raise up First Nations WARRIORS in this area & nation. RELEASE into them the dance of worship! They are eagles…the bald eagles of worship – that join with the golden eagles of warfare. Our nation cannot 'fly' … cannot worship … cannot war in the spiritual realm … unless the current Church joins with First Nations people…

COME FORTH! COME FORTH, FIRST NATIONS PEOPLE! COME FORTH IN WORSHIP! BE DELIVERED! FLY AGAIN! WE NEED YOU…WE NEED YOU, WARRIOR WORSHIPPERS – TO BRING DOWN PRINCIPALITIES, ERECTED BY YOUR FOREFATHERS! WE NEED YOUR HELP…WE ASK FOR YOUR HELP. YOUR PURPOSE…YOUR DESTINY THAT YOU CAN GIVE US – THE VERY ONES WHO STRUCK YOU DOWN. WOULD YOU LAVISH ON US YOUR FORGIVENESS, NOW, FOR WE OURSELVES ARE BEING DESTROYED FROM 'WITHIN.'" FATHER, BAPTIZE THEM WITH FIRE!"

MORE WARMTH NEEDED IN THE CHURCH

[FATHER] "I now want to release another word, completely different – yet appropriate to My message of 'fire.' Not only between heaven and earth will I pour out My heart of fire – but I also want to bring INCREASED WARMTH between those in the Church, the Body of Christ. Right now, if the Church stood before the world and were judged by the verse, "… by their love you will know them…" – they would hardly be identifiable. This is not true, of course, in every body of believers, but there is a general 'coolness' between many in the body of Christ.

As you come into fellowship with one another, do not be afraid to touch and to embrace, to slap each other on the back, to congratulate each other, to inquire … be FRIENDLY, BE KIND, BE KINDLY AFFECTIONATE ONE TO ANOTHER. It would please Me to have no person leave a church’s services on any given day feeling empty and alone. As people from the streets come into the Church, they will observe and see whether the people truly care for one another. There will be times in the future when ‘night and day’ praise & worship & prayer is going on – and churches’ doors will be open EVERY NIGHT OF THE WEEK. But at this point, because it is not yet established firmly in every region, some believers see each other only once a week at best, and there is no true concern for them in fellow believers. Pray that the ‘heart of affection’ and ‘fire of affection’ burn brightly in My Church while still upon the earth, in your relationships with each other.”

Financial Healing

Maria Magruder

Matthew 8:6 “Lord, my servant is lying at home paralyzed, dreadfully tormented.”

For there are many of God’s people whose finances need to be healed. The money, the resources are the “servant” They are to serve My people, and yet these servants of money, resources and provision have been terribly paralyzed and tormented. Your funds, and resources have been unable to “move”. They have been paralyzed by the enemy. Your finances have been severely tormented and under attack by the enemy, as you are the very people I have called to be RICH, rich above all you could ever exceedingly think or imagine, rich according to My riches and glory. You are the people I am empowering to get wealth to establish My covenant on this earth in this final hour. You are the people who have given your lives to Me, no matter what the cost, you said, “I will follow”, and you have left homes, land and people for the Word sake and you have been obedient to go where I have told you to go, and I tell you this day you shall reap 100 fold, many of you this year of 2004. For there is an open door of abundance to you.

Matthew 8:8 “Lord I am not worthy that You should come under my roof. But only speak a word, and my servant will be healed.”

My children, your servant of finances and resources will be healed as YOU speak the word I have put in your mouth and in your heart. I have given you all authority and power. Speak My word over your bank books, your bank accounts, your wallets, your homes, your vehicles, your resources, your business’, your ministries, and I will heal them. For no more will the enemy cause your finances to be paralyzed. For I speak that they will move with great power, your servants will do the work, they will build, they will build My house, they will build communications that reach the globe over and over, they will build shelters and warehouses for resources, they will build supply centers for My people, these servants will build houses for My people, and these servants will cause My Word to be distributed throughout the earth with demonstrations of My power. For everything on this earth is to be your servant, for whatever you have need of, I have need of. I have not put any limits on you My children. There isn’t anything you cannot do in Me, nor accomplish. My hands are outstretched towards you, full of gifts, full of anything you need for that vision to come to pass.

The most valuable thing I have given you on this earth is My authority. In this authority is everything that you need in abundance. Go in this authority, speak in this authority, move in this authority, and watch and see your destiny in this area of great resources and finances bow to My name.

Ephesians 3:20 “Now to Him who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works IN us, to Him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus to all generations, forever and ever. Amen.”

Alaska, Get Ready!

Vision

As I was in worship today, I was taken into a vision of Alaska. I don’t normally share visions, but I felt impressed by the Spirit to share this vision for whomever may read it, may run with it.

Vision Part I

I saw an angel in heaven, this angel was literally throwing fireballs down from heaven to earth. I saw these “fireballs” hitting the state of Alaska. There were many balls of fire. It was not just one ball of fire, but many. Every village in Alaska was hit by one of these fireballs. The angel had the exact coordinates for the launching of these balls of fire. Not one ball of fire missed. Every one hit its designated target at the designated/appointed time. I saw people in the villages going about their normal routines and having a "suddenly" experience with God Almighty, wherever they were at. I saw the power of God falling on people all over-just as they were going about their business, receiving miracles and being supernaturally touched by the fire of God.

This part of the vision is found in Revelations:

Rev 8:3-5 "Then another angel, having a golden censer (vessel) came and stood at the altar. He was given much incense that he should offer it with the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense with the prayers of the saints, ascended before God from the angel's hand. Then the angel took the censer, filled it with fire from the altar, and threw it to the earth. And there were noises, thunderings, and an earthquake."

What Goes Up, Must Come Down:

It's the sacrifice of the prayers of the saints that has been heard by the living God. It's the sacrifice that has been made on the altar for many years, its no doubt the prayer of the righteous that has gone up to the altar of the throne room, and has become a sweet smell to Jehovah and has availed much.

Alaska, you have gotten the attention of the heavenlies, and your prayers are in the very process of being answered! Get ready Alaska! For the balls of fire are not balls of destruction, they are your answered prayer for Alaska ablaze, they are the answers to your prayers. They are the very thing you have cried out to God for, in your state. These fire balls represent every prophecy ever spoken over Alaska by His breath. You've heard it over and over again, however the word of the Lord is prepare, prepare, prepare, for the very thing you have prayed is about to be poured out upon you. For what goes up must come down, as God's word will not return void but will fulfill its very purpose. The countdown is on, and not one village will be missed, not one area will go un-touched by the very presence of God, and the fire of God. Although this fire is not meant for destruction, but meant for good, there will be some who will be consumed by this fire. This fire will consume and destroy the false doctrines that have flooded this state for many years. There will be new light and revelation of what doctrine is from heaven and what is not.

Vs. 5 "…And there will be noises, thunderings, lightnings, and an earthquake."

Lightning in this verse in the Greek is "to flash or to shine" and earthquake in this verse in the Greek is "commotion of the air". God is going to shine His light so bright, there will be no question what is of Him to His sheep, for His sheep know His voice, and His voice does thunder as many waters. The earthquake will cause a commotion of the doctrines-as you will see a distinct separation of the goats from the sheep, the truth from the lies of the enemy. The lies that have been so disguised by religious devils of corrupting His Word, will be exposed and repentance will come.

Part II of the Vision:

After seeing the fireballs being thrown to the earth, hitting Alaska, I saw a line of doors. There were several doors, and each door had a name on it. Here are the names that I saw: Revelation, Truth, Salvation, Creative Miracles, Healing, Deliverance, Wisdom, Knowledge, God Kind of Faith, Prophecy, and Wealth. These doors were in-between heaven and earth. In-between heaven and Alaska. I then saw these doors open all at once! Not one at a time but all at the same time and literally SWARMS of angels, flying through these doors from the heavenlies, flying at rapid pace towards Alaska.

This part of the vision found in Acts:

Acts 16:25-26 "But at midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God and the prisoners were listening to them. Suddenly there was a great earthquake so that the foundations of the prison were shaken, and immediately ALL THE DOORS WERE OPENED AND EVERYONE'S CHAINS WERE LOOSED."

Once again, what goes up must come down! Paul and Silas were praying an praising, and as they did that, their prayers hit the throne room and immediately ALL THE DOORS WERE OPENED, and the captives were set free. Glory! The doors were opened after the earthquake. As above the earthquake in the greek means "commotion". So, there will first be a great commotion in Alaska concerning doctrine and the separation of the truth from the lies that will shake many foundations. Then, Alaska, as you continue to sow prayers and praise, ALL the doors are going to immediately open at once, and there will be a flood of the heavenlies that you have yet to see, that will literally set the captive free, will set those who have been in bondage free. Finally free! Alaska, you are about to see the great influx of souls come into the Kingdom of God. As you continue to lift Jesus' name up, He is going to draw ALL men unto Himself. Your part is to pray and praise, His part is to draw the people. Take on His yoke, for your yoke is un-bearable and too heavy to carry and His is full of the anointing that breaks the yoke!

You will especially see a supernatural move throughout the villages where it seems to be the "darkest". Where there has been great bondage in alcohol, drug abuse, sexual abuse, depression, suicide, and all the profanity of the devil, you will see it break. There will be a stronghold of righteousness, divine Godly power and a stronghold of peace that floods the villages. Get ready Alaska, this is going to be the greatest move you have ever seen! For God is about to release a flood of divine power that will turn the heads of even the greatest men on earth to what is about to happen in Alaska! Get ready, get ready!

Finland

Debra Westbrook

"There is coming a great awakening in the nation of Finland"

God began to show me a vision of a high mountain. Upon this mountain stood an old rugged cross, austere and serene upon the heights, which are covered in ice and snow. Suddenly, I saw the Lord Jesus ascend the heights, take the cross, and remove it from its place on this high mountain. In the place where the old rugged cross was, He alone now stood, with arms outstretched wide to encompass this nation with His everlasting love, mercy, and grace, fulfilling the law which has held this nation bound in religion and tradition which has usurped His desire for relationship and intimacy.

As He stood, high and lifted up in resurrection power, the reality of a living Savior flowed through this nation, and suddenly the ice and snow began to melt under His feet, revealing the brilliance of green grass. The snow formed rivers of living water melting, going down the mountain, overflowing into cities and towns where pastors in Bethlehem type churches were waiting for a revelation of a living Savior and Lord to touch their nation. These 'houses of bread' all across the nation, tucked away and hidden are filled with a remnant of people tired of religion and tradition, wanting the reality of their Lord.

This awakening of the love of Jesus Christ will flow through this nation raising up a generation of revolutionary reformers. They will shake the nation with a revelation of God's grace similar to the shaking that occurred with Martin Luther's revelation that the just shall live by faith. His grace and the divine fire of love and intimacy will triumph over law and legalism. Finland shall be awakened to show forth the glory of the Lord in the coming days. The generations shall unite to show forth this glory. A nation of kings and priest, holy unto their God, mighty in intercession and evangelism, shall arise and be catapulted onto the stage of world events that is coming in these last days...

There is a strong spirit of defeat over the land and deep in the people's hearts. This defeat results in burn-out and weariness on the part of all involved. God has called this nation to rise above the defeat by entering into a season of prophetic proclamation in times of intercession and worship. Words have formed the spiritual atmosphere over this nation - words of condemnation, guilt, defeat, fear and much more where the enemy is trying to keep people bound from walking in the freedom and liberty of a pure relationship with Jesus Christ. Now words of life must come forth to open the heavens and set the captives free! Sing the word, pray the word, proclaim the word, speak the word! The Living Word of God! Finland must walk in the inheritance and the identity that is theirs in Christ Jesus, showing forth His glory through a people unique and special in God's eyes.

There is a Corporate Sound that God desires to launch forth from this land - a sound of glory that will fill the heavens and release the captives so that this nation can take its proper place and positioning among the nations of the earth for an endtime global harvest. As we preached, prophesied, and moved by the Holy Spirit in times of prophetic worship, we kept hearing the sound of running water, deep and free, the very current of God. I kept hearing these words arise within me: Behold! Arise! Ascend! Justice!

The time is Now! Rise up out of the chains that have held you bound into the glory of a living King! Leave the past behind, walking by faith into a new season of opportunity and Kingdom power! Reach out by faith to take what is already yours! Walk in love, true humility, forgiveness, passion and fire! The time is Now!

Financial Understanding For The Remnant Body
Clay Sikes

August 14th, 2004

In order to reveal timely prophetic truth relative to material and financial favor some foundations must first be laid, which will serve to identify where we individually fit in this path to truth. As we cover this subject, we will perhaps recognize our particular relationship to a particular part of what is revealed here. It is also important to note that this word is not for the entire Body of Christ, but for those who know themselves to be in a remnant company of believers, moving in or towards a remnant mandate. It is for those who have ears to hear it.

As the Spirit continues to shake up the Body of Christ, separating us from some and joining us to others, various occurrences are beginning to happen. As those who are called to be joined make the connection with those they are to be joined to, we are seeing evidences of purpose as it relates to the joining. Spirit led joining will ultimately reveal purpose, as well as the fact that occasionally purpose will precipitate joining. Better-said, sometimes common purpose can create a God-appointed joining.

An accepted worldwide phenomenon among God's remnant company is the extraordinary separating and joining taking place throughout the Body of Christ today. This extraordinary move of God is primarily seen and known via the Internet and various prophetic websites, as members of the Institutional Church depart in what has been termed by some as a mass exodus. As these events continue throughout the Body of Christ, we must begin to understand some of the nuances concerning these joinings.

First and probably foremost, as a preparation, it is important to recognize that some of these couplings can be initially uncomfortable, particularly in the initial stages, until each person understands their relative fit in the joining process. We do not choose those with whom we are baptized into the Body: God makes that choice, as well as choosing the times and places in which we should live (Acts 17:26). Again, this is a Spiritual leading, not a natural one.

Secondly, it is important to recognize that joining has purpose: the JOINING of men to other men has Godly purpose. No joining is simply for the sake of joining, but as stated, has specific purpose. To further establish our foundation, let us examine but a few of these purposes, some listed here are redundant but mentioned for clarification. Some of the purposes for joining are edification, order, spiritual support, financial support, direction, redirection, validation, verification, calling, etc., all of which point us to a single objective called DESTINY. Said differently, people are Spiritually appointed to other people to point and direct us to our destiny.

As we are enjoined, and the purposes are revealed, we collectively and individually begin to see "The Vision" – that purpose for which God has joined us. Our individual vision and understanding of purpose will march us toward a collective as well as individual destiny. Our spiritual families will likely be a major catalyst in pointing us to destiny. To divorce ourselves from these appointments is to hinder our ultimate purpose.

With an ever so brief foundation laid, let us delve into the crux of this word, relative to the provision so necessary in these end times. If the current Body of Christ has been devoid of one element in its makeup it would resoundingly be its inability to match provision to true Godly vision. As more of God's children move into "Sonship" status, the provision of God is becoming more readily available, as God's true vision replaces the vision of men. Provision is part of the package of Godly joining. As my friend Arthur Burt says, "WHERE THE APPOINTMENT IS THE PROVISION IS. Another powerful quote from Arthur is "The greater (hearing and obeying God) always includes the lesser" (my needs being met). Many testimonies are beginning to arise as to this proven aspect of Kingdom life.

While it has been unfashionable of late, especially for out of church Christians, to talk about finances, I strongly sense God directing us to hear Him now for this much needed element of our destiny. Every vision man will ever have will likely require some form of provision. While we can certainly attest to our personal needs, let us for the moment speak of those needs corporately.

Shortly after the Spirit of God joins men to other men, there arises a need for provision to support the individual needs and collective visions within the group. It is here that this blessing can be easily missed. It is here that some, perhaps hearing this word could delay God's flow into their life. A key scripture to understand this major revelation is found in John 21: 4-6.

"Early in the morning, Jesus stood on the shore, but the disciples did not realize that it was Jesus. He called out to them, "Friends, haven't you any fish?" "No," they answered. He said, "Throw your net on the right side of the boat and you will find some." When they did, they were unable to haul the net in because of the large number of fish."

I am convinced that Christians miss many opportunities simply because they do not realize who is speaking; they do not recognize Jesus standing on the shore speaking specific provisional instructions to them, or more importantly, use their natural minds to determine if something is feasible. Let us look at this same circumstance in Luke 5: 5 after Jesus had spoken to "Let your nets down."

"Simon answered, "Master," we've worked hard all night and haven't caught anything."

We need to pray, "Lord let us be sensitive to your Spirit and recognize you and your instruction no matter what form you may come in." The simple truth is that Jesus' provisional instruction can and often does come through human suggestion and instruction, and if we are improperly discerning who is speaking to us or Jesus' commands through them, we will miss His provision. Simon used reasoning and logic to almost void his own blessing.

Often testimony is the greatest illustration of God's principles. As many of you know, I closed my real estate businesses of financial necessity in November of 1997. I returned to the office in my home and began building a national commercial real estate database containing all the major buyers of commercial real estate nationwide. With an easy to use query system, my subscribers could find large commercial buyers in minutes as compared to the tortuously long 'look up' system previously used by most commercial brokers. How could I fail? I had developed a product that would increase a brokers productivity and income by thousands if not hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, and I could sell it at a price most anyone could afford. I poured four years of my life into this project and every dollar that came my way. It was my ticket to financial freedom, I thought!

At the end of the third year, a financially successful unsaved man came to my house and asked what I was doing. I explained my brilliant database idea and how it had taken me the better part of three years to get it to the market. He scoffed and said, "Clay, you are wasting your time. You need to get back into land." I was furious. My pride swelled and I thought, "Who are you to tell me what I ought to be doing?"

More time and continued financial lack began to loosen me to the idea that just maybe this heathen had something of substance that I should look at. I finally embraced the idea and sought God. In very short order a series of miracles began to happen which continue today, all in the arena of land. Should it take four years and a donkey speaking for us to hear God? God will often break our traditional way of hearing him just to reveal His desire for us to be flexible and willing to change our stiff-necked religiosity. The more stiff-necked we become, the more outrageous God will be is breaking down our traditions.

To route us back to the intent of this teaching, I reiterate that as we come closer to those we are indeed called to; the need for provision will present itself. Why? Because destiny is closer, purpose is clearer, BOTH OF WHICH REQUIRE PROVISION. Our Lord wants nothing more than to open the windows of heaven that this provision can flow; BUT, between the provision and us are pitfalls to keep us from finding the provision; however, we are not ignorant of the devices Satan uses to gain advantage over humans. God will always send His word to set us free, but we must recognize Jesus standing on the riverbank giving us instructions.

Most of the obstacles that keep us from God's flow are hurdles erected in the hearts of men that must be dealt with for material financial blessing to come. These hurdles could also be called "the traditions of men," or preconceived notions or mindsets, often Satan's grandest device to subtly trap us within our own selves. Often, a small adjustment of the heart will usher in a flow of favor and blessing. I will only focus on one such obstacle today, and while there are many, this one has the Body of Christ by the throat.

What I offer here is suggestive of the previously mentioned heart adjustment that will cause us to deal with the type of tradition in us that makes the word of God to no effect. Once this tradition is dealt with and put in its place, which is out of man's thinking, out of man's mind, then and only then is the Holy Spirit able to bring forth His truth that ushers in His provision.

As I sense God has revealed to me, this tradition, this single most mind-set stops the flow of God's provision and thwarts destiny more than any single factor I know. What could be so subtle as to keep some of God's most ordained, anointed, and Destiny filled men from ever attaining the fullness of God upon the earth? I submit to you here that this subtle spirit is CHRISTIAN MAN'S ARROGANT SENSE OF ENTITLEMENT, not to be confused with CHRISTIAN MAN'S HUMBLE SENSE OF EXPECTATION. We will contrast the two.

The root of entitlement is selfishness, and stems from the much-taught false kingdom 'royalty' principle. You've heard it in many forms blasting from pulpit and Christian TV alike, but by no means is it limited to those two venues: "We are so special, "we are king's kids and deserve this and that… We are royalty and consequently entitled to all our little heart desires." Then there are those "out of church" Christians who carry this spirit to an even greater degree, deeming their revelation to be much greater than the rest of the Body. A smug superiority travels richly in these circles. These teachings reveal 'a truth' that is not necessarily 'the truth.' The sum of embracing false 'superiority' beliefs has served to implant a false sense of entitlement in our hearts. This entitlement subtly produces a proud heart. God is drawn to our humility and resist our pride.

These teachings say, "I deserve better, or I represent God and I can act any way I please," and while I won't argue that God has a better plan for our lives, our very attitude can be a strong hindrance to that plan ever materializing. This teaching serves as a warning to many who stand on the threshold of God's abundant provision. It is a call to repent and purge our hearts of our own arrogance and feelings of superiority: a presumptive superiority that would cause us to overstep our boundaries in the lives and affairs of others. But let us delve deeper…

The Entitlement Spirit falsely grants us the freedom to take liberties in places in which these liberties HAVE NOT sovereignly been granted. One of this false spirit's greatest evidences in our own lives are acts of presumption that later prove not to be God. The number of Ishmaels that we personally feed speaks volumes of the presence of this destructive spiritual force. Want to know where you stand in understanding this revelation? Count your Ishmaels!

Entitlement falsely assumes "that my royalty" allows me special treatment. Expectation, on the other hand, knows any blessing is from the Lord, and He alone is the reason for it.

Let us look further at the dichotomous nature of Entitlement in contrast to Expectation. With Entitlement, the emphasis is you; with Expectation, the emphasis is Him. It is a minor heart adjustment that takes us from the world of almost, to a world of fulfillment, yet to make this heart adjustment we must ask ourselves some honest questions. How do I know to which of these two I am attached? Here are some questions that will provide the answer. What are you facing today? What do you yearn for, particularly in the area of material or financial arenas? And here is the revealing question. Are you looking for the harvest, or are you looking for the stalk?

"He also said, This is what the kingdom of God is like. A man scatters seed on the ground. Night and day, whether he sleeps or gets up, the seed sprouts up and grows, though he does not know how. All by itself the soil produces grain – first the stalk, then the head, then the full kernel in the head. As soon as the grain is ripe, he puts the sickle to it, because the harvest has come" (Luke 4:26-29).

What I submit to you here is that if you find yourself constantly looking for "the harvest," instead of "the stalk," you perhaps fit into the Entitlement category. Perhaps you think nothing is wrong with wanting the whole enchilada now, but if you do not recognize the Kingdom principle of "first the stalk," you are a victim of the World and its influence, and you will not eat from the Kingdom of God. The Entitlement Spirit is impatient and wants it all now, while Expectation humbly and patiently understands the Kingdom principle – "The Kingdom of God is like a mustard seed, which is the smallest seed you can plant in the ground. Yet when planted, IT GROWS AND BECOMES THE LARGEST OF ALL GARDEN PLANTS, with such big branches that the birds of the air can perch in the shade." Expectation knows where it is ultimately going so it confidently and expectedly "does not despise small beginnings."

Entitlement's view is always "This is too small; this is not enough," while Expectation understands the Kingdom principle that all too soon this thing will be plenty big enough. Entitlement has little knowledge of the fact that the Kingdom of God is a process that almost always starts small, yet GROWS AND BECOMES WITHOUT US REALLY KNOWING HOW. Expectation would be wary of anything other than the process that starts with modest beginnings.

Some of us in earshot of this very word are facing, or soon to face financial needs for both subsistence, and a means of fulfilling the vision God has put in us. Let us not be caught short with a mindset of Entitlement, but rather transition to the calming effect of Expectation, a place in which we will not expect to see the full corn in the ear, but simply the stalk.

Restlessness is a characteristic of Entitlement, just as rest is a characteristic of Expectation. God once said to me relating to my business affairs, "When you start, I stop: When you stop, I start." When I find myself pushing and toiling to obtain, I have entered into my own works and will not receive from the Kingdom of God.

Vocation, outside of church is full of traps. These traps are education, training, history, tradition and many more. These traps are designed to have us hit the rock rather than speak to it. As Arthur Burt says, "My best is my greatest enemy before God." What I do best, what I am most trained in, what I am most comfortable doing can be my worst enemy in flowing with the Holy Spirit's direction. Why? Because I have reassumed an area of my life that I am comfortable guiding. In a ministry environment I am dependent upon God; in a business environment I am prone to be dependent upon my education, my 35 years of experience, my own false sense of comfort and identity. My best is my greatest threat to hearing and following the flow of the Spirit.

As God leads us into income producing endeavors He desires the same obedience, the same listening as in ministry, or dealings in the church. In fact, He is calling us to this in all areas of life including home, marriage, children, friends, social occasions, for it is here that Sonship begins… "Those that are led by the Spirit of God ARE the SONS of God. Anything less is not true Sonship.

In conclusion, I offer this word to be tested and judged as a prophetic word to those who hear it:

IT WAS NEVER MY INTENTION FOR MAN TO LIVE WITHOUT A LIFE OF ABUNDANCE. I SENT MY SON TO SHED BLOOD AND DIE THAT YOU MIGHT HAVE LIFE AND HAVE IT MORE ABUNDANTLY, EVEN IN THE EARTHLY SPHERE IN WHICH YOU NOW LIVE, YET MY KINGDOM PRINCIPLES MUST BE UNDERSTOOD TO ENJOY MY KINGDOM LIFE UPON EARTH.

PRAY IN MATTERS OF RELATIONSHIPS; PRAY IN MATTERS OF VOCATION, BUSINESS AND FINANCE; PRAY FOR A HEARING EAR IN ALL MATTERS AND BE OPEN TO WHAT YOU HEAR. I WILL CHALLENGE YOUR TRADITIONS AND ERADICATE YOUR THOUGHTS AND REPLACE THEM WITH MINE IF YOU'LL BUT HEED THIS WORD AND HEAR ME IN MATTERS OUTSIDE THE CHURCH HOUSE.

Fire And Lightening

Ezek 1:4-14 NKJV
4 Then I looked, and behold, a whirlwind was coming out of the north, a great cloud with raging fire engulfing itself; and brightness was all around it and radiating out of its midst like the color of amber, out of the midst of the fire. 5 Also from within it came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had the likeness of a man. 6 Each one had four faces, and each one had four wings. 7 Their legs were straight, and the soles of their feet were like the soles of calves' feet. They sparkled like the color of burnished bronze. 8 The hands of a man were under their wings on their four sides; and each of the four had faces and wings. 9 Their wings touched one another. The creatures did not turn when they went, but each one went straight forward.

10 As for the likeness of their faces, each had the face of a man; each of the four had the face of a lion on the right side, each of the four had the face of an ox on the left side, and each of the four had the face of an eagle. 11 Thus were their faces. Their wings stretched upward; two wings of each one touched one another, and two covered their bodies. 12 And each one went straight forward; they went wherever the spirit wanted to go, and they did not turn when they went.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches going back and forth among the living creatures. The fire was bright, and out of the fire went lightning. 14 And the living creatures ran back and forth, in appearance like a flash of lightning.

So when I saw it, I fell on my face, and I heard a voice of One speaking.

Ezekial 2:1-8 NKJV
And He said to me, "Son of man, stand on your feet, and I will speak to you." 2 Then the Spirit entered me when He spoke to me, and set me on my feet; and I heard Him who spoke to me. 3 And He said to me: "Son of man, I am sending you to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that has rebelled against Me; they and their fathers have transgressed against Me to this very day. 4 For they are impudent and stubborn children. I am sending you to them, and you shall say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD.' 5 As for them, whether they hear or whether they refuse — for they are a rebellious house — yet they will know that a prophet has been among them.

6 "And you, son of man, do not be afraid of them nor be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns are with you and you dwell among scorpions; do not be afraid of their words or dismayed by their looks, though they are a rebellious house. 7 You shall speak My words to them, whether they hear or whether they refuse, for they are rebellious. 8 But you, son of man, hear what I say to you. Do not be rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat what I give you."

I heard a phrase from an old song after hearing “fire and lightning”, that says, “Lightning’s striking again…”. So when the Lord led me to the above scriptures, I felt He is going to release his glory soon to us, and this is one of the major examples of heaven touching earth. Would be good to read the whole thing through. Then He said:

“ I AM coming to bring My fire, My presence to touch you and make you into the Bride I want you to be. This transformation is My responsibility. I am the Author and Finisher of your faith, am I not? You cannot do anything alone. Some are further ahead than others in their sanctification, but that doesn’t mean I will leave you out, just because you are lagging behind others.
I have a wondrous and amazing work to do. I will do it that no man may take credit for it. It is not by striving or harsh labor, that you can do anything sufficient to change yourself. It only takes cooperation.

The things that keep you from cooperating are usually resistance from the enemy in your life, and resistance from your flesh. RESISTANCE of all kinds WILL BE OVERCOME by MY GLORY! I will BURN OFF all that cannot withstand the test.

Jer 23:29-32 AMP Is not My word like fire [that consumes all that cannot endure the test]? says the Lord, and like a hammer that breaks in pieces the rock [of most stubborn resistance]?
30 Therefore behold, I am against the [false] prophets, says the Lord, [I am even now descending upon them with punishment, these prophets] who steal My words from one another [imitating the phrases of the true prophets].
31 Behold, I am against the prophets, says the Lord, who use their [own deceitful] tongues and say, Thus says the Lord.
32 Behold, I am against those who prophesy lying dreams, says the Lord, and tell them and cause My people to err and go astray by their lies and by their vain boasting and recklessness--when I did not send them or command them; nor do they profit these people at all, says the Lord.

Prepare yourselves to see the glory of Your God! Prepare your hearts by searching them. But know that I am coming. I will continue to shine My glory and to expose all that is hidden in your heart to My light and My power.
I am preparing you for a great work. I will make you to know My love for you and to know the sacrifice of My Son with understanding you have not had.
I am revealing. I am seeking and I am empowering that you might do a great and mighty work for Me in this hour. CLING TO ME.

Zech 9:13-17 NKJV
13 For I have bent Judah, My bow, Fitted the bow with Ephraim, and raised up your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O Greece, and made you like the sword of a mighty man." 14 Then the LORD will be seen over them, and His arrow will go forth like lightning. The Lord GOD will blow the trumpet, and go with whirlwinds from the south. 15 The LORD of hosts will defend them; They shall devour and subdue with slingstones. They shall drink and roar as if with wine; They shall be filled with blood like basins, like the corners of the altar. 16 The LORD their God will save them in that day, as the flock of His people. For they shall be like the jewels of a crown, lifted like a banner over His land — 17 For how great is its goodness and how great its beauty!

It is a time for intimacy and worship. It is a time for filling yourself with the Word. It is a time for NOT neglecting time with ME. I am going to irradiate you with My glory and you will be changed forever. There will be no doubt that I have touched you and transformed you. I am taking back the ground the enemy has stolen and you will come forth as GOLD refined in the fires of affliction, persecution and rejection. I am always here with you.
I will never leave you nor forsake you. I do not slumber or sleep. I have no need for rest. But YOU have need for rest in ME. Cast all your cares on Me, for I will care FOR you. Come and let me take away all the burdens. Quiet your soul before Me and I impart all that you need and extract all that needs extracting! I will polish My jewels till they shine like the stars in the heavens.

Backstroking

I am not backstroking away from My promises to you. I am not a God afar off, but close at hand. I have not gone anywhere. I live IN YOU. You are the light of the world - A city set on a hill. There is nothing I don't see. There is nothing I don't hear. There is nothing I won't do for the one who cares for My will above his own. The person who fully yields to ME in this hour will receive bounteous blessing in this hour. What do I mean by this My children?

Matt 5:1-16 NKJV The Beatitudes (Luke 6:20-26)
And seeing the multitudes, He went up on a mountain, and when He was seated His disciples came to Him. 2 Then He opened His mouth and taught them, saying:
3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.
5 Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.
6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be filled.
7 Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy.
8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.
9 Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God.
10 Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
11 "Blessed are you when they revile and persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely for My sake.
12 Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

13 Believers Are Salt and Light (Mark 9:50; Luke 14:34,35) "You are the salt of the earth; but if the salt loses its flavor, how shall it be seasoned? It is then good for nothing but to be thrown out and trampled underfoot by men.
14 "You are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hidden. 15 Nor do they light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a lampstand, and it gives light to all who are in the house. 16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven.

Do not hide the blessing you are to the world. You are the light in this world. The darkness will not prevail. I am the LIGHT of the world, but I live in you. My light should shine in you that you might reflect My love, My mercy, My kindness, My peace, My joy, My goodness, My self-control, My power and glory to all who know you. YOU are My AMBASSADORS of peace in this violence filled world!

How will they know without a preacher? How will they know My love, unless you show it to them. How will they know how patient I have been with you unless you tell them? How will they know what I have done in your life if they don’t hear it from you, or see it in you? The light SHINES in the darkness. I did not make you to HIDE. I made you to SHINE so that all men might know the wonder of My love and mercy and grace!

The days are growing darker, but MY LIGHT will shine brighter in you that you may be the witnesses I want you to be to a dark and dying world! My glory will increase till the disparity between those who belong to Me and those who belong to the enemy will be quite readily noticed. I want you to lay aside all driveness and all frenetic activity to spend some time with Me, that I may fill you up to the full and shine through you. The lost are starving and hungry for what you have been given. They just don’t know what it is that is there for them. It is time to SHINE My beloveds. So come into the secret place and let ME touch you. Let me fill you with My love, so that you will have it every day to give out to others. LOOK to Me for what to say. Don’t just adopt a method, but seek My face for what to say to the lost. Seek My methods to reach out. I am ever creative and all knowing. I have given you ears to hear and eyes to see. And I am about to increase all that I’ve given to you, and to fulfill all I’ve spoken to you!

Get ready for awakening. Fill your hearts with the WORD that it may be given back as food to the people who will come to you. Fill your hearts with rejoicing for the time to show favor has come! I will not disappoint you.
You are about to have a visit from the Holy One of Israel, like never before.
I will visit your sons and your daughters. They will grow RAPIDLY in the things of the Kingdom because of the escalation of things to come. Do not worry about your children, but pray for them. Throw all your cares for them upon Me. There is no other name given under heaven by which men must be saved. They will know what it means to SUDDENLY be a new creation!

I am not slack concerning all I’ve told you. I’ve told you many things, but it does not compare with what is coming. Prepare your hearts for habitation My beloveds. Prepare for UNION with Me. Do not fear what is about to happen. I will provide all you need for all you will do for Me. Do not be alarmed at the WAY I do things. Just seek My FACE in the midst of this move of My Spirit and you will receive all you ask for in wisdom and strength.
I love you and I will give you the grace to ENDURE!

The Floating Ax Head

2 Kings 6:1-6 NKJV
And the sons of the prophets said to Elisha, "See now, the place where we dwell with you is too small for us.
The sons of the prophets are asking for better living accommodations as there isn't enough room in Elisha's dwelling. Also I think this might represent the prophets who've been caged up in one place, or hiding go out among the trees – the men of the earth.
2 Please, let us go to the Jordan, and let every man take a beam from there, and let us make there a place where we may dwell." So he answered, "Go."
Unity in all participating in building a new house for the prophets, or maybe even a new house or foundation for the Lord!
3 Then one said, "Please consent to go with your servants." And he answered, "I will go." 4 So he went with them. And when they came to the Jordan, they cut down trees. 5 But as one was cutting down a tree, the iron ax head fell into the water; and he cried out and said, "Alas, master! For it was borrowed." Elisha in this is a type of Christ, and the prophets are saying, please come with us! [as we go confront those you are sending us to!]
The iron ax head falls into the water. I was told that Ax heads when used alot, the wood at the joint of the handle will shrink, and that real axe men will soak their axes in OIL at the end of the day so that that junction swells and holds the ax head securely. But in this case, that has NOT been done. Axe head had not been soaked in oil; Therefore the ax head flies off while trying to hack on a perhaps hard wood tree. We know that OIL stands for the Holy Spirit. So proper use of the axe-head requires soaking in the presence of the Holy Spirit DAILY! – Going in His power and not our own!
6 So the man of God said, "Where did it fall?" And he showed him the place. So he cut off a stick, and threw it in there; and he made the iron float. 7 Therefore he said, "Pick it up for yourself." So he reached out his hand and took it.

We'd discussed some things about 2 Kings and the death of jezebel.
I was led to the above scriptures and contemplating them when I had a vision of a man chopping at a tree, but the wood is hard like the axe bounced off, but the axe-head fell into the water. Then I was pondering it, and how the axe was borrowed so the guy needed to get it back. So Elisha says to throw a stick [a Branch] in and the axe head levitates to the top of the water so it can be grabbed up. I feel the branch thrown in the water is representative of Jesus: the Branch, that needs to be restored to headship in the church. It is the stick/branch that secures the ax-head so it can be put back on the handle. And the ax-head representing proper authority that is able to uproot the idolatry in the church and in the world.

Years ago the Lord showed me the end times army would be like Gideons.
(see: http://upstream.homestead.com/gideons.html)
Gideon's first task was to tear down the idol of DAGON in his father's house. Dagon according to legend was the father of BAAL. This end times army is up against the harlot church whose head is the Jezebel spirit. Jezebel was a worshipper of Baal and induced her husband Ahab into it.

Trees are likened to men, and this one was hard wood, which reminded me of the pride of man. What came immediately was Job 41 how leviathan has a tough coat that cannot be penetrated. Leviathan is the spirit of PRIDE.
And here is an axe-man [Gideon means " cutter of trees"] taking the ax to the hard tree, and the ax-head falls off. We cannot do our job and be effective if our ax head is not soaked in the OIL of the HOLY SPIRIT.

The proper anointing will enable the Gideons to go forth and do what they are called to do to bring down the roots of false doctrine in the church. The whole thing of Gideon being in the winepress, sifting wheat, has symbolically to do with searching in Scriptures to bring forth pure doctrine according to Conner’s book on symbols and typology in the Bible.

[http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/tg/detail/-/0914936514/qid=1085352090/sr=1-12/ref=sr_1_12/104-8826275-4575114?v=glance&s=books]

We‘d just been praying for the Gideons and Jehu’s to be empowered with the Spirit of Might, and be brought forth by the Lord. Jehu of course was commissioned to kill jezebel. When he arrived, he called to the Eunuch’s to throw her down! There is witchcraft in the Father’s house today that needs to be thrown out the window and annihilated. And there is a heap of witchcraft to be dealt with in the world, but we can’t be very effective if our own house is filled with control witchcraft and selfishness.

You surely don’t want to be opposing someone like the jezebel spirit without being cleansed and filled up yourself. We need to be relying HIS strength and wisdom, and not our own.

The axe is held in the palms of your hands. We’d just been contemplating why jezebel’s palms of her hands were not eaten by the dogs. Several thoughts came:
1) we are inscribed in the palm of HIS HANDS.
2) Jezebel had bloodied hers with the killing of prophets, so that even those palms of her hands were not fit for dogs to even eat! I don't doubt that beheading may have been the means.
3) Lord also pointed out to me how for centuries, true doctrine has been eaten away by the locusts, like it says in JOEL. So that the raising of the axe head in order to secure it again to an axe handle for the cutting of trees, has to do also with RESTORATION of what has fallen in the waters, and been lost. Lost anointings, lost courage in Facing/confronting the sin in the church.
4) The cutting edge of the blade that whittles away hardness of trees can be likened to the [blade of righteousness]. Apostolic power requires apostolic HOLINESS which we can only receive by being in His presence…hence the OIL.
5) Trees are likened to men a lot in scripture, but can also represent the structures of men.

God is whittling away at trees in his church. He is RESTORING our lives and RESTORING the church to what it was meant to be, for it very quickly got off course in the first centuries. He is going to RESTORE apostolic power. When apostolic power came to the church, the FEAR OF THE LORD was restored and the church GREW. Men fell dead at the words of the prophetic apostle Peter. The proper fear of the LORD was reestablished in people. 3000 were saved in a day etc. Ezekial 34 talks about God restoring true shepherds and removing hirelings.

Beheading – addendum to The Floating Ax-Head

Also we had discussed the Nick Berg video I watched…which was probably NOT a good idea for me, but was sent me by a well intentioned friend. It caused me to go into travail, and wailing and weeping. In a sense I felt also
I was crying for what lies ahead. And there were other things I did, like repent for the cutting off of heads of Native Americans here in California.
[They got $5 per head for them in gold rush days which is abominable in the sight of God. - I had just read that detail also in an article online about California] And as I had my head tucked in a pillow screaming and weeping after the video, The Lord said to me, “ Imagine if that were your son!”
“ Imagine If you were a Native American mother watching it happen to your son. Seeing his head sold in a shop by white gold prospectors!” And I was wailing some more and repenting for the sins of that generation, and pray God will wash the blood off our land and replace it with His blood in terms of redeeming the people of California.

I also felt when I watched it that there was something symbolic about it that God wanted to say. He often uses events to speak to me.
David lobbed Goliath’s head off when he killed him with Goliaths own sword! Seems to have been a thing in the middle east to cut off heads.
Nathan cut off the head of the Amakekite king in front of Saul, because Saul had not done it.
Here we have a young American Jewish boy who went to help the people who were there, and he gets beheaded by those called “extremists”.
He had an Israel stamp on his passport the news said. Since then the vision of New York by an online friend came describing the Empire State building collapsing and water flooding out of it into the streets, and I feel the whole head chopping thing has to do with removing those in authority who are not meant to be there, and the bringing down of the EMPIRES of MEN in the church. Judgment begins in the house of the Lord.

The prophet in the story of Elisha, whose axe-head fell off, may represent those whose oil has been quenched. Lost anointings are rampant in the church due to false doctrine being taught and the quenching of the Holy Spirit by spirits of control like Jezebel. Jezebel spirit always tries to kill the prophet’s anointing. A spirit of divination is always involved with jezebel, in trying to even BLIND the prophets to what God is showing them, and to steal from them. Remember how John the Baptist was beheaded by the spirit of jezebel in Herod’s wife Herodias?

It was the eunuchs that threw jezebel out the window…the very ones she emasculated and whose fruitbearing ability was “cut off” were the ones who responded to Jehu and threw the witch out. To be capable of this act God will call many to in taking off the head of the jezebel spirit, means that you cannot harbor bitterness in your heart towards those in authority. But must walk in humility and forgiveness, the enemy having no place in you. You cannot be one who walks in VENGEANCE. But rather that you have GOD’s heart in the matter. Then you will be able to deliver HIS WORDS in the manner HE WILLS. And they will have the intended effect. We WAR NOT against flesh and blood, but powers and principalities and spiritual wickedness in heavenly places!

Predestination was My idea. It was about My plan from the beginning. I had a good plan. I had a plan to create those I could nurture and love. The only thing I asked in return was obedience to My will. In the garden, there were many choices. In fact there were numerous choices for food and nourishment. But the enemy took advantage and sowed a seed of doubt, which was received, and implanted in the heart of man. Once received, it was acted on, and then Adam was drawn in also by the lie.

In these many centuries since the death of My Son, many seeds of unbelief, and doubt, and all kinds of twisting of the truth, have been sown in the generations of mankind. But in this hour, I am coming to RESTORE all that the canker worm and other thieves of the enemy have stolen. I will RESTORE true doctrine. And in fact, many have been hidden for years, searching the word ,and being tested so as to bring forth true doctrine again. These emerging Gideons will come forth to the light of the world, and teach the truth in love, that many may be turned to right standing with Me.

Joel 1:4 NKJV What the chewing locust left, the swarming locust has eaten; What the swarming locust left, the crawling locust has eaten; And what the crawling locust left, the consuming locust has eaten.

I have launched My plan for the end of times and it is a good plan. You needn’t torment yourself with what will happen next so much as to KEEP YOUR EYES ON ME and ON MY WORD. Keep hidden under the shadow of My wings, and you will be safe My beloveds! Do not think that I would break My covenant with you!

Jer 31:31-40 NKJV A New Covenant
"Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah — 32 not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, My covenant which they broke, though I was a husband to them, says the LORD.
33 But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD: I will put My law in their minds, and write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. 34 No more shall every man teach his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, 'Know the LORD,' for they all shall know Me, from the least of them to the greatest of them, says the LORD. For I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin I will remember no more." Thus says the LORD,Who gives the sun for a light by day, The ordinances of the moon and the stars for a light by night, Who disturbs the sea, and its waves roar (The LORD of hosts is His name): 36 "If those ordinances depart from before Me, says the LORD then the seed of Israel shall also cease From being a nation before Me forever." 37 Thus says the LORD: "If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, says the LORD.

38 "Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, that the city shall be built for the LORD from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate. 39 The surveyor's line shall again extend straight forward over the hill Gareb; then it shall turn toward Goath. 40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies and of the ashes, and all the fields as far as the Brook Kidron, to the corner of the Horse Gate toward the east, shall be holy to the LORD. It shall not be plucked up or thrown down anymore forever."

I AM Your LOVING FATHER and I make good on My promises. I am a covenant keeping God. I will not renounce My Word. I cannot! Therefore, worry not, fret not, and have no care for the evil plans of men. Only look to ME for the answers for your role in this end times drama. Keep your eyes FIXED on Me.

Prov 22:17-19 NKJV Incline your ear and hear the words of the wise, And apply your heart to my knowledge; 18 For it is a pleasant thing if you keep them within you; Let them all be fixed upon your lips, 19 So that your trust may be in the LORD;

You are living in a time of GREAT TRANSITIONS and you must be flexible.
Flexibility is a quality I desire in My people. If you are flexible, then you will bend when I tell you to bend. You will go when I tell you to go. You will not hesitate and balk at My orders. I want you to be READY to obey Me even about the slightest things. Do you not know that in the days ahead men will hate you for My sake even more than now. Being open to do only what I want you to do will be VERY important. It may make the difference between life and death for you. So I am making you VERY DEPENDENT ON ME! I am anhilating your self-sufficient pride, and your depending on your own flesh to accomplish things. This is MY WISDOM My beloveds. The bride looks to the Bridegroom to lead her! Will YOU listen to the sound of My voice and LOOK to it! Listen for it! I am speaking, but few are listening for My voice. They are distracted by so many other voices, and so many activities. I will speak to you in the still, small voice.

Lean on ME for whom you may trust and whom you may NOT trust. ASK Me lots of questions, I can handle it! I WILL lead you in paths of righteousness for My names sake, because I LOVE YOU and treasure you! I will not by any means forsake you. Just learn to listen. Learn to quiet yourself so that you can hear. Think about the fact that I am with you always. I AM ALWAYS THERE. You can commune with ME ANYTIME you want. You are the temple of the HOLY SPIRIT. He lives within you, so He is always available, whenever you need to hear.

Some people look to hear from ME, yet have their own agenda, their own mind already made up, so how can I speak. They would rebuke Me and call me the enemy!!!! Know that My voice is NOT the harsh taskmaster. I seldom call you to make changes without preparation. So you need to get used to that now, for in the days ahead it will be different. You may need to change plans at any given moment, or take a different route somewhere, or eat at a different place. Will you LET ME have full charge of your life?
I AM ADONAI, am I not? Will you bend to My will, knowing that I know what is best for you?

FASTEN – N.T. for fixed
1. atenizo NT:816, from atenes, "strained, intent," and teino, "to stretch, strain" (from a root ten--, seen in Eng., "tension, tense," etc.), signifies "to look fixedly, gaze, fasten one's eyes upon," and is found twelve times in the writings of Luke (ten in the Acts), out of its fourteen occurrences. It always has a strongly intensive meaning, and is translated "to fasten the eyes upon" in the KJV and RV in Luke 4:20; Acts 3:4; 11:6; so in the RV, where the KJV has different renderings, in Acts 6:15 (for KJV, "looking steadfastly"); 10:4 ("looked"); 13:9 ("set his eyes"); 14:9 ("steadfastly beholding"). In Acts 7:55, both have "looked up steadfastly." In the following the RV also varies the translation, Luke 22:56; Acts 1:10; 3:12; 23:1; 2 Cor 3:7,13. See BEHOLD, LOOK.

2. kathapto NT:2510, "to fasten on, lay hold of, attack," is used of the serpent which fastened on Paul's hand, Acts 28:3.

Fireworks in Heaven

Have you noticed the skies lately?
Have I not said that I shall give signs in the sun, moon and stars?
But have you noticed the skies lately?

Look up and gaze at the skies.
Look up and admire what I have now set out there.
It is your destiny the sky displays; the stars proclaim.
Look up at the stars, how I have aligned them for you.
I have set the sky ablaze; it is ignited like fireworks for your sake.

Lo and behold, the stars have aligned themselves.
But have you discerned the sign?
Have your heart pondered the emblem I set for your glory?

Understand My people, that your destiny is aligned before Me.
All now is prepared; all is set in order,
My set time has come; the appointed day is here.
The hour of your release,
The day to favor Zion has come.

I have given My order about you,
The decree has left My court to release and honor you.
Now, they will fetch you out from your dungeons,
Order shall come to set My captives free.
Your yokes will be broken; the chains will fall from you.
The prisoners of hope will be set free, and their harvest shall be plenty.
The Josephs will be liberated, and they shall be honored by many.

I have lighted My candles, I have set the sky ablaze,
I have let loose My fireworks, it is time to celebrate.
I am happy for My people; I have expressed My delight.
Angels are shouting for joy, and now let the earth respond.
Let the trees of the forest clap, and the waves of the sea join the chorus.
Let the deep roar in wonder; and the sons of men celebrate.
It is the King of Glory, who is coming into your midst.
Let Israel celebrate, let Jacob rejoice.

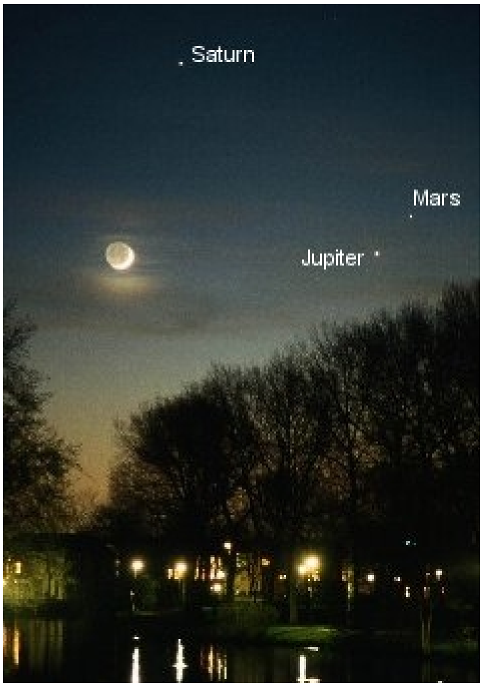
Signs in Earth Sky - WHAT DOES THIS MEAN IN SPIRITUAL REALM?



A Gathering of Planets Tonite

Every few years or so, something wonderful happens: all five naked-eye planets appear in the evening sky at the same time. You can walk outside after dinner, and without any kind of telescope, see Mercury, Venus, Mars, Saturn, and Jupiter. Now is one of those times. The show begins on March 22nd at sundown. Find a place where you can see the western horizon, and before the sky fades completely black, start looking for Mercury. It's that bright star shining through the rosy glow of the setting Sun. Can't find it? Use the Moon as a guide: On March 22nd Mercury will lie directly below the crescent Moon. Simple! From Mercury, trace an imaginary line straight up. In order you'll see brilliant Venus, dimmer red Mars, and yellow Saturn. Behind your back hovers Jupiter, brighter than all the others except Venus. Venus is, in fact, absurdly bright. It will be the first thing you notice when you go outside. Many people mistake glaring Venus for a UFO or a landing airplane, but if you watch for a few moments, you'll see it doesn't move or blink like a UFO or airplane. It really is a planet.

Five Mandates for 2004
Todd Bentley

January 24th, 2004
1. Ask big! I believe that there is a grace on this year to ask God for the impossible! I believe for men and women who dare to dream big and lift your vision higher, God is releasing a special grace for you in 2004. Don't ask for tens of thousands but ask for millions. This is the year that God is going to turn over millions of dollars for the Gospel. I'm not asking for the thousands, I'm asking for the millions!

I Believe this is a sign of what God is about to do in finances, this year Fresh Fire received a half a million dollars in offerings in one conference. I said "Wow, now that's an increase"! In one conference I put on half the number of partners in the harvest as I did in the entire year of 2003, in one meeting.

I said something has got be up in multiplication. In January, Heidi Baker prophesied "multiplication, multiplication, multiplication, God is multiplying, He's not adding "! It is not going to be two plus two equals four this year, no way! It is going to be four times four equals sixteen, it is going to be multiplication, God is not adding any longer! It is multiplication!

The Holy Spirit spoke Psalms two! 2004 really is the year to ask for the nations, cities and regions! This is the year to ask God for buildings, ask for stadiums, and to launch out into things that are bigger than anything that you have ever imagined before! Fresh Fire is putting it all on the line this year, taking risks to reach entire cities in Canada! Dream big, ask big and dream bigger in 2004! This is the year of inheritance of the promised land, a year to feast in the promised land rather than battling in the war! This is the year for the manifestation of the years of prophetic words for many of you! It is a time for God to divide the inheritance. This is the year to move into the promise and the dream this year.

2. This is the year of enlisting. There is a volunteer draft in the Spirit. The eyes of the Lord are searching to and fro seeking those hearts are pure before Him to show Himself strong on their behalf. On behalf of the broken, on behalf of the contrite, on behalf of the pure of heart. The eyes of the Lord are looking right now for people who are going to shake whole cities and nations. For many people 2004 is going to be the year the God enlists you. God is going to enlist young people because they are going to say, "Yes Lord, here I am, send me". Those who know their God shall be strong and carry out great and might exploits. The Lord's eyes are looking for somebody that is ready to shake nations.

3. The Lord spoke to me out of Ezekiel 47, and He said "Todd there has been a decade from January 1994 to January 2004". There has been a decade in which there has been a move of God in the Church. It has been about the river, and there has been life. Look at Ezekiel 47, it talks about the river flowing from the temple. This river is a river that everywhere it goes things that are dead live. Everywhere the river of God flows there is life, renewal, refreshing, and reviving! As we get deeper into the river of Ezekiel 47 it turns into a river of healing, and harvest. There really is something transitional about January 2004. We are not only stepping into something new for this year but something new for the next decade!

I believe that the waters are getting much deeper in 2004, and the waters are for healing, and that the waters are for harvest! Mass harvest is coming to the church in 2004! Along the sides of the river are fisherman. 2004 is the year of the fisherman, this is the year of the great coalition of ministries to cast out the net.

We are not going to do it alone. God spoke three things to me; networks, coalitions and alliances. Entire networks, coalitions and alliances coming together to shake whole cities for the Gospel. Not one, not two, not three, but entire alliances and coalitions of ministries partnering together. God is casting out the net. 2004 is the year of the healing, this is the year of the harvest!

I will tell you where the gold is in 2004. The gold is in the fishes mouth! You are looking for money to pay your taxes, your looking for money to pay your mortgage, I will tell you where the gold is. The gold is in the fishes mouth! That is where the abundant supply is, in the fishes mouth! Cast out your nets!

4. 2004 is a year for building and restoration. In five and a half years of ministry Fresh Fire saw but a hand full of churches that would partner with us. In one day God brought sixty-four churches that said we want to partner in the global harvest with Fresh Fire Ministries . Something is up! New networks, new alliances, new coalitions are being supernaturally built! The key word is building and restoration!

The key verses for this year are Isaiah 61: 2 & 4. " the Spirit of the Lord God is upon me because he has anointed me to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lords favor". There is an anointing being released in the church today to proclaim and to decree? Proclamations and decree are the big thing in 2004. Job 22:28a says "You will also declare a thing and it will be established for you;".

The Holy Spirit is moving on proclaim " the acceptable year of the Lords favor'. Does that mean that we can speak favor over some ones life or ministry, and even if you are not in favor that you will come into favor? There is an anointing in 2004 to proclaim "Grace, grace, grace, grace, and shout to the cap stone grace, grace"! There is an anointing to shout, to proclaim, to prophesy, to decree over peoples lives, churches ministries, cities, nations a time of favor!

The word for the "acceptable" year of the Lord's favor is translated jubilee! The second part of that verse is proclaim "the day of the vengeance of our God;".

There is a whole lot going on in the spirit realm about justice, and there is an anointing to proclaim justice for Gods people! God is pleading the cause of His people. 2004 is the day of the vengeance of our God!

This is the year where God turns the tables! Daniel 7:12 is another key verse for 2004. The Ancient of Days will judge in His heavenly court in heaven. In 2004 God will Judge the affairs of man and He will proclaim judgment, and favor for His saints! I prophesy that there is a turning of the tables in 2004. This will be the year of the day of vengeance of the Lord. There will be a powerful anointing on proclamation, and decreeing vengeance and justice. God is pleading and taking up the cause of His people in 2004. My new teaching "The Heavenly Courts" outlines this revelation from those three weeks visitation about the Devine Council. God presides in final judgment over his saints. Check it out!

The other key verse for 2004 is Isaiah 61:4 "And they shall rebuild the old ruins, ". 2004 is a year for rebuilding, restoring, and raising up the desolations of many generations, and ruined cities. That which has been lost in past revival, that which has been destroyed and lost cities, God is going to repair it. God is going to restore it in 2004. There is a tremendous anointing for restoring this year.

This is the time of Gods favor ! 2004 is the acceptable year of the Lord favor!

2004 is the year of God's justice.

5. 2004 is a year for power encounters! The Holy Spirit said that this is a year for power encounters between light and darkness. They are going to collide in 2004. There will be entire cities won to Jesus in six weeks. There is something significant about the passing of some of Gods Generals recently; men like Kenneth Hagin, Derrick Prince, and Bill Bright, these giants of faith will be greatly missed by the Body of Christ. The mantles of the great men are going to be released in 2004. There is going to be cities where in six weeks God is going to drive out darkness. There will also be other whole cities that will be given over to deep darkness. Other cities will be given over to light and Glory!

We just in New England and something significant is going on in the East coast right now. I was in the pastors office at the Gateway Christian Fellowship, and I was visited by chariots! These were chariots that were coming with Apostles of old and dropping them off! In New England! There were three distinct fathers of revival that had something to do with that visitation of the chariots. Here is what I saw in the spirit. Now, I was in Connecticut but I saw the entire region, several states., coming under a mantle. A mantle like that in II Chronicles 8, where there are going to be storage cities like those. These cities will be like those with Joseph in Egypt in the olden days, on these cities and on these regions are going to be financial power to get wealth. These are going to be states and regions that will have wealth in a time of famine to distribute to the rest of the world.

I saw that there was a storage city mantle over Connecticut, and over that region of New England. The Holy Spirit is ready to break out again in those eastern states in 2004. The Holy Spirit said to:" Look to the East for what I am about to do next"! There is something tremendous happening in that place.

There are only two other cities that I have seen, and I know of one other. Nashville, Albuquerque, and I know that Kansas City is one. These four places are going to have a tremendous anointing on them for resources and wealth. God is getting ready to do something in the East Again!

Five Planets

John Lallier

I saw 5 planets lined up straight across the heavens.

Then I saw women and they were running around looking for a big event and making preparations.
They were ready to make a lot of money.
It didn't happen and the women went bankrupt.

I believe the Lord just showed me that the five fold ministry is about to come forth. The women [apostate false prosperity people] will miss it and not make money. The Lord is going to use nobodies to shame them.

Flashpoints
Bill Burns

July 3, 2004: I had a vision of flashpoints in my life from childhood until now. I asked the Lord, "What are these?" And He told me that these are points of destiny. I was able to see that God was there upholding me, sustaining me, teaching me, protecting me. He said, "Tell My people to redig the wells of old and to re-establish those anointings that must be brought forward into your destiny in this time and in this season. This, My people, is another point of destiny. The flashpoints of those times in the past have become vague memories, but it is now time to write a book of remembrance in your own heart. Ask Me, and I will show you your destiny. I will even take you back to those points from the beginning of your childhood to show you how I protected you and that I was with you to bring you forth in the process of your destiny. Your destiny is not complete; there is more before you. This is a critical time, a crossroad, when you will progress in your spiritual walk and go higher, or the opportunity will vanish. Rejoice that I have been with you from the beginning; I have never left you. I will bring you to the completion of My plans and purposes for your life. Only believe."

A Fountain
Bill Burns

I had a vision of a fountain that was coming up out of the earth. And, I heard the Lord say, "The great treasures, the deep waters, that have been hidden in the earth are now beginning to come up." I first saw these waters coming up as a mist, but they are becoming streams and will continue to get stronger. The hidden things that God has established will become known. In the beginning the earth was watered from beneath. Then, It was watered from above.

This water represents the anointing of those who have gone before us ... those who have died and were buried in the earth. This is the anointing of that great cloud of witnesses who have deposited their anointings in the earth. Remember that the anointing in Elisha's dead body brought another dead man back to life. That is what is represented by the fountains that I saw. The seeds of these great men of faith are about to bring forth a great harvest on the earth. These anointings will come as the former rain and latter rain upon God's people. The anointing of Kathryn Kuhlman is being multiplied on the earth, as well as Smith Wigglesworth, and John Lake and others. They left something in this earth, and that anointing will now be multiplied in the Church. We will again see the manifestation of great healings and miracles and great revelation because of these anointings that water our spirits.

From Little Children to Sons
Francis Frangipane

It is time to stand and pray again. Another hurricane, Jeanne, is heading toward Florida, which means it may also strike the Bahamas en route. Haiti was devastated by this same hurricane, suffering the loss of over a thousand people with many more still missing. Now Jeanne has looped back toward Florida with increasing intensity. And Ivan, which apparently had broken up, has now reemerged as a tropical storm causing flooding in Louisiana and Texas. Meanwhile, off the West African coast, other hurricanes are developing.

Some of these storms are simply natural weather phenomena. Yet, I am convinced there is a demonic influence as well. As one who formerly was a ruling archangel before his fall, Satan obviously has power to manipulate weather patterns. Paul refers to Satan as the "prince of the power of the air" (Eph 2:2). And in his attack on Job, he caused "a great wind" to come "across the wilderness" and kill Job's children (Job 1:19). We have biblical evidence that the devil can stir up a storm or at least direct it and destructively use it against God's people.

At the same time, for those who are indwelt by Christ, nothing happens that God does not redeem and use. Thus, all Christians, not only those attending our In Christ's Image Training school, should consider this season as "test time." The Holy Spirit is requiring God's sons and daughters to stand in Christlike prayer, maturity and authority for Florida, the surrounding states and the Caribbean islands. God is using these challenges to perfect the faith of His elect.

Remember: at all times and in all conflicts, God's will for the elect is always conformity to Christ. Even as Satan is serious about destroying people's lives, so God is serious about creating mature, Christlike sons and daughters - individuals who are unintimidated by life's storms - who stand in worship, faith and spiritual authority and overcome them. I believe this maturing of the church, especially in Florida and the surrounding area, is at the core of what God is doing in the midst of this particular battle. What we learn during this time will be essential in overcoming the greater conflicts that are drawing near.

War On Many Fronts

Hurricanes are not our only tests. The election campaigns in the USA and elsewhere represent a deep clash of cultures. On the right hand are millions of American Christians standing against the sins of abortion, immorality and homosexuality; in opposition are millions of mostly non-Christians who are pro-abortion, who defend gay marriage and who mock Christian morality. Short of physical violence, culturally, this conflict in America could not be more intense.

Yet, this is not all we face. There is the looming possibility of a terror attack in the USA. A recent article states, and I quote:

Senior officials said they "absolutely believe" someone will attempt a terror attack inside the United States within the next four to six weeks. One official described this time "as a very, very serious period."

"I have not seen people in our intelligence communities this nervous since 9/11," one official said, referring to the Sept. 11, 2001 (search), attacks on the United States that killed almost 3,000 people.

Officials said they believe they "disrupted" at least one major plot by some recent arrests, but fear they may not have "derailed" this plot and possibly two others.

"We will need some luck and the grace of God to prevent this one," one official said, explaining that again they have no specifics as to the exact time and place or clear method. [end quote]. http://www.foxnews.com/story/0,2933,133281,00.html

Other reports warn that Islamic terrorists are seeking a level of destruction that exceeds 9/11. The war in Iraq, whether you believe we should or shouldn't be there, still must be won. Iraq has become a terrorist magnet. If we lose Iraq, terrorism will spread out and overtake the world.

The Evil Day

Storms, culture wars, and the threat of terrorism have positioned us with enemies on our right hand and left. The Bible calls this season "the evil day." It is time to "take up the full armor of God" and, "having done everything, to stand firm" (Eph 6:13).

Do not fear: our weapons are "divinely powerful" (2 Cor 10:3-4). Indeed, the Almighty has put His living and powerful word in our mouths, the actual "sword of the [Holy] Spirit" (Eph 6:17). We have been granted the most powerful reality in the universe: the Spirit-empowered, living word of God.

It is significant that, synchronized with the timing of these battles, is a forty day season of fasting, prayer and national repentance (http://www.40daysusa.org/home.html). Hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of Christians are engaged in seeking God.

Thus, let us pray with confidence and with mountain moving faith. Let us heed the command of our King who saw these days before there was one of them. Seeing the darkness of our world, He has a command for His overcoming church: "Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the LORD has risen upon you" (see Isaiah 60:1-3).

Let me repeat the word the Holy Spirit gave us in January about this year: The constrictions experienced at the end of this age are not death throes, but birth pangs; they are not part of what restricts us, but releases us.

We have been spiritual babies too long. It is time for little children to become sons.

Faith Level In Trials

Russell Durose

(fapeurope@msn.com)

The Bible does say that in trials our faith level is tried. I believe sometimes the pressure is so great that we wonder if we will ever come out...or have victory. THE VICTORY IS IN THE TRIAL. The trial itself is the furnace which brings amazement to the ones who heat it up 7 times, whose very servants die for the severity.

I am referring to the trial of Meshach, Shadrach and Abednego. The trial is such that the men who bound them, died when the flames jumped out of that place...to the outside, because THEY WERE NOT ORDAINED TO ENTER THAT PLACE...God's people ARE ORDAINED TO ENTER THE TRIAL SO THAT IN IT GOD MAY BE MADE MANIFEST AND IN THE MANIFESTATION THE SMOKE AND FLAMES BOW TO THE INDWELLING CHRIST...

Isn't that encouraging? Isn't that a revelation? More so...James says that we must let the trial bring forth patience, having her perfect work that WE LACK NOTHING...

What does this say to all of us? It says we are TRANSITIONING TO THE KIND OF FAITH THAT LAUGHS IN THE FACE OF OPPOSITION. ... I reject the bad report in exchange for the one that SAVED MY LIFE...how much more should we rise up now from our battle and glimpse the VICTORIOUS CHRIST...INDEED!

This is not empty triumphalism, no. This is experience speaking...this is looking at death in the face...this is walking where there is no ground to walk on. Indeed. Let us glorify our Lord...in the trials...even when pain is so much...even when things look bleak...because I know in the midst of the flames...the heat...I meet with Him who causes all to bow...in the earth, in the heavens!

Follow Me Into Joy
Sandy Warner

Nov 29, 2004
My dearest wife, My bride, how I have longed to hold you and embrace you as My own. I know your cares, I know your fears, I know your struggles and your uphill journey to overcome. The road has only become steeper in time and more narrow. Yes, I know your failings. I understand your pain and your many tears. Did you think I would come to you to scold you?

Do you really want to quit and give up? Never. As you come to the end of your rope in so many battles, I only ask that you totally lean all your weight upon Me. Let Me carry you to your goal. Allow Me access to put the pieces of your life back together again and I will sustain you in My peace. Resist meddling in My will and bring all things to Me in prayer. I will bring you the answers you need and help you resolve issues for which you have no answers. I will help you soar above it all, and come safely to your destination, being rooted deeply in My love for you.

You have been asleep in your understanding of My earnest love for you and My desires over you. I have earnestly waited for you and am searching you out from the places in which you are hiding. Did you think you could hide from Me, My dear one? You have known tears, but I want to teach you to laugh. There will come a day when you shall throw your head back and belly laugh with Me! Impossible? Not in My vocabulary. Why don't you follow Me into a journey of new beginnings and I will take you there? I will replace all your shame and your sorrow and give you double portion joy.

You have seen me tossing and turning through the night. You have collected all my tears and preserved them in your bottle! You have recorded every one in your book. The very day I call for help, the tide of battle turns. My enemies flee! This one thing I know: God is for me! I am trusting God-oh, praise his promises! I am not afraid of anything mere man can do to me! Yes, praise his promises. I will surely do what I have promised, Lord, and thank you for your help. For you have saved me from death and my feet from slipping, so that I can walk before the Lord in the land of the living.

Isa 61:7 NLT
Instead of shame and dishonor, you will inherit a double portion of prosperity and everlasting joy.

Having Turned A Corner
Sandy Warner

Dec 8, 2004
Having just turned a corner in your life, you shall soon discover that you can see a great distance into your future. I have expanded your horizons and given you the expanse. Now call upon Me to open your eyes. New vision is coming!

It is My will and way, in every way, that you grow up into maturity. I AM connecting you for a another, yet deeper plan. I AM going to touch some sensitive areas in your life. We shall work together to break the bondages that have held you back from coming into the full measure of your inheritance. In the process, I AM going to make you holy bold. This shall be hair curlin', call-it-like-it-is speech. Wanna come? Let's go.

Till we all come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Chris. (Eph 4:13-14 NKJV)

Prayer Warriors Grafted With Leaders
Sandy Warner

Dec 6, 2004
I AM issuing a holy work by appointing prayer warriors and grafting them together with leaders. I will bond and connect them together for the breakthroughs they need. United together they will make beautiful bread. This is a good work and I shall perform it. It is My good pleasure, My holy work on earth.

I must touch these united ones with My passion before I release My touch on earth through their prayers. I will plant in their hearts a deep yearning to uphold and lift in prayer that which I am birthing. Always on guard, to protect nations within their womb, these, My prayer partners, are united as an altar of sacrifice. Come forth and bring to birth that which I have planted deeply within.

Therefore I exhort first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men, for kings and all who are in authority.

Beloved, I am teaching you the power of unity as you join with others in prayer. I shall greatly multiply your efforts as you battle, declare and stand for My will and freedom upon earth, even as it is declared in heaven. Bring forth your good fight and I will provide you a safe canopy to ride higher and higher upon the wings of prayer. These wings will take you above the oppression and resistance. Stand, bind, rebuke, declare and move forward as I lift you up and out upon the wings of prayer. Multiplied, multiplied, multiplied for good measure, all over the world your prayers are moving others forward.

2 Cor 10:3-6 NKJV
For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh. For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds, casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ, and being ready to punish all disobedience when your obedience is fulfilled.

Words to Ponder are summaries of prophetic revelation, punched with the word of wisdom and written under inspiration. [Sandy Warner: swauthor@usa.net / website: www.thequickenedword.com]

Transparent Pain

TRANSPARENT PAIN

What does it mean to show my face
When my heart is veiled with disgrace?
For every day I fall short of You
Striving to live my life brand new.
In sobering thought I face my shame
There is no one else that I can blame.

Why is it like this, when Your love is so pure?
I know that I am favored, with Your grace assured.
This shame is lurking beneath its cover
I want it gone, I want it over.
How can I be free to walk in destiny
When the chain of shame keeps me in pain?

As I cry out for certain deliverance
Your Word is my freedom and recompense.
You told me confession is good for the soul.
As I bare my heart, You will make me whole.
So be free oh soul to unload your pain
Receive His great grace and you won't be the same.

At last when I release this burden of silence
Tormenting self thoughts are no longer violent
From striking myself with flagellating whips
In self condemnation leaving my heart ripped.
Let me release the shame and be set free
As I trust in You for my dignity.

It is not in myself to win this race
It is merely my desire to see Your face
To know Your heart, to know Your ways.
It is in Your love that I stand amazed.
Not my will but Thine be done
As I yield my heart that we may be one.

James 5:16 KJV
Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

Fear No Man
Chip Brogden

Many Christians are in bondage to the fear of man. In discussing this very real and widespread problem, let us acknowledge from the beginning that we cannot be God's spokesperson and be afraid of people. We will find it difficult, if not impossible to faithfully give all the counsel of God when there is a spirit within us that withdraws from people out of fear, timidity, or anxiety.

If there has ever been a time in your life when you bowed down and said, "Lord use me, speak through me, have Your Will through me," then you can expect that the Lord will immediately begin to deal with you regarding the fear of man. It is a fundamental lesson we must learn in order to be fruitful and faithful with all God commits to us.

Let us get right to the point: we are afraid of others because we love ourselves too much. When you have dealt with self-love, the fear of man will be dealt with at the same time. The fear of man is but a symptom of self-love, and is manifest in three basic areas of our relationships with others. If a servant of God is able to overcome in these three areas, he or she will be free of the fear of man. They are: desire for appreciation, desire for compensation, and desire for promotion. We will look at each one individually.

DESIRE FOR APPRECIATION

Multitudes of saints fall at this point. We want others to understand us. We want them to comprehend the meaning behind our actions. We want them to grasp what we are saying. We cannot bear the thought of being misunderstood. We wish for others to appreciate the truth we speak, the word we bring, the insight we have.

The flesh is clothed in such a desire, and it will be a snare to the one who speaks the Word of God. We cannot be afraid of other people, what they will think, how they react, if we do and say what we are led of the Spirit to do and say. Fear of man will cause us to utter many words in addition to those given to us by God. This must be avoided at all costs.

When Jesus spoke to the multitude, He did not glory in how large the crowd was. He did not congratulate Himself on having such an influential ministry. Instead, He sought to thin the numbers out by sifting them with a difficult word, saying, "You must eat my flesh and drink my blood if you wish to be my disciples." At this saying, the multitude and many of His disciples turned aside and no longer followed Him. Instead of running after them in an effort to make Himself understood and accepted, He watched them go. Then, turning to the Twelve, He said, "Will you also go away?" Here is a Man who is not afraid to be misunderstood because He is not afraid of people, what they will think, or what they will say about Him unjustly.

WE can discern His meaning, but THEY could not. Why did He not explain what He meant? Because He had no love for Himself, no desire to be understood. He only called for those who had ears to hear. He spoke the Word and allowed the hearers to exercise their own judgment and spiritual discernment. He had no desire to be appreciated or accepted. He would not have them accept HIM while rejecting the WORD He brought. If they rejected His Word, they rejected Him.

To overcome the fear of man, we must not only be willing to be misunderstood and unappreciated, we should expect it. Then we will be free to speak what God has given us and will not be troubled should others fail to grasp the significance of it.

DESIRE FOR COMPENSATION

When we are bringing the Word of God to the people who are supporting us materially it represents an inherent conflict of interest. The temptation is to tone down the Word for fear that we will offend those who are taking care of us.

The compensation received may not be limited to financial things. When our friends hold a special place in our heart we are likewise tempted to speak softly to them to keep the friendship intact, whereas an identical word to someone we do not know will not be as soft. If God bids us to speak softly, then let us do so. But we cannot speak softly to those we have a relationship when the word we bring them should be anything but soft.

Again, self-love is the problem. For example, a pastor who is dependent upon his congregation for his salary is going to have a difficult time bringing them the whole counsel of God. Not that he cannot preach, but there is an invisible line he dare not cross for fear that too many will be upset. Invariably if this line is crossed you will find him sweating and fretting over it. Perhaps he will make some calls and offer apologies to the offended ones. He is overcome with the fear of man, because he looks to man for his support. Every utterance and action must be filtered through the question of, "What will our supporters think?"

To overcome the fear of man, we must not look to man for our support, be it financial or emotional. Abram rejected the gifts of the King of Sodom, and afterwards the Lord said to him, "Fear not, for I AM your exceeding great reward." Since the Lord is our Provider as well as our Provision, we must look to Him alone. We do not look to gain supporters, partners, pledges, tithes, and offerings. If we do not have something it is because we do not need it. For when we need it, God will provide it. Certainly He will USE other people to bless us, but we do not LOOK to people to be blessed. In fact, we should expect that people will not want to support us. Then we can minister to them without fear of man.

DESIRE FOR PROMOTION

We who work for the Lord often wish to be seen and to be heard. We wish the largest audience possible. Naturally we want people to speak well of us and promote us that many more will hear the Word we have from God. Hidden within such a desire for promotion is the fear of man.

I once discovered another ministry had taken a portion of my writing and edited it before forwarding it to their subscribers. In eliminating the more offensive portions of the text they watered-down the message I was communicating. I contacted the ministry and asked them to either publish the entire message or retract it completely. Since they could not bear the whole counsel of God they informed me that they would retract it. Their closing comment was, "Most writers are happy to have even a portion of their works published, as some promotion is better than none at all."

Our desire for promotion will inevitably lead us to compromise, tone down, whitewash, filter, edit, distort, or make more palatable the message we bring. If we are promoting ourselves, then let us do all we can to push our names to the top and be pleased with any recognition we may receive. But if it is God's Word we speak, let God see to the promotion of His Word as well as His servant. Better to have a small circle of influence with freedom to speak as we are led to speak than to have a large circle of influence obtained through a message deemed "safe for public consumption".

In order to rid us of the fear of man, the Lord will prepare a path for us strewn with misunderstanding.

Finances will dry up. We will be placed on a shelf for many days, until we no longer look to people as our source. To overcome the fear of man we must be wholly GOD'S and no one else's. A man or a woman who does not need to be appreciated or understood; who does not desire compensation, material or otherwise; who does not desire a large ministry but a faithful one; this individual is free to be the SERVANT of all without being ENSLAVED to all.

May God quicken this to our hearts that we may fear no man. www.watchman.net

The Kingdom, The Power, And The Glory
Chip Brogden

This three-fold benediction concludes what is commonly referred to as the Lord's Prayer. It is a fitting conclusion to what we call the Prayer of the Kingdom, or the Prayer of the Overcomer.

This confession is the summation of all that precedes it, the end result of what we are asking: "FOR..." Why do we bless the Name of the Father? Why do we pray for the Will and the Kingdom to be accomplished? Why do we pray for daily bread and forgiveness of sins? Why do we pray to be kept from evil? "FOR..." We ask for all these things BECAUSE the Kingdom is Yours, the Power is Yours, and the Glory is Yours. All the others are requests, but these three are declarations. "Thine IS the Kingdom... Thine IS the Power... Thine IS the Glory." That is the conclusion that we come to, and it is the reason that we pray in this way.

The Testimony of Jesus is committed to the Church, and the matter of His Kingdom, His Power, and His Glory is an intrinsic part of that Testimony. The Testimony answers to everything which man or the devil may challenge us with. So let us look at each one respectively.

THINE IS THE KINGDOM

There is a tremendous battle taking place in the spiritual realm. This conflict began long ago when Lucifer rebelled against the Lord and His Christ. There is this conflict of light versus darkness, good versus evil. There is that which represents the interests of God the Father and His Son, and there is that which represents another interest, an alien interest, something that is absolutely opposed to the Will, Plan, and Purpose of God - it is Antichrist, opposed to Christ. It refuses to submit itself to the preeminence and sovereignty of the Lord Jesus. We can see that plainly enough just by looking to the earthly ministry of the Lord and how even the religious system, especially the religious system, rejected Him and sought to destroy Him. We see in the Book of Acts how this enormous energy and antagonism was then poured out upon the Church in an attempt to obliterate the very Name of Jesus.

This spirit of Antichrist is active today. It is at work in the world, and it is at work in the Church (or, what is called "the Church"), and it is at work within each one of us individually, trying to draw us out into something - anything - other than Christ. Hence the Lord's need for overcomers to rise up and demonstrate that in spite of all appearances to the contrary, THE LORD JESUS REIGNS, and He is the Christ, the Son of the Living God. This demonstration begins with each individual disciple, then finds expression within the corporate synthesis of Believers, before finding its ultimate expression and release in all creation. If the Lord does not have the preeminence in us as individual disciples, if we remain unsurrendered to Him in our own lives, how can the Church as a whole ever hope to bear His Testimony to the world? This is a critical point.

What assurance are we given? It is this: that in spite of nation rising up against nation, kingdom rising up against kingdom, political tumults and global confusion, "THINE IS THE KINGDOM - Your Throne is everlasting, Your Kingdom is established, and of the increase of Your Government there shall be no end (Isaiah 9:6,7). In other words, as Daniel would say, the Heavens DO rule, and it is the Most High God Who governs the affairs of men. THAT is the heart of the matter. THAT is what we are moving towards, from our day-to-day affairs as followers of Jesus, to the course and direction of this entire age.

This Kingdom is an everlasting Kingdom, and His throne endures forever. This is a Kingdom made without hands, invisible, but filling the whole earth one disciple at a time, and then spreading through the little companies of "two or three gathered together" in His Name, moving forward and destroying everything that fails to put the Son of God in His rightful place and anything that fails to make Him the First, and the Only. By our very declaration we are aligning ourselves with an awesome, holy force which will one day gather (or, should I say, RE-gather) "all things in Christ (Ephesians 2:10)."

THINE IS THE POWER

The only legitimate power in the universe belongs to the Lord Jesus - all other power is either illegitimate or temporal. If THE power belongs to Him, then it cannot belong to anyone else. Jesus says, "All power is given unto Me in heaven and in earth." That is a very broad statement, is it not? Absolute power over all of creation!

We might expound upon the difference between the Greek words for authority and power. But such an exercise is irrelevant when it comes to the qualifications and credentials of the Son of God. This Jesus has both the authority and the power. Whether He is teaching, or speaking, or rebuking, or remaining silent, we at once know that we are in the presence of One Who has the authority of God in Him. And, when we see Him heal the sick, raise the dead, cast out devils, and purge the Temple of its moneychangers, we know that this Man also has the Power of God in Him. Who is like unto Him!

This is the sort of power that can arrest Saul of Tarsus and transform him into Paul the apostle. This same Paul, who has touched upon this mighty power, prays that we would be given wisdom and revelation to know "the exceeding greatness of His Power to us-ward who believe (Ephesians 2:19a)."

In a world in which men (and devils) wrestle for dominion, joust for position, seek the preeminence for themselves, strive to exert their influence over others, and lust for more and more control over one another, we as the Church may simply raise our hands to heaven and lift up our eyes to the One in Whom God has vested all of His omnipotence and declare to the universe, "THINE IS THE POWER, and apart from You, we can do nothing."

THINE IS THE GLORY

"We beheld His glory," the apostle John writes, "the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth (John 1:14)." The Kingdom and the Power are seen in the Glory. The Glory is the revealing of the preciousness of this One, the Only Begotten, the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. Over and over we read in the Scriptures, "To Him be the glory." He alone is worthy to be praised; He alone is worthy of our adoration and exaltation.

But everyone cannot see this Glory. To many who look, Jesus of Nazareth is a prophet, a teacher, a good man, a miracle-worker, the founder of Christianity, but not God Incarnate. They do not see the Glory of the Son, so they cannot appreciate the extreme worth, the vast wealth, summed up and contained within this Man.

One day the entire world will see Him as He is, and will finally give Him the place He deserves: for every knee will bow and every tongue will confess that JESUS CHRIST IS LORD, to the GLORY of God the Father (Philippians 2:10,11). Yes, this is how it will all end. But what about now? "All seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's (Philippians 2:21)."

Thankfully, this is beginning to change. There is a Remnant of called-out ones who have seen the Glory of the Son and WILL seek the interests of God's Only Begotten One. In a time when men solicit the glory and honor and power from one another, there is a Holy Nation of priests and kings who will give the Son the glory He deserves, declaring, "THINE IS THE GLORY, we will render to You, and to You alone, the glory due Your Name."

And the final word: "Amen - may it be so, henceforth and forever." We proclaim it, not to bring it forth (as if it depended upon our confession), but to acknowledge it as a present reality which is breaking forth upon all that stands in opposition to it, and to establish once and for all that we have chosen - individually and corporately - to align ourselves with God's Ultimate Purpose and Will, making us co-workers together with Him towards the Goal of CHRIST FILLING ALL THINGS. He MUST increase, and all else MUST decrease (John 3:30). We can observe this decrease taking place in the world around us, but we should also be able to see that WE, the Self, is being decreased in order to prepare us for Kingdom in which it is no longer "I" that live as a thing outside of Christ, but it is Christ Who lives in me, conforming me to His image, and reproducing His character and nature within me (Galatians 2:20).

When He has gained the preeminence in us personally, then He will have gained the preeminence in the Church. Towards this end, may the Lord establish His Kingdom, manifest His Power, and reveal His Glory: to each disciple individually, to the Church corporately, and to all Creation collectively. Amen! Come quickly, Lord Jesus!

Feet Of Brass
Chip Brogden

"And has put all things under His feet, and gave Him to be the Head over all things to the Church" (Ephesians 1:22).

"And His feet were like fine brass, as if they had burned in a furnace... and when I saw him, I fell at his feet like a dead man..." (Revelation 1:15-17ff).

When John was given a revelation of Christ in the Isle of Patmos he described the feet of Jesus as "fine brass which burned in a furnace." Brass is a symbol of judgment, and the furnace is a symbol of wrath, purification, and refinement. This dimension of the Lord Jesus was something quite new to John. Because Jesus did not come to judge the world right away, but to save it, we tend to think of Jesus only in terms of the "Lamb" - meek, silent, longsuffering, and turning the other cheek. He certainly is all that. Yet here we get a glimpse of Jesus as the "Lion". He said He was indeed a King, but that His Kingdom was not of this world. Up until now the kingly aspect of Christ and the majestic glory of His Kingdom had remained hidden.

When this other side of Christ was revealed to John, he "fell at His feet as though dead." At the Last Supper, John had leaned on the Lord's breast and eaten dinner with Him. In this context, however, he can do nothing but collapse at His feet. There at His feet we discover there is a difference between the Holy and the Human; the One Who comes from Above, and the ones who come from Below; the One Who is Spirit and Truth, and those of us who are merely flesh and blood. His feet are burning brass. This is His majesty, and His righteousness. It immediately identifies Him as King of Kings and Lord of Lords, the Righteous Judge, the Living Word Who discerns the thoughts and intents of the heart.

Jesus is both God and Man. He is the Son of God as well as the Son of Man. When we are before the Son of God in His glory we can do nothing but fall to the ground and worship. But with the Son of Man, we can eat with Him, talk with Him, and wash His feet. We can also curse Him, persecute Him, crucify Him, and kill Him. As the Son of Man, He is approachable, even vulnerable. However, as the Son of God, we see Him transfigured into something so bright that men are blinded by the sight of Him, and fall to the ground in fear, wonder, or worship. There, at His feet, the Kingdom of God has arrived, for He has the preeminence.

We note this and call attention to it, for this is what makes revelation so significant, so vital: Christ can, at will, either reveal Himself to us, or hide Himself from us. If He chooses to hide Himself then He appears to be nothing more than the carpenter's son from Nazareth, and there is nothing about Him which arouses our admiration or commands our attention. But if He chooses to reveal Himself to us then we will see Him as more than a Man. We will perceive in Him something which is other-worldly. We will fall down at His feet.

When we are before Him in this Kingly capacity we dare not lift ourselves up beyond the level of His feet, for He is Lord and Christ of all. To sit at His feet is to die to myself and agree with God's estimation of Christ as Head. It is to acknowledge Him and His Kingdom as preeminent. Now would not be the time to speak of the Lord as our friend and pal and someone we walk around with hand in hand. Oh, that is included in Him, and I certainly enjoy this relationship with Jesus. It is very intimate and personal, even fun. And of course there is much to say concerning the Bridegroom and the Bride, emphasizing how Christ loves the Church, and how we may have intimacy and communion with Him. We need to hear it and thank God for it.

But there is another side to this Lion of the Tribe of Judah which the Church by and large has yet to discover. We talk about coming up to the throne and boldly making our requests, but we have only a dim idea what it means to come before the very throne of God and fall down at the feet of Jesus. We casually sing songs and have our praise and worship services without really knowing what we are doing. We have lost a sense of the MAJESTY of the Lord Jesus Christ.

When they came to arrest the Lord Jesus in the garden, He asked, "Who are you looking for?" And they answered, "Jesus of Nazareth." He simply said, "I AM." When they heard this they fell over backwards to the ground. No one can stand before I AM and retain any of their strength. To the ground we will all go, for that ground is holy. Every knee will bow, and every tongue will confess that Jesus Christ is Lord. This revealing of Christ is sufficient to bring saint and sinner alike into absolute surrender and submission. Friends and foes alike find themselves at His feet, quite unable to stand before Him. He does not have to raise His voice or call down fire from Heaven or do anything other than simply reveal Himself for Who He is. Every doubting Thomas eventually cries out, "My Lord and My God!" when they finally behold Him.

We can talk about His presence and His glory and His majesty - yes, we can even sing songs of worship which incorporate these words into the lyrics - but we do not really conceptualize or comprehend what it means. If we really did see something of the majesty and the glory of the Christ of God we would not be so casual. We would be reverent. We would not take the Presence for granted. If we can take Him for granted they we have failed to apprehend Him. We have not yet seen Him. We do not yet know Him. We need to spend some time sitting at His feet.

John gives us a new title for Jesus: "Ruler of the Kings of the Earth" (Revelation 1:5). When the Kingdom has come and God's Will has been done on Earth, then the Scripture will be fulfilled that says:

"All the ends of the earth will remember and turn to the Lord, and all the families of the nations will bow down before Him, for dominion belongs to the Lord and He rules over the nations" (Psalms 22:27,28, NIV).

There beneath His feet of brass we touch His glory. Come quickly Lord Jesus, that you may have the manifest preeminence in all things - beginning with us individually as Your disciples, with the Church as Your Body, and ultimately with all Creation, that Your Kingdom may come and Your Will may be done: as in Heaven, so in Earth. Amen.

Feet Of Brass

Focus
Susan Cummings

F Focus your attention unto My Face. There are too many things that pull upon you. Allow nothing to come between you and Me. Jealously guard your time and give no room to the enemy to tempt you. You must strengthen yourself for the climb ahead of you. Return to your first Love.

O Open your eyes and see what I have done in your midst. I have not brought you this far to allow you to fail or to miss My Timing for you. Recognize where you are, and make your changes now. There is no other course for you, but the one that I have called you to. You were born for such a time as this. This is the hour in which you will rise up and stand firmly in Me.

C Come, and take My Hand, and enter into My Rest. You have need of My Healing and restoration. For I have given you much territory and you have need of strength for the Journey that lies ahead of you. Prepare yourself for action. Give more place to My Word, and to prayer. You will be transformed as you partake of Me. Then you can see clearer and begin to use the weapons that I have placed within you. For they await your awakening. Get ready to move on.

U Utilize the tools that I have given to you. You have My Word, My Name, and My Blood. Begin to walk in your inheritance and in your authority. You have a Covenant with Me. It is time to walk in it. There is nothing that can overtake you, as you stand IN Me. For I AM your High Tower. I AM your God. Begin to walk as My Child. Stand up and begin to walk fully in My Word, and live it. Allow it to transform you. There is nothing greater than My Word. Begin to trust it.

S Start fully relying upon Me, instead of walking in your own ways. You must begin to Trust Me, and to abandon yourself to My Leading now. You cannot walk both paths. Focus. Set your eyes firmly upon Me, and do not allow them to leave Me, for one Instant. I Am your Source and your Provider. I will never leave you nor forsake you. This is the year that you will enter into your destiny fully, as you obey Me.

My Purposes Are Always Redemptive
Susan Cummings

My Word discloses everything that you need to know. It was given unto men, that they would live by it, and to know Me, their God. But men choose to live by their own desires and plans, and they do not seek Me, nor care for My Word enough to trust it, or to live by it.

There is nothing that cannot be known, if men would only seek Me. Yet, they run to and fro seeking wisdom from men, and angels, and other sources that are not My Will. I created angels to assist men on the earth, and to bring forth My Purposes, as it is needed. They are not men’s sole source for wisdom nor their heart’s allegiance. I alone am God.

Why do men seek others, and not their God?

Why is there no God, in the House of God, or in the hearts of men?

Why is the wisdom of men to be sought after and cherished above Mine?

My Purposes in the earth are always redemptive and are all written in the Word, if men would seek them out, they would find them, and they would understand my dealings with the earth and it’s inhabitants. My Judgements are also in My Word, and they are redemptive, as they seek out the hearts of men, and point them towards their God.

I have released My Judgements and My Justice in the earth. They are all found in My Word, and are all in the timing that I have set forth in My Word. I have made it plain, yet men run to and fro, causing much confusion and fear in My House, as they run with their own wisdom and understanding. They neither run with My permission, nor My Wisdom.

There is much yet to be released in the earth, and it will be understood by those who are Mine. For Mine sit at My Feet, and they inquire of Me. They know Me, and trust Me, as their God. They will not fear, but will stand firm IN Me, and will be the vessels of My Redemptive Purposes, and of My Justice, in the days to come.

I said that Daniel was to seal the book until the end, and it now opening unto My Own. For I have chosen in this hour, to reveal Myself unto My People in the earth that are Mine, and they will prepare the way before Me. Nothing is known apart from Me, and from My Holy Spirit. For I AM the Spirit of Truth. I am the Living Word. I AM!

Men will come and men will go, by My Word is Eternal, and is alive in the earth. It has always been and always will, for it is eternally creating My Will in the earth, as I have sent it forth to do. Nothing will be left undone, nor will it be stopped. You have My Word. Read it, and begin to understand! For I have come back to My House, and it will be seen, and known that My Word is True, and it is the only Standard that will stand in the days to come. For My Word is the only Source of Truth by which men will live. I AM the Light and the Life of men!

They will either receive Me, the author and giver of Life, or they will perish by their own hand and choice.

For all things will be finished as I have plainly shown you, and then I will return for My Own. Until then, I will be among them in the earth, and they will rise up in Me, and stand in My Light, as a witness to the Truth. For the Witness of Heaven and the Witness of Mine in the earth will now come into proper alignment, and will be One, and will usher in My Power and My Glory within My Own. For My Covenant is redemptive, and it is Just!

There will be no excuse, nor delay. All things will be disclosed for it’s true source, and it’s fruit will be seen.

My Word will be the Standard of measure that is raised over the lands. For I have given each nation their choice, and they will walk it out, unto their destinies. It is written in My Word. I told you the scrolls have begun to be released and to be unrolled. Yet, many will not believe. They neither believed Me at the beginning, neither will they believe at the end.

I have returned to see if there is faith in My Word or not……….

Revival Fire
Susan Cummings

The Angel named, “Revival Fire”
January 21, 2004
A series of visitations and our experiences documented to show the progression of the understanding of the Word and what God is saying in this hour to us.
Pastor Patrick O'Marra
Donald and Rev. Susan Cummings
Pastor Jerry Mooneyham and co-pastor Elaine
Pastor Patrick O’Marra:
I believe that one of the angels in the cloud in the library Shawn Bolz saw in his article named, The Library Room of Heaven, is the angel named Revival Fire that came to Susan and, as we prayed on January 22, 2004. Shawn said: "It was the angelic host that would release these things on Earth."

Referenced experience below…..

Patrick then discerned a Fire that came to us as we were praying.

Then Prophetess Susan Cummings prophecies: "I see an angel standing by my book case (we had been talking about Shawn Bolz being in the library of Heaven), his name is Revival Fire, and he has, he is Fire. I mean he, you can just feel the Fire on him, you can't get very close because God's Revival Fire is Holy, and the presence of him is just very humbling, you know, but he's very, very fierce, not a warrior but more of a authority, he the one that comes whenever Revival is released in different regions or nations, he's the angel that comes.

You know, he has curly hair, I've never seen one, an angel, with curly hair, he has dark hair, curly."

Patrick says, "It's happening to me again, the Fire, it happen to me when he (the angel, Revival Fire) came, he is connected to the mouth, it's got to be to the Word- it's like Fire. Oh, this Fire is coming all around us, There's a Whirlwind of Fire, there's a whirlwind of Fire around us, it's coming from him, it's a whirlwind of Fire.

Susan says, "He's putting his hand on us, and he's going to come to you and put his hand on you too. Patrick, he's got a pouch that hangs from his side, and in that pouch are seeds of Revival, they're golden seeds.

The Lord says, "Do not fear, it is not you that brings forth life, it's Me, I will do the work, I will birth My presence in My people and in the earth, it is I that chose the vessels that I will use, it is I that chose the place where I will pour Myself out, it is I that chose' s the day and the hour and the Time of My Visitation, it is I that initiates it and it is I that pulls it back, it is all by My choice, and My will, and My decree, I have told you before hand what I would do and now I Am telling you that: "IT HAS BEGUN" so prepare yourselves, for I have already initiated and released and it has begun to happen now, so walk carefully My children, for I have called you to rise up* in this hour, and I have prepared you, and it is My choice and you will see My hand as it moves across this land, yes there will be <

Now, he's (the angel, Revival Fire) coming to you, Patrick….. He then comes to Patrick and puts the seeds in his spirit, and he feels it!

Susan said, "They are the seeds of His Words!"

Susan said, "Patrick, the Lord is going to show you something too, look to your left." The Lord then shows Patrick a previous understanding that He had been given from the Lord to confirm this experience…

 On December 26, 2003 I heard the Angel of the Lord speak to me: "Rise up". This happened as Michael D'Andreano was reading Brother Branham's book of his account of when the Light appeared over his head and the picture was taken on January 24, 1950. He said, "The Angel of the Lord said, "Rise up." The Holy Spirit told me that Acts 12:7 is understanding of what the Angel said. The Lord also prophesied through His Prophetess on December 27, 2003: Rise up, in many ways, Rise up and walk in Heaven with Me."

And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raising him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. Acts 12:7

They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again rejoicing, bearing his sheaves with him. Psalms 126:5,6

Patrick says, This angel, Revival Fire, then came in the beginning of our meeting in the Salvation of God Church on January 25, 2004 and charged the atmosphere of the meeting with Revival. (This is the angel that comes when Revival is released in nations and regions)

Then at the end of the meeting, the Fiery Star appeared, and the Fiery Whirlwind just as Prophetess Susan Cummings saw it coming to our NY area on December 22, 2002.

Subject: Aftermath of Prayer, Last Night!
To: Rev. Susan Cummings:

Dear Susan;

The Lord said I was to write you, and share what happened last night after we got off the phone.

As I told you on the phone, It got very hot within the living room where Elaine (my co-pastor) and I had been praying. Even after we got off the phone, some how, I didn't feel done.

I went outside on the back porch, it's about eight feet off the ground. I look up, which is north, and just about jumped out of my skin! There in the spirit, standing before me was a nine foot angel, with brown curly hair! Smiling at me, he had a white garment, and a gold sash around his chest. He also had a brown bag, very beautiful, but plain.

I could see in the spirit, that in the bag, was gold seeds, they were smaller than popcorn and shaped like a water drop. He just stood there with a smile upon his face.

I called Elaine outside without telling her why, and asked her to stand in front of him without her knowing and asked her to tell me what she felt, or sensed any thing.

A wind began, what was also strange, it was warmer than what had been blowing, I too, had sensed the change, but was focused upon this angel who was standing so still and just smiling. Elaine, focused on the wind, and nearly went down in the Spirit.

I finally told her who was behind her, and she too sensed him within a moment. We talked about it for a moment, but I must admit, I was confused by the fact he wasn't speaking, every angel of authority who is sent to me presents himself to me, overtime, up to this point, has always given me a name, and a purpose.

All at once, I felt the need to pray, and to thank God for this angel, because somehow I knew it was the angel you had told us about earlier, (The angel named, Revival Fire) and the blessings, just poured out like a flood.

The minute I started to pray, I felt the Spirit sweep over us, as I sat there looking, the angel reached into the bag, and began to turn slowly, and as he did the seed began to be spread all around us, then he began to go straight up, very slowly but always turning, and though there weren't as many seeds as at first, they began to be spread over a larger area, and he just kept getting higher, more seeds and a larger area was being covered.

Your Humble Servant!

From Out Of The Fog

Micah Dean

rmicahdean@hotmail.com

I WANT TO PREFACE the Message of my dream/vision experience with a brief note about my spiritual condition at the time it occurred:

After a lifetime of exposure (and resistance) to various flavors of "Christianity", I eventually surrendered and ended up heavily involved in some highly charismatic church movements.

Then, after seven active years of devoted listening, learning, and trying to digest all that I was being fed, my old suspicions (and new doubts) about Christianity's overall validity finally forced my deeply troubled spirit to honestly admit that, yes indeed, something was dreadfully wrong with much of what I was being led to swallow.

I could no longer deny that some very important things were being ignored, overlooked or blocked in favor of Christianity's strange agendas. I wasn't exactly sure what the problem was, but I knew I had to escape it's spiritual manipulations and bondage somehow. But, I sadly wondered, where on earth does a sincere, God-seeking Christ-follower go after dropping out of the world of Christianity?

It was during my last month within the grips of today's Christianity that my growing anguish was helped in a most unusual way. It happened one night in 1989 while I was sleeping--that was over 12 years ago as I now write it down, but what was shown to me then was much too vivid, lasting and profound to ever forget. The following is my best understanding of the timely Message behind it all.

What you're about to read can only be true and valid if it unfolds and fulfills itself accordingly. Let's listen, watch and see.

From Out Of The Fog

A helpful message to the believers in Christ

IT HAS BEEN SHOWN that the total picture of today's worldwide "Christianity" is very bleak indeed. In it's entirety, it can be compared to a huge, dense blanket of aimlessly drifting mist; a gray and tepid big blanket of fog that now stands like a massive new veil between the earnest God seekers and their rightful, Christ-given access to Him.

Today's worldwide blanket of Christianity has become much too vast, dissipated and vague to do little but block and blind and then detour the sincere God seekers into it's own self-serving conclusions and practices.

Furthermore, and very importantly, this massive and murky monument to the Christ gets it's entire existence, substance and support from the millions upon millions of participating "Christians" who, unwittingly or otherwise, have become ensnared, programmed and consumed into the spiritually governing formulas and fortresses that make up this monstrous, boxed-in thing called Christianity. And as an end result, the sum total of their own makings has ended up far too self-blinded, disjointed, anemic and lame to add up to any real heavenly or earthly value. And therefore, because of Christianity's severely sickened and highly infectious condition, a great and wondrous new thing has been issued forth right into the midst of it's weakened body.

IT HAS BEEN SHOWN that a certain number of infected "Christians" are being drawn away and separated from the further ills and influences of their "Christianity"--individually, one by one--onto a new and calming place of spiritual release and divine support. And it's here, upon the safety and sanity of this mysterious, God-given provision that these selected individuals will be spiritually strengthened and then ushered towards a very special and highly empowered purpose.

And as His divine purpose gathers, prepares and guides them onward, their renewed strength and direction will soon lead them to the very point of it all. And it's here, at the very point and purpose of this wondrous new thing, that they will pause and mingle and grow in intensity for yet a little longer. And when their season of preparation finally reaches His desired state of fullness, this small gathering of selected individuals will suddenly be released to go outside and beyond the governing borders of Christianity to do all that is fully intended for them to do.

AND IT HAS BEEN SHOWN that wherever these individuals then go, and whatever they then do, the resounding impact that their accumulated experiences and testimonies will make outside and beyond the spiritually governing boundaries of Christianity will be so utterly powerful and effective that all of Christianity itself will stand deeply disturbed and disrupted by the enormous shockwaves and repercussions that they will be casting back into it's own huge, sickened stance. And because this wondrous new thing has been issued forth from the mighty sword of Christ, Himself, the deeply diseased and highly infectious body of today's worldwide "Christianity" will find itself penetrated, up heaved and flushed out ever so mightily indeed.

For 2004

Barbara Schmidt

charbarb@charter.net

This is not a year of church as usual, so we will not be able to go on in the same ways as if it were-for indeed, the body of Christ has not been this way before-or at least not since the church began and moved in power.

The Army of the Lord has been limping for some time now-we have not seen what God's Word says we should see. The vision has been blurred-and where there is no vision the people perish.

But this will be a time of the prophetic-and indeed it has been rising-in pockets-but this year will be wide-spread.

We will be instant in and out of season-God's Word-his Now, Rhema Word will go forth like never before-giving His Army the needed healing-the needed empowering-the needed direction to reach the goal of the high calling of God.

This army will be unlike any you have ever seen-this army has "weapons" weapons of "mass destruction" to the enemies camp-and weapons even more powerful-these are weapons of "love"-when these weapons are fired-explosions of healing-physical, emotional, spiritual-will overtake the nations.

This is indeed a new year-a new season-a time when God will take you to a new level-new levels require new learning.

We will see changes in how God relates to us-how he works through us-we will be changing you have to start where you're at.

Big things will be done; but some will come in little steps. Stepping stones-not huge jumps-but steps-but don't get to comfortable with the little steps-they will not last long because this will be a time when God pours out His Spirit so abundantly that things will advance rapidly.

Why some little steps to start-because God is gracious towards us-

He will heal our "shell shock" first-

He doesn't need to regroup-but we do after many years of not moving in HIS full extent.

This will be a year of increased faith- God is upping the faith levels this year-a supernatural raising.

Nike says, Just Do It-God says, Just believe it-then you will do it. A year of coming in-for us-for the unsaved.

At the same time we are being changed-those will come in that will be, not only in need of change, but be in need of someone to clean up the messes-they're babes, babes thrive with love. Babes wither without love.

Are you aware of the variety of things you will see in the church this year?

Are you ready for those who come in?

You will see things you've never seen before

This will be a year of practical Christianity.

They will be taking steps too--we will need God's Love for these.

We will need God's Wisdom for these

We will need God's Timing for these

We can't look back, either to the bad OR the good

No one can walk the walk for you-even the children will have to walk their own walk.

There will be no room for looking back at what the Lord says is Past-both bad & good.

For His Glory

Musa Opiyo

Feb 14, 2004

John 12: 27-28 "Now My soul is troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save Me from this hour? For this purpose I came to this hour(Italics mine). 'Father, glorify your name'. Then a voice came from heaven saying, "I have glorified and will glorify it again."

Jesus in this verse of Scripture was very troubled. He had just entered Jerusalem triumphantly, welcomed to the voices that shouted, "..Hosanna! Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord! The King of Israel"-John 12:13) Yet he knew the same voices that praised him and hands that laid out their garments in his path, would be the same ones that a week later shouted, 'Crucify him'. The same people who had witnessed all he had done in the form of miracles, signs and wonders, would later mock and spit at him.

This in fact was the least of the Lord's worries. He knew he was going to be crucified. Crucifixion is not the cute little picture seen on many Easter cards. Most people crucified in that day were crucified in treason to Rome. As a punishment of shame, they would strip him of every bit of clothing he had. The Romans used 6 inch nails in those days to drive them into the hands and feet. Once on the cross, the objective was for the criminal to suffocate under the weight of his chest being pressed together by the abnormal stretching of the arms. The Bible records that he was whipped 39 lashes. Often times the whips had metal tips. They were not always one stranded whips but almost as many as ten at a time It only took one lash to tear a large part of the flesh away. His back was literally torn apart.

His face was so disfigured that his disciples hardly recognized him when he appeared to them. It certainly had to take the breaking of the bread, a custom that his disciples were familiar with, for the two that walked with him to Emmaus to realise who they had been talking to. Yet why did he do it? Verse 27 of John says 'And for this purpose he came to this hour'. But for what purpose? The next verse reveals it all as he says, 'Father, glorify your name'.

Many times the Lord will take us through trials to which we are so overcome, that we begin to question the purpose of why he is doing it. We may not understand his ways or thoughts, but one thing that is sure, is that he is working HIS glory in us. In the fires of affliction, he is molding us into his image. You cannot be an effective tool for the Kingdom if the world is still seeing YOU, for when the world sees you, they are only seeing their own mirrors image. We must decrease as we allow him to increase in our lives everyday through the working of the Holy Spirit.

Many time, even as Jesus dies, he wants something in us to die: whether our fleshly nature or a motivation that was not of the Spirit. Most times, it is to empty us of ourselves. The Lord cannot work in vessels that are full.

Whatever trial you are facing today, rejoice and be encouraged. The Lord never does anything amiss. We as Christians should learn not to always ask to be taken out of the fire, but to be strengthened by His strength even as we endure what he is taking us through. It is all for His glory

Romans 8:18 For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

John 12: 24 Most assuredly, I say unto you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone, but if it dies, it produces much grain(KJV says "fruit")

Daniel 3: 16-18 Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego answered and said to the king, "O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter. If that is the case, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from this burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us from your hand. But if not, let be known to you, O King, that we do not serve your Gods, nor will we worship the gold image which you have set up.

This is The Generation

Musa Opiyo

February 15, 2004

This is the generation that shall carry My name to the ends of the earth. For they are My army of Joshuas, Deborahs and Gideons who will not be backed down by fear because they know that that I have not given them a spirit of fear, but of power, love and a sound mind. This is the generationt that will take the secular world by storm, for I will use them as witnesses of My glory and power to save lives even within their own circle of influence. Let it be known that I shall pull man out of the structure of men and out of the clutches of the evil and they shall be saved by My healing grace. The mantle is being passed on and they shall walk in an even greater revelation and authority than that of this previous generation. For this is a generation of young people filled with My fire and My zeal, that shall shame even those of their predecessors who have remained complacent. There is nothing lukewarm about these generation of warriors that I am raising up, says the Lord.

For they are even a threat to the Kingdom of darkness, but watch as I move through the heart of My young people, correcting error and previously misunderstood mindsets. They shall go forth unhindered speaking the uncompromising word of Christ saved and crucified. Yes, this is a generation that shall carry My name far and wide to all four corners of the earth for they shall bring glory and honour to My name as they lift Me up and not themselves. They are the ones to whom I will endow special favor in the workplace, among the secular and even before kings and leaders to be My faithful witnesses. For they know no demilitarized zone, for they are children of light. Yes, these are the ones that I am raising up to bring glory and honour to Me, says the Lord.

Fortified Cities

Mary Clark

Marianna, Florida
barnabessy@digitalexp.com

The Lord awoke me saying the words “fortified cities.” Here is what He has to tell us about these cities:

I have My fortified cities of refuge. I have all of My plans in order. You may count on Me restoring all that the canker worm has eaten. I am doing a mighty work – a lasting work. You may count on it! You will be substantially surprised when this work first surfaces, but know this, beloved: I am with you. I am your sustaining force. I am moving you deeper into the things of your God. I am removing some old worldly props and giving you My eternal support.

The enemy is scampering around, looking for a place to hide. He knows that havoc is about to take place on earth. He does not want to be caught in the middle of it. He wants to wait until the dust settles, and then make his way into your hearts. But you won’t let him, will you, beloved? You won’t listen to his lies, will you? You will keep your focus on Me, won’t you? You will maintain your position in the place to which I have called you, knowing that I have fortified you to move along in My will to the beat of My heart.

I am telling you that I do have fortified cities on the face of the earth. Know that those who enter these places of refuge will know My divine hand on them. They will know that they have reached the inner sanctum of My heart. But those who refuse to enter into the place that I have provided will not know My peace. They will be running scared.

Know also that I have deliberately removed certain things that the world counts on daily, in order to get My point across. What is My point? I am God. You shall have no other gods before Me. I am the sustaining force of the whole universe. You should look to no other.

Get settled in this place that I have provided for you, My chosen, knowing that I am with you. I will be speaking clearly in your ear. I will open the eyes of your understanding. I will open them wide and reveal My truth for this coming hour. You must stay focused on your Beloved. You must stay focused on Me, beloved, and see the redeeming of those things that are Mine.

As I shine forth My will, you will know some things with a certainty: The holy Master has spoken through a catastrophic occurrence. He has made a statement. His statement is clear to the entire world. And what is that statement? This is the statement: I am coming soon for My own. I want them ready. I want them focused on Me. I want them ready for Me, and I want to have each in his proper place, when I arrive, doing the work of the Almighty One with My expertise. I want all doing My will, and looking intently for the Beloved to make His approach. The harvest is vast, beloved, but My workers are many. Get ready to go forth into the harvest fields and do My most honorable work. Know that My blessing is upon you. Know that the season of blessing is surely upon those who humble themselves before Me, expectant in My work, and eager to comply.

My children have been prepared for this hour. Identify it when it comes, and know something soundly within your heart: The living God has definitely made a statement of love. He has definitely made a statement of judgment. He has definitely called forth a great hour of true repentance on the face of the earth, and those who comply with My call will be firmly established in My grace. They will truly know that their destiny in Me is secure. They will walk with that assurance as they go forth doing the will of the Father, and leading others into the expectant hope that is found in knowing Me – in knowing My great love for all of mankind!!!

Faith of the Son of God

Paul Ekemezie

Nosike_ekemezie@yahoo.com

Gal 2:20 (KJV)-I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

Our lives should be substituted with the life of Christ.

2 Cor 5:14-15-For Christ's love compels us, because we are convinced that one died for all, and therefore all died. 15And he died for all, that those who live should no longer live for themselves but for him who died for them and was raised again.

In 2 Cor 5:14 we learn from God that all of us died in Christ’s death. Do we believe this? I’m sure we all do. What is our response? Every individual Christian responds: "I am crucified with Christ" (Gal 2:20a). This is faith. But faith by itself, if it is not accompanied by action, is dead (James 2:17). So 2 Cor 5:15 has to come in. The action we must take in order to prove our faith is to live for Jesus, that is, to allow Jesus to live in our bodies. How does Jesus who died, resurrected and rose to heaven come to dwell in many bodies?

The mechanism of Jesus living in our bodies is by adopting His faith. How? You simply take the position of a son of God and seek to do all that the Son of God did.

John 14:12-I tell you the truth, anyone who has faith in me will do what I have been doing. He will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father.

Jesus has promised us that we are able to do all His works as the Son of God because He will do it for us from heaven.

Phil 4:13-I can do everything through him who gives me strength.

The Son of God could never have died because He had no sin in Him. But He took our place by bearing all our sins and therefore died. By His death He reconciled us back to God, so that God could now adopt us as His sons. Having been adopted, God now expects us to continue the ministry of His formerly only Son that was suspended when He died for us. What was His ministry?

John 3:17-For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him.

2 Cor 5:18-20-All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: 19that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting men's sins against them. And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation. 20We are therefore Christ's ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us. We implore you on Christ's behalf: Be reconciled to God.

The ministry of Jesus that we must step into, if we really believe that He died for us so that we should not live for ourselves, but for Him who died for us, is the ministry of reconciliation. It has already been made clear, in my article of last week and in a number of prophetic words released in the course of that very week (especially at www.ft111.com), that faith in God's words is the basis of the great move of God that will conclude the church age and which will begin in this year 2004. Do we really want to be known as men and women of faith? If yes, then we must all dive into the ministry of reconciliation with zeal. One of the prophecies for 2004 emphasized evangelism. Let us get into it by faith. The great end time harvest has commenced.

How do we carry out this ministry of reconciliation? It is by the faith of the Son of God. This means that as God was with Jesus, He will be with us. In fact, we should see the whole thing as Jesus Himself continuing His ministry. And so we shouldn't expect to see less manifestation of the power of God than was witnessed during the time of Jesus ministry as a man. That is faith.

Matt 28:19-20-"Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, 20and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age."

Josh 1:1-5-After the death of Moses the servant of the LORD, the LORD said to Joshua son of Nun, Moses' aide: 2"Moses my servant is dead. Now then, you and all these people, get ready to cross the Jordan River into the land I am about to give to them-to the Israelites. 3I will give you every place where you set your foot, as I promised Moses. 4Your territory will extend from the desert to Lebanon, and from the great river, the Euphrates-all the Hittite country-to the Great Sea on the west. 5No one will be able to stand up against you all the days of your life. As I was with Moses, so I will be with you; I will never leave you nor forsake you.

Moses was a type of Jesus. "After the death of Moses" is a type of "After the death and resurrection of Jesus". That is why, even though Moses died, no-one could find his body. Now the Joshua generation has risen. They must move the people of God all over the world into the claiming of every promise God made to the Church. As God was with Jesus, giving Him the Spirit without measure-the fullness of God (Eph 3:19), so He will be with the Joshua generation that is now rising up. The people involved should go into the end time harvest with the knowledge that God will never leave them nor forsake them.

The Joshua's of today must preach the message of reconciliation. What is this message?

John 1:12-13-Yet to all who received him, to those who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God- 13children born not of natural descent, nor of human decision or a husband's will, but born of God.

John 16:27-No, the Father himself loves you because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God.

When the man Jesus was on earth, those who believed He was the Son of God and received Him thus, to them He gave the right to become sons of God. In our present time, what matters is to believe in His name. It is to those who believe in His name that He gives the right to become sons of God. What is His name that we should believe in? Is it "Jesus"? Well, "Jesus" wasn't actually His original name in Hebrew. "Jesus" is a Greek translation of His original name, just like "Jesu" is the Latin translation. In any case, the name being referred to is not his human name, but His spiritual name. What is His spiritual name?

Rev 19:12-13-His eyes are like blazing fire, and on his head are many crowns. He has a name written on him that no one knows but he himself. 13He is dressed in a robe dipped in blood, and his name is the Word of God.

So you see, as many as believe in the Word of God, they are given the right to become sons of God. The message of reconciliation involves getting people to receive the words of God with faith. We should never forget that it was Adam’s inability to receive the word of God with faith that alienated man from God. The opposite act of receiving God’s words with faith reconciles man to God.

However, the Joshua generation must come to grips with one reality, namely, the difficulty in getting men to receive God’s words with faith.

John 8:39-44-"Abraham is our father," they answered.

"If you were Abraham's children," said Jesus, "then you would do the things Abraham did. 40 As it is, you are determined to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. Abraham did not do such things. 41You are doing the things your own father does."

"We are not illegitimate children," they protested. "The only Father we have is God himself."

42 Jesus said to them, "If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and now am here. I have not come on my own; but he sent me. 43 Why is my language not clear to you? Because you are unable to hear what I say. 44 You belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father's desire. He was a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks his native language, for he is a liar and the father of lies.

Here Jesus teaches us about the children of the devil. They hate the Word of God. The words of God are not clear to them, because they cannot hear what God is saying. Why can’t they hear?

John 12:37-40-Even after Jesus had done all these miraculous signs in their presence, they still would not believe in him. 38 This was to fulfill the word of Isaiah the prophet:
"Lord, who has believed our message and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?"
39 For this reason they could not believe, because, as Isaiah says elsewhere:
40 "He has blinded their eyes and deadened their hearts, so they can neither see with their eyes, nor understand with their hearts, nor turn-and I would heal them."

2 Cor 4:3-4-And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing. 4 The god of this age has blinded the minds of unbelievers, so that they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God.

1 John 2:9-11-Anyone who claims to be in the light but hates his brother is still in the darkness. 10 Whoever loves his brother lives in the light, and there is nothing in him to make him stumble. 11

But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks around in the darkness; he does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded him.

The whole world is under the control of the evil one (1 John 5:19). According to Jay Snell, in Chapter 5 of "How to Amass Abrahamic Wealth":

"The devil does a number on the brain of the lost person. The devil blinds his mind. In other words, the devil blinds the minds of the lost. When we were born into the stream of human existence, we were born with our minds in that blind condition. This is exactly what happened to Adam and Eve in the garden when they sinned, and then passed it on to us. Consequently, our minds are blinded to the things of God from birth. For that reason, the Gospel is hidden. It's hidden because our minds have had a number done on them by the devil. That number stops the light of the gospel from shining upon us."

In order to force the light of God into the hearts of people, it takes spiritual warfare, in which the devil is bound. Signs and wonders are also helpful. Above all, the message of faith must be preached. It is the lack of faith that is the problem of mankind. Faith must be commonly preached.

2 Cor 4:6-For God, who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," made his light shine in our hearts to give us the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.

Rom 1:16-17-I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the power of God for the salvation of everyone who believes: first for the Jew, then for the Gentile. 17 For in the gospel a righteousness from God is revealed, a righteousness that is by faith from first to last, just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith."

Finding Our Way in Transition

Cindy McGill

The church is in major transition. New focus, new structure, new assignments, new positions of leadership. This is preparation for the future. In the midst of this construction, where are we to stand? It feels like the ground we once felt was secure is now being dug up and possibly removed. Paths we once walked are now not visible to us. God is getting ready to release an outpouring of His Spirit unlike we have ever seen; but to whom much is given, much is required.

LETTING GO

In order for God to redesign His body, we have to be willing to let go of old patterns. We have become comfortable with the way we do things, but the Master Carpenter has a new floor plan. His ways are not our ways, nor are His thoughts ours. Somebody needs to adjust, and it most likely won't be God. We are given a promise in Matthew 16:18. This is where Jesus told Peter that He would build His church and the gates of hell would not prevail against it. The current "wineskin" the church has been operating in will not be able to contain what is coming. This reconstruction is essential for God to accomplish what He needs to in this hour. It is time to trust the Lord wholeheartedly and not lean to our own understanding.

A DISMANTLING

God seems to be taking things apart. We look around and say, "Hey, this looks like a mess." Or, "That doesn't belong there." And, "I have always done things like this; I don't want to change." A rearranging of people, ministries, and responsibilities have got us stumped. God really does have His way in the whirlwind. When something comes down, it is because something else is coming up. In this season of restructuring, we cannot look at seen things. Otherwise, we'll get disillusioned and come to conclusions that are not accurate. Things never look right when rebuilding is going on. It is what the disciples went through when Jesus was delivered up to death. The "Temple" was getting ready to be destroyed and raised up in three days. But, this didn't "look" right.

Matthew 26:47-56
47 And while He was still speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, with a great multitude with swords and clubs, came from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now His betrayer had given them a sign, saying, "Whomever I kiss, He is the One; seize Him." 49 Immediately he went up to Jesus and said, "Greetings, Rabbi!" and kissed Him. 50 But Jesus said to him, "Friend, why have you come?" Then they came and laid hands on Jesus and took Him. (NKJV)

Jesus had been talking to them about this whole thing, yet when it happened, the disciples were confused and angry. What on earth was Judas doing?? They had been with Jesus, talked with Him, were taught by Him, left all they had to follow Him, and now THIS??? This isn't right. One of His disciples, most likely Peter, tried to correct the situation by taking matters into his own hands and attack the servant of the high priest, cutting off his ear. God's plan doesn't look like ours.

EXAMINING OUR HEARTS

This is a season for us to examine our hearts. We need to see what God is going after in our lives. Where do we need to change? There is a searchlight going off in our lives. It is a time to ask ourselves who is REALLY in charge. This is a time for God to re-adjust us and lead us to repentance for known things and things He will show us. David was convinced of his need for God to examine him:

Psalms 26:1-5
"A psalm of David. Declare me innocent, O LORD, for I have acted with integrity; I have trusted in the LORD without wavering. 2 Put me on trial, LORD, and cross-examine me. Test my motives and affections. 3 For I am constantly aware of your unfailing love, and I have lived according to your truth. 4 I do not spend time with liars or go along with hypocrites. 5 I hate the gatherings of those who do evil, and I refuse to join in with the wicked."

We are being given an opportunity to let the Holy Spirit do His work in us.

SOME GUIDELINES TO PILOT US IN TRANSITION

There are things we can do during this time of "reconstruction" by God.

1) PRAY for each other. Especially, your pastors. This isn't easy for them, either. It's a time when your leaders need your prayers and support.

1 Timothy 2:1-3 says,
"Therefore I exhort first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men, 2 for kings and all who are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and reverence. 3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior."

Hebrews 13:17 says,
"Obey those who rule over you, and be submissive, for they watch out for your souls, as those who must give account. Let them do so with joy and not with grief, for that would be unprofitable for you."

2) Another thing to do is to ENCOURAGE one another. Encouragement conquers fear and increases faith. Hope is birthed out of encouragement.

Hebrews 10:23-24
23 "Without wavering, let us hold tightly to the hope we say we have, for God can be trusted to keep his promise. 24 Think of ways to encourage one another to outbursts of love and good deeds." (NLT)

3) GATHER YOURSELVES TOGETHER for intense times of prayer. Fervent, effectual prayers of righteous men make much power available. When people pull together during a rebuilding time, a strong bond is formed.

Hebrews 10:25
"And let us not neglect our meeting together, as some people do, but encourage and warn each other, especially now that the day of his coming back again is drawing near."

NEW LEADERSHIP COMING FORTH

God is looking for strong warriors He can entrust much to; people who won't quit when it gets tough; leaders who will lead with His heart. Friends who won't criticize and fault-find, but will use life-words to build others up; those who will let Him form Himself in and will walk in His likeness. These leaders emerging from new construction will not quit when it gets hard. Their focus is clear and their determination is unmatched. A repentant walk is "normal" to them. There is no returning evil for evil and love governs their hearts.

These "warriors" are willing to master their weapons of warfare that are not carnal, but will destroy strongholds. A strong, yet gentle spirit will be evident as they lead the church into battle and possess the land for our Lord. Their ears are open to instruction and their direction is clear, to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with God (Micah 6:8). God is doing the construction to bring about His purposes. The finished product will be incredible. We are in a major construction season, and when it's done, God will have made a place for His dwelling. In US.

From Pentecost To Tabernacles

Clay Sikes

April 13th, 2004

As the remnant Body of Christ begins its movement from Pentecost, the second third, into The Feast of Tabernacles, the third, third, several phenomenal things are beginning to happen. First and foremost, our central purpose in God moves from getting our needs met, to living and operating our lives in complete obedience for His glory: our focus changes from US to HIM.

As we make this supernatural transition we begin to notice yet another spiritual phenomenon; as we live for His glory our needs begin to be miraculously met: THE GREATER ALWAYS INCLUDES THE LESSER. The greater (His glory) always includes the lesser (our needs being met). When our focus becomes Him and not ourselves, "things" come in overwhelming fashion (Matthew 6:33).

As we have discussed in the past, the true Church has moved through Passover and now is beginning the transition from Pentecost to Tabernacles. I will be the first to tell you that I have little natural understanding of what I am even saying, but I know its truth BY THE SPIRIT.

To understand the mechanics of living for His glory, from time-to-time I will post what I sense the Lord is saying, but test it by the Spirit! The evidence of these mechanics operating in us will be a sign that we have indeed moved into this extraordinary time of Tabernacles.

As an evidence of Tabernacles, the Lord is showing me that our willingness to crawl into the BOTTOM of the deepest ditch to help someone out is to touch the TOP of heaven. This is God's Kingdom Inverted Order. In the Kingdom, the bottom is often the top. How do I crawl into that deep ditch? Loving the unlovable, helping those who cannot and sometimes will not help themselves, doing for others what they will not do for me. To live in this manner is to build a storehouse in heaven.

Then I heard the Lord say:

"When you can do for others and expect nothing in return you will receive a heavenly reward. You then will be living your life for My Glory and not your own. It is then that your causes (troubles and needs) will shine before me like the noonday sun and evaporate before your very eyes. To the extent that you yield yourself to others (as I direct), to that extent will I show my hand in your life. Be blessed by being a blessing (to others). Start in your own family and work outward (from there). All true ministry will begin in your own home and family. Remember, the bottom of the ditch is the top of heaven!"

Fresh Breath

"The hand of the Lord came upon me and brought me out in the Spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the VALLEY; and it was full of bones." (Ezekiel 37:1)

The first thing we recognize is that Ezekiel was "BROUGHT OUT" in the Spirit. As Ezekiel moved into the VISION that the Lord gave him, he noticed a VALLEY full of bones. It is important to notice that before the vision continued, Ezekiel needed to be brought into a "valley experience" in his life.

"Then He caused me to pass by them all around, and behold, there were VERY MANY in the open valley; and indeed they were VERY DRY." (Ezekiel 37:2)

As Ezekiel was brought into the REALITY of the valley, he soon recognized the sheer multitude of the bones and death that surrounded him. Recognizing that the bones were "very dry" indicated that they had been in that condition for quite some time. What Ezekiel saw in the spirit was the tragic defeat of a great army. The annihilation was so devastating that no one was even left to bury the dead. In the Hebraic culture and mind-set, this was unheard of. Beside that, exposed bones were unclean to a Jew like Ezekiel. However, the Bible says that the Lord CAUSED him to pass "by them all around."

The prophetic application is a clarion call to the church to allow themselves to be "brought out" by the Lord. There is an element of familiarity, comfort and insulation within the culture and confines of the church walls. We have created a haven as well as chapels of détente in our battle against the forces of darkness. Détente was a political term used often in the sixties and seventies in the Cold War with the Soviet Union. Détente essentially means, "If you don't mess with me, then I won't mess with you." And this is how it is in the church in so many areas of life. There are far too many of us within the church that desire détente with Satan and his demons rather than being more than conquerors. We prefer to hide in our comfortable sanctuaries, rather than allowing the Lord to "bring us out" into the real world of death and dry bones.

In my own personal life, my problem has been desiring détente with God. I have many times hidden within the walls of my pride and defense mechanisms from past hurts rather than allowing the Lord to expose and deal with the deep-seated areas and issues of my life that blind me to the needs of others.

The Lord is speaking clearly to me concerning the "raising up" through "bringing low" a prophetic people whose heart of compassion (The burden of the Lord) matches their rhetoric and words. I don't have to look far to find a good example in my own life. I have continually prophesied of the need for prophets to express more concerning the love and mercy of God. However, it wasn't until recently that I recognized areas of "sharpness" in my communication with my children – especially in discipline. I prophesied mercy, but was mercy exhibited in my life?

The Lord was not going to let the vision continue until Ezekiel looked upon the entire field that was unclean, DEFEATED and abhorrent all around him. Ezekiel had to visit the "valley" in order to witness and face the carnage of man's real condition and the ultimate pain of eternal death so that he would have a "prophetic heart" to validate his prophetic voice.

The Lord is drawing us out of the comfort of plush carpet and padded pews with chandeliered ceilings to visit the valley of dry and dead bones. He is calling us to "pass all around" the valley of abortion, the disgust and bondage of child and adult pornography, starvation, child abuse, rejection, poverty, and divorce. I could go on and on within the depths of man's pain and depravity. Beloved, this is REALITY. Like Ezekiel, we need a fresh vision of the painful reality of this world that we have been called to be a light and a prophetic voice in. We need to be able to answer the question posed by the Lord to Ezekiel, "Son of man, can these bones live?" (Ezekiel 37:3)

The Lord posed this question, not because He needed an answer, but that we would see through His perspective. Is this not our calling as "seers?" Prophetic ministry is so much more than exposing all that is wrong or evil. It is also declaring the goodness and POSSIBILITIES of the kingdom of God manifesting on earth as it is in heaven.

We need to have the confidence and prophetic insight to respond to the Lord with a resounding YES. We cannot afford to let the barrage of media, information and entertainment make us CALLOUS and hardened to the world around us that we have been called to be a prophetic voice to. What we experience so much of the time is a bunch of prophets prophesying to a bunch of prophetic people rather than prophesying LIFE to the spirit of death that has gripped humanity.

The Lord is speaking to us today, "Prophesy to these bones, and say to them, O' dry bones, hear the Word of the Lord! Thus says the Lord God to these bones: 'Surely I will cause breath to enter into you, and you shall live. Then you shall know that I am the Lord." (Ezekiel 37:4-5)

My wife, Carole, prophesied at the beginning of this year that a release of anointing would penetrate our WORDS. "WORD POSSESSION" is a dynamic that is happening in the spirit realm with ever increasing intensity. The words that mankind speaks, whether good or evil, are being instantly possessed by the Spirit of God or the spirits of darkness. Not one word being spoken by man is falling to the ground and with that is coming an ACCELERATION of spiritual activity -- both good and evil.

"So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and SUDDENLY a rattling; and the bones came together, bone to bone. Indeed, as I looked, the sinews and the flesh came upon them, and the skin covered them over; but there was no BREATH in them." (Ezekiel 37:7-8)

It is a tremendous revelation to know the power of the spoken Word. The moment that we prophesy the true word and will of the Lord, things begin to SUDDENLY happen. One of our obstacles and elements of discouragement comes from our desire to see immediate results with our natural eyes. Ezekiel saw in the SPIRIT the body parts (representative of the church) joining fitly and connecting together. However, to the natural eye, nothing would have been witnessed at this point. When we prophesy, we must see and understand that a dynamic interchange of victory is taking place in the spirit realm. It is through FAITH that prophetic words begin to manifest in the natural.

Ezekiel witnessed a new body structure or wineskin that was giving shape to these previously dead and dry bones. The old skeletal structure and wineskin of the old body had to die to be resurrected to new life and order. I am beginning to see this in the spirit — the new order of servant leadership and the compassion of spiritual fatherhood and motherhood is replacing the old wineskin of the dry and dead traditions of man that have weathered in the valley for so long.

"Also He said to me, "Prophesy to the breath, prophesy, son of man, and say to the breath, 'Thus says the Lord God: 'Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live.'" (Ezekiel 37:9)

It will be the breath of God (Holy Spirit) that will give movement and purpose to this new structure and wineskin that is arising in the church. A BREATH of fresh air will permeate the church when men and women of God prophesy from the "four winds" (the four corners of the earth) to a church and world system that is dry or dead and in need of revival. Revival will spark when the prophet once again experiences the "burden of the Lord" for the unsaved and hurting. The "Burden of the Lord" (Intercession) is the conduit of a REVIVING of mankind for their need of a Savior and the reality of eternity. This is the prophetic mandate that the Lord has given us and our part to play in the Great Commission.

The Lord commanded Ezekiel to prophesy that the breath would breathe upon the slain. Today, the slain in this great army is the many people whose anointing, gifts and talents have been allowed to rot on the fields of spiritual control and jealousy. There is a need for a prophetic voice to arise and breathe life and encouragement to the multitude of dead anointings that have been left exposed and hurting because of insecure and controlling leadership. The only job description that I can find in the Bible for the apostle, prophet, evangelist, pastor and teacher is to "EQUIP" the saints for the work of ministry." (Ephesians 4:12) Simply put, our primary objective in ministry is to reproduce a spiritual generation with a greater anointing than our own and provide them a platform to exercise their purpose and destiny. We don't read of one miracle that John the Baptist performed and we read little of his achievements in life, but yet Jesus called him the greatest of all men. John was great in that he learned to decrease that others would increase.

"So I prophesied as He commanded me, and breath came into them, and they lived, and stood upon their feet, an exceedingly GREAT ARMY." (Ezekiel 37:10)

I am convinced that the Lord desires that we capture the moment at the beginning of this fall season and take a BREATH. The Feast of Tabernacles is an ordained time of the year that we look upon life with a new and fresh perspective. It is important that we allow God to take us to the valley so as not to forget the true condition of humanity. But it is also important that we enter into the joy of the possibilities that lie before us as a child of God. Apart from the love and mercy of God, mankind is damned to the endless cycle of rejection, pain, and death that he inflicts upon himself. Life is much too short to continue standing in silence along the sidelines of history. Father has called YOU to be a voice and a "breath" of fresh air to all of the dead hopes and dreams of others "as you pass by them all around." He has called you to be a history maker and a giver of life to an exceedingly great army that the Lord is commanding you to call forth.

"Surely I will cause breath to enter into you, and you shall live. Then you shall know that I am the Lord." (Ezekiel 37:5)

Freedom Is Coming

Marvel not at what takes place. I have given you insight into what I am doing. I have shared My heart with you regarding issues being addressed. I have put My Spirit within you and given you light, life, and liberty.

You have no idea of the extent to which I have brought reformation into the lives of your children. You see in part, but I tell you, you do not see the full picture of what I have accomplished on behalf of your loved ones. Shall I show you what I have done? Shall I open the veil and give you a glimpse of the marvelous things I have done?

You say you know Me, but you only know Me in part. You do not know that I have designed a plan whereby your children shall walk in harmony with Me. Oh, you have not seen the wonderful things I have done in the hearts of these. You only see the outerman. You do not see into the heart of man.

My arm is not so short that I cannot save. I am not limited by human understanding. You will stand in awe when you see the full extent of what I have accomplished in the hearts of your children. You will see that joy unspeakable belongs to them. You will see that I have saved the best wine for last, that the resurrection power of Christ is active in the lives of your youth. You will see that the work of the enemy that had plagued them for years is no long applicable. I have lifted the ban, broken the traditions of men from their lives, and set their feet upon the pathway that leads to life. They are free to follow Me into the way everlasting. This is the work I have been doing in the lives of your loved ones. So do not think that the work of My Spirit has been in vain. Do not look to the outward appearance, for you cannot accurately judge.

Now, for you, let Me instruct you in the things to come. Let Me take you into the depths of My spirit and reveal My heart to you. Let Me give you understanding and direct your thoughts. Let Me be the one to lead and guide. Just as I promised, I will take you to the nations. I will set your feet to music and parade you forward into the mandate to evangelize. Freedom is coming to your house, to your household. Freedom will take you out of the shadows and into the light. You will not remain hidden. You will not be kept silent. I will fill you with words of life and you shall speak them forth in the assembly.

I have been preparing you in the wilderness for what lies ahead. I have been causing you to line up with My will and purpose. I have mentored you and poured out My grace and mercy upon you. Even your physical body has been brought into submission to Me. And I will continue to strengthen you and pour out My favor upon you, and you shall emerge from the prison as Joseph did and be instituted into a position of leadership in the land. You ask how this will come about, how you could possibly be released into such freedom and liberty. I tell you, that I am setting many free in this day. You will not be alone. You will perfectly fit the place that I would position you in.

So, just as you cannot see what I have done in the hearts and lives of your youth, others cannot see what I have been accomplishing in your heart and life. But the day is coming when the prison doors shall be flung open wide and you shall be released into the full measure of My plan for your life. You will then see the result of all the years of training. You will then recognize the purpose for it.

The Old Order Has Passed Away And A New Order Is Taking Its Place

Increase is coming your way, increased incentive. I will not leave you idle. I will not leave you fruitless. This is the day when I shall open the doors into endeavors that will thrill your heart.

This is the beginning of a season of joy and gladness, of wholeness, of triumph in all you do. I will march you out and into the places of My choosing. Press forward in that which is revealed to you. Go forward and do not look back. Do not let the past dictate to you. What I am doing in the future is far greater than what I have done in the past. Old familiar patterns will be done away with and a fresh new understanding of the times will emerge.

Changes are coming that will affect the way you think and act. Changes will mark a new pathway of discovery. You cannot return to the old. This is a new day and all things will become fresh and new.

Rejoice, for the River of God is surely rolling. It will roll through the land with great power, and everything touched by it will come into fresh, new life. The old order has passed away and a new order is taking its place. In this new order, freedom reigns, freedom from abuse, freedom from misuse, freedom from the critical eye of others, freedom to run and dance with Me in fields of glory. Promote this new day. Call it forth, for it is on the horizon and coming into view.

Do Not Let The Way Things Look Fool You

Blessings untold are coming your way. I am opening doors at an unprecedented speed to perform My good will and purpose. Do not be side-tracked by those around you. Do not give in to their uncomely behavior, but press in to the prize of the high calling.

Nothing and no one is able to defame you. I have, indeed, made My way known to you and will continue to do so. You are not alone. I am by your side, and I will accompany you all the way through. I will put into your hands tools of the trade. I will equip you for movement out of the comfort zone and into the free flow of My Spirit going to the nations. I will perform My will and accomplish My purposes.

Take heart. Do not let the "way things look" fool you. I am in control and I am putting all things into proper order. All things will line up perfectly with My purposes.

Fruit Inspectors

Rex Burgher

Fruit Inspectors

This past week I received three calls from pastors who were fighting for their very lives as pastors. Because the Holy Spirit came in a special visitation and moved in there midst a few from their perspective congregations had taken it upon themselves to come against the move of the Holy Spirit and the pastor as well. When I say a few, I mean 1 to 2% of the church body. I have noticed a pattern in all of these individuals, for the most part none of them went to the meetings where the alleged excesses occurred and they never checked up on any of their facts. Unfortunately these individuals relied upon preconceived ideas concerning this current move of God and did not follow the biblical mandate that we all have concerning how to inspect fruit in individuals as well as moves of the Holy Spirit. This isn't anything new, it happened throughout the Bible and it is very important that we look at what Jesus had to say about it and the spirit that is behind it. Mark 3:23-30, So Jesus called them and spoke to them in parables: "How can Satan drive out Satan? If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. If a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand. And if Satan opposes himself and is divided, he cannot stand; his end has come. In fact, no one can enter a strong man's house and carry off his possessions unless he first ties up the strong man. Then he can rob his house. I tell you the truth, all the sins and blasphemies of men will be forgiven them. But whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will never be forgiven; he is guilty of an eternal sin." He said this because they were saying, "He has an evil spirit." Now you need to understand that in the text we find the Pharisees had just come to Jesus and accused him of driving out demons because they claim he "is possessed by Beelzebub" or Satan. Jesus then goes into this discussion in which he states that a kingdom cannot be divided, why would someone go and cast out the very thing it put in a person, it makes no sense. A kingdom divided in purpose cannot stand. Then he goes on to say that attributing the work of the Holy Spirit to the works of Satan has very dangerous eternal consequences. Therefore I would be very careful in our inspections of the fruit in the lives of individuals and corporate bodies. Do not attribute the work of the Holy Spirit to Satan and likewise do not attribute the work of Satan to the Holy Spirit. Attributing the things of the Holy Spirit to the works of Satan has never been a very healthy thing to do in God's eyes. In fact God gets really ticked at individuals or corporate bodies that call the things of the Holy Spirit the things of Satan. We are all called to be fruit inspectors. All around us people are doing things in the name of Jesus that fall somewhere between two extreme ends of the spectrum. Either what they are doing seems so way out there as to seem ludicrous or they are so well packaged that we do not question them. The truth of the matter is we always need to inspect (all) the fruit of those who are around us.

Drive-By Shootings!

Often when speaking on this subject I use the illustration of a California fruit inspector who got fired from his job for incompetence. It seems he would drive down the freeway well over the speed limit with the stereo blaring, the windows rolled up looking across the other lanes of traffic at the fruit orchards zipping by him. He would fail or pass an orchard by this method of inspection. It's a hit or miss method of inspecting, like a drive-by shooting you may or may not hit the mark but more often than not your going to hit some innocent by-standers. A good fruit inspector pulls off the freeway and drives into the orchard, turns off the engine and gets out of the car. Then going up to where the tree or vine is they proceed to climb up and carefully go out on a limb to inspect the fruit. For the choicest fruit is often found when you go out on a limb to find it. That is the only way I know how to inspect the fruit of any move of God or for that matter in any one individual who comes in the name of the Lord. To get involved in the revival situation and the lives of the people to such an extent that you look for the fruit it produces. We are mandated by our Lord to be fruit inspectors. In Luke 6:44 it says, "Each tree is recognized by its own fruit. People do not pick figs from thorn bushes, or grapes from briers." Also in Matthew 7:18, "A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, and a bad tree cannot bear good fruit." And in verse 20, "Thus, by their fruit you will recognize them." When I have picked fruit from a tree I have found that not all of the fruit is ripe at the same time. It seems to be in three different stages of development. If you wait too long some of the fruit will become overly ripe and may become bad, but if you begin to pick it to soon it will not have had a chance to ripen and taste bitter and be hard to swallow. You must use your gifts of discernment and wait for the fruit to reach its season of readiness or fruitfulness before you go and proceed in the harvest. Even then you will always find some of the fruit that is on the same tree that will be in one of the three stages of development. So a person needs to be wise in inspecting fruit looking at the overall condition of the fruit before coming to any conclusions. Not basing their decisions by the condition of a few overly mature nor a few immature samples. You have also to understand the weather conditions, fruit that is picked in dry conditions are not that juicy and neither is mature fruit of high quality if it just came through a storm. Often there are bruises and soft spots from the pelting of wind, rain and other storm related injuries. That is how we need to look at the fruit in the lives of those around us as well as churches during times of revival. Taking in the whole picture we need to recognize the season they are in, the overall condition of the fruit and whether or not they have just come through a rather difficult circumstance that has put stress on the fruit of their lives.

Often in a store the employees have learned to market their fruit rather well by misting it with water and placing all the good sides toward you for viewing. In the same manner it is really unfair to judge the fruit of the spirit in our lives when we are under the anointing of God's presence. We all look good when the anointing is on us, especially when we position ourselves to look really good in man's eyes. Sometimes however we do the craziest of things when we are in the midst of God's glory. Look at Peter on the mount of transfiguration, the presence of God was so intense that he started babbling on about building three shelters, one for Moses, one for Elijah and one for Jesus, Mark 9:2-12. What in the world was Peter thinking! What would these three individuals have need for three shelters anyway? Sometimes the anointing can be so intense that we say and do some really crazy things. So we cannot judge an event or a person just because he does something that seems out of the ordinary. In Peter's case it looked like he missed the whole thing entirely and made a fool of himself. Even later Jesus mentioned to Peter in Matt. 16:17-23 while he was under the anointing that only "by my Father in heaven" could that have been made known to him and then almost within the same breath Jesus looks at Peter and tells him, "Get behind me Satan!" Wow, praise and rebuke almost simultaneously. That must have made Peter's ego go for a spin. What I am trying to convey here is that the mandate we have to be fruit inspectors is an important responsibility. There are many variables that are involved with examining the lives not only of individuals but a move of the Holy Spirit. It would go well with us as we stand before God if we honestly look at a situation with the best of intentions rather than with the conclusion already formulated before all the inspecting has taken place. Woe to those who make rash decisions about an individual or a church as being in the throes of Satan when it is the Holy Spirit who is moving in the midst of the situation.

One of the most distressing and disheartening things I have seen is a judgment made by a person who was never at the meeting, nor have they taken the time to look at an individuals life long and hard enough before they come out with devastating conclusions that something is or isn't of God. I believe that God will hold them very much accountable for their actions. We must carefully examine the motives of our heart when we look at what is happening within a church or an individual's life. It is equally wrong to say something is of God when it isn't. Fruit inspectors have a responsibility to test and see if what is going on is of the Holy Spirit. If you have a problem with something go and ask a mature individual within your church to help you discern what is going on. But don't just rest there, go and read the books concerning past revivals to see how other Godly men and women handled these situations. Above all else pray and seek the Lord for Godly wisdom and in all you do surround yourself with love for the scriptures tells us in 1 Peter 4:8, Above all, love each other deeply, because love covers over a multitude of sins. In other words if you are wrong but you have the best of intentions then God will have greater patience and forgiveness to those who honestly are trying to do what is right, remember God knows the intent of the heart, I Cor. 4:5. Maybe that is what we need to do first, inspect the fruit of our own heart motives before we speak. Mark 12:30-37, "He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters. And so I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven. Anyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but anyone who speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either in this age or in the age to come. "Make a tree good and its fruit will be good, or make a tree bad and its fruit will be bad, for a tree is recognized by its fruit. You brood of vipers, how can you who are evil say anything good? For out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks. The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in him. But I tell you that men will have to give account on the day-of-judgment for every careless word they have spoken. For by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned." Before you go out on a limb to speak make sure you have inspected the fruit first or you may find yourself really 'out on a limb' with the owner of the vineyard.

From Shadows To Light

Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite,

We trust that you had a meaningful Passover Seder and fellowship.

One morning this week, while noticing the first rays of the morning sun in my bedroom, a scripture flashed across my mind, it was: "In Your light we see light" (Ps. 36:9).

One of the most troubling scriptures for Christians who are having their Hebraic roots exposed by the Spirit, is Paul's admonition to the Colossians: "So let no one judge you in food or in drink, or regarding a festival or a new moon or sabbaths, which are a shadow of things to come, but the body of Messiah" (Col 2:16-17). There are many who perceive these words to mean a renunciation of the Feasts and Sabbaths. A more careful reading, however, reveals that Paul is simply stating that these are shadows of things yet to come; in other words, these special days have a prophetic significance. But, now, as believers, we are actually stepping out of the shadows and are moving into the reality of the true meaning of these special days. "For it is YHVH who commanded light to shine out of darkness, who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Yeshua the Messiah" (2 Cor. 4:6). This is why Paul says that no one can be our judge in regards to these "shadows", but the body of Messiah, for we have His light (Spirit) which shines into these Torah scriptures eliminating the shifting shadows. Paul was not telling us to break the Father's commandments, but rather to keep them in the light of their true meaning.

We are now in the days of the Feast of Matzot (unleaven bread), which follow immediately after the Lord's Passover. Those of us who are believers and are honoring this Feast, should ask the Spirit to unveil to us the truth of the apostle John's words: "But if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Yeshua the Messiah His Son cleanses us from all sin" (1 John 1:7). Please note, it does not say from "some sin", but from "all sin"! Sin is the leaven that leavened our lump of life, but after the sacrifice of the Lamb and the shedding of His blood, celebrating the Feast of Unleavened Bread is quite clear and natural. In order to be freed from the contamination of the power of sin that can still work in our members, we must, by faith (which means to walk in the light), be identified to that sacrifice. Paul plainly states that, "if One died for all, then all died; and He died for all, that those who live should live no longer for themselves, but for Him who died for them and rose again. Therefore, from now on, we regard no one according to the flesh" (2 Cor. 5:14-16). "I have been crucified with Messiah; it is no longer I who live, but Messiah lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me" (Gal 2:20). "For you died, and your life is hidden with Messiah in God" (Col 3:3). That is why the day after the Lord's Passover (the 15th of Nissan or Aviv) is a "Shabbaton", that is, a Shabbat-like day, a celebration, because of the removal of the body of sin on the previous day.

This Passover season has been preempted by a movie called "The Passion of the Christ", which is still being discussed all over the world especially here in Israel - because historically the Jews have been blamed for killing the "Christian God". Many are afraid that it will cause a resurgence of anti-Semitism. The subject of the movie came up in a recent discussion in Jerusalem with some tourists. One of them shared that she had seen it three times, and that it had a very powerful impact on her and on others too. She said that she had never realized how brutally Yeshua had been treated, until she saw the movie. Perhaps to a dying world the true significance of this movie is the blood of the Passover Lamb of God. The blood of our Messiah has been degraded by religious tradition and ceremonies. It has become a fetish, even a mantra to devotees of cheap grace. I have listened to the prose and cons of this movie, but I pray that all those that watch it will take note of one thing, "the blood", and then go to their own hearts and ask the Almighty Creator God to reveal to them what it means.

Paul's passion was to present us blameless (without leaven) before our heavenly Father through the preaching of Messiah Yeshua, and Him crucified. "Therefore, if anyone is in Messiah, he is a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new. Now all things are of God, who has reconciled us to Himself through Yeshua the Messiah, and has given us the ministry of reconciliation, that is, that God was in Messiah reconciling the world to Himself, not imputing their trespasses to them, and has committed to us the word of reconciliation. Now then, we are ambassadors for Messiah, as though God were pleading through us: we implore you on Messiah's behalf, be reconciled to God" (2 Cor 5:17-20).

The above words reveal Paul's understanding of the revelation that was given to him on the road to Damascus. Later he put that faith into action, when he wrote: "For what I will to do, that I do not practice; but what I hate, that I do. If, then, I do what I will not to do, I agree with the law that it is good. But now, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells in me" (Rom 7:15-17). Paul was able to separate himself from sin because he knew the truth of the Passover and of the Feast of Unleavened bread. It was no longer a shadow, but a living reality in his very being.

If the body of Messiah is to judge these matters (Col 2:16-17), then we should no longer be in the shadows when celebrating these feast days and Shabbats, but truly be in the light as He is in the light, which means to walk in the Spirit for we "are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people, that we may proclaim the praises of Him who called us out of darkness into His marvelous light" (1 Pet 2:9). "For you were once darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness, righteousness, and truth)" (Eph 5:8-9). "You are all sons of light and sons of the day. We are not of the night nor of darkness" (1 Thes 5:5).

"For with You [YHVH] is the fountain of life; in Your light we see light" (Ps. 36:9).

Shabbat Shalom

Foundations Swept Clean

Bill Burns

September 19, 2004:
My people have come to the beginning of a new spiritual year. Foundations have been swept clean. Destruction has come so that even the revivals of old are no longer in place. Those past moves of My Spirit are but distant memories in the light of what I am doing now. The revival of this day is called the Kingdom of God. Let go of the past and allow Me to take you up to the heights, places of revelation where you are joined with Me in resurrection power. Allow the living water to remove old hurts and destruction and darkness. Come into the light of this new day with hope and joy. Seek Me for restoration. Come into a new level of expectation of My goodness and My blessings.

Marsha Burns
September 20, 2004:
I had a vision of a roaring fire in a fireplace. Then, there was nothing left but ash because the fuel had burned. Suddenly the vision of the hearth became an open door into the heavenlies. And, I heard the Lord say that the first vision represented the past season when the fires of purification burned the flesh, but now there is an open door that invites us to come up higher spiritually. We could not take this step until the flesh that hindered our progress was offered and consumed.

Fulfill the Call

Carla Rickard

March 22 2004
Galatians 6:2
Bear (endure, carry) one another's burdens and [Joseph Thayer, A Greek-English Lexicon.] troublesome moral faults, and in this way fulfill and observe perfectly the law of Christ (the Messiah) and complete [Marvin Vincent, Word Studies.] what is lacking [in your obedience to it].

Burdens: something difficult or unpleasant that you have to deal with or worry about:

Bear: take on as one's own the expenses or debts of another person

I hear the cry of the heart of those left to bear their burdens alone. I have heard many say, " Take it to the cross, give your burdens to the Lord", but have I not instructed each of you in your own physical territories and responsibilities to carry and endure the difficult and unpleasant things of your brethern? I have heard the cries of those who have said " where is my help? Where is the love of my family in Christ Jesus?" for they have been abandoned at the wells of their souls to mourn alone. Did I not go to the tomb of Lazarus and raise Him from the dead for the glory of my Father? Then why do you not gather around one another and lift up and edify those whose hearts have been broken with the death of a loved one? It is through my family that I have birthed on the earth that I bring comfort and joy to those who mourn.

Matthew 5:4
Blessed and enviably happy [with a [Hermann Cremer, Biblico-Theological Lexicon.] happiness produced by the experience of God's favor and especially conditioned by the revelation of His matchless grace] are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted![

Isaiah 61
[2]To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord [the year of His favor] [1] and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all who mourn,
This is the Word of your Lord! Be sensitive to those who have lost someone whom they have loved. Even I on the cross comforted my mother and my beloved disciple to bear one another up for I was going where they could not go. Rise up and be that light in the world ! Be that light in your own field! Have I not called you to do so? Be followers of Me and COMFORT THOSE WHO MOURN.

For The New Year

http://www.ourchurch.com/member/m/mannawords
My children you have come to the end of a new year. Fret not for the past, with all the hurts and failures and struggles, for behold I am doing a new thing in this year of 2004. You shall see a mighty display of My power and victory over your lives even as you yield to My work in you. However, some of you have carried baggage and undealt issues over into this new season. These things act as an anchor that weigh you down and only slow down what I am planning for you. I know the end from the beginning. Is it not then meet to cast all your cares unto Me, for I care for you?

Now is the time to arise in power and strength and to take hold of the new opportunities that I am presenting you. In this year I will fight your battles for you as I did for Jehoshaphat, as you yield to My voice. Know also that there will be battles that I will call you to fight against the evil one, but be not afraid, be of strong courage, for I shall be with you and I will guide your steps, for I am the LORD who trains your hands for war and your fingers for battle.

This year will call for more alertness physically and spiritually against all the wiles of the devil, but fear not, for as you lean upon Me, I will be your secret place as My servant David described in Psalm 91. I am also revealing My heart to many as I open them up to a ministry of intimacy with Me.

Behold I am coming soon. Prepare your hearts, be ready, and be obedient to receive all the blessings and bestowings of this new year.

Hearken To My Word
Musa Opiyo

January 3, 2003

Hearken to My Words as they bring you comfort, exhortation, edification and rebuke. My word is truth and is balanced, yet some of you, My people, have picked and chosen that which you want to hear instead of what you need to hear

Do you not know that many in times past and in these days perish for the lack of knowledge of My whole counsel ?

My Word brings life and is living.

It is a two edged sword that divides between soul and spirit.

My word shall not return void but shall accomplish that which it sent to do.

It was by the words of My mouth that the heavens and the earth were created. Hearken and take heed to what I shall speak to you this coming year, for My word shall be a lamp to your feet that lights your path.

Fleecing The Sheep

Clay Sikes

Jun 04, 2004
Dear List Members,
As always I ask that you judge the word. This warning has been rolling around in my spirit for several days, and as I spent time with the Lord this morning the following came in strength and power.

As most of you know, my prophetic leanings have been more toward writing and posting articles with prophetic insight, not direct prophetic words as what appears here.

I will close this intro with a word the Lord gave me several years ago, "A NEEDY man can chase money like a pagan (Matthew 6:32), just as a GREEDY man." God must always be our source. My point here is simple: Be careful not to get caught up in the hype of a so-called spiritual leader simply because you have a need. The deception here can operate at the highest level because it is "CALLED" God and appeals to our need.

Pray for discernment, the most needed gift in the Body of Christ today!

In Him,

Clay

Fleecing The Sheep

June 5th, 2004

Though my warnings have been given, my word has not been heeded. The fleecing of my sheep continues. My sheep have been fleeced for their resources of time, money, and energy, and yes, this continues even among the very elect. While leaders will be held accountable for these efforts, the sheep too play a part: Like lambs to the slaughter you follow leaders who appeal to your flesh – money, position, prestige and influence.

Awaken my people to the deadness of this activity, and to the lifelessness it produces. Do you sense my joy in your new cathedral on your soft seat? Do you sense my joy in your lofty position before men? Has the promise of wealth and prosperity brought new revelation and spiritual understanding? Woe to you who continue on this path, as you will soon sense a departure of my Spirit (joy)!

Call For Discussion: Fleecing The Sheep

Lauren
Jun 06, 2004

Dear Clay,

The newest word here truly spoke to my heart. I have painfully been involved in 'being fleeced' spiritually and emotionally in the church in the past...because of my own' heart' condition. My spirit grieves as I read this word.

I wonder...is there any way we as list members could have a connection, one to another...like a discussion forum on your website? I feel very isolated in my grieving for the church today, and it would be great to have someplace, in a body that understood, to share thoughts and ideas. Not a 'dump on the church' site however...the church doesn't need that. It needs prayer, and solutions....even if that solution is to part company with it.

Any thoughts on this?

Your Sister in Christ,

Lauren

Discussion: Fleecing The Sheep

Jun 07, 2004

Dear List Members,

Lauren's call for discussion has birthed just that; discussion with an anointed edge...Please feel free to comment (minister) as the Spirit leads.

As this first writer ask, "Who is the real Church?" One distinguishing characteristic (of the real Church) can be found in men who follow God as opposed to men who follow men. I welcome further comments on the subject of "Distinguishing Characteristics."

Clay

Many of us make references such as Lauren here, to this 'church' for whom we all grieve. Could it be that this renegade 'remnant' breed of which we have become a part, IS 'the church,' and that this 'church' for whom we grieve is not the 'church,' not brethren IN CHRIST at all, but lost souls (precious souls, but LOST nonetheless) as pitifully trapped in the paralyzing lies of the world system as any 'sinner' said to be 'in the world?'

iammybeloveds@earthlink.net

I have wept for the "church" and it's people. How far we have fallen from what the Lord had intended. I know Lauren's grief. But this will always be the result for those whose intention is to progress in the Lord as they will learn to suffer outside the camp as He did.

The church system is not the model of the tabernacle of David operating as the Book of Acts which the Lord gave the first apostles. However, the Lord does use the current structure to hew living stones (bring to maturity) for His new temple...Assembly (of new living temple) in near future.

Those of you who are within the fellowship of the Babylonian institutions, are washed in polluted waters and not the cleansing waters of My pure Word. Defiled you are and polluted with the ways of the flesh . . . vessels of dishonor. I say again to you, as I have previously said, now I say as with the voice as a trumpet - come out now and be ye washed in the pure waters of My Word.

If you do not obey Me and come into My chambers of sanctification and fellowship with My Spirit, the darkness of the coming day will take you as a bride not prepared for the receiving and joining with her groom.

You love your party and play with the defiled Babylonian institutions, but I say to you - choose ye this day which way you will go. Yea, choose this day!

Mercy and grace I will show to those that heed My call. Darkness and devastations to those that close their ears to My trumpet of warning, for in not many days, fear and fright shall be upon your faces.

Those that heed My trumpet warning and come out, I shall cover thee with My feathers and under My wings shalt thou trust. My truth shall be thy shield and buckler - a protection surrounding you. Now it is up to you to choose. . .

Dear Clay,

I have been 'out' for over a year and in that time I often asked the Lord if I was going crazy? Upon leaving others I once knew have sought me out and one of the first things from their mouth is.." Am I crazy? I think I'm loosing my mind!" The Spirit of the Lord has been showing the hungry something so different from what we were conditioned to believe that a common thread is bewilderment and grief. The deception is so sad because many of us will admit we learned so much at one time and are grateful, but then a twist was added to the Word for the itching ears and to maintain the lifestyle of the clergy.

I agree a forum is a good idea but in the meantime I am thankful that you allow discussion on your sight. Many a sheep are being trampled in the coldest kind of love and false gospels are wrapped in truths so it is easy to wonder if we are nuts. To all who have been called wolves for questioning doctrine, let me give you the Strong's meaning of that verse: Extortion by one who steps forward as light...Extortion refers to finances and goods. If you want further confirmation that you are NOT going crazy, just start reading Ezekiel 34.

More Discussion: Fleecing The Sheep

Lauren/Others
Jun 07, 2004

Dear List Members,

As you will read, we first hear from a thankful Lauren who now knows she is not alone in her past plight. One of the purposes of Lighthouse Prophecy is to provide Spiritual insight to the Body world wide. I think this type discussion lets our worldwide audience know that they are not alone in what they are feeling and experiencing.

When I first began to experience the pain of "the system," I thought perhaps something was wrong with me. It was not until I got out of its grip that I began to realize what was causing such spiritual discomfort in my life.

What is amazing to me is the REMNANT'S WORLD WIDE REVELATION of "the system" and its abuses. While we do not take aim at the people bound by "the system," we do take steps to identify it. "EXCEPT FOR THE GRACE OF GOD, THERE GO ME." - Clay.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Thank you all so much for your responses!! Wow! I opened up my email, and there you all were, offering encouragement. What a blessing! I feel as though I have found a tiny (maybe not so tiny!) family, in the midst of the huge, groaning 'church' conglomerate.

I agree with so many of your comments, and thank you. All of you have ministered to my spirit. As I have previously mentioned, I am a beginner in all of this...but am learning fast, due to the Lord's mercy and purpose for me.

Since I am a beginner, let me lay out a 'beginner's thoughts' in their early stages...I pray that these thoughts may bring back memories, or help you minister to others who are in this same stage.

1. The very structure of 'the church': a localized building in which 'strangers'...who are supposed to feel and act like 'brethren' to each other, meet and worship together, hear a word (most often pulled out of context from the Bible...with little to no background or historical knowledge behind it) which is basically meaningless to our real spiritual needs as a Body today.

2. This same group forms "do good" committees, and spends most of its time running around trying to fulfill myriad details in order to 'live up to someone else's expectation' of what its community's supposed needs are. (Now, granted, some of these committees are very Biblical...feeding the hungry, praying for the healing of the heart and body, and caring for the widows and orphans.. But the majority of them? Absolutely dead works!)

3. Then come the cliques, the 'who's who', the pastor's 'in crowd', the 'holier than thou's' (ouch! I've been there!), and the like. Guilt, emotional manipulation, and pressure to perform, reside in each group...and for what??? For what? Leading others to Jesus? To seek His face? To know and personally experience His Love?...I don't think so! Simply this...to follow someone else's plan for what THEY think the Lord's intention is for their particular community. Why are we following man? Because he's the pastor? Because he is 'connected' to a group that's "in the know"? Why?

I could go on. I know by reading your comments that most of you believe there is very deadly deception in the false church today that is having poisonous consequences. I don't see that yet. What I do see is a mockery of what our Lord intended: a simple, humble connection of believers...almost in a 'street based' ministry...gathering in homes, meeting in parks, whatever, and reading, studying the Word together. Bringing newcomers. Sharing, and giving comfort, through the Word, and asking and seeking the TANGIBLE presence of the living Holy Spirit. Not mega-churches, programs, movies and slide shows, tear-jerking presentations, and the asking of great sums of money. People who attend these, more often than not, go away absolutely UNCHANGED. They've 'done the church thing' for the week, and go back to their lives with no Godly impact whatsoever.

I just got a little insight here: one of the problems of the 'church' today is that individuals have placed 'going to church/all the church stuff' in the place of clearing all the junk away, and worshipping Him...getting to know Him...seeking Him. They feel if they've gone to church, sung a few worship songs, given their dollars and shaken a few hands, that they've done their 'duty' to God for the week, and that God is very pleased with them, and then return to their relatively Godless lives until the next Sunday.

My question for the hour: How can we return back to the simplicity(i.e. POWER) that Jesus intended for His Church, His Community?

How can someone like myself, who only knows the 'old church', find a small community of 'on fire' believers, who hate the hypocrisy of the old church, and seek Him, above all else? (I know this answer...rely on the guidance of the Holy Spirit!!)

Thank you for hearing out my thoughts here. Any ideas of how you all are finding or uncovering the REAL church where you live?

With gratitude for all of you,

YSIC,
Lauren

Dear Clay and all,
It has been almost 5 years since the Spirit brought our family out of the religious systems and unto Himself. It took us awhile to really understand (by revelation of the Spirit) that the system we left behind was NOT the church...and to realize...that as long as we continued participating in this system and its false teachings we were in rebellion to God and denying Him His rightful place in our lives.

Hear this: iammybeloveds is right in his/her response. Those still participating in the worlds systems of religion are no different from any other unbeliever. Different package, same product. Neither group has heard, received, or believed the Good News. How do I know this? Because I was one of these religious unbelievers up until the day He came and took me out of it. I thought I knew Him and was following Him in my religious ways, but I did not know Him, nor was I following Him. My allegiance was not to God, but to my 'self', and to other people, and to buildings and programs, etc...I did NOT know Him, I only knew about Him.

But God desires for all mankind to know Him and become one with Him, so He has come to destroy everything that keeps us from being reconciled unto Christ. Our religious systems and its ways just happen to be ONE of the many 'everythings' that has kept us from intimacy and unity with our Father. So, no longer grieve for its destruction, or the destruction of things to come, but rejoice, because God loves mankind so much that He will allow nothing to stand between us and Him any longer.

Yes, many sheep have been, and are still being fleeced. Abuse, manipulation, and control are growing increasingly more blatant and obvious within mans systems of religion. Why? Because every seed that has been scattered and taken root eventually comes to maturity and produces fruit that is harvested. What is becoming increasingly more evident to the whole world, even to those still within the system, is that the fruit being harvested from our tree of religion is rotten, and is poisoning all those who continue to eat of it. Is not this tree worthy of being uprooted and cast into the Fire of His burning? Yes. Therefore, no longer mourn its destruction, because its destruction is not the end, but the beginning of the reign of another Tree, one whose fruit will bring the restoration of all mankind to their God.

Blessings to all,
Lorraine

Dear Clay:

I cannot help but wonder why so many seemed shocked at the revelations. What has been incompatible with what the Lord has been revealing is this constant obsession at least within the charismatic evangelicalism in North America and in the UK and Australia and NZ and other parts of the English speaking world, with the "great end time harvest", which I do not believe to be biblical.

The prophets and Jesus in the New Covenant as well as the apostolic leaders NEVER said there would be a great end time harvest. They spoke of the remnant, and small amount of people who would be faithful. Jesus Himself spoke of the fields being white unto harvest, which simply means that there are many who are ripe for the Kingdom. His emphasis was that there were few labourers, and not on the harvest being great. He was addressing both lack of labourers and the potential of great harvest. Potential is just potential. Just as proclaiming the gospel allows people to hear (how will they hear without proclamation, see Romans 10, for faith comes by hearing) it does not mean they will respond to the message of life and embrace Christ and His cross and repent.

Jesus kept speaking in parables, so that those who received the knowledge of what He meant would be saved. The parables had to be revealed as truth by the Spirit. He even stated that if they understood, they might believe. So not everyone who hears understands, and only those who understand believe, and those who believe are saved. Unless the Spirit quickens life, opens the ears of the heart, and brings people from death to life in order to respond, then all we are doing is speaking powerless words. Just how many people who are herded in like animals to a stall, come in on a Sunday and truly hear the words of life and the words of Christ? How many? Most evangelicals I know all say they hardly hear the words of life, no substantive proclamation on sin or repentance or the cost of discipleship.

Perhaps the greatest issue for me was the words of Jesus when people proclaimed: Matt. 7: 21 "Not all people who sound religious are really godly. They may refer to me as 'Lord,' but they still won't enter the Kingdom of Heaven. The decisive issue is whether they obey my Father in heaven. 22 On judgment day many will tell me, 'Lord, Lord, we prophesied in your name and cast out demons in your name and performed many miracles in your name.' 23 But I will reply, 'I never knew you. Go away; the things you did were unauthorized. '24 "Anyone who listens to my teaching and obeys me is wise, like a person who builds a house on solid rock. 25 Though the rain comes in torrents and the floodwaters rise and the winds beat against that house, it won't collapse, because it is built on rock. 26 But anyone who hears my teaching and ignores it is foolish, like a person who builds a house on sand. 27 When the rains and floods come and the winds beat against that house, it will fall with a mighty crash." 28 After Jesus finished speaking, the crowds were amazed at his teaching, 29 for he taught as one who had real authority – quite unlike the teachers of religious law.

Jesus addressed people who were devout and who were following the traditions of man and their interpretations of the law. Is the current church system any different today? I don't think so. When people challenge the "leadership" (whatever that beastly thing is) they are ostracized and put in line and controlled, no different than at the time of Jesus.

Yesterday, the Lord impressed me with a prophetic insight of how the church system is like a galley ship, the slave ships that people will be familiar with like in movies like BEN HUR. The galleys are like the church system. Those in visible ministry are on the upper deck, and it doesn't matter who they are or what they do. They are the visible seen entities that have their role to play, like the ushers, the elders, the musicians, and the like including the pastor. On the deck of the galley are various officers, of rank and status who do their visible duties and give direction and order. Below decks are those who are slaves but even there, there are ranks. There are those who bang the drum so that everyone is in sync and follows the orders coming down from above. All the slaves sit in rows (sound and look familiar) and all syncopate together and do everything the same. No matter how old, or how big you are, you do the same thing. You row in timing with the others and you row only as fast as ordered. You don't see anything other than what your limited space offers you. Your view of the world is what you do. This is little different than the church system and it is corrupt and it is coming to an end.

As the Lord impressed me with this image, He revealed smaller faster ships, that had sails (no oars like the galleys) and these moved so fast in and out that the galleys could not manoever to get at them. As the small ships darted in their sails filled with wind (Spirit led), they cut across the oars and smashed them, leaving the galleys dead in the water. My own sense is that the Spirit is going to break the power behind the galleys. The power lies in the people below deck kept in bondage and kept away from their relational function and purpose. Their oars, that which other men forced upon them to make their ships move (advancing their own kingdoms) are going to be broken by the Spirit and the people will have nothing to row with. They will no longer fit in the galleys. They will have to abandon the galleys as they will founder and have no place to go. Galleys had limited sails, just enough to give the illusion of being wind driven (Spirit led), but the power of a galley was in the slave labour that rowed and gave it power (the reliance on the strength and the plans of men). Now people will know that the system is foundering and is going nowhere and people will know there is something better and greater.

I could say more, but I will stop here.
Bless you guys.
Sam

Dear Clay and Brethren,

I have been out of the church system for a few years now. What drove me out was - I felt lonely even amongst several hundred people and I became very, very hungry as the church had organized the Holy Spirit right out of all its activities and meetings. The church was run totally by man and the really sad part is there was no bonding between people. I had one lady tell me it took her over 5 years to fit in and find companionship among the other women/people.

As much as I crave meeting with others of the same ilk (and I do catch myself from time to lonely time thinking about attending a meeting there, then catch myself because ... why would anyone wish to be in a place devoid of the Spirit?), I would rather wait upon the Lord for this time and continue to grow in Him and give to others when the opportunity presents itself. Granted, I did get some great crumbs there when attending, but wished for the whole enchilada.

We should pray for the people there, and for the whole of the organized church system. Many of the people who sit there have really no idea that they are part of the problem of the powerless church. They are our brethren, they do need a wake up call. These people are so entrenched in the organized church system that only the Holy Spirit can reach them. After all, is that not how we all came to our "renegade" state?

I agree with iammybeloveds: those who are coming out of the organized church are the real church body, seeking all that God has for them, walking in it daily, giving to others - all for God's glory, not for some man on a pulpit. The state of the "church" today took root even before the last disciple died, when man turned to other men and began making Christ some sort of philosophical, intellectual ideal. Some humans love to get on the soap box and talk about that which they know much of while most love to sit and listen. It is only an intellecltual exercise. And that is how this present church system came to be. It takes a lot of time, effort and diligence to cultivate a real relationship with God and with each other. Most people would rather sit or at least, plan some fun ways (church meetings, gatherings etc) to keep God alive at least in there own minds and have fellowship among themselves. As I found out the hard way, when you personally need help, everyone is too busy to stop what they are doing and fill the need - unless it is for a specific church activity.

Let us continue to pray that the Light of the Truth penetrates the blackness of this thing known to most as the "church".

Dear Clay,

You are so right. It continues unabated, and I can only conclude that the sheep--the flock of God are so brainwashed that they "love it so". Like lambs to the slaughter they go along with it---dying to self while you yet live is too hard ----but you cannot tempt a dead person with position and power and money. I read somewhere that the blood takes care of sin but only the cross takes care of the sinner.

O, that we may embrace the cross!.
Bountiful blessings,
Ada

Dear Clay,

I was reading the responses on this discussion and thought I would throw in a few comments, the Lord willing.

The system, of what we as members of the body of Christ, is calling "the church" is inside four walls, run by man. Not that some of them are not seeking after the Lord for His guidance. If we are true members of the Body of Christ, we will be ruled by God. Under His counsel. The system has indeed become corrupt with many things that are not of God. We truly need to pray for the system to be broken. It is a place that breeds confusion, deception, jealousy, control, condemnation. (Jezebel spirit) The Lord says, Come out of her!! This is true!

We as members of the Body must understand there is only one head, Jesus Christ, and He is who we must know personally, in word and truth. If we don't have a personal relationship with Him and truly know Him, how will we be able to know His voice through the times that are now upon us and much more is soon coming?

Many people's spirits are grieving for what the world calls "the church" and so we should be. It is sick and in need of God. Just as our country. We truly need to be lifting up these things in prayer and come before the throne and lay it at the feet of our true intercessor, Jesus.

Get out, get on your face, and meet the Creator of Creation. I did. Peace is an awesome thing and learning to rest in God is even greater. God wants to inhabit us. Get in right standing with Him, he holds the destiny of our souls in His Hands. Be more concerned with what you can do for Him and not what He can do for you. I for one do not want him to say " Depart from me, I do not know you." Get in the closet and begin to reach out to Him. He will meet you right where you are.

Thanks Clay for letting me throw in my comments. Thank you Lord, for guiding me and giving me words to speak. Thank you Lord for being with me today. Bless Clay and bless all those who are commenting here in this discussion group.

Determined to stay in Him,
Warfare

As per the discussion...remember when everyone was hunting for cults in the 80s now it seems that its the system we are after.. lets keep our eyes on Him and seek His Kingdom...the Gospel is clear and simple. Yes there are hirelings, yes there are cults, false doctrines etc...who is the real "church" who is the real bride?? Jesus Himself is the ANSWER.

John 13:34 says A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another even as I loved you.(.HOW HAS HE LOVED US?) That you also love one another. BY THIS ALL MEN WILL KNOW THAT YOU ARE MY DISCIPLES, IF YOU HAVE LOVE FOR ONE ANOTHER. There's a huge difference between a disciple and a convert.. the "thing" desires converts, Jesus seeks disciples.

We already know this...now lets go on. We can build a "booth" here around this truth or we can go on and follow our Lord. TO me these discussions are just religious banter and can become a childish "sword fight", get out and love somebody...help someone who cannot help themselves. Yes they do these things...but what is that to thee...go on and follow Jesus. Only do what He is doing, and say what he is saying. Don't look back. IT's about RELATIONSHIP. With HIM and with each other...but you say.. They ..look what THEY.. ARE DOING...Saying ..etc. If God gave you eyes to see, and ears to hear ..Thank Him, then get your eyes and ears on HIM and away from "them." I appreciate those who sit as watchmen ...to warn the people of God. Hear them. Hear our brother Clay. But don't take his job upon yourselves and go on teaching anti system to everyone you see...just love them remain in the Vine.. and just love as He loves.

In Christ Jesus,
Jude

Hello Clay,

My most heart rendering pain is the people who sit in churches frustrated week after week wanting a ministry unrecognised by a pastor or leader, quite often the quiet ones, waiting to be seen as important as those who are up front already. This was me until I decided to go off to Bible college and do for myself what I needed to do, partly for recognition partly for myself. I have grown enormously through this but I note its appears we have to do it for ourselves to grow as the church has its own agenda and I wonder if those that want to grow are a threat to leadership who are already making it up front.

I still don't have any recognition in my church but that's fine; I am walking with God in my own way and that's what is important.

From my heart
Carolyn Galbraith

Clay,

some time ago I sent you an article about following THE SHEPHERD or following RAMS.

The organised human formations aren't the church and never had been. The true church is and was always the bloodwashed and Holy Spirit filled community of people seperated from this world. They never bowed under the ruling yoke of the "Nicolaites" mentioned in revelation. "Nicolaites" simply means: RULER OVER PEOPLE (often I wondered why the whole New Testament written in Greek was translated and just that word remained in greek - did someone fear the power of Jesus' criticism on the potential reader if the condemnation of man ruling over man is displayed freely?).

Yes, we should honor and love each other. Yes we should lay down our own lives for a brother and a sister. But never we should bow under men. Just read the undescribable pain Samuel suffered when Israel demanded a "visible" king - like all the other nations. God comforted Samuel with the words: They haven't rejected you, they have rejected me, but let it be. Israel wanted a king - and the majority of todays believers just want a "visible" leader. Like Israel wanted a god going before them, todays selfnamed, selflabled, selfordained "churches" choose themselves "teachers after their own desire".

Willingly streams of money are offered for the illusion of being the true church.

But never, never a true "Sheep of the Masters flock" will be blindfolded any longer. As soon as we receive the Holy Spirit we enter a "spiritual college" and the first lesson is to discern the Masters voice. Every believer will follow his master - and though nobody is pressed in a kind of human uniformity they are one. They need no exhortation to love one another; they won't do it because they "have to" - it's their greatest desire and joy flowing pure and true from the deepest of their renewed heart.

The only lesson to learn is... not to throw your pearls before the pigs. I know this is hard speech! But all your true love can only be appreciated by another sheep. The pigs will devour and won't hesitate to hurt your true heart.

The true church existed from the beginning, but whenever believers formed an institution this institution became a part of the harlot - drinking the blood of the saints.

There is an eternal enmity between the work of the flesh - and the seed of the spirit. You can't mix them.

Every true heart just simply needs to accept this spiritual law. We can't have fellowship with the "works of the flesh." We are placed here on this earth to expose the works of darkness and the works of the flesh. So nobody needs to be surprised, it has to be so - God ordained it to be so!

We are called to overcome - I know that is often fear, tears loneliness and pain - but we will never be satisfied with less. Compromise is death. In revelation we read, these are those who follow the lamb where ever it goes, this is our destination this is our aim - to follow our master alone. Could be that this following Him will have a period of loneliness but every fellowship on human basis will always do harm to our spiritual man and hinder our growth, because it is written:

Cursed is the one who trusts in man, who depends on flesh for his strength and whose heart turns away from the LORD. Jer. 17,5

Only a fellowship that's headed by our master will be a blessing - nothing else will work.

I tried to condense my thoughts as much as possible, but actually there's a lot more to say.
Greetings and blessings
Markus

Discerning The Spirit Of Ishmael
Clay Sikes

May 30, 2004
A fleshly presumption birthed Ishmael - what seemed good and right overruled waiting upon God. What was birthed in the process was a spiritual force that remains alive today - a wild donkey who is against everyone, and who lives in hostility towards his brothers. Ishmael's unprovoked hostility toward Isaac is a matter of scriptural record, yet his spirit remains in discernable form today.

Genesis 16:11 'The angel of the Lord also said to her: "You are now with child and you will have a son. You shall name him Ishmael, for the Lord has heard of your misery. 12) He will be a wild donkey of a man; HIS HAND WILL BE AGAINST EVERYONE AND EVERYONE'S HAND AGAINST HIM, AND HE WILL LIVE IN HOSTILITY TOWARD HIS BROTHERS."

Genesis 21:8) 'The child grew and was weaned, and on the day Isaac was weaned Abraham held a great feast. 9) But Sarah saw that the son whom Hagar the Egyptian had borne to Abraham was mocking, 10) and she said to Abraham, "Get rid of the slave woman and her son, for that slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with my son Isaac." 11) The matter distressed Abraham greatly because it concerned his son. 12) But God said to him, "Do not be distressed about the boy and your maidservant. Listen to whatever Sarah tells you, because it is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned."

As we have often espoused in our writings, the spirit of discernment is playing an ever-increasing role in the Body of Christ. To some extent, it remains one of the most undeveloped gifts of the Spirit, yet vastly is becoming one of the most necessary of all the gifts in the "perilous times" in which we now live (2 Timothy). "Even the very elect" are subject to deception without proper discernment. The spirit of Ishmael lives, but do we discern it properly? Why should we you may ask? And the simple answer is Ishmael and Isaac can no longer live in the same house: Live yes, but no longer in the same house.

Ishmael will never be satisfied with Isaac no matter what Isaac may ever do. Let me say this again for special emphasis; Isaac will never be able to satisfy Ishmael. Ishmael's hatred was seeded many years ago. The events of 9/11 were justified by the spirit of Ishmael based simply upon America's continued presence in Saudi Arabia; a presence originally and ironically predicated upon the protection of Saudi Arabia.

Increasingly, discernment will be needed in the coming world events. Increasingly, Christians must be able to recognize the spiritual forces that are aligned in these future events to know how to pray, how to align, and how to understand God's divine purposes.

The seed from spirit of Ishmael is now growing and revealing itself in unprecedented ways. It attacks the people of this world – both Christian and non-Christian alike. It is non-discriminatory in terms of age, sex, race, religion, or national origin and highly religious. The subtlety of this spirit is hidden behind the forces of justification and accusation, and deeply rooted in jealousy. It attacks without provocation. Its audacious manner is both loud and vile. It is most visible during events which give rise to man's opinion, particularly in assessing good and evil, and it is during these times that the spirit gains its greatest acceptance. Ishmael is a betrayer, though those affected by this spirit do not see themselves as such.

Just as flesh cannot mix with spirit, so too is the incompatibility of the spirit of Ishmael with the true Spirit of God. Ishmael is washed with pride and rooted in jealousy, and as such, must maintain a front. It is through this front that acts are justified and accusations and judgments made. It rules and expresses itself with a selfish motive and concludes by the same reason. It will destroy anything in its path that is viewed as an obstacle and will stoop to any means to justify its end. In some arenas this spirit is very powerful, fueled by greed, obtaining for its subjects enormous gains in power, possessions, and influence. In others it operates less powerfully, yet with the equal purpose of ultimate destruction, the common denominator being a lack of propensity for truth. With those consumed with the spirit of Ishmael, truth is masked by motive and personal agenda. EVEN THE MOST EVIDENT TRUTH CANNOT AND WILL NOT BE ACKNOWLEDGED.

As stated, the spirit of Ishmael is rooted in jealousy and jealousy is rooted in insecurity and fear. IT WILL HATE ANYTHING THAT IS PERCEIVES TO BE STRONGER THAN ITSELF, hence Ishmael's unprovoked hatred of Isaac and Cain's unprovoked hatred of Abel.

Unfortunately there is no compromise or turning the other cheek to this spirit – it must be dealt with in a forceful way: many naïve Christians think otherwise! Abraham was the first to understand this when he put Ishmael out of the house, as per God's instruction. How difficult it must have been on his flesh to be forced to put his first-born son out, but Abraham understood that his emotional flesh could not endure with the Spiritual promised son, Isaac.

Everyday we face these two sons, Ishmael and Isaac, in ourselves, in others, in organizations and entities, and in the events of the day. It is here that we must discern properly, for Ishmael often presents a most convincing case, playing on man's tendency to eat from The Tree Of The Knowledge Of Good And Evil.

The Church of Germany bought Hitler's agenda hook, line, and sinker based upon his desire to create jobs, do away with pornography and lawlessness, and create a sense of nationalistic pride. How many of today's Christians would blissfully quote New Testament scripture and advocate turning the other cheek had they lived in Hitler's day? Historians conclude that had Hitler been dealt with in the 1930s, had the Church of Germany perhaps taken a stand, millions of people could have potentially been spared, but the pacifistic rage of the age in both Europe, England, and America kept us doormat until the 1940s. Do we learn from our past mistakes? Does the Church learn from its past mistakes and naivety?

As God continues to orchestrate events upon this earth it will be incumbent upon us all to seek discernment from the Holy Spirit as to His purpose or lack thereof in these events, and be mindful not to judge from The Tree Of The Knowledge Of Good And Evil. We must also be careful not to oppose people, churches, moves of God, or world events based upon our own jealousies, judgments, and personal agendas to include our opinions; to engage such is to remove us from the Tree of Life.

Vision And Word For The Vineyard Movement
Kathryn Walters (kathiewalters@mindspring.com)

March 11TH 2004
While I was in California last weekend at a church in Frazier Park, the Lord gave me a vision for the Vineyard.

But to back up a little - years ago I had a dream and the Lord told me to pray for the Vineyard Ministry. We had ministered in some of the Vineyard churches and met various Pastors but we had never met John Wimber, founder of the Vineyard movement.

In the dream I saw two angels who were dressed like workmen. They walked up to house and in my Spirit I knew the house belonged to John Wimber. The two "workmen" knocked at the door and John Wimber opened it. I remember that he was wearing an apron. The Angels said to him, "We have come to help you clean the house." John Wimber welcomed them into the house. I prayed for the Vineyard for about a month.

This last Sunday 7th March I had a vision of these same two angels, who again were dressed like workmen. They were carrying buckets of paint. The paint was bright colors i.e. Blue, Purple, Red, Green, Bright White. They were walking up to a large house, like a mansion, bigger than the house I saw before. The house was old looking but structurally sound. It was brown which spoke of being out-dated.

Then the Lord began to give me this word. The paint is to bring back the "brightness" and liveliness to the Vineyard. To bring it up to date if you will and give the Vineyard a strong voice again in the US Christian community.

The Lord has told me several times that the Prophetic Word is released to MOVE YOU FORWARD. The "proceeding word" as Jesus spoke in Matthew 4:4 it to cause you to proceed. And to infuse life.

I felt the Holy Spirit confirmed the colors when on Sunday after church in Frazier Park I got covered in gold dust of all the same colors as the paint. Although I didn't put two and two together until a couple of days later. I felt the Lord say this:

"You must embrace the prophetic word and again minister and raise up the prophetic ministries so that you move forward. You cannot stay where you are you, you must fulfill the calling and destiny on the ministry. You cannot move into the plan and government of God without the Prophetic. The prophetic ministry is not perfected, nor is the Evangelism and Pastoral and Teaching ministry perfected. You cannot have a second generation anointing- they must have their own impartation and anointing and experience."

(In several Vineyard churches I have been in, there have been young people who, when they have experienced the manifestations of the Presence of the Lord, told me they had never smelled the perfumes of the Lord before, or felt His soft rain, etc. I was amazed, as far as I can remember the Vineyard movement was built on the reality and manifest presence of God through John Wimber).

Later on I had a vision of a beautiful women. She was in a ballroom which was full of light. She was dancing with the most wonderful Prince. Her dress was colored - in Blue, Purple, Red, Bright White, and Green. In her hair was some Orange ribbon. Then the Lord said to me:

"Come, it is not to works I have called you but to intimacy and life and the brightness of My Face and the lightness of My glory. You have grown and matured yet I desire and love the childlikeness of you enjoying My Presence. I love the release of your laughter and your joy in Me."

Then an Angel sang to me the first line of an old song, "Where do you go to my lovely, when you're alone in your bed? What are the thoughts that surround you? I want to look inside your head." The Lord said (to the Vineyard Ministry) "What are you thinking? You must line up your thoughts with my thoughts." For this you need the prophetic voice. There are prophets in the ministry that are silent. The Holy Spirit impressed that on me.

The Supernatural realm of the Spirit, the Angels, the heavenly visitations are meant to be a normal part of the life of every Spirit Filled Christian.

There is s Spirit of Poverty over the Vineyard. Poverty comes in many forms and affects many areas. The Spirit Life, Signs and Wonders, revelation and health and finances. An Angel came to my house and brought me honey, (represents the spirit of revelation, Jonathon ate the honey and his eyes were enlightened -1 Sam 14:26-30) and I was taken up into the spirit realm and saw the move of God and prophetic word coming to various nations). Well I smelled honey when the Lord was talking to me about the Vineyard Ministry.

So He is sending the Angels of God to bring honey (revelation) to the Vineyard and the two main Angels over the Vineyard Ministry are the workman who are coming to restore the life and vitality and prophetic word. Signs and Wonders, Manifestations of the Presence of the Lord.

As John Wimber allowed them in to clean house years ago will you allow them again to do what they have come to do?

"Where do you go to My lovely? What are you thinking?" "As you line up your thoughts and ways with Me then there will be a release of My Power on the ministry."

Faith Teaching Vs Surrender Message
Clay Sikes

Apr 11, 2004
Dear List Members, Lighthouse Prophecy

The true Body-Of-Christ is in transition - moving from Pentecost to Tabernacles. In Pentecost we are 'need' and 'deliverance' minded; in Tabernacles, we live for His glory, not ours (our life is not our own).

There is coming a great manifestation of the Sons of God as truth begins to emerge from false doctrine...Clay.

Faith Teaching Vs Surrender Message
Clay Sikes

clay@coastalnow.net www.lighthouseprophecy.com

Crises will produce spiritual reality and revelation relative to the depth of our real faith: Said differently, crisis will reveal what we really believe. Many in the body of Christ are coming face-to-face with realities that only crisis can produce. Circumstances do not make the man, but often do reveal him to himself. Several years ago I was fortunate enough to face one crisis after another for quite a long period of time - these trials eventually led me to much truth.

My circumstances were so dire that I had to stay on my knees constantly in search of truth to simply survive. There are some lessons that man can only learn in the lion's den and I was amongst an appearingly hungry bunch. From these experiences, I gleaned that all real learning is precipitated out of necessity. I realized that in order for my circumstances to change, something in me would have to change.

What I came face-to-face with during these trials, some of which I still endure, was the depth of truth in my life from many years of Word of Faith teachings. To my dismay, the chaos I faced revealed that what I once held as truth could no longer be accepted as such. What I learned caused me to face the fact that I had to unlearn much of what I had spent fifteen years learning.

The new message I heard was "surrender it all to me, let it go, rest in and trust me no matter how bad things look or feel. Trust that I am doing something in your life. This wilderness experience is necessary as preparation for your call. Quit fighting and kicking against the goads. Stop looking for devils behind every thing that doesn't go to your liking." What a contrast to WOF teachings that told me of my entitlements, my great authority, and my rights as a child of God.

In contrasting the "Word Of Faith" movement of yesterday to the "Surrender" messages of today, I found that to the degree I strived in my own strength to attain even that which God had appointed for me, to that degree my authority was weakened. The harder I worked, the more I commanded the devil to cease his operation against me, the more I appropriated scripture and placed demands upon God the worse my situation seemed to get. Rather than operating by spiritual discernment, I simply followed the WOF formula manual. I sought pastoral counsel but my then poor pastor had no real word because my situation did everything but line up with the WOF teachings that we were all so ensconced in.

I was saved in January of 1983, and like many in the body of Christ, I cut my teeth on Word Of Faith teaching. Much of the earlier WOF teachings are the firm foundation of the word upon which I stand today, but as with other great outpourings of God that truly started with God, time allowed man to ebb the flow of truth with perverted truth and human interpretation. As the eighties gave way to the nineties, it seemed that much of the WOF teaching began to give man more and more say in how and what God would do for him in a given situation – bind the devil when anything unpleasant or bad is happening, give money to get money, find a scripture that applies to your situation and stand on it until God does it, name it and claim it, etc., Man replaced God as the focal point in the equation, almost as if man could order God. The concept of man directing God and demanding things of God filled the airways of radio and TV. Teaching tapes abounded from ministries named for men, whose great exploits for God were taught as a combination of THEIR faith and God's ability.

It was during this phase of the WOF movement that formulas became very popular. Man envisioned formulas replaced spending time with and hearing God for our particular situation. While it cannot be argued that man certainly has a part to play in what God does in his or her life, the over statement of this fact seemed to change the emphasis from the sovereignty of God to the studious ability, perseverance, and faith of man. The complete and total emphasis on reading the bible seemed to replace spending time with God, going into the throne room for a word from God, and the spiritual vitality of a one-on-one relationship with God. In simple truth, reading replaced hearing; specifically, reading and appropriating scripture replaced hearing God and developing our faith from having heard God for ourselves. It is vitally important to understand here that I am not saying that reading the bible isn't important, or that God cannot speak to us through our bible reading. Reading the bible is of great importance, but it mustn't replace worshiping the Lord, spending time with Him and allowing Him to speak specifically to us. "His sheep hear His voice..."

The WOF emphasis has been on what God can do for man instead of what man can do for God. Ministers, it seems, have focused more on their ministry and ministering to men, rather than ministering to God through their ministry. Worship has been replaced with a form of entertainment.

Much of the WOF today is taught in a natural carnal way; appealing to the natural mind with a primary motive of being blessed. TV evangelist have us shout slogans like "Its my time to get my stuff from my God! It's the year of jubilee, your blessing is right around the corner providing you keep giving, and do not leave Jerusalem (our church or ministry)." Carnal ministers appeal to a carnal congregation, but many spiritually minded saints are tiring of this outer court ministry, and consequently, leaving the church in a global mass exodus in search of the true church.

Nobody enjoys being blessed anymore than I do; God's blessing is rich and has no sorrow attached to it, but when the primary motive of the message is "blessing for man," the message has become perverted and distorted. Our primary motive in this earth is bring glory to God, and yes, if we live our life with that motive, God will indeed bless us because in true Kingdom Dynamics, the greater always includes the lesser: If we live and function to glorify God by hearing and obeying, the blessing of God will run us down and overtake us. WOF teaches that God's blessing is predominately money and health, but what we are seeing is that true blessing encompasses much more, the greatest of which is a true relationship with God. WOF often equates spirituality with material possession.

In living for His glory, the emphasis is not me; the emphasis is HIM. Much is still taught today in WOF circles about "knowing who we are in Christ;" our rights, our privileges, authority, etc., all important revelations, but contrastingly, an even greater revelation is knowing "who He is in us," the all powerful triune God, who knows no limits to love, power and authority. It is the 'Him' in us that does the work, not the 'us' in Him. We are His body, made and designed to perform His work; He is not our body, who comes along for the ride to help us obtain what we want! God is not about improving us; He is about removing us!

No, the "surrender" message is not as popular as "prosperity" teaching – one requires surrendering our rights, the other teaches gaining our rights. "Surrender" requires that you give all, the "WOF" promises that you will receive much. Surrender teaches "have your way with me Lord," WOF teaches "this is what I want Lord." The contrasts in these two teachings are stark.

"Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it" (Matthew 10:39).

Will it take a crisis to understand SURRENDER? It doesn't have to.

Transition
Clay Sikes

November 1st, 2003

Recently, I purchased a new dirt bike to evaluate timber and land values on present and future real estate projects that I am being blessed with. I had not been on a dirt bike in 20 plus years, yet knew that physically and skillfully I could still ride since I had raced them some years back. As I took to the woods for the first time, I had not ridden more than an hour, and down I went as I attempted to cross a log. While laying on the ground, pinned underneath the bike, I thought "No big deal, I'm not hurt, but I am pinned in such an awkward position that it will be difficult to get out from underneath the weight." In relative short order, I began to simultaneously feel a burning sensation on my left leg and literally the smell of burning flesh (my flesh).

The motorcycle I had previously been unable to move, I now moved with ease as the extraordinary power that only adrenalin can produce flooded my body. In a matter of seconds the bike was moved and I was standing, looking at hole the size of my fist burned through my favorite pair of jeans. I dreaded to even look at the burn because I knew it was serious. Denial set in and I continued to ride the rest of the day, though in a great deal of pain. The following week, I fought infection, sleepless nights, and more pain, ultimately going to the Doctor for treatment to stop the infection.

As I prayed about this misadventure, God began to speak to me about the "new place" and the ultimate requirement of burning flesh. In the new place we are being taken, we will have to corral our exuberance. Excitement and exuberance can be just as intoxicating as discouragement and fear, and even more deadly because of the unrecognizable detour they are capable of producing. The "new place" will present us with some unavoidable opportunities figuratively to allow (our) flesh to burn. The key however, is to recognize the importance of this burning flesh as part of our growth into the "new thing," and not a setback into the 'old.'

The Body of Christ is now in the beginning stages of making an enormous transition. All within the Body now find themselves in one of three places: 1) Those who are stuck in the rut of sameness and not moving anywhere, 2) those who are beginning to see the "new place" and know where they are headed, and 3) still others who have begun to make the journey toward the "new place." This transition is corporate in nature, yet flows to us as individuals as our personal appointments are now being seen with greater degrees of clarity.

All transition in the Kingdom will involve change, both internal and external - new thoughts, new ideas, new direction, resulting in greater levels of God's power. Make no mistake about it; these are unctioned by the Spirit of God. Once the internal is fixed and our faith strong, then comes the physical change of expanding boundaries - new people, new geography, new territory, new opportunity, new power.

What an exciting time this is, yet what a dangerous time this is. As we begin to walk into new levels of power in the Church, corporately and individually, we will begin to notice that new areas of flesh are being exposed in us, much of which MUST touch the fire. Said differently, the transition now taking place in the Body of Christ will require that we walk in a new place in God's appointed power. This "new place" will expose new areas of flesh in each of us, and this revelation that will provide us with an opportunity to deal with the exposed flesh on our terms, or as an alternative, allow God will deal with it on His.

To deepen this understanding, I think it important to know that some flesh, even that which we recognize, can only be dealt with by the fire of God. We have all heard the phrase "Higher levels, bigger devils," and now that the entire Body is moving toward its appointed position, all hell has been unleashed to stop it. As always, God has the upper hand against Satan, and even though he is a force to be dealt with, our real enemy in this advance will be OUR VERY OWN FLESH.

What most of us face as we first experience God's blessing is PRIDE and SELF WILL. It seems almost paradoxical that the God of all blessing would bless us, and thus allow us to become prideful and full of ourselves! But is God ALLOWING our pride and self will or simply EXPOSING it? I strongly maintain that God will bring about changing circumstances in our lives to expose what is in us. God is not nearly so concerned with getting us into heaven as He is getting heaven into us!

It is up to us individually and collectively to deal with the rottenness that dwells in our very own being. As I have often said, "Circumstances do not make the man, they simply reveal him to himself.

There are many within the Body, mostly in the Word of Faith movement, that perceive anything, other than man's perceived "perfect blessing" as not being from God; often citing a lack of faith or disobedience as the cause of some malady, sickness or financial failure. To those who believe this way, I offer no argument as to the incident I suffered, but to those who have ears to hear, let me shout it from the housetops, AS YOU TRANSITION INTO THE GREATER CALLING AND DESTINY OF GOD, YOU WILL RECOGNIZE FLESH THAT YOU DID NOT KNOW EXISTED. DEAL WITH IT! It is part of our growth and total submission to our loving heavenly Father.

For Those Who Long

Luz Cintron

luzcintron@ameritech.net

At times it has felt like you have been wandering upon every hill, across every valley. Disjointed, seeking your place and seeking more of Him. At times these two become like one longing that is never satisfied. Time after time the door is closed and forgiveness is exercised. But the pain remains like markings of a passage through time, scars of a difficult journey. When you utter in your spirit, “When shall I see Your face?”

You would tend to think that all the mess would become straitened out, only if His face would shine on us. But would it? At times this truth opens its wings like a butterfly of pain, “It wouldn't make a difference. O yes, the rapture of the moment would catapult us to His heights and then we would fall again in our positions.”

It is not an intellectual matter as much as a spiritual one. A matter of growth and understanding, stature and favor with God and man. Too much of man's favor.

He has become the Eye of the Needle door for you, and all that was not needful have been squeezed off of you. Then you are amazed to see how little you really needed. That is not what you have been taught. But those who taught them, were the ones looking to bind you to their “ministries".

You are sick of what you see , and you are tired of seeing it. There is no strength left, not even to get indignation in the heart. Love then is perfected. Your sin has become ever before you a riddle of hope. It bounces you back into His ever open arms.

"When, when?" you still wonder.

See, look up to Me, lean on Me and I will give you rest. Draw near and be sustained. Do not waste your time in what does not edify or strengthen. Do not spend yourself like those who have no power or direction. I AM in you and for you until the end of time to bring you safely. Discern and eat from my provision. For I am the living manna brought down from heaven for you. I am the word that performs the purpose for which it has been sent. Nothing of all that is was done without me and all that is I brought it forth. Like the water causes the field to yield fruit to yield bread to the eater and seed to the sower so is with Me. I have come down to bring forth my Father's purpose and I know just how to do it.

Do not fear, little flock. It has been the good pleasure of my Father to give you the kingdom. And if given then receive. Do not fear those who ride the donkey of pride, in their own deception they are caught. And what will be said of Me? Am I able to rescue the prey from the tyrant? But I have done it and will perform it still. Trust as your father in the faith Abraham, did trust. I am the author and the finisher of your faith, yield to Me as he did yield. Stand still and see the deliverance I will perform for you.

Seek while I am still near. Eat from the best of my table set before you without price. Trust me.

Your servant in His love; for the marriage of the Lamb is come,

Behold I Am at the door
Luz Cintron

I finished this today, but when I started to write this, was back in winter. It was morning the doorbell rang while it was still dark. It was 5:14 Then I heard inside me; "Behold I am at the door!"

Allow me now to rise up after you allow me to be one with your desire Oh that your hand would move my heart of stone from where I stand beholding you, a prisoner of hope.

Don't knock on doors, my king but place your hand in me dripping in me your myrrh awake me through the night that I may watch with you as you watch for mankind.

I slept but my heart yearned your name resounded clear though spoken under breath awoke my heart to fear the goodness of your heart surrendered for me complacency stood far while you pursued me near.

Such love never has been and faithfulness as yours never seen by mankind.
In you we have seen God the Father of our souls long suffering and love incarnate where you stand.

Oh that you would abide where all of our sorrows hide that you would come inside!
That your would open swift the latch that closed the door as painful as maybe
You that all pains have bore.

Listen to me, my love
I drank my vinegar
my feet now stand in filth and naked through the night
I search for you and long to find you were you stand and came losing it all rejected by my kind.

Listen to me, if now your heart compassion finds, to this that once refused to follow through the night.
Of all that I once had,
remains nothing in here
my heart within me faints despair assaulted me.

Still I stood to behold
the beauty of your face, a glimpse would prove my love,
its worth all I forsake.
"Who is God but my Lord?
Who is love but His heart?
Who is my all in all except His tender smile?

Come in, and take it all not much remains with me but all that is, is you,
even in lack or fear...

Will I be risen up to look upon my heart?
Only You know, my Lord only you love like that.
All that remains in me your waterfalls of life posses in longing streams that bids me wait to rise.

I may be needy, naked and feeble but... I know That faithfulness is with you enough to become hope.
And that this hope is sure extended on the cross to embrace all my weakness to engulf me with love.

Sustain me now I plead you with the breath of your mouth or I die because nothing can sustain me now.

My Beloved is ruddy,
my beloved is handsome,
my beloved is rugged,
through his sufferings, ransom.
He was given to rescue

this one sentenced to death in exchange for my love
he bore sin and bore pain.

My beloved is lowly my beloved is tranquil my beloved is meekness nailed to bleed his love gladly.

My beloved is gentle
my beloved stands firm my beloved's face is set like a stone hard flint.

My beloved is tender my beloved is mighty and relentless and ruthless, unwaveringly faithful and unshakably highly.

My beloved gentle like a dove in the morning whose wings have been bathed in the dew of his longings.

That is why when He calls me all my soul rise to meet him in the midst of my misery and surrounded by weakness.

Financial Understanding For The Remnant Body (Part Two)

Clay Sikes

October 22nd, 2004

God is moving His body to financial increase during this hour. I further believe that God is forming a "glorious Church without spot or wrinkle;" a Church in which the material needs of the people are met (John 10:10). Material lack, as with sickness, spiritual deficiency, etc., is at odds with the words "without spot or wrinkle." While some will determine this word to be about money; the truth is it is about obedience and stepping into destiny – material blessing simply being a by-product.

Some will never accept that God desires to materially bless His people. To some extent, I understand how this conclusion has been arrived at, especially in context with the abuses of the 'Prosperity Message' so often taught on Christian TV and many churches. With that said, I believe this to be a word for those who have ears to hear it. We will first attack some "traditions" that are keeping many of God's anointed and appointed from attaining their destiny.

God is unveiling His financial plan for His people in these end times. Much has been revealed about heart condition, and our being DEAD TO MONEY in order to see a material release in our lives. "God is looking for a few dead men!" In Part One of "Financial Understanding For The Remnant Body" we examined the difference between 'entitlement' and 'expectation,' seeing how the subtle affairs of the heart restrain the hand of God. As our hearts meld toward the plan of God, with little or no thought for ourselves, we begin to sense an empowerment as the eye of faith begins to peer into the realm of the miraculous. Galatians 4:1-7 speaks to the revelation of the maturation required to walk in our divine inheritance upon the earth. There is a "time set by the Father."

When maturation has occurred, God will direct us to a position from which His blessing can flow. The placement or positioning, and the spiritual sensitivity to get there, is the crux of this word.

Many are being prompted to 'the position of beginning,' the place of God's origin that will launch exponential growth. Some are being called to jobs; some to business and business opportunities, but wrestle with the idea that these urges are from God. Some in full time ministry are being called 'out.' Some church leaders are being shown ways to earn income away from church. Some who have worked 9 to 5 jobs are being given ideas for self-employment, and still other Christian businessmen are being shown ways to create extraordinary wealth (Deuteronomy 8:18).

It is important from the outset to mention, "God will not lead a man to financial success, if that success would take him to hell." Abundance will come in proportion to man's ability to handle it. If mammon is a factor, God directed growth will not happen! Again, understanding Galatians 4:1-7 is a strong testament to this statement.

Some erroneously think that the "love of money" lies only with the rich. Awaken to the fact that the "love of money" is not unique to rich, poor, saved, or unsaved. A 'needy' man can chase money just like a 'greedy man;' a saved man just like an unsaved one! The bible, in admonishing us not to do this, doesn't distinguish between the two (Matthew 6:32). Chasing money will impede the hand of God in the area of provision – When we start, God stops! When we stop, God starts! When we simply 'ALLOW GOD' in the area of finances, 'HE WILL!' Rest and obedience are keys to entering into this Kingdom method of receiving (Isaiah 30:15). "Rest" in this context is not necessarily the absence of activity, but rather the complete absence of activity outside the boundaries of the leading of the Holy Spirit.

Many Christians look down their religious noses at those who have been materially blessed, smugly thinking they posses some super spiritual superiority in their poverty. BE CAREFUL WITH THIS JUDGMENT; IT CAN STOP GOD'S INTENDED FAVOR IN YOUR LIFE!

In review, two factors must be initiated to govern the flow of God's financial increase – heart condition (dead to money) and physical position (the physical place of God's appointment - Acts 17:26). While being dead to money is fairly well understood by the Body of Christ, the physical positioning can test our traditional thoughts.

Many understand scripture that states "the traditions of men" block God's ability to speak to us, yet remain bound by the high wall of their own self-imposed mental barriers. Much of this plagues the remnant Body, which God so desires to bring into material blessing. As an example, and I think a good one, some who have escaped the Babylonian system fail to discern that 'the system' from which they seek deliverance is not simply a church building or organized religion. While these are certainly limbs from the tree, it is not the root of the problem. The root is our own preconceived mindsets or traditions. Often our traditions will bind us to our comfort zones as to potential places of ministry or provision. And of an even greater detriment, are the acts sometimes ordered by God to position us for a blessing (2 Kings 5). Naaman is a great example of this!

The ultimate form of Babylon is ME doing my own thing apart from the leading of the Holy Spirit. What keeps even the Holy Spirit from being able to minister to me IS MY INTERPRETATION OF THE WAY THINGS SHOULD BE IN MY LIFE. My hard-core resistance to anything outside of my comfort zone is my greatest enemy to moving into the higher realm of God's provision.

Of course, all we talk about here is predicated upon us spending quality time with God. We must get in the know to get in the flow, and that will only be accomplished by spending time with God.

In ministry, many have left the one-man-show, only to establish it again in their living rooms in cell groups and home church. They have simply traded one form of religion for another. Another lie, which is a holdover from the old 'system,' is that "full time" ministers do not work, but will be provided for by the Body of Christ. It is time to awakened to this lie and stop placing your financial burden on others. The apostle Paul worked at times and so should most of the Body of Christ (Acts 18:1-3). There are obvious exceptions, and this admonishment is not to those individuals.

In business, we must also be careful to avoid the one-man-show; the "me thing." It is important to note that much of God's objective in business is more about people than money. Partnering in business ventures has been somewhat foreign to me, but seems to be the crux of what God is doing now in my life. What I see is a trade off of sorts in which those bringing money are SPIRITUALLY blessed, and those bringing spiritual understanding are MATERIALLY blessed. The combination has Kingdom dynamics in which the sum of the parts is greater than the whole. I am not advocating this because it happened to me, but do think it is worth a look!

It is important to note, "Blessing" will be accompanied by "Purpose." Again, do not let your religious mind tie this "purpose" to something "churchy." It can be to reinvest, bless your children, pay your debts, buy a new house, fund an orphanage in Haiti, or any other purpose under the sun (SON) that God shows you to do.

This will step on some toes, but some of us have become lazy. Our sense of 'entitlement' has us sitting around doing as little as possible. It is time to get to work, doing what the Father has provided for us to do. As Arthur Burt has said for years, "WHERE THE APPOINTMENT IS THE PROVISION IS." Until we break free of the old mindset (traditions), the walls of containment will keep us materially impoverished. Every vision requires provision. 'Hard work' is an alien thought to many Christians, yet scripture says something different.

"Work hard….As slaves of Christ, do the will of God with all your heart. Work with enthusiasm, as though you were working for the Lord rather than for people" (Ephesians 6:6,7).

"Whatever you do, do well" (Ecclesiastes 9:10).

"Never be lazy in your work, but serve the Lord enthusiastically" (Romans 12:11).

"Lazy people are soon poor; hard workers get rich" (Proverbs 10:4).

" Hard work means prosperity; only fools idle away their time" (Proverbs 12:11).

Many in "full time ministry" are short on work ethic, yet long on antagonizing the Body for more money. This is wrong! Still others, who have left the 'church system,' stay at home to pray, read their bibles, write, and other super spiritual activities. Some take donations from their small cell groups, or are supported by their families. Please awaken to this lie – you will not fulfill your call in this languishing state. Recognize that though you have left the system, the system remains in you; the same system that says "Full time ministers do not work!" Please test this word before you attack it!

With several of man's stoutest traditions now "REVEALED," we are free to initiate the essence of this teaching – God's spiritual appointment to a specific physical positioning. Physical positioning is that place of beginning. For me, it was God's assignment to help someone else out of debt, while at the time, barely able to feed my family. As is the case with Kingdom dynamics, what you have the greatest need of will often present itself (first) IN AN OPPORTUNITY TO SOW. Said differently, specific need requires specific seed. This physical positioning can be deeds, places, people, and even opportunities to mention a few. Bottom line, its about obedience.

As an observation, not necessarily "thus says the Lord," it appears that a place of false positioning will always precede the true place of God's appointment. This false position will present itself when our needs in a particular area seem to be greatest. This false position will greatly appeal to our flesh, and is instigated by the spirit of anti-Christ. If we fall for it, and I did, we will see pure motives separate from impure 'in us' through our mistake. The cost for this miscue can be costly in terms of money and time. As I say often, tongue in cheek, "Ask me how I know?"

I personally believe that most physical positioning begins with connections to people. As the circumstances of life (ministry, business, or otherwise) place us in the path of others, we need to be spiritually sensitive to what God may be saying in making the connection. Obviously, everyone we come in contact with is not a divine connection, but sensitivity to this aspect of our spiritual life will allow us to discern those who are. Again, here is where our religiosity must come into check: Some who we think ARE, AREN'T; and some who we think AREN'T, ARE.

Several years ago I felt I heard the Lord say, "The Army of God is now beginning to make strategy for VICTORY; the primary focus of this strategy involves unifying the Body and joining the parts that are suppose to be JOINED. We must work to properly discern and join the Body properly... This is not a joining for the sake of joining, but rather a fitting of the parts that are CALLED to be joined." Victory, destiny, and empowerment are in the CONNECTIONS; first to Him, then to those appointed by Him. These appointments will reveal God's purpose.

As these spiritual connections take place, the inevitable result will be testimony (Revelation 12:11). This testimony will be sufficiency and even abundance to the point of provision being available for vision.

Flag Vision

Gale Miller

December 28, 2003
I was almost asleep, around 12:45 PM, when I saw a vision. The United States Flag, bright/shining and clear hanging over and almost touching a pool of troubled black, black water. The water was rolling and spouting like the ocean. The flag glowed as if lit from within. Such a contrast against the dark waters below it.

Now I am going to seek out the meaning.:

Daniel 2:3 "I have had a dream that troubles me and I want to know what it means."

Daniel 4:5 I saw a vision/dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me.

Daniel 7:15 I Daniel was grieved in my spirit within my body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

Ezekiel 32: 2 Son o man take up a lamentation for Pharoah king of Egypt, and say to him: "You are like a young lion among the nations. And you are like a monster in the seas. Bursting forth in your rivers, Troubling the waters with your feet, and fouling their rivers. Thus says the Lord God: I will therefore spread My net over you with a company of many people. And they will draw you up in My net

Isaiah 59:19 So they shall fear the name of the Lord from the west, and His glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him.

Psalms 46 God is our refuge and strength. A very present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear, even though the earth be removed. And though the mountains be carried into the sea; though its waters roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with its swelling. Selah.

Proverbs 25:26 A righteous man who falters before the wicked is like a murky spring and a polluted (ruined) well.

Isaiah 57: 20 But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

Leviticus 26:44-46 But I will for their sakes, remember the covenant of their ancestors, whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen, that I might be their God: I am the Lord.

> Meaning/Interpretation: America, the enemy has sought to steal kill and destroy, but I the Lord have raised a standard against him. The U. S. flag is raised above the darkness. The enemy is not able to drag it down. I the Lord have done this for the sake of My name and the covenant of your forefathers ancestors made with me. My light/presence is still shining in America. Because there are still those that are standing in the gap for their land. The prayer of a righteous man availeth much. James 5:16 Do not be afraid. But call on the name of the Lord.

Prophesy Over the Dry Bones Until They Come to Life"

This week we will address a couple of basic principles on how we can make disciples of ethnic groups, and teach them to observe all that the Lord commanded. I will use the African ethnic group in what we address here, mostly because they are the ethnic group that I have a heart for, and have therefore studied the most. Even so, these principles could relate to any people.

Removing Stereotypes and Looking Through God's Eyes

From the time I was a child, I have heard blacks stereotyped by such statements as "they don't like to work," or "their men are all deadbeats and do not know how to be fathers." In my experience, some of the hardest workers, as well as some of the greatest fathers I have ever known were African-American. However, African-Americans do have a reputation for not wanting to work, and it is a fact that the majority of black children in America are raised without their father in the home. Even so, God has especially gifted those of African descent with a devotion to work, and to be some of the best fathers. Why do so many African-Americans seem to be experiencing what is in fact the opposite of their callings?

It is for the same reason that every ethnic group in this fallen world is doing the same, and the devil has effectively blinded them. Let's look at some of the ways that he has done this.

The Injustices of Slavery and The Healing of Cultural Wounds

First, what did slavery do to the work ethic? Now you may think your boss is bad, but how would you like to work with the threat of a whip over you all day? Then think about what it would be like to not get paid for your work, while being given the most menial sustenance to enable you to keep working. On top of that, you would have no rights because you are not considered a person, but property, just like cattle.

We may think that since slavery has been abolished for more than a century, then this should not be a problem with the descendants of slaves. But history proves over and over that without God intervening, cultural values, cultural wounds, and strongholds, can take many generations to change, and sometimes never do. After suffering the injustices of slavery, for any African-American to want to work at all is a marvel. The fact is, many from this ethnic background are so remarkably industrious, that as a group, these great people are doing much better than one might expect in this matter.

There have only been two people groups in history who were enslaved because of their race--the black race, and the Jewish race. The Jewish people are known for their industrious and hard work ethics all over the world. They are a people who seem to be able to excel in almost any situation. Because of this, they have been a great blessing to every place they have settled. They have had several thousand years to get over the sufferings that they endured as slaves. Given the same length of time, it seems apparent that the black descendants of slaves will likewise rise to the top and excel in almost any situation.

Some would point to the tribes in Africa and say that they did not advance very far, while the Europeans did. But, it has been proven that climate had much do with this. I submit that if Europeans had lived in the climate and other conditions of Africa, they would have done no better, and may have done much worse. Not only did the temperatures have an effect on their productivity, but because they had to fight so hard every day just to survive, it would have been difficult to give the time or energy needed for inventions and modern development.

Why Has the Devil Assaulted This Nation's Families?

Now, to the issue of the family and fathers. It was a well-known, and often published strategy of the slave owners to keep the slave families broken up so their allegiance would only be to their master. Fathers were rarely allowed to stay with their families, and were often sold after siring a number of children so that they could not bond. Think about what it would be like to live in a situation when any day your father, mother, brothers, sisters, or children, could be sold and you would never see them again, or even know where they went. After slavery was abolished, few mothers knew how to relate to the fathers of their children. Few fathers knew how to relate to just one family because they were often used as "breeders" and had children in several families. Sound familiar?

Even though I have a tendency to be a conservative politically, simply because I do not think the government will likely run needed social programs well, or without unacceptable waste and inefficiency, I have always been for Affirmative Action for the reasons listed above. Because of the depth of destruction done to African-American families, extra help is needed to heal the wounds and restore this great people. I do not think the government will do this very well, and the church could do it better, but the fact is, with but few exceptions, the church is not doing anything. Having the government do something is better than nothing.

From a Christian perspective, why has the devil had such an assault against this people that continues to this day? It seems he is especially devoted to destroying the emerging generation of black children. Why? Because of their destiny.

Have you not also wondered when a little white girl is kidnapped and killed, why it will run on the national news incessantly? Sadly, this happens almost daily to black kids throughout the country, and it almost never makes the news. Of course, we should be concerned about the little white children, but should we be so much less concerned about the minority children to which this is happening much more frequently?

A Great Calling to Teach The World About Freedom and Family

In spite of the terrible assault on the black family, have you not noticed the incredible bond among black people? They all call each other "brother" and "sister." They may fight hard among themselves, but they will stand together to defend one of their own like few other people on the earth. Some of the great leaders of the church in the last days are going to come from the African community, in every nation where they are found. Those who were the most oppressed are going to teach the world about freedom. Those who have had their families so destroyed are going to teach the world about family.

We are also going to see a restoration of fatherhood among those of African descent, which will be an example of this high calling to all people. As one friend of mine said, being a father is the highest calling because it is the one office that we share with "the Father."

Prophesy Over The Dry Bones Until They Come to Life

Let us not continue to see or judge any ethnic group by their present characteristics, but try to see them prophetically as they are called to be. Possibly the most valuable prophetic gift that we can have in these times is what came upon Ezekiel when he was shown the valley of dry bones. Like him, we must not see dry bones as just dry bones, but as what they are called to be. Like him, we must pray for words of life to prophesy over those dry bones until they become what they are called to be.

This is our calling in the last days. Even though, as the Lord said, "nation will rise against nation," (Matthew 24:7), He also said that His church would be a "house of prayer for all nations" (Mark 11:17). In His church, all nations will be redeemed and restored so that their gifts and callings will be manifest, laying a foundation for the coming of the kingdom of God. This is why it is so crucial that Christians not judge others "after the flesh" or externals, but rather by the Spirit, seeing who they are called to be, not just who they are now.

A New Breed
Rick Joyner

One of the most tragic statements in the Bible is Philippians 2:19-21:

> But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you shortly, so that I also may be encouraged when I learn of your condition.
> For I have no one else of kindred spirit who will genuinely be concerned for your welfare.
> For they all seek after their own interests, not those of Christ Jesus.

Paul spent his life sacrificing his own interests, and even risking his life repeatedly for the sake of the gospel. After all those years, he only had one associate, Timothy, who was not in ministry for his own interests, but was sincerely seeking the interests of the Lord. How would the ministry of today measure up to this?

I have become convinced that, overall, the leadership of the church in our times is probably the greatest since the first century. We do have many failures, which receive most of the publicity. However, there are many today that have likewise sacrificed their own, selfish interests their entire lives to serve the interests of Christ and His people. For those we should be very thankful. Even so, the basic fabric and nature of modern ministry has more in common with a profession or a business, than a calling. That is about to change.

As the church has grown further from the cross over time, the more selfish and deceived it has become. We can find great souls in each generation who did behold the cross, and took up their crosses daily, doing all things for the sake of the gospel. These are the great and continuing voices from history which still speak. These are the ones who heeded the Lord's exhortation in Matthew 16:24-25: "If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me. "For whoever wishes to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake shall find it.

The Lord began speaking to some of us twenty years ago, saying, "the cross will be popular again." He also said that when this happens, a new breed of leadership, a new breed of Christians, and a radically new church would arise. We have now come to that time. There is going to arise within the church a renewal movement which truly deserves the name. It is going to be so radical and so powerful, that it is going to make all things new.

The present emerging generation has been called the most selfish yet. Selfishness and arrogance have become increasingly powerful strongholds within it. Even so, where sin increases, grace will increase even more (see Romans 5:20). The emerging generation will produce the most selfless and self-sacrificing Christians seen since the first century. This is going to result in a release of spiritual power and authority such as has not been seen since the first century. True apostles are going to walk the earth again, and where they walk, true apostolic churches will arise. This new breed of Christians will be the most fearless people on earth because they will have already died to this world, and it is impossible for the dead to fear. They will walk in unprecedented faith because they will have learned the secret of not looking at themselves and who they are, but at the Lord and who He is. They will not live by faith in their own abilities, but by faith in His strength. They will walk in unprecedented power because they will have learned the secret: the cross "is the power of God" (I Corinthians 1:18).

The Passion

As I wrote in a Special Report on Mel Gibson's, The Passion of the Christ, which was posted on our website on January 14, 2004, the reason why this film is one of the most controversial of our times is because it is one of the most anointed and powerful films produced in our times. http://www.injesus.com/Groups/ViewMessage.cfm?MessageId=AA0088WK&UCD=8hm It is the most accurate, honest portrayal of the crucifixion ever screened. However, as powerful as it is, it still likely falls short of depicting the kind of torture the Lord actually went through.

The Lord did not just die for us-He submitted Himself to the most cruel torture that human minds could conceive. Evil vented its rage on Him with all of the power it could muster on that day. He took it for all for us. There will never be a more powerful demonstration of the love and character of God than was demonstrated in the last twelve hours of the Lord's life on this earth as a man. This is why His highest title in heaven, and the one the Scripture implies that He will be called forever, is "the Lamb."

Even though this movie is deeply touching to almost everyone who sees it, there is probably only a very small percentage who really understand the message. However, if even one percent is changed by it and devote themselves to a life of the cross, it will be enough to change Christianity as we know it. And, Christianity as we know it desperately needs changing.

If just one percent of Christians begin to live the true Christian life, which is a life of self-sacrifice, not self-fulfillment, then they will turn the world upside down again with the power of their witness. There is no greater message, and no greater power than the cross. The cross will be preached again, and it will be lived again by the most powerful church yet to have walked the earth. The power of the end time church will exceed that of the first century church just as the Lord prophetically foretold that the glory revealed in the latter house would be greater than that which was revealed in the former (see Haggai 2:9). The Lord really has saved His best wine for last, and it is now being prepared.

I am thankful that The Passion is breaking so many attendance records. The true message of the cross is likewise going to draw the multitudes like no other message the church has brought forth. The message of self-sacrifice is going to quickly eclipse the message of selfishness, just as the sun overpowers the moon when it rises. This is preparation for the gospel of the kingdom to be preached in the entire world. The message of the cross is not just the message of redemption and salvation. The cross is the doorway to the kingdom, and the last message to be preached before the end of this age is the gospel of the kingdom, not the gospel of salvation.

The gospel of our redemption, the gift of our salvation, and eternal life that was purchased for us at such a price, is so glorious and wonderful that it is understandable so many Christians are seemingly unable to go beyond this great truth to see the kingdom. But we must. It is the gospel of the kingdom that must be preached in all the earth before the end can come (see Matthew 24:14).

The gospel of the kingdom is about more than redemption and restoration. The message of redemption and restoration are the foundations of the kingdom, but these are still focused more on man than on the Lord. The gospel of the kingdom is about Who He is and His authority. He is coming back to rule. The gospel that is about to go forth is not going to be: "Come to Jesus and He will bless you and fix you," but it will be "Bow the knee! The King is coming!" This is not to imply that when we come to Him He will not bless us or fix us, but we are not receiving the true blessing or fixing until we see His lordship.

Even so, the cross is the foundation of the kingdom, and the foundation of the ministries that will preach it. A generation of Christian leaders is going to arise who will not try to build their ministries, but rather every day put everything they have at the foot of the cross. They will live holding nothing back. These will live as not having anything, but possessing all things. In all things they will seek to do His will. They will become an irresistible force transforming the church, which will then begin to transform the world.

The true church by its very nature is a force for transformation. It is the salt that makes every one thirsty. It is the light that exposes all darkness. We will see such a church begin to arise. It will prepare the world for the age to come. The prayer that the Son of God gave us to pray, for His kingdom to come, and His will to be done on earth as it is in heaven, will be answered (see Matthew 6:10). The kingdom is coming. The messengers of the kingdom will soon be heard.

The Message

The message of the kingdom is the message of the King-who He is, and what He is going to do. His will is going to be done on earth just as it is in heaven. The message of His kingdom will be preached by those who live in the kingdom now, and who are submitted to His authority, living every day with the simple devotion to do His will. His passion has been the passion of the greatest souls to have ever walked this earth in any age. But at the end, there will be a church which lives by this passion like no others have. The age that began at the cross is also going to end at the cross. It will be the power of the cross that will build the bridge to the age to come so that mankind can cross over.

The most pure Christianity and the greatest Christians are found the closer they live to the cross. The further the church has moved in time and in its message from the cross, the less spiritual power it has had, and the more it has begun to rely on earthly power to build its influence. The more sanitized and politically correct that men have tried to make the message of the cross, the less true spiritual power the church has had. This avoidance of the cross has caused the church to resort to political and even military power, to compensate for the lack of real, spiritual power that can only come from the cross. This inevitably opened the door for some of the most un-Christlike things to be done in His name, by those with the most un-Christlike character.

This is what the apostles and prophets to the early church foresaw, and prophesied clearly in the New Testament. They saw the spirit of the antichrist actually taking its seat in "the temple of God," which is the church, and displaying itself as being God (see II Thessalonians 2:4). Any honest student of history cannot help but to see that this has in fact happened, and that a spirit, which is fundamentally contrary to the Spirit of Christ has dominated the church through much of the church age. Though this antichrist spirit has been displaced from some of the church to a degree, much of it continues its influence even in our own time. This, too, will soon be exposed.

I Corinthians 1:18 says, "For the word of the cross is to those who are perishing foolishness, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God." Because the cross is the power of God, when the church embraces the cross it can be trusted with the power. As Paul also said in I Corinthians 4:20, "For the kingdom of God does not consist in words, but in power." For the church to preach the gospel of the kingdom at the end as we have been called to do, we must have power. If we want to experience the power of God in our daily lives, we must take up the cross daily. Great power is coming to Christians and to the church who embrace the cross. This will be a striking contrast to the spirit that has dominated much of the church for most of the church age.

The Opposition

Even the philosopher Aristotle understood that if a truly righteous man ever walked the earth, he would be persecuted, rejected, and ultimately impaled, which was the Greek equivalent of the crucifixion. In this way, he accurately prophesied of the coming of Christ and the cross. He did not do this as much by revelation, but by simply understanding the true nature of men, and why such a Righteous One would be persecuted by them.

The opposition to the movie, The Passion, was from the same source that persecuted the Lord Himself. I am not talking about just the opposition from the Jewish community. What happened to Jesus would have happened in any nation on the earth that He would have come to, just as Aristotle understood. What was manifested in the power that had seized control of the Jewish nation at the time of Jesus has also been manifested in almost every nation, and even more devastatingly, in the church itself. We must understand this. It will rise in opposition to every truly righteous person and every true message. It is the demonic religious spirit.

This spirit seeks to bring forth a religion of mostly human origin, fueled by human pride and self-seeking, which is exactly contrary to the way of the cross. This same spirit is found as much in the church today as it ever was in Judaism. This spirit rose up in the church to persecute the Jews. So, for nearly a thousand years the Jewish people were under the greatest threat of annihilation from those who claimed to be Christians, but were in fact the most un-Christlike people on earth at the time.

The accusations that The Passion would release another wave of anti-Semitism are completely unfounded. In fact, the opposite is true. Those who are anti-Semitic might use it that way, but they will use anything that way. It was probably those who came out against the movie in the way they did who fueled more anti-Semitism than anything else. Many began to perceive it was the same spirit that persecuted Jesus, and it was. The extremist groups came across as having the very nature of the Jewish leaders who were the villains in the movie and in history because they were of that spirit.

The extremist anti-Christian Jews probably represent less than one percent of the Jewish population today, as well as during the first century. Likewise, those who were of the same spirit but claiming to be Christians throughout history have likewise been a very small percentage of the whole of Christianity. Yet the religious spirit is a power that can take a tiny percentage of people and influence many others. It is the most basic nature of Satan, and the spirit that is the most fundamentally opposed to the nature and power of the kingdom.

Recognizing this, we begin to understand that one of the worst deceptions which continues to bring much destruction to mankind is our tendency to judge others or other people groups, by their most extreme elements. Even though extremists are usually the most vocal, if we are going to walk in truth we must not let the extremists in any people group determine our perception of that people group-unless that people group allows themselves to be ruled by the extremists.

Every German paid a terrible price for allowing Hitler and the Nazis to gain control of their country. There were some brave and noble souls who discerned the profoundly evil nature of Nazism, and fought it as hard as they could, many paying for their resistance with their lives. Even so, just as all of Germany suffered so much because of the Nazis, we will all pay a terrible price every time we allow tyranny in any form, to gain control. History testifies resoundingly that religious tyranny is the most deadly and ruthless kind of all, regardless of what group or faith it rises from. We must learn to discern the true faith from the religious imposter or we will continue to pay a terrible and tragic price.

The Blessing

The Lord promised Abraham that his seed would be a blessing to all of the families on the face of the earth (see Genesis 22:18). The Jewish people have fulfilled this-they have been the greatest blessing to every nation, people, and culture. Even so, their ultimate destiny, which is clear in the Scriptures, is even greater than their history. The Jewish people will arise again as some of the greatest heroes of truth and righteousness.

Also, if we are going to walk in truth we must be delivered from another great source of deception-the tendency to receive our understanding from the secular media instead of seeing by and through the Holy Spirit. We must be discerning enough to recognize that when something becomes controversial, it is often because it is something of great importance from God.

The devil operates through fear, innuendo, and hearsay. The Lord has more class than to use devious methods to gain influence. When you see such controversy as was stirred up against The Passion, it is often because there is something very important from God that the devil is trying to turn us away from. When we learn to discern the spirit that is behind such things, the true spiritual warriors, who are warriors for the truth, will run to the sound of the battle, not away from it.

Again, let us not think that what arose in a few Jewish activists against The Passion is especially embedded in the Jewish people. There are some Jewish extremists who are still subject to this, just as there are many Christians who are. Let us never forget that God came to us as a Jew! Not only was Christ Himself Jewish, the apostles, prophets, and everyone who wrote that which is now Canon Scripture were Jewish-the greatest heroes in human history. We all owe the Jewish people more than we owe any other race, culture, or people group on the planet.

We also need to know that the Jewish people have been even more persecuted by Christians than any other religion. Beginning with Peter the Hermit, who led the first crusade and formulated the diabolical doctrine that the Jews should be killed to atone for Christ's death, for nearly a thousand years they were under a continuous threat of annihilation from those who called themselves Christians. They had their children and their property taken from them, were forcibly baptized, and if they refused, were killed by those who called themselves Christians. Many credit some of the anti-Semitic doctrines of Martin Luther for the holocaust they experienced under the Nazis.

For this reason it is understandable that the Jewish people would have a knee jerk reaction to anything Christian, and especially anything that might again in any way incite the kind of persecution which they had suffered under for nearly a thousand years. What Christians did to the Jews in the Middle Ages was far worse than the threats they now suffer from Islam, and in many ways worse than even what happened to them under the Nazis.

However, even though there is a need for understanding and repentance on the part of Christians for the way the Jewish people have been treated in the past by Christians, we cannot allow our own devotion to our faith to be controlled by this. What rose up in the church during those times was not Christian, but in fact antichrist.

Jesus Himself warned in Matthew 24:5: "For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will mislead many." Some have interpreted this as meaning, many would come claiming to be the Christ, but that is not what the Lord said here. He said that many would come claiming that He, Jesus, was indeed the Christ, but they would still be deceivers who deceive many. This is exactly what happened, and is still happening.

Many Jewish leaders also understand that their best friends, now and throughout the Middle Ages, were Christians who were of a different spirit. They know, but seldom fully understand, that these Christians were not Christians because of their association with an institution, but because of a deep, personal devotion to Christ. Those who have had a pure devotion to Christ have also always had a deep love for the Jewish people through whom their Savior came.

Building Bridges

Many who have been true friends of the Jewish people have been offended by the Jewish response to The Passion. Others are raising questions about the Jewish control of Hollywood, the news media, and other such things that seem to be used to attack Mel Gibson, and this movie. Again, we must not let the reaction of the extremists on either side drive a greater wedge between Christians and Jews. Our goal should be to overcome evil with good. There are some practical ways that we can do this.

One way is to contact the Jewish people in your community and express your appreciation for them, and the great blessing the Jewish people have been to all of mankind. In spite of the terrible way they have often been treated in the nations where they sojourned, they have tended to be the best citizens and neighbors. I think it would be appropriate to even send them a gift, or send an offering to the local synagogue. If you have the opportunity, tell them that you are sorry for the way they have been treated by those who called themselves Christians. I have done this with remarkable results.

We also need to understand that the same spirit, which sought to destroy Christ, is intent on destroying the Jewish people. He knows the destiny of the Jewish people at the end is not only to embrace Christ, but help to usher in the kingdom of God that will destroy the devil's kingdom. This will happen when the Jewish people and the true church unite to become the "one new man" also prophesied in the New Testament to come forth (see Ephesians 2:1). It is because it is the same spirit persecuting both true Christians and Jews that some estimates indicate just as many Christians died at the hands of the Nazis as did Jews. We do have the same enemy! For this reason, the enemy's greatest victory is to turn Christians against Jews, or Jews against Christians. Let us determine that regardless of what the enemy tries to do, we will not let this happen. Every time the devil tries to stir up such controversy and division, let us resolve to counter it with good.

As we proceed toward the end of this age, there will be more and more things arising, which will try to divide Christians and Jews. The devil is trying to use the movie, The Passion, this way. But its ultimate result is actually going to give Christians a far greater appreciation of the Jewish heroes of humanity, and the Jews a far greater understanding of true Christians. It will also show how those are different from those who were truly of the religious spirit but claimed to be Christian.

Let us learn to not be controlled by the extremists on either side. The Christians who are trying to use this present controversy to illuminate "Jewish control" of the media is the same voice speaking through some of the Jewish extremists, both trying to cause a greater division. You may reason that if the devil is doing this, then he is a house divided that cannot stand. That is in fact the truth. A demon of hate will hate other demons as much as they hate us. The powers of darkness often do rise up against each other, and men get carried away by them on both sides.

Let us resolve to know Christ and follow Him only, not issues. Let us show our Jewish neighbors the true nature of Christ, who loved both them and us so much that He went to the cross for us all. That is how the true disciples will always be recognized.

"By this all men will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another" (John 13:35).

What we are doing on this earth is not about us-it is about the Lord. The earth and all that it contains is His. We were made for His pleasure. We have been purchased with a price, the greatest price that could have ever been paid-the life of the Son of God. We are not our own. We cannot go on living for ourselves, but our lives must be centered around, and motivated by, the Lord and His purposes.

We must behold the cross, and the price He paid that demonstrates like nothing else ever could, how much He loves us, and how much sin cost Him. The movie, The Passion, is anointed to help bring this reality back to our lives, and our message. There is no greater message than the cross. It is the foundation that everything else must be built on, and if it is not built on it rightly then it is a weak foundation at best.

Summary

The kingdom is coming. In preparation for it there are two great events now going on. The messengers of the kingdom are currently being prepared. The generation now arising is called to fulfill the Great Commission.

The second great event that is coming in preparation for the kingdom is a tremendous unity which will come among Christians and Jews. Neither the church nor Israel can accomplish their full purpose without the other. For this reason great spiritual awakenings are coming to both.

There will be great, cataclysmic changes coming to the church, Israel, and the world to prepare the way for the kingdom. These will come to shake everything that can be shaken, until we are walking in truth on the path of life. This is the path that leads to the most glorious kingdom that this world has ever known. However, to find it we must be of "a different spirit" than has been found in the church in general, for nearly two thousand years. As the Lord Jesus Himself made clear in Matthew 16:24-25: If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me.

For whoever wishes to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake shall find it.

There will be an increasing distinction between those who claim to follow the Lord, and those who really do by taking up their crosses. Just as it gets the darkest and the coldest before the dawn, there are going to be great times of trouble and darkness ahead, but the light will surely rise, and it will surely prevail over all darkness.

There are many confusing and conflicting voices who claim to come in the name of Christ, but are in fact antichrist in nature. The antichrist will rarely come attacking the message of Christ directly, but rather trying to replace it, and thereby take the seat of Christ in His own temple. This spirit will become increasingly clear to those who are truly following Christ. The Word of God from the mouth of the Lord Himself will slay this spirit.

We will always discern the true Spirit of Christ, and those who truly follow Him are the ones who walk in the way of the cross. They will live to sacrifice and lay down their own lives for others, never using others for their own selfish interests. This is the nature of true spiritual authority, and the true kingdom that is surely coming. We can help prepare the way for it by determining to take up our crosses daily, resolving to do all things for the sake of the gospel. It is also time to recognize those "temples" that have another spirit in them, and depart from them. Selfishness and sacrifice are the two most fundamentally defining characteristics of the kingdom of darkness and the kingdom of God. Regardless of how much one may claim to come in the name of the Lord, we must discern the basic nature of the messengers, and determine to follow, not just truths, but the Truth Himself.

A Family Resemblance
Rick Joyner

March 8, 2004

This week we continue our theme about how the Great Commission was to "...make disciples of all the nations" (Matthew 28:19). As discussed, the "nations" here represents ethnic groups, not political entities.

So how do we recognize nations? How do we baptize them? How do we teach them to observe all that He commanded us? In Acts 17:26-28 the apostle Paul says:

and He made from one, every nation of mankind to live on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed times, and the boundaries of their habitation, that they should seek God, if perhaps they might grope for Him and find Him, though He is not far from each one of us.

Here, Paul starts with the fact that we all came from one-we are all family! We can also say that the basis of our understanding of others and knowing how to relate to them should start with the perception of how we are alike, not different. What are the points that we have in common? Where are the things that we already agree on?

The first, and most important is that we all came from the same parents, so we are all family. Regardless of the race or culture, it is still a family matter. Let us look at the two extremes-those who are called "black," and those who are called "white." Rare is the "black" person who is really black, but is rather some shade of brown. Likewise, a "white" person is really a lighter shade of tan. Much of what we are talking about in distinguishing races is in degrees.

Regardless of what some racists claim, it is likely that there is not a person on the earth at this time who is pure in their racial heritage. We are all mixed to some degree, and it seems that this was not only all right with the Lord, but His design. We even see in Scripture that Moses was married to a black woman, and even King David and the Lord Jesus had Gentiles in their heritage.

Now that we have laid a foundation for understanding that racism is going to be one of the most powerful and deadly forces at the end of this age, it is always our calling as Christians to be a light in the midst of darkness. The light or the truth, which we have been given, will be directly related to the darkness or deception, that the devil is using. From a historical perspective, racism has been the motive and power behind that which has caused most of the death and destruction on the earth. It will continue to be the greatest power releasing the spirit of death on the earth until the end.

Consider the Nazis. Their diabolical racism resulted in over twenty million German deaths, over thirty million Russian deaths, and scores of millions more throughout Europe. At the root of almost every war you will find racism in some form, which is often a religious form. There are other reasons too, but you will almost always find as a primary motivation some form of racism in the mix.

Even the American Civil War, which pitted mostly Caucasians against Caucasians in battle, but was mostly over the issue of keeping the black race in slavery. Some claim that this war was fought more over economics or state's rights, and certainly these were factors, but they obviously were not the primary motive for the war. It was the issue of slavery that led up to the Civil War, and it was the most basic motivation for it.

We also need to recognize that religious bigotry is also a form of racism. When we consider ourselves better than others because of the denomination we are in, or even the religion that we hold to, this too is a form of religious racism. What causes us to fear others who do not believe just the way we do is the same spirit. This spirit has one basic purpose-to divide so that darkness can conquer.

This is not to imply that we should not be thankful to be Christians, to know the truth, and to realize how deceived those in other religions can be. However, this should never be a source of pride, rather of thanksgiving and humility. We are not saved because we are better than others; we are saved simply because the Lord had mercy on us. He did not have this mercy on us because of our goodness! That is a very basic affront to the cross. His mercy is simply because of His goodness and His choice, which He made for His own reasons. For this reason we should be compelled to treat every other person, regardless of their race or their beliefs, with respect and dignity. I will gladly debate others on their beliefs, but I will not use this to belittle them. In fact, if I discuss religion with those of another faith I try to do what Paul did in Athens-I try to find points of agreement first, and then explain how Jesus is the Answer to the questions found in every religion. In all things I also try to keep in mind that the person I am talking to is a family member-we all came from the same parents, and I want them all in our eternal family, so my goal is always to save them, not insult them.

Francis Frangipane likes to say that before he was born again he was Italian. In the natural he is still Italian; however, once we are in Christ we are told in II Corinthians 5:16, "Therefore from now on we recognize no man according to the flesh..." In Christ we are not supposed to judge others by the color of their skin. In our new, eternal family, we are not black or white, yellow or red, we are a "new creation" in Christ. Now let us read the entire context in which this verse is found:

For the love of Christ controls us, having concluded this, that one died for all, therefore all died; and He died for all, that they who live should no longer live for themselves, but for Him who died and rose again on their behalf.

Therefore from now on we recognize no man according to the flesh; even though we have known Christ according to the flesh, yet now we know Him thus no longer.

Therefore if any man is in Christ, he is a new creature; the old things passed away; behold, new things have come. Now all these things are from God, who reconciled us to Himself through Christ, and gave us the ministry of reconciliation, namely, that God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and He has committed to us the word of reconciliation.

Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God were entreating through us; we beg you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God.

He made Him who knew no sin to be sin on our behalf, that we might become the righteousness of God in Him (II Corinthians 5:14-21).

First, it is the love of Christ that should be controlling us in all things. For us to be prepared for the end of this age, we must be abiding in and preparing the way for the age to come, which will be the age in which all things will be restored. This begins with reconciliation to God, and then to one another. To do this we will have to walk in a spirit that is opposite to the darkness that is growing in the world. While the spirit of the world seeks to divide and destroy, we will be building bridges between races and cultures. We will be reconciling them to God, and then to each other.

We must always keep the love of God first, as we cannot truly love others unless we love Him first. We cannot love others as we should if we do not love God more than we love them. However, we do not really love God if we do not love each other too, as we are told in I John 4:20-21:

If someone says, "I love God," and hates his brother, he is a liar; for the one who does not love his brother whom he has seen, cannot love God whom he has not seen.

And this commandment we have from Him, that the one who loves God should love his brother also.

This is why the two great commandments are one. Anything but this love is a departure from the true faith regardless of how much other truth we have.

In my most recent Special Bulletin, I began to address the barrier between Christians and Jews (this is posted on our website). We will also cover this in our study here because it represents the ultimate human barrier, and one that will be overcome before the end of this age. As Paul explained in Romans, when this happens it will be ". life from the dead," (Romans 11:15) or the overcoming of the spirit of death by the resurrection. That is how basic and how important this one issue is. That is why we are trying to lay such a strong foundation of understanding this before we go on to the other crucial prophecies concerning the end of this age. We cannot truly understand the others without understanding this one.

To make this truth practical, this week let us endeavor to look at all of our neighbors, coworkers, etc. as our relatives, regardless of their racial, cultural, or religious background. We still all have the same parents. Let us pray for the wisdom and grace to build bridges of trust with them so that we can have as many as possible join us in the great eternal family that will last forever.

The Power of Diversity

March 15, 2004

As we have studied, racism is one of the ultimate enemies of mankind, and is of the character that is most basically opposed to the heart and ways of God. Racial conflict was also the first thing the Lord mentioned when He was asked about the signs of the end of the age. Therefore, those who are truly aligned with God and His purposes at the end must be free of this most basic enemy of the purposes of God.

For this reason I want to take this week to apply some practical ways to become free of the things that would make us racist. By becoming free, it will open us up to true church life the way it was intended to be.

As we have seen, our God so loves diversity that it is one of the most basic characteristics of all that He created. There are no two mountain ranges alike, or even two mountains that are alike. There are no two trees exactly alike, or even two leaves. There are no two people alike. Our DNA was created with the potential for differences that has been estimated at ten to the two hundred and fifty billionth power! Just to write the zeroes of this factor would take several thousand miles! This is the kind of potential for diversity that God has put into mankind, which He said was made in His image! When we read that God made man in His image, He was not just talking about an individual man, but mankind. Because He is so great, so expansive in His existence, it will take all of us in our great diversity to reveal His image.

This is just a mere reflection of how He is so much bigger, greater, more awesome, and wonderful than many of His own people perceive. All of creation speaks of His love for diversity and creativity. If we are going to be like Him, we must therefore love creativity, and be creative. We must also love and appreciate the differences, and see them as opportunities to learn and grow.

The church, which is supposed to be His representative on the earth, should therefore be the most diverse, and creative, entity on the planet. Those who are in it, and those who are observing it, should be continually full of awe and wonder at the creativity, the continually expanding revelation of God that the church brings forth. In this we are not talking about different or conflicting doctrines about God or His ways, but ever expanding and deepening ones as we grow in the knowledge of His ways. In fact, the deeper our understanding of Him grows, the less certain teachings and doctrines tend to conflict. They will begin fitting together into a beautiful pattern and harmony that cannot be perceived from the shallow perspectives at which so many stop.

Because of this, if we have the heart of God, we will not fear things or people that are different than us, we will appreciate them and respect them for who they are. Therefore, what we call "the tyranny of the familiar," the tendency to find our peace and security in things that we are familiar with, is one of the greatest obstacles to walking in true faith in God. Let us examine this in a little more depth.

This bondage is actually one of the strongest yokes on mankind, and one of the most difficult of which to become free. It is what seeks to turn every new Christian into an "old wineskin," resistant to change or anything new or different. It is also what causes us to shop at the same places, sit in the same place at church, feel awkward around people whom we do not know, form cliques in our congregations, and form denominations that resist relationships with the rest of the body of Christ. It will also cause us to miss the purposes of the Lord possibly more than anything else will.

As we previously discussed, the reason why the disciples on the road to Emmaus could not recognize the Lord was because "He appeared to them in a different form" (Mark 16:12). This most likely still remains the reason we fail to recognize Him when He seeks to draw near to us. We get so accustomed to a form or way in which He met us in the past that we fail to recognize Him when He comes in a way that we are not familiar with. The fact is that most of the time when He comes to us we can count on it being in a way that we are not familiar with. We see in the Scripture that He did not even heal people the same way twice. He did not have "a stump speech" that He repeated over and over. Every teaching was new and fresh. Even when He taught on the same subject, the kingdom, He continually described it in new and different ways that continually expanded the understanding of it.

Those who followed the Lord when He walked the earth were treated to wonderful new experiences every day. He was new to them every morning. He was continually leading them into new situations, and using these new situations to teach them about the kingdom of God and His purposes. Because He was continually teaching them new things, it kept their minds open and expectant, building in them a quick ability to embrace change. The Lord has not changed. This is the way a life that still follows Him should be. This is the way normal church life should be, which is for the purpose of teaching His followers to follow Him, not just comply with certain doctrines or programs.

That church life has been reduced to a couple of boring meetings each week is one of the great tragedies of Christianity, and is in fundamental conflict with the ways and nature of God. True church life is first and foremost about relationships-first to God and then to His people. If we are not continually getting closer to Him, and to the others in our church, then we do not have true church life.

True church life is twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, of experiencing God. Meetings and services are important and should be a highlight of our week, but they are not true church life-rather just a pit stop so we can get back out in the fray and run the race that true church life is.

The "tyranny of the familiar" tends to tighten its grip on us when we start putting our security in our environment rather than in the Lord. For this reason the Lord often has to deal with us as He did Moab, which we see in Jeremiah 48:11-12:

"Moab has been at ease since his youth; he has also been undisturbed on his lees. Neither has he been emptied from vessel to vessel, nor has he gone into exile. Therefore he retains his flavor, and his aroma has not changed.

"Therefore behold, the days are coming," declares the LORD, "when I shall send to him those who tip vessels, and they will tip him over, and they will empty his vessels and shatter his jars."

When He speaks of Moab not being "emptied from vessel to vessel," it is referring to the way wine was purified in those times. It would be poured into a vessel and allowed to sit for a time. This allowed the impurities to settle to the bottom. Then it would be poured into another vessel, etc. So, the more times it had been poured into another vessel, the more pure it was. This is also one of the ways the Lord purifies us.

As soon as we become comfortable and secure in one place, He will upset it, putting us into a new situation. The change could come in our jobs, our hometowns, our churches, our neighbors, etc. Life and the world are full of change, and change is good. Every living thing changes, and to the degree we stop changing, we have started dying. To the degree we are able to embrace change we are alive, and our wineskins will still be able to hold new wine.

Next week we are going to examine some very practical ways that this is supposed to be incorporated into our lives and the church. However, this week, try to learn something about a church, a denomination, or a movement that is different from yours. One thing you will almost certainly learn is that they have something that you or your church needs. We all need the rest of the body of Christ, and if we are not rightly connected to it, we will not survive alone through what is coming to test the quality of every work. If we are connected to it rightly, Proverbs 4:18 will be true of us:

But the path of the righteous is like the light of dawn, that shines brighter and brighter until the full day.

If we are walking "the path of the righteous," the light should be increasing for us continually. Our path should be more and more clear. If this is not the case for us, then we need to examine where we are walking. This is your inheritance as children of light-increasing clarity in all that you do.

Dynamic Church Life
Rick Joyner

March 22, 2004

Last week we discussed how change is a fundamental characteristic of all who are growing. This week I want to discuss a couple of ways that we have implemented change as a lifestyle in our churches, which we believe has had remarkable fruit.

As we learn from biology, the cells in a body are constantly being renewed. Even at the most basic level there are changes happening continually, with some organs of a healthy body actually being renewed every month or so. Others may take a bit longer, but are still being renewed continually. How does this apply to the church?

For this reason we have a saying in our church that most of the people who have joined us have "come to pass." By this we mean they are only supposed to stay with us for a time, and then they will move on, with others taking their place. This is not true of everyone, but it is true of most, and we are fine with it. This may seem to be the opposite of what is needed to build our church, especially as we come to understand that church is basically relational. We are not trying to build the typical church-we are trying to build up the whole church, not just our little congregation.

We are very happy to equip people, and then have the Holy Spirit place them in another church to be used by Him. The Lord is the One building His church, and the Holy Spirit must have the freedom to place the members of His body where it pleases Him, not us. To be properly equipped, most Christians need the experience that they get from being in at least a few different churches. If the church was in the proper unity, it probably would not have to be this way, but for now, it does.

This is not to say that all of the moving about in the body of Christ is right, as many people miss their greatest opportunities for growth and to be equipped for their purpose by moving prematurely. These are the ones who are led by dissatisfaction or impatience, rather than by the Holy Spirit. Even so, many come to us to learn or be equipped in certain areas. When they have received what was needed from us, we often have so many already functioning in those areas that they need to go to another congregation to have a place to function in their gifts and ministries. Many of these keep in touch with us, and are still considered part of our family. And, we genuinely love to see them from time to time, but we are even more concerned that they are accomplishing their purpose in the place that the Holy Spirit has appointed them.

We also view ourselves as just one small part of the body of Christ in our city. We look at every other congregation that truly serves Jesus as Lord, as fellow members of the body, and coworkers in the gospel. Just as the different organs and members of our own body all have different functions, so do the different congregations. This means there are many other congregations that are better at different aspects of the ministry of the church than we are. For this reason, we often send those who come to us to other congregations when we feel they are better suited there, rather than with us.

For this reason, we shut down all of our services for the whole month of July each year and encourage our people to visit other congregations. In this way, they at least can begin to obtain a vision for the whole body of Christ. We tell them that if they find a place where they fit better than with us, please go there. We will miss them, but we have an eternity to be together. It is far more important to be where the Holy Spirit wants them, than where we may want them.

Cancer is a grouping of rebellious cells that have started consuming and growing without regard for the rest of the body. This is the nature of a church that is a cancer in the body. Recently, one well-known minister moved to a city and started a church and more than one hundred small churches immediately had to shut down. Maybe some of these smaller churches needed to move on, but it is hard to believe that this is the way the church in a city is going to be built up.

When we moved our headquarters and a number of our people to a small community in the mountains, a major persecution rose up against us. The accusations were not true, and neither was the spirit exhibited by our accusers, but the Lord told me that this was partly my fault. Having the kind of visibility and size that we have was a big threat to them. I was shown that if we had gone to the church and town leaders before moving there to explain who we are and what we are, this could have been prevented.

Now, when we begin a work in a new community, we try to meet with the church leaders in that area first, and determine ways we can help them, not take their people. This has resulted in some very strong support instead of the attacks. There will always be some that will be threatened by anything new. These are probably the ones that are not true shepherds, and do not care about the health of their sheep. We know in every place we go there will be some like this. We have to do what we are called to do anyway. However, when we go into a new place we set as a high priority to strengthen the church there, not weaken it.

Churches need new members like our body needs new cells. New congregations can likewise have the same effect on the church in a city if it is done in the right way. New pastors and leaders may be able to gather the other leaders in the city for fellowship and mutual support in a way that those who are there could not have done because of their history. In this way, barriers can start to be brought down, relationships begun, resulting in a fresh start for everyone. If our purpose really is the kingdom, and building up the whole body of Christ, all of our works will ultimately result in that which blesses and helps all. We must keep the needs of the whole body of Christ in our hearts.

We need change, but change that results in fruit needs a foundation. Though we have learned to appreciate all of the people who come to us but are called to move on, we also greatly appreciate the core of people who have become the pillars that our churches are being built around. These are the ones who now do the bulk of the ministry, and are especially helpful in ministering to those who have "come to pass."

We have a core leadership team that has been together for a very long time, though we are adding new members to it continually. This core of stable, consistent members is also needed for true church life. With all of the changes happening, these help give stability in some areas which is essential. Even though we are changing, if we are growing in the Lord, there is order to the growth. There are also areas where growth and change need to happen more slowly and less drastically than in other areas.

However, it is for the sake of growing in the Lord, and seeking the growth of those who are entrusted into our care for however long they are to be with us, that we have a ministry team which oversees our congregations together. Each one of our congregations has a pastor, who is primarily responsible for that congregation, but they have the entire ministry team behind them. This allows us to constantly change teachers, worship leaders, and other leaders throughout the ministry, as these changes are needed for the growth of the members of the body.

Usually the pastor of a congregation will only speak there two times in a month, though they will help oversee most of the meetings. Other team members share in the teaching, and sometimes in the daily administration of certain matters. This adds remarkable strength and stability, which the people sense. There is a sense that they are not alone, and the pastors and other leaders all feel this too.

In a single service, we may have three or more speakers, as well as worship leaders. One teacher may go ten minutes, another five, and another thirty or more. These may or may not even speak on the same subject. It may sound confusing, but we try to make each service like a dinner with different courses, which together provide a balanced, nutritious meal. With the diversity of teachers and worship leaders, it keeps the service fresh, alive, and practical.

In all of these things we try to be in harmony with the Holy Spirit, who alone really knows what everyone needs. We therefore try to sense if there is an anointing for evangelism coming upon one congregation, and then we may assign as their pastor for a period of time one who is especially anointed in evangelism. If we do not appoint such a one as pastor, we may at least send that one to them a couple of times a month for a while. If the Lord is especially moving in healing or the prophetic in a congregation at a certain time, we will send to them the ones who are especially anointed in that area. In this way we are seeking to be in obedience to the Lord as the Head of His church, doing what He wants in each congregation.

This kind of church leadership may not work for everyone, but without question, the leadership which the Lord left to His church, which is described in the New Testament, is a team. Just as a basketball team will try to feed the ball to the one with "the hot hand," we likewise try to recognize the one on our team who is especially anointed at any given time and give them the meetings. Following the anointing is following the Holy Spirit. If He is not the One doing the building, then we are laboring in vain.

When change comes with purpose, and in the right timing, it will always create life, and a spiritual advance. Also, working as a team has kept the burdens that come with overseeing any congregation of people, spread over the whole team. Because of this, the pressures that wear out typical pastors and leaders so fast have not been a big problem for us.

Race car drivers learned years ago that if they run together in what is called "a draft" they save a lot of fuel, and wear and tear on their motors. As various ones tend to get especially anointed at different times, we have also learned to draft behind them. This keeps everyone moving at a pace, and for a distance, that we could not otherwise maintain. Even though I am the leader of our team, I draft behind others probably ninety percent of the time. When people ask me how I oversee a growing fellowship of churches, and many other different ministries, and still write all of the books and articles that I do, the answer is easy-I am a part of a team.

The team divides the burdens, increases the endurance, and multiplies the joys of ministry. If one starts pulling ahead in a certain area, we know if we get behind him, we will all be carried along and benefit. I know I have stayed in the race as long as I have because of the team, and learning to draft.

The metaphor used that calls the church a "body" means that it is composed of different members who are all called to work together. When it is time to go somewhere, and the legs are working, the hands cannot say that the legs are getting too much attention. When the body arrives at its destination, it will probably be time for the hands to do their thing, and the legs may get a rest. The eyes will have to help each of them, but may never get the credit for actually doing the work, or getting the body to a certain place. However, they make things possible for the whole body, which probably could not be done otherwise. Why should we care who gets the credit as long as we all get there and get the job done?

Changes are for our sakes. Changes help all to grow and stay fresh. We can easily tell when someone is getting stale in a position and a change is needed. When these changes are made, there is almost always a bit of disturbance, just as you cannot help but to disturb the wine when pouring it into another vessel. However, when things settle down, everyone is much better off because of it. In fact, every time we make such a change, we see a great acceleration in that church or department.

My point is, if we really are living, and our lives are abiding in the Lord with Him as our security, then we should never fear change, but rather embrace it as one of the most wonderful opportunities to grow. We should never fear those who are different from us, but welcome them with open arms, knowing that they can be a source of great learning, and blessing for us.

It is for a purpose that every prophet in the Bible is unique. Every apostle is very different. You are also unique. If you are going to fulfill your purpose, you must be willing to be unique, and you must be willing to live a very unique life. If you want to recognize the Lord when He draws near to you, learn to look for Him in different forms.

Now some of you have probably thought, "Now weren't we talking about racism?" Yes, and we still are. Being a racist is basically either letting pride or fear control you, so that you resist those who are different, or you resist needed change. The Lord is obviously not a racist since He is the One who created all of the uniqueness and diversity in mankind. Those who truly know the Lord, and are becoming like Him, will not be racists either.

Living With The King
Rick Joyner

April 5, 2004

Last week we discussed the increasing shaking and change that will ultimately climax in the greatest time of trouble the world has ever known -- but it will also be the greatest glory. We are called to not only endure these changes, but learn to thrive on them, seizing the great spiritual opportunities that they present. The primary way we do this is by having rock solid consistency in our own hearts which can only come from a life that is built upon the kingdom of God -- living under the authority of the King of kings.

As we read in Daniel 11, even when the devil is setting up his great abomination, those "who know their God will display strength and take action" (Daniel 11:32). The key words here are "know their God." This is the most important thing that we can do to be prepared for the times that are now coming upon us. Knowing Him is far more important than knowing the signs of the times or the schemes of the devil. We do need to know these, because they were written for our preparation, but they should never eclipse knowing the Lord Himself as our highest priority.

We are seeking to know the Lord also so that we can become like Him and do the works that He did. One of the most concise prophesies of our times is in Isaiah 60:1-3:

Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you.
For behold, darkness will cover the earth, and deep darkness the peoples; but the Lord will rise upon you, and His glory will appear upon you. And nations will come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising.

Here we are commanded to both "arise" and "shine." This is not the time to lay down or hide. The darkness is coming, but the glory coming to God's people will prevail over it so that the nations which have been deceived will eventually come to the brightness of that which is appearing on the Lord's people. So, regardless of how dark it gets, we must keep the end of the matter in mind and resolve to stand and reveal the light that we have been given.

How Do We Get to Know the Lord?

The primary way we have been given to know the Lord is His Holy Spirit, which He gave to us for that purpose. Many would exalt the written Word over the Spirit, but the Lord Himself did not do that. He did not say, "I must go away, but I am going to give you this Book to lead you into all truth..." No, He said when He left He would send His Spirit to lead us into all truth (see John 16:7). This is not in any way to belittle the place of the Scriptures, but without the Holy Spirit, we cannot understand the Scriptures.

Therefore, our great ambition should be to know the Holy Spirit, to obey Him, and to be the most hospitable temple for Him that we can possibly be. As we discussed many weeks ago, if we knew the President was coming to spend a week with us in our home, the very least we would probably do is clean our house like never before. Many would probably even paint, maybe even remodel, and some would probably go so far as to buy a new home. We would find out the food he likes and dislikes and maybe even hire a chef to prepare the meals. How much more should we give ourselves to preparing for the Holy Spirit to come to us, not just to visit, but to live in us?

Preparing for the Holy Spirit

In Ephesians 4:30-32, the apostle Paul tells us how to not offend the Holy Spirit:

And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. And be kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving each other, just as God in Christ also has forgiven you.

The primary way we grieve the Holy Spirit is by allowing bitterness to take root in us, which causes wrath, anger, clamor, slander, and malice. Now, would you have a big argument in your house if the President were staying with you? We probably would not have one if any guests were staying with us. How much more should we be sensitive to the presence of the Holy Spirit?

The primary way we are going to be prepared for the times that are coming is to abide in the Lord, which is to abide in the Holy Spirit. If we are abiding in Him, we will be manifesting the fruit of the Spirit, not bitterness, anger, wrath, slander, or malice. We will have peace in our hearts which is stronger than all of the discord and troubles that are surrounding us. We will not be overcome by those troubles, but we will overcome them by the Spirit of the One who lives in us.

Daily we should prepare for this by learning to resist the temptation of succumbing to that which grieves the Holy Spirit. Instead, we should use every trial to grow in the fruit of the Spirit. When we face unnecessary delays, we should rejoice in the opportunity to grow in patience. When we are slandered or mistreated, we should rejoice in the opportunity to grow in forgiveness and love. When problems arise, we should seize the opportunity to grow in the peace of God, always believing that "...God causes all things to work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to His purpose" (Romans 8:28).

Today we are being prepared for the last days. If our hearts are filled with bitterness, fears, or evil desires, we will not be able to stand against what is coming. Every day we need to view our own hearts as fortresses of truth and righteousness that we are building, which will be strong enough to withstand any assault. The walls of this fortress are salvation, and its gates are praise (see Isaiah 60:18). Inside of our fortress we have the most powerful force there is - the Holy Spirit.

Walking with the King In Authority

As I was shown many years ago and wrote about in The Call, the Lord is building fortresses of truth and righteousness in these times, which will stand against all unrighteousness and evil. These are churches which take spiritual dominion over regions and do not let the plagues that are sweeping the rest of the world come near the domain that they have been given authority over.

If you attended our New Year's Conference, you witnessed a great miracle and may not even be aware of it. Flu was ravaging the country. Many were dying, especially young children, and it was forecasted to get much worse. Bob Jones received a word from the Lord that we did not have to accept this. He came to me and said we needed to pray and stop this plague immediately. We did that together in the next meeting, and from that very night it seemed the flu vanished from the news, and we have not heard of another death from it.

If you have regularly attended our conferences, you know that things like this happen at almost every one of them. We do not often see the results of these prayers until later, as we did this time. As we say frequently at our conferences, the reason we have them is to stir up the gifts and authority that the Lord has given to His people, so we will go home and use them. It is not what happens at the conferences which determines whether they were a success or not, but what happens in the lives of those who attended after they return home.

In Numbers 16, a great plague swept through the camp of Israel. Moses told Aaron to take a censor of incense from the altar, run into the camp, and to take his stand between the dead and the living. When he did this, the plague was checked. Because incense represents prayer and intercession, this was an example of how these can turn back plagues. It is imperative that we come to understand and walk in this authority.

We only have true spiritual authority to the degree that we are abiding in the King and Him in us, which He does by His Holy Spirit. If we are abiding in Him, as He promised, we can ask for what we need and He will do it. What do we have to do that is more important than this? The plagues that are coming upon the world do not have to come near us or our families. We can stop the plagues, and now is the time for us to learn to exercise that authority.

Our first priority should be to become a proper host for the Holy Spirit. Then we must strengthen the walls of salvation. We must fortify the gates of praise. When we have done this in our own hearts, we will then be able to grow, taking authority over the things that attack our families. Then we need to secure our congregations, so that the manifest presence of the Holy Spirit is apparent to all. From such fortresses, which are the domain of the kingdom of God, the gospel of the kingdom is going to go forth.

Filled With The Fullness

Sandy Brunson

A Person Cannot Be Filled With The Fullness Of God Until

A person cannot be filled with the fullness of God until they first know and experience the depth of their soul until they reach and fathom its bottom its deepest recesses. One can only experience and thus know this by coming face to face with their own brokenness, helplessness, and emptiness apart from God.

To experience emptiness is to experience pain deep emotional pain. Such pain effects a person in the pit of their stomach or chest. In their deepest recesses, it gnaws and grips. Because it renders one helpless, it paralyzes to the feeling of lifelessness. It is felt physically. It is fearful; and it can torment. Most people even Christian believers, avoid this in every way they can, for they do not want to come face to face with their own empty soul. And it IS empty apart from a daily filling by God. This empty feeling hurts. Deep hunger is painful. Its pain is felt in depths one did not recognize before.

Years ago, I had gall bladder surgery. The procedure was a very serious one because a very tiny, gall stone had lodged itself in my bile duct just prior to the opening of the small intestine. It was backing up bile in my pancreas and that was deadly. The modern gall bladder procedures with quick surgery were not possible; major surgery was performed to delicately remove that one tiny speck of foreign matter hidden in the recesses of my digestive system. The pain that remained from that surgery allowed me to feel a depth of physical pain I did not know existed for I had never before been aware of "feeling" in those recesses. A healthy person is not very aware of their digestive system nor do they feel any pain in performing that miraculous, daily ritual. But a person with an unhealthy digestive system feels every heart beat and breath every movement. That person feels in the depths of their body pain they never knew existed before unless they block it with pain killing medication.

Our soul can be like the digestive system. If it lodges foreign matter, or if it is unhealthy from any cause, it can feel pain in the depths of places in which it was unaware of before UNLESS it blocks that pain with pain-killing addictions, behaviors, or medications. We need to fully feel our emptiness so that we will cry out truly to the Great Physician. He comes to heal and restore to feed and to fill to nourish and to nurture.

If left untended, an empty soul becomes deformed and/or dies unless it receives daily nourishment and nurture. It dries up. It conforms to its lifeless condition. It copes. It becomes "addicted" to other things, other idols, other measures for relief. It will feed on scraps of garbage, artificial medication, and lies to survive. It seeks relief in lesser things than it was created for just to survive.

God has designed the human soul to survive and thrive in only ONE way. That way is to be empty in His Presence and allow Him to feed and fill the soul, the heart with all that He is with the fruit of His fullness with His Truth with His love, joy, peace, and all the fruit of His Spirit.

One cannot be filled to the full unless first they are emptied of all else with which they have been sustaining themselves. When this happens, either by choice or by circumstance, one will come in contact with the depth of their soul; and in experiencing this deep depth, there will, of necessity be, an experience with the gripping pain described above.

We cannot truly know the depth of our soul UNTIL we allow ourselves to know and feel the pain of emptiness, brokenness, and helplessness. We must cry the tears of it .

This takes time this takes tears. This takes crying from the depths of one's soul to all that He is.

Only then can one truly know their emptiness and ask Him to fill it with Himself.

Only then will He begin to do so from the deepest depth of oneself and begin to form that one and become in them all He has desired - from the beginning.

Only then can one truly come into UNION with Him and become an authentic _expression of Him.

Only then will that one begin to get a glimpse of the Eternal Life that awaits them in Heaven.

Only then .

Gates To The Soul Part 2 and 3

Part 2
THE FOUNTAIN GATE

"Shallun the son of Col-Hozeh, leader of the district of Mizpah, repaired the Fountain Gate; he built it, covered it, hung its gates with its bolts and bars." (Nehemiah 3:15)

The Lord says in Jeremiah 2:13, "For My people have committed two evils: They have forsaken Me, the FOUNTAIN of living waters, to make for themselves cisterns – broken cisterns that can hold no water."

It does not take much thought to realize that the FOUNTAIN that so many in the world have forsaken is the Lord Jesus Christ. The Bible states that Jesus is the spring or fountain of life and that all who partake of him will have a wellspring rising up within them, leading to eternal life.

The rebuilding of the Fountain Gate to our soul requires no physical effort. It is built entirely by FAITH through GRACE. It is faith in the Lord Jesus Christ as our only means of salvation. Many in the world have said, "Surely there must be more than "one way" to reach my eternal destination." The problem with this logic is apparent in the fact that something as vitally divine and important as eternal salvation can only possess ONE TRUTH. The case for this statement rests in the simple fact that "Eternity" must be intelligently designed or created. How could "Eternity" or eternal life simply EVOLVE? Just as there is one way that we are born into this world, there is but one way that we are born again to leave this world.

"Has a nation changed its gods, which are not gods?" (Jeremiah 2:11)

The ignorance of mankind is always portrayed in who or what they worship and in who and what they find security in. There are many "gods" in the world who demand that their worshipers die for them, whereas, Jesus Christ chose to die for us. We might consider spending eternity with a myriad of hideous animalistic creatures concocted by the vain imaginations of man. Or, maybe we can find eternal security going to our grave with a million dollars and the praise of men. Maybe our eternal destiny is laid out in the position of lifeless stars and planets. Some find their worship of the world so intoxicating or their past hurts and rejections so overwhelming, that they find pleasure in "believing" in no god at all.

The only "eternal security" offered in these choices is that you MIGHT be good enough to make it to heaven if you pass some kind of cosmic test based on YOUR ideas of good behavior or performance. Does man set the standard of what is eternally good and bad? Or, does man truly have much to say about life after death? Better yet, where does this cosmic higher power or "god" draw the line? Is there a set amount of sins that tip you over the edge? Look, the God and Father of all creation sent His Son Jesus Christ to pay the penalty for our sins and grant us relationship and eternal life in His presence. Mankind can never EARN eternal salvation. It is only through God's gift of GRACE and His love for us.

Jeremiah prophesied that mankind has forsaken God and made for themselves "cisterns – broken cisterns that can hold no water." Cisterns were large holes that were dug into the rocky soil and sealed with a type of plaster to make them water tight. Cisterns were dug in conjunction with terraces to retain life-giving water and to prevent erosion of the scarce and precious soil.

The Bible says that the "broken cisterns" of man can hold no water. Man has tried throughout the centuries to attain peace, harmony, and understanding among itself. You would think that after thousands of years of trial and error and countless wars of blood-shed, that humanity would have figured out the means of "abundant life." However, man has made for himself broken cisterns in his own strength that can hold no life giving water. The richness, possibility and potential of man (the soil of his soul) has continued to erode, rather than yielding fruit. As humanity (especially America) has forsaken the Fountain of Life, we have gradually witnessed the rich soil and moral foundation of this nation erode before our eyes.

No Republican, Democrat, or Independent politician will save our nation and solve its moral decay. Science and technology will not bring peace and security to our land. Only when we have repaired and rebuilt the FOUNTAIN GATE (a personal relationship with Jesus Christ) in our lives will we experience the true peace and security that the souls of mankind long for.

THE WATER GATE

"Moreover the Nethinim (common janitors) who dwelt in Ophel made repairs as far as the place in front of the Water Gate toward the East, and on the projecting tower." (Nehemiah 3:26)

Jesus says in John 7:38, "He who believes in Me, as the scripture said, 'from his innermost being shall flow rivers of living water." Of all that Jesus could have referred to Holy Spirit as, He chose to refer to Him as "water." He also stated that it would be out of our (yours and mine) innermost being shall flow the goodness, anointing, and power of the Holy Spirit.

I am sure that many reading this are convinced that they have an intimate and personal relationship with Holy Spirit. I truly hope so. However, many times I have found it just the opposite in my experience in the many churches that I have been to. I hear people constantly summoning and calling the Holy Spirit to come: "COME, HOLY SPIRIT, COME." I have studied this same phenomenon in the rituals of witchcraft. Summoning spirit(s) is dangerous, even with good intentions.

Father has placed His Holy Spirit within YOU. He has PROMISED to be present in a very special way when just two or more gather together in His name. Have you ever wondered why we do not experience the miraculous and supernatural power of God in our church meetings as they did in the early church? Could it be that we are confessing with our lips the true condition of our heart, in that we do not truly BELIEVE that the Holy Spirit is IN THE LIFE OF THE CHURCH -- the people of God? Why else would we be calling and summoning the Holy Spirit from some far and away place? The Spirit and presence of God is right inside of you, and He desires to manifest His love and power through you. The ANOINTING is simply believing and laying hold of this! You do not have to chase after man from conference to conference to receive the anointing of the Holy Spirit. He is only waiting on you to BELIEVE who you are in Christ and ... release and activate the Spirit of God within you through faith.

"Beware lest anyone cheat you through philosophy and empty deceit, according to the tradition of men, according to the basic principles of the world, and not according to Christ. For in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily; and you are complete in Him." (Colossians 2:8-10)

The Water Gate to the soul, when repaired and built, is the power of God manifested in the lives of His children. It is the receiving of the Holy Spirit that allows us to experience the fullness of God's best for our lives. Our destiny and purpose will never come to fruition without a personal relationship with Holy Spirit. When we come into intimacy with the Holy Spirit, we find ourselves clothed in the armor of God. We receive supernatural faith to lay hands on sick and to raise the dead. We receive the heart of God for a lost and dying world and our souls burn for the salvation of mankind.

"But you shall receive POWER when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be witnesses to Me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth." (Acts 1:8)

THE HORSE GATE

"Beyond the Horse Gate the priests made repairs, each in front of his own house." (Nehemiah 3:28)

We notice that the priests (you and I) made repairs to the Horse Gate in front of their own house. I believe that this is symbolic of our spiritual houses or places of corporate fellowship. When we read of "horses" in scripture, it usually points to a coming judgment or a consequence for sin. We see this clearly in the book of Revelation. Our heavenly Father is loving-kind and slow to anger. He is merciful and forgiving, but in His holiness, He must also be just. Without justice, there would be complete chaos and anarchy. The Bible says that Satan is the author of chaos or confusion.

God has always had to judge the nations (primarily cities) when they have changed their heart to believe that which was once thought to be good is now evil, and what was once evil is now acceptable. Whether it's Sodom and Gomorrah, the Greek and Roman Empires, or even the United States of America, their downfall and ultimate destruction was not from external forces, but from a sin that originated from within. I am sure that these nations and empires broke many of God's Commandments throughout their rise to prominence. However, there is a sin that will always cause God to draw a line – and once crossed, we can expect judgment. We can expect to be judged as a nation and church when homosexuality becomes acceptable in the fabric of our national, corporate, and spiritual lifestyle.

Paul stated that there is no greater sin than sinning against one's own body and Romans chapter 1 makes it clear that homosexuality is an abomination in the eyes of God. The Lord will not turn His face at this for much longer, especially in His church.

The Horse Gate also speaks of our judging one another. In the self-righteousness and pride within the church, we have found it our duty to replace God as the righteous judge. I believe that gossip runs more rampant in the church than it does in the world. I can make this statement because I function in both and I am not deaf!

We are simply murdering one another in our lust for feeling good about ourselves. When you talk about somebody behind their back, would you consider writing it down, signing, and mailing it to who you were talking about? If not, then you are partnering with the "Accuser of the brethren." One of the greatest areas that birth judgment is the misunderstanding of personalities and communication styles. It is in our human nature to find agreement with what is familiar to us. In the "Spiritual Jealousy" article, I used this example:

"A simple illustration would be if I were to ask a neighbor to borrow his truck to haul away something. Many prophetic people are direct and to the point by nature (black is black and white is white). Since this is how God has wired me and how I communicate, I would call and say something like this, "Hey David, how are you? Great. Hey, could I borrow your truck to move some large branches?" You notice that I waste no time in getting to the point. I am concerned about the value of time — for others and myself. I consider this a priority of thoughtfulness. On the other hand, David may call me with the same request. He may say, "Hey Danny, how is your week going? Great. So how are the wife and kids? Oh ... and by the way, I've got these large branches that the garbage collection cannot take away..." Obviously, the Lord has designed David and myself completely different in how we communicate. I am direct and to the point, whereas David is indirect, expressive and talkative.

Judgments can arise out of a simple phone conversation just like this example. Since David is very "round about" in his communication, I may perceive him as being "manipulative." Why? Because the only time that I talk "round about" is when I am trying to manipulate or get my way with something. On the other hand, David may perceive that I am arrogant and angry or lack compassion because of my lack of interest and directness. Why? Because the only time that David is direct and to the point is when he is angry. The reason this happens is because people base their judgments and opinions on their own disposition and personality. I have judged David as being manipulative, when in fact he was just expressing his interest in my life. David has judged me as arrogant, when I was just trying to be thoughtful and not to take up his time on a weekend. Essentially, we judge people in accordance with how we view OURSELVES as being correct or how WE do things.

The rebuilding of the Horse Gate to our soul is the recognition of God's justice and that He must judge sin. Every action committed by man will have its consequence. It is also the understanding that every word and action will render an eternal response. Everything that we say and do will reap its JUST reward.

THE EAST GATE

"After him Shemaiah the son of Shechaniah, the keeper of the East Gate made repairs." (Nehemiah 3:29)

The Bible says that Jesus Christ will return for His people through the East Gate to rule over all the earth. We are encouraged in scripture to anticipate and long for the Lord's return. There is a part of me that desires very much to be with Jesus and rest in His unimaginable love. However, there is this tension within the core of my being that desires not to miss my children growing up: to watch them grow in success and to be there if they hurt, to be there on their graduation and wedding day, and to bounce my grandchildren on my knee. And most importantly — growing in life with my precious wife as we age together.

This is the gate that I personally have the hardest time trying to keep in repair. I struggle with the possibility of missing these events that are so very dear me. I also dread the thought of leaving family members and friends who are unsaved. But do I DESIRE and look forward to seeing Christ at least as much? Does all of this really take a second seat to my desire for Christ? I wish I could honestly say yes at this point in my life. My head says that I do, but am not sure about my heart. It is showing me how far that I really need to go in my love and desire for Jesus. Does my quest for one more day to make a difference over-shadow my desire for Christ's return? We all need to come to a place in our lives where we have cultivated such a relationship with Christ, that He is the source of our LIVING.

In Matthew 10:37, Jesus says, "He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me. And he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me."

THE INSPECTION (JUDGMENT) GATE

"After him Malchijah, one of the goldsmiths, made repairs as far as the house of the Nethinim and of the merchants, in front of the Miphkad Gate." (Nehemiah 3:31)

The completing of the "gates to our soul" ends with the rebuilding of the Inspection or Judgment Gate. The rebuilding of this gate is the understanding that all who have ever lived will stand before the judgment seat of God. The Book of Life will be opened and the roll call of humanity will be read.

The impact of judgment is found in Luke 8:17. "For nothing is hidden that shall not become evident, nor anything secret that shall not be known and come to light." The word "secret" is really a word that is solely reserved for the Lord. What we hold to be secrets will someday be revealed and "become evident." Everything that we say and do behind closed doors will be proclaimed from the rooftops.

"There is NOTHING concealed that will not be disclosed, or hidden that will not be made known What you have said in the dark will be heard in the daylight, and what you have whispered in the ear in the inner room will be proclaimed from the housetops." (Luke 12:3)

There will always be consequences for our words and actions. The best parents are those who realize this and instill this understanding in the lives of their children. It is the same with our Heavenly Father. As Jesus hung on the cross, He had a hardened criminal on each side of Him. One mocked Jesus while the other asked for forgiveness. We know the story that Jesus forgave him and he joined Jesus in paradise that very day. This man's incredible salvation by the side of Jesus still did not relieve him from the pain of the cross. He still suffered the consequence for his actions.

I hope you see the prophetic time-line and where we are in history. We moved from the Sheep Gate (before history and creation) to the Inspection or Judgment Gate (the end of this age). We saw the importance of having strong gates to our soul that determine much of our spiritual and natural well-being. We have constructed a mighty spiritual wall of prayer along with strong gates to guard its openings. This picture is a type of security that we find in the Old Testament. We feel safe and secure within the walls that we have constructed around us. Our "gates" are repaired and there is no place for the enemy to get in. But is this the place and posture that Christ would have us?

Hebrews 13:12 says, "Therefore Jesus also, that He might sanctify the people through His own blood, suffered OUTSIDE THE GATE. Hence, let us go out to Him outside the camp?"

We do not have FREEDOM locked within our own walls and gates. The fortress walls and gates that we have been building is not to protect you from Satan, but to lock Satan within them. Whom the Son sets free is free indeed! Your posture is not defensive, but offensive in the pulling down of strongholds. You are free and victorious outside the gate with Christ!

GATES OF THE SOUL - Part 3

Danny Korakas

The last two weeks we have looked at the ten gates in Nehemiah 3. We saw that the gates of the soul were the openings to our "temple" that determined our spiritual, physical, and emotional make-up. We also saw a time-line in history that God had laid out within the position of the gates.

We traveled from the Sheep Gate (Before creation) to the Fish Gate (The creation and the commission of mankind to subdue darkness and be fishers of men), to the Old Gate (The giving of God's Word), to the Valley Gate (The humility needed to empower the Grace of God's Word in our lives), to the Refuse Gate (A lifestyle of repentance in the midst of a pagan culture), to the Fountain Gate (The birth of Christ), to the Water Gate (The outpouring and receiving of the Holy Spirit), to the Horse Gate (Judgment), to the East Gate (The return of Christ and our expectation of His return), to the Inspection Gate (The Great White Throne and the Book Of Life). The number 10 represents a decision and we must choose how we will respond to these gates in our lives. Finally, we saw that the "walls" and "gates" were to imprison and bind Satan and not to enclose ourselves. Our freedom is with Christ outside the gate. (Hebrews 13:12-13)

It is interesting to note that even the distances between the gates represent or scale the years of history perfectly. For instance, the distance from the Sheep Gate to the Old Gate would represent approximately 2300 years. The distance between the Fountain (Birth of Christ) and Water Gate (The outpouring of Holy Spirit) are virtually within steps of each other. We see a remarkable long distance between the Water and the Horse Gate. (I believe that society has chosen not to differentiate what is morally acceptable from what is morally wrong and have embraced what was once wrong as right. We have entered into the Horse Gate of history.) Ironically, there is a very close distance between the Horse Gate and the East Gate with the Inspection or Judgment Gate within steps of the East Gate.

There are two more gates listed in the book of Nehemiah that are outside of chapter 3 that I have saved for our last part in this series — The Gate of Ephraim and the Gate of the Prison. These two gates are not listed with the others. I believe that man has no part to play in the construction of these gates. These gates are solely the work of the Lord.

THE GATE OF EPHRAIM

"Then the people went out and brought them and made themselves booths, (Tabernacles) each one on the roof of his house, or in their courtyards or the courts of the house of God, and in the open square of the Water Gate and in the open square of the Gate of Ephraim. And there was very great gladness." (Nehemiah 8:16-17)

"Those of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, And their heart shall rejoice as if with wine. Yes, their children shall see it and be glad; Their heart shall rejoice in the Lord." (Zechariah 10:7)

The word or name "Ephraim" when spoken in a prophetic context in scripture is usually conveyed by the Lord to represent the people or nation of Israel. The church has taken an "INTEREST" in its Jewish Roots, but I believe that we are passing through this gate with a hunger to "EMBRACE" our Jewish roots. The purpose of this is not to create shrines or dress in the latest Jewish paraphernalia, but that we would find identification with our HERITAGE and BIRTHRIGHT. Our reconciliation with our Jewish roots is for the purpose of God restoring the church to right relationship with the Jewish people and to provoke them to jealousy through the Feasts of the Lord. Many have pondered how we are to provoke the Jew to jealousy. Well, it certainly will not come through our past track record of persecuting and criticism of the Jews. The provocation will come through the only thing that has miraculously held them together as a people and nation for thousands of years — many of these years without a land to call their own. The Lord gave His people the Feasts to keep as an EVERLASTING ordinance. (Exodus 12:14) The last time I looked up "everlasting," it still meant everlasting ... which I believe includes today.

When the Jews see and experience the church partaking of the intended supernatural blessings of the Feasts, they will come and see their identification to Yeshua — whom the Feasts represent and point to. Likewise, they will sense their welcome back into the true church and see the Communion of the Lord's Supper as their Passover Lamb. Notice that I said TRUE church. The heart and core of most of the visions and words spoken by the prophets were directed toward God's commitment to restore Israel to her land, salvation, and intimate relationship with Himself.

True prophets of the Lord will have a heart and message for the reconciliation of the Jew to Yeshua and for reconciliation of the Jew to the church that THEY gave birth to. Since Satan realizes that the restoration of the Jewish people and the return of Christ mark his end, he has ceaselessly tried to silence the words of the prophet from being received and fulfilled. Tragically, Satan has been very successful through the guise of religion to silence people's ears to the gift and voice of prophecy.

"Thus says the Lord, who gives the sun for a light by day, the ordinances of the moon and the stars for a light by night, who disturbs the sea, and its waves roar (The Lord of hosts is His name): "If those ordinances (concerning Israel) depart from before Me, says the Lord, Then the seed of Israel shall also cease from being a nation before Me forever." Thus says the Lord: "If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they have done, says the Lord." (Jeremiah 31:35-37)

The pattern and plot of Satan should be obvious to all believers. He has sought the complete destruction and annihilation of the Jewish people and nation. From the holocaust of murder and genocide to the assimilation of the entire race into foreign lands — the enemy knows that if Israel ceases as a nation, the words of the prophets would have been rendered powerless and the return of Christ yet to be promised.

Sadly, a false church that has lived under the guise of "Christianity" has contributed the most to the present situation of the Jewish people in their relationship with Yeshua and the true remnant church. Satan made his way into the church as an "anti-christ" spirit. (Christ means "anointed one" or "smeared with oil." The anti-christ spirit is the anti-ANOINTING spirit or a spirit that resists the anointing of God upon His people.) The church has experienced the affects of this spirit through an environment and system that has dismissed the prophetic voice as one of yesteryear and the belief that it died with the apostles. This shifted the church from its Hebraic pattern and model that Jesus founded to a hierarchal system of traditions and doctrines that have their "roots" in Greek and Roman principles.

As soon as "mans" model was INSTITUTED, the scripture, along with prophecy, was taken from the common man and buried in the quagmire of religious systems and bureaucrats. The result is that the true Biblical church left its heritage and root system for an unbiblical model. Consequently, its growth withered and the fullness of God's blessing was not realized (because He blesses those who bless Israel). Sadly, this institution carried the name "church" and claimed an allegiance to Jesus. Truth is, they never KNEW Jesus. Nor were they the real CHURCH. What we often read as "Church History"is no more than "World History."

The "church" thought its moral and spiritual "duty" was to threaten the Jew into a conversion that in no way resembled their worship of Yahweh. These brood of vipers made it impossible for the Jew to come to a faith in Christ because their "religion" resembled the pagan world system that the Lord had commanded them to resist! This is tragic because up to this time through the third century, the Jew's were coming to Christ in great numbers all over the known world.

It is almost incomprehensible to think that an institution called the "church" would brutalize and murder Jews into forced Greco-Roman conversion. I can only praise God that He is raising up a true apostolic and prophetic voice to declare the heart of God for the Jewish people and nation. The restoration that has begun will take the church from that of a wild and grafted branch to one new man (Both Jew and Gentile) in Christ — a branch that LOOKS and ACTS like it always belonged. As we read earlier in the days of Nehemiah — there will be a "very great gladness" as we tabernacle together as one new man in Messiah.

THE GATE OF THE PRISON

"The other thanksgiving choir went the opposite way, and I was behind them with half the people on the wall, going past the Tower of the Ovens as far as the Broad Wall, and above the Gate of Ephraim, above the Old Gate, above the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hananel, the Tower of the Hundred, as far as the Sheep Gate; and they STOPPED by the Gate of the Prison." (Nehemiah 12:38-39)

The Gate of the Prison is a gate that many people avoid facing and rebuilding in their lives. The reason that this is so unpopular is because people have been conditioned to FEAR death more than they fear the Lord. One of the greatest attributes of prophetic ministry in these last days will be the preparing of people for the certainty of death. I know ... I know. This is not a popular subject, but it is one that we need to face to be the Christian witness that the Lord has called us to be.

All of the "Christian" movies and books that are about end-time events, and so popular, seem to focus on the self-importance and SURVIVALIST mentality that grips humanity. If "survivalism" is the primary focus and mentality of the church as we approach the last days, we will have missed one of our greatest hours and opportunities to see literally millions of people come into ETERNAL salvation. Paul commends us in scripture to "finish strong." I believe there is more here than we may see on the surface. The church needs a prophetic voice to challenge and encourage the saints of God to live a life ready to die for the Gospel of Jesus Christ. According to Jesus, "there is no greater love than this." We also need to live everyday as if it were our last. Is this not truly living? When everything, including the mask of religion, is stripped away and our heart is exposed, we must ask ourselves the question, "Are we willing to lay it all down for Christ?" Is this not the true barometer of our faith and relationship with Christ? To finish strong is to die with DIGNITY and without regrets as we stand before Christ in that day to hear, "Well done, My good and faithful servant."

I know these may be hard words for some to digest. However, the days are quickly approaching where the church is going to stand in the midst of persecution or run and survive. What are you going to do when you must make a choice between your job and Christ? Will you deny Christ over your bank account, life savings, dreams and plans? We must remember that when times such as these come upon the church, God will not allow you to endure more than you can handle. Your victory over evil and darkness is the seed of ETERNITY in the lives of others who need to see Christ in you.

You are not reading this by accident and I declare and prophesy that you WILL stand firm for Christ. You will fix your eyes on heaven and the Glory of His eternal presence and splendor. You will know that the Lord is your provider and although you have been tested a short time in the evening hour, blessing will come to you in the morning. Resist the devil and he will flee. Do not run My children, but stand firm in the armor called by My name. All of creation cries out for the redemption of My people. There are so many, so many who are looking to you as My witness. Be strong, My dear ones, as the battle intensifies and the nations rage against one another in their greed and lust for the things of this world. You are My people. A people called and appointed to be My arms of love in the midst of anger and My face when another needs comfort in a sea of trials and tribulation. You are My feet to seek out the lost and those without hope. I could have chosen you for any other time in history. I have known you before the dawn of days, but I saved you for such a time as this. I have saved you for the last of the last days because there is something very special that I have created in you. You are special in that you will be a bride worthy of My return — a people who speak My words and exhibit My love for the lost and dying.

One of the central tasks of the apostle and prophet is to minister to people who are hurting and broken. The prophets of old spoke words of truth, but also of HOPE. A refinement in the prophetic voice must take place today for the days ahead that are quickly approaching. People who are suffering in "escapism" and denial because they have been told that Christians don't suffer will need a word of hope. Those who have lost jobs and homes are not going to need another good sermon, they are going to need a word straight from the heart of God to give them hope. Those who are unsaved and on their death-bed need YOU to give them a word of hope that comes through Jesus Christ.

Since you have been reading this article, literally thousands of people from around the world have passed through Prison Gate and into an eternal hell. The church is tired of "cliche'"words concerning OUR different "types" of anointings, Charismatic phrases of third this and third that. They are tired of prophets disagreeing whether good dreams can be in black and white. They are tired of this movement and that movement when they just want to experience Christ moving in their lives. They are tired of our titles and lack of function through the compassion and love of Christ for the hurting and unsaved. Their disgust of "apostolic control" as "set men" is well founded and talked about behind their backs. Yes, it is true that David never insulted or attacked Saul. But David left Saul's camp as well. Your unsaved neighbors and those with needs in the church could care less about our "Third Apostolic Kingdom Come Enter Into The Rest -24/7 Later Rain, On Fire, Blowing Wind Outporing." They need a person who will stand in the gap with them and build a wall by interceding for them. They need someone like Nehemiah to encourage them to build strong gates around their temple and to SPEAK into their lives the love and power of Jesus Christ. (The purpose of our conference this Spring is to do just that – To equip and encourage the people of God to reach the lost and hurting through prophetic ministry that is applicable to everyday life.)

"There was a certain rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen and fared sumptuously every day. But there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, full of sores who was laid at his GATE." (Luke 16:19-20)

The clothing of the rich man gave away His identity. The color purple and the fact that the man was wearing "linen" would indicate that he was most likely a priest. Like so many priests of that day, he knew a lot about the scripture, but failed to recognize the heart and fulfillment of it (Jesus Christ).

The story of Lazarus and the rich man strikes images in our mind of a man who was so selfishly consumed with his agenda that he neglected the pressing needs of others around him — even those right outside HIS GATE and within his reach. We never read that the rich man ever committed a terrible sin or crime, but we still visualize and see a man who received his just penalty of eternal hell. The mature prophet understands that this is not the end of the story. The mature prophet recognizes in the preceding verses that Jesus had been speaking to the "religious" Pharisees and sees clearly that there was no mention of Lazarus ever telling the rich man about the love and forgiveness of Jesus Christ. Lazarus was a believer and saved by grace, but he, like the unbelieving rich man, was only concerned with HIS need. I cannot speak for Lazarus, but I do know that the rich man (much too late) realized the importance of telling and warning his family and friends of the reality of the "prison" of Hell and the forgiveness that comes through faith in Jesus Christ.

Islam Cast The First Stone
Danny Korakas

Dear friends and list members,

If you are new to our newsletter you may want to go back to the "Islam - An Introduction" in the article archive at www.watermarkministry.injesus.com or click on the "injesus" tab at the top of your newsletter for a shortcut. This series moves in an historical time line...Coming in the middle may cause some difficulties in understanding. Each article picks up where the previous left off. dk

To most Meccans, the cause and new religion of Muhammad must have seemed all but lost. However, his fortunes and were about to unexpectantly turn. Pilgrims from Medina on a visit to the Kaba seemed attentive to the Islamic cause of Arab unity. Six listeners became totally committed to the message and carried the doctrine back to Medina. The next year (around 622) twelve prominent Medinians met secretly with Muhammad outside of Mecca. This would be called "The First Pledge of Aqaba." A Medinian elder at this point stated, "We have listened to your words...Our lives are at the prophets service. The spread of Islam had begun and Muhammad would now set up his headquarters in Medina.

It would be in Medina that many of the Islamic rituals and rites would be birthed. The five daily prayers, Friday sermons, the Ramadan fast, and the call of the "muezzin" all developed in Medina. The muezzin is the Islamic call to prayer. The Jewish trumpet and the Christian bell were consided by Muhammad until someone had suggested a human voice. So Muhammad directed his big servant Bilal to stand on the roof at the five determined hours to cry-out, "great is the lord! Great is the lord! I bear witness that Muhammad is the prophet of God. Come unto prayer. Come unto salvation. god is great! god is great! There is god but the lord." This began the office or title of the muezzin.

Medina had several Jewish enclaves or large clans from the time of the Babylonian invasion of Israel under Nebuchadnezzer. The Jewish rejection of Muhammad's message came as a serious blow to him. However, most Arabs embraced Islam as an alternative over the many civil wars and tribal disputes that had ravished the area for years. (Most Arabs, however, still mocked Muhammad's view of god and morality) These people would go down in Islamic history as the "hypocrites" who would be distinguished from the "ansar" or "helpers" who added the Muslim cause.

During this time, the Jews would be forced to resist Muhammad's doctrine of Islam. Accepting it meant rejecting Judaism. Islam stated that Jesus (The Jewish Messiah) had certainly come, but one greater than Jesus was now at hand and he was not Jewish, but Arab. Muhammad was initially counting on the Jews as a means of defense against certain warfare and attacks. This would become contentious with some interesting scenarios. Since Muhammad had already publically stated that the Jews were the original people of God, would their opposition mean that god was against the prophet? The Jews knew the scriptures much better than Muhammad and would put him to the test during several encounters.

During one of Muhammad's sermons, he was asked by the Jews why he could not cure As'ad, one of the original converts from Medina who was stricken with a cough and dying? (History had already documented healings and people raised from the dead upon the testimony of many witnesses what Jesus had accomplished to back-up His claim of divinity.) Biographers at that time noted the frustration when Muhammad frantically stated, "I have no power of the lord over even my own life, or over that of my followers. Let the lord destroy the Jews that speak thus."

Another question was posed to Muhammad to test his self avowed allegiance to the Mosaic Law. Muhammad's response would draw a definitive line even more clearer of the differences between himself and Jesus Christ. Some Jews had caught a couple in adultery, and asked Muhammad what should be done to them? To demonstrate his commitment and devotion to the Mosaic Law, Muhammad declared that they be stoned to death. The documented record preserves a gruesome scene of the man trying in vain to protect the woman as the rocks cascaded upon them. Believe it or not, this tale is told and recounted to assure Muslims of the "prophet's" adherence to scripture. This stands in stark and absolute contrast to the response of Christ when He encountered the same situation. Jesus said, "Let him who has not sinned cast the first stone."(John 8:7)

The Lord gave us this New Testament account to attest to the mercy of Christ. It also shows us a picture of man's futility in keeping with the Mosaic Law. Who could possibly meet the minimum requirement of the Law? If man must rely on performance and moral laws as his means of hope and salvation, he is truly lost. We may ask, "How can mankind be saved?" My dear Muslim, only by God Himself. Only by the Son of God Himself who met the demand of the Law and moral code on our behalf. Jesus Christ became your sacrifice and substitute when he freely offered His life on the cross.

I believe that these examples were allowed by God to show us the futility of unaided and Christ-less human effort in attaining salvation. It also should provide an appeal and hope for those who have never heard the Gospel and have been under the burden and heavy yoke of Islam that never provides rest for the soul and a clear conscious toward God. The relationship of love that Jesus Christ offers is the solution that neither Muhammad, the Koran, or Islam has ever addressed. They have never addressed GRACE. Grace is God's unmerited LOVE for mankind. If we are honest with ourselves, we all have the need to be loved – Of all that God could have chosen to call Himself, He simply said, "I am love." Could this be the real reason that Islam prohibits (on the threat of death) the Gospel of Jesus Christ to be shared in Muslim countries? Could the clear faults in the Islamic doctrine be the manifestation of eternal insecurity – that a Muslim who converts to Christianity will be put to death?

Muhammad imposed a tax in the name of "god." This would provide further trouble to Islamic doctrine. The Medinian Jews said, "If Allah required their tax money, then they must be richer than Allah."

Muhammad went on record as saying, "god is aware of the Jewish blasphemy." Muhammad later told Abu Bakr, "They shall taste the punishment of burning." (Sura 3:116)

It seems from a logical conclusion that the Koran is not a holy book inspired by God, but a means of propaganda and a journal of Muhammad's evolving thoughts when confronted with TRUTH. The Koran is clearly void of anything relationally positive and the offering of hope for mankind. It is a handbook of ridged moral codes that not one Muslim will be able keep. His hope of salvation is never satisfied and will live a life of doubt in striving to be good enough to make it to heaven under the frailty of his own strength. Under this yoke, the Muslim's only assurance is to murder an infidel. Think about that for moment.

I hope that these articles will not only bring you understanding concerning one of the greatest spiritual enemies and battles we are facing, but that you would pray for the Muslim to be loosed from the bondage of Islam and saved through the power and love of Jesus Christ.

God For Us

Paul Ekemezie

Nosike_ekemezie@yahoo.com

God being for or against a person made the difference between Jesus and Adam, Moses and Pharaoh, David and Saul, etc. What is the benefit in God being for a person?

Rom 8:31-32—What, then, shall we say in response to this? If God is for us, who can be against us? 32He who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all-how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things?

If God is for a person, no person and nothing can be (or prevail) against him/her. Another way to put it is that God will graciously give the person all things. I will expatiate on this point later in this article. First of all there is need to uncover the condition a person must fulfill in order to have God be for him/her.

Why is Jesus greater than Adam? Most Christians will answer that the reason is simply that Jesus is God and Adam was a mere man. I don't contest that, but we have virtually nothing helpful to learn from such an answer. What I mean by nothing helpful is that we wouldn't be able to copy Jesus, and so have God be for us. Can any person like myself seek to become God in order to have God be for him/her as He was for Jesus?

Matt 3:17—And a voice from heaven said, "This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased."

John 8:29—The one who sent me is with me; he has not left me alone, for I always do what pleases him."

In Matt 3:17, God declares that He is well pleased with Jesus. In John 8:29, Jesus declares that the reason why God is always with Him is because He (Jesus) always do what pleases God. So, here we see two issues: election and responsibility. Jesus was elected to be the Son of God and He lived up to the responsibility. Adam was elected to be a son of God (Luke 3:38) but he could not live up to the responsibility. What was the responsibility required? It was simply to believe the word of the Lord. The Spirit quickened facts and prophecies concerning the Messiah to Jesus, and He went about speaking them concerning Himself. Consequently, He went about fulfilling them. Adam didn't believe the word that God gave him, and that led to his fall.

Moses was elected to lead Israel out of the land of Egypt. His ministry never took off until the word of God came to him and he believed. The ministry continued for as long as he never deviated from God's word. The moment he deviated, his ministry came to an end. Pharaoh never believed God's word and brought calamities upon himself and his kingdom.

David was a strong believer in God's word, as you see in Psa 119. That has made him the most popular of Israel's kings forever. Saul disobeyed God's word due to unbelief and not only did he lose his kingship, he brought calamity on his family and his nation.

Num 23:19—God is not a man, that he should lie, nor a son of man, that he should change his mind. Does he speak and then not act? Does he promise and not fulfill?

Ps 130:5-8—I wait for the LORD, my soul waits, and in his word I put my hope. 6My soul waits for the Lord more than watchmen wait for the morning, more than watchmen wait for the morning. 7O Israel put your hope in the LORD, for with the LORD is unfailing love and with him is full redemption. 8He himself will redeem Israel from all their sins.

Ezek 12:21-27—The word of the LORD came to me: 22"Son of man, what is this proverb you have in the land of Israel: `The days go by and every vision comes to nothing'? 23Say to them, `This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am going to put an end to this proverb, and they will no longer quote it in Israel.' Say to them, `The days are near when every vision will be fulfilled. 24For there will be no more false visions or flattering divinations among the people of Israel. 25But I the LORD will speak what I will, and it shall be fulfilled without delay. For in your days, you rebellious house, I will fulfill whatever I say, declares the Sovereign LORD.'"

26The word of the LORD came to me: 27"Son of man, the house of Israel is saying, `The vision he sees is for many years from now, and he prophesies about the distant future.'

28"Therefore say to them, `This is what the Sovereign LORD says: None of my words will be delayed any longer; whatever I say will be fulfilled, declares the Sovereign LORD.'"

Job 22:21-30—"Submit to God and be at peace with him; in this way prosperity will come to you. 22Accept instruction from his mouth, and lay up his words in your heart. 23If you return to the Almighty, you will be restored: If you remove wickedness far from your tent 24and assign your nuggets to the dust, your gold of Ophir to the rocks in the ravines, 25then the Almighty will be your gold, the choicest silver for you. 26Surely then you will find delight in the Almighty and will lift up your face to God. 27You will pray to him, and he will hear you, and you will fulfill your vows. 28What you decide on will be done, and light will shine on your ways. 29When men are brought low and you say, `Lift them up!' then he will save the downcast. 30He will deliver even one who is not innocent, who will be delivered through the cleanness of your hands."

These four quoted passages of Scripture are very significant. Num 23:19 makes it very clear that God must fulfill His word. Psa 130:5 urges us to wait, if the fulfillment of God's word seems to delay; He must eventually fulfill His word. Ezek 12:21-27 is the word for this year 2004. Time for delays is over. Job 22:21-30 applies very much to some Christians who received prophetic words concerning their future ministries in the past. They have been waiting almost endlessly to enter their destinies. Such people should read this article with seriousness of purpose, for they will learn in it how to break into their destinies.

I have already indicated above that God being for us depends on election and living up to the necessary responsibility.

Rom 8:28-30—And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose. 29For those God foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the likeness of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. 30And those he predestined, he also called; those he called, he also justified; those he justified, he also glorified.

Matt 22:14(KJV)—For many are called, but few are chosen.

Some people overemphasize "predestination", to the extent that they virtually exclude any responsibility on the part of man. But Rom 8:29 begins by saying that God foreknew those that would live up to the responsibility of their call, and so predestined them. In the fullness of time, these people were justified and later glorified. Matt 22:14 makes us to understand that God places His call on a large number of people, by arranging for them to hear the gospel. Those who respond acceptably to the gospel they've heard are justified. Those who live up to the responsibility demanded by the justification are then glorified.

Acts 2:38—"Repent and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. And you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit."

Rom 6:3-4—Or don't you know that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? 4We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life.

God expects those who have received the gospel to repent and be baptized. The purpose of baptism is the forgiveness of our sins and anyone whose sins are forgiven receives the gift of the Holy Spirit. It is not the immersion in water (or sprinkling, or whatever) that brings the forgiveness but the faith that underlies the whole activity. Whether you are talking about infant or adult baptism, or immersion or sprinkling or pouring of water on the head, what faith exists in the heart of the one being baptized? Rom 6:3-4 says that the person being baptized should believe in his/her heart that he/she is being united with the death (or blood) of Jesus Christ.

Rom 3:25-26—God presented him as a sacrifice of atonement, through faith in his blood. He did this to demonstrate his justice, because in his forbearance he had left the sins committed beforehand unpunished- 26he did it to demonstrate his justice at the present time, so as to be just and the one who justifies those who have faith in Jesus.

Heb 10:10, 14—And by that will, we have been made holy through the sacrifice of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

Because by one sacrifice he has made perfect forever those who are being made holy.

Do you believe God’s word that the blood that Jesus shed on the cross at Calvary is for your justification? If you do, God credits it to you as righteousness (cf: Rom 4:1-8). Heb 10 says that, in fact, for simply believing God, God’s record of you in heaven is that you are a holy man/woman; a perfect man/woman. Here on earth we are too shy to accept perfection by faith, but God’s record of you in heaven is exactly that. And it now remains to align your experience on earth with the record in heaven. Every spiritual process must be initiated in heaven. Then, through prayer and other actions of yours, His will could be done on earth as it is recorded in heaven.

Our responsibility

Now that your sins have been forgiven due to your faith in the blood of Jesus, and you have thereby received the gift of the Holy Spirit (given only to those whom God credits holiness), what next? The next thing should be to align your experiences on earth with your record in heaven. God is for you, but it is by faith that you ensure that nobody and nothing can be (or prevail) against you. How do you ensure this?

Rom 8:32—He who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all-how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things?

God gave the blood or life of His Son in order to redeem us. Did He go to that length just in order to get the caliber of Christians we have today? Was it not sin that separated man from God? Are Christians totally free from sin? We all know the answers to these questions. The problem lies with man’s inability to live up to the responsibility expected of him. This inability is largely due to lack of knowledge (Hos 4:6).

Rom 1:4—And who through the Spirit of holiness was declared with power to be the Son of God by his resurrection from the dead: Jesus Christ our Lord.

Rom 1:16—I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the power of God for the salvation of everyone who believes: first for the Jew, then for the Gentile.

1 Cor 1:18—For the message of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.

1 Cor 2:2, 5—For I resolved to know nothing while I was with you except Jesus Christ and him crucified.

5So that your faith might not rest on men's wisdom, but on God's power.

2 Peter 1:3-4—His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness. 4Through these he has given us his very great and precious promises, so that through them you may participate in the divine nature and escape the corruption in the world caused by evil desires.

Eph 1:18-21—I pray also that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened in order that you may know the hope to which he has called you, the riches of his glorious inheritance in the saints, 19and his incomparably great power for us who believe. That power is like the working of his mighty strength, 20which he exerted in Christ when he raised him from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly realms, 21far above all rule and authority, power and dominion, and every title that can be given, not only in the present age but also in the one to come.

All the above quoted passages of Scripture deal with "the power of God." The responsibility that is expected from us is "faith in the power of God". The basis of this faith is simply that God gave up His Son in order to be for us. He is on our side, with His power. Rom 1:4, speaking about Jesus, says that through the Spirit of holiness God declared Him with power to be the Son of God. The same God has given us the same Spirit of holiness, so that by this Spirit He will raise us up from our current conditions and declare us with power to be His sons (the manifestation of sons of God—Rom 8:19). The power of God is released for us, as we believe that he backs His word with His power.

1 John 4:16—And so we know and rely on the love God has for us.

We need to know the extent of love that God has for us, and realize that because of that love there is nothing that God cannot do for us, as we trust in His word. Let me give a practical example. You are suffering from one kind of infirmity or disease or the other. One day you come to the realization that God is for you. You simply turn to whatever that is responsible for the infirmity or disease and tell it or them that because God is for you they have no right to be against you. On that basis, you command them to cease all their work against you.

It is not only infirmity or disease that one can overcome by relying on the love that God has for us. The most important (Matt 6:33) is sin. Tell that sinful character or habit that Christ died in order to free you from it and that God is for you; God will contend with any sin that contends with you (Psa 35). On that basis, command the sin to cease its operation in your life.

This principle is not only useful for self-deliverance; it is also powerful for delivering other people (see Job 22:21-30 quoted above). That is why the starting point in delivering other people must be preaching the gospel to them. If they thereby believe in justification by the blood of Jesus, you can then command every power of the evil one against their lives to cease operation against them.

This is the mandate for which I have called you. You shall run with passion in your heart for the Lord your God. You shall be counted amongst the Elect. You will be brought into the fullness. I will write My word upon your heart, engrave it in your mind. You are able to carry it out and into the places ordained for you. This is the call to which I have called you. This is the mandate, to run with great grace into those things prepared for you.

Lift up your head and do not be bent low, for I have lifted the veil and appeared to you in truth. I am the Lord of Heaven, the Maker of Heaven and Earth. I am the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords and I shall reign. I shall reign in the hearts and lives of those who know My name, and just as I promised, I shall take you on and into the fulfillment.

This is a day of change, a day of great anticipation. I will clothe you in righteousness, in garments of praise. I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life. My life I give to you. Walk in the way, the narrow way. Understand that I have been at work behind the scenes, putting all into proper place and perspective. Dance, delight yourself in Me. Be set free to sing and praise My name. Be free to make My ways known to all who are searching for truth.

Gain momentum. Move in the direction I would lead you. Go in accordance with My will and purpose. Make Me the center of all you do, and when you are caught in a dry place, let Me wash over you with My love and humility, for there is no other way to move into the fullness than to let Me walk you on and into momentum with My Spirit.

Produce fruit for the kingdom. Declare praise within the assembly. Declare My ways to the people. Let Me lift you out of complacency and position you with a trumpet onto front lines. Reach for the top and do not stop short of what I have made available for you. I will usher you on. I will cause the passion you once knew to be rekindled and to bring life to multitudes within your jurisdiction.

Ample opportunities are coming your way to be taken into the mainstream of ministry. Study the details. Have them firmly established in your mind. I will use you to implement the things being taught you, the skills being dispensed to you. This is the way outlined to you, so go forward in it. I will qualify you for the job. I will give you the tools to perform tasks set before you. I will equip you with everything you need. Venture out and in the direction opening before you and I will lead you into all I have promised to you. I will take you into the mainstream in ministry, but also into the marketplace, and great skill and expertise will carry you into areas of newness.

Open wide your heart to receive all I am pouring into you in this day. Receive love and blessing from a Heavenly Father who will never abandon His own. Walk out in liberty. I will break the power of the enemy to dissuade you from moving forward, so press in and press on and into all I have for you, and I will see to it that you prosper in this day!

Galilean Tapestry

Rimona Frank

> Isaiah 9:1: "But there will be no more gloom for her who was in anguish; in earlier times He treated the land of Zebulon and the land of Naphtali with contempt, but later on He shall make it glorious, by the way of the sea, on the other side of the Jordan, Galilee of the Nations.

Galilee - "Galil" – province, region or district in Hebrew. The "province or district of the nations" has truly lived up to its name. Being Israel's northernmost region, throughout history it has seen many civilizations come and go. Being a region of varied topography it has also drawn people of various interests for multiple reasons who were engaged in many types of occupations. During this past week's visit to that colorful region, a window was opened so that we could gaze into the rich tapestry formed by time, people and place. The Galilee was certainly the rock bed upon which the modern restoration of Jewish settlement in the Land of Israel was established. This intricate process, which is by no means over, is commemorated and demonstrated in assorted ways in the Galilee's towns and villages.

The Galilee's western border is formed by the shore line of the Mediterranean Sea. Between Acre, an ancient port city that has seen Muslim and Crusader conquerors with memories even of Napoleon Bonaparte, and Nahariya, a seventy year old town that was founded by mostly German Jews, is the living monument to the European Holocaust – Kibbutz Lohamey Ha'geta'ot – "Ghetto Fighters" Kibbutz. The kibbutz type of settlement was the Jewish pioneers' answer to millennia of oppression and repression of various forms. Agricultural communities of mutual help, accountability and egalitarianism of and for all its members was the new lifestyle envisioned by the young men and women who resolved to shake off the dust of exile and Diaspora. In the Ghetto Fighters' kibbutz this takes on a far greater meaning. The founders of this kibbutz (in 1949), survivors and ghetto fighters, did not only shake off the dust of Diaspora, they were literally reborn from the ashes of the inferno of the crematoriums and burning ghettos and themselves became living monuments to a Jewry that perished in the Holocaust. In a totally new and vigorous lifestyle they, by their own admittance, "raised to the burning ghetto a monument of life… a life that will never cease…" It was in the museum and study center which they established for the purpose of documenting the atrocities, the culture that was lost, the victims, the resistance fighters, the acts of heroism and yes… even the hopes, that we began our Galilee exploration experience. These salvaged firebrands themselves stocked the fires of life in order to allow others to participate in the life kindling, albeit tragic, memories.

On one of the walls, next to some poignant drawings and paintings, we read the following poem. It deals with Joseph's counterpart, if you will, whose cry for redemption is still resounding:

The Coat of the Prison Camper

And his brethren envied him not
For the many-tracks* coat
With which they too were clad
When from the (train) tracks they were dragged.

And he did not dream, nor offer wise talk,
And there was no one to arise from the stalk.
And it was not a goat
That in blood was soaked.

Neither was it recognized by their father the sage
For many were the children of his old age,
And he only murmured, “A savage beast!”
And he never laid eyes on them again as long as he lived.

(Translated from a poem by Avner Trainin)

* In Hebrew the coat is of “many stripes/tracks”, same word as the tracks of a train.

Aside from the many exhibits dedicated to the Holocaust, there is an entire floor where pre-Second World War Zionist activities among Jewish youth around the world are depicted. Tens of different Jewish youth movements existed from the end of the 19th century all the way to and through the Second World War, each with its own political slant, yet all focused on the need for the sons of Judah to unite as a viable entity and to act together. By far the majority of them set their goal on “aliya” (immigration to the Land of Israel), and on building a healthy, prosperous new life here. For that purpose they went into rigorous training in their homelands. They not only had to adjust themselves to a new life style, but they also saw the need to adjust to a different mentality of the “new Jew”. They had to ward off objections from the older generation, from authorities and community leaders and sometimes from their own peers, not to speak of physical, financial and cultural challenges that their aspirations presented them with. And so, in order to take a journey into the Galilee, we had to go back to a past which nurtured the resettlement of this region in our times.

We then crisscrossed the central Galilee in order to get to our destination which was the north-western shore of the Kinneret (Sea of Galilee) and as we did, bird’s eye views of colorful valleys availed themselves to us. On one of the bare hilltops that we frequented lay the remains of Yodfat, a Galilean town which took part in the Great Jewish Revolt against the Romans in 66 A.D. In the year 67 the town fell after 47 days of heroic resistance. The leader of the revolt was captured in the town, and was one of the few not to be put to death. His name was Josephus and he became the historian of these battles whose writings are almost commonplace even in our own day and age.

Traveling through the winding roads of Arab and Druze (a Middle-Eastern sect, the Druze are not regarded as Muslims by other Muslims, but they regard themselves as such, having no national aspirations they are generally loyal to their host countries) villages which pepper the Galilean hills, we finally ‘landed’ by the green and lush shores of the Sea of Galilee, in a guest house located on another kibbutz. Kibbutz Ginosar is named after the biblical Gennesareth (Mat. 14:34). The Valley of Gennesareth (or Ginosar in Hebrew), and its fertility, is also mentioned in the Mishna part of the Talmud.

One of Kibbutz Ginosar’s founders, who was also at the helm of the battle for independence and one of the leaders of Israel’s Labor movement, was Yig’al Alon.

Ginosar’s museum is named after him, and is a real open window into life in the Galilee, past and present. Although a military genius, Yig’al Alon’s vision and faith were focused on interrelationships with the Arab population, and thus the museum portrays not only the Jewish settlements in the Galilee, but also Arab life; both in the villages and in the towns; the Bedouin shepherd's nomadic lifestyle against the artisans and merchants and their traditions. In fact, along the shoreline, at the back of the edifice, are placed environmental sculptures which are the result of a joint effort of Galilee Jews and Arabs.

Jewish life in the Galilee during the Mishnaic and Talmudic times is also introduced, as after the first and second Jewish revolts and the sacking of Jerusalem (first and second centuries A.D.), the Galilee became the center of Jewish religion and learning for those Jews that still remained in the Land. In the museum we learned about the (late) 19th and (early to middle) 20th centuries settlers' dual role of building homes and farmsteads in desolate and unfriendly physical conditions, while having to deal with frequent Arab rioting and foreign overlords' hostility (first the Turks and then the British). The difficult decision making in many an instance, where life threatening situations presented themselves to young and inexperienced leaders who shouldered heavy moral responsibilities, is featured prominently among the museum's inter-active exhibits. Some of these documentations present a very different picture from the way life is experienced and understood in present day Israel, whereas in other cases, these past episodes are still lived and relived daily in this country. The figure of Yig'al Alon embodies the character etched by the Father in the young leadership which was emerging in the nascent state. The crucial and critical actions taken by these pioneers were marked by not loving their lives even when faced by death, but rather by being each other's keepers and servants (to quote Alon himself). They had preferred one another and were willing to take responsibility not only for successes but also for failures, all the way down from the commander to the last soldier. Whether or not they knew it, they were fulfilling Godly principles and so were able to stand up to the tasks placed before them.

Just as the present is supported by past centuries whose stories are told in the museum, so are the building's four stories supported by the ground floor where a two thousand year old boat finds its resting place. This vessel was discovered in the 1980's by two of Ginosar's members, fishermen and armature archaeologists. After a fourteen year old treatment, designed to preserve its rotting wood, the boat was finally put on display, 'flaunting' all of its humble beauty. And whereas it was constructed mainly of one type of wood, eleven other trees were used to patch it up (when it was in use, two millennia ago). Thus the lumber of a dozen indigenous trees was needed in order to make this ancient boat workable!

The Valley of Jezreel, Israel's bread basket, was also one of the main sites for many historical episodes. Situated just below the Lower Galilee, we made our way home through some of its interesting villages and towns. Our journey took us to Bethlehem of Galilee, mentioned in Joshua as being part of Zebulon's inheritance. Among the many groups and individuals who had Messianic aspirations and visions concerning the "Holy Land", there was also a group of Germans known as the "Templers" who began to make their way here in the middle of the 19th century. These new comers engaged mostly in agricultural exploits and did very well for themselves. They withstood the many difficulties which the land presented at that time, settling in various parts of the country; it seems that the Jezreel Valley was one that they particularly favored. When the British expelled them from the Land, during the Second World War (fearing Nazi sympathies on their part), Jewish settlers took over their villages. Bethlehem of Galilee is a beautiful agricultural village whose German stone houses, which retain their old charm, are still in use.

Aside from the kibbutzim, the pioneers founded another form of settlement, the moshav, which combines cooperation of assets, finances and produce, but maintains the privacy of family life. The first moshav, Nahalal (a name found in Zebulon’s biblical territory), was established during the first decade of the 20th century, and has become synonymous with agricultural ventures as well as with security of the country. During the mandatory era, the Jewish defense arms were stockpiling ammunition and weapons for their defense needs in face of constant Arab threats and under the watchful eyes of the British who forbade both Jew and Arab to own weapons. These secret weapons caches were names “sliqs”.

The Nahalal sliq is a unique family museum which tells stories inextricably connected with the establishment and security of the State of Israel. The old sliq is situated on the family farm. Members of the third and fourth generation tell fascinating family tales, especially the story of the cache which was built under the guise of a pit for collecting cow urine for fertilizing purposes, making the story as humorous as it is fascinating. Israel’s formative history, with its various facets is well represented by this one family’s story. And as things are in this small country, while the story unfolded it was not without some very close family connections. These caches, scattered throughout the country and especially in some of the kibbutzim, apparently gave rise (in the first years of the independent state) to ideas among some malcontents, or those who subscribed to certain unsound ideals. This phenomenon had to be dealt with. We thus found out some surprising facts about Rimona’s father’s tasks while he served in the General Security Service.

Our visit to the Jezreel Valley was concluded by a trip to the local cemetery, where Ilan Ramon, Israel’s first astronaut, was laid to rest after the failed shuttle mission of the Columbia. The crew at large, made up of members of the nations”, is also commemorated on his tombstone set on a hill that commands the valley as it spreads below ready, as always, for further fulfillments of what its Creator has destined for it…

Great Britain

Honestly, I have a deep love and appreciation for the British people, because the Lord has used them at different very crucial moments to touch my life. The most crucial moment in the past was when I got a tape called Blitz from the famous Black Dyke Mills Band 20 years ago. This Brass Band maybe the most famous of Great Britain was in the early 80’s twice Brass Band Champion of Great Britain and Europe, ones with the test piece called Blitz. Yes, Blitz was the description of a Blitz (lightening) and its destruction when it hits...very similar to the Blitzkrieg of the German Army between 1938 and 1945 and their destruction.

The second piece on this tape, I still remember like it was yesterday, was called Journey into Freedom written by Eric Ball, the famous Christian composer for Brass Band. He, in an absolutely amazing way, described in this work the way out (after destruction) through the leading and the power of the Most Holy Spirit. I started to listen to this music over and over and started to cry and pray. This music brought me back to the Lord after being backslidden for many years. Yes, all the Glory to the Lord and may He bless Great Britain and the Black Dyke Mills Band in a special way. There where several other things the Lord used to bless me through Great Britain. He gave me many dear friends over the years, a special love for Israel and the Hebrew people and a special love for the prophetic...this is quiet a bit of blessing.

I remember like it was yesterday, on the morning of Feb. 2 in the year 2000, I was working at the Farm, just unloading silage, it was about 9:15 AM. The Holy Spirit came on me in a very special way I can't remember ever having before and haven't had since. The anointing of the Holy Spirit rested on me for about two days and was very special as I went through a desert time during the years of 1999 and 2000. The Lord showed me Great Britain and he gave me 3 words, which I want to describe as best as I can... I will try to show the difference between the revelation and the interpretation he gave, because my interpretation will maybe not be the most important point like it usually is with prophetic revelations.

The first point the Holy Spirit showed me was Genesis 49. The scripture where Jacob was asking his sons to come to his deathbed so that he would bless them. I knew in my spirit, that Jacob represented Britain and the children represented all the colonies Britain ever had in its history. I saw suddenly Britain's history as very similar to Jacobs’s life. The very early call given to Britain in the early centuries, and then how suddenly Jacob (Britain) was 'running away' (1260) and went through some very long and tough times through the Middle Ages. But then the Lord started to bless Great Britain with many children, like he did with Jacob and let him come back to a stable life... it was like the great family time Britain had. And then came the time Jacob returned to his promised land and had to wrestle like he had never done in his life (1904) and got this unique blessing from the Angel of the Lord, but then the children grew up and started to break away and the time of a "wonderful family time" was over.

Well, this had to happen because this children were given for a season and for a specific purpose, so they broke away and this was certainly not an easy time in Britain's history, it was a time when the "arrows" where sent out and this was a tough season for Jacob, a season where the Lord started to work deeply in his heart and started to root out the stones and, little by little, give him a heart of flesh. "I watched till its wings were plucked off; and it was lifted up from the earth and made to stand on two feet like a man, and a man's heart was given to it."(Daniel 7, 4b)

But then he got suddenly new hope (the renewal) and after getting the news that Joseph was still alive, he went to Egypt and met once again with his beloved Son, but then maybe the most important moment in his life came, when he started to sense that the end of his life was coming. He called his sons, and he started to release all those words he had pondered over in prayers for so many years. He started to release them one after another over each of his children and gave them the specific blessing and purpose for their life. This must have been one of the most important moments in Jacob's as well as his son's lives. When I came to this point, the Holy Spirit said to me, "That's the time which is ahead for Great Britain, it will come into a time like Jacob on his death bed. And this will be maybe the most important moment in Britain's history, because at this moment the Lord will use Britain once again to give each nation who was once as a child/ colony, part of his family, a prophetic/apostolic Blessing exactly like Jacob had for his sons. This will also be very crucial for all those nations who have been ex-colonies of Britain. They are awaiting a final blessing which will be very, very crucial for them to enter into their final calling. So Britain please get ready. I don't think that this has happened yet, it might have started, please get ready. There is a visitation coming which is much stronger then anything Britain has ever seen and this is not for you, this is not to be played around with or to be merchandised...this is to be given freely to all those nations you once had responsibility for.

One thing, which I felt the Lord showed me, as I was pondering on this word, was the fact that Jacob received this revelation when he understood that his final hour was coming. This means two things: Great Britain, you need to realize, that we are in the end time, you have to realize that the end is approaching which does not mean that this is the end of the world, but the toughest transition time the world ever had seen! Secondly, I believe that you will go through an especially tough, a very tough time, thinking you are lying on a deathbed. And I believe there is a reason for this. You are a nation that is set apart, set aside by the Lord. The Lord used you in a mighty ways during several of these past centuries to be a light of Christ for Europe and for all the World. This calling is not over...but it seems that the British politician and the Church does everything to sell Great Britain to the EU/Egypt...and I want to tell you, you don't belong to the EU, you don't belong to Egypt, you have to go back! But because you already sold so much, it will take a very, very tough time to turn this around! One particular point. Because the Church is asleep, they play in the most impossibly stupid way, but certainly not what the Lord is saying...(with some exceptions, thank the Lord.) The turn around is coming soon...so get ready, it will be very tough; but it is worth it, because of the blessing and the Glory which is coming!

The second point was: The Holy Spirit reminded me of the Welsh Revival in 1904 and he said, "I'm going to open the Heavens once again, but this time it will not to be closed up like the last time." Yes, I believe that the heavens will be opened once again... The Lord is actually teaching his Church the keys to help them understand what has closed the 'open heaven' and what are the keys to reopen it again. Yes, it is the Lord who does it and all the glory to Him. But we have a very important key to play too! Its not going to happen without our part...the Lord did not send an angel to be crucified, He came Himself...yes, and it will take a lot a suffering to turn the keys again.

What I sense is that this time the start will not be in Wales. This time it will be in Scotland. It will be very similar to when Jesus crossed the Lake of Genezareth and came to the other side. He found a man who was demon possessed and nobody could help him. But for the Lord it was no problem...he turned the tide. There is a visitation coming very similar to this when God does what no man can do, but He will once again cross the ocean and turn on the fire in Scotland and the demons will run, like the Legion who had to leave the 'hill-billy' in the cemetery on the other side of the lake. Mark 5; 1-20

Yes, it will be a very powerful intervention and exactly like this man after being healed and restored went into 10 City's (decapolis) to preach the Gospel, the Lord will give you 10 Nations to bring the Gospel/Revival fire...so please get ready, it is coming soon, get ready to bring the fire into 10 and many more nations. One of them will be France, one Switzerland, another will be Scandinavia...(to thank them, for beating you down about a 1200 years ago) and many more countries. Be in Scotland and it will take quite a battle to bring the Light down to England and Wales, very similar to the battle Braveheart had to fight.

Centuries ago Jacob was running away from somebody, yes, he had a twin brother and this time he has to meet him... Esau. Esau was born at the same time as Jacob, grown up and had great influence in the Land, basically in most of the Churches. His real Name is Freemasonry. Yes, when this touch is coming you have to confront Esau... but the Body of Christ has to be cleaned first... otherwise you can not meet your brother Esau. First the cleansing has to come to the Body of Christ, but then it will come.

The Lord is actually touching the birthplace of Voodoo (Benin), cleansing and turning it around into a very strong Christian Nation (this is a real genuine work orchestrated by the Lord which goes on since about 15 years). He will do the same with Great Britain. Yes, there is some very dark Free Mason blood in Great Britain to the point that some believe that Antichrist will come out of Britain...but this is not true, because the Lord has another plan with Great Britain, he will turn it around and it will be a very tough battle. Yes, it is a battle not against flesh and blood, but this spiritual battle will have consequences in the earthly realm. If those bloodlines can not be cleansed by the blood of Jesus, they will be cleansed by the sword... because the Lord is standing up and fighting for Great Britain once again and cleansing it, including its umbilical cord to the Continent which will be severed through...so that He can use Britain once again to manifest His Glory.

Esau will be touched by this encounter and many of them will become very strong Christian leaders with the ability to do what many Christians today are unable to do. Yes, there is a call on Esau, which will come forth at the very end. The famous roundtable will be turned around to become the Lord's roundtable.... for the manifestation of His Glory and Power, Mercy and great Love! There is one thing that He is going to restore, the Scottish bagpipe. It will be one of the key instruments in worship to release the power of the Holy Spirit. It's like the rediscovery of drums from many places, Shofar and many more.... http://www.hotpipes.com/barc.html

The third point was the most interesting one. I simply heard the word 'Oliver Cromwell'. Well I don't know too much about Oliver Cromwell. If I remember right he was very cruel to the Celtic people in Ireland and Scotland. I have the impression that there are still some old wounds which have to be healed. But there is one special point about Oliver Cromwell, which I believe the Holy Spirit wants to point out. Through him the Lord brought a real change to Britain. Why? Because he re-invited the Jews back to Britain (around 1656) after they have been persecuted and expelled around 1260. This brought back great blessings to Great Britain and eventually also the responsibility you received from the Lord in 1917 for the 'Holy Land'. The sad thing of recent history is, if we only look a bit closer at how Great Britain has treated the Jews and Israel, we can come to the conclusion, that the British government during the 30's and 40's wanted to beat the Nazis on planet earth in cruelty and evil against the Jewish people in the ‘Holy Land’ and specially concerning those returning to the ‘Holy Land’.

Yes, doesn't it look like Jacob suddenly receiving the long awaited promised son, just around the time he came back into its promised Land, but then as this son awakens and is getting aware of the prophetic destiny, he is beating him down and trying to sell him to have honor and esteem among the Arab nations.. somehow to try to keep the Family together in selling the troublemaker and dreamer.

Yes, I know the Lord has forgiven you totally, but with this grace and forgiveness, your received a responsibility. It's the task of Great Britain, that if precious Joseph will come again in trouble, to help him and share with him the blessings and grace you received from the Lord. You will have a second chance like Oliver Cromwell to re-invite the Jews. Yes, and before you can do this you have to seriously reconsider history, not to do it again... (not repeat history)! If you miss this point, you will miss Revival as guaranteed as the Amen in the Church! The Lord wants to reconcile you with Israel

(Joseph) and give you a second chance, to re-invite them once again, when they will come from the West. Yes, they will come very soon as we are approaching end time and the persecution of the Jews is arising, especially in the west.

Yes, you have to get all your ships ready..."Surely the coastlands shall wait for Me; and the ships of Tarshish will come first, to bring your sons from afar, their silver and their gold with them, to the name of the Lord your God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because He has glorified you." Isaiah 60; 9 You will receive a special word for Joseph. By the way, like Joseph had two sons, out of the promised Land of 1917 two Nations where born Israel (Ephraim/Jacob) and Jordan {Manasseh/Esau). Yes, and the Lord will have you to bless these two Nations in a special way.

The last point which was for me a very interesting point was the date. Feb. 2 2000. Well, Feb 2 is the Birthday of my sister...this really was a very amazing point. Well, my sister has a deep love for the Lord and serves him in an awesome way. She is a very strong willed leader and manager. Well, what I sense the Holy Spirit wants to say through this is, and I can personally very much reaffirm this, that the Lord has called and anointed many ladies in Great Britain, into a prophetic or a leadership position, very strong willed and intelligent, very anointed ladies.

And there is a call first to the husbands and as much as to the Church to release them... yes, you will need them! They are awesome and they will do an awesome job! But I also want to say to those husbands who are married to such a lady, yes, you have to release them, but you have to know, even if in your couple the one with the main call is your wife, that you have a very strong call too! First as a believer, second as a husband who is the priest, king and prophet of the household and this is a 200% Call too! There is nothing wrong with this situation, but you have to stand, walk and run with the Lord and that's very, very important, that you together with your wife are going to fulfill the call the Lord has given you! These Ladies need good advice and they will come under some strong attacks, from within and from without the Church! So please pray for them and stand with them, so that you may fulfill the call you have.

May the Lord bless you and touch you in an awesome way!

Go Back to Sleep and Wake up Right

Carla Rickard

I have the same issues and problems that everyone else has. We are not different in that respect. But I have noticed something rather strange and odd and I have complained about it silently to the Lord. I have also heard others complain about the same thing. What are we saying? We are saying this " Why did I have more self respect and more guts when I was unsaved and not serving the Lord than I do now!"

It is an interesting phenomenon that occurs to many people who are overjoyed at the Love of our Lord when they first come to salvation. Then the " beat me down syndrome" begins.

Many in our churches today are not necessarily " good Christians" but they are molded to the " personality" of the church which gives them a false sense that they have received the prize of attainment. Yet the definition of the church life is speaking that to individuals. Conform to the ways of the church and the dominant personalities within the church. That is neither freedom nor security! If an individual does not submit into their personalities, then they are deemed unfit through various " scriptural tactics" to beat down their self-esteem. When that person becomes self defeated and has less fire to their personality, then the social order is accomplished. The Lord never did say self-esteem was wrong. He never indicated this whatsoever. He gave us godly principles to guide our lives not change us into something that a false unity and false Oneness speaks of. A false unity and Oneness speaks of us all having the same personality expression and traits which is simply unrealistic! This is NOT what the Lord meant by submit to one another in brotherly love. Nor is it what He wanted us to do when he instructed Paul to tell us to die daily. What must die is our desire to do it our way. We are NOT to kill what God has created us to be. For that is murder. We are not to kill off our unique personalities but to only have that personality refined as to glorify God. We are to come into agreement with His will for our lives. Not kill ourselves off and become mindless robots for the sake of the church and its social expectations of us. Jesus didn’t do it. We are not to do it. We must remain true to who He created us to be. Remember we were in a fallen state when we remained in sin. It was our broken relationship with the Father that Jesus came to reconcile. He did not come to turn us into a mass of sameness. He wants agreement------NOT SAMENESS.

We are looking at the power of self-love to effect others. Not the conceited self love, that must be made clear.

Leviticus 19:18
You shall not take revenge or bear any grudge against the sons of your people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself. I am the Lord.[Matt. 5:43-46; Rom. 12:17, 19.]

How many of us are kicking our own selves and holding grudges against our own actions because we have fallen short is some area? How can we let others be free from the same bondage if we cannot allow ourselves to be free from our thoughts and actions towards ourselves? We cannot give WHAT WE DON’T HAVE. We must begin by understanding what it means to love ourselves!

Honor your father and your mother, and, You shall love your neighbor as [you do] yourself.[Lev. 19:18; Matt. 22:39.]

If we know how to love ourselves without getting trapped into pride and conceit then we will be able to extend that to others. Sometimes it’s most simple to remain simple. We often over spiritualize so many things in our lives that we lose the practicality of the scriptures! We become church zombies wanting only to be accepted in our local church body, wanting the approval of others, wanting the titles, the honor etc that comes from our brothers and sisters. It is not healthy for the mind to adopt this way of thinking. We must honor the gift of free will that the Lord has given us! When we do the things he wants us to do, we do so freely! Not because we have to, but because we want to. Not to be like brother so and so, but because it is what the Lord requires of us! No wonder many struggle with their personal relationship to Jesus Christ! They are trying to have the same life experience through the personality of another! And when the doors are closed and the lights are shut off in the building, there you stand before God, wondering how to speak to him in a realistic manner. Wondering how to build that relationship from your end.

We must respect the different levels of faith in our brothers and sisters and not expect them to be where we are in this moment. We must not beat ourselves up because we have not grown as sister so and so has. We must learn to be in love with ourselves thin a healthy way that allows us to RECEIVE the Love of God into us that we may pour it out on others in a consistent way.

As I was writing this I received a phone call from my sister in law who was telling me about her experience at a conference where the Lord healed her heart. She was able to love herself again. Now that is confirmation.

Those of us who seem plagued by constant strife, addictions, mental torments, and the like, do not realize the full impact of not loving ourselves has on our behavior toward ourselves. We have learned to hate WHO we are and reject it. We MUST learn to love ourselves again that we can RECEIVE and GIVE.

When we become too sin conscious we actually lock the Lord of Love out of our hearts because we tend to self judge. Self-examination and Self-Judgment are two different concepts. One brings a crippling condemnation while the other brings encouragement by empowering us through the goals set by Jesus for us to reach for daily in all of our relationships; including the one that we live everyday with ourselves.

May you be encouraged today that you are simply wonderful in the eyes of the Lord? He made you that way. He desires you to be ALL that you can be through Christ Jesus. Repent quickly when you have erred. Do not stay in that weakened state where the enemy of your soul can grab a hold of you and steal the wonderful human being that HE FASHIONED with HIS OWN HANDS. Have you put yourself in the pigpen because you feel you deserve it? Do you feel so unlovable, so flawed, that you will eat with the pigs rather than come home to the awesome greeting of your Father? Remember that He sees you far off. He sees all that you are and all you WILL be. His love covers a multitude of sins. He loves you enough to do the work for you. He has made reconciliation through his Son. All you have to do is stick close to Him, allow Joy in your life, and LET HIM fashion you through YOUR experiences of WHO YOU ARE as a unique personality into the golden vessel of HIS CHOICE.

My cousin used to tell me when I woke up a bit grouchy, " Go back to sleep and wake up right" . Maybe there are those of us that need to go back to the beginning and start afresh by learning to love ourselves first. It can be done, if God loved us all as individuals and provided us His Son, then we have been empowered to apply that love toward ourselves as well.

God Chosen Or Chosen God

J. Conrad Lampan

I was watching today a program aired by the BBC here in Wales dedicated to the three faiths that link back to Abraham. It was interesting to watch although as you can imagine many strange things were said. However what really struck me was what a “reverend” from a well know Evangelical denomination said:

He said something in the line of “whenever we have a wedding between politics and religion bad things happen, always. When we see a marriage between religion and politics the result will always be illegitimate children”

I wish I could have responded immediately to that pastor. The first thing that came to my mind was that in actuality America is, we can say the child of one such marriage! Dare anybody say then that America is for that reason an illegitimate child?

Before the Pilgrims left England, they constituted themselves into a congregation! Then upon arrival they planted a village, and built a church which also served as meeting place for government affairs, and also for educational purposes. Church and government and education were together. Every time they headed for some new place to start a new village they did the same thing, they moved as a congregation and government and God were together.

America was born from that relationship! I would suggest that the pastor who was interviewed in that program goes back to learn the foundations, for America was planted upon the foundation of God being a part undivided and indivisible of the new nation.

It was George Washington who said “Let him not call himself American he who does not consider religion and politics as an inseparable unit” (I am quoting by memory so forgive me the paraphrasing). Guess what religion he was referring to?

On the other hand, it seems that some people would think that God has chosen America so the blessings of the Almighty are guaranteed no matter what. Nothing can be far from the truth. The blessings of God are not for the nation that God has chosen, rather for the nation that chooses God.

Israel is the best example of the above statement. Israel is certainly God’s chosen people; however the series of ups and downs, the blessings and the punishments they went through were always related to their choice, not to God’s. The most impressive instance of choice that Israel faced was put in front of them by Joshua at the very beginning of their existence in the promised land: “choose today whom ye will serve” Joshua 24:15. Once and again they were confronted with the need to make a choice, and to take a stand for God.

America was founded on such a choice too. The founders chose God. We can of course argue about some of the particulars and errors of the whole process, but the fact remains that overall they were pursuing a society with God enthroned as the ruler.

This is a time of choice. Not only for America but for every nation that calls herself Christian. The words of God through Joshua resonate today in the ears of our nations:

“CHOOSE TODAY WHOM YE WILL SERVE”

Gelatin and Jewels
Vicki Camp

"Oh, the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God!....... " - Rom 11:33a

(sharing two short visions & insights then received of Lord -- for 'some' of us this season....)
Jan -2, '04: As I was communing with Lord, in a brief vision I was shown: Gelatin, or some might recognize the word Jell-O better. This gelatin was semi-hardened, at the thick soupy stage, gelatinous but not yet finished. I sensed along with seeing this - biblical ointment/balm, with the accompanying sense of gears being 'smoothed' due to ointment/balm (oiling) … while looking at this semi-hardened gelatin. And then I heard,

"Things are now 'gelling'!"

I know that the gelatin / Jell-O being 'transparent' is important in this I was 'shown', possibly in the way of honesty / truth / openness in 'dealings' (as in: working's = gears), our co-growth In Christ, and with one another in mutual labor - our mechanisms, as it were – being transparent.
-- with this first understanding given: Coming into firmness, not there yet, but progressing along to the full, firm, finished.

Jan -3, '04: In another brief vision I was shown: A largish purple bag which I believe was velvet from its appearance - the kind having a draw string at top...... The top of this bag was opened revealing the bag as crammed full of multi colored loose jewels. Shining, sparkling cut jewels - not in any settings such as jewelry or anything ,,,, but rather these many many lovely and valuable loose jewels. I then heard,

"Wisdom and Knowledge"

I understood that the purple signified royal, royalty. The tie/handle I saw was a gold cord. This vision shows great wealth.
-- with this first understanding given: These both, wisdom and knowledge of our Lord, are to be held onto, grasped (bag having a carry tie/handle), as the great worth treasure of God which these two are – our Lord's wisdom and knowledge = most precious heavenly faceted gems.

*"*Wisdom and knowledge will be the stability of your times, And the strength of salvation; The fear of the Lord is His treasure*."* –Is. 33:6

(later) I prayed asking Lord about these two brief visions, because I felt they were tied together somehow (?), even though they were received on two consecutive days, and that they were picture-words of some instruction from Lord. Holy Spirit then dropped into my heart one tie of these two visions seen – giving me more information.

The gelatin I was shown was not set-up (hardened), and the jewels shown were not as yet set-in (placed into any jewelry, or into a crown, etc…). So that, in both visions these were items (transparent semi-firmed gelatin & the loose jewels) shown to me as 'in process', not finished yet. – i.e., A process to becoming 'firmed-up' ,,,,,, and then 'set-in'.

Jan. 4th. & 5th.: As I've held these revelations before Lord, I feel I can put this together a little now – I understand of the above, that the Lord is speaking to myself / us / some of us, about our 'processing' In Christ, present time (this season) …
Things are moving along correctly, we are not to get over anxious, but rather let the knowledge from Lord we need, and HIS' wisdom to enact and complete all within' us to "gel" into firm fullness – in it's' time , of HIM.

"…..Your people shall all be righteous; They shall inherit the land forever, The branch of My planting, The work of My hands, That I may be glorified. A little one shall become a thousand, And a small one a strong nation. I, the Lord, will hasten it in its time." – Is. 60:21,22

The God' knowledge and wisdom which I'm personally harvesting from these two short visions, and now share with you my brother and sister readers, is that I / we not 'run ahead' of Lord; Rather, allow all mechanism's to run 'smooth' as in well oiled gears (Holy Spirit/anointing) in our present co-laboring, building and growing In Christ, and with each other.

As I / we process in this now-season, Our Lord Jesus is going to apply HIS' balm's and ointment's right where we need, where you and I need ... each one of us.
No squeaky gears or feeble parts, but all will come to be firmed-up righteously and correctly - for our appointment coming ahead; When accomplished of Lord with our obedience in this, we then, and only then, will be set-in (ordained) by HIM, for those things our Lord desires In us, for us, through us, ,,,each one of us.

One key in this 'processing' will be our willingness to be transparent; Firstly before HIM, and with each other as led in Holy Spirit wisdom's. (gelatin 'transparent', and the jewel bag seen is now 'open') "Let love be without hypocrisy [be genuine]…." - Rom. 12:9a

Beloved, this is a Royal assignment (royal purple bag, precious jewels) we are being presented with, and given opportunity to go-for now, of our heavenly Father, and our Righteous Royal Divine King, … Lord Jesus Christ.

As we draw closest to HIM, grasping the Gold Cord, rightly hearing Holy Spirit and yielding to 'processing' (obeying His Voice), each one of us, we are destined to be seasoned this season, of our Lord; Then will HIS' hastening quick-work come (as in Is. 60, above); Be set-up firmly and set-in place, ordained - sealed upon us by our Lord's very Own Hand's; Because of HIS' great Royal overwhelmingly abundant Love for us,,,,, all for HIS' Glory. \o/

"They shall be Mine," says the Lord of hosts, "On the day that I make them My jewels. And I will spare them As a man spares his own son who serves him." – Mal. 3:17

"… that their hearts may be encouraged, being knit together in love, and attaining to all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the knowledge of the mystery of God, both of the Father and of Christ*, in whom are hidden all the* treasures of wisdom and knowledge*."* – Col. 2:2,3

" I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, My soul shall be joyful in my God; For He has clothed me with the garments of salvation, He has covered me with the robe of righteousness, As a bridegroom decks himself with ornaments, And as a bride adorns herself with her jewels. *For as the earth brings forth its bud, As the garden causes the things that are sown in it to spring forth, So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations."* – Is. 61:10, 11

May you whom this may apply to and speak to, and I myself – me too :-), continue on, being found willingly In HIS' forming creative Hands, in HIS' good gelling processes of great hope this present season, while looking ahead to being "set-in",,,, God' ordained.

Generational Curses

Kluane Spake

Pulling Down the Real Stronghold

spake@mindspring.com

For years now, the church has been sidetracked with this idea of "Generational Curses." We've watched as throngs of Christians swarm to the altars in order to stop the evil consequences that their forefather's decisions have made upon their lives. And… for many years as a pastor, I taught about Generational Curses -- and had seemingly great results. So let's make it clear from the outset, that this article means no personal disrespect to those sincere people who teach and promote this "ministry." It's just that now… we know a better way (Acts 18:26).

Let's briefly review the teaching of Generational Curses -- it generally goes something like this: "the sins of the fathers pass to the third and fourth generation" (Ex. 34:6-7, Deut. 5:9, Dan. 9:8). This teaching tells how a believer (or whole family) can inherit the attributes or consequences for the sins that their predecessors committed generations ago. Sometimes (they say), after the 3rd and 4th generation – the CURSE would be broken... but that part doesn't seem to happen very much anymore.

Anyway, these GENERATIONAL CURSES are said to come from many place, such as follows:

#1. SINS OF ANCESTORS-
Supposedly, ancient ancestral CURSES have passed down through families and still continue to this day. They say that Satan has the "legal right" to assault our body or finances because of what our forefathers may have done. They say that these "curses" are why so many Christians have mental illness, cancer, diabetes, cancer, seizures, obesity, and other incurable diseases that cause them to be dying before their time.

#2. WITCHCRAFT/OCCULT CURSES-
Sadly, many Christians believe that they can be cursed by those who claim to have occult powers. They believe that the words of "witches" have the power to disrupt our lives and affect our surroundings.

#3. CURSES from SPOKEN WORDS-
These can be curses spoken by others or by yourself. Your parents can speak the most severe curses, I.E. when they say, "He'll never change..." or "She'll turn out just like her mother," etc.

#4. CURSES FROM UNGODLY OATHS AND DEDICATIONS/UNGODLY BELIEFS-
There could be numerous forms of these "destructive" oaths and dedications that are spoken by others over you... or by yourself. These curses could have been made before you were born.

#5. PERSONAL SINS-
Personal perverse sin is committed because our forefathers also committed those same sins. Perhaps they worshipped other Gods…etc.

#6. CURSES PASSED BY IMPROPER TIES (YOKES)-
Another BIG teaching is on the "sin in the camp." That's all about being YOKED to someone... and inheriting their problems too. This could be the wrong group, club, or activity. Or…. CURSES can come when you get married and you become a "LEGAL target" of all those wretched spirits of your spouse that come down their bloodline... to you and your children!!!!! Ungodly alliances are referred to as "soul ties."

As far as I can tell, according to this teaching, most Christians are cursed! Apparently, those "legal rights" of the devil are why our bodies and our churches are being attacked. And deliverance from these CURSES occurs only when those "legal rights are broken" through effective "prophetic insight," anointed ministry, and prayer. Even though we have not committed any wrong-doing, they say that we can only negate CURSES by public confession and renouncement (speaking utterances) TO THE DEVIL – such as:

"Devil, I cancel all demonic influence that may have been passed on to me from my ancestors. ... I renounce all satanic assignments that have directed toward my family, and me. And I cancel every curse that you or your demon workers have put on me. ... I reject all other possibilities whereby you may claim ownership of me."

Now, these "prayers" to satan are intended to be said by Christians who already have been "delivered from the power of darkness and translated into the kingdom of God's dear Son." But, that's not all – be very careful – don't get too confident, cuz' another curse may be lurking just around the next corner!

THE REPLY:
Well, some of you already have the answer – before we even get there!!

The pagans always tried to pacify capricious "gods" who enjoyed pouring out havoc on humankind for no good reason. For centuries, these superstitious people conjured up religious formulas and chanted specific incantations believing that their "magical" words or a particular sacrifice would appease the "unpredictable gods" and forestall misfortune.

THE TRUTH -- WE ARE BLESSED, NOT CURSED:
In the midst of this superstition, the Lord God determined to reveal Himself to Abraham: "And I will make you a great nation, And I will BLESS you, And make your name great; And so you shall be a blessing; And I will bless those who bless you, And the one who curses you I will CURSE. And in you ALL THE FAMILIES of the earth shall be BLESSED" (Genesis 12:2,3). Here we see that BLESSING was God's sovereign choice toward ALL believers that desired relationship.

Scriptures say that those who put their hope and trust in God are BLESSED (Jeremiah 17:5). Conversely, those who put their trust in man are CURSED (Jeremiah 17:7). IF we believe, then we are blessed. Do you see? Our battle isn't with the devil… our command is to love God and follow Him with all our heart, soul, and might… Our deliverance comes by comprehending that we are ALREADY BLESSED; regardless of our circumstances -- whether we "happen" to be rich or poor, healthy or disabled, whether our forefathers were successful, or we come from a long line of disreputable, good for nothing thieves. God's not partial. He BLESSES those who believe upon Jesus Christ – (the One who became a CURSE for us) – that we might become the beneficiary (heir) of the blessings of Abraham (Galatians 3:13,14).

"Then the King will say to those on His right, Come, you who are BLESSED of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world'…" (Matthew 25:34,41). That's our charge… to obtain our blessed inheritance.

NEW COVENANT:
Jeremiah foretold of our day (31:28-32) "…So I will watch over them to build and to plant," declares the LORD. "In those days people will no longer say, `The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge.' Instead, everyone will die for HIS OWN sin; whoever eats sour grapes--his own teeth will be set on edge. "The time is coming," declares the LORD, "when I will make a NEW COVENANT with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah. It will NOT BE LIKE the covenant I made with their forefathers…" NIV.

Ezekiel also knew of the coming new covenant concerning individual accountability, (Ezekiel 18:1-4,19, 20), "The word of the LORD came to me: 2 "What do you people mean by quoting this proverb about the land of Israel: "`The fathers eat sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge'? "As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, you will no longer quote this proverb in Israel (you surely aren't going to use this proverb anymore). 4For every living soul belongs to me, the father as well as the son-both alike belong to me. The soul who sins is the one that will die. …19"Yet you ask, `Why does the son NOT share the guilt of his father?'

Since the son has done what is just and right and has been careful to keep all my decrees, HE WILL SURELY LIVE. The soul who sins is the one who will die. THE SON WILL NOT SHARE THE GUILT OF THE FATHER, NOR WILL THE FATHER SHARE THE GUILT OF THE SON. THE RIGHTEOUSNESS OF THE RIGHTEOUS MAN WILL BE CREDITED TO HIM, AND THE WICKEDNESS OF THE WICKED WILL BE CHARGED AGAINST HIM…" NIV.
JESUS DID IT!

When Jesus died a transition happened from the Old Testament way. He alone provided liberation from the curse of death… Jesus finished His work. The Scripture is unmistakable on this topic. ... Christ's work was and is sufficient. There is nothing left for Him to do. His salvation is complete. He gave us His LIFE. When we become "born again," we are totally severed from that TIE with the devil. Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law (Gal. 3:13, 4:5) and the influence of sin (Rom. 6:18-23). The curtain of our personal tabernacle was rent.

Yet somehow, according to this teaching, we have come under a CURSE for which we are not personally responsible -- we've inherited a CURSE through someone else. And that, my friend, is not the "GOOD NEWS!" This misconception -- that our problems, discouragement, disease, poverty, or natural disasters could be caused by curses from our forefathers generations ago -- limits the very work that Jesus came to earth to accomplish. To assume that some BELIEVERS who happen to be sick or hungry are under a CURSE – while other believers (who are healthy and full) are not CURSED – is wrong. Not only is this unkind and judgmental -- it's a misuse of scripture.

The fact is, most of us learned inappropriate responses from our environment and family members. For example, my dad was an alcoholic; therefore when growing up, I learned some really bad problem solving techniques. That was a learned response -- a pattern/habit that needed to be relearned. And, I had to be "renewed in the spirit of my mind" -- repeatedly -- in order to learn the truth about who God is in me, and who He says I am. We need correct teaching to inject TRUTH into our understanding.

Those who fully trust the Gospel of Salvation know that we are not Old Covenant people. Jesus (our deliverer, mediator, savior) proclaimed a new covenant – a replacement for the "schoolmaster." Hebrews makes it plain (8:13), "By calling this covenant "new," he has made the first one obsolete; and what is obsolete and aging will soon disappear" NIV.

Jesus gave us the guarantee of our inheritance NOW (Rom. 11:26, 27, Eph. 1:12-14). We are MADE ALIVE in Him (1 Cor. 15:22). The iniquities of previous generations can have no LEGAL jurisdiction in the lives of the NEW CREATION. We are not affected by our old nature any longer; neither do we partake of the sins of our past -- nor the sins of others.

THE DEVIL CAN'T DO IT:
Our freedom doesn't come through repeating specific phrases to the devil about our rights. Scriptures everywhere teach that it's NOT the devil who holds our destiny in his hands. God is absolutely in control. James 4:7 tells us, "Submit therefore to God. Resist the devil and he will flee from you. DRAW NEAR TO GOD..." James didn't say anything about repeating expressions, or formulas that could supposedly take away satan's "legal rights."

John gives us great assurance when he says: "He who has been born of God keeps Himself and the wicked one DOES NOT TOUCH (harm) HIM" (1 John 5:18). This word for touch in Greek is "hapto" and means to fasten onto or to lay hold. Essentially, John says that if we're born of God, the devil can't affect our lives anymore. (See also Gal. 3:23-28.)

And what could ever separate us from the love of Christ? Not trouble or hardship, not persecution or famine, not nakedness or danger. (NOTHING. Not our past mistakes. Not words or curses that others have said.) Not death nor life, not angels nor demons, not the present nor the future, nor any powers…not anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord (Rom. 8:38).

"What, then, shall we say in response to this? If God is for us, who can be against us?" (Rom. 8:31 NIV). (Who can be against us? The answer is NO ONE -- NOTHING!) The devil is eternally defeated, and we are delivered from the power of darkness into the kingdom of light. Christ's work is totally FINISHED in us! We now sit in heavenly places (Eph. 2:5-6).

WHAT WE KNOW:
If after becoming a Christian, we continue to act with ungodly behavior similar to that of previous generations, then we just don't understand the reality of the fullness of our salvation. Romans 10:9-10 says, "If you confess with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved" ("soteria," to be delivered from the bondage of sin, to be whole, rescued, salvaged, be in health). NIV Col 1:12-14, "For he has rescued us from the dominion of darkness and brought us into the kingdom of the Son he loves, 14 in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins" NIV.

There must be a transition for all of us … a full transformation into the REDEMPTIVE TRUTH that CHRIST lives IN US and we live IN HIM. We need our understanding baptized with TRUTH. We need to apprehend what the cross has already provided.

If we believe that our failures and disappointments are due to our past failures -- or those of our ancestors, then we forfeit the need for our own accountability. Galatians 2:19-21 says, "I HAVE BEEN crucified (past tense) with Christ and I NO LONGER LIVE, but Christ lives in me. (The sins of my old life – and my fallen nature no longer exist for me.) The life I live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me" NIV. (Rom 5:1-5, Rom. 8:1-8).

For those who live In Christ Jesus, THERE ARE NO GENERATIONAL CURSES.

Ironically, Paul CURSED those who presented a false gospel – these are the ones that required Christians to keep Old Testament laws and concepts: "As we have said before, so I say again now, if any man is preaching to you a gospel contrary to that which you received, let him be accursed" (Galatians 1:9, 4:21). The stronghold that really needs to be pulled down is the one of lack of knowledge!

CONCLUSION:
Perhaps we need to change our "terminology" – because we're not under a "CURSE!" However, as believers, we do need to repent. We need to become transformed by the renewing of our minds… and become whole. We all do have "environmental tendencies" that need to be recognized and changed. All inclinations, predispositions, propensities toward wrong behavior need to be modified and adjusted; we all have wrong habits that need to be addressed. But those are not CURSES. They are pivotal CHARACTER issues that we need to deal with.

2 Cor 5:18-21, All this is from God, who RECONCILED us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: 19 that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, NOT COUNTING MEN'S SIN'S against them. And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation."

Gal 4:8-10, "Formerly, when you did not know God, you were slaves to those who by nature are not gods. 9 But now that you know God -- or rather are known by God -- HOW IS IT THAT YOU ARE TURNING BACK TO THOSE WEAK AND MISERABLE PRINCIPLES? Do you wish to be enslaved by them all over again? NIV

Titus 2:13-15 also makes it very clear "…. Jesus Christ … gave himself for us to redeem us from all wickedness and to purify for himself a people that are his very own, eager to do what is good. THESE THEN ARE THE THINGS YOU SHOULD TEACH. ENCOURAGE AND REBUKE with all authority." NIV

Out of our own ashes, we emerge as the mature company of believers. We've freed ourselves from wrong behavior by incorporating the truth that Christ has redeemed us from every curse. We've taken our own accountability for wrong-doing. We've changed our responses. Now, with undeserved vindication, we glimpse into the nowness of the eternal resurrection life and we manifest the Image of the overcoming Son.

Generation Joshua

Catherine Brown

Generation Joshua – Can You Hear The Call?"

By Catherine Brown

Part of Gatekeepers ministry call is to mobilize the youth of the nations to prayer, praise and mission. In this hour I sense a powerful and mighty apostolic/prophetic release of Kingdom destiny over the youth/young adults of the nations. The Lord has given me three impacting prophetic words for the youth of the world, this being the first. The second word is a call to be like Josiah and the third a word for the Samuel Generation. I will shortly send these words out.

If you are a young person/young adult take these words and teaching and allow Holy Spirit to melt them to your heart. If you are young at heart, take these promises and pray them as the Lord leads. Arise youth of the nations, and take up the mantle of Christ!

A Call On Your Lives To Worship God – Face To Face

> "Whenever the people saw the pillar of cloud standing at the entrance to the tent, they all stood and worshipped, each at the entrance to his tent. The Lord would speak to Moses face to face, as a man speaks with his friend. Then Moses would return to the camp, but his young aide Joshua son of Nun did not leave the tent." Ex 33:10-11

Joshua was a tent dweller before he was a city taker! He learned to walk and dwell in the glory. God has been calling and is calling forth an entire generation of young men and women to be 'tent dwellers'. To a place of worship-full connectedness with God's Spirit, that is 24-7-365, and the Lord says, "It is nothing about walls and everything about My presence. It's a place of rest, yet it's a place of pilgrimage. It's a place of peace and a place of absolute abandonment, where you are learning to hear my voice and to love me with all of your heart, all of your soul and all of your strength." The Lord wants to encourage every young man and woman today to hear his call, to dwell in his presence and to believe that whole nations will be affected as they move in and through this place of intimacy with Christ.

A Call To Holiness

Joshua 5:13-15

God says to the youth of today, "I call you to holiness. I call you to be set apart for my purposes. There can be no compromise. Some of you are living with one foot in the world and one foot in the Kingdom, and I call you out of promiscuity into purity. I call you out of sleepiness into divinely inspired activity, not into a works mentality but a Kingdom mentality that flows from worship reverence and adoration. I call you out of witchcraft and into the glorious accomplishment of the Cross. This is the work of my Holy Spirit."

A Call On Your Lives To Be Warriors In Prayer And Of The Word
Exodus 17:8-15

> "So Joshua fought the Amalekites as Moses had ordered." v10
> "As Long as Moses held up his hands the Israelites were winning, but whenever he lowered his hands, the Amalekites were winning." V11

> "So Joshua overcame the Amalekite army with the sword." v13
> "Moses built an altar and called it The Lord is my Banner. He said, 'For hands were lifted up to the throne of the Lord. The Lord will be at war against the Amalekites from generation to generation.'" V15,16
> "Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. And pray ...." Eph 6:17

And the Lord would remind the young generation of today, "There is a call on your lives to be warriors for Christ. To be warriors of His word and to be warriors in the arena of prayer, worship and mission.

God says, "I have put a perseverance on the inside of the youth of the nations, and a stamina for prayer and worship and servanthood that is remarkable. I have given you an energy and an ability to be alert and awake for unusually long periods of time." New calls will be made for prayer and praise gatherings, and many will respond to this new millennium Kingdom pilgrimage.

Make Sure Joshua Hears! = Visual Generation

God says to this generation, "Make sure you hear my Word! Don't lose the love of my Word. It's not enough to hear my word through other people; my Word must not be lost to the youth of the nations. You will learn more of my ways and of my nature through my word. You will learn to be overcomers through my word. Your very lives will be my Word. I have made you a visual generation and I will continue to creatively inspire you to share my Word through art, through drama, through poetry and many other artistic and musical means."

A Call On Your Lives To Be Servants

Ex 33:11 "his young aide"

"Youth of the nations, I call you to servanthood and humility. My children fear not the spirit of Saul, for I command your destiny. Do not fear my discipline for I discipline all those whom I love. It is part of being a son. Just as Joshua was a servant to Moses, so I am placing you in mentoring relationships where you will be nurtured and encouraged and learn to mature as my disciples."

A Call On Your Lives To Be Sons

> "Do not be terrified; do not be afraid of them. The Lord your God, who is going before you, will fight for you, as he did for you in Egypt, before your very eyes, and in the desert. There you saw how the Lord your God carried you, as a father carries his son, all the way you went until you reached this place." Dt 1:29-31

The Lord says, "I call you to be my sons, and I say to you my children that I have broken the spirit of orphanhood upon you and I am your Father. I speak healing to each one of you my sons and daughters. As you are healed from abandonment and rejection, I will use you to reach a generation of fatherless children."

A Call To Faith And New Realms Of Operating In The Miraculous

Joshua and Caleb had a different spirit – they served the Lord wholeheartedly.

> "The sun stopped in the middle of the sky and delayed going down about a full day. There has never been a day like it before or since, a day when the Lord listened to a man. Surely > the Lord was fighting for Israel!" Jos 10:13b, 14

"I call you to faith in like manner as I called Joshua and Caleb. I ask that you serve me with a whole heart. You will see extraordinary miracles as you pursue my presence. I am releasing the mantle of miracles through my body on the earth, and the youth of the nations will not be overlooked in the outpouring. Guard your heart and mind and seek the One who pours out the miracles, much more than the signs and wonders themselves. I call you to new realms of operating in the miraculous.

"I am raising up a standard in my bride that she will place ministry to me beyond and above ministering for me. My works are not to be despised, but I am truly love-sick for my bride. I am calling the youth of the nations to extravagant first love. My children, I am Love. Love is from me. You love because I first loved you. Therefore, the seed of bridal love is within you. I will cause it to deepen and flourish for I am Jealous for my bride and for her full affections. I am Life."

A Call To Obedience

[Jericho was won through obedience (Joshua 6)]

"I call you to obedience and to many victories for my Kingdom, if you will surrender your rights at the Cross. Obey your leaders as Joshua obeyed Moses, and you will be raised up as you embrace humility. Your zeal and passion are contagious, but know that you also need to be married to the wisdom of elders. I call my bride to unity. I am a tri-generational God."

A Covenant Call! Covenant Meeting God; Covenant Keeping People; Covenant Reaping!

> "Then Moses set out with Joshua his aide, and Moses went up on the mountains of God. He said to the elders, "Wait here for us until we come back to you. Aaron and Hur are with you, and anyone involved in a dispute can go to them." Ex 24:13,14

"I am calling my bride to the place of communion with me that will carry her high above dispute, contention, and compromise. I desire intimacy with my children. I am calling you higher and taking you deeper with me than you have ever known. Youth of the nations you will walk with your elders into the presence of the Lord, and will know the wonder of my ways. Your hearts will burn and ache with a passion for your King. I am the call, I am the cause, I am the One who commissions you. I will display you as trophies of My grace. I will display my honor through your lifestyles of extravagant love for your Lord, for the church and for the lost."

A Vision For Victory

> "The land we passed through and explored is exceedingly good. If the Lord is pleased with us, he will lead us into that land, a land flowing with milk and honey, and will give it to us. Only do not rebel against the Lord. And do not be afraid of the people of the land, because we will swallow them up. Their protection is gone, but the Lord is with us. Do not be afraid of them." Nu 14:7-9

The Lord says, "Youth of the nations I have given you a vision for victory. A vision that supersedes circumstances; a vision that lifts the name of Jesus over every tribe and nation. I am pouring out a fresh anointing to prophesy and you will dream dreams and see visions in ever increasing measure. You will have angelic visitations and hear the sounds of heaven. Use your gifting for my glory. Train yourselves for war. I am rising up generals who will train you as David trained the many warriors to come to bless and praise my name."

"I am breaking fear off the youth of the nations. It is time to arise and take up your Kingdom destiny. I am perfecting love in my body and fear will be broken of as my love is made perfect throughout the church generations."

Prophetic Vision

> "See what the land is like and whether the people who live there are strong or weak, few or many" V17

"I call you to be strong and very courageous. I call you to look upon the land and walk upon the land, and dance and weep and pray and bless the land and see the restoration of the devastation of many generations past. I am releasing a fresh watchman anointing on the church and the youth will take their place as anointed watchmen. I call you to embrace the seer anointing and to marry your zeal to wisdom. Pray for the nations and pray for the peace of Jerusalem.

"I am going to use the youth of the nations to do extraordinary feats in my name. I will heal you of all that the enemy has robbed you of. I will cause my Truth to resonate in the hearts of the youth of the nations and deception and lies will be exposed by my Spirit.

"There is a quickening across Europe of connectedness amongst young leaders that will act as a catalyst to birth fresh hope, healing and salvations amongst the youth of the world. I have raised up a radical generation of young adults in Canada and America, who are pioneers for purity. I am sending you out to the four corners of the earth, carrying this mantle for purity. Even now I am preparing places where you will be met with hospitality and love. I have prepared the hearts of a generation of spiritual mothers and fathers to receive you. I am using the youth of Asia to usher in my Kingdom and to repair the highway of holiness. In Africa the youth are ushering in my Kingdom through praise and prayer. Many young apostles and evangelists will rise out of Africa. In India the youth will receive a mighty healing anointing. Many lepers will be cleansed and healed in this outpouring. In Australia a powerful anointing for deliverance will release a generation of young men and women who will be bondage breakers for Christ. All across the earth, I will use the youth who have permitted me to sanctify them with my Blood and my Word and for my name sake, they will serve with joy and peace."

Amen

Get The House In Order

Barbara Lynch

It is time to get the house in order. It is time that everything unclean is eliminated. For the evil in this world is increasing and the evil will overtake the good in some areas. There is much being said about 911 and how terrible it was, but what is coming upon America is far more outreaching than 911. Many will truly run to and fro and many will take their lives at this given time. Many will not be able to distinguish the good from the evil, for their minds will have been darkened by the hardening of their hearts. There will be much tribulation at this given time. Woe upon woe will increase across this great America. Yes, some have repented and that is good, but so many more have not and that is what has brought this judgment upon My Chosen Land America. I had set America apart as a sign and a wonder of My Great Love for My people. But now it is being set apart to demonstrate My Great Wrath for a people that would not turn to the living Father, but chose to serve their own Baals.

America will no longer be America as you all have known her. She will be distorted on all sides and she will lack in every area. But the bright side is, this move of mine will bring a landslide salvation to America. Sodom and Gomorrah have nothing on America. She has reached down into the bowels of hell and pulled every abomination to the surface and she has played the harlot over and over again. NOW! Now, I will have My say so. The saints that have gone before are crying out for revenge on this perverted land, and I am answering their cries.

When will they repent? You just watch, saith the Father! You just watch!

I will repay saith the Lord, I will repay evil for evil. And good for good in this end time judgment.

Gods Favor In Our Earthly Court

Jim Dierickx

Gods Favor In Our Earthly Court Let Alone Justice In His Heavenly Courts:

(C) 2004

I wanted to share a strange but of the Lord thing that happened in my life this last week. I have been involved in a civil small claims matter where I was the defendant in a case against me. I should point out I could not afford an attorney for this matter. So I had to trust entirely on the Lord for deliverance in this matter, so before the first appearance before the court I prayed not knowing what the outcome would be, asking the Lord to put words in my mouth as needed to conduct a good defense for myself, as good or better than what I could have gotten with a paid defense attorney. The other side had counsel representing them but the Lord gave me the words to say that caused the opposing attorney great frustration when he attacked me but couldn't trap me in his words, and they even let some key information slip that helped my defense when the opposing attorney deposed his own client.

A couple of weeks later I got a letter from the magistrate judge who heard the case, that the proceedings against me were dismissed and he said that the other side did not presented a case that warranted a proof that the debt was valid. So they appealed they immediately appealed to a higher court, I got that letter in the mail the next day so the victory and relief I felt from the judge's letter was a short one on our part. So just as before we had to face the whole thing all over again with an even more determined opposing lawyer and us walking into brand new territory never having defend myself against an appeal. So when the appeal occurred, I prayed for favor once again, and for the Lord to handle the situation the way He wanted it to come about. Then before my eyes it was as if the Lord had used this appellate judge to be my defense attorney in the matter, because he grilled the plaintiffs attorney for around 20 minutes asking them the same basic questions that I would have asked if I needed to. Needless to say the opposing consul was speechless and did not have any of the answer that the judge was looking for. So when we got to this stage of the appeal before the appellate judge it was short sweat and to the point without me having to speak more than a sentence or two, so basically I won this too, this is favor worth far more than me having to spend money on an attorney when we have the Lord on our side who needs paving stones.

Prophetic Picture Of GOD's Heavenly Court & His Justice :

On the ride home I got a prophetic picture of the proceedings, that if God is giving me favor in this man-made civil court, how much more will he give us favor in His Heavenly Court because of Jesus that He sees in us through His Blood. How many times has the devil tried to get us to buy into a bill of goods that puts us in bondage even though the debt he is trying to put under is not valid because of the Blood Covering and unmerited Grace through Jesus. The accuser of the brethren is the plaintiff that hires an attorney satans messengers to serve us with a worthless invalid claims to try use the Law against US, because we \do not dwell on the fact that Jesus' blood and nothing else gives us holy justice in God's court. So the enemy will then send spirits of harassment and shame that come in and try to discourage us into walking into the law and legalism instead of what the Lord has for us through grace and freedom. When I am talking bondage to the Law I mean once you fall under one part of the Law all of it comes on us like a ton of bricks and we change from the women at the well into the accuser of the women at the well when we focus on the law instead of grace. This is just like God's best plan before the fall was for us to eat from the tree of life, which was effortless and free and full of Life. And the worst choice Adam could have made was to eat of tree of the knowledge of good and evil which led to death because we could then discern the law partially and then judged wrongly of things we were never to judge or have an opinion about where we would then play God from the fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil. Then the enemy uses the law to get us go and judge others through the Law, and then we get our eyes off of what the Lord has done through us through grace and try to get our eyes off of what the Lord has done in our lives to get us to grow cold and lose our first love, compared to focusing on the freedom and deliverance and love the Lord has showed us.

In His Eternal Heavenly Court, God right now, today has even more favor in store for us than the earthly court proceedings I went through today. When the accuser of the brethren is cast down and the Father is the Judge on His thrown, He will allow the Holy Spirit who knows all truth and mysteries of God to reveal the errors in the enemy's case and He will ask the questions that make the enemies case invalid and then through the Blood we will be set free of the Law and then we will walk in the true heavenly Grace and Freedom that comes only from the Blood of Jesus that make US Righteous in God presence. So this Heavenly Court of God supercedes the Law that the accuser of the brethren brings against us. This is because on our side we are represented by Jesus who pleads our case before the very throne of GOD with His Blood bought for US. This Blood will give us the Grace & Favor to Ask Anything Of The Court In Heaven and it will be done for us. This is why it says in 2 times in each chapter of John 14-16 ask anything in the name of the Son Jesus and it shall be given to you because when we ask in the name of the Son it brings honor to the Father, so every time the Devil doesn’t want us to have justice and uses the Law against US to say that we do not deserve justice. The Father turns to the Son and the Blood of Jesus' wounds stand out as the testament of which we are given justice through grace, and every time that the Son Jesus intercedes on our behalf it Sports the devil and he loses more power in heaven and in our lives each time, and then the adjustment comes when God decrees our blessing in His Heavenly Court, the enemy must pay up, and in God's court once the devil loses He has no more appeals and he must pay up immediately in God Kingdom, there are no payment plans for the devil, he is continually being stripped of the authority that he illegally took from the fall of man until now. That is why the Lord commanded us to subdue the earth and restore that which was lost. Also when the enemy was cursed in the garden it was said of him that he and the women and her descendants would be at odds with each other and that even though the serpent may bruise her heal, that the deliver was coming who one day would crush his head and break his power. So we may feel the pain and shame of the proceedings and every illegal and underhanded below the belt tactic that will be employed by the opposing side; but that Jesus through the offspring of the women will cause the enemy and accuser of the brethren to have his head crushed every time we turn in truth to faithful prayer that is united with the will of the Father and Jesus will then give us grace to have an overcoming life in all areas and once justice is decreed we will walk into it instantaneously. This was the case of Joseph in Gen 41, the Lord decreed him free and the Lord gave him Justice favor and blessing that occurred all at once upon the decree that The Lord Spoke in the Heavenly Court it occurred on earth as well. So Joseph went from his state of wrongful and illegal imprisonment to the palace in an afternoon and had everything plus more restored to him, that is why Joseph called his firstborn son 51 Joseph named his firstborn Manasseh [6] and said, "It is because God has made me forget all my trouble and all my father's household." 52 The second son he named Ephraim [7] and said, "It is because God has made me fruitful in the land of my suffering."

So whatever you are persevering in wherever your land and field of suffering currently is, when the Lord decrees the Freedom from His Heavenly Court into your life then He will make you an overcomer in the very thing we suffered in, and make you fruitful in what was hindering you in suffering in before. This is why when the blessing was finally given to Joseph for the injustice of the Prison Sentence in His life that once He was restored, he broke through all and any opposition in the financial governmental areas of his life and he never had a prison of lack, faith, wisdom ever again, and he was fully established in His walk forever more.

Just like King David he was on the run and trusting God for deliverance for 17 years before the Lord established Him in Justice but because He did not falter or do the things that God needs to do in Hid own power, he could have short circuited his true Kingdom of Heaven Justice, if he would have struck down God's Anointed King Saul at the time them he would have had a short lived victory but his kingdom would not have been truly established on the foundation of God's Mercy Righteousness and Perfect Justice of Placing It in God's Hands. And because David waited for the true deliverance of the Lord and God's Justice in the matter David's Kingdom was truly established in His life and his son's Solomon's life there was never a successful rebellion or uprising in the land of Israel because of David overcoming rebellion and false authority in his life.

But the Very Heavenly laws that God established cuts the enemy & accuser of the brethren to shreds because the very Law is used against him and the letter of the Law kills his very power and We will always overcome in the Lord's Court, and there will be a time of supernatural justice and the enemy will lose even 7 times what he would have lost, if he had just left things alone. This is exactly what happened when the enemy Had John the Baptist Head cut off by Herod. The word is clear that when he did this they reported it to Jesus, and it said that he Jesus wept and then He went out and healed and delivered all the people He ran across until sundown. In Job's life and in Joel where it talks about restoring what the canker worm and locust had eaten talks about us getting justice in the Lord Court. This is why even when the church came under persecution and martyrdom occurred that this very tribulation opened more doors of blessing once the Lord have us justice from Hid throne.

So I am praying constantly and prophetically decreeing the Justice and decrees of God be spoken over my life, and that He prophecies life to all of us so that the Kingdom would advance through all of the suffering that we all have gone through, so that revival doesn't tarry anymore and that the principalities that have held back the justice be broken and the truth of the law will cu them asunder. And that we all move into a season of supernatural grace and abundance and that our true inheritance would be the Lost. Because what better way to sport the devil than to go into his camp, use his own resources against him, and get them into the God's camp so they in turn can bring more of the lost into Gods kingdom. To prove mercy, grace and love, out-power and thwart hatred, bondage, and fear, and remember Jesus wins every time.

Praised Be The Lord

Good Fight Of Faith
Paul Ekemezie

nosike_ekemezie@yahoo.com

> Acts 14:21-22—They preached the good news in that city and won a large number of disciples. Then they returned to Lystra, Iconium and Antioch, 22strengthening the disciples and encouraging them to remain true to the faith. "We must go through many hardships to enter the kingdom of God," they said.

A number of people have written on “the importance of suffering.” Others have countered by indicating that suffering is not God’s will for His children. When Merlin Carothers preached through his Praise Books that we should praise God even when we are suffering, a lot of people could not agree with him. But in Acts 14:22 we see clearly that it takes many hardships to enter the kingdom of God. However, the main issue in Acts 14:22 is not really hardships or tribulations, but remaining true to the faith. In this article, we will see what it means to remain true to the faith. It takes a good fight.

The journey of the Israelites through the wilderness was written for our learning. The mere fact that they encountered many difficulties on their way to the Promised Land did not automatically qualify them to enter the Promised Land. In the same way, the fact that a Christian is facing hardships and even praises God for them is not a sufficient qualification for the blessings of God. In the case of the Israelites of old, with the exception of Joshua and Caleb, all the adults that left Egypt and crossed the Red Sea could not make it to the Promised Land. Why? The faith training that the wilderness experience was meant to accomplish in them failed utterly.

Heb 3:7-11—So, as the Holy Spirit says: "Today, if you hear his voice, 8do not harden your hearts as you did in the rebellion, during the time of testing in the desert, 9where your fathers tested and tried me and for forty years saw what I did. 10That is why I was angry with that generation, and I said, `Their hearts are always going astray, and they have not known my ways.' 11So I declared on oath in my anger, `They shall never enter my rest.'"

Heb 3:19-4:2—So we see that they were not able to enter, because of their unbelief. 4:1Therefore, since the promise of entering his rest still stands, let us be careful that none of you be found to have fallen short of it. 2For we also have had the gospel preached to us, just as they did; but the message they heard was of no value to them, because those who heard did not combine it with faith.

The wilderness experience was a time of testing for Israel of old. It was a time of testing for the Lord Jesus. And it is a time of testing for Christians of today. In Heb 3:10 God says that the problem of Israel of old is that they did not know the way of God. Which way? Heb 4:2 answers, the way of faith.

Rom 1:17—For in the gospel a righteousness from God is revealed, a righteousness that is by faith from first to last, just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith."

James 1:2-4—Consider it pure joy, my brothers, whenever you face trials of many kinds, 3because you know that the testing of your faith develops perseverance. 4Perseverance must finish its work so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything.

Rom 8:28 (NKJV)—And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose.

Do you know why you should rejoice in your hardships? It is because hardships are opportunities for your promotion, because all things work together for good. However, if you allow your faith to fail, the same hardship will become the reason for your demotion. It happened to the Israelites of old. It never happened to the Lord Jesus; He converted the terrible experience of going to the cross into the greatest promotion ever (Phil 2:8-11). The dominant experience of many Christians has been converting hardships into demotion. The question now is: How do we convert trials, temptations or hardships into our promotion? It takes a good fight of faith. Most of us (including myself until just now) have been fighting bad fight that lead to demotion.

1 Tim 1:18-19—Timothy, my son, I give you this instruction in keeping with the prophecies once made about you, so that by following them you may fight the good fight, 19holding on to faith and a good conscience. Some have rejected these and so have shipwrecked their faith.

Some prophecies were once made about Timothy, and Paul exhorts him to follow those prophecies if he is to fight the good fight. You may begin to say, ‘But no prophecies were said about me personally’. The prophecies refer to God’s promises, which were prophesied when the Scripture was being written or when Jesus carried on His ministry. Follow the promises in God’s word as a necessary first step in fighting the good fight. Paul then exhorted Timothy to hold on to faith and a good conscience. With these three items in place promotion must come.

> 2 Peter 1:3-9—3His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness. 4Through these he has given us his very great and precious promises, so that through them you may participate in the divine nature and escape the corruption in the world caused by evil desires. 5For this very reason, make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge; 6and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness; 7and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love. 8For if you possess these qualities in increasing measure, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9But if anyone does not have them, he is nearsighted and blind, and has forgotten that he has been cleansed from his past sins.

Here Peter writes the same kind of thing. Through the promises of God we “may” participate in the divine nature. “May” in the last sentence implies that it is conditional. In verses 5 to 9 the conditions are listed. Those conditions were lumped into “faith” and “good conscience” by apostle Paul in 1 Tim 1:19.

Good Conscience

Good conscience should actually come first (Matt 6:33). Let us learn some lessons from the battle of Ai (Joshua chapters 7 and 8).

Ai was typical of a promise of God. On first attempt to claim this promise, the enemy defeated the Israelites because there was sin in the camp—Achan's sin. That is the problem of many Christians (modern Israelites) today; they do not have good conscience. The moment the Israelites of old removed the forbidden thing in their midst, it became possible for them to enjoy the presence of God. God then led them to victory over Ai. In the same way, if Christians rid their lives of sin, that will attract the presence of God, which will lead them to victory. The way a Christian rids his/her life of sin is by fasting and prayer. As we pray we ask God to forgive us and we command the power of sin to leave our bodies in the name of Jesus Christ. As members of the Body of Christ we have authority over all the power of the enemy (Luke 10:19)—this is the promise we hang on to as we do spiritual warfare.

Hold on to Faith

Do you know what it means to hold on to faith? This is it: Imagine that you are sick with very serious pains. And you want to claim God's promise that Jesus was wounded that you may be healed. You state this promise of God and begin to command the infirmities and diseases in your body to die by the power of the Spirit, in the name of Jesus Christ. As a starter in this practice of faith, for some time it will appear as if nothing is happening, even though you may not know that a lot is already happening in the spiritual realm. Your condition might even appear to get worse; your faith is being tried. Do you now give up the faith business and rush for readily available drugs or even go to hospital? Well, that will be failure of faith. This is the reason why Christians have remained in the wilderness much longer than the forty years the Israelites of old stayed in the wilderness. Christians will yet remain in the wilderness until they pass the faith test. When they pass the faith test, they will enter God's rest (Heb 4:1).

As we remove sin from our lives through frequent fasting and prayer, we are now ready to conquer the Ai in our lives—diseases, infirmities, failures, human enemies, etc. There is something we learn from Joshua in the battle of Ai.

Josh 8:18-19,26—18Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Hold out toward Ai the javelin that is in your hand, for into your hand I will deliver the city." So Joshua held out his javelin toward Ai. 19As soon as he did this, the men in the ambush rose quickly from their position and rushed forward. They entered the city and captured it and quickly set it on fire.
26For Joshua did not draw back the hand that held out his javelin until he had destroyed all who lived in Ai.

Joshua held out his javelin towards Ai for as long it took to destroy all of Ai. It was an arduous task for him, but he knew that the success of the battle depended on that and that they could never fail to conquer (Rom 8:37), because they were backed by the promise of God. Joshua holding out the javelin toward Ai represents perseverance in using our weapons of warfare.

Jam 1:4—Perseverance must finish its work so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything.

Perseverance must finish its work before anyone can pass the faith test. Anyone who passes the test receives promotion.

Matt 21:21-22—Jesus replied, "I tell you the truth, if you have faith and do not doubt, not only can you do what was done to the fig tree, but also you can say to this mountain, `Go, throw yourself into the sea,' and it will be done. 22If you believe, you will receive whatever you ask for in prayer."

Heb 10:35-39—So do not throw away your confidence; it will be richly rewarded. 36You need to persevere so that when you have done the will of God, you will receive what he has promised. 37For in just a very little while, "He who is coming will come and will not delay. 38But my righteous one will live by faith. And if he shrinks back, I will not be pleased with him."
39But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who believe and are saved.

Now, in the case of sickness, what does entry into God's rest imply? It implies victory over sicknesses. Once the devil finds out that you have learnt how to overcome sicknesses and diseases, he will not try you from that angle again, unless you commit sin. The same applies to every other kind of problem. The time for our total deliverance has come. Let us learn to remain true to faith. Pain or hardship may endure for a short time, but we have God's promise that in all things we are more than conquerors. Providing we are committed members of the Body of Christ, all of God's promises are "Yes" to us (2 Cor 1:20). This is because the only access Jesus has given us to the Father is through the curtain, that is His Body (Heb 10:20). Even the fasting and prayer I mentioned previously cannot work if we are not committed to the Body of Christ.

1 John 1:7—But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, purifies us from all sin.

Grasp Hold Of The Rock

Yolanda Ballard

Nov 8, 2004
When everything seems to be crumbling around you, come to the Rock that is a sure foundation, One that will never let you down. He gave His life so that you would be free to partake of the same glory that He experienced at the Cross. For it is through dying that the resurrection power of the Living Lamb of God comes forth. Once you have escaped the clutches of the evil one, hold fast to your liberty in Christ. He is your true salvation from every bondage, every turmoil, every weapon that might come your way. Grasp hold of the Rock and never let go when the storms start raging heavily.

When everything starts to look hazy, and you feel you have lost your way, hold fast to the Truth that I have given you in My word. Do not look at the circumstances, but look to the light in My word, and it will lead you to freedom and safety. I will give you the strength you need. Just bow down before Me, and worship Me, and I will fill you once again with the life and strength that you need. Cry out for wisdom and grace, and I will lead you to the other side, the land flowing with milk and honey that I promised you.

Yes, I have promised the abundant life, and it is in Me. Cast all your cares upon Me for I care for you. Rest in My loving arms, and be still knowing I will supply your every need. I tell you this hour to give it all to Me. All the raging tides and the winds that blow that are saying you can't make it. You don't have the funds to see you through. Cast them down for you have a heavenly bank account in Me, and I bring it forth in My timing, not when the timing of the world calls for it. For I am stretching you in your faithfulness to Me and My word.

Do not look at the circumstances, but stand on Truth, on My promises, and do not waver, and I will manifest the answer. Draw close and I will keep you safe, and raise you up as mighty conquerors of faith and truth. You will cast down the strongholds of the enemy through My love and grace. You will escape the lies of the evil one that says you don't have what it takes. For greater is He who is in you than he who is in the world. Yes, you will run and you will leap in joy when I release My gifts through you.

Many will come into My kingdom through your faithfulness to seek Me and your yieldedness to perform My word through signs and wonders. Be ready for even in the market place I will pour out My glory. My presence will radiate through you like a glowing light. And those that I have prepared will be drawn to it, and collapse under a mighty conviction weaping with joy at My presence. Their hearts long for the healing power of My love. They long for it and are ready to receive My saving grace.

The end time harvest is here. Be ready to reap a bumper crop for the fruit of your servitude towards Me. All that you have given up for My kingdom will return unto you seven fold. You will reap prosperity and health as your soul prospers in Me. Now rest, and let Me bless you, and strengthen you, and fill you to overflowing. For now is the time to rejoice. Now is the time to reap the fruit of your labor. It is time to gather in the sheep and be one, and be the light I called you to be.

Go In And Possess The Land

Joni Ames

2004 is here. It is a new year, just a little into a new century, and time for us to take hold of and DO SOMETHING with the restoration the Lord has given to us. God is restoring, but it is up to us to DO something with what He has restored to us! - I continue to hear these words, "GO IN AND POSSESS THE LAND!"

Now, let me say ahead of time, this has NOTHING to do with salvation or having God love us or getting to heaven. What it DOES have to do with is walking in the promises we've been given and fulfilling the purpose for which we were born.

Those of us who are in the "middle" age bracket were born during the healing wave of the 40's and 50's, have come through the "word" movement, and say we are ready for action! So why do some of us continue to sit in our church pews and stare at each other in complete boredom?!

I believe the Lord is saying to us that it is time to put ourselves INTO ACTION and cross over our rivers of fears and excuses and GO INTO our Promised Lands!

Let us review these scriptures in James 2:
(14) What does it profit, my brethren, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can faith save him?
(17) Thus also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead.
(18) But someone will say, "You have faith, and I have works." Show me your faith without your works, and I will show you my faith BY my works.
(19) You believe that there is one God. You do well. Even the demons believe--and tremble! (20) But do you want to know, O foolish man, that faith WITHOUT works is DEAD?
(21) Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he offered Isaac his son on the altar?
(22) Do you see that faith was working together with his works, and BY works faith was made perfect?
(23) And the Scripture was fulfilled which says, "Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness." And he was called the friend of God.
(24) You see then that a man is justified by works, and not by faith only.
(26) For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

HOW LONG WILL WE WAIT?
Then Joshua said to the children of Israel: "How long will you neglect to go and possess the land which the Lord God of your fathers has given you?" (Joshua 18:3)

I have so many friends who have been saying for SO long, "I'm waiting on the Lord!" - I've served notice on them that if they wait so long that they ON PURPOSE die without doing what they were called to do, I'm going to put on their tombstone, "They waited on the Lord, and He came and got them!"

I believe the Lord is saying to us:

"Look, the Lord your God has set the land before you; go up and POSSESS it, as the Lord God of your fathers has spoken to you; do not fear or be discouraged." (Deuteronomy 1:21)

LET'S LEARN FROM THE PAST

When the Israelites ignored the promise of God and focused on the giants, it totally prevented them from going in to possess the land. Their children went in later on, but they died in the wilderness. We need to learn from this and not follow in their example.

(7) Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says: "Today, if you will hear His voice, (8) Do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion, In the day of trial in the wilderness, (9) Where your fathers tested Me, tried Me, And saw My works forty years. (10) Therefore I was angry with that generation, And said, 'They always go astray in their heart, And they have not known My ways.' (11) So I swore in My wrath, 'They shall not enter My rest.' " (12) Beware, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief in departing from the living God; (13) but exhort one another daily, while it is called "Today," lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin. (14) For we have become partakers of Christ if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast to the end, (15) while it is said: "Today, if you will hear His voice, Do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion." (16) For who, having heard, rebelled? Indeed, was it not all who came out of Egypt, led by Moses? (17) Now with whom was He angry forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose corpses fell in the wilderness? (18) And to whom did He swear that they would not enter His rest, but to those who did not obey? (19) So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief. (Hebrews 3:7-19)

WHAT ABOUT ENEMIES OR GIANTS?

And the Lord your God will expel them from before you and drive them out of your sight. So you shall possess their land, as the Lord your God promised you. (Joshua 23:5)

God promises to deal with our enemies. As for giants, I believe the Lord had the giants in place to protect and preserve the Promised Land for the Israelites. In much the same way, I believe the Lord God has held and protected our Promised Lands. I also believe that when it's time for us to go in to possess the land, and He gives us the right of passage, God has a way of dealing with the giants. That issue isn't our concern. Our only concern is obedience in obeying His command to "go in and possess the land."

Some of us are facing genuine giants in the area of health, family situations or finances. I know we all have to "go" sometime, and I've just decided I'd rather "go" doing what I'm called to, going as far as I can get, rather than in total defeat!

THE MIND BATTLE

One of the things we have to battle the most is our mind. We like to blame "the enemy," but many times WE are our own worst enemy! Many of us can think up more excuses to avoid change than to go for it!

I love what Colosians 1:21 says, "And you, who once were alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now He has reconciled."

Isaiah 26:3 tells us, "You will keep him in perfect peace, Whose mind is stayed on You, Because he trusts in You."

But how do we battle the fears and thoughts that come?

2 Cor. 10:3-5 says:

(3) "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh.
(4) For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds,
(5) casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing EVERY THOUGHT into captivity to the obedience of Christ."

Phillipians 3:8 says: "Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue and if there is anything praiseworthy--MEDITATE ON THESE THINGS."

WHAT SHOULD WE MEDITATE ON?
(13) Till I come, give attention to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.
(14) DO NOT NEGLECT THE GIFT THAT IS IN YOU, which was given to you by prophecy with the laying on of the hands of the eldership.
(15) MEDITATE ON THESE THINGS; GIVE YOURSELF ENTIRELY TO THEM, THAT YOUR PROGRESS MAY BE EVIDENT TO ALL.
(16) Take heed to yourself and to the doctrine. Continue in them, for IN DOING THIS you WILL save both yourself AND those who hear you. (I Timothy 4:13-16)

PRAYER
Father, we repent of any way in which we have stood in our own way and been our own worst enemy through allowing our minds to wander from believing in you and actually carrying out that belief by obeying you. Help us get rid of our unbelief and to go forward in you towards the land you've promised us. As David once prayed, so we pray Psalm 19:14, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart Be acceptable in Your sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer." And we add to that prayer, let our actions also be acceptable in your sight as well.
In Jesus' name, Amen.

Glory Into Glory

Jo Spangler

jos@starband.net

It is certain that we are called to the glory of God (1Thes. 2.12). But what does this mean to the child of God in practical terms? How we perceive what the Lord means in this high calling will determine our expectations, our diligence to the task, and our cooperation with the Lord in the process.

In 2 Cor. 3.18 the Lord says that we will be transformed from glory “into” glory as we see the glory of the Lord. In Thayer’s lexicon we find a definition of glory that helps us understand what the Lord might have us see in this text. That definition states that glory is “the absolutely perfect inward or personal excellence of Christ….in which He excels by virtue of His nature.”

If we accept this as true, that the Lord’s glory may be demonstrated through His personal excellence, then we have an inkling of what our goal of the “high calling” of God really is. We, as sons of God, are called to be inwardly changed in incremental steps to reflect the personal excellence of Christ.

Every child of God has some “glory” of God. The glory of the Lord may be manifest in many ways; magnificence, excellence, dignity, preeminence, grace, majesty, splendor, brightness, honor, and so on including any attributes of Christ Himself. But every child of God is in possession of some facet or state of glory (John 17.21). The Lord instructs us that as we perceive another glory of Christ’s (by His revelation to us in our current position) that we are to be changed (metamorphosed) into the next glory.

This, however, is not some kind of magic. It is not some great mystery wherein the Lord appears in a bright cloud to whisk away our problems and issues. We must realize that the glory we are presently in must be “left” in order to attain the glory He has shown us. It is at this point most of us start reviewing the cost. How many of us absolutely know that the Lord has revealed to us an inward problem or attribute of our own that He wishes to correct. We cannot beg off that we do not comprehend what He means or even that we do not know what we should do. But in many cases we just ponder the situation rather than move “into” what He has shown us.

The fact is that we are changed from glory into glory. This means that the Lord knows exactly where we are and He comes to show us where we are going. We cannot say, “We do not know where you are going (John 14.5)” because He will simply say to us what He said to Thomas. “I am the Way” to where we are going. He knows the glory in which we presently live, and He shows us the glory He would have us attain. Our problem lies in our decision to proceed with the painful process of being changed. There is no apprehension of the glory of God from our viewpoint without change….the very purpose of the glory is change.

In studying 2 Cor 3:18 the Lord highlighted the little word “into”, as in “glory into glory.” As I studied the little word I began to understand somewhat better the process of change the Lord would have us enter whereby we go from glory into glory.

The word “into” in Greek is “eis”, Strong’s number 1519. It has a fascinating description, which helps us understand God’s process for us to be changed from glory into glory. Remember that the glory we are referring to in this verse is the personal excellence of Christ. We are not referring to outward manifestations or signs, which may reflect the glory of God, but to the inwrought work of the cross to produce the personal characteristics of Jesus in His people.

“Eis”, or “into” according to Thayer’s Lexicon, indicates the point reached or entered of:

1) Place
2) Time
3) Purpose.

In referring to place it refers to “ a place entered, or entrance into a place.” It stands before nouns designating an open place, or one in which an object can be hidden. If the surface only of the place entered is touched or occupied it may be rendered “on” or “upon”, to mark the limit reached, or where one sets foot.

In reference to time it denotes entrance into a period which is penetrated, as it were, a duration through a time, a dawning into. Further it refers to “ the time in which a thing is done because he who does or experiences a thing at any time is conceived as, so to speak, entering into that time, in their season.”

In reference to purpose and used metaphorically the word retains the force of entering into anything where one thing is to be changed into another, or where several persons or things are said to be collected or combined into one. Used with verbs of going, coming, leading, “eis” is joined to nouns designating the condition or state into which one passes. It is used to indicate the task or work which one enters into, what he undertakes, or to take up and carry on the labor begun by another. It denotes motion to something, of ethical direction or reference, universal of acts in which the mind is directed towards or looks to something. It is also used to denote the end to which a thing reaches or extends or the end which one has in view, the end by which a thing is completed, the result or effect.

Let us begin with the affirmation that we all possess some measure of the glory of God. When the Lord reveals that we are to be changed in some inward way, and He does this almost constantly, our minds need to be wrapped around what He has revealed as the next glory to attain. As always God shares the process with us, we cannot do His part nor can we ignore the part He gives us to do. So we must recognize the ways of God in order to cooperate and be obedient to the call to come up. We do not need to miss the call because it is disguised in what we consider to be “just a small thing”. When the stakes are the personal excellence of Christ no thing is too small.

Having recognized that we are already IN some state of glory we keep ourselves ready to move on to the next. This is what the Israelites did when they followed the glory cloud. They stayed in a state of readiness. Let us not make the mistake of bringing the New Testament age “down” to the Old testament age by looking for, waiting for, and wishing for an outward “big bright shining cloud” to appear in our skies in order to guide us. We are speaking spiritually and we already have the cloud of glory inside of us. Our job is to stay ready to move with Him as He beckons us.

As we are in one state of glory and the Lord calls us “into” another state of glory our first decision is to accept what the Lord has revealed. We cannot go ”into” something that we wish to remain “upon” us. Using the above definition, the Spirit of the Lord wishes to enter into our life in our present state to accomplish the next level of glory. If we, instead, wish only for the Spirit of the Lord to come ”upon” us then we establish a limit. Remember in the definition that if a limit is marked or a point is reached where you set your foot and will not proceed beyond that limit then the correct word is “upon” not “into.” Glory upon glory would imply that we actually see what the Lord is saying but we CHOOSE to look at it, talk about it, discuss it, investigate it or even worse, USE IT but we REFUSE to enter it. We may demonstrate signs of the glory from this position, we may demonstrate healings and gifts from the Spirit of the Lord being “upon” us but we cannot enter INTO the glory from this position.

Here again we remember the Israelites, who after being shown the land of glory, decided to remain in the glory they had already and circle the mountain of their obstacle for 40 years. Entering “into” the land intimates that there is no limit to the relationship between us and the Lord when He wants to move us to the next glory, we have considered the cost and we agree to it.

Nor can we say that we do not understand the timing for moving from glory into glory. The little word ”into” has an aspect of time built right into it. It denotes a period which is penetrated, a duration through a time, a dawning into. Again it refers to “ a time a thing is done because he who does or experiences a thing at any time is conceived of as, so to speak, entering into that time in their season.” This means as soon as we understand what the Lord has revealed the TIME is now for that very thing. As soon as we penetrate what He has shown us we are in the “time” for moving into the next glory. In other words it is our “season” for the next glory to be followed and apprehended. Here is where the Lord urges us so explicitly in Hebrews to not harden our hearts and turn away from the way

He is showing us. Our choice is to enter “into” what He has shown us but our tendency as humans is to review and think about, investigate and discuss (circle) it rather than enter “into.”

This entering “into” predicates our movement into the next glory. Because “into” has a connotation of movement we have to “leave” the glory we are in to go into the next one. This brings about many things in our human frailty. We may become fearful because we enjoy where we are or we are secure where we are. We may have issues of pride because we will not accept what the Lord has shown us as to applying to us (we feel we have already arrived at this point, or gone beyond this point, or see no need for it in our own lives). We may have issues with men’s opinions of ourselves (we need or desire their respect or their admiration of our work or our person.) There are many other things that may appear on the horizon as the Lord would move us on and they always appear as giants. If we succumb to them then we will fail to move “into” the land of the next glory with God.

So we stop going from glory “into” glory because we have chosen to stop at a glory of our own choosing. Whether it is fear or convenience or stubbornness that stops us, the result is the same….we stop growing in the personal excellence of Christ. And when that happens we may continue to “work” for the Lord, even demonstrating and manifesting signs of His glory to which we have already attained, but we have missed the purpose of God….to attain unto the likeness of His Son Jesus, to be part of a great company of sons.

If we can comprehend that we must set aside all weight in order to enter ”into” the glory, and that it has its own element of time associated with it, then the last aspect of “into” needs to be understood. That aspect is of “purpose.”

Going back to Thayer’s definition it says, “ indicating motion or direction, can denote motion to something, ethical direction or references acts in which the mind is directed toward or looks to something. It can also intimate the end to which a thing reaches or extends or to the end which a thing is adapted, the end by which a thing is completed. Oh, how much the Lord is in that!

Remember how many times the Lord refers to the fact that the purpose of God from Genesis to Revelation is to produce sons of the image and likeness of Himself. And the way that is accomplished is to look unto Jesus, recognize Him as the Way, follow Him, imitate Him, and so many more urgings to pursue Him for who He really is. The reason we enter “into” is also the end of the “into”, that is, to become like Him. He is the End, He says so Himself. He is the beginning and the End.

So as we go “glory into glory” we are affirming that He is King and Lord of our lives WHEN we follow the glory cloud of His presence in us to the next level. It is not an easy task but we have His assurance that He will never leave us and that He is able to complete every good work He begins in us. Our part remains to acquiesce to His revelation of the next step of glory so that we know the place we are going, to have the faith to leave behind the old and embrace the new so that we understand the time is NOW to accomplish it, and to believe that whatever He has shown us He has the power to accomplish so that we will move forward with no fear in our hearts. To God be the glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus forever and ever.

Gatekeepers

Dennis Drewlo

A Day of Gatekeepers (Porters) & Bridge-Builders - Dennis E. Drewlo

I Am Calling the Gatekeepers (Porters) to Rise Up This Day For the New Thing That I Am About to Do.

I am going to do a new thing in the nation and in key cities through key leaders. A new wave of My Presence will come through these whom I have raised up as leaders and into what I am about to do in the cities is through their gates.

The gates have huge doors--doors that can only be opened by a large majority of the city's leaders together putting their shoulders to them. That is the only way they can be opened. Through these gates is the only entrance: Unity in the Church will open the gates. Division will keep them locked.

"Verily, verily I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and he leadeth them out" (John 10:1-6).

I Am Seeking Gatekeepers (Porters) Who Will Guard My House & the Treasures Within It:

I am seeking those who know that value of the things of the Kingdom and who will guard it and treasure it more highly than the things of this world and protect that which is within My house. My desire is to keep that which is unclean out of My House. They will guard My People as shepherds as I, the Chief Shepherd (1 Peter 2:25, 1 Peter 5.1-4).

"For these Levites, the four chief porters, were in their set office, and were over the chambers and treasuries of the house of God" (1 Chronicles 9:26).

"This is the thing that ye shall do; A third part of you entering on the Sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be porters of the doors; And a third part shall be at the king's house; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD" (II Chronicles 23:4-6).

"And he set the porters at the gates of the house of the LORD, that none which was unclean in any thing should enter in." (II Chronicles 23:19).

There Will Be a New Value Placed on the Things of the Kingdom.

The move of My Spirit will cause a radical shift in your priorities. The things of the Kingdome will become more important over the next year than the things of the world:

'Now prior to this, Eliashib the priest, who was appointed over the chambers of the house of our God, being related to Tobiah, had prepared a large room for him, where formerly they put the grain offerings, the frankincense, the utensils, and the tithes of grain, wine and oil prescribed for the Levites, the singers and the gatekeepers, and the contributions for the priests. But during all this time I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I had gone to the king. After some time, however, I asked leave from the king, and I came to Jerusalem and learned about the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, preparing a room for him in the courts of the house of God. -

"But seek ye first the Kingdom of God & His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you" (Mat. 6:33).

The Gates in the Church I will begin to move through the various gates in the Church:

The Prayer Gate Human Bridges (Intercessors) Will Arise

I am calling My people to intercession from My Church, their families, & their cities. Call out to me

"And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none" (Ezekiel 22:30-31).

"And Abraham drew near, and said, Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?

Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein? That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right? And the LORD said, If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes. (Genesis 18:23-32).

"Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare Thy people O Lord, and give not Thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them. Wherefore should they say among the people, Where is your God?" (Joel 1:17).

I am calling My people to intercession from My Church, their families, & their cities.

"And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none" (Ezekiel 22:30-31).

"And Abraham drew near, and said, Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?

"Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare Thy people O Lord, and give not Thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them. Wherefore should they say among the people, Where is your God?" (-Joel 1:17).

"Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street" (Lamentations 2:19).

"If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land. (II Chronicles 7:14).

The Worship Gate

Worshippers will rise up and enter the Throne Room. They will bring My people through the veil, into the Holy of Holies. This will be a time for entering in, past the Outer Court, past the Holy Place, and into the Holy of Holies.

"God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

The Art Gate

I will redeem the Arts for My purposes. A new anointing will come on the artists; the painters, illustrators, dancers. The anointing of the Creator will come upon the Church that will speak to the hearts of My people like words cannot. The same Genesis power that created the heavens and the earth will rise up within the Church. The same Genesis "Let there be" will rise up in the Church. I will breathe new life in the arts. You will bring forth divinely inspired works of art, not out of man's intellect, but out of the breath of God.

"For by Him, all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things were created by Him and for Him" (Colossians :16).

The Dance Gate

Dancers will carry the My Presence. A David & Miriam anointing will come upon the Church.

"Praise ye the Lord. Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise in the congregation of saints. Let Israel rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyful in their King. Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp. For the Lord taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautify the meek with salvation. Let the saints be joyful in glory: let them sing aloud upon their beds. Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand; To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and punishments upon the people; To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron; To execute upon them the judgment written: this honour have all his saints. Praise ye the Lord" (Psalm 149:1-9).

"But as the Ark of the Lord's covenant entered the City of David, Michal, the daughter of Saul, looked down from her window. When she saw King David dancing and leaping for joy, she was filled with contempt for him." (I Chronicles 15:27).

"And it was told King David, "The Lord has blessed the household of Obed-edom and all that belongs to him, because of the Ark of God." So David went and brought up the Ark of God from the house of Obed-edom to the city of David with rejoicing; and when those who bore the Ark of The Lord had gone six paces, he sacrificed an ox and a fatling. And David danced before The Lord with all his might" (2 Samuel 6:12-14 RSV).

Then Miriam, the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her with timbrels and dancing. And Miriam sang to them: "Sing to The Lord, for He has triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider He has thrown into the sea" (Exodus 15:19-21 RSV).

"Praise the Lord! Sing to The Lord a new song, His praise in the assembly of the faithful! Let Israel be glad in his Maker, let the sons of Zion rejoice in their King! Let them praise His Name with dancing, making melody to Him with timbrel and lyre! For The Lord takes pleasure in His people; He adorns the humble with victory" (Psalm 149:1-4 RSV).

The Prophetic Gate

The clear Word of the Lord will come forth in this hour to edify, exhort, comfort & guide My Church. This word will sound an alarm to awaken My Church. It will be the Word that they need to hear. nothing more, nothing less.

"Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand; (Joel 2:1).

"Again he said unto me, Prophesy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD" (Ezekiel 37:4).

"And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams." (Joel 2:28 & Acts 2:17-18).

"Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith." (Romans 12:6).

"Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy" (I Cor. 14:1).

"For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted." (I Cor. 14:31).

Watchmen Will Rise Up at the Gates Watchmen will rise up in cities

"Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the LORD shall bring again Zion" (Isaiah 52:8).

"I have posted watchmen on your walls, O Jerusalem; they will never be silent day or night. You who call on the Lord, give yourselves no rest, and give Him no rest until He establishes Jerusalem and makes her the praise of the earth" (Isaiah: 6 & 7).

"The watchmen found me as they made their rounds in the city, "have you seen the one my heart loves?" (Song of Solomon 3:3).

"The watchmen that went about the city found me, they wounded me; the keepers of the walls took away my veil from me" (Song of Solomon 5:7).

"Also I have set watchmen over you (saying) hearken to the sound of the trumpet" (Jeremiah 6:17).

Open Gates, Open Hearts, Open Minds, & Open Heavens

I will open the minds of My people to the things that I am about to do in the earth. Old patterns of thinking will be replaced as I renew the minds of My Church.

But their minds were made dull, for to this day the same veil remains when the old covenant is read. It has not been removed, because only in Christ is it taken away (2 Cor 3:14).

"If, now, the good news we declare is in fact veiled, it is veiled among those who are perishing, among whom the god of this system of things has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, that the illumination of the glorious good news about the Christ, who is the image of God, might not shine through." (2 Cor 4:3-4).

Warriors Will Stand at the Gates as "Unknown Soldiers"

Warriors will rise up as "Unknown Soldiers". These "behind the scenes" people will see great reward because they desire not to be glorified themselves, but to glorify Me. The will take on the Full Armour of God not against flesh and blood, but against flesh & blood (Ephesians 6:12).

"Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven (Matthew 6:1).

"And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward" (Matthew 6:5.).

Bridge-Builders Will Arise In the Days Ahead. Bridge-builders, and peacemakers will arise in the Church.

"For Christ is our peace; in his flesh he has made both groups into one and has broken down the dividing wall, that is, the hostility between us" (Ephesians 2:14).

"A voice of one calling: In the desert prepare the way for the Lord; make straight in the wilderness a highway for our God. Every valley shall be raised up, every mountain and hill made low; the rough ground shall become level, the rugged places a plain. And the glory of the Lord will be revealed, and all mankind together will see it" (Isaiah 40:3-5 NIV).

They will be the ones who will build:

I will tear down the walls in the church and with the remnants of the walls I will build bridges:

Cultural, Racial & Denominational Bridges

I will bridge the gap between the races and restore the Body of Christ to the place of unity, and bring the Church to a place without walls or prejudice.

"They shall be one in mine hand" (Ezekiel 37:19).

".and you shall be witnesses to Me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth". (Acts 1:8 NKJV).

"There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus" (Gal 3:28)

"- where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcised nor uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave nor free, but Christ is all and in all." (Colossians 3:11)

"The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, The leopard shall lie down with the young goat, The calf and the young lion and the fatling together; And a little child shall lead them" (Isaiah 11:6).

They will come to drink and when they come, they will come as One Body, without divisions or factions.

They Will Reach the Unreachable

They will reach out to the unreachable. the discarded ones.the forgotten ones. the outcasts and the outsiders. They will reach the ones that are crying out for something more.

They Will Teach the Un-teachable

They will teach the un-teachable ones the things of the Kingdom. Through them, I will change hearts and renew minds. I will soften the hearts of those who are ready to hear the truth. They will receive My Word and be changed by it.

"Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls" (James 1:21).

Arise Gatekeepers! Arise Bridge-builders! This is your time!

Glory Bubbles
Sandy Warner

Jan 1, 2004
SANDY VISION: I saw a pool thick with bubbles which had a cloud of vapor over it.

HEARD: I called you like Moses to experience My cloud.

GRANDMA ANNA RHEMA
VISION: Suddenly before me was a cloud of tiny little bubbles that were enveloped in a foggy mist. The mist swirled in front of My eyes. I knew it was His glory cloud. I opened my eyes and saw it briefly before it disappeared.

SELAH WORD KISSED BY HIS GLORY CLOUD
What is consciousness? Consciousness is knowing Me and knowing that I love you. How I love to pour out My glory upon your passionate heart. Drink it in, beloved. Let it kiss your mouth with My heavenly mist. Let the bubbles penetrate deeply into your soul bringing you great peace.

"Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth -- For your love is better than wine." (Song of Solomon 1:2 NKJ)

GRANDMA ANNA RHEMA
VISION TRANCE: I had just gone to bed and suddenly the room was filled with God's Glory. It looked like all kinds of sizes of bubbles with tiny lights in them. Some were probably 3 inches across and others were very small. All of them were iridescent with lovely rainbow colors. I couldn't see anything in my room very clearly because there were so many bubbles! They were swirling about and began to dance towards me and touch me. Their gentle touches penetrated me to the very core and filled me with such joy. It felt so good that I started to laugh and giggle. I was trying to tell the Lord how much I was enjoying it and it was difficult to speak, because I was laughing so hard. I sure didn't want the experience to end. It was such fun!

CONCLUSION

{Words to Ponder are summaries of His quickened Words}

WORD TO PONDER THE FULLNESS OF JOY
In My Presence is fullness of joy. I AM descending upon My people and giving them experiences within My glory cloud. My cloud is filled with life and many good gifts. Each are exquisite expressions of My Presence and intimate touch. I will fill you with My fountain of joy bubbles and you shall bubble forth My Presence.

"In Your presence is fullness of joy; at Your right hand are pleasures forevermore." (Ps 16:11 NKJV)

Sealed In His Cloud

ANNIE'S VISIONS

Excerpts from River of Blessing, Book 1, page 60

"In another vision she saw the river of blessing. "It was such glorious water all full of light and life. It seemed that anything it would touch would be enlivened, so full of life and blessing and light was it. In the center of this mighty river was the cross so immense and so glorious. It was all of blazing, brilliant light, shining forth in wondrous brilliancy. It seemed to radiate glory and light in all directions. As I watched, the river began to decrease flowing less and less till it flowed no more. All the water dried up and was no more…"

"…Then there appeared small canopies like overturned bowls that covered each one of those who had light in themselves. One came and covered me, also. It was a strange, transparent substance that fully covered and seemed to radiate security and peace and love. One felt so lovely and comfortable and peaceful within this covering sensation." {end quotes}

NOTE: Annie said that where the river had been there were people that had light within themselves and also others who did not have His light. Now without the water, those without the light became spoiled, rotten and decomposed. When His cloud came filled with storms, fire and light, they were without escape. If she had not been so wondrously covered, she would have been in terrible panic and fear. She said truly it was a sight and sound to strike terror into any being that was not covered with this canopy.

SANDY REVELATION
Yesterday as I was writing the following excerpt (from a 2002 post) and had recorded the section about glass terrariums, it began to mist outside, a beautiful light dewy mist. The light was filtering through it and they shone like tiny diamonds. I felt it was an awesome parable of living sealed inside our little bowls. The Lord’s cloud was filling us with His vapor and mist.

GLASS TERRARIUMS (from When You Are Feeling Dry, QW 2002)
"As the Holy Spirit was bringing the concepts from those visions to mind, He reminded me of the miniature glass terrariums, with a dome lid. I used to make them for our home and there were secrets to making terrariums stay healthy and not rot or dry out. Part of it was a layer of charcoal to work as a filter. Part of it was to put exactly the right amount of water in the dirt, so that the same moisture would circulate like dew upon the dome, then once again fall like rain. One only needed to water them occasionally and sparingly."

CONCLUSION

WORD TO PONDER: SEALED IN MY CLOUD
Even now I AM placing a seal upon and over My own ones, who walk with an upright heart, with the fear of the Lord, and who have consecrated themselves to Me. The cloud of My Presence shall cover them day and night. They shall not suffer spiritual drought in the dry season, neither shall they spiritually suffer the heat of day or the cold of night. My Presence shall cover them completely and grant them the glory of My light and love all their days.

Come into My Presence and seek My refuge. It is only in Me that you will find your needed rest.

"For the cloud of the LORD was upon the tabernacle by day, and fire was on it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their journeys." (Ex 40:38 KJV)

"And the LORD will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence." (Isaiah 4:5 KJV)

The Bell Tower Rings
Sandy Warner

Jan 2, 2004
Long we have waited for this hour of the great awakening when I ring the bell. This tolling is the sound of a clarion call. Listen, even now the bell tower is ringing. On one side, this bell rings liberty for the captives! Break the cords of the pain of delay and be released into your birthright. It is My joy to give you the Kingdom for such a time as this. Deliverance, deliverance is coming, deliverance is nigh, deliverance is here. Within the great irony of a failing and fallen world, I will set My people free! They will go forth amidst the fires, and yet they will fear only their God, for they know the One Who is their all consuming fire.

Those on the opposite side hear the same bell, but they hear a different sound. Will they heed the warning? Awake from your slumber! Rise from your beds of apathy and pleasures and listen to the signs of the times. Like the magma of a fiery volcano, the consequences of rebellion and sin are spewing out. The toll of the bell rings warning, yet few will heed.

My love is so fierce that I will stop at nothing to awaken those in spiritual slumber. Come out My people, come out! Separate yourselves. Turn to the only One Who can save you from the ravages of sin. The earth grows hot with the consequences of defiance, and the bell rings for all who would listen. Come to your Maker and reject Him not. For He alone holds the keys to your deliverance for such a time as this.

"See that you do not refuse Him who speaks. For if they did not escape who refused Him who spoke on earth, much more shall we not escape if we turn away from Him who speaks from heaven, whose voice then shook the earth; but now He has promised, saying, "Yet once more I shake not only the earth, but also heaven." Now this, "Yet once more," indicates the removal of those things that are being shaken, as of things that are made, that the things which cannot be shaken may remain. Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us have grace, by which we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear. For our God is a consuming fire." (Hebrews 12:25-29 NKJV)

Glorious Victory

Bill Burns

I sound the trumpet, says the Lord, for these are the days of glorious victory in My house. I shall give heavenly weapons, the prophetic word. Corporate power has never been exercised in the history of mankind as it is now being activated. It will come forth as a mighty sword against the enemy and destroy his devices, tear down his strongholds, and establish My rule in the land. It is My land, and I will take back the title deed to planet earth. I am establishing it now through the voice of My servants. I will bring forth a victory in the land that will astound even the greatest of intercessors, for they have desired to see My kingdom established. You have the sword of the Spirit, the torch, the glory, and the anointing by which you will break the power of the enemy. It is written that the anointing breaks the yoke. Go forth in the power of My might and become that which I have spoken. You are My priests and kings, My warriors ordained for victory, says the Lord. Walk it out and perform My will in the land, but begin where you are by taking dominion back from the enemy.

Marsha Burns: The enemy has risen up once again to destroy what I have set and established, says the Lord. Awaken to the sound of the enemy's army that is trying to regroup after having been scattered. Do not allow distractions or complacency to lull you into a false sense of security. Set a watch. Nahum 2:1, "He who scatters has come up before your face. Man the Fort! Watch the Road! Strengthen your flanks! Fortify your power mightily." Stand your ground spiritually and do not waver or bow to a spirit of intimidation.

Beloved, make every effort to resolve the issues of your life that stand in the way of progress. You cannot move forward until the past is dealt with. Now is the time to squarely face reality and take responsibility for your attitudes, decisions and actions. Ask for wisdom in analyzing the complexity of your situation in order to simplify it enough to deal with it. Do not be afraid or lose hope, for nothing is impossible with Me. But, your first order of business is to rise above fear and become courageous. Now is the time to clear up and bring to a conclusion those things that have hindered you. Begin with your fear of losing your reputation, and deal with the pride of your own heart. I am with you to bring you safely through this process.

Have I not said that you shall have no other gods before Me? I speak to those who are trusting in men and circumstances to solve your problems and meet your needs instead of seeking Me. You who have allowed fear to rule. You want to trust Me for answers to your prayers, but your asking is filtered through fear and dread, and your faith is misplaced. You are looking through the eyes of flesh for solutions that seem plausible. Come once again in the poverty of your own soul and ask in true faith and the absolute belief that I alone will lead you out of this valley of despair. John 14:27 Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

You have come full circle, and the choices you make now will determine whether you will go one more time around the proverbial mountain or move into your promised land. Examine your heart to know your objections. What are your motives and reasons for your complaints and disapproval? Know that objections based on emotional issues will interfere with your objective. You must rise above your petty concerns and identify with My purposes in order to progress. You have a great opportunity now to mature spiritually and come to a more complete revelation of My kingdom, says the Lord. 1 Corinthians 13:11 When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

Mar 26, 2004
I keep hearing this phrase in my spirit -- "the past revisited." And the Lord says, I will cause the past to come up for review, but it will be a quick recollection and not a place to dwell. Use this opportunity to completely forgive and release those who have abused and misused you. Refuse to get overwhelmed again with the issues that have brought rejection and pain, and remember how I have brought you out of that wilderness and delivered you from the hand of your enemies. Do not allow regret a place in your heart, but rather give way to praise and thanksgiving. Romans 8:18 For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

Godly Dream

Leslie Johnson

Godly Dream, Arafat/Oil Israel/ Baltimore/ Palestinian State/Jews Fight For Land by Leslie Johnson

forwarded by Jonathan Zehr" <jdzehr@hotmail.com

Dear Saints,

This word just came in thanks to a fellow Christian keeping us abreast to it, and I am sending it out asap! Here is a prophetic word that it appears to me is vital--I have noticed if I put urgent on the front of the subject it tends to hold the e-mail up for going forth so until I can get my new e-mail service I must apparently play the game of whatever with this e-mail I am using now/Juno... because right now Arafat is in the Hospital! And there can be a chain of events to soon follow if this is a correct word from God and it appears to be.

Also, I ponder if Baltimore means that an attack could hit our Baltimore where a lot of Jews are and cause them, almost force them to consider moving to Israel? We knew these things were coming... Is this it? Is this one of the places where the terrorists will try to attack? We do know New York is an area to be hit by Terrorists it appears...

Either way the below dream within a dream I think is vital to what is happening right now! Read it carefully and pray and think!

In Our Lord Jesus, s.r.

Arafat in Hospital Dream 04/15, 2002

I dreamt I saw Mary Gene Stephens at a meeting. Mary Gene is Hayseed Stephens wife [Hayseed Stephens went home to be with the Lord Jesus a couple of years ago, but his seed is running the company now, his son!].

Hayseed is the man God told that the largest oilfield in the world is located at the Southwest end of the Dead Sea. Mary Gene was not scheduled to speak and minister but we had ministered together at the Perfect Touch Women's Conference and I asked her to minister with me. We ministered to many people. While we were ministering, Mary Gene got a call from Hayseed. He said, "Mary Gene you need to get home. War is about to break out here in Israel."

She came over to me and told me what Hayseed said and then left to go home.

That night after the meeting, I saw myself sleeping. I had a dream within a dream.

I saw a news report on television that announced that Israel had given the Palestinians a State.

I heard the Lord say, "You must tell everyone that oil is going to come forth soon. It will cause the Jewish people to fight back for their land."

Then I heard the Lord say, "Let Baltimore know."

I knew this could very easily start a global war. I keep asking the Lord, 'Why Baltimore?' When I awoke from the second dream.

In my first dream, I began to tell Stan what the Lord had said. Stan said, "Leslie, there are people we must tell."

We met a man that was in a high position having both power and knowledge concerning what was truly going on in Israel.

As I began to tell this man my dream, I said, "For some reason we are to tell Baltimore." I asked him, "Why Baltimore"

He said, "Because there are a lot of Jewish people who live in Baltimore."

I said to him, "Stan and I will be in Baltimore in a couple of months to do a Crusade."

There were about eight of us that were discussing my dream. We needed to find a place to talk. The man told us to follow him. Everyone was eager to find out more about this dream. We all walked through what looked like an airport waiting area. As I walked through, I noticed a lot of Jewish people. I could tell by the way they were talking and visiting. As I passed by one woman, I noticed she was reading a small newspaper like the Jerusalem Post. I was drawn to what she was saying. I heard her say with an accent, "Arafat is in the hospital."

She did not say why. However, she was happy to hear he was in the hospital.

We made our way through the crowd into a small room used for an office. Inside this small room was a woman already sitting in there. She was an older woman and would not get up to let us meet privately. However, as we began to talk and visit she would say, "Huh, Huh"

We just decided that she couldn't hear very well so we just let her sit there and went on with our meeting.

We shut the small sliding door behind us. The man that we followed into the room said, "Don't worry about the people outside the waiting room. Even if they can hear us they will not understand and think what we are saying is foolishness anyway. We have so much more information than they do and a deeper understanding of what is really going on, that they will not pay us any attention."

Once inside, this man with high connections in Israel said, "All right Leslie, tell me your dream."

I told him that Israel will give the Palestinians a State, but it will be a temporary arrangement to give the Jews enough time to regroup and get their armed forces prepared. I told him Oil will come forth quickly. The discovery of large amounts of oil will make all the Jewish people willing to fight for their land. It will lead to a major war, almost like the whole world will get involved in this war. I will include many countries.

I awoke and told Stan the dream. I believe the Lord has given me some revelation about it.

The scary thing for me is that in a way the Lord has put a time on this dream. I believe one of the ways to know when this will happen is the key word, Baltimore. We go to Baltimore for a Crusade in 06/21-25, 2002.

However, in my dream I remember thinking it was the first part of 2003 and Baltimore was in a couple of months like the 2nd or 3rd month. I am not sure of the timing other than I know we go to Baltimore in the sixth month. I am not sure it was talking about us going to Baltimore in 06/of 2002 or some other future event.

Another event that could signal it is near will be if Arafat goes into the hospital and especially if the Jews give the Palestinians a State.

The older woman in the room who had a hearing problem, represents the church. There will be many, including Christians who will be thrilled with the Israeli's giving the Arabs, the Moslems a declared State. They will think, 'Yea! Finally peace!'

The people in the outside waiting room area who didn't care or understand the significance of what we were saying represents the world. People of the world do not want to hear the warning. They don't want to hear the truth. They just want to have fun. Peace will only be a smoke screen and only for a short time.

Oil will spring forth and cause the Jews from around the world to return and fight for their land.

In that Hayseed and Mary Gene Stephens were both in the dream means that Hayseed is about to discover a massive oil field in Israel.

Also, the more we pray and seek the Lord, I believe He will give us more revelation.

Order of Events 1. Ministering 2. About to be war in Israel 3. Tell Baltimore 4. Arafat in hospital 5. Palestinians given a State 6. Oil found in Israel 7. Jews home to fight for land

God’s Mighty Army

Yvonne Walsh

My daughter, I HAVE an army—a powerful, mighty, passionate army, ready to storm the very gates of Hell, but they are hidden away at present, ready to be revealed when I desire to do so. I am polishing and preparing My army: I am readying them, training them, teaching them, for they will not go out as they have before. I am a God of changes, even though I change not! For My army will go out as Holy Terrorists, to win souls, rout the enemy, remove blinders and bondages, repair damage, heal souls and rebuild the old foundations which the enemy has attacked and destroyed.

Like Nehemiah of old, My army will rebuild walls, confuse the enemy and protect My people. They will be here, they will be there, and the enemy will know the POWER of ALMIGHTY GOD is against them. I will use creative strategies, insignificant people in the world’s eyes—and people will ask, Who are these people? The answer will be that “these men have been with Jesus”.

I will use men as I used Gideon and others who were few in number but won great victories. NOT ONE will fall to the ground, but I will know. If I am aware of every sparrow, will I not be MUCH MORE aware of those in My army and under My command? Be not afraid—look at Gideon and the boldness and confidence I gave him to go to war against a seemingly unbeatable foe. Numbers don’t faze Me. But My army, My chosen ones, My selected ones, My elite corps are under My divine mandate, My particular protection and covering. They shall go out and do great exploits in My Name. Signs and wonders? Yes—but in a greater dimension than you have ever conceived could be done! My ways ARE higher than mans, and My thoughts vaster. My plans and purposes are for your good—to give you hope and a future. In days to come you will look back and marvel at how much higher, kinder, vaster and wiser My thoughts and plans were! I love you. I love those in My army.

I desire that no one perish—enemy or friend, and everything I do is towards saving people from a lost eternity—separation forever from Me—for in Me is EVERYTHING that is good and holy, pleasant and comfortable for mankind. The enemy seeks ONLY to rob, kill and destroy—literally.
I died to break his power over My creation. Hebrews 12: 1, 3-4

Good News For New England!

Chad Taylor

This last week the New England region has become intensely highlighted and emphasized in the Spirit to me. I began to receive emails and confirmations from this particular region as this continued to occur. Below is snap shots of spiritual visions I have been receiving and specific words for the New England states and regions. If you are from New England then capture this word for yourself and with it "wage a good warfare..."

A VIOLENCE IN VERMONT

The scripture for this state for this season and year is Matthew 11:12, "the Kingdom of Heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it be force..." The word violence in this context in the Greek is "bee-ad-zo" which means "to force or to be seized". Vermont is going to be violently seized by the Holy Spirit this year. The will of God will "force" its way into agenda and tradition and "seize" possession of her. Jesus did this in the temple in Matt. 21, He violently seized the temple and immediately the lame and halt were healed there. This spiritual violence will be highlighted in the youth as they are "possessed" by the Holy Ghost and surrender their complete essence to the Lord. For the first time they will not be stifled or stopped as they begin to relentlessly pursue the glory of God. They will be the "be-as-tace" of God, or the "enforcers" which the word "violent" means in Greek, "the violent take it by force" will sum up the entire existence of these people as they violently take hold of Heave

I also see a violent or forceful intercession coming to Vermont like a woman in her final term as she goes into delivery. A violence is going to produce a vision in Vermont that will rend the veil of contemporary understanding. A violence for her vision is going to overtake her and an intense intercession will immediately ensue. Even as people read this prophetic utterance a violent state of prayer will fall on them. A intercession capable of wresting the destiny of New England from the enemies clutches. These things will be marked and followed by unusual and sometimes violent natural occurrences that will compliment and agree with the spiritual dynamic at work in Vermont. Vermont will be a hammer in My hand says the Lord to break the rock of religion in the land. Even now the hammer is striking.

A COUNTERFEIT IN CONNECTICUT

I hard the Lord say so clearly, "A counterfeit in Connecticut". A counterfeit movement was going to attempt to deceive and mis-lead the church but the Lord would cut it short. A false apostolic appearing would attempt to steal the glory of the Lord and heap it to itself the anointing but the genuine would eclipse it. What was meant to be a strategic ploy of the enemy would be turned into a divine display of God's true glory in Connecticut. The "smoky mirrors" of religion would be shattered and the Perfect Law of Liberty would be established in this region. The counterfeit in Connecticut would be countered by a grass-roots revival that would happen amongst the common man and woman. The glitz and glamour of showmanship would not be allowed to rob His people of their true inheritance.

A MARRIAGE IN MASSACHUSETTS

I saw a great wedding table being set in Massachusetts. A time of intense intimacy is being granted to her. Like the high priest was given allowance to enter the holy of holies, so will Massachusetts be permitted into the secret place of the Most High. A deep awe will fall upon the worshipers and a holy hush will captivate many as they assemble. A thick cloud will even be seen as the Father manifests His glory to them. A third heaven door will be open to the solemn assemblies that occur in 2004 and beyond. A prophetic mandate to worship will be angelically granted as the year progresses. She will not be able to escape the enormity of her destiny. A spirit of evangelism and outreach will escalate exponentially as the command of Jesus is emphasized, "go into the hi-ways and bi-ways and compel them to come in that My Father's house will be full". A shocking revelation of what true worship is will shake the spiritual foundation of Massachusetts in the coming days.

"I WILL RIDE INTO RHODE ISLAND, WHO WILL RIDE WITH ME?"

A book of Acts experience is going to occur in Rhode Island. A shaking and re-awakening in her. An invitation to ride into His presence will be granted and only the ones who will count the cost will follow. A separation like the sheep and the goats in Matt. 25 will begin in this region. The lip service will no longer be sufficient and the people will be arrested by a spiritual hunger. A famine of hearing God's word will hang over Rhode Island through the spring creating a passion in His people to seek Him personally and intensely. As summer approaches the Heavens will be rended and the mountains will melt at His presence and Rhode Island will shake under the weight of His glory. A remnant will arise with fire in their eyes to ride with the King into victory. Rhode Island will take a prominent position as fall arrives and in November they will be prepared to fight the good fight. Righteousness will prevail and her prayers will not fail says the Lord.

A NEW WINE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

The old wine skins of religious thinking will burst as the paradigm in New Hampshire suddenly shifts. Literally overnight the paradigm will be overtaken with new wine of revelation and the priests steeped in tradition will hear a sound like Samuel and prepare the courts for the King. A visitation will begin within the corridors and courts of the pious and piety will give way to passion and the New Wine will be poured out. The old wine skins will be thrown aside as a people pilgrimage up the mountain of transfiguration. Nothing from the past will hold them back as they persist in this holy pursuit. New Hampshire will be the head and not the tail as their passion for His presence prevails. The old shackles of thinking will break under the weight of His knowledge. The bowls are being poured out in New Hampshire! Come and drink says the Lord. Behold, an open door.

MY MIND IN MAINE

I saw a crown on the head of Maine. I saw a French flag burning. A spiritual authority is being placed on the head and heart of Maine. A sudden significance will be placed upon her this year. The eyes of kings and Queens will be upon her as Maine progresses toward her position. The church will ask what they will and it will be granted. An open Heaven, a window of blessing is over her. She will divide the wealth of the wicked for the righteous as a father would divide an inheritance with his children. The heart of a father will resound in Maine as the Mind of Christ rests upon her. The French will be on fire as the Lord's desire arrests their hearts. The Lord will catch the heel of the French and turn them toward Heaven. Maine will receive her measure in 2004. And with it will come an authority and a blessing for the nations of the world. My eye is upon New England.

God Is Coming Like The Niagara Falls
Kathie Walters

THIS COMING MOVE OF GOD may be not as you think.
Several years ago I was in a meeting in Orlando. During the worship I was asking the Lord what to preach about, and He told me "Romans 6 - you WERE crucified with Christ." Almost immediately I was taken up in the Spirit and wasn't able to move in any way, and I couldn't even open my eyelids.

I could hear the music of the pianist, and the next thing I felt was something strongly swirling all around my legs, just below my knees. Then I seemed to be standing in water which was rushing and swirling around me. In front of me about an 1/8th of a mile away was Niagara Falls. It was loud, roaring, and the water falling, as you know if you been visited there, was very intense - thousands of tons of water per minute.

I was being drawn toward it like a magnet, but inside I was trying to pull back. "How would you like to get under that?" the Lord asked me. "Well, I would die for sure," I replied. "Not if you're dead already," the Lord seemed to laugh. In fact I saw Him, and He tossed His head back, and He did laugh, like a victory laugh.

I could hear my friend, Joy Strang, introduce me, but I was unable to respond. After a little while, the anointing lifted, and I was "unfrozen," so I ministered the word I had. I didn't think of it very often until we were in Rochester, NY, a couple of months ago. Bob Jones had prophesied several years ago that we would be involved in a move of the Spirit in Rochester among the young people. There was also a connection to Niagara Falls.

100 Angels Guarding Niagara Falls

There was a powerful move of God in Rochester - and there was an Angel who came from Niagara Falls. There are 100 Angels who are guarding that portal at Niagara. I believe 100 is a battalion. While I was there in Rochester, I went up and visited Niagara. I remembered what the Lord had showed me about the Falls, and how the move of the Spirit that was coming would be like Niagara. Smith Wigglesworth prayed that God would pour out His spirit like that. Many people have had visions of Niagara being a type of the next and last great move of the Spirit.

The weekend after Rochester, I was home, and so I had a whole day on Saturday to just wait on God. Sure enough in the morning, the fire of God came, and the presence of the Lord filled the room. I asked the Lord about this move - this Niagara move.

Then I was suddenly standing in that water again, but this time it was MUCH CLOSER. It also wasn't scary because I remembered that the Lord had laughed the last time I had seen it.

It seemed to be almost a matter of feet away this time. I was expecting to go under it, but suddenly, a chariot came down and scooped me up. I was taken up over the Falls, and I could hear the sound of the water. As I looked down, I saw the tremendous power of that water and felt the spray of it.

The Move Is Called GREAT GRACE

Then I found myself in a meeting. I had been praying, and people were standing in the front. The Presence of the Lord was great. The perfume of the Lord was all over, as it is now as I type. And then the Lord released a new Angel into my ministry. I already have an Angel assigned to the ministry who has a glass of red wine, but this new Angel had a purse and put some gold coins into some peoples' hands.

The Angels are sent to minister to the heirs of salvation - personally, and also, they work in your ministry. I kept asking the Lord, "What is it then? What does this move look like really?" Driving through Atlanta, He suddenly said, "Its called 'GREAT GRACE', a revelation of the great grace and love of God."

He showed me that He will pour out His grace and love upon His Body, and it will wash away the religious concepts and bondages and spirits that rob God's children of a true revelation of the Father's great love. The lack of revelation of the grace and mercy and love of God makes God's people feel they don't qualify to receive their inheritance.

The Supernatural Ought To Be A Normal Part Of Our Lives

The inheritance Jesus left us - the realm of the Spirit, the supernatural realm, the angels, and heavenly visitations - are meant to be a normal part of our lives. He wants us to be free of all the heaviness. "His yoke is easy and His burden is light and delightful, it is not hard and neither is it heavy (Greek NT)". He wants us full of His light and carried away by His love and His sweetness.

He desires for us to be strong in the Spirit, taking dominion over the powers of darkness yet at the same time totally enamored by His beauty. His desire is toward you. He loves with a passionate and unchanging love. "He is going to present you faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy," as Jude says.

The last few months, the chariots of God have been coming into the meetings and taking people up in them and showing them what God is doing in other places and giving them heavenly visitations. I have noticed the love of God getting stronger and stronger along with the perfumes of the Lord...and the honey and oil and healing and deliverances. The love of God washes away fear and bondage and sickness. It washes away condemnation, guilt, and heartache. "His love has no limit, His grace has no measure, His power has no boundaries known unto men, but out of His infinite riches in Jesus, He gives and gives and gives again."

Well, friend, this Niagara move is drawing closer. Let it fall over you and flow through you. When we get caught up in His marvelous presence, all else fades away. Things that have consumed us get left behind in the amazing wonder of His loving kindness. Niagara is coming - it is close - closer than you think. You are being drawn by His love and His power. His Love will change you into His image, and you will sing and speak out and testify to His goodness. There have been many words and visions given and released from time to time on the 17th of a given month.

Give No Place To The Devil!

Terry Suggs

When Adam and Eve was in the Garden of Eden, the devil came to Eve and deceived her saying that they were depraved from being like God. God had spoken saying let us make man in our image and in our likeness or someone like us. Adam lost the garden because he was deceived. He was the guardian of the garden of Eden.

We have been given authority in Christ to guard and protect our home, our country, our government, our families, our churches, our health, our bodies, our music, our minds, our children, the media, our environment, the internet and the air waves.

Give no place to the devil in your private life, in the weather, or in the earth. You have been enabled and empowered through Christ Jesus.

Ephesians 5:1

Therefore be imitators of God (copy Him and follow His example), as well-beloved children (imitate their father).

John 14:12-14

I assure you, most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, he will himself be able to do the things that I do; and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

And I will do (I Myself will grant) whatever you ask in My name (as presenting all that I Am), so that the father may be glorified and extolled in (through) the Son.

Yes, I will grant (I Myself) will do for you whatever you shall ask in My name (as presenting all that I Am).

Deuteronomy 30:19-20

I set before the choice of life or death. He is your life and length of days.

Luke 10:19

Behold! I have given you authority and power to trample upon serpents and scorpions, and (physical and mental strength and ability) over all the power that the enemy (possesses); and nothing shall in any way harm you.

John 15:1-9

I Am the True Vine, and My Father is the vinedresser.

Any branch in Me that does not bear fruit (that stops bearing) He cuts away (trims off, takes away); and He cleanses and repeatedly prunes every branch that continues to bear fruit, to make it bear more and richer and more excellent fruit.

You are cleansed and pruned already, because of the Word which I have given you (the teachings I have discussed with you)

Dwell in Me, and I will dwell in you. (Live in Me, and I will live in you), Just as no branch can bear fruit of itself without abiding in (being vitally united to) the vine, neither can you bear fruit unless you abide in Me.

I AM the Vine; you are the branches. Whoever lives in Me and I in him bears much (abundant) fruit. However, apart from Me (cut off from vital union with Me) you can do nothing.

If a person does not dwell in Me, he is thrown out like a (broken off) branch, and withers; such branches are gathered up and thrown into the fire, and they are burned.

If you live in Me (abide vitally united to Me) and My words remain in you and continue to live in your hearts, ask whatever you will, and it shall be done for you.

When you bear (produce) much fruit, My Father is honored and glorified, and you show and prove yourselves to be true followers of Mine,

I have loved you, (just) as the Father has loved Me; abide in My love (continue in His love with Me).

There is nothing greater than love. God is Love.

Let your name be synonymous with healing, with power, with love, with goodness, with glory, with Faith, with creative miracles, and with the anointing.

God's love is active and dynamic; constantly working and doing and being expressed towards everyone.

John 1:16

For out of His fullness (abundance) we have al received (all had a share and we were all supplied with) one grace after another and spiritual blessing upon spiritual blessing and even favor upon favor and gift upon gift.

Colossians 3:1-3

If then you have been raised with Christ to a new life, thus sharing His resurrection from the dead, aim at and seek the rich, eternal treasures that are above, where Chris is seated at the right hand of God.

And set your minds and keep them set on what is above the higher things, not on the things that are on earth.

For as far as this world is concerned you have died, and your new real life is hidden with Christ in God.

Our minds have be trained to think like new creatures in Christ. We have the new nature and the power and the Redemption of our lives through Christ, but our minds are still just the same as if we were without the new nature and power and the life of Christ.

Romans 8:18-19

(But what of that?) For I consider that the sufferings of this present time (this present life) are not worth being compared with the glory that is about to be revealed to us and in us and for us and conferred upon us!

For even the whole creation (all nature) waits expectantly and longs earnestly for God's sons to be made known (waits for the revealing, the disclosing of their son-ship.

Colossians 1:13-23

The Father has delivered us to Himself out of the control and the dominion of darkness and has transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His love.

In Whom we have our redemption through His blood, (which means) the forgiveness of our sins.

(Now) He is the exact likeness of the unseen God (the invisible representation of the invisible); He is the Firstborn of all creation.

For it was in Him that all things were created, in Heaven and on earth, things seen and things unseen, whether thrones, dominions, rulers, or authorities; all things were created and exist through Him (by His service, intervention) and in and for Him.

And He Himself existed before all things, and in Him all things consist (cohere, are held together).

He also is the Head of (His) body, the church; seeing He is the beginning, the Firstborn from among the dead, so that He alone in everything and in every respect might occupy the chief place (stand first and be preeminent).

For it has pleased the Father that all the divine fullness (the sum total of the divine perfection, powers, and attributes should dwell in Him permanently.

And God purposed that through by the service, the intervention of Him (the Son) all things should be completely reconciled back to Himself, whether in earth or in heaven, as through Him, (the Father) made peace by means of the blood of His cross.

And although you at one time were estranged and alienated from Him and were of hostile attitude of mind in your wicked activities,

Yet now has (Christ, the Messiah) reconciled (you to God) in the body of His flesh through death, in order to present you holy and faultless and irreproachable in His (the Father's) presence.

And this He will do provided that you continue to stay with and in the faith (in Christ), well grounded and settled and steadfast not shifting or moving away from the hope (which rests on and is inspired by) the glad tidings (the Gospel), which you heard and which has been preached (as being designed for and offered without restrictions) to every person under heaven, and of which (Gospel) I, Paul, became a minister.

Colossians 1:27

Christ in you the hope of glory.

Colossians 2:8-10

See to it that no one carries you off as spoil or makes you yourselves captive by his socalled philosophy and intellectualism and vain deceit (idle fancies and plain nonsense), following human tradition (men's ideas of the material rather than the spiritual wolrd), just crude notions following the rudimentary and elemental teachings of the universe and disregarding (the teachings of) Christ (the Messiah).

For in Him the whole fullness of the deity (the Godhead) continues to dwell in bodily form (giving complete expression of the divine nature.

And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life (in Christ you too are filled with the Godhead-Father-Son and Holy Spirit-and reach full spiritual stature). And He is the Head of all rule and authority (of every angelic principality and power).

Every devil and demon in the earth and in hell is subject to Jesus and us in Jesus name or authority.

The devil could not kill Jesus and he can't kill us, because we are in Christ.

We have been running from the devil until now. Now let the devil run from you.

God's power in us and in the kingdom of God, is unlimited. His grace is unlimited, His wisdom and love are unlimited.

There is nothing greater than the love of God. His love is active and dynamic. His love is unconditional and everlasting.

Luke 10:19

Occupy until He comes.

I John 4:15

Anyone who confesses (acknowledges, owns) that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides (lives, makes His home) in him and he (abides, lives, makes his home) in God.

Ephesians 1:18-23

By having the eyes of your heart flooded with light, so that you can know and understand the hope to which He has called you, and how rich is His glorious inheritance in the saints (His set apart ones).

And so that you can know and understand what is the immeasurable an unlimited and surpassing greatness of His power in and for us who believe, as demonstrated in the working of His mighty strength,

Which He exerted in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His own right hand in heavenly places,

Far above all rule and authority an power and dominion and every title that can be conferred, not only in this age and in this world, but also in the age and the world which are to come.

And He has put all things under His feet and appointed Him the universal and supreme Head of the church (a headship exercised throughout the church).

Which is His body, the fullness of Him Who fills all in all (for in that body lives the full measure of Him Who makes everything complete, and who fills everything everywhere with Himself.

I Corinthians 6:17

He that is joined to the Lord is one Spirit.

Amos 3:8

The Lion has roared; who will not fear?

The Lord God has spoken; who can but prophesy?

Terry Suggs

In My Image and Likeness
Terry Suggs

What is man that God is so thoughtful of him? Why did God place such a high value on a man's life? Why is man so important? Why was God so concerned about man that He (Jesus, God's Son) got into a body, lived as a man, reconciled and restored man back to Himself?

Why did Jesus allow Himself to be beaten, mocked, humiliated, His bearded pulled out and then crucified? We know that He did this because He loved us, but there were other reasons as well. He wanted man restored to his original position that he had before Adam lost it.

Jesus is the value of man, for it cost His life to redeem mankind. It cost the life of God the Son.

It pleased the Father to bruise His Son.

Adam did not have a natural father. Jesus did not have a natural father. They were both born of God. They had God's characteristics and nature. Adam was created. Jesus was the only begotten Son.

Psalm 8:4-6

What is man that you are mindful of him and the son of man that you care for him?

Yet you have made him a little lower than Elohim and you have crowned him with glory and honor.

You made him to have dominion over the works of your hands; you have put all things under his feet.

Gen 1:26

God said, let us (Father, Son, and Holy Ghost) make mankind in Our image, after Our likeness (Express image, mirror image), and let them have complete authority over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the tame beasts and over all the earth. So, God created man in His Own image, and in the image and likeness of God He created him.

Then Lord God formed man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath or spirit of life, and man became a living being (another speaking spirit).

He was first created by God then his body was formed and what God created was put into the body.

Genesis 3:8-10

God loves to fellowship with man.

Luke 3:23-38

Man is the offspring of God.

I Cor. 6:17

But the person who is united to the Lord becomes one spirit with Him. Paul the Apostle was inspired by the Holy Ghost when he said that without Christ I can do nothing.

I Cor. 3:16-17

Do you not discern and understand that you (the whole church at Corinth) are God's temple (His sanctuary), and that God's Spirit has His permanent dwelling in you (to be at home in you, collectively as a church also individually?

If anyone does hurt to God's temple or corrupts it (with false doctrines) or destroys it, God will do hurt to him and bring him to the corruption of death and destroy him. For the temple of God is holy (sacred to Him) and that temple you (the believing church and its individual believers) are.

As He is so are we in this world.

Acts 17:28-29

For in Him we live move and have our being, as even some of your own poets have said, for we are also His offspring.

Since then we are God's offspring, we ought not to suppose that Deity (the Godhead) is like gold or silver or stone, (or the nature of) a representation by human art and imagination, or anything constructed or invented.

Man is much more than a physical being.

Man is an eternal creature.

Hebrews 2:6-11

It has been solemnly and earnestly said in a certain place, what is man that you are mindful of him or the son of man that you graciously and helpfully care for and visit and look after him?

For some little time You have ranked him lower than Elohim. You have crowned him with glory and honor and set him over the works of your hands.

For you have put everything in subjection under his feet. Now in putting everything in subjection to man, He left nothing outside of Man's control.

But at present we don't yet see all things subjected to him (man).

But we are able to see Jesus Who was ranked a little lower than Elohim for a little while, crowned with glory and honor because of His having suffered death in order that by the grace (unmerited favor) of God (to us sinners) He might experience death for every individual person.

For it was an act worthy of God and fitting to the divine nature that He, for Whose sake and by Whom all things have their existence, in bringing many sons into glory, should make the Pioneer of their salvation perfect (should bring to maturity the human experience necessary to be perfectly equipped for His office as High Priest through suffering.

For both He Who sanctifies (making men holy) and those who are sanctified all have one Father. For this reason He is not ashamed to call them brethren. For He says I will declare Your (the Father's) name to My brethren, in the midst of the worshiping congregation I will sing hymns of praise to you.

James 1:18

And it was of His Own free will that He gave us birth as sons by His Word of Truth, so that we should be a kind of first fruits of His creatures (a sample of what He created to be consecrated to Himself).

Romans 8:29-30

For those whom He foreknew (of Whom He was aware and loved beforehand, He also destined from the beginning foreordaining them) to be molded into the image of His Son, and share inwardly His likeness, that He might become the Firstborn of many brethren.

And those whom He thus foreordained , He also called, and those whom He called, He also justified, (acquitted, made righteous, putting them into rightstanding with Himself).

And those whom He justified, He also glorified, raising them to a heavenly dignity and condition and condition or state of being.

For God did not send the Son into the world to judge (to reject, to condemn, to pass sentence on) the world, but the world might find salvation and be made safe and sound through Him.

He Who believes in Him (who clings to, relies on Him) is not judged (he who trusts in Him never comes up for judgment; for him there is no rejection, no condemnation – he incurs no damnation); but he who does not believe (cleave to rely on, trusts in Him) is judged already (he has already been convicted and has already received his sentence) because he has not believed in and trusted in the name of the only begotten Son of God. (He is condemned for refusing to let his trust rest in Christ's name).

Psalm 82:1-7

Man has a position as representatives of God, and a position of children of God.

God stands in the assembly (of the representatives) of God; in the midst of the magistrates or judges He gives judgment (as) among gods.

How long will you (magistrates or judges) judge unjustly and show partiality to the wicked?

Do justice to the weak (poor) and fatherless; maintain the rights of the afflicted and needy.

Deliver the poor and needy; rescue them out of the hand of the wicked.

(The magistrates and judges) know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in the darkness (of complacent satisfaction); all the foundations of the earth (the fundamental principles upon which rests the administration of justice) are shaking.

I said, you are gods (since you judge on My behalf, as My representatives); indeed, all of you are children of the Most High.

But you shall die as men and fall as one of the princes.

Do you not know that the saints (the believers will judge and govern the world? And if the world itself is to be judged and ruled by you, are you unworthy and incompetent to try (such petty matters) of the smallest courts of justice?

Do you know also that we (Christians) are to judge the very angels and pronounce opinion between right and wrong (for them)? How much more then (as to) matters pertaining to this world and of this life only!

John 5:26-27

For even as the Father has life in Himself and is self existent, so He has given to the Son to have life in Himself and be self existent.

And He has given Him authority and granted Him power to execute (exercise, practice) judgment because He is a Son of Man (very man).

Jesus as the son of man had dominion over everything in this world.

Psalm 115:15

The earth has He given to the children of men.

John 14:12

Jesus said, I assure you most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, He will himself be able to do the things that I do, and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

A man in God's image and likeness was to rule over the creation of God.

God's first man failed to keep his position.

God's second man Jesus restored man to headship.

Adam had dominion and authority over all the earth.

Jesus the last Adam has authority over heaven and earth.

Adam did not have a natural father.

Jesus did not have a natural father.

John 3:35

The Father loves the Son and has given (entrusted, committed) everything into His hand.

Jesus was called the last Adam. Adam operated on earth the same way that Jesus operated on earth.

I Tim. 1:9-10

Knowing and understanding this: that the Law is not enacted for the righteous those who are already made right through accepting Christ, (the upright and just, who are in right standing with God), but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinful, for the irreverent and profane, for those who strike and beat and even murder fathers and strike and beat and even murder mothers, for manslayers.

For impure and immoral persons, those who abuse themselves with men, kidnapers, liars, perjurers and whatever else is opposed to wholesome teaching and sound doctrine.

Hebrews 1:2-3

But in these last days, He has spoken to us in the person of His Son, Whom He appointed Heir and lawful Owner of all things, also by and through Whom He created the worlds and reaches of space and the ages of time He made, produced, built, operated and arranged them in order.

Jesus Is the sole expression of the glory of God (the Light Being, the out raying radiance of the divine and He is the perfect imprint and very image of God's nature, Upholding and maintaining and guiding and propelling the universe by His mighty Word of power. When He had by offering Himself accomplished our cleansing of sins and riddance of guilt, He sat down at the right hand of the Divine Majesty on high.

II Cor. 5:17

Therefore if any person is ingrafted in Christ (the Messiah) he is a new creation (a new creation altogether), the old (previous moral and spiritual condition) has passed away. Behold the fresh and new has come!

II Cor. 6:18

And I will be a Father to you, and you shall be My sons and daughters, says the Lord

Almighty.

I Cor. 3:21-23

So let no one exult proudly concerning men (boasting of having this or that man as a leader), for all things are yours.

Whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas, or the universe or life or death, or the immediate and threatening present or the subsequent and uncertain future, all are yours, and you are Christ's and Christ is God's.

II Cor. 19

It was God personally present in Christ, reconciling and restoring the world to favor with Himself, not counting up and holding against men their trespasses (but canceling them) and committing them to us the message of reconciliation (of the restoration to favor).

II Peter 1:3-4

For His divine power has bestowed upon us all things that are requisite and suited to life and godliness, through the full personal knowledge of Him Who called us by and to His Own glory and excellence (virtue).

Now our minds have to catch up to where God has placed us.

I Cor. 2:16

For who has known or understood the mind (the counsels and purposes) of the Lord so as to guide an instruct Him and give Him knowledge? But we have the mind of Christ (the Messiah) and do hold the thoughts (feelings and purposes) of His heart.

Philippians 2:5,13

Let this same attitude and purpose and humble mind be in you which was in Christ Jesus.

Who, although being essentially one with God and in the form of God (possessing the fullness of the attributes which make God, God, did not think this equality with God was a thing to be eagerly grasped or retained.

For it is God Who is all the while effectually at work in you energizing and creating in you the power and desire, both to will and to work for His good pleasure and satisfaction and delight.

Ephesians 4:18-25

Their moral understanding is darkened and their reasoning is beclouded. They are alienated, estranged, and self banished from the life of God with no share in it; this is because of the ignorance, the want of knowledge and perception, the willful blindness that is deep-seated in them, due to their hardness of heart (to the insensitiveness of their moral nature).

In their spiritual apathy they have become callous and past feeling and reckless and have abandoned themselves (a prey) to unbridled sensuality, eager and greedy to indulge in every form of impurity (that their depraved desires may suggest and demand.

But you did not so learn Christ!

Assuming that you have really heard Him and been taught by Him, as all Truth is in Jesus (embodied and personified in Him).

Strip yourselves of your former nature (put off and discard your old unrenewed self), which characterized your previous manner of life and becomes corrupt through lusts and desires that spring from delusion;

And be constantly renewed in the spirit of your mind (having a fresh mental and spiritual attitude. And put on the new nature (the regenerate self) created in God's image, (Godlike) in true righteousness and holiness.

Therefore, rejecting all falsity and being done now with it, let everyone express the truth with his neighbor, for we are all parts of one body and members one of another.

Ephesians 2:5-6

And He raised us up together with Him and made us sit down together (giving us joint seating with Him) in the heavenly sphere (by virtue of our being) in Christ Jesus (the Messiah, the Anointed One).

Even when we were dead slain by our own shortcomings and trespasses, He made us alive together in fellowship and in union with Christ; He gave us the very life of Christ Himself, the same new life with which He quickened Him, for it is by grace (His favor and mercy which you did not deserve) that you are saved (delivered from judgment and made partakers of Christ's salvation.

Romans 8:17

And if we are His children, then we are His heirs also; heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ sharing His inheritance with Him.

Only we must share His suffering if we are to share His glory.

John 15:19

You are not of this world but only in it, no longer one with it.

John 1:12,16

But to as many as did receive and welcome Him, He gave the authority (power, privilege, right) to become the children of God, that is, to those who believe in adhere to, trust in and rely on) his name.

For out of His fullness (abundance), we have all received (all had a share and we were all supplied with) one grace after another and spiritual blessing upon spiritual blessing even favor upon favor and gift heaped upon gift.

I Cor. 1:8-9

And He will establish you to the end (keep you steadfast, give you strength, and guarantee you vindication; He will be your warrant against all accusation or indictment so that you will be) guiltless and irreproachable in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ (the Messiah).

God is Faithful (reliable, trustworthy, and therefore ever true to His promise, and He can be depended on); by him you were called into companionship and participation with His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

I Peter 1:23

You have been regenerated (born again), not from a mortal origin (seed, sperm), but from one that is immortal by the ever living and lasting Word of God.

God seed or the Word of God is the incorruptible and indestructible seed. A seed will produce fruit of the kind of seed that it is.

We were born of the incorruptible, indestructible seed of God. It will produce sons and daughters of God. The incorruptible seed produces incorruptible fruit.

Ephesians 1:22-23

And He has put all things under His feet and has appointed Him the universal and supreme Head of the church, Which is His body, the fullness of Him Who fills all in all (for in that body lives the full measure of Him who makes everything complete, and Who fills everything everywhere with Himself).

Ephesians 2:18,22

For it is through Him that we both (whether far off or near) now have an introduction (access) by one Holy Spirit to the Father (so that we are able to approach Him).

In Him and in fellowship with one another you yourselves also are being built up into this structure with the rest, to form a fixed abode, dwelling place of God in (by, through) the Spirit.

Ephesians 3:19

That you may really come to know practically, through experience for yourselves the love of Christ, which far surpasses mere knowledge without experience; that you may be filled through all your being unto all the fullness of God, may have the richest measure of the divine Presence, and become a body wholly filled and flooded with God Himself!

Religious traditions make the Word of God ineffective. No one can keep the law. But there are some still teaching a legalistic doctrine, because it lets them manipulate and intimidate their listeners. The law was given to show us that no one could possibly keep the law of God. Jesus is the One and only One that could fulfill the requirements of God’s law. He lived a perfect and sinless life.

He bestowed His righteousness upon us. He imputed His righteousness to us, It means there was a heavenly transaction when pour out His blood on the mercy seat, and cleansed the books and the sins of every man.

He obliterated our sins. He took them away forever.

Calvary covers every sin ever committed except blasphemy.

Ephesians 4: 12-13

His intension was the perfecting and the full equipping of the saints (His consecrated people), that they should do, the work of ministering toward building up Christ’s body (the church),

That it might develop, until we all attain oneness in the faith and in the comprehension of the full and accurate knowledge of the Son of God, that we might arrive at really mature manhood (the completeness of perfection), the completeness of personality which is nothing less than the standard height of Christ’s Own perfection, the measure of the stature of the fullness of the Christ and the completeness found in Him.

Remember “as He Is, so are we in this world”.

We are born of the word of God. We are quickened by the Holy Spirit. We have the fullness of God inside our new spirit. The faith that we use is as powerful as the One we have faith in. The faith that we use is greater than any sickness or disease or situation or enemy.

Go Go Go

Ravi Kumar

Now is the time Go !!!!

I Picked you up from the miry clay and Put you on the rock to stay! Brought you out of darkness in to my marvelous light!! Turned your mourning in to dancing and Sorrow in to joy Saved you by my grace

I Redeemed you by making my son Jesus shed his precious blood as a price while you were yet a sinner; made you a peculiar person, a royal priesthood, part of a holy nation.

And Jesus healed you by His stripes and took your poverty upon him on the cross and made you rich And gave you his peace which passeth all understanding .

Jesus said “Freely you have received freely you give” but you have chosen to contain the good news and the riches to yourself Do not be like the lepers who initially hid the riches they found in the Syrian camp but change your attitude even as they realized and said to one another that they are not doing the right thing and wanted to share the good news with others!!! Has not Jesus commanded you to go in to all the world and preach and publish openly the good news to every creature of the whole human race? Let not anyone plead ignorance that they never heard of the good news and be not accountable for their blood

GO…. GO….. GO……… do not stop!!! till every nation every creed every tribe and ethnic race hears the word !!!

II Kings Ch 7 Verse 8-9 Amp version:
And when these lepers came to the edge of the camp, they went into one tent and ate and drank and carried away silver gold and clothing and went and hid them .Then they entered another tent and carried from there also and went and hid it.
9 Then they said to one another we are not doing right. This is a day of good news and we are silent and do not speak up! If we wait until daylight some punishment will come upon us .So now come, let us go and tell the kings household.

Ezek: 33 verses 8&9 Amp version
8 When I say to the wicked O wicked man, you shall surely die and you do not speak to warn the wicked from his way ,that wicked man shall die in his perversity and iniquity but his blood will I require at your hand.
9.But if you war the wicked to turn from evil way and he does not turn from his evil way he shall die in his iniquity but you will have saved your life

Gates Of The Soul

Danny Korakas

Oct 9, 2004

"I asked them concerning the Jews who had escaped, who had survived the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem. And they said to me, 'The survivors who are left from the captivity in the province are there in great distress and reproach. The wall of Jerusalem is also broken down, and its GATES are burned with fire." (Nehemiah 1:2-3)

At this time the Temple had been rebuilt under the leadership and encouragement of Ezra. We read in Ezra 3 of the restoration of worship and the fear of the Lord returning to the land of Israel. However, Nehemiah – upon inquiring of his homeland and heritage – found that the Temple was exposed to adversaries because the protecting walls and gates were broken down and in shambles.

The Temple of the Lord is representative of our natural body and the body of Christ in a corporate context. "Walls" are representative of intercession and prayer. The GATES in this account are what I would like us to focus on; they represent "THE GATES TO OUR SOUL."

Our eyes (sight), ears (hearing), mouth (taste), nose (smell) and sexual organs (sexual intercourse) are all openings or "gates to the soul." What we allow to enter or not to enter through these gates will have a strong impact in determining who we become as a person.

A good example would be sexual intercourse. Sexual intercourse is the requirement of consummating the marriage vows between a man and a woman. It is at this time that a man and a woman become ONE FLESH. This is ordained and established by God. It is truly a remarkable and beautiful expression of intimacy within the confines of covenant.

On the other hand, this same act performed outside the protection and blessing of covenant yields a series of tremendous ramifications — even death. Just as a married couple become "one flesh" through the consummation of sexual intercourse, so does the adulterer and fornicator with their sexual partner. (A soul-tie has been forged.) All of the demonic influences that have led a person to rebel against God's plan for marriage and relationships, along with all of the other bondages of rejection, abuse, addictions, and emotional issues suddenly have an opening to manifest in both people becoming "one flesh." (In other words, the addictions or habits of one individual may sole tie to the other through sexual relations.) This is why Paul said, "there is no greater sin than one who sins against his own body."(See 1 Corinthians 6:13-19)

The rebuilding of the walls (our prayer life) and the gates (our natural and spiritual openings) are found in Nehemiah chapter 3. We first notice that there are 10 gates. The number 10 is symbolic of an offering by God that must be received or rejected. There is never a "middle road" with the number 10 in scripture. It always demands a response. We will look at the first five gates this week and the final five gates next week. I will conclude this two part message with an insight of what these actual gates represent in God's prophetic time-line.

THE SHEEP GATE

"Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests and built the Sheep Gate; they consecrated it and hung its gates." (Nehemiah 3:1)

The Sheep Gate was the gate or entrance into Jerusalem that the priests would enter with the sacrificial sheep or lamb to be slain upon the alter for the sins of the people. The Bible says that "Jesus was the Lamb of God that was slain BEFORE the foundations of the world." God's redemptive plan of salvation was already laid and provided for man in his fallen state before the foundations of the earth were even created. The Sheep gate of our soul represents the receiving (Holy Spirit moving upon our "hearing" and "reading") of Jesus Christ as our Lord and Savior through His sacrifice. The Sheep Gate is repaired or rebuilt in the lives of people when they surrender their lives to Christ. Any other "way" to salvation leaves the "sheep or lamb gate" of our soul open to deception and the ultimate penalty of natural, spiritual, and finally, eternal death.

John the Baptist was the first to introduce the Savior to the world and he said, "Behold the LAMB OF GOD who takes away the sins of the world." Our starting point for complete victory in life is accepting the blood of Jesus as our redemption.

THE FISH GATE
"Also the sons of Hassenaah built the Fish Gate; they laid its beams and hung its gates." (Nehemiah 3:3)

I believe that it is no coincidence that the first words Jesus spoke to His disciples were, "Follow Me, and I will make you FISHERS of men." (Matthew 4:19) Our time-line in history has now arrived at the creation of man. When Jesus met Peter and Andrew on the shores of Galilee and commissioned them to "follow Him and become fishers of men," He was simply revealing His heart for the love of mankind and His desire to cast light upon darkness. (Study the words "without form, void, darkness" in Genesis 1:1-2 in the original Hebraic language for an understanding of why God said, "Let there be light ... and that it was good; and God DIVIDED the LIGHT from the DARKNESS." Genesis 1:3-4) This was not the solar sun and the darkness of space without the moon. The sun and the moon were not created until the forth day in Genesis 1:14-19.

Satan and his demons were cast to the earth before the creation of man. We know this by several scriptural references. We know that Satan was present in the Garden in the temptation to partake of the forbidden fruit which led to man's fallen state. The first words spoken by God to man was that "He blessed them." (Genesis 1:28) It was only after the Lord blessed Adam and Eve that the commission would be given. "And God said to them, 'Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it."

The commission was clear for Adam and Eve. They were to bear the fruit of God's Spirit, multiply themselves in the image of God as His children, fill the earth with the glory and presence of God, and SUBDUE THE EARTH (to subdue the forces of darkness that had been cast to the earth). What else was there to subdue? The Bible states that everything was created good and man was in harmony with creation. The commission to be a light in exposing and defeating darkness has never changed.

The issue at hand concerning the fall of man is not so much that Eve was tempted by the serpent to partake of the forbidden fruit; it was that Adam let the serpent (Satan) into the Garden. God had given Adam DOMINION over all the earth. (Genesis 1:28) Adam chose not to exercise the authority and dominion that God had given him and it wouldn't be long before the enemy trespassed upon Adam's home, wife and livelihood. The Hebrew word for "subdue" in Genesis 1:28 is "raw-dad'"which means to "tread in pieces and conquer." If we refuse to take authority and dominion over the assignments of the enemy, we will live a life of overwhelming temptation, struggle, and defeat, never seeming to find victory in our lives.

The Fish Gate, when rebuilt, is a life of fruitfulness, multiplying or sowing into the lives of others, filling the earth with the glory of God, and subduing darkness through Christ. Remember, God has BLESSED you for this purpose! Winning people to Christ (being a fisher of men) inflicts more damage to the enemy than any other means of battle.

THE OLD GATE
"Moreover Jehoiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah repaired the Old Gate; they laid its beams and hung its gates, with its bolts and bars." (Nehemiah 3:6)

Isaiah 46:9 says, "Remember the former things of OLD, for I am God and there is no other." The Bible goes on to say in Jeremiah, "Thus says the Lord, stand by the ways and see and ask for the OLD PATHS, where the good way is, and walk in it; and you shall find rest for your SOULS. But they said, 'We will not walk in it.'"

To repair the "old gate" to our soul is to walk in obedience to God's Word. The Lord said here, however, that many "will not walk in it." Without the gate of protection through the Word of God, we will find this prophecy continues to be fulfilled as many gravitate toward what is "NEW." The New Age movement has been embraced by the NEW World Order within the United Nations. This new age philosophy can be found on the U.N. website called the "Interfaith Movement." This may be the greatest deception of man concocted by Satan that humanity falls to. It parallels the fall of man in the Garden in that New Age teachings place man in a position or temptation of attaining a "god-like" and self-redemptive status.

Interfaith is being planned aggressively and pushed as a standard curriculum in schools whose countries accept UN monies and support. Interfaith is a UN sponsored movement which states that "all of the world religions are essentially good and correct, and that each religion has a piece of the TRUTH." It encourages embracing all religions to give an individual a whole or greater understanding of who they are in relationship to a "higher power." The problem is that the "higher power" culminates in being mankind rather than God.

The tragedy is that mainline denominational "leaders" are embracing this. The World Council of Churches that began as a "Christian organization" is now a den of demonic and unbiblical beliefs. These UN organizations and NGO's (non-governmental organizations) have replaced or compromised God's Word of OLD with NEW and strange doctrines that are not compatible with scripture. The Young Women's Christian Association elected a woman to head its organization who is pro-abortion and a proponent of the gay lifestyle. The most disturbing statistic is that 3 out of 10 professing "Christians" believe that a gay lifestyle is morally acceptable. (Barna Research) Jesus said, "I am the way the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me." To rebuild the OLD GATE to our soul, we must hold fast to the Word of God as our foundation and standard. I have stated before that our true love and obedience to Christ is reflective of our true love and obedience to God's Word — for they are one and the same and inseparable.

The Anti-christ spirit is a religious spirit that will attempt to deceive the elect if possible. We have the vulnerability to be deceived by our lack of foundation in not knowing and understanding the Word of God. The NEW deception among spirit-filled believers will be the "resurrection of dead anointings" or the desire for the anointing of people who have died and gone on to be with the Lord (example — the Kathryn Kuhlman anointing, the Smith Wigglesworth anointing, etc). This is very dangerous and I pray that you will bring this before the Lord. This was the temptation that brought down Saul in his quest for supernatural power. The handling of the Lord's anointing by man as if it were cheap, common, and for sale as advertised, rather than rare is grieving the Spirit of God. We have the authority to recognize, equip, stir-up and release whom GOD has anointed. We do not have the authority to impart at will the essence (anointing)of the Holy Spirit. We have used one verse of scripture in the book of Timothy and have formulated a doctrine that borders on the New Age philosophy of man attaining "god-like" status.

THE VALLEY GATE

"Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate. They built it, hung its gates with its bolts and bars." (Nehemiah 3:13)

The Valley Gate overlooks the Kidron Valley which is between the Temple Mount and the Mount of Olives. It was on the Mount of Olives on a fateful night that Jesus would HUMBLE Himself and accept His Father's will of the cross.

A valley is the LOWEST part of an area's landscape. Jesus became the lowest for us and those who choose to rebuild the Valley Gate to their soul must become lowly and humble as well. The Bible states that "God shows grace to the humble, but resists the proud." The Hebrew word for "resist" is exactly that! It means that God actually resists people who are proud and self-serving.

"Do nothing from selfish or empty conceit, but with humility of MIND let each of you regard one another as more important than himself; do not merely look out for your own personal interests, but also the interest of others. Have this attitude in yourselves which was also in Christ Jesus.(Philippians 2:4)

Those who are self-centered, proud, and arrogant will never be able to repair the "Valley Gate" to their soul. The extreme importance of this gate is that it is here that the enemy will invade the battle ground of your MIND and rob you of the gift of God's GRACE. One of the greatest weapons that we possess as Christians is the power of GRACE. It is through the grace in our lives that people see and feel Christ in a personal way. All of the words and deeds in the world will not affect a single soul without them being empowered by humility and grace.

THE REFUSE (DUNG) GATE
"Malchijah the son of Rechab, leader of the district of Beth Haccerem, repaired the Refuse Gate; he built it and hung its gates with its bolts and bars." (Nehemiah 3:14)

The Refuse Gate is the gate of VICARIOUS REPENTANCE. I am sure that you can tell by the name of this gate its purpose and what was dumped outside of it. This Gate is vital to the health of our soul and will require two things of us. The first is that we understand that our lives without the blood of Christ are as refuse. "For all of us have become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous deeds are like filthy rags." (Isaiah 64:6)

The rebuilding of the "Refuse Gate" begins with genuine repentance of one's sins and THE SINS OF OTHERS (intercession). We realize and understand the"waste" that we have left behind for others to clean up. We also come to a realization of all the TIME that we have "wasted" in not making a difference because of our lack of intercession as prophetic people. Again, all revelation that the Lord gives a prophetic person is first and primarily for the purpose of prayer and intercession.

The second thing required of us in rebuilding the Refuse Gate is found in the Valley of Hinnom where the Refuse Gate led out. "Hinnom" translated in the Greek language is "Gehenna," which literally means the GATES of HELL. This area burned refuse and waste constantly with thick filth and dark smoke. The Valley of Hinnom has a horrendous history of a place where pagan worshipers did all kinds of vile and wicked things including the burning of children alive as a sacrifice to their gods. (See 2 Kings 23)

As appalling as this is, hundreds of thousands do the same thing here in America with abortion and the killing of living babies. Satan has made a legal claim on our land because the baby-boomer generation allowed these babies to be legally slaughtered in their lukewarm and lethargic condition of the 1950's to 1970's. They didn't have the guts to face the stench and stain of the Hinnom spirit that was released and is still running wildly throughout our nation. I sincerely believe that abortion will be overturned when the church truly repents for allowing this to happen.

Jesus was a revolutionary and the battle that we are engaged in is a revolution for the lives and souls of mankind. Whether it be the American Revolution or any other revolution in history that has been victorious, two ingredients were necessary for it to be successful. 1) Those involved truly believed in their cause. 2) They were willing to lay their lives down for it. Jesus said that there is no greater love than one would down his life for another. I believe that the greatest martyrs are not necessarily those who die a quick physical death, but those who LIVE a lifetime dying a slow death to one's self.

As you may have noticed, we are not only sharing what the gates in Nehemiah 3 represent to our natural and spiritual health (the gates to our soul), but also the prophetic time-line that they establish. We have traveled from a time before the foundations of the earth when the "Lamb of God was slain." (Revelation 13:8) We then moved to the blessing and commission of Adam and Eve (Mankind), to the giving of God's Word. Upon receiving the Word of God, the Lord commended humility and obedience to His Word for His promises to manifest among His people. And finally we came to the time in history where tremendous repentance was needed in the land and among God's people. The timing was now right for the Son of God, "TheFountain of Life," to be born and dwell among men.

Islam - The False Prophet
Danny Korakas

Oct 3, 2004

After two years, the Meccan boycott failed amidst tribal infighting and Abu Talib dicovered that the Boycott document had been consumed by termites in the Ka'ba. Abu Talib upon knowing this, challenged Muhammad's adversaries to to produce it. Of course, unable to do so, they became exasperated that Muhammad's sympathizers were able to get the idict revoked. It wouldn't be long before the Hashemites, fully armed, marched home under escourt. However, this internal tribal conflict was not over yet.

In the year 619, Muhammad's first wife, Khadeja, died at 65. Muhammad would now be 49. Not only did Muhammad lose his first wife and convert, but most likely the inspiration for the Koran writings. Scholars have noted that up to the point of Khadeja's death, the writing in the Koran was very spiritual (visual and poetic) in natural. But after Khadeja's death, the writings suddenly become very dull and mundane. The rest of Koranic writings from this time forward became increasingly adminstrative and dogmatic in nature. We must ask ourselves, "who really inspired the writings in the Koran?" Muhammad stated that it was "god" through his messenger Gabriel. Many unbiased Koranic scholars believe that the greatest inspiration came from Khadeja and not God. Why the sudden and abrupt change of style, content, and format from the point of Khadeja's death? Several instances have been documented by people who were contemporaries with Muhammad. They have stated that he could not quote the complex verses that he was supposedly to have penned.

A historical account claims that "all of the faithful pitched in to raise the enormous building that would become the "Mosque of the godly fear." It was roughly 150 feet from side to side. The eastern section provided rooms for Muhammad's wives. New rooms would later have to be added to accomodate Muhammad's growing harem (even though he had stated that others may have "only" 4 wives). The workers busted into poetry as they constructed the building. Muhammad of course was obligated to join in ... demonstrating to biographers that he lacked the gift of verse. This obviously brought question into the authenticity of Muhammad's claim concerning the authorship of the Koran. Again, many biographers and skeptics have noticed the eloquence found in the Koran up to Khadeja's death and clearly recognize the lack thereof after.

Soon afterward, Abu Talib also died. Although Abu Talib was the protector of Muhammad during many times of crisis, he never converted to Islam. Three months after Khadeja's death, Muhammad married Sauda, who was the widow of a Muslim who had decided to become a Christian. Sauda was more of a house servant than anything else. Muhammad was much more interested in A'isha, the 6 year old daughter of Abu Bakr. A'isha was forced out of the innocence of childhood and consummated (sexual intercourse) in marriage to Muhammad at age 9! Is this the moral conduct and godly example of a true prophet from God?

Without the protection of Abu Talib, the Muslims were vulnerable to attack and assassination. It was at this time that Muhammad started talking about his "Night Journey." The night journey is a much celebrated episode among Muslims. The tradition states that Muhammad was taken on a winged horse (a pagan and mythical symbol) to Jerusalem and back – accompanied by Gabriel. When Muhammad told a relative about this, she advised him to keep it to himself because it would not help the Islamic cause. Interestingly, the Koran only mentions this in one verse (Sura 17:1).

Muhammad stated that from the Temple, he climbed to the seventh heaven where he encountered Jesus, Moses and Abraham and LED THEM in prayer! He stated that Jesus was a "reddish man of medium height, with lank hair and many freckles on his face, as though he had just came from a bath." Muhammad told them that he resolved to teach mankind how to pray fifty times a day. "Too many," said Moses, "considering the frailty of man's faith." The proposal was cut to forty, then thirty, and finally five. Muhammad states that Moses was even dubious or doubting about this; but Muhammad said, "that he was ashamed to ask for less." Therefore, Muslims pray five times per day.

It was this kind of talk that even the Arabs (who at that time were attracted to lavish and sensational stories and poetry) were strained by the credibility of such talk. Defections at this time started to increase with frequency and Muhammad would now make the claim that he was no longer the LATEST prophet sent by god. He now was "THE PROPHET." Once again, Muhammad changed his theology to meet his needs and agenda. He now placed a new note in the Koran that would state himself as the final fulfillment of prophecy, the bearer of a message without which all men were doomed. "Whosoever disobeyeth god and his prophet, for him is prepared the fire of hell." (Sura 72:23) Rules and regulations now became the order of the day. Now, for the first time the world was exposed to "There is no god but Allah, and Muhammad his prophet." This would become the creed of Islam.

The differences between Jesus and Muhammad will continue to grow as we move through this series. Jesus' claim to divinity was clear from the beginning. We never read of any change of plan or theology to meet a specific agenda. If Muhammad was "The Prophet" and final fulfillment of God's plan for humanity, why would he constantly change his viewpoint of himself as time went on and circumstances changed? These changes of identity continued until Muhammad put himself on a plain equal with Christ. He claimed to be God Himself and anybody who sinned or even disobeyed him as "the prophet" would suffer hell fire.

With something as vital and serious as eternal salvation, there can be only one truth. Either Jesus or Muhammad were absolutely 100% correct or 100% wrong. Both men claimed to be the final authority and fulfillment of God's Word. I believe when we weigh out the lives of both, Jesus and Muhammad, the answer is clear. Jesus lived a life that proves His divinity. Jesus' claim to be the Son of God was made within his generation by himself. All it would have taken was one instance of carnality or sin and justification would have been made against Him as being a false prophet and liar. However, in all of history, not one claim or stain has ever been associated with the life of Jesus Christ. What other man throughout the annals of time can make this claim? Jesus fulfilled Scripture in that he died on a croos for our sins as a perfect, spotless, and sinless sacrifice. He was the Word of God incarnate – The Prophet.

Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me." (John 14:6)

Go Through The Door

Musa Opiyo

29 Oct, 04
mopiyo@comcast.net

My children I am opening doors of opportunity for you that have previously been shut in order for you to step into the new destinies I have for you. This has meant that for some of you I have had to close some doors in your life that have no longer proved useful to the wider scope of My plans for you, yet with each door that I close I form new ones that you would go through. For those doors that I close it is time for you to leave them shut and to look ahead with anticipation of what I am going to do in your lives. For those doors that I open before you I will endow the grace to step over and into the new arena that is for you, however with each door opened for you to step into know that there are adversaries behind each of them. Many of My own people have grown weary as they stepped into the new season from meeting the different trials and tests that have met them as they entered new ground. Satan would send these tests in order to discourage you and discredit My promise of a new work but the Lord says watch for every adversary that you meet was meant to sharpen you for the season ahead and to perfect your faith so that My glory would be shown in you. Behind these doors I am opening for My Beloved there are adversaries ready to meet you, yet My children fear not, for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. I have already overcome these trials and tests through My work on the cross and it is for you to stand on this promise and confront satans forces head on and full of faith because you have been in My presence and My glory surrounds you. Step into the new. No longer allow the mindset of fear to cripple you for I have not given you a spirit of fear, but of power, love and a sound mind. Step over that which was meant as a stumbling block and run the full race empowered by My grace. I AM is with you.

1 Cor 16:9 For a great and effectual door is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries

Josh 1:9 Have I not commanded you? Be strong and corageous! Do not tremble or be dismayed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go.

God’s Pitchers

Becky McLendon

Judges 7:16 – 20: And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and lamps within the pitchers. So Gideon, and the hundred men that were with him, came unto the outside of the camp in the beginning of the middle watch; and they had but newly set the watch: and they blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands. And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal: and they cried, The sword of the LORD, and of Gideon.

A pitcher can only share part of what it has with a glass. But Pitcher to pitcher can share all. God wants us to be pitchers. After all "little pitchers have big ears," and the word says to us, "Let him who has ears to hear, hear what the Lord is saying." Amen and amen forever more.

What was it that Gideon and his small army used against the enemy, and drove fear into the camp? Pitchers with a light in them...we are God's pitchers when we speak in the anointing one to the other. We are to be pitchers having no darkness at all in us. The pitcher has within a Great Light. It has within it all that it has “heard” from the Lord. The job of the pitcher is to pour out what it has into another vessel. If we are not doing that we are not God's pitchers. When those pitchers were broken at the sound of the trumpet, the light within shone and caused that great fear and confusion in the enemy’s camp.

There is a rain that fills the pitchers.

Pitchers also serve to carry water and distribute it to others. There is a great rain that comes, and will fill pitchers that they can go pour out of themselves to other pitchers. We could call it pitcher rain. The early rain goes in the pitcher and the latter is poured out of the pitcher. Did He not say, that in the last days He would pour OUT of His spirit upon all flesh. Jesus is that rain, and in JESUS dwells all the fullness of the godhead. In Him are the whole twelve tribes of Israel. It is Jesus only in these pitchers. He is a FULL PITCHER. And He would say unto us:

If you have seen Me, the pitcher,
You have seen my Father.
The pitcher and the Father are one.

We will be taking the whole twelve tribes to the nations. So we are taking the full pitcher to the nations. After all God hath said that he would pour out of His spirit upon all flesh. As Jesus does the preaching the pitcher knows when the glasses are full. Glasses can hold only so much, then they must become pitchers, if they want the fullness of God. This time the Lord is not sending just a half full pitcher. He will send the whole pitcher, the fullness that will cover the earth. Our prayer is Lord, raise up pitchers to pour and pitchers to receive Your fullness!!

As in Him dwells all the fullness of the godhead, so in us will dwell all the fullness. Pitcher to pitcher, we live in Him and He in us.

The pitcher is filled with Interpreted word...word of understanding so that we can pour out of that spirit on all flesh. We must be what he is now saying. Is not what we are going to say; we are going to hear what our JESUS has to say, and we will say it. We cannot be "day old bread" to the nations. But we must be fresh out of the fire. We are excited we know and want to hear for ourselves what’s in the pitcher.

In those pitchers is the foreknowledge of GOD. There are healings, miracles, and resurrections in those pitchers.

For years we have been clothed in unrighteous righteousness, or filthy garments of man made religion. But now we are becoming unlearned, or uncovered. We will be asked, “What do you belong to?” Or “Who is your covering?” Our answer must be Jesus and nothing more.

The Pitcher is coming to us. Little pitchers, I exhort you to have big ears. Fill us Lord with what You want to say and what You want us to say this day. Amen.

Get Ready For Change

Shirley Craft

(sjcraft@sbcglobal.net)

Get ready for change! No one can prevent it or effect this change. Change is coming and it is inevitable.

Just as there is change in the natural world, there is also change in the spiritual world. The seasons change, people change, every living thing goes through change. Spiritual change is coming to My people, it is happening even now.

You can't see it yet, but many of you can feel its effects and are anticipating change. For some it is an uncomfortable position to be in. Many of My people resist change and would rather keep things the way they are, because it is comfortable. Nevertheless, change is a constant process in the life cycle, both in the physical and the spiritual realms.

I Am saying to many, your present circumstances are about to change. Your position is about to change. Everything as you know it today is about to change.

"Then the LORD said to Joshua, 'Today I have rolled away the reproach of Egypt from you.' " (Joshua 5:9). With change there has to be an exchange! This exchange process can be painful and difficult, but only for a moment in time.

Allow Me to take away all that hinders you from moving forward into your kingdom destiny. Come to spiritual Gilgal and allow Me to cut away the reproach from each of you. Let Me give you a crown of beauty instead of ashes, the oil of gladness instead of mourning, and a garment of praise instead of a heavy spirit.

However, some do not want to let go of what they are holding on to, so that they can take hold of what I want to give them in exchange. Consequently, many will be held back because of their fears and unbelief.

Just know this My people, you are going through a changing process. Allow My Spirit to come in and bring the wind of change into your lives now. Do not delay, run to My mercy seat. For at My mercy seat is where change will take place. Come!

I Saw The Word "Grace" Etched On The American Flag

Tuesday, November 02, 2004

In prayer this morning, I saw the word "Grace" etched on the American flag, and received an incredible sense of peace as I stood in prayer with you, asking Father for His will to be done in the elections.

Just prior to writing this e-mail, I had another brief vision. Initially, I saw three angels positioned over the US -- one is named Valor, the other Mercy and the other Grace. They are significant angels!

Then I saw a further angel, one which seemed so much smaller than the other three large angels, and I inquired of the Lord what this angel was named. The angel turned, in the vision, and smiled at me. His name is Humility.

Each of the angels held prayer bowls, which were being filled by the prayers of the saints and then carried to the throne room before Father.

Although the angel named Humility seemed to look much smaller than the other huge angels, they loved him so deeply and acknowledged and respected the humility of his character.

These larger angels had significant assignments and their prayer bowls were quite large. However, the one carried by the angel named Humility was by far the largest.

I believe these four beautiful virtues -- grace, mercy, valor, and humility are being poured out for the sake of Christ through the prayers of the saints in the U.S. and for the Lord's Kingdom to come in the U.S.

Humility is the root from which all graces flourish. It is a most precious jewel. Humility becomes ours as we participate in the life of Christ. As we learn to trust him more, to depend fully on him, to allow him to show us the hard, prideful places in our hearts, Jesus' humility begins to shine through -- transforming us into His image.

The Bride of Christ is as terrifying as banners to the enemy when she walks in humility. Humility enables us to attain the place of understanding our "nothingness" compared to his greatness.

To be emptied out in order that He might fill us and fulfill His purposes and plans through us, is such a place of honor through humility. How my heart longs to know more of Christ's humility.

May God bless you and all our brothers and sisters in America as, together, we bow the knee and seek the face and the will of our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ.

Your sister and friend for eternity,

Grace And Glory

Priscilla Van Sutphin

2 Cor 3:18 AMP And all of us, as with unveiled face, [because we] continued to behold [in the Word of God] as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are constantly being transfigured into His very own image in ever increasing splendor and from one degree of glory to another; [for this comes] from the Lord [Who is] the Spirit.

1 Cor 15:10 KJV But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

1 Peter 4:10 KJV As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

“I am in the process of imparting a new level of glory to my church, that will radiate out to the world and bring in the largest harvest the world has ever seen. So I am doing some finishing touches on My bride to make her ready.
I am taking all the bondage, idolatry, rejection, rebellion, and unbelief out of My children, that they might be able to receive all that I WANT to pour out in them. Do not think it a strange thing beloved if you are going through difficult times. I do know what I am doing My love. I now what it takes to change a generation. I know what it will take to change the younger generation. And many of you I am preparing to minister to them life and hope, resurrection from the dead and RESTORATION. So I am preparing you and exposing you to situations that provoke you to closer relationship with Me, that provoke you to learning more of Me and how to minister.

Glory is heavy. It is like a weight. And like something that is heavy, it crushes. It will crush your pride. It will crush your rebellion, and it will crush all UNBELIEF in My church. Although it may look as if I have taken my hand off you, in fact I have placed it heavier upon you to bring forth the crushing I desire. I want to eradicate all that will resist ME, that is in your souls. I will do all that it takes to get you to the place of a HIGHER level of functioning in My Kingdom! I will in no way leave anyone out who really is willing to GO for ME!

I am calling MANY sons and daughters in this hour to lay down their lives and to do MY WILL. If you are willing, I can work with that heart. But if not, then I will search for others who are willing. TRANSFORMATION is coming. TRANSFIGURATION is coming to restore My HOLINESS and MY POWER to these end times generations. Do not think I will leave out your sons and daughters either! I have GREAT plans for them! You will see your heart’s desire to have them walk in MY WAYS! Continue to speak MY WORD over them, and watch how I will RESTORE them!

Radical changes are coming My beloveds and I will explode in the marketplace in ways that will startle even the most casual and complacent observer! Know that is will not be by might nor by your power that this comes. It comes when I will. It comes how I WILL. I comes the way I WANT! The FIRE of My LOVE will consume the most stubborn heart who is at least willing! What I do will be way off the charts compared to what you have seen or are used to. So don’t be surprised when things start to happen that astound you. I am going to DAZZLE you My beloveds! I am going to lay waste the enemy of your soul through all I do in and through you!

Worship ME and stay in My WORD. USE it to develop your spiritual immune system so that you can fight off all the strategies of the enemy.
I am so in LOVE with YOU MY BRIDE! I am enraptured with love for My own. I will make all the crooked places straight and level all the high hills.
I will lead the blind by a way they have not known. And you will REJOICE in this hour as you see the mighty things Your God will bestow on you. I AM the ALL CONSUMING FIRE and I will burn up all the dross! “

Song came to mind: I’m in the mood for love, simply because you’re near me,
Darling for when you’re near me, I’m in the mood for love!

The Lord is singing love songs to His beloveds. He is wooing His Bride and courting her to greater intimacy with Him!

Rom 11:5-6 KJV Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. 6 And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

2 Cor 12:9-11 KJV And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. 10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong. 11 I am become a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing.

Eph 1:6-7 KJV To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved. 7 In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace;

Heb 4:16 KJV Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

2 Peter 3:18 KJV But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

2 Cor 3:18 NLT And all of us have had that veil removed so that we can be mirrors that brightly reflect the glory of the Lord. And as the Spirit of the Lord works within us, we become more and more like him and reflect his glory even more.
2 Cor 3:18 NKJV But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, just as by the Spirit of the Lord.

I'm Going to Blow
Priscilla Van Sutphin

June 12th, 2004 11:02 pm
www.upstreamca.org

I'm going to blow, and blow and blow till all that is not standing on the Rock is blown entirely away. For I have a work to do in this hour that requires complete obedience. Everything that isn't found rooted and grounded in Me will be blown away. Even as the palm tree is symbolic of victory, because it's roots go deep into soil that when the winds blow it won't be uprooted, I am firmly establishing the roots of My own in ME. There will be no more vacillating between truth and lies. No more double-mindedness that blow them from one end to another. He that is not for me is against Me. I am drawing a line.

Then had a vision of Moses…after throwing down tablets, saying "Those who are for the Lord come stand with me!"

Either you are for MY TRUTH, or for a lie. Choose you this day, whom you will serve. Many of you are being drawn to the line. And you will have to make a decision. Stand with Me, or fall back. [impression of falling away] Because in this hour, great truth will be preached through My apostles and prophets. They will be sent into churches, into the marketplace and they call out to those I am calling to come to the feast of wine on the lees. Will you come? Or will you doubt, even in the face of fantastic miracles done before your eyes. I'm telling now, you will either choose Truth or be blown away by it. Fall on the Rock or the Rock will fall on you. There will be no firm ground to stand on for those who reject the Truth.

Food You Know Not Of

tearsofthefather@comcast.net

Yesterday I sent out Andrew Strom’s tirade on bible colleges. We get hung up in terms a lot and he himself is wanting a school for training. I believe in discipleship training. Years ago, as a clinical nurse specialist, and teacher of nursing students, I was part of a method that has been used for centuries in training doctors and nurses, and Jesus Himself used in training His own disciples. First you give the background for why you are doing things, you establish a foundation of learning principles or truth, then you demonstrate them. Then you have them DO it with you, then you let them try it while you watch, then once they’ve learned you give them more practice to do it on your own. THIS is how schools impart knowledge needed in the medical field and in the nursing field, and in pharmacology. You always get practice in the field, or the clinical area you are going into, before being let loose on your own. You get to do it with someone before being shoved out to do it yourself. You have a chance in nursing to try IV’s for example on each other, and on dummies, before going to do it on actual patients. All of this is with the SAFETY of the clients in mind.

John 4:32-38 NKJV
32 But He said to them, "I have food to eat of which you do not know."
33 Therefore the disciples said to one another, "Has anyone brought Him anything to eat?"
34 Jesus said to them, "My food is to do the will of Him who sent Me, and to finish His work. 35 Do you not say, 'There are still four months and then comes the harvest'? Behold, I say to you, lift up your eyes and look at the fields, for they are already white for harvest! 36 And he who reaps receives wages, and gathers fruit for eternal life, that both he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together. 37 For in this the saying is true: 'One sows and another reaps.' 38 I sent you to reap that for which you have not labored; others have labored, and you have entered into their labors."

Jesus says something very profound here, that the disciples were finding hard to understand. They are going by what they can see, and wondering, where is the food? But Jesus is giving them a paradigm SHIFT. He is saying, I don't live for food that perishes, but I live for doing only what the Father says to Me. And He is also saying re: the harvest, I am not just here for you. But I am here for the whole world. I am looking for harvest. You are living for this moment, for the food that I can give you physically, but I have a principle I am trying to show you! You have all been living for food, and things, but I came to restore to you, what was lost in the garden! I have a rest for you, if you will only "get it". I came to restore relationship – see? I only DO what the Father wants Me to do. We communicate, then I do in obedience, what He asks of Me. THAT is My food! THAT is what I live for! I live for HIM. "I don't do anything of My own will", He also said elsewhere. If WE will learn this then we will also be in REST. We will only have to worry about the day's needs, and live in constant communion with Him. In order to get more revelation, God is looking for us to do or enact what he has already told us to do! Any prophet will tell you if they don't obey what they were last told, then God may withhold His voice for a time.
I desire obedience, not sacrifice, obedience, not works, not good deeds in place of what HE wants! HE is the BREAD OF LIFE. His words to us now, are our MANNA, rhema and logos.

Matt 22:1-14 NKJV The Parable of the Wedding Feast (Luke 14:15-24)
And Jesus answered and spoke to them again by parables and said:
2 "The kingdom of heaven is like a certain king who arranged a marriage for his son, 3 and sent out his servants to call those who were invited to the wedding; and they were not willing to come.
4 Again, he sent out other servants, saying, 'Tell those who are invited, "See, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and fatted cattle are killed, and all things are ready. Come to the wedding."' 5 But they made light of it and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his business.

Listening to this passage the other day, I suddenly got another revelation about how God is ALWAYS setting a table before us. He has made the way into the inner court through the BLOOD of Jesus. So we always have available to us, the table of food He has ready for us to impart and give to us. But often on a day to day basis, we are just too busy. We are busy going about our days, and planning OUR days. And we don't realize, He is there, always with a table set with good food on it. We don't have to wait, because we have been invited and have come, and can come every day to a fully set table of wisdom and revelation and wine on the lees.

Isa 25:6 NKJV And in this mountain the LORD of hosts will make for all people. A feast of choice pieces, A feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of well-refined wines on the lees.

His wine represents His love poured out in us, through what Jesus did and the words He has spoken and now speaks. A feast He sets before us of wine, and of FAT things…OIL of the Holy Spirit…, then says again well-refined wines on the lees.
Fat:
OT:8081 shemen (sheh'-men); from OT:8080; grease, especially liquid (as from the olive, often perfumed); figuratively, richness: KJV - anointing, fat (things), fruitful, oil ([-ed]), ointment, olive, pine.
OT:8080 shaman (shaw-man'); a primitive root; to shine, i.e. (by analogy) be (causatively, make) oily or gross: KJV - become (make, wax) fat.
Wine on the lees:
OT:8105 shemer (sheh'-mer); from OT:8104; something preserved, i.e. the settlings (plural only) of wine: KJV - dregs, (wines on the) lees.
OT:8104 shamar (shaw-mar'); a primitive root; properly, to hedge about (as with thorns), i.e. guard; generally, to protect, attend to, etc.: KJV - beward, be circumspect, take heed (toself), keep (-erself,), mark, look narrowly, observe, preserve, regard, reserve, save (self), sure, (that lay) wait (for), watch (-man).

THEN HE SAYS :
Isa 25:7-8 NKJV And He will destroy on this mountain the surface of the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations.
He will swallow up death forever, and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces; The rebuke of His people He will take away from all the earth; for the LORD has spoken.
Back to Matthew 22:
6 And the rest seized his servants, treated them spitefully, and killed them. 7 But when the king heard about it, he was furious. And he sent out his armies, destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city. 8 Then he said to his servants, 'The wedding is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy. 9 Therefore go into the highways, and as many as you find, invite to the wedding.' 10 So those servants went out into the highways and gathered together all whom they found, both bad and good. And the wedding hall was filled with guests. 11 "But when the king came in to see the guests, he saw a man there who did not have on a wedding garment. 12 So he said to him, 'Friend, how did you come in here without a wedding garment?' And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the servants, 'Bind him hand and foot, take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.' 14 "For many are called, but few are chosen."

We see from the second part of this scripture above that even when we do hear from God and have this communion, not all will receive it. In fact they want to kill us - Look how they are treated. So when HIS WORDS are rejected through His people, then He will go and seek out those who WILL come in to this communion and feast with Him.

First Corinthians emphasizes the lack of need for “PROFESSIONALS” in His service. See His food is available to ALL PEOPLE if they are willing to come and to SIT AT HIS TABLE that He has prepared!

1 Cor 1:19-31 AMP
19 For it is written, I will baffle and render useless and destroy the learning of the learned and the philosophy of the philosophers and the cleverness of the clever and the discernment of the discerning; I will frustrate and nullify [them] and bring [them] to nothing. [Isa 29:14.]
20 Where is the wise man (the philosopher)? Where is the scribe (the scholar)? Where is the investigator (the logician, the debater) of this present time and age? Has not God shown up the nonsense and the folly of this world's wisdom?
21 For when the world with all its earthly wisdom failed to perceive and recognize and know God by means of its own philosophy, God in His wisdom was pleased through the foolishness of preaching [salvation, procured by Christ and to be had through Him], to save those who believed (who clung to and trusted in and relied on Him).
22 For while Jews [demandingly] ask for signs and miracles and Greeks pursue philosophy and wisdom,
23 We preach Christ (the Messiah) crucified, [preaching which] to the Jews is a scandal and an offensive stumbling block [that springs a snare or trap], and to the Gentiles it is absurd and utterly unphilosophical nonsense.
24 But to those who are called, whether Jew or Greek (Gentile), Christ [is] the Power of God and the Wisdom of God.
25 [This is] because the foolish thing [that has its source in] God is wiser than men, and the weak thing [that springs] from God is stronger than men.
26 For [simply] consider your own call, brethren; not many [of you were considered to be] wise according to human estimates and standards, not many influential and powerful, not many of high and noble birth.
27 [No] for God selected (deliberately chose) what in the world is foolish to put the wise to shame, and what the world calls weak to put the strong to shame.
28 And God also selected (deliberately chose) what in the world is lowborn and insignificant and branded and treated with contempt, even the things that are nothing, that He might depose and bring to nothing the things that are,

29 So that no mortal man should [have pretense for glorying and] boast in the presence of God. 30 But it is from Him that you have your life in Christ Jesus, Whom God made our Wisdom from God, [revealed to us a knowledge of the divine plan of salvation previously hidden, manifesting itself as] our Righteousness [thus making us upright and putting us in right standing with God], and our Consecration [making us pure and holy], and our Redemption
[providing our ransom from eternal penalty for sin]. 31 So then, as it is written, Let him who boasts and proudly rejoices and glories, boast and proudly rejoice and glory in the Lord. [Jer 9:24.]

We have a greater school in the school of the Holy Spirit to learn from. Yes, I taught in colleges, and have a degree, but it is NOTHING, because I have left all that, to learn from HIM, at His feet. And that is no credit to me, as He had to strip me to do that. He made me weak, that I would have time to get healed of all the pain in my life, and to SIT at His feet learning of Him, so I could learn to EAT FROM HIS TABLE. He has rich food, for those who are willing to just COME! He is beckoning to us to come up higher…meaning to come and eat more from HIM, than of the world and all it's vain philosophies, or the vain philosophies even that have crept into the church and seminaries of this nation. HE is our TEACHER.
Matt 23:8-12 NKJV
8 But you, do not be called 'Rabbi'; for One is your Teacher, the Christ, and you are all brethren. 9 Do not call anyone on earth your father; for One is your Father, He who is in heaven. 10 And do not be called teachers; for One is your Teacher, the Christ. 11 But he who is greatest among you shall be your servant. 12 And whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.

Grass Slippers

Priscilla Van Sutphin

Feb 5th, 2004

The Lord spoke “grass slippers”. I thought I heard wrong but was reassured I did not. So what do You want to say about it Father?
I looked up grass in Conners’ book and it said: Grass is a symbol of the frailty of the flesh.

1 Peter 1:24-25 NKJV 24 because "All flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of the grass. The grass withers, and its flower falls away, 25 But the word of the LORD endures forever."

In the Cinderella story, she wears glass slippers, and this is how it should be for you. Glass is transparent. Your walk should be something people can see through to see ME. Can they see Me in your daily activities? Can they see Me in your daily talk? Do they feel My presence, when you are near them.
Are they drawn to Me in you? Do they hear My voice when you speak?

Many of My children are still wearing GRASS slippers. BUT I am coming like a mighty wind and blowing all away that has held them back! All the frailty of the flesh will be destroyed by My fire, so that you can be all I want you to be in these last days. I want you to be My ambassadors of GRACE and LOVE, wisdom, and strength in the face of adversity. I want you to be TREES of right standing, that the birds of the fields, and the critters of the forest can feel safe coming to nest in your arms.

So you see, I MUST come. I must bring My fire, that all that cannot withstand the test can be burned up.

Jer 23:29-30 AMP Is not My word like fire [that consumes all that cannot endure the test]? says the Lord, and like a hammer that breaks in pieces the rock [of most stubborn resistance]?
30 Therefore behold, I am against the [false] prophets, says the Lord, [I am even now descending upon them with punishment, these prophets] who steal My words from one another [imitating the phrases of the true prophets].

Jer 5:22-28 NKJV Do you not fear Me?' says the LORD. 'Will you not tremble at My presence, Who have placed the sand as the bound of the sea,
By a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass beyond it? And though its waves toss to and fro, Yet they cannot prevail; Though they roar, yet they cannot pass over it. 23 But this people has a defiant and rebellious heart;
They have revolted and departed.
24 They do not say in their heart, "Let us now fear the LORD our God,
Who gives rain, both the former and the latter, in its season. He reserves for us the appointed weeks of the harvest."
25 Your iniquities have turned these things away, and your sins have withheld good from you. 26 'For among My people are found wicked men; They lie in wait as one who sets snares; They set a trap; They catch men. 27 As a cage is full of birds, so their houses are full of deceit. Therefore they have become great and grown rich. 28 They have grown fat, they are sleek; Yes, they surpass the deeds of the wicked; They do not plead the cause, the cause of the fatherless; Yet they prosper, and the right of the needy they do not defend.

I AM the All-Consuming Fire and nothing can stand in My presence when I come. My glory is not a play toy! My glory is not something light, but it is HEAVY….and the weight of it is a great responsibility. Some have received a great portion, but because of their flesh, and lack of experience or healing, got puffed up and thought somehow they could touch it without consequence. I am telling you now children, that the FEAR of the LORD will be re-established in MY tabernacles! And where are My tabernacles? ARE YOU NOT THAT TABERNACLE? Will you not TREMBLE at My name?

1 Cor 6:19-20 NKJV
19 Or do you not know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have from God, and you are not your own? 20 For you were bought at a price; therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's.

2 Cor 6:15-16 NKJV And what agreement has the temple of God with idols? For you are the temple of the living God. As God has said: "I will dwell in them and walk among them. I will be their God, and they shall be My people."

I sanctified My temple of old with My GLORY, My Kabod and I will now do the same for you. Do not resist the work of My Spirit when He comes, for He is coming to re-establish MY ORDER. He is coming to re-establish MY LORDSHIP in you and in the church. THE FIRE OF MY LOVE WILL CONSUME YOU and you will be changed in a moment. I will do a very RADICAL thing. I will do it so that NO MAN can take credit for it. I will do it, that this generation will be TRANSFORMED by My GLORY and be turned into a great weapon of mass destruction against the enemy in these end times. I will have a most unusual ARMY in these times, the like that has NEVER been seen before! The world will fear and dread will fill the hearts of men. Come close to ME My children, stay close, for I am drawing near and SUDDENLY, you will be changed, and mankind will know there is a GOD who is more powerful than they imagined! The FEAR of the LORD is a strong tower, and they who will choose ME, will not be turned away.

Ex 15:16-18 NKJV
16 Fear and dread will fall on them; By the greatness of Your arm They will be as still as a stone, till Your people pass over, O LORD, till the people pass over Whom You have purchased. 17 You will bring them in and plant them in the mountain of Your inheritance, in the place, O LORD, which You have made For Your own dwelling, The sanctuary, O LORD, which Your hands have established. 18 "The LORD shall reign forever and ever."

Job 13:11 NIV Would not his splendor terrify you? Would not the dread of him fall on you?

Ps 14:4-5 NIV Will evildoers never learn — those who devour my people as men eat bread and who do not call on the LORD? 5 There they are, overwhelmed with dread, for God is present in the company of the righteous.

Isa 2:10-12 AMP
10 Enter into the rock and hide yourself in the dust from before the terror of the Lord and from the glory of His majesty.
11 The proud looks of man shall be brought low, and the haughtiness of men shall be humbled; and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.
12 For there shall be a day of the Lord of hosts against all who are proud and haughty and against all who are lifted up--and they shall be brought low-- [Zeph 2:3; Mal 4:1.]

Isa 8:12-14 NIV

12 "Do not call conspiracy everything that these people call conspiracy; do not fear what they fear, and do not dread it. 13 The LORD Almighty is the one you are to regard as holy, He is the one you are to fear, He is the one you are to dread, 14 and He will be a sanctuary;

Isa 66:3-9 NIV They have chosen their own ways, and their souls delight in their abominations; 4 so I also will choose harsh treatment for them and will bring upon them what they dread. For when I called, no one answered, when I spoke, no one listened. They did evil in my sight and chose what displeases me."
5 Hear the word of the LORD, you who tremble at his word: "Your brothers who hate you, and exclude you because of my name, have said, 'Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy!' Yet they will be put to shame.
6 Hear that uproar from the city, hear that noise from the temple! It is the sound of the LORD repaying his enemies all they deserve.
7 "Before she goes into labor, she gives birth; before the pains come upon her, she delivers a son. 8 Who has ever heard of such a thing? Who has ever seen such things? Can a country be born in a day or a nation be brought forth in a moment? Yet no sooner is Zion in labor than she gives birth to her children. 9 Do I bring to the moment of birth and not give delivery?" says the LORD. "Do I close up the womb when I bring to delivery?" says your God.

Isolationist Policy
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Feb 3rd, 2004 3:11 am
www.upstreamca.org

I do not have any isolationist policy. I saw that it was not good for man to be alone. So I created a helpmate. It is not good for any man to walk alone.
I sent out My disciples two by two. I have wanted to restore community and a sense of family within My church, that they would practice true love and “true religion”. I said that you cannot hate your brother and love God. This is incompatible. If you love ME, then you obey Me. If you have no love for your brother, then how can you say you LOVE ME? How can you do the greater thing of loving your enemies? I said, if you only love those who love you, then how is that better than the Pharisees? I realize that a lot of the time in these times, your brother surely has been your enemy, though it should not be so in My church! The conditions of My church are similar to the days in which My Son walked the earth!

Men are haughty and full of greed and desire for selfish gain. There is an arrogance that rots the core of the foundation of My church. I am coming to establish a new foundation. I am still the Cornerstone, but the foundation upon which I intended to build My church, will be reestablished, that the Truth of My LOVE and kindness will permeate every room of My House! I will not allow injustice without consequences. The soul that deliberately hates and destroys, maligns and rejects those whom I HAVE CHOSEN will reap the consequences for their actions. Though I may forgive them, I will not allow rebellion to go unchecked. This is a time of truth or consequences.

I did not come into the world to judge the world, but to SAVE them. So I am also asking you to NOT JUDGE whomever is already condemned, or your own brothers and sisters, but rather to bring LIFE where there is death and destruction! I have called you to be My ambassadors. Do not be ambassadors in chains. Do not do anything by constraint! Anything you do should be done out of LOVE. If you lack the LOVE, then you are not spending enough time in MY PRESENCE. For I am LOVE, and the Source of all you need! Everything you need, may be found in ME! I am the Alpha and Omega! Nothing is too difficult for Me! So come to Me with anything you have need of. My heart will give you REST. My heart will give you power to overcome all that constrains you! There is no LACK in Me!

How long will you wander in the desert? Won't you come to the place of transformation? Won't you come and be calmed and stilled by the running water, that flows from My throne of GRACE? Let me wash you! Let me love on you! Let me put the finishing touches on your life! LET ME heal the deepest recesses of your heart and mind and soul! Please don't resist My love, Beloveds. Push past the fear of intimacy! Push past all the distractions and pulls on your soul. LET THE KING OF GLORY COME IN!

Who is the King of Glory? THE LORD STRONG AND MIGHTY! I AM the King of Glory. And My glory will permeate your soul! My glory will sanctify your being. My glory will heal your body! My glory will convict you of your sins and wash them from you! My glory will radiate from you like a FIRE so that others may come to the brightness of My glory! But YOU must make the choice to come! Just come, My beloveds…REST, lay down with ME and LET ME touch you and heal your soul! LET ME empower you for all that is to come.

There are so many concerned with DOING rather than BEING, and WHO they are! If you are My ambassadors, then you must look and talk and walk like ME! How can you radiate My glory to others, if you don't receive it?
Intimacy with ME, is the HIGHEST purpose of your life. SEEK FIRST the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things will be added unto you! I AM the First and the LAST; the Beginning and the END. IT IS IN ME, that you find your life. It is in ME, that you find all that you need!
Ask and it shall be given you! Come while there is time My beloveds! For surely GREAT shaking is coming. You must be hidden in ME to survive the shaking that is coming! Come into the shelter of My wings!

Greece And The Summer Olympic Games
Chuck Pierce

www.glory-of-zion.org
March 25, 2004

Dear Torch Bearers for the Lord:

As you know, the Olympic torch was lit this morning in Olympia, Greece in the ruins of the ancient sanctuary where the Games birthed many years ago. I believe these Games are very significant in the spiritual domain as well as in the earth realm. John Dawson, President of Youth With A Mission International, states the following:

"I endorse March 25th as an International day of prayer for the Summer Olympic Games Outreach coming up in Athens. Will you join me and thousands of others across the YWAM family as we worship and stir our hearts in prayer? ...... Whenever you hear the sound of the trumpet, rally to us there. God will fight for us." Youth With A Mission Games Outreach Team, along with John Dawson, is making an appeal to the Body of Christ and the YWAM International Family for an International Day of Prayer for the Olympic Games, on March 25, 2004.

The Flame will Travel to All 5 continents

In ancient Greece, the Olympic flame was lit in a ceremony at the temple of Hera by a pagan priestess. Today it was lit by an actress playing the part of a high priestess, who called upon the god Apollon. It will now be run to every continent and every former host city. This will be the first time the flame has traveled to all five continents. This event will attempt to covenant the people of the world to the pagan deities of Greece. Please pray with us on this day. Pray for break through and for the mercy of God to triumph -- to see a nation changed and the world reached with the love of God. As a guide, you can use the 40-day prayer focus that was sent out this week for the next 40 Days. That prayer focus was titled: Contending with Your Enemy, Removing the Tempter's Covering, and Possessing Your Spoils and can be found on the Elijah List website at http://www.elijahlist.com/words/display_word.html?ID=2027

In Daniel, chapter 10, we find the prophet wrestling for 21 days with a power that was resisting him, attempting to keep him from touching God to gain revelation for the future. This shows us the power of dark angels that influence nations. These are ruling princes that abide in the heavenlies, or invisible realm, that tend to keep a region in captivity. These principalities and powers have great control and guard the activity of nations so that God's covenant plan is unable to manifest.

But God!! He raises His army on earth and aligns His army in heaven, and as we labor together, He comes and unlocks the captives. He is Lord Sabaoth, the Lord of Hosts!

Contending with 2 Ruling Forces

In Daniel 10:20, we find Michael, the archangel, comes to strengthen Daniel saying, "Do you know why I have come to you? And now I must return to fight with the Prince of Persia. And when I have gone forth, indeed the Prince of Greece will come." This represents the two ruling forces that we must contend with in the end days. These are the dark forces that have prevailed in Greek history, thought and false worship. These forces have injected a thought process of unbelief and humanistic thinking throughout the world. I feel this is one of our major battles for the future.

Last September while I was in Athens with a prayer team, local leaders and intercessors gathered with us for an awesome night meeting. Some said this was one of the largest gatherings ever of this type. We co-labored with 25 key leaders and intercessors on a prayer journey the following day. The team went to the Parliament to pray concerning the civil government of Greece. We prayed first of all for what God was doing in His government in the land and for His government to arise around the nation. At the Prime Minister's Palace we watched the changing of the guard. John Dawson and Cindy Jacobs ministered in Athens the following month.

Greece and the Olympics

While in Athens, we visited the Old Olympic Stadium. The Olympics were birthed in Greece and date back almost 2000 years to 776 B.C. When they were dedicated to the gods of Olympus, athletes would travel across land and sea to participate in these events, to win honor and to be elevated to the height of the Olympic gods. These games signified the development of man in mind and body. The modern Olympics, resurrected in the 19th century, rotated through the world, from nation to nation, and was hosted in key cites to blend each nation's culture with the international Olympic ideals. This produces a synchronized type of worship. The Olympic torch relay will be especially significant this year. The Olympic flame is lit by the sun's rays and is then passed to the first torch bearer. It then proceeds to 5 continents represented by the 5 Olympic rings. For more information you can go to The Olympic Festivals and Covenants by Randy Weidenaar, http://www.glory-of-zion.org/olympics.htm or visit the YWAM website, at http://www.ywamconnect.com/sites/YWAMGO/Presentation , and download the paper: The Olympics: A Christian's Response.

The Olympics have always been a religious festival and were dedicated to Zeus of Olympia. Sacrifices were made to this demonic power before and during the festival. Many do not realize that the Olympic flame is dedicated to Zeus. The 2004 Olympics will be characterized by pagan revivalism and will begin with the Olympic hymn, a sacred song that invokes the powers of hell to inhabit the games. This will release spiritual authority to the powers of darkness to visit all continents and defile the land.

This defilement was responsible for much of the persecution of first and second century Church. The people of God were forced to either worship these pagan gods or face persecution and even death. While these demonic forces failed to stop the Church, they did begin to invade the Church through the "Christianizing" of the games by the Greek bishops in the third century. This has resulted in the adoption of the Greek mindset and way of thinking replacing the Hebraic or biblical way of thought. Times and seasons were changed so that Christian feasts were held at the times of the pagan festivals.

Please pray for Greece!

With the Olympics beginning this July, we know that Greece will become a focal point for the world. We need to understand how the enemy has developed philosophical thinking that has fragmented our thought processes and kept us from understanding God's covenant purpose. These thought processes war with the gift of faith and contend with the Holy Spirit to prevent a manifestation of the power of His demonstration in the Church.

The Altar of Zeus

The fire of the flame represents the fire of the altar of Zeus. In Athens we visited the altar of Zeus. We prayed and declared the blood of the Lord Jesus Christ would establish a standard that the enemy would have to contend with. One group read the Word and the others prayed and declared the effects of this pagan resurrection would be neutralized in days ahead. Why is this significant? It is significant because this altar's flame will resurrect the demonic powers that linked themselves to Antiochus Epiphanies, one of the four generals of Alexander the Great. Alexander the Great was a world conqueror and everywhere he went he established the altar of Zeus. In those places, anti-Semitic forces exist and contend with God's covenant plan. In 168BC, Antiochus Epiphanies sacrificed swine to Zeus and poured the blood of the sacrifice in the Holy of Holies. The Jewish people were then tortured until they gave up the worship of Yahweh and bowed the knee to Zeus. Eventually the Temple of God was destroyed in 70AD. The demonic forces behind Zeus hate the one true God. This defilement and persecution continued through the first and second century. We must focus our prayers for Greece NOW! They have a small Body in the land and need our help. We must pray concerning the Anti-Semitic forces that will arise in this coming year around the earth to persecute both Jews and Christians. Stand! Declare! And Boldly Witness to the Good News of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

Specific Prayer Points

1. Pray for open heavens over Greece. Pray that God will change Greece and the nations by revealing Himself.
2. Repent for the honor and worship that the nations and Greece have given to the pagan deities of Greece.
3. Pray for open doors to share the Gospel during the games.
4. Pray for the unity, love and testimony of Christians involved to be evident to all.
5. Pray for the YWAM team that is in Greece now. Pray that God would give them favor, protection, love and unity.
6. Pray for many intercessors to cover this time, and for many to come and share the Gospel to the 217 nations attending the games.
7. Ask the Lord to reveal any terrorist plots.

This is a time of resurrection! However, we don't want the resurrection power of the Olympic torch to flood the world.

Greek Games A Word for Greece

Priscilla van Sutphin

August 28th, 2004
Watch what I do as the athletes finally go home to their own nations!
Watch what I do in Greece as a nation!
Will the nations now bow to Me?
Will they bend to My will?

Watch and see, for I will let them know that I ALONE AM TO BE WORSHIPPED!
There are good aspects to the games of camaraderie and unity.
But the ceremonies to honor false deities are not honored by ME.

I will transform this nation as it has never seen before.
My voice is above the waters. My voice is powerful. My voice splits the cedars in two. My voice makes the deer give birth! My voice will call to the winds and the sea and they will do MY bidding! And there will be a humbling of the nations. They will know once more that there is but ONE GOD, and they will know the power of the RESURRECTION of My SON.

Oh Greece, did I not dangle you on my knees? Did I not send you prophets and apostles and minister to your needs and make you successful? Did I not watch over you and protect you from many assaults?
Did I not teach your children to revere ME?

Yet you mixed the TRUTH with lies and have continued to honor the idols of your past. Even in the churches they do this…yet they claim to know Me!

You will revere ME again!
You will bow down and ask for My help when you see the earth tremble and shake around you!
If you will humble yourselves and realize how much I love you and have loved you, you can be saved.
But you must know that you cannot worship any other God besides ME!

Timely Advice

Priscilla van Sutphin

I got up from reading the word and it was 2:22 am, and tonight I started playing one cell the number of the game was 12222! God keeps reminding me of the 2's this week and I was drawn to these verses this week - and they seem quite appropriate for this hour as it's the Song of David. In Acts it says He will once again raise up the tabernacle of DAVID. See them at the bottom of this word.

Because He spoke to me "timely advice" also I asked, what do You want to say about that Lord?

"Stir up My beloveds the gifts within you! Stir up PRAISE. Stir up WORSHIP! DANCE and celebrate the coming victory and the coming of Your Lord! For soon the world will know without excuse that there is a God in heaven. There will be an amazing display of My power and no one will have an excuse to deny Me.

Stir up the dance in the congregation of the righteous and stir up the dance even in the streets of your cities. For I am looking for those who will praise Me despite what the world thinks. They may try to shut you up, but they cannot stop you from praising ME in this hour. Lift up your voices on high and shout to the Lord Your God with praises. Be unashamed of your love for Me. For then they will know it is not just lip service.

Some make a show of their love for Me, yet when it comes to loving the lost and the downcast they deny they know Me by their actions. For I am a God of love and mercy. I am a God who gives the undeserving what they need. Some of My people think they have the right to say who is deserving and who is not. But I AM THE JUDGE of the earth and all that is in heaven and under the earth. Look to ME for discernment and do My will. So many only give lip service to love, because they themselves have never known it. But soon there will be no excuse, for I will come and pour out My love in a magnificent way and you will know how deep and wide, how high and long My love is for you. I will pour it out and change the face of My church!

Right now the world sees the face of my church as selfish and greedy and self-serving. But in the days to come there will be challenges to all that will change the attitudes of hearts within My body. STIR UP PRAISE. Praise me in ALL circumstances and watch the tests dissipate….for the enemy seeks to sift you and devour you to disqualify you. But if you will PRAISE ME no matter what is going on. The battle will be YOURS, and I will fight for you!
Do not allow the discouragement and despondency a foothold. CAST IT OFF!
Do not give in to thoughts of being disqualified. He is trying to make you give in to defeatism. THROW OFF ALL ACCUSATIONS AGAINST OTHERS. PRAISE ME INSTEAD!

Know that this battle will be won with praise even as Jericho! Keep your lips from complaining and despair. Keep your lips from anger and fear! KNOW that I am with you no matter what you have to go through. I AM THERE. And I will bring you through the fire and the storms. I am the Lover of Your soul and I will keep you in the palm of My hands – you are inscribed on the palms of My hands. You are a treasure in My heart. Stand on My promises and hold them in your heart and soul. Know that I love you and will uphold you as the apple of My eye. Know that the days coming will test your love for me as no other time on earth. That is why I have been telling you to get My Word inside you and to come to ME and let me touch you and hold you and heal and deliver you! The days are coming which will bring fear to the hearts of all men. I will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is STAYED on ME!"

Isa 43:1-2 AMP 1 BUT NOW [in spite of past judgments for Israel's sins], thus says the Lord, He Who created you, O Jacob, and He Who formed you, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed you [ransomed you by paying a price instead of leaving you captives]; I have called you by your name; you are Mine.
2 When you pass through the waters, I will be with you, and through the rivers, they will not overwhelm you. When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned or scorched, nor will the flame kindle upon you.

2 Samuel 22
1 DAVID SPOKE to the Lord the words of this song on the day when the Lord delivered him from the hands of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul.
2 He said: The Lord is my Rock [of escape from Saul] and my Fortress [in the wilderness] and my Deliverer; [1 Sam 23:14,25,28.]
3 My God, my Rock, in Him will I take refuge; my Shield and the Horn of my salvation; my Stronghold and my Refuge, my Savior--You save me from violence. [Gen 15:1.]
4 I call on the Lord, Who is worthy to be praised, and I am saved from my enemies. 5 For the waves of death enveloped me; the torrents of destruction made me afraid. 6 The cords of Sheol were entangling me; I encountered the snares of death. 7 In my distress I called upon the Lord; I cried to my God, and He heard my voice from His temple; my cry came into His ears.
8 Then the earth reeled and quaked, the foundations of the heavens trembled and shook because He was angry. 9 Smoke went up from His nostrils, and devouring fire from His mouth; coals were kindled by it.
10 He bowed the heavens and came down; thick darkness was under His feet. 11 He rode on a cherub and flew; He was seen upon the wings of the wind. 12 He made darkness His canopy around Him, gathering of waters, thick clouds of the skies. 13 Out of the brightness before Him coals of fire flamed forth.
14 The Lord thundered from heaven, and the Most High uttered His voice.
15 He sent out arrows and scattered them; lightning confused and troubled them. 16 The channels of the sea were visible, the foundations of the world were uncovered at the rebuke of the Lord, at the blast of the breath of His nostrils. 17 He sent from above, He took me; He drew me out of great waters. 18 He delivered me from my strong enemy, from those who hated me, for they were too mighty for me.

19 They came upon me in the day of my calamity, but the Lord was my stay.
20 He brought me forth into a large place; He delivered me because He delighted in me.
21 The Lord rewarded me according to my uprightness with Him; He compensated and benefited me according to the cleanness of my hands.
22 For I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God. 23 For all His ordinances were before me; and from His statutes I did not turn aside. 24 I was also blameless before Him and kept myself from guilt and iniquity. 25 Therefore the Lord has recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to my cleanness in His [holy] sight.
{through the blood of JESUS }
26 Toward the loving and loyal You will show Yourself loving and loyal, and with the upright and blameless You will show Yourself upright and blameless.
27 To the pure You will show Yourself pure, and to the willful You will show Yourself willful. 28 And the afflicted people You will deliver, but Your eyes are upon the haughty, whom You will bring down. 29 For You, O Lord, are my Lamp; the Lord lightens my darkness.
30 For by You I run through a troop; by my God I leap over a wall. 31 As for God, His way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried. He is a Shield to all those who trust and take refuge in Him. 32 For who is God but the Lord? And who is a Rock except our God?

33 God is my strong Fortress; He guides the blameless in His way and sets him free. 34 He makes my feet like the hinds' [firm and able]; He sets me secure and confident upon the heights. 35 He trains my hands for war, so that my arms can bend a bow of bronze. 36 You have also given me the shield of Your salvation; and Your condescension and gentleness have made me great. 37 You have enlarged my steps under me, so that my feet have not slipped. 38 I have pursued my enemies and destroyed them; and I did not turn back until they were consumed.
39 I consumed them and thrust them through, so that they did not arise; they fell at my feet. 40 For You girded me with strength for the battle; those who rose up against me You subdued under me. 41 You have made my enemies turn their backs to me, that I might cut off those who hate me.
42 They looked, but there was none to save--even to the Lord, but He did not answer them. 43 Then I beat them small as the dust of the earth; I crushed them as the mire of the street and scattered them abroad.
44 You also have delivered me from strife with my people; You kept me as the head of the nations. People whom I had not known served me.
45 Foreigners yielded feigned obedience to me; as soon as they heard of me, they became obedient to me. 46 Foreigners faded away; they came limping and trembling from their strongholds. 47 The Lord lives; blessed be my Rock, and exalted be God, the Rock of my salvation.
48 It is God Who executes vengeance for me and Who brought down [and disciplined] the peoples under me, 49 Who brought me out from my enemies. You also lifted me up above those who rose up against me; You delivered me from the violent man.
50 For this I will give thanks and extol You, O Lord, among the nations; I will sing praises to Your name. 51 He is a Tower of salvation and great deliverance to His king, and shows loving-kindness to His anointed, to David and his offspring forever.

Origins And Times Are In My Hands
Priscilla Van Sutphin

August 26th, 2004
“Waves and waves of My presence are coming to you My beloveds. Waves and waves of My Holy FIRE will burn away all that cannot withstand the test. Waves and waves of My love will invade the church and drive out all that opposes Me within you. I AM a God of mercy and kindness but I am also a God of JUSTICE and FAITHFULNESS, and I AM HOLY. I said “Be holy as I am holy!” and I will not forsake My WORD. Perilous times have ensued. Guard your hearts and come to ME. I have a plan that leads to LIFE. Do not strive to figure things out as much as to depend on Me daily and hourly for what I want. YOU do NOT KNOW the hour of captivity, nor the hour of deliverance, for it is in MY HANDS. You do not know the time of My coming, nor the time of My outpouring, but know that I am close at hand. I see the conditions of the world and I am not blind to the conditions of My church. I am separating and I am binding. I am delivering and I am healing. I am testing and I am purifying. I am empowering and I am commissioning.

I am about to enter My church in a new wave of glory and I will have a purified bride when I am done. I will give you the desires of your heart that are in conjunction with My own desires for you! No one will be left behind.

What kind of Father would leave his child behind on the platform as the train is taking off? Mercilessness is not MY CHARACTER. But it is the character of the religious spirit. It is the character of the evil one."

"Was not My Word to you…"

[Phil 1:6 AMP And I am convinced and sure of this very thing, that He Who began a good work in you will continue until the day of Jesus Christ [right up to the time of His return], developing [that good work] and perfecting and bringing it to full completion in you.]

"I am a good Father, and I watch over My children. I correct My children and discipline them that they may develop MY character - Those that will let me that is, to have hold of their lives. Your lives are NOT your own! They are bought and paid for with the BLOOD of MY SON!"

Phil 2:5-8 AMP

5 Let this same attitude and purpose and [humble] mind be in you which was in Christ Jesus: [Let Him be your example in humility:] 6 Who, although being essentially one with God and in the form of God [possessing the fullness of the attributes which make God, God], did not think this equality with God was a thing to be eagerly grasped or retained, 7 But stripped Himself [of all privileges and rightful dignity], so as to assume the guise of a servant (slave), in that He became like men and was born a human being. 8 And after He had appeared in human form, He abased and humbled Himself [still further] and carried His obedience to the extreme of death, even the death of the cross!

"Since He gave up His rights as KING of the Universe and lowered Himself to be a servant and die for you, can you oh man humble yourselves to be like HIM, - if you want to live in His glory and majesty? Many of you seek My power and My glory. But you have not considered what My Son said to His own disciples. " Can you drink the cup I drink?" Are you willing My beloveds?

Are you willing to drink the cup He drank? Are you willing to LAY DOWN your life and take up the cross?"

Luke 9:23-26 NKJV Take Up the Cross and Follow Him

Then He said to them all, "If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me. 24 For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake will save it. 25 For what profit is it to a man if he gains the whole world, and is himself destroyed or lost? 26 For whoever is ashamed of Me and My words, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed when He comes in His own glory, and in His Father's, and of the holy angels.

"I assure you that as you lay down your life, HIS LIFE will burn inside you and you will receive all that is needed to endure the days ahead. For this time will tests the hearts of men and women, boys and girls severely. With your eyes you will behold many difficult and heinous things. So I am urging you to come, to lay down your life and to lay if finally at the cross - ALL OF YOU. Not just part of you. I have WORK for you to do. Are you willing to serve instead of being served? Are you willing to suffer for My sake? Are you willing to do what it takes to share in My glory? Then tell Me My beloveds and I will direct your paths and I will lead you in paths of righteousness and glory. I will lead you with the pillar of fire by night and the cloud by day.

I am lighting sparks of FIRE in many places that formerly have been strongholds of darkness. I will make a spectacle of the enemy and I will use you, if you will do My will. I am catalyzing many flames that will spread all over the nations. The world will be ABLAZE with the FIRE OF MY LOVE!

THERE IS NO MORE TIME TO HESITATE MY LOVE. COME! I will enrapture you with My love and you will take it wherever you go and many will be the great exploits of My BRIDE!"

Great Reformation Coming To America

Peter Vandever

In the wake of one of the strongest prophetic words I have ever received, I am writing you with some thoughts. I believe much of it to be prophetic but I am not sure of what degree of it is. There is a great reformation coming to America. It will begin in the San Gabriel Valley in Southern California. I believe there will be other flash points in America as well. Kansas City, Colorado Springs, and Charlotte are a few of them. This coming reformation will be marked by day and night prayer, radical worship, and glory evangelism.

God is rising up a generation of radical believer that will go forth with angelic authority. This is a generation of forerunners that will do great and mighty things for Jesus because everything in their life will center around their passion for the Bridegroom, Jesus Christ. They will be people of one thing: Love. They will be lovers of God and thus they will be lovers of humanity. God is placing a desire for only things He has placed there to remain. This generation will be above all, worshippers!

They will flow in a healing and deliverance anointing that will surpass prior generations. The healing revival of the 40's and 50's was only a foretaste of the revival coming to America. Every street corner, barbershop, and Wal-Mart will become an altar where God will manifest the healing in the wings of the Sun. I believe Todd Bentley and Che Ahn are the first fruits of this anointing. There will also be demon-possessed men set free in the marketplace. I believe with all my heart that God is moving us from the "church" mentality into a Kingdom mentality. Most of the healing and deliverance will take place outside the four walls we call "church."

I believe that we are on the brink of a repeat of a reformation only talked about in the Book of Acts. I believe there is a movement of the Holy Spirit that will result in a one final revolution on American Soil. As God began a national awakening in April 1906, He will begin a national reformation from the same city. Los Angeles will be a key city and I believe this area will be the first major city in America to experience Transformation by the King of Glory followed by Kansas City and Charlotte.

In the first century, the kingdom was advanced to every person in Asia in two years. [Acts 19:10] I believe the Holy Spirit is speaking to the American church to advance the message of the Bridegroom and the King of Glory to every person in America in two years. I believe there will be an ingathering of lost people in the next few years as we respond to this call to get out of the church mentality and into the kingdom mentality. I believe the days of stadium Christianity is around the corner. The greatest testimony of God's restoration will be in the streets as it was in the days of the first century Church.

Lastly, I believe God is rising up a generation for the first time that has godly apostolic voices to be mentored by. Rick Joyner, Dr. Che Ahn, Mike Bickle, and C. Peter Wagner are a few of them. These are voices that will sound like thunder so this generation flow in greater authority than ever before. There is arising a prophetic generation known as the Forerunner Generation!

Gross Darkness

Barbara Lynch

joshua2000@delaware.net
Word of The Lord
Date: Sep 4, 2004, 9:39 PM

The Father showed me people and the people turned totally black. Then he spoke this to me:

That is the gross darkness. You will never see anything darker that this. The gross darkness will try to snuff out the light, but the light will grow brighter and brighter. Many have already fallen to the sway of the evil one and many more will fall, but all those that stand fast, their light will shine brighter and brighter.

I showed you the people turning totally dark, so you could see exactly how the gross darkness will look. It will be mid-evil times once again and will run to and fro and they will seek after their own gods, believing that their own gods will deliver them from this evil time. But they will soon see that the only way they can possibly survive is by turning back to the light.

You are about to see many prophetic words come to pass. You are about to see those in bondage broken loose. You are about to see My resurrection power rise up over My people and set them free.

LIVING BIBLE Hebrews 3:15 - 19
15 But now is the time. Never forget the warning, "Today if you hear God's voice speaking to you, do not harden your hearts against him, as the people of Israel did when they rebelled against him in the desert."
16 And who were those people I speak of, who heard God's voice speaking to them but then rebelled against him? They were the ones who came out of Egypt with Moses their leader.
17 And who was it who made God angry for all those forty years? These same people who sinned and as a result died in the wilderness.
18 And to whom was God speaking when he swore with an oath that they could never go into the land he had promised his people? He was speaking to all those who disobeyed go him.
19 And why couldn't they go in? Because they didn't trust him.

LIVING BIBLE 2 Timothy 3:1 - 9
1 You may as well know this too, Timothy, that in the last days it is going to be very difficult to be a Christian.
2 For people will love only themselves and their money. They will be proud and boastful, sneering at God, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful to them, and thoroughly bad.
3 They will be hardheaded and never give in to others; they will be constant liars and troublemakers and will think nothing of immorality. they will be rough and cruel, and sneer at those who try to be good.
4 They will betray their friends, they will be hotheaded, puffed up with pride, and prefer good times to worshipping God.
5 They will go to church, yes, but they won't really believe anything they hear. Don't be taken in by people like that.
6 They are the kind who craftily sneak into other people's homes and make friendships with silly, sin-burdened women and teach them their new doctrines.
7 Women of that kind are forever following new teachers, but they never understand the truth.
8 And these teachers fight truth just as Jannes and Jambres fought against Moses. They have dirty minds, warped and twisted, and have turned against the Christian faith.
9 But they won't get away with all this forever. Someday their deceit will be well known to everyone, as was the sin of Jannes and Jambres.

Grow Up

Bobby Conner

Moving From Infants To Heirs

I was awakened abruptly from a sound sleep. It was the clear, audible voice of the Lord, declaring with an incredibly definite tone, "Tell my people to GROW UP!" Stunned, instantly and utterly awake by such a decree, I sat up in bed. The room, however, was still filled with the power of the declaration. My entire body was trembling and shaken by such a potent proclamation. My heart pounding and mind racing, I regained my wits. I inquired of the Lord asking how this was to be accomplished. Again, suddenly without warning, the entire room was filled with this electrifying voice, stating for a second time even more sternly, "Tell MY people to GROW UP! THEY MUST ADVANCE MOVING FROM SLAVES TO SONS!"

His command was followed by the Spirit of Truth clearly highlighting this passage, "Now I say that the heir, as long as he is a child, does not differ at all from a slave, though he is master of all, but is under guardians and stewards until the time appointed by the father. Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world. But when the fullness of the time had come, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, that we might receive the adoption as sons."

"And because you are sons, God has sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying out, 'Abba, Father!' Therefore you are no longer a slave but a son, and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ." Galatians 4:1-7 NKJV

Do You Want Your Inheritance? THEN GROW UP!

God longs to release outstanding, distinct destiny upon His children. Each of us have a truly unique God-ordained inheritance. It is time to grow up, moving from mere infants into mature sons. It is crucial that we set our hearts to move without delay into maturity. Only then will the Spirit of God be released to bring us into our birthright and divine inheritance. It is truly a pity to live spiritually impoverished, when in fact we are a multi-mantled generation. It is the our birthright to walk as Kings and Priests (see Rev. 1:5-7). God is looking for a people who will shake themselves and arise coming out of this self-imposed poverty.

The Lord has great plans for His people. Plans for our outstanding success, not our failure (see Jeremiah 29:11). Because of this, an evil spirit resists, opposing the Body of Christ, keeping us from moving into a place of maturity; thus, God cannot release the fullness of our inheritance. But great grace is offered at this time to overcome this foul spirit and recover what has been taken.

RECOGNIZE AND OVERCOME THE ESAU SPIRIT

The identity of this spirit is most helpful: It is an Esau spirit which manifests itself through causing believers to be distracted from the worth and value of their birthrights and divine inheritances. This has resulted in our disdaining, treating, and in many ways, counting insignificant and worthless, what God places great value and worth upon. May we never again be guilty of selling our God-given destiny for a moment of self-gratification.

Many have fallen prey to this spirit, seeking to allure them from the path of God, causing them to seek quick indulgence, promising to satisfy the hunger of the flesh by means of the feeding or indulging the desires of the flesh. Another way this spirit works is causing believers to expect only their inheritance to be given to them when they die and enter heaven...causing us to live below the promise of power and authority here and now.

God Wants Us To Rise Above - AND STAY THERE!

The scripture states that God hated Esau. I feel that it was the deeds of Esau that God hated. What did Esau do that caused such a displeasure in the heart of God the Father? He fell prey to this spirit that demands the feeding and the satisfaction of the flesh, pushing for personal pleasure at all cost. Thus Esau counted worthless his inheritance, not valuing what God had destined him to walk in...selling his birthright for a single bowl of soup (see Gen. 25:29-34 and Romans 9:13).

The Spirit of God is releasing grace to overcome this spirit. We must regain a noble desire to walk in our true birthright. Never should we again be satisfied to walk below what God has designed for us. We are created to be the head and not the tail. God destined us to be above ONLY and not beneath.

Now is the time for us to rise above this spirit, pulling it down, doing all that is within us to retrieve all that has been stolen...seeking to prepare our hearts to receive all the Father longs to release. We are no longer salves but sons, and thus, heirs of the promise. The Lord is looking for a people who will walk in uprightness of heart so that He can release outstanding authority and power (see Psalms 24:3-5). It is one thing to ascend into the hill of the Lord - the place of His power and authority; however, it is another thing to so live that you might abide in such a place (see Psalms 15:1-5).

MARKS OF TRUE MATURITY...DEMONSTRATED DOMINION

The Promise is that as we move from infants into a deeper level of spiritual maturity, we will advance from slave to son, and thus, become heirs. It is awesome to receive the revelation that not only are we heirs because of Christ Jesus, we actually become joint-heirs with Christ (see Romans 8:14-17). Notice this promise found in Romans 8:17 - And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

To be a joint-heir denotes that you are entitled to the exact equal inheritance as the other family member. The inheritance is divided equal if someone is a joint-heir. This is a tremendous incentive to move into the place of maturity so that we will not be deprived of, nor forfeit, one bit of what Father God longs for us to fully walk in. The same anointing that empowered the early disciples is now obtainable and available for each of us. Christ stated, "As My Father has sent Me, even now I am sending you" (see John 20:21).

Your Birthright: To Walk In The Anointing And Power Of God's Holy Spirit

It is the plan of God that we walk in demonstrated power. Christ declared that we would be able to do the works that He accomplished and even greater works than these (see John 14:12). This is part of our birthright. The promise is that one generation will receive the restoration of all other generations have lost. In Joshua 11:23, God gives to Joshua all the things He had promised to Moses.
The promises of God are sure. Even though one generation forfeits their call, does not disqualify you from walking in your complete birthright. In Joshua, chapter five, forty years of no became a yes in one day. This is a great display of regaining your birthright and obtaining the promise.

The Spirit of God is waking your heart, calling you to receive your birthright. Your birthright is to walk in the anointing and power of God's Holy Spirit; thus empowered to accomplish great exploits by the power and presence of God's Holy Spirit (see Daniel 11:32).

For People Without Mixture, I Will Pour Out My Power Without Measure

We are called to be overcomers, seated with Christ in true prophetic and apostolic power (see Rev. 3:20-22). The eyes of the Lord are looking for a people whose hearts are upright so that He can fully support all they put their hands to do (see 2 Chronicles 16:9). Our hearts must be free from self-seeking and self agendas. Our goal is to be set so we desire nothing more than the advancing of the KING Eternal and the establishing of the Kingdom of God.
The Lord spoke, saying, "If I can find a people without mixture, I will pour out My power without measure." God has promised to identify each of us as Sons and Daughters of the Most High if we will choose to grow up and live a clean pure life (see 2 Corinthians 6:16-18 and 2 Corinthians 7:1).

Groundswell

Main Entry: ground·swell Function: noun
1 usually ground swell : a broad deep undulation of the ocean caused by an often distant gale or seismic disturbance
2 : a rapid spontaneous growth (as of political opinion)

The Lord spoke “ groundswell”. Then, “I have been holding back some things that will no longer be held back. I have been testing hearts to improve the poverty and lack! I have been purifying motives and trying you in the fire. For My heart is to fulfill your earnest desire. I’m faithful and true, My heart is above all sincere. I’m not lacking or limited. I’m eliminating all fears! I’m so filled with life and love, and wanting to give it away. And I hear the voices of children, always going astray! I will bring them back and restore all that’s been robbed. My promises are not slack and My love is never weak. I’ve brought you through much, and now I’m giving you the last tweak! My LIFE is being poured out, upon all flesh, now will come the greatest test!”

“My beloveds, I am not ready to give up on anything yet! I am the Alpha and Omega and nothing surprises ME. I knew the course of this world before the beginning of this earth! Do not be saddened or moved by what you see in the natural, but know even as there are changes in the natural for the worse in many places, that the changes in you in the spiritual will be far greater for better, and to produce GLORY to MY NAME!

I am not slack, nor am I a neglectful Father! I am here and I am with you. I am Emmanuel, God with you at ALL times! Much trouble is coming in the days ahead. But I am loosing some surprises for the enemy, he has not anticipated. I am loosing also many surprises for you! Gifts and wisdom, prophecy and discernment. Remember that a man’s enemy’s will be members of your own household My beloveds. For I did not come to bring peace, but a SWORD. And you will find that All things WILL work for the good, despite the opposition. I will execute MY PROMISES.. I WILL keep you in the shadow of My wings. For I have a controversy with the nations!”

Jer 25:31-32 NKJV 31 A noise will come to the ends of the earth — For the LORD has a controversy with the nations; He will plead His case with all flesh. He will give those who are wicked to the sword,' says the LORD." 32 Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Behold, disaster shall go forth From nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up From the farthest parts of the earth.

Although trouble may surround you, yet I will give My own all they need. The lost who refuse me will be in great lack, but those who proclaim My name and refuse to deny Me, will shine like the stars of the heavens. You will do great exploits in My name and many startling miracles will ensue as I pour out My SPIRIT on all flesh! Keep your eyes on ME, My Beloveds! Do not let fear get a grip on you! FEAR NOT, for the Lord Your God is MIGHTY to behold and I will be with YOU. In the days of judgment, REMEMBER My MERCY! Extend your hand to the poor and broken and nothing will be withheld from you! I will pour and pour and there will be plenty for those who want to sleep in My tent!

Trial By Fire

1 Peter 4:12-18 NKJV Suffering for God's Glory
Beloved, do not think it strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened to you; 13 but rejoice to the extent that you partake of Christ's sufferings, that when His glory is revealed, you may also be glad with exceeding joy. 14 If you are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are you, for the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. On their part He is blasphemed, but on your part He is glorified. 15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, a thief, an evildoer, or as a busybody in other people's matters. 16 Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this matter.
17 For the time has come for judgment to begin at the house of God; and if it begins with us first, what will be the end of those who do not obey the gospel of God?

Rev 3:9-13 NKJV Indeed I will make those of the synagogue of Satan, who say they are Jews and are not, but lie — indeed I will make them come and worship before your feet, and to know that I have loved you. 10 Because you have kept My command to persevere, I also will keep you from the hour of trial which shall come upon the whole world, to test those who dwell on the earth. 11 Behold, I am coming quickly! Hold fast what you have, that no one may take your crown. 12 He who overcomes, I will make him a pillar in the temple of My God, and he shall go out no more. I will write on him the name of My God and the name of the city of My God, the New Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven from My God. And I will write on him My new name. 13 "He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches."'

I AM the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End! I know the end from the beginning in the lives of all who live! I know what the future holds and I know what you will do before you do it! I have seen it, even as I formed you in the womb, and knew you before the foundations of the earth!
So why do you worry? Why do you fret? So many before you and so many in the east already know what it is to suffer for My sake. But you, My church, haven't a clue to what real suffering is like, many of you. You have lived in affluence compared to the rest of the world, and you have been blessed beyond imagination. Only a remnant lives that knows what suffering is. I have refined them in the fires of rejection, affliction, crippling sickness and persecution, so that they would be able to speak into the lives of those when true persecution comes, when true trials come. They have paid the cost, and they are familiar with suffering and they know the value of that suffering!

They know HUMILITY! They know DEPENDENCY on ME, as they had to rely on Me, when no one else was a comfort to them. They knew My comfort in the midst of people judging them instead of loving them! They have had hours and hours, and years of time alone with ME! And I am now going to exalt the HUMBLE, and bring down the PRIDE and ARROGANCE that leads to corruption in My house!

Dan 4:37 NKJV Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven, all of whose works are truth, and His ways justice. And those who walk in pride He is able to put down.

I am coming quickly and I will level every mountain and exalt every valley, and I will form a bride who is without idolatry in her heart! I am doing that right now, and I will not allow any competition with My love! And I will put into the hands of the humble, the means to help the poor, the power to overcome the enemy in the lives of others, and the resources to house the homeless! I will raise up a standard that will RESTORE My church to the Bride I want it to be! I will have no other gods before Me! I will have no more harsh taskmaster ruling in My house!

The humble will see vindication and those who have slandered the humble will be tried by FIRE that will expose all that is in their hearts, till all the dross is burned away! I am a FAITHFUL and JEALOUS LOVER! I will not allow anything to get in the way of My love! And I will make you restorers and repairers of the breech, and you will be called trees of righteousness! The planting of the Lord! And many will come to the brightness of My glory because of what I do in you!

It has begun!

I have sounded the trumpets and you have been warned, and now I come. I will lift Myself up! I will be exalted in all the earth! I will make My name glorious, and there will no longer remain any on earth who do not know WHO I AM! For I will be revealed and I will make My Son a majestic bride from all nations of the earth! Who will go for US? Who will consider the cost? Who will be willing in the day of My power?

Have I not shown you the end from the beginning? Do you not know Who wins? YOU ARE THE VICTORS MY BELOVEDS! I will no longer hold back My love from My bride. I will bring you forth as GOLD refined in the fire!
You will shine like the stars in the heavens and My glory will be SEEN upon you! And the knowledge of the Lord will cover the earth as the waters cover the seas!

Isa 60:2 NKJV For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and deep darkness the people; but the LORD will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you.

Isa 61:1-8 NKJV The Good News of Salvation
"The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon Me, because the LORD has anointed Me To preach good tidings to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, To proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; 2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God; To comfort all who mourn, 3 To console those who mourn in Zion, To give them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; That they may be called trees of righteousness, The planting of the LORD, that He may be glorified." 4 And they shall rebuild the old ruins, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the ruined cities, the desolations of many generations. 5 Strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the foreigner shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers. 6 But you shall be named the priests of the LORD, they shall call you the servants of our God. You shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory you shall boast. 7 Instead of your shame you shall have double honor, and instead of confusion they shall rejoice in their portion. Therefore in their land they shall possess double; Everlasting joy shall be theirs. 8 "For I, the LORD, love justice; I hate robbery for burnt offering; I will direct their work in truth, and will make with them an everlasting covenant.

Ps 45:9-11 NKJV Kings' daughters are among Your honorable women; At Your right hand stands the queen in gold from Ophir. 10 Listen, O daughter, Consider and incline your ear; forget your own people also, and your father's house; 11 So the King will greatly desire your beauty; because He is your Lord, worship Him.

Unbridled Passion

Song 1:2-4 NKJV Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth — For your love is better than wine. 3 Because of the fragrance of your good ointments, Your name is ointment poured forth; Therefore the virgins love you. 4 Draw me away!
THE DAUGHTERS OF JERUSALEM
We will run after you.
THE SHULAMITE
The king has brought me into his chambers.
THE DAUGHTERS OF JERUSALEM
We will be glad and rejoice in you. We will remember your love more than wine.

My kisses are not like your kisses. My kisses are holy. My kisses are revolutionary! My kisses REVEAL ME! My kisses are revelation of My love for you and Who I AM! And for this reason, the virgins,[those not defiled by idolatry], love ME ALONE! And I am taking you into MY CHAMBERS! I AM TAKING YOU IN to INTIMACY with ME, for I AM the LOVER of your soul! And I am a jealous God, and I will have a pure and spotless Bride!

My kisses are sweeter than honey! My kisses reveal to you so many things including My secrets. I only share My secrets with my lovers! Those who are willing to surrender to Me all that is them, and all that is theirs. I am FAITHFUL AND TRUE, and My kisses are not betraying. I don't kiss you, then remove My love!
I am faithful and true to My WORD! I will NEVER leave you nor forsake you!
I am in love with you! I am eternally forgiving and eternally faithful in My love that is unconditional for you. Like a good parent, My love NEVER FAILS.

Can you imagine a world void of love? THAT is the enemy's camp! There is never any love there! It is to be eternally separated from My love! Can you imagine that My beloveds? Then you can realize the importance of HARVEST!
Every day the enemy is taking with him many who have died without ME deceived into unbelief and skepticism and hatred! Will you LOVE ME ENOUGH to lay down your lives? Is it too hard My loves? Is there anything I ask of you, that I don't give you the GRACE to do? Don't be afraid to lay it all down! I am speaking of everything. EVERYTHING. Your hopes, your dreams, your family, your things, your ministry, your business, your home, your car, your pets, your opinions - these all can be idols. So I ask you to commit them all to MY keeping, and for the purposes of My Kingdom! Then you will know what TRUE FREEDOM IS!

Mercy and TRUTH have kissed each other! Righteousness and peace are the foundation of My throne. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow you all the days of your lives, and you will dwell in the house of the Lord forever, and ever and ever!
I desire MERCY and not sacrifice I have said. So I am asking you to lay down and receive MY LOVE and My healing, that you might endure the reproof that is at the door!

I am raising up the tent of DAVID and I will establish MY WILL. Just as in the days of Moses, I am calling out, "LET MY PEOPLE GO! THAT THEY MIGHT WORSHIP ME! " I will remove the cover of oppression that is trying to keep you from the fullness of TRUE WORSHIP! And you will fulfill the call of holiness and the days of POWER that are coming! You will fulfill the expression of My love when you love one another AS I HAVE LOVED YOU! So lay aside all unforgiveness and any hatred or disdain in your heart for those in My church.
Relent from all desire for vengeance! LOOSE the chains of unforgiveness and I will loose the chains of oppression over you!

Charity covers a multitude of sins! LOVE IS KIND!

1 Cor 13:4 NIV Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud.

1 Peter 4:8 KJV And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

CHARITY
NT:26 agape (ag-ah'-pay); from NT:25; love, i.e. affection or benevolence; specially (plural) a love-feast: KJV - (feast of) charity ([-ably]), dear, love.

NT:25 agapao (ag-ap-ah'-o); perhaps from agan (much) [or compare OT:5689]; to love (in a social or moral sense): KJV - (be-) love (-ed). Compare NT:5368.
OT:5689 `agab (aw-gab'); a primitive root; to breathe after, i.e. to love (sensually): KJV - dote, lover.

NT:5368 phileo (fil-eh'-o); from NT:5384; to be a friend to (fond of [an individual or an object]), i.e. have affection for (denoting personal attachment, as a matter of sentiment or feeling; while NT:25 is wider, embracing especially the judgment and the deliberate assent of the will as a matter of principle, duty and propriety: the two thus stand related very much as NT:2309 and NT:1014, or as NT:2372 and NT:3563 respectively; the former being chiefly of the heart and the latter of the head); specifically, to kiss (as a mark of tenderness): KJV - kiss, love.

If I am so charitable towards you, can you not be charitable to those who have offended you? Is there anything that I have not forgiven you? Is there anything hidden from Me? Is there anything you have done or are going to do that I don’t know about? The same is true of those around you! There is nothing I do not know about what they have done or what they will do!
So ask of ME when you need wisdom about others. Be forbearing of others, even as I forbear all the things you do to offend Me! I DON’T hold a grudge against you! So why do you hold grudges? Is this what I have taught you by My example or by My Word?
I AM LOVE!
I AM MERCY!
I AM FAITHFUL and TRUE!
I AM ALMIGHTY!
Is there anything too hard for ME?
Think of something you think is too hard and ask if it is something I could do!!
With GOD ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE!
So think BIG, and ASK BIG My BELOVEDS!
I AM the GOD OF THE IMPOSSIBLE!

Woe To Him Who Strives With His Maker
Priscilla Van Sutphin

July 16th, 2004 thru www.upstreamca.org

Isa 45:9-12 NKJV "Woe to him who strives with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth! Shall the clay say to him who forms it, 'What are you making?' Or shall your handiwork say, 'He has no hands'? 10 Woe to him who says to his father, 'What are you begetting?' Or to the woman, 'What have you brought forth?'" 11 Thus says the LORD, The Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: "Ask Me of things to come concerning My sons; and concerning the work of My hands, you command Me. 12 I have made the earth, and created man on it. I — My hands — stretched out the heavens, and all their host I have commanded. 13 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways; He shall build My city and let My exiles go free, not for price nor reward," Says the LORD of hosts.

I know that I have taken My time with you My beloveds, for I am a patient Father. Do not be angry with My ways. Do not grow impatient with My workings. I will do all I have said. Do not doubt nor be dismayed by the opposition that has come against you! All will work to a great testimony of faith under trials! I AM WITH YOU and I WILL see you through! I am only preparing and purging your hearts till they are broken as Mine!

I am looking for bent hearts towards MY purposes. Are you willing to lie all down at the cross? Are you willing to give up your own ideas, or what has been the plan, to embrace the NOW NEW THING I AM DOING? Will you let go of the old wineskin and embrace the New? Can I change the plan? Will you allow ME to rule in your life and to lead as I will? I am looking for the flexibility and conformity to My will in your lives, that you will go with the flow of My Spirit’s wind wherever it takes you! Why will you strive with My desire to cleanse your heart?

I am only doing what you have asked! If you have asked me to cleanse your heart and to purge all pride from you, then you are being cleansed and purged. So don’t think it strange that hardship has come! For when hardship comes, we learn perseverance and patience and let patience have it’s perfect work!

Romans 5:1-5 NKJV Faith Triumphs in Trouble Therefore, having been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, 2 through whom also we have access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. 3 And not only that, but we also glory in tribulations, knowing that tribulation produces perseverance; 4 and perseverance, character; and character, hope. 5 Now hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out in our hearts by the Holy Spirit who was given to us.

Do not feel guilty to spend time in My presence, as in that place nothing is wasted! In My presence is fullness of JOY, fullness of PEACE, fullness of LOVE, fullness of KINDNESS, fullness of HUMILITY, fullness of MIGHT, fullness of POWER. So do not feel ashamed to spend time with ME. I delight in the times with you. It is then we can commune with no hindrances. So come, My beloveds and do not hesitate to come for I am purging My threshing floor, that the Bride might be bedecked in gold and fine linen, jewels and all manner of perfumes and oils that brighten the countenance!

For I am exalted in HOLINESS! I am exalted when you display My love and kindness to others that comes from being in My presence! Desire earnestly the best gifts, but the better thing is to desire MY LOVE. For I AM LOVE! I am the LOVE that casts down all fear! I AM the author of PEACE that perfects your faith! So come My beloveds, and do not wait! Come into My arms of love and let me pour Myself into you!

Gathering The Unrighteous Fruit
Arlette Pollard

Revelation 14:17-20

I met a man who was looking
For a city set high up on a hill
Where he said he’d find peace
So he would be released
From thoughts that bring Sorrow, grief and fear
And where all acts of strife
That were contrived
By passions set to kill
Would be kept outside
The pearly lights
Of the city set high up on a hill.

And as I listened
To this man’s hopes and dreams
I turned to my Savior
Who I know walks with me
And I thanked Him for His sacrifice
That prepared the way
For His love to reign in my life
I thanked Him for His amazing grace
That set me free
So I could rise far above fear and misery.

I met a man who was looking
For a kingdom set on high
Yet I noticed his eyes were focused
On darkness instead of “Light”
He spoke words of condemnation
Words of death and not of life
Yet he said he’d keep on looking
For a kingdom set on high.

So I turned to my Savior
Thankful He stood by
As the counselor of justice
Of God’s perfect design
As the truth everlasting
Who takes thoughts captive to His “Light”
So men live outside of darkness
In God’s kingdom sent down from on high.

> “And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe. And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of the wrath of God. And the winepress was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.” Revelation 14:17-20
> “John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I

> cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner: but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable." Luke 3:16-17

> "I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit." John 15:1-2

In the world covered in darkness, the evil one holds reign, influencing the hearts of men, so that the natural man is incited to speak words of condemnation against the goodness of God. Until the day that a man is awakened by the saving grace of the Lord, he will walk in agreement with the lies and deception that darkness calls light. It is in the world under cover of darkness, which denies the power and authority of God that all men are born into.

Because the natural man lives at enmity with the Lord, he cannot perceive or appreciate God's eternal kingdom of righteousness. Until a man is born again, of God's Spirit, he will not understand what it means to find freedom in Christ. And he will not understand what it means to be released from the bondage of suffering that his own thoughts have brought about within his life.

It is God's desire that a man be set free from the deception that exists within the night. And God has prepared a way, so that this is possible. When a man calls on the name of the Lord, and believes that Jesus is the Son of God, he shall be saved from out of the clutches of the evil one. Through faith, one is saved from bondage to the deceivers realm of darkness.

When a man bears the message of God's love toward him within his heart, then his eyes will be awakened to see that the world stands under the glory of God's eternal "Light." For a man to be awakened from his slumber in the night, is to be awakened unto righteousness by the hand of Jesus Christ. When awakened unto righteousness, the man will understand the joy that can be experienced as he walks in a personal relationship with God through the Holy Spirit.

When a man is loosed from his captivity to the darkness, he will begin to understand that the voice of the deceiver spoke many words, which were used to bring torment to his soul. The man will begin to realize that he had been enslaved by the many words spoken by the evil one, which caused his thoughts to focus upon condemnation and accusation. The man, who is awakened by the "Light" of eternal truth, will begin to realize that, to focus upon condemnation and accusation, is to dwell within the realm where darkness reigns.

As God's Spirit continues to rise up in power and authority within the man's life, the words of Satan will steadily be loosed of the death grip that it has over the man's heart and mind. God desires that His children, "run with patience the race that is set before" them, so He surely and steadily, by His Spirit, removes the hand of the evil one from off the man's heart. When the hand of Satan is removed, the man can then breath deeply, appreciating God's great mercy toward him, as he runs the race that God sets before him.

> "And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles." Acts 14:27

When God opens "the door of faith" a man leaves the world covered in darkness, to enter into the world that is filled with God's glory. To walk through the door of faith is to cross over the threshold into the kingdom of "Light" and resurrection power. When a man stands within God's eternal kingdom of "Light," so that God's glory rises up in resurrection power upon the man's heart, the truth of God's mercy toward the man will be a message of great importance and worth. To escape the world covered in darkness, so that a man may walk within the city streets of God's eternal kingdom of righteousness, is to appreciate the beauty, longsuffering, and love that the Lord has had toward the man.

Yet a man who has stepped over the threshold, into God's kingdom of righteousness, will still carry much baggage with him. No man crosses over the threshold of faith released entirely of the burdens, which he carried with him while walking the city streets of the world covered in darkness. Though God’s love and mercy will take from the man’s shoulders many burdens, yet many will remain, which will weigh heavy upon the man’s thoughts, causing him to feel that he is unworthy, unloved, and unappreciated. He will still be burdened by many thoughts that will weigh heavy upon his heart, which are opposed to the purposes of God.

While the man walked the city streets of the world blanketed by darkness, Satan had, to one degree or another, a role in influencing his thoughts and opinions. Yet, it is God’s desire that a man, who has crossed over the threshold into the kingdom of “Light” and resurrection power, enjoy his life in Christ. “If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.” (John 8:36). It is God’s desire that the man be free from sin, death and condemnation, so that he lives his life each day giving praise, with great thankfulness, to the Lord’s holy name.

> “And this word, yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain. Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear: for our God is a consuming fire.” Hebrews 12:27-29

For the man who has crossed over into God’s kingdom of righteousness, many of God’s descriptive words will be understood more fully, as his relationship with God develops. A man, who has crossed over the threshold of faith, where the “Light” is understood to be Jesus Christ, will also begin to understand that God uses words to express the way that the Spirit interacts with the man. When looking upon the Word, and applying it to himself, he will read words such as, “removing of those things that are shaken” so that “those things which cannot be shaken may remain”, and begin to understand that God is not talking about an actual, literal, outward physical shaking to remove sin, condemnation and other attitudes that do not reflect the goodness of God within his life.

The man awakened by the Son, shining God’s glory upon his heart, will begin to understand that the blood of Jesus Christ, which purified the heavens, shaking loose all that does not reflect Holy Spirit relationship between man and God, is a truth that is to be applied to his life, personally. He will understand that it is for his good, that God shakes loose all beliefs and attitudes that were obtained while walking in the city under shadow of darkness. He will begin to understand that God’s Spirit moves upon his life, exposing the destructive nature behind many attitudes and beliefs, which will be shaken loose from their hold upon his heart and mind by the hand of God, so that he walks freely, unencumbered within God’s city of righteousness, the kingdom without end.

“Our God is a consuming fire.” The man who has just walked through the “door of faith,” may not be able to understand the truth behind the words, “our God is a consuming fire.” The thought of fire may only bring to mind the destructive fires that cover the physical earth, seen by the naked eye. But as God’s Spirit begins to “shake loose” thoughts conceived in the darkness, so that he walks more fully submitted to the will of God, he will begin to understand how the purpose behind the word “fire” may have a spiritual application that is to bless the man’s soul. The man may begin to realize that God uses certain descriptive words to express how the Spirit moves upon his life, so that his relationship with God is enhanced.

As the man realizes that God’s desire is to accomplish His good purpose within his life, and that God uses the Spirit within his life to bring this to pass, then the man will begin to understand, when God speaks of fire, that there is a personal application behind the words that are meant for good. Through personal relationship he may come to understand that the use of the word “fire” is to express a necessary purging that needs to take place within his own life.

How long before the “fire” consumes all that is of no value to a man of God, all opinions, thoughts, behaviors, attitudes which belong outside of God’s kingdom of righteousness, is according to God’s perfect timing. For the man to understand that the fire must consume all that does not express the nature of God, will help the man understand God’s desire that he be holy, as God is holy. That it is God’s desire that thoughts, attitudes and behavior that flourish within the city where citizens live under the shadow of darkness, day and night, have no fellowship with a man who has crossed over the threshold into eternal life.

> “I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I, if it be already kindled? But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished." Luke 12:49-50

When Jesus Christ spoke these words, He had not yet ascended on high to His rightful position at the right hand of God. His blood had not yet purged the heavens so that God's glory, His Holy Spirit, would be poured down from heaven. The Holy Spirit had not established God's kingdom within men's lives. The fire, which is a personality of the Spirit, had not done its perfect work within any man's life, the day Jesus Christ spoke these words. Yet, the Son of God would proclaim that, which was soon to come.

When Jesus Christ spoke these words, no man had as yet had the fruit of unrighteousness harvested by the Sword of the Spirit, nor had the breath of God consumed any man's sins. No man had as yet had God's consuming breath of fire move upon his unrighteous acts, so that sin was taken captive to the Word of God. The harvester's sickle was made ready, but until the blood of Jesus purged the heavens, it would not be laid into the earth, so that which was unrighteous could be consumed by the righteousness of God.

When Jesus Christ did ascend on high, to His place prepared, the angels announced it was time for the earth to be harvested. It was time for men to be drawn into the inner chambers of God's righteous kingdom, so they could experience for themselves God's love upon their lives. And as men were drawn close to the Lord, through the Spirit, the Spirit would deposit and establish God's righteous kingdom upon their heart. But sin, all thoughts, desires, opinions, which are aligned with the unrighteous works of darkness, have no place within God's kingdom. So God determined that sin was to be cast off the throne of a man's heart, out of the kingdom of God's righteousness, and unto the earth.

Before the Spirit established God's Kingdom upon a man's heart, sin had authority and right of possession over a man's soul. But after the Spirit set up residence within a man's life, sin was cast off the throne of a man's heart, onto the earth. Sin was cast down to a lesser level of influence over the man's heart. Sin was cast down to the flesh.

For those who were harvested from the earth, as the Spirit led them into God's throneroom, while simultaneously God's kingdom was established upon their hearts, sin, which once had absolute authority over their lives, would remain, but to a lesser degree of influence. Sin, darkness would no longer sit as the reigning authority upon a man's heart and mind, yet it would still have a position, within the man's flesh.

When God's kingdom was established upon a man's heart, sin was not totally consumed by the breath of God. Sin was still able to make its voice heard within a man's life. Though God's love was greatly appreciated, and transformed the way the man perceived life, sin, still dwelt within a man's members, his flesh, so that the voice of Satan could still be heard speaking accusation against the goodness of God.

God "has put all things under his feet." Sin is cast down to the earth, to the flesh, but it is not God's desire that the sin, which now dwells within the flesh, have any power or authority to speak words of destructive condemnation against the Spirit. It is God's desire that man be able to walk after the Spirit, putting to death the deeds of the flesh. It is God's desire that the flesh live in subjection to the Spirit. So, in God's perfect plan of redemption, God gave unto Jesus Christ the authority to put all enemies, which dwell within the flesh, under His feet.

Through visions God revealed to Apostle John, the message behind God's words, which proclaimed, "we are debters, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh." God revealed to Apostle John, a visual picture of great significance, when He showed him an angel, which came out from behind the altar. Apostle John knew that the altar was where the flesh of animals was consumed by fire, so he must have known an important word of great significance was being spoken through this vision. It was then that he heard the angel declare that, "her grapes are fully ripe" to be gathered and placed in the "winepress of the wrath of God", to be "trodden without the city."

Apostle John knew he walked in the kingdom of God's righteousness, the holy city sent down from above. Apostle John, was greatly used by God, and must have been fully dealt with by the hand of God. This godly man would have known the suffering caused by any sin that dwelt within the flesh. God had to have gathered up all the unrighteous fruit, sin which was raised up within his life while he walked in the world covered in darkness, and placed the unrighteous fruit under the feet of Jesus Christ, so that Apostle John could walk fully equipped to do God's will.

Accordingly, so that Apostle John was able to do the Lord's perfect will, all sin must have been removed from out of the holy city, the kingdom that was established upon his heart, through the Spirit, and placed outside in the, "winepress of the wrath of God." It is God's anger with sin that testifies to the seriousness of sin. Apostle John's old life, which was lived under authority of sin, was put to death.

Now new life, abundant life, flowed out of the winepress. Apostle John's blood had been purged of all "filth and defilement." His earthly body would now live in perfect subjection to the will of God. When the unrighteous fruit of sin had been placed under the feet of Jesus Christ, and crushed, Apostle John's blood, which brought him life, would give testimony to the goodness of God.

"Blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs*." (* Strongs def. furlongs – 4712 – arena, stadium, race course; a unit of length: stade (about 200 yards)) So that Apostle John could run the race set before him, God's Spirit would purge the sin nature within his flesh, that had produced any unrighteous fruit, such as self-sufficency, and pride within his life. Apostle John would now live his life undefiled by thoughts that denied the holiness and the goodness of God, so that he could finish the course God had set before him, prepared, "as a strong man to run a race." To have had his sin nature purged by the hand of God would allow him to "run with patience the race that is set" before him.

What God accomplished within Apostle John's life is a demonstration of what is accomplished within other men's lives, through the Holy Spirit. In the flesh is no good thing, but all glory to God who is able to accomplish what man cannot. It is God's desire that the sin which dwells within the flesh be put under the feet of Jesus Christ, so that God has absolute authority over the heart and soul of man. What is the exceeding greatness of God's power to us-ward who believe? May the hearts of many men begin to be awakened to the answer.

> "And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power. Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come: and hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fullness of him that filleth all in all." Ephesians 1:19-23

Give Us This Day

Becky McLendon

Jesus taught us to pray: “Thy kingdom come thy will be done.” Whose kingdom? HIS. Whose will? HIS. When do we pray it come and His will be done? This day. This is the day the LORD hath made, so let us rejoice and be glad in it. Let us live in the this day!

Whatsoever is not of faith is sin. Whatsoever is not in the LORD'S will is sin. I have to grow every day or I am out of the LORD'S WILL. If you are doing what you did yesterday, you have fallen into the ditch and you are living in sin. The law is what the Lord said do yesterday. I do today what the Lord says do today. I don't have to pray about it. If I heard Him yesterday, so I do today too. It’s a matter of trusting Him and knowing He will speak this day as He did yesterday.

The Lord told MOSES to smite the rock, and it was the Lord's will, but, MOSES, that was yesterday. This day His will is for you to speak to it. But no MOSES did what HE heard yesterday. Moses had fell in that ditch i know he told me to speak to the rock. But he also told me one time to smite it. So Moses was where he was yester day instead of growing into what the Lord wanted him to be this day. If we have not grown out of what we were yesterday, we are in the ditch and living in sin.

We pray, “Thy will be done.” We have to know the Lord’s will every day. We have to live in this day. Let’s not be exalted because we knew the Lord's will yesterday. We must know the Lord's will this day. Or else we are in the ditch, living under the law. Life is going out of what we were yesterday. Life keeps us out of yesterday; every day is a new day of hearing, and obeying. So when we take a shower we are washing off what we got on us yesterday.

Spiritually we must not be where we were yesterday. We have a this day in the Lord every day. If yesterday is not the Lord's will it is sin. Whether part of an organized church or not, every group that is still where it was yesterday is living in sin. Many of the “out of the system” people boast, “I came out of her.” But did they come out of what they were yesterday? If we have found life, we have found this day every day. This day is a new day from yesterday. If you are not praying for and finding God’s will for this day, you are still under the law and in the ditch.

Hebrews 1:5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

The Lord is saying this day, “you are my son, and you are my offspring. You are that which proceeds out of My belly this day.” You are this day what I am saying. This day is timely. This day is the “fullness of time.” This day is never late, but always on time. We remember in scripture that the word “father” goes beyond just the physical father. It also means “point of origin” of a thing. So the spirit of God is the Father of everything Jesus says and does, and as we live in the spirit, he becomes the father of all our thoughts and actions. The Father is found in this day.

Jesus was not what God had said. He was what God was now saying this day. While not perfect, we can be this day what God is saying to us this day. We don't want to be in what gets wormy. We can wake up every morning with something fresh from the Lord. Come out away from those that are not getting new things from the Lord and begin to live in this day. Be this day what Jesus is saying this day. We don't label any thing because labels keep us in yesterday. We are in what the Lord is saying today. He wants us come on out of yesterday. You can find what the Lord is saying in your bedroom. You can have precious communion in your kitchen. We can say the Sabbath starts on Friday night, or on Sunday morning, and lasts all week, all month, all year. This is the day the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad in this day.

Don't yak, yak, yak and bla, bla, bla, but let the lord give you what to say this day. It's broken cisterns that yak. There is a fountain of living waters this day, so come on in the water is fine. This day is so deep it is a Jesus love, a Jesus supper. All things are now ready, this day..

1 John 3 Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.
Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.
And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

And how do we purify our selves? As we obey the Lord this day. We are saying we have this hope this day. Obedience makes us this day what the Lord is doing. We cannot be pure speaking our own words. We cannot study and be pure. We study what He has said this day. Revelation takes the Bible, and gives us what God is now saying this day. When we study what others have studied in the "yesterday," we study in darkness. Only in His light of this day can we receive revelation. Many love and live in darkness. It is easier than living in this day. If we love darkness, it's because our deeds are evil. So two shall be in one bed, and one will be taken and the other left.

One will be taken into what the Lord is doing this day. And the other will be left behind in darkness of "yesterday." People die when they rebel and quit growing. False grace preachers say, "I sin every day and am proud of it." They are saying, "I'm against what God is doing this day and am proud of it, because I hold on to the way things have always been!" Only the pure remain and are in His will this day every day. They are not up and down and in and out. Its not taking pride in being coming – out-ers, it's being going – in-ers and going – on-ers that count. Going every day into the deep and into His will is what He looks for in a people.

Oh there is a love that conquers every part of us. There is a love that keeps us from repeating yesterday. There is a love that satisfies God every day. And the Lord will say this day I have begotten thee. You are this day what I want you to be. There is a love that cries night and day for the deep things of God. It is a cry for the things of this day.

There is a love that cheapens things we have loved in the past. To want God's election is to be God's election this day. You can't live in the yesterday and hear what He is saying this day. So many in the church houses are living in all their yesterdays and longing for "the way things used to be back then." Living in "YESTERDAY" is the same as being COMFORTABLE. The Laodicean church lives in YESTERDAY. "I have all I need.... I am fine the way I am. Our "church" is going strong, doing great things, building big buildings and growing. They day, "God doesn't do new things. Our denomination has the truth and they way grandma did it is good enough for me." They have wound up in the ditch of yesterday, feasting on wormy manna and do not know what day it really is.

Yesterday appeals to the multitudes. Even tomorrow appeals to the multitudes. But not many want this day. They live in yesterday and talk about tomorrow. They completely MISS this day. To them it is all about what Jesus SAID and what Jesus DID yesterday and what he is GOING to say and GOING to do tomorrow.... but never what HE SAYS this day.

Jesus told us to pray, "Give us this day our daily bread." And when He entered the synagogue, He began to say unto them, "This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears." When is this scripture fulfilled? This day. Where is it fulfilled? IN YOUR EARS

The only place the scripture CAN be fulfilled is IN THE EARS, and even if the fulfillment manifests itself right under your nose if it is not HEARD, it is not fulfilled in the ears. JESUS was standing before the Pharisees reading the scripture.... it can only be fulfilled in the EARS. They have to HEAR with HEARING of UNDERSTANDING for it to be fulfilled. Most "marveled" at Him, exchanging looks of total cluelessness, when He said that.

God said in several different ways throughout scripture: Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. Some heard and knew. Most heard an indistinct rumble of thunder, and others heard nothing. They went on with “yesterday” revelation because they could not hear the revelation of this day.

“Yesterday” people have run out of oil to keep the lamps burning. They cannot afford a power outage because they have no more oil. After those storms there were millions with out power. It costs a great deal of money to get the power back on. "Yesterday" people are still in darkness, because you have to pay a price to keep the power turned on. When we hear many beg for more money saying, "We don't even have enough to keep the power turned on," they are saying a lot. That is the cry of the five foolish virgins: “We don't even have enough to buy the power. We can’t pay our light bill!” Their lamps are dim and they beg for money to keep the power turned on They are "yesterday" virgins. Even when the power is restored in other places, they are still in darkness

He says, "I give you power over all the power of the enemy." We have the power we need this day; then we will have the power for tomorrow’s this day when tomorrow comes We just need victory one day at a time. It is a this day power! With this day power we are increasing with the increase of God. In order to be a "third day" church we need to be a this day church.

In the foreknowledge (this day) of the Lord every battle has been won. This day we are being made equal with the Jesus in us. We are being made equal to the power working in us this day. Jesus in us is this day Jesus in us! That is why He is this day our hope of glory. He reads the rolls upon which His words are written, says, "This day this scripture is fulfilled in your ears." And then He closes the rolls and sits down. And the religious crowd marvels at Him, because suddenly He is not a yesterday or a tomorrow Jesus. He is this day what He says.

The religious accuser cannot understand how we can stumble, commit "sinful deeds" ...fall on our faces and repent and be completely restored. But a this day Jesus comes suddenly to us and fulfills the scripture in our ears, if we believe it. That accuser wants to keep us in the DITCH of yesterday. But we leave all that behind and press on toward the upward call of Christ Jesus this day. This day His mercies are brand new.

He that is this day begotten of God keeps himself, and the wicked touches him not. The wicked can't touch the one that keeps themselves in this day.
Amen.

Blessings and shalom,
Becky

Grasshoppers Vs. Giants

Bonnie Nelson

2004 - Grasshoppers Vs. Giants Bonnie Nelson

The Surface you have been standing on has shifted and is no longer flat, it is now at a slant. Keep your stance. Stand straight and upright before the Lord. The world has been shaken in the spirit. Many things are and going to be out of balance and out of order, but you must continue to stand firm and straight.

II Thess 2:2 That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

There is an acceleration in the world of the ugly and perverted. The seed of Satan has raised their head and they will appear as "giants." LO! Know who you are in Christ and remember, it is written, the "grasshoppers" defeated the giants. Rise up grasshoppers, you have been called for such a time as this, to "take back/stand" against that which has been stolen and perverted.

In Numbers 13:33 And there we saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the giants: and we were "in our own sight" as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

Notice the quote, "in our own sight." I break that from you right now and I say you are more than conquerors, in and through the Blood and the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth. The grasshoppers were victorious through the Power of The Most High God. When they went, they conquered. So be it! Romans 8:30-39

No more condoning or being "silent." Raise your voice. The battleground is through the mind and through the WORD being SPOKEN OUT. Loose the Angels and the Power of God over the enemy and the victory shall be yours. Know that being silent, to be safe, will not defeat the enemy. Again, I say, loose the power.

Acts 4:31 And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God will "BOLDNESS."

There is a door opened in 2004. Seeing it, believing it, wanting it...will NOT get you through it. You must get up and walk through it to claim what is waiting on the other side of the door.

I hear "MORE." 2004 is about coming out and "going" for "more," for our God is a God of MORE, not less. Come out of the nest, the cocoon, for there is work to be done. It is your time. Do not look to others to lead you. Look and Listen for Me. Receive...Receive...Receive.

Mark 4:24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given.

I hear, "Preparedness" and "extra precaution."

John 10:10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

Be wise and informed, not ignorant of the wiles of the Devil. Watch and be on guard, "in and out" of the church walls. The enemy roams to and fro, but Jesus has given you the power to defeat any onslaught from him.

II Chron 20:25 And when Jehosaphat and his people came to take away the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away: and they were three days in gathering of the spoil, it was so much.

Your victory will not just be in material riches. There will be souls snatched from the fire of Hell and there will be healing, signs and wonders. Healing by My Hand, My Miracles, My Signs and My Wonders. Know Me. Do not be deceived by the counterfeit of the enemy. KNOW ME and what is OF ME. Deep to deep and Spirit to spirit....AWAKE

God Wants To Use Your Body

nosike_ekemezie@yahoo.com

Luke 1:26-38—In the sixth month, God sent the angel Gabriel to Nazareth, a town in Galilee, 27 to a virgin pledged to be married to a man named Joseph, a descendant of David. The virgin's name was Mary. 28 The angel went to her and said, "Greetings, you who are highly favored! The Lord is with you."
29 Mary was greatly troubled at his words and wondered what kind of greeting this might be. 30 But the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary, you have found favor with God. 31 You will be with child and give birth to a son, and you are to give him the name Jesus. 32 He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, 33 and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever; his kingdom will never end."
34 "How will this be," Mary asked the angel, "since I am a virgin?"
35 The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the holy one to be born will be called the Son of God. 36 Even Elizabeth your relative is going to have a child in her old age, and she who was said to be barren is in her sixth month. 37 For nothing is impossible with God."
38 "I am the Lord's servant," Mary answered. "May it be to me as you have said." Then the angel left her.

I am sure you know the story of Virgin Mary. She was engaged to a man. Then, suddenly an angel of God appears to Mary and informed her that God wanted to make use of her body, having told her that for God to have chosen her meant that she was highly favored. Mary simply answered, “I am the Lord’s servant.” God then prepared a human body in the womb of the virgin, for His Spirit to dwell in.

Heb 10:5—Therefore, when Christ came into the world, he said: "Sacrifice and offering you did not desire, but a body you prepared for me.”

God later sent His angel to Joseph, the fiancé of the virgin, and urged him to go ahead and marry her, even though she was already carrying God’s Son in her womb. That was akin to asking Joseph to let God use the body of his wife. Joseph agreed.

The Son of God was born eventually. A lot of incidents happened, but the summary of it all is that God waited for about 30 years before His Son could begin to manifest. Finally, the Son of God offered His body as a sacrifice of atonement for the sins of all human beings. The death of God’s Son reconciled mankind to God. This has opened doors of opportunity that were impossible before.

God now needs many sons. Because of the blood of Jesus that has been shed, God no longer needs a virgin and waiting for 30 years in order to manifest a son. Instead, He can now adopt an already full-grown man or woman as His son. What does this adoption involve?

Adoption of God means that somebody is giving his/her body to God, for God to use the body as His temple. God enters the body that has been surrendered to Him as the Holy Spirit or Christ (2 Cor 3:17). The Spirit of God forms a union with the human spirit. God begins to use the human body as His own only if the human being involved continually relinquishes the body through faith. The basis of this faith is that God is better able to rule over the body and take care of it than the human being.

There is need for a closer look at the faith that relinquishes the human body to God. Through the fall, mankind entered into union with the power of sin and death. Birds of the air (demons) began to lodge in the branches of the tree of mankind (Matt 13:32). Jesus made a way for man to become free from the union with Satan by the blood He shed on the cross. When a person hears the gospel and believes, God enters into union with the person by coming into that person as the Holy Spirit. But something more is required before the person begins to manifest his/her sonship of God. All that is required is persistent faith.

Rom 12:1-2—Therefore, I urge you, brothers, in view of God's mercy, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God-this is your spiritual act of worship. 2 Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is-his good, pleasing and perfect will.

All along a person's body was not surrendered to God. The person was free to indulge in all kinds of worldly lusts. He/she got used to this way of life. Now, due to believing the gospel, this person surrenders his/her body to God. The person necessarily has to change his/her thinking, because the body is no longer his/hers. Everything about his/her body must be made available for God's use. For example, the person's mouth must be directed towards the praise of God, preaching the gospel, etc. There must now be a continuous consciousness of the fact that God is present in the body. The person is no longer alone. There is no more selfishness.

The practice of surrendering our bodies to God is something that must be done before we get into the activities of each day. We get into our prayer closets or solitary place and surrender our bodies afresh to God. This will enable God to take charge of our lives for that day. As we go through the day, the consciousness of God's present in us should keep us in continual prayerful mood. We will never attempt to do anything by our wisdom or strength, but through Him.

Mark 1:35—Very early in the morning, while it was still dark, Jesus got up, left the house and went off to a solitary place, where he prayed.

2 Cor 5:14-15—For Christ's love compels us, because we are convinced that one died for all, and therefore all died. 15And he died for all, that those who live should no longer live for themselves but for him who died for them and was raised again.

Eph 5:19-20—Speak to one another with psalms, hymns and spiritual songs. Sing and make music in your heart to the Lord, 20always giving thanks to God the Father for everything, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

1 Thess 5:16-18—Be joyful always; 17pray continually; 18give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus.

Phil 4:4—Rejoice in the Lord always. I will say it again: Rejoice!

As we renew our minds this way, faith will increase, and faith is the vehicle that releases God to do His work. When there is little hindrance to God using our bodies for His purposes, it will be difficult to distinguish our activities from that of God Himself. We will become exactly like Jesus Christ in deeds and holiness.

John 17:22-23—I have given them the glory that you gave me, that they may be one as we are one: 23I in them and you in me. May they be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me.

John 14:12-14—I tell you the truth, anyone who has faith in me will do what I have been doing. He will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father. 13 And I will do whatever you ask in my name, so that the Son may bring glory to the Father. 14 You may ask me for anything in my name, and I will do it.

Let Christ Use Your Body
Paul Ekemezie

Luke 5:1-7—One day as Jesus was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret, with the people crowding around him and listening to the word of God, 2 he saw at the water's edge two boats, left there by the fishermen, who were washing their nets. 3 He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to put out a little from shore. Then he sat down and taught the people from the boat. 4 When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Put out into deep water, and let down the nets for a catch."
5 Simon answered, "Master, we've worked hard all night and haven't caught anything. But because you say so, I will let down the nets."
6 When they had done so, they caught such a large number of fish that their nets began to break. 7 So they signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them, and they came and filled both boats so full that they began to sink.

Peter was a fisherman. He worked hard all night, but caught no fish. That is the story in the lives of many people today. Everyone is fishing for one thing or the other. And how many people are catching the much-sought-after fish? The “fish” could be anything that is your heart’s desire—good health, promotion, business success, academic success, material or financial needs, marriage partner, children (due to barrenness), etc. Many have worked hard all night (over long periods of time), but have made no headway. What is the solution to this dilemma?

Christ wants to come into your life and make use of your life. You may say that you have already given your life to Christ; Christ is already in your life. Is He making use of your life? You may say that you are doing one thing or the other for Christ, which means that you trust in your ability to do something worthwhile for Christ. Unfortunately, you cannot possibly, by yourself accomplish anything useful for God.

Isa 64:6—All of us have become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous acts are like filthy rags; we all shrivel up like a leaf, and like the wind our sins sweep us away.

Rom 3:10-12—As it is written: "There is no one righteous, not even one; 11 there is no one who understands, no one who seeks God. 12 All have turned away, they have together become worthless; there is no one who does good, not even one."

Matt 7:21-23—"Not everyone who says to me, `Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. 22 Many will say to me on that day, `Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?' 23 Then I will tell them plainly, `I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!'”

Christ Himself wants to do the work, while sitting in the boat that is our individual bodies. In Luke 5:3, quoted above, Jesus entered Simon’s boat that had achieved nothing all night long. He didn’t just get into a stationary boat, but He engaged wearied Peter in the job of rowing the boat to a more convenient position away from shore. From there Jesus ministered life to the crowd. So you see that Jesus would never enter Peter’s boat for Peter to leave Him in the boat and busy himself with something else. No, Peter must leave every other thing and paddle the boat according to the dictates of Jesus.

A casual observer could be wondering how Peter, a family man, would get himself tied to attending to Jesus needs in his boat, even though Jesus paid him nothing that he could use to sustain his family. But when Jesus finished using Peter’s boat for ministry, He led Peter to put out into deep water and let down the nets. The outcome was extra-ordinary. Peter’s all night long of zero headway was wiped off in a moment.

Have you worked so hard trying to solve one problem or the other in your life, but have consistently been making no headway? Is Christ in your boat? Have you received Christ into your life? If not, get down on your knees now and invite Him to come into your body (which is your boat). If you have already invited Christ into your body, have you been making yourself available to paddling the boat to vantage positions where He can minister to people’s needs from the boat? Do you even have the consciousness that since you invited Him into the boat, He is right there with you? When you develop the consciousness of Christ’s continual presence in you, He will be able to direct you to where you will steer the boat, where you will stop the boat for Him to minister, and where you will let down the net for a catch.

Matt 8:23-27—Then he got into the boat and his disciples followed him. 24 Without warning, a furious storm came up on the lake, so that the waves swept over the boat. But Jesus was sleeping. 25 The disciples went and woke him, saying, "Lord, save us! We're going to drown!"
26 He replied, "You of little faith, why are you so afraid?" Then he got up and rebuked the winds and the waves, and it was completely calm.
27 the men were amazed and asked, "What kind of man is this? Even the winds and the waves obey him!"

As you move around with Christ in the boat (your body), that may not stop storms of life from coming against you. But the storm only comes to test if you know the personality that is with you in the boat. The storm also comes to test whether you think that you are the captain of the boat or Christ is the captain. In the story of Matt 8:23-27, when the storm rose against the boat, the disciples simply called on Jesus who was right there with them, not the one in heaven, and Jesus calmed the storm.

Heb 11:6—And without faith it is impossible to please God, because anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who earnestly seek him.

1 John 5:4—For everyone born of God overcomes the world. This is the victory that has overcome the world, even our faith.

Do you believe that the Christ whom you invited into your body really exists in you? If your answer is yes, then you are pleasing God, and God will reward you like He rewarded Peter in his boat. This faith in Christ's continual presence (Jehovah shammah) is the victory that overcomes the world.

Rom 10:9—That if you confess with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved.

If you have the consciousness of Christ's presence in you, in what capacity is he dwelling in your body? Is He the Lord of the boat or a mere passenger? The proper attitude to adopt is that Christ is everything that is needed in that boat. He is the great provider. He is the healer (or engineer) of the boat. He is the protector of the boat against all forms of adversity. When any form of adversity comes against the boat, the disciple in the boat only has to notify Him and praise Him for what He is to the boat—Lord.

Matt 9:1-2—Jesus stepped into a boat, crossed over and came to his own town. 2 Some men brought to him a paralytic, lying on a mat. When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, "Take heart, son; your sins are forgiven."

If no boat owner had made his boat available to Jesus, He would not have come into contact with the paralyzed man. There are many people in our society that have been paralyzed by different kinds of problems. Jesus is looking for boats that could get Him into contact with these needy people. Your body could be one of those boats.

1 Kings 17:10-16—So he went to Zarephath. When he came to the town gate, a widow was there gathering sticks. He called to her and asked, "Would you bring me a little water in a jar so I may have a drink?" 11 As she was going to get it, he called, "And bring me, please, a piece of bread."
12 "As surely as the LORD your God lives," she replied, "I don't have any bread-only a handful of flour in a jar and a little oil in a jug. I am gathering a few sticks to take home and make a meal for myself and my son, that we may eat it-and die."
13 Elijah said to her, "Don't be afraid. Go home and do as you have said. But first make a small cake of bread for me from what you have and bring it to me, and then make something for yourself and your son. 14 For this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: `The jar of flour will not be used up and the jug of oil will not run dry until the day the LORD gives rain on the land.'"
15 She went away and did as Elijah had told her. So there was food every day for Elijah and for the woman and her family. 16 For the jar of flour was not used up and the jug of oil did not run dry, in keeping with the word of the LORD spoken by Elijah.

The spirit of Christ was in Elijah (1 Pet 1:10-11). Christ led him to a widow in Zarephath who had virtually got to the end of all hopes. Christ wanted to save this woman from her hopelessness, and so through Elijah taught her the victory that overcomes the world. What is this victory? It is to, by faith, surrender one's life for Christ to make use of it and being fully convinced that, by this act of surrender, God is always present in that person's life. In the case of the Zarephath woman, by agreeing to surrender her only remaining food to the man of God (who had the spirit of Christ), that act of surrender made Christ (in the man of God) to begin to live in her house. The man of God did not just stay in the house without ever burdening the woman. Instead, the woman spent quite some effort taking good care of the man of God. She carried the yoke (Matt 11:29-30) or cross (Luke 9:23; 14:27) of Christ. That was the reason for the miracle that followed.

1 Kings 17:17-23—Some time later the son of the woman who owned the house became ill. He grew worse and worse, and finally stopped breathing. 18 She said to Elijah, "What do you have against me, man of God? Did you come to remind me of my sin and kill my son?"
19 "Give me your son," Elijah replied. He took him from her arms, carried him to the upper room where he was staying, and laid him on his bed. 20 Then he cried out to the LORD, "O LORD my God, have you brought tragedy also upon this widow I am staying with, by causing her son to die?"
21 Then he stretched himself out on the boy three times and cried to the LORD, "O LORD my God, let this boy's life return to him!"
22 The LORD heard Elijah's cry, and the boy's life returned to him, and he lived. 23 Elijah picked up the child and carried him down from the room into the house. He gave him to his mother and said, "Look, your son is alive!"

The storm of death came against the Zarephath woman's house, even while Christ (in Elijah) dwelt there, and caused quite some destruction. All it took for the destruction to be reversed was the woman being able to realize that God (in Elijah) was right there in her house. She called on Christ as one who is near, not in heaven, and the miracle of restoration happened in no much time.

John 14:12-14—I tell you the truth, anyone who has faith in me will do what I have been doing. He will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father. 13 And I will do whatever you ask in my name, so that the Son may bring glory to the Father. 14 You may ask me for anything in my name, and I will do it.

Heaven-To-Earth Transit Lines Opened

[#10 = The Perfecting Work of Divine Order]
– JUNE 10-11, 2004

[BACKGROUND] – Many personal friends & acquaintances were 'in transit' this day (6/10/04), some even returning from Kuwait. Watching news coverage, also, of President Reagan's viewing in the Capitol Rotunda by thousands today – the strongest urgency to know 'what was up' stirred within me. The number "10" (according to E. W. Bullinger) signifies: the perfection of divine order, completeness of order: the 10 Commandments, 10 clauses in The Lord's Prayer, the 10 Plagues upon Egypt, Abraham's 10 trials of faith, Israel's 10 rebellions in the wilderness, etc.

June 10, 2004 – Transit Lines Opened Up

[FATHER]: "Across the nation and around the world, prophetic words are going forth from My lips into the ears of My prophets. This marks a day when many things shall be heard. I need not tell you all of them, for soon, through others, these things shall be learned. Yes, many of these words concern the passing of a great one who led your nation, and nations – in the ways of peace, based on My words of wisdom. There is much about him, this Ronald Reagan, that will be said – but it is not to You this day that such things will be revealed.

Do you know what today is? You have called it one of 'transit' – for rightly so it has been that for many upon the earth. But it is MORE THAN THAT – it is the day when NEW TRANSIT LINES CARRYING THE WORD OF REVELATION have been opened up between heaven and earth. You have heard it said, and rightly so, that THIS SEASON begins A NEW DAY. 'New days' cannot come without an impartation of heaven, so that men COME TO UNDERSTAND MORE of MY ways.

[MAINFRAME SWITCH FLIPPED TO 'ON POSITION'…]

HEAVEN'S WEBSITE has been INTERLINKED with that of EARTH… and THE FLOOD-GATES FOR DOWNLOAD HAVE BEEN THROWN OPEN THIS VERY DAY. [In vision I saw a huge switch then flipped to 'on' position by a large hand.] I have prepared My prophets & people to hear with 'accurate ear' the things I must now download from heaven. Walking in the midst of 'the-fire-that-does-not-burn-but-purge' – I can now trust these ones. These, however, will not include only seasoned veterans used to 'hearing,' but all those EAGER OF HEART who have longed for MY VOICE, MY FACE. THESE, TOO, SHALL HEAR CLEARLY … FOR THE 'POWER SWITCH' of My mainframe has been flipped to 'ON POSITION' in heaven. By My own hand I have done this. There shall come such a flood of truth poured out from the heavenlies into the earth that 'all ears' able to hear, must be attuned.

No longer will there be simply 'one or two good words' received on any given day – but HUNDREDS shall be sent forth, notifying 'generals' of MY STRATEGIES OF WAR.

In past days, only those who were able to 'ascend into the heavenlies' were those receiving My words of truth. But now, dear ones, let Me prepare you for this: A DOWNLOAD IS BEING SENT FROM HEAVEN TO EARTH FOR YOU. Do not be jealous of each other. THOSE WHO PREPARED THE WAY, had the biggest 'price' to pay, and will be richly rewarded while yet 'in their day.'

REJOICE that young ones in the Lord will now begin to HEAR AS ACCURATELY AS YOU, truths from My mouth, as they're greatly used.

I HAVE YOUR E-MAIL ADDRESS! I KNOW WHERE YOU LIVE! I KNOW WHEN YOU'RE ON-LINE… AND WHEN YOU SIGN-OFF! I KNOW WHEN TO INTERCEPT YOUR CONSCIOUSNESS – WITH MY VERY OWN THOUGHTS! My messages WILL get through! In day visions … in night seasons … MY MESSAGES WILL FLOW! No longer should you 'wonder what to do' – ASK ME, and I'll SHOW you!

You wonder, "But has this not been done before now? For surely God's computer system has been up and running, long before 'this day.' THIS IS TRUE, for as Master Designer, I've long ago had this planned – but I've been PATIENTLY WAITING on the things of MAN. All across the earth, I've tutored those with 'ears attuned to Me' – but the completion of the project could not be done, until I had an ARMY OF SEEKERS who seek. They have no need for drugs or alcohol – because they're SO ADDICTED, NOW, TO ME. THEY QUIETLY STAND AT ATTENTION EACH DAY, TO 'SEE' AND HEAR ME SPEAK.

June 11, 2004 … 7-Fold Spirit to 'Flood' Once More

June 11th, 2004 – marks the day when the Seven-Fold Spirit will be released 'to flood' once more (Isaiah 11), as well as the spirits attending to these ancient words. Some will be receiving things from THE SPIRIT OF GOD … FROM THE SPIRIT OF WISDOM … FROM THE SPIRIT OF UNDERSTANDING … FROM THE SPIRIT OF COUNSEL … FROM THE SPIRIT OF POWER & MIGHT … FROM THE SPIRIT OF KNOWLEDGE … and yet others things from THE SPIRIT OF THE FEAR OF THE LORD.

Eleven is the number of the prophet, and MY WORDS of the prophetic SHALL NOW BE ALL THE MORE OUTPOURED.

AND CONFIRMATION shall flow … as words received are given the witness of two or three. Does this not excite you – to see words you've heard confirmed? And so shall it be, over and over and over again. This will build confidence in those 'young in My ways' and will serve as an 'electric volt of revelation,' bringing fresh excitement & life to those of 'seasoned days.' It will become utterly impossible to avoid 'THE WORD OF THE LORD' – AS MY WORD IS CONFIRMED. One from Australia will hear on the same day – the same word given to another in Peru.

I will also open ears to hear the WORD OF INTERPRETATION, which has fallen asleep in My Church. When did the prophetic word cease to include tongues and its interpre-tation received, then breathed? If I can find those who eagerly desire this gift and pursue its use – I will OPEN WIDE TO THEM another 'prophetic view.' Prophetic words flow singly from those attuned to Me – but when tongues/interpretation is used, it makes THE BODY WORK IN UNITY. In past days these gifts were at times grossly misused – but they are none the less GIFTS PRECIOUS…that I intend to USE.

I am about to raise up spiritually-partnered pairs: one will flow in Spirit-tongues, with a second attuned to My heart. Together a TREMENDOUS FLOW of the prophetic shall be loosed from My throne … as two come together, representing ONE VOICE as My own. Charlatans will be quickly recognized by the impotent messages they bring. BUT THOSE PARTNERED IN TONGUES/INTERPRETATION WILL LOOSE LIVING WORDS AS STREAMS. I WILL MOVE THROUGH 'THIS WORD OF AGREEMENT' TO USHER BACK INTO SERVICES 'THE GREATER GLORY' THAT MANY, FOR SOME TIME, HAVE NOT SEEN. It will resound in men's spirits as the 'one-two snap' of LIGHTNING & THUNDER…BOOM, BANG!

[In vision I saw two standing at opposite sides of a large auditorium. One pronounced a flowing stream of Spirit-words – then the other gave immediate interpretation, opening gates of revelation. I saw people fall under the power of God as these messages from the Lord were declared by these 'Spirit & Truth teams.' I saw others flee from the auditorium, so heavy was the convicting presence of The Fear of the Lord. Spirit utterance' (tongues) prepared the way for a 'Truth utterance'(word/interpretation). The first penetrated hearts – the next was then able to send the Word deeper within. In fact, by this means spiritual surgeries multiplied greatly in services, as deeper works were done.]

Holiness Decreed

I then heard the Lord say: "HOLINESS! HOLINESS! HOLINESS! HOLINESS… in My MOUTHPIECES must be SEEN! HOLINESS, I SAY, OR THEY SHALL NOT LIVE. I do not speak of the pure in heart, in which some maturing is yet needed – but of those who willfully speak lies, opposing truth. THE FEAR OF THE LORD shall again be realized – as you see some fall dead before your very eyes.

Some false prophets, of course, shall remain – those who still presume to speak in My name. They are wolves among sheep, but their colors will be shown to those with eyes to see who have 'discerning gifts' from Me. You will sense no 'sword of righteousness' as they speak on their own. Words that sound religiously harsh – or words that 'lull to sleep' – neither sort comes from the truth nor is from Me. Satan has many counterfeits, but they are poor representatives of Me, garbed in clothes of religiosity or in robes of false humility.

Lambs Protecting Sheep

What shall be done with those who rise to speak, waxing eloquent, on and on? Simply say, "In Jesus' Name, sit down." Take authority, you who walk in truth. You need not be polite to them. They need not even finish a sentence – before I deal with them. Do you understand? I SHALL MOVE ON CHILDREN, EVEN, TO TAKE COMMAND. Shining little beacons, pure in heart, shall rise and say, "DEPART, WE DON'T KNOW YOU." This is the AUTHORITY you'll see from PSALM 8, where children silence the voice of the enemy. Is My Spirit any less in them? No, and I will use them – for as those still innocent, they've not yet learned the 'fear of man.' Spiritual giants often arise as Davids out of those with the heart of a child.

The Radiant-Smile-Witness of The Bride

There is something now to which I must speak: LIGHTEN UP, DEAR CHURCH…HIS BRIDE. My Son has little attraction to a betrothed who has little passion & seldom laughs or smiles. KINGDOM BUSINESS IS A SERIOUS THING – but praise and aban-doned worship will set many a prisoner FREE. The joy of the Lord is your strength, so remember to laugh and play. The spirit of heaviness is lurking about – but OH, HOW IT FLEES at 'the joyful sound!' I release upon My Church THE MINISTRY OF LAUGHTER, recognized even by leading hospitals as a valid healing factor. There's just something about a group of people known to be of 'happy face' – that attracts the hopeless & hurting, drawing them to that place.

Intercessors, prayer warriors, those who preach My Word! - To some, YOUR FACE is all that's being 'heard.' Before you go out to win a lost world to Christ, smile at yourself in the mirror (even laugh) – until you see MY GLORY, LIGHT & LOVE OF LIFE. You may be one of very humble means, having no elegant clothes in which to be seen – BUT IF YOU LEAVE THE HOUSE 'DRESSED UP' WITH A SMILE, YOU'LL HAVE AN AUDIENCE WITH KINGS in just a little while. Why? Because 'radiance' is an internationally recognized witness of 'royal seal.'

Don't Take Me For Granted

[JESUS]: "In the approaching time of 'poured out truth,' waterspouts of heaven will be opened, as a gushing forth of revelation.

BE AWARE, that even though you're in a season of constant supply – (when you have MUCH WORD) …if you neglect INTIMACY WITH ME, YOU WILL STILL BE DRY.

Living waters issue forth from within My very being, waters to refresh your soul. COME TO ME and DRINK, dear ones. DRINK DEEPLY…MY THINGS OF LOVE.

I must always remain more dear to you than THE VERY WORDS I SPEAK. Passion, love and fervent devotion are still 'things within' I seek. To know My voice and words as heard – is the 'ultimate gift,' some feel. BUT THERE IS A PLACE BEYOND THE VEIL, where in INTIMACY, NO WORDS I SPEAK – where two enter the chambers of Father's heart, to JOIN AS THE HEARTBEAT OF ONE.

Receiving My word will become as 'a normal' thing – all those in Zion shall prophesy in order to benefit the world. BUT WHAT I DESIRE are things of INTIMACY – and those who always desperately have more need OF ME. My gifts, poured out, are simply that: GIFTS – but none of them, singly, ARE ME.

What bride would be content on her wedding night to enter the bedchambers, and close the door – finding ONLY a gift on the bed…but no one with whom to commune, alone once more?

House to House

David Howe

From house to house.

For this is the day My Holy Spirit is moving from house to house. From room to room, Filling, Falling on person to person, Falling on those that are lowly and contrite of heart, Who are nothing in the sight of man and the world.

Who have no plans of their own.

Falling on those without pride in themselves or selfish ambition in their hearts. Falling on those who are in Unity with My Holy Spirit and each other.

Consider what happened in that upper room where My disciples were in one accord with My Holy Spirit and each other.

Consider how they obeyed the Word of Jesus Christ to remain in Jerusalem until My Holy Spirit fell upon them to give power to be witnesses to all men, First in Jerusalem, Then in Judea and then the whole Earth.

For from house to house, market place to market place they went declaring the Word of Jesus Christ unto the people. And as they obeyed the Word of the Lord in Unity with My Holy Spirit and each other, My Holy Spirit fell bringing convection to the peoples hearts so that they may be saved, Set free from sin and filled with My Holy Spirit.

And from house to house they went declaring the Word of the Lord in Unity with My Holy Spirit and each other until the whole Earth is filled with My Holy Spirit, Filled with My Glory.

For I will build My Church from house to house and the gates of hell will not prevail against her Declares the Lord.

Hearken To The Voice Of The Lord

New Beginnings

My beloved people, young and old.... How I rejoice over all of you who are Mine, who have accepted Me as your Lord and Savior. A new year is approaching and, as always, a time of new beginnings in your lives. I tell you, this shall be a time of new beginnings such as you have never experienced nor dreamed of. I am moving by My Sprit over the entire world as the prophets of old foretold it would be. Also foretold by the prophets of old....

...and I will shake all nations and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations and I will fill this temple with glory, says the Lord of hosts. The glory of the latter temple shall be greater than the former, says the Lord of hosts. And in this place I shall give peace, says the Lord of hosts. (Haggai 2:7,9)

Yea, My people, you are seeing the shaking of the nations of the world and out of the shaking good shall evolve. You shall see My glory manifested everywhere and multitudes shall come into My kingdom. Because of the shaking much sin and evil shall cease and people shall begin to search for Me.

Beloved, as you enter into this time of new beginnings you shall be aware that I am doing a new work in you. You shall know a new yearning for a deeper intimacy with Me, You will cry out for new knowledge of My Word and as you seek Me in My Word you will find new revelations and new paths to Me, you will be consumed with a new passion to reach the lost and bring them to Me, you will have a new compassion for the sick and hurting people in your midst.A new desire to pray for the sick shall come upon you and you will find that as you do so, many will be instantly healed. Your ministry for Me shall accelerate to the point that daily you shall see people come unto Me through your testimony and prayer. Daily you will experience many being healed as you lay hands on them and pray for them.

In spite of the great tribulation you shall see around you, yet My glory shall be seen in greater measure and miracles shall abound. I am bringing in My end time harvest and nothing the enemy can bring against Me shall stop the abundant harvest from completion.

I am pouring out My glory, especially on young men and young women in these days. In a moment of time I shall give them the ability to prophesy and they shall bring forth great messages for My people. Without formal education I shall give them the ability to preach and to teach and they shall do so with My power and anointing upon them. Many who inhabit pulpits across the land shall pass on their mantles to the youth. People shall gather in the streets and on the hillsides to receive ministry from the youth and shall be exceedingly blessed. Wonders and miracles shall follow the youth wherever their feet shall tread.O, My young people, you shall see My glory being manifested in divers places. Seek for My glory to rest on you. Have I not said?...

The glory of young men is their strength. (Prov. 20:29)

If anyone speaks, let him speak as the oracles of God. If anyone ministers, let him do it as with the ability which God supplies, that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom belong the glory and the dominion forever and ever. (1 Peter 4:11)

I am calling all young people into great end time ministries for Me, knowing that I shall give you all ability to accomplish what I desire you to do. You shall be amazed at My words which shall come forth from your mouths to preach and to teach. Do not try to stem the words you shall speak as they shall be powerful and shall accomplish what I desire. Fear not, My young people, for I shall walk beside you and shall open up doors of opportunity for you to enter and shall cause you to speak forth My words with ease.

Peace and joy shall overflow you as you perceive the results of your ministry. I say unto you....

Arise, shine; for your light has come! And the glory of the Lord has risen upon you. For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and deep darkness the people; But the Lord will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you. The Gentiles shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising. (Isa. 60:1-3)

…God made a wind to pass over the earth… Gen 8:1

Yes, saith the Lord, I am the author of the wind, of both the gentle breeze that blows refreshing rain to your lands, and of the violent storm that breaks your works and shakes your complacency. When you pray against the hurricane, are you not praying against my judgment? My people, should you not ask me, “Lord, where have we disobeyed, where are we in sin?” When I send multiple storms, is it not because you haven’t sought My face, and have ignored my calls to turn from your wicked ways?

World-renown ministries have grown in your state, Florida, and you have been given great responsibility to exhibit My Glory. These ministries became prideful and led My Body into apostasy, further dividing it into parties; calling attention to themselves and not My Son. Now repent of your pride, you elders, and gather together before me with humble hearts to seek My face. Learn of My righteousness first, follow My guidance, and then ask Me to heal your land.

There is no retirement in My Kingdom, yet you encourage men and women to play in their final years, to reject all calls to be used in the work of My Son. My people, look and see, My storms struck at the very heart of your state because it is your hearts that are set against Me. Why do you run and hide rather than face the consequences of your own iniquity? The shaking that has begun will continue until it has worked its work in the hearts of My people. Storms come to shake the complacent and wake up the sleeping. Storms will continue with ever-increasing strength until My people humble themselves.

Do not pray for mercy, pray for judgment in My house that will bring glory to My Son and wholeness to His Body. He shall surely have a perfect bride, and He shall surely not return for her until I send Him. Why do you think that I will send Him for a carnal Bride? My people, let Me prepare during this greatest moment of Truth so that you will be ready when He comes. Take My shakings to heart and be cleansed and prepared. Become able to shine forth to a dying world that sees My glory in My people.

Elders, you are held responsible to call My people to Me. Even if you are ignorant of My Truth, your guilt remains because you have accepted the role of leader in your congregations. Thus saith the Lord.

But as the days of Noah were, so also shall the coming of the Son of man be. Mat 24:37, Lk 17:26

Hang Ten
Danny Korakas

Sep 03, 2004
I am certain that mankind holds within him the truth of what is good and what is evil. The Bible says that we are without excuse in that our conscious bears witness to what is right and wrong. Within the Ten Commandments, God not only gave humanity the foundation of moral living, but the blueprint for deep and meaningful RELATIONSHIPS.

The question that many Christians today are pondering is why there is so much resistance to the Ten Commandments? Why would ten simple sentences of such obvious goodness and genuine care generate such hostility? As we gaze through history and consider all of the mindless and corrupt laws, decrees and writings of man, why would there suddenly be this tremendous aversion to the commands of God in a public setting?

I suppose that many would attempt to answer this question with their limited understanding of the separation of church and state. Some might argue on the grounds that they are not "Christians." Others may not believe in God at all and want to force their agenda on the rest of society. The truth of the matter is that these are all "NATURAL SYMPTOMS" to a greater root or SPIRITUAL problem.

There is an obvious spiritual dynamic that is at work and willing to go to any expense to rid the nations of the Commandments of God. I hope that you will see the prophetic parallel in that the assault on the Ten Commandments reflects perfectly the assault on the FAMILY. I am convinced that the same demonic principality has been set over both of these issues that face us today. With the attack upon the Commandments came the simultaneous eroding of the family -- especially in western culture. As the separation of the commandments from public life increases, so does the methodical breakdown of the family structure and moral absolutes.

Forces of darkness are fast at work in attempting to abolish the Ten Commandments from the VIEW of people. It is not because we need to be reminded what is right and wrong. When a person commits adultery, they know they are doing what is morally wrong. When a person attempts to murder, that individual knows without a doubt that he is committing a crime against humanity. Mankind instinctively knows what is right and wrong, good and bad. Man doesn't need a couple of stone tablets hanging on the wall to remind him. So, why the tremendous and extraordinary spiritual battle for their existence?

The answer is RELATIONSHIP. The Ten Commandments reveal to mankind what their relationship within the family structure should or could be, and most importantly, reveals the type of Father that God truly is. This is why we are seeing the intensifying and raging of this spiritual battle. We have had 2 full generations that have become "FATHERLESS" through mass divorce and selfishness. People are crying out in their soul for a loving and tender father. This is why the enemy wants them out of sight. Let's get a fresh VISION of the Ten Commandments and see them as the Lord does.

"You shall have no other God's before Me."

I alone am your loving and eternal Father. I will never leave you nor forsake you. You are all My children and I will never abandon or divorce you. You do not have to worry about a broken family, illegitimacy, or a myriad of fathers ... for I am faithful to My vows and promises. I AM your Father and will never leave you fatherless.

"You shall not make unto yourselves any graven images (idols)."

I am a Father that has no idols. You alone are the apple of My eye and the desire of my heart. I place no other before you. My eyes are fixed upon My bride and My love for you is never-ending. I overcame the temptations and kingdoms of this world and sacrificed My life for yours.

"You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain."

Although many choose to deny and curse My name, I have called you by name as My beloved. You have taken on My name as "Christians" and your heritage and birthright is HOLY. Be holy my child, for I am holy. I have called you by name unto Myself and while the world may see this as vain — I speak a Father's blessings and goodness over you all the days of your life.

"Remember the Sabbath and keep it holy."

I am not a father of toil and despair, but a Father of a loving and warm presence that is open to give you rest. I wait with loving arms to hold you close in My presence. I gave My Sabbath as a reunion for my children to come together. And what joy it brings Me to see all of My children within My house. For some, it has been so long. How it breaks my heart when just one of My children chooses to stay away. You who have run away – Come, come back to the home that you have left for the desires of this world. Come back to the Father and the family who loves you and has prepared a place for you.

"Honor your father and mother."

I realize that many of you have not had fathers that you could count on. Yes, some fathers have broken their promises and let you down. It's time that you forgive them, my dear child. Just as I have forgiven you, forgive others. I am a Father of honor and it brings Me honor when you forgive others, especially your family.

"You shall not murder."

As your Father, I will never kill your trust. I will never speak bad about you or embarrass you. Gossip is a murderer of another's character and reputation. Your reputation and character as My child is very important to Me — for you carry My name. You can come to me in your time of need and I promise to listen to you. Your concerns, regardless of how small, are My concerns. Allow Me to share with you My words of LIFE.

"You shall not commit adultery."

As your Father, you can rest that I will be faithful to you — My bride. My vows are eternal and My promises to you will never fail. You are My glory and the beauty that I long for. There is none who compares to you My beloved. Truly, I will cherish you and My commitment to you is everlasting.

"You shall not steal."

Know that My heart is to provide you with a future and hope. I will never steal your hopes and dreams. My will is to encourage and provide you with all that you will need to fulfill your destiny and purpose. Have you ever thought that I have a dream for you, just as any loving father should? You see, I have placed your dreams and aspirations within you. It is My desire that you fulfill these dreams. Do not let others rob you of the abundant life that I have promised you. Step out and use the gifts that I have given you to change your world around you.

"You shall not bear false witness (lie)."

I would have you know My dear child that My WORD is truth. I will always lead you beside still waters and out of harms way. I only ask that you believe in My Word and have faith that you do hear My voice. Through the ages, man has sought to discredit or find fault in My Word. However, not even the smallest jot has been found to be false. Do not fall for the deception of the father of lies and the routine lying tongue of the world. Put your hope in Me — The Father and Spirit of Truth. I will never let you down. This is My nature.

"You shall not covet"

I am for you and not against you. Many envision Me as a judge waiting to strike them down or demanding everything from them. The selfish culture of this world has blinded their eyes to the truth that I have taken nothing and have given everything that I have. Yes, even My own life. How much more could I possibly give before you will understand how much you mean to Me and how much I love you. There is no greater love than one who would lay down his life for another. I commend you this day to put off the selfish influences of this world and give to one another. Everything that I have given you is designed to be shared with others. This is My good and perfect will. The world will know that you are My bride and My children by the love you GIVE.

I hope that you can now see why the enemy desires to remove from view the Ten Commandments. The Commandments reveal to all of us God's view and plan for the family, and how a real Husband and Father should conduct Himself. What a model our Heavenly Father is to all of us who are men and how we should view our bride and children.

Are we committed to the institution of family? Is the Lord and His family the apple of our eye? Do we in vain provoke our children to wrath? Or do we encourage and speak blessings over their lives? As men, are we a place of rest and refuge for our families? Do we honor the opinions of our bride and children? Do we encourage one another or do we kill each other's reputations through gossip? Are we faithful to our vows and commitments? Are we selfish? Or do we give our best time to God and our families? Are we willing to "give" and lay our lives down for our Lord and family? May we as men be committed to the same passion and love for our families as the Lord is toward His.

What Are We Truly Here For?
Danny Korakas

Sep 10, 2004
I normally do not post more than twice during the same week let alone the same day. However, I felt that I needed to share what Father has laid upon my heart tonight.

I have heard it said that we are fortunate if we have 5 close friends as we grow old and eventually pass on. It seems that as I reflect toward my future days, I must ponder this same thought – not so much whom I will love, but who will truly love me? When we are about to close this chapter in life, we will not ask for our financial portfolio. We will not ask for our trophies and plaques of achievements. Nor will we ask for all of the material possessions that we have accumulated over the years. We will need and ask for people to love and to be loved. It is a shame that so many do not figure this out until it's too late.

Sometimes I wonder how long it will take me to truly realize this by the life that I live. I so often pass through the noise of life, oblivious to the needs and people around me. I move through days and even weeks blind to the deep needs of love and compassion that so many long for. I obviously have no problem loving ME and meeting my needs.

God chose us and knew us before the foundations of the world. What an indescribable gift to know that God has chosen us to give LIFE to – even eternally. I also ponder how long it will take before I fully comprehend the gift and stewardship of life and what it really means to LIVE. Mankind seems to know much about life, but I find it interesting that we know so little about love.

In this gift of life, man has habitually stolen, lied, and murdered each other. We have coveted what another has and have chose to live LIFE as a means of personal gain. We have a track record of unceasing bloodshed and war. I can't help but ask why? Why is man so inclined to rob himself of the greatest attribute and legacy of LIFE – to love and to be loved?

I know this is a simple message to most of you. I guess when God touches my heart with something so simple, I can't help but stand back in awe and wonder at the possibilities of what life and history could have been if we just loved one another. I mean, what are we truly here for?

Life is truly short and people will come and go into our lives. Some will die and pass on, and others will be born. The only way that we can live life without regrets is to know in our hearts that we have loved. The tragedy of loss is knowing that we did not do our best to love. The good news for all of us is that it's not too late.

Look at your relationship with others my beloved and realize that your relationship with others is a reflection of your relationship with me. When you were born, I looked upon your face and breathed LIFE into your soul. I called you by my name and have given you a heritage that transcends the ages – I have given you a heritage and a birthright of love and relationships. For truly, I say to you that this is abundant life. The abundance I desire for your life, are people who will love you. And the gift that I desire to give to others is your love for them. Is this not MY Word?

A Love-Hate Relationship
Danny Korakas

Sep 10, 2004
Jesus, while here on earth, blessed every child who came to Him. We never read of Jesus refusing to heal anyone who was in need. He raised people from the dead, bringing inexpressible joy to families. He offered salvation to ALL who would repent and believe in Him. I believe that we can say without doubt that Jesus was very kind. He wept over us in our weakness and loves us in our fallen state. We never read of Jesus speaking a single cross word to anybody except the self-righteous and religious Pharisees. Jesus was not only kind, but gentle, thoughtful, and caring. What a stark contrast to the myriad of false "gods" and secular humanism that man worships in the world today.

The question that we must ask ourselves as the impending clash of truth comes to confront everything that is tolerant, politically correct, and false (including religions) is — "How will we conduct ourselves as Christians?" What do we do after we confront sin and falsehood? Do we leave people on the defensive? I believe that the Lord has given us the key in "Loving our enemies."

"But I say to you who hear: Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, and pray for those who spitefully use you. To him who strikes you on the one cheek, offer the other also. And from him who takes away your cloak, do not withhold your tunic either. Give to everyone who asks of you. And from him who takes away your goods do not ask them back, And just as you want men to do to you, you also do to them likewise. But if you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive back, what credit is that to you? For even sinners lend to sinners to receive as much back. But love your enemies, do good, and lend, hoping for nothing in return; and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High. For He is kind to the unthankful and evil. Therefore be merciful, just as your Father also is merciful. Judge not, and you shall not be judged. Condemn not, and you shall not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven. Give, and it will be given to you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over will be put into your bosom. For with the same measure that you use, it will be measured back to you." (Luke 6:27-38)

Why should we, let alone God, be merciful to the ungodly? Well, the answer is clear in that the ungodly would come to know and understand the mercy and kindness of God. There would be no other way for the ungodly to EXPERIENCE the mercy and kindness of God aside from having love and mercy shown to them in their sinful state. Imagine if mankind was commanded by God to hate our enemies or those who mistreat us. Can you imagine the chaos and quality of life that this mindset would produce? If such a possibility were true, then God would be requiring us to love and express mercy more than Himself. This would be contrary to His Word in that "we are to love our enemy." The truth is that as His sons, we are to love and exhibit mercy in the same way and nature as the Father.

"You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you, that you may be sons of your Father in heaven." (Matthew 5:43-45)

If God only loves those who love Him -- we would be serving a performance-centered God that expresses His love conditionally. I believe that most parents can identify to this in their unconditional love for their children. The Bible says that we (you and I) are able or have the ability to love because "God first loved us." What is amazing is that our ability to love unconditionally began as a gift from God while we were yet sinners! So, how do we as Christians respond to those who hate us? How are we to respond as a prophetic people to the increasing evil around us?

We first need to understand the health and benefit of HATE. Just as we are to mature in LOVE as the Lord loves even our enemies, we also need to MATURE in our HATE for the things that God hates.

"You who love the Lord, hate evil!" (Psalm 97:10)

To mature in love is to understand that we are to hate evil and not PEOPLE. We need to come to a place of passionately hating sin. We need hate disease, violence, homosexuality, drunkenness, and perverted entertainment. We need to be AGAINST these things. But at the same time, we need the maturity to be FOR people. When our hate for evil spills over into the hate for the people that commit evil, we in essence condemn and judge them to hell! Our hatred of hell will determine our true and genuine Christ-like love for others. There is no middle road here. We are either a witness of God's mercy and forgiveness or a judge.

As with the adulterous women, Jesus said, "He who is without sin among you, let him through the stone ... first." (John 8:7) If Jesus was not willing to condemn her, why should we? Jesus condemned her sin without condemning the woman. This IS prophetic ministry! Learning to condemn sin and evil while yet loving people will be the essential ingredient to seeing the great harvest of souls that we sense with anticipation. The harvest has continued to be white and some has rotted in the field because the harvest has not been able to distinguish our hatred of sin from their perception that we hate them.

The harvest of souls is depending on a work of the Holy Spirit in OUR lives. We must come to a place of clearly walking in an uncompromising hatred of sin and evil. However, this hatred only bears eternal fruit when we LOVE the person that sin and evil has gripped. True and unconditional love demands and involves hatred. Have you ever thought that God is the greatest hater of all! He passionately hates the works of evil. But God is also the greatest lover and this must be our model for authentic prophetic ministry.

Have you ever noticed that most of what you have heard negative about someone is usually much more exaggerated than what is actually the case? Many times we find second-hand talk to be completely false. You know, this is also true about God. I have found that He is nothing like what many "theologians" have explained Him to be. I have found that My Lord is nothing like what I have heard preached behind many pulpits. I can only make this claim because I know God's NATURE and His nature is LOVE and MERCY.

We have only to look as far as the religious elite in Jesus' day. They tore their ornamented robes with gnashing teeth at the site of Jesus dining with sinners, prostitutes and tax collectors. The utter nerve of a man claiming to be the Savior and letting a sinful woman wash His feet! How dare Him to eat with unwashed hands and forgive thieves that were guilty of stoning!

It seems that Jesus was more pleased and comfortable with the sincere love of the sinner than with the finger pointing religious scribes and Pharisees. They thought and believed that they knew God, but they didn't. If they had truly known Him, they would have loved whom Jesus loved and hated what Jesus hated. The more we come to know Jesus, the more we realize the commission that He left us with as the church is the beat of His heart. The Great Commission is simply to love greatly. When we encounter the "living Truth," we recognize that one of the gravest errors in life has been missing our opportunities to love in the midst of adversity.

In the parable of the sower in Mark 4, we notice that all of the seeds sown were good. It was the condition of the soil that affected the good seeds that were sown. The soil in this parable represents the heart and place of where a man is at. The harvest is awaiting a prophetic expression and work that will cultivate and tend the hearts of man to receive the sowing of the Word.

"Hatred stirs up strife, but love covers all sins." (Proverbs 10:12)

To love our ENEMIES and to overcome TEMPTATION is the means of grace that the Lord has given us to GLORIFY Him. Think about that for a moment. Was this not what brought the Father glory in the life of Christ? We are sure to be guaranteed both enemies and temptations in life. We are not alone in this and God will always provide a way of victory. When we love our enemies and the world witnesses our victory over sin and temptation, we will see a harvest of souls unprecedented in history.

HARLOT CHURCH

"You have had a harlot's forehead; you refuse to be ashamed."

INTRODUCTION

There are five categories in this Web post: DREAM — INTERPRETATION — PERSONAL TESTIMONY — DREAMS' INDEX — "I AM IN CONTROL" GRAPHS' LINKS. I urge the reader to read this document with a Bible in hand for spiritual clarity, counsel, revelation, and understanding through the Word of God. (The bolded, capped and underlined emphases in the NKJV scriptures are mine.)

DREAM – September 12, 1989

The sun was setting and I was in a tropical setting standing on a cliff overlooking the peaceful Pacific Ocean. The weather was balmy with light winds, and the climate was just delightful. Beneath was vast sandy seashore. I watched as the gentle waves repeatedly washed ashore and ebbed back to sea. The seashore was dotted with many swaying palm trees. The scenic majesty and beauty of the setting sun, the red-purple skies, the sea, sandy seashore and gentle swaying palm trees were just breathtaking. The light winds gently tossed my hair about as I delighted in this tropical setting. I repeatedly said to myself, "All this belongs to my Father." I had deep peace and a sense of security knowing that this awesome scenic tropical splendor belonged to Almighty Creator God, my Heavenly Father.

It is nighttime in the next scene. However, my sight in the dark was quite clear. The sky was pitch black: no moon and no stars. I was now dressed in an old fashioned, high-necked, long sleeved, white bridal dress. A fair complexioned woman in her mid twenties stood next to me also dressed in a revealing white bridal dress. Neither of us wore a bridal veil. A man was also with us. He was fair complexioned with dark hair, and appeared to be in his mid thirties. He wore light summer clothing.

Although it was totally dark, the woman and I approached a pool of aqua-blue water. It was a very large in-ground pool, lit up from within. We both stepped into the pool and waded in the shallow end in our bridal dresses. The temperature of the water was warm. The man now wore swimming trunks and joined us. I stopped wading when the water reached my chest. The skirt of my dress did not float to the top of the water but remained down to my feet. The woman swam deeper into the water, about twenty feet ahead. The man had followed us into the pool and continued following the woman, staying close to her. Strangely, however, he was now a black silhouette figure.

Suddenly, the woman sprung out and STOOD UP while her ankles remained immersed in the water! However, she was not at all wet and no longer wore a bridal dress. Instead, she now wore skimpy tight white shorts with only two wide straps over her shoulders joined to the shorts at the waist. The wide straps draped over her large bare breasts, perfectly covering her nipples. By now, the man caught up with her and remained at her left side. She became flirtatious and enticing in all of her seductive movement as she laughingly and teasingly flaunted herself at the man. He would lunge at her and try to take hold of her, as she would pull away from his attempts to grasp her. She tried not to let the straps slide off her shoulders. When one of the straps began to slide off, she would laughingly squirm and teasingly slide it back on, carefully keeping the strap secure over the nipple. If the other strap would start to slide off, she would repeat her seductive movement while at the same time repeatedly flaunting her voluptuous breasts at him as she stuck her chest out while giggling and laughing. She would occasionally slide her hands over her breasts while continuing to be very careful that the straps cover her nipples. The woman was beautiful, shapely, and her complexion was fair. She had dark eyes, black hair, and wore heavy dark eye makeup, heavy rouge, and bright red lipstick. She was robust and sensuous in all her behavior.

As this scenario played on endlessly, I glanced around my immediate surroundings. Although it was nighttime and quite dark, I could clearly see all the surroundings. To the left was a very high large rock boulder, and to the right were empty animal zoo cages with open gates. The cages were quite large, and some of them were dangerously and crookedly piled on top of each other while other cages lay scattered about on their sides. Beyond the pool, I also saw outlines of full-bodied trees in the dark background.

During all this time, I remained standing in the pool while the water level remained at my chest. It became quite evident that the woman was trying to show me just how attractive and desirous she was with her almost naked and shapely body compared to my plain, prim, and proper nothingness. I watched her behavior toward the man as he continued trying to take hold of her while she continued to laughingly tease and out-maneuver him. Astonishingly, however, she remained standing out of the water with only her feet immersed in water to the ankles! END

INTERPRETATION

The tropical setting represents a tranquil time on earth as God continues to shed His grace (unmerited favor) upon man through the prosperity and preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It also represents peace and prosperity on earth (although debatable in certain parts of the globe) before the Rapture occurs (1Thes. 4:13-18 — 1Cor. 15:51-57) and the seven-year Tribulation begins, bringing the Antichrist on the scene (Dan. 9:24-27 — Rev. Chap. 13). The vastness of the Pacific Ocean's waters symbolizes the greatness of God's gift of Eternal Life through the Living Waters that continue to flow, allowing mankind every privilege to hear about and accept Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord in Whom ONLY is found salvation for one's soul. (Jn. 1:12, 13; 3:3-7 — Acts 3:18-21; 4:12; 16:30, 31 — Rom. 10:10 — Col. 2:3 — 1Tim. 2:3, 4 — Titus 3:4-6 — 1Jn. 1:9; 2:1, 2) The setting sun symbolizes the Light that will soon be extinguished (Rom 13:12) and the Word of God that will soon become a famine in the post Rapture Church and in the world during the Tribulation.

"Behold, the days are coming," says the Lord God, "that I will send a famine on the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but [a famine] of hearing the words of the Lord*. They shall wander from sea to sea…seeking the word of the Lord, but shall not find it"* (Amos 8:11).

The swaying palm trees throughout the vast sandy seashore represent the five-fold ministry of apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers (Eph. 4:11, 12). These anointed servants of God are moved by the gentle winds that are symbolic of Holy Spirit (Jn. 3:8 Acts 2:2-4), and they minister under His anointing. Here, also, their deep spiritual roots are symbolically nourished by underground moisture from the Living Waters (Jn. 7:38; 15:5). The wind tossing my hair about represents Holy Spirit's anointing upon me (2Pet. 1:20, 21). [See PERSONAL TESTIMONY] The rest of the scene needs no further interpretation.

In the next scene, the moonless and starless black night represents the sinful world's climate (Jn. 3:19, 20). A woman can symbolize sin or a church in spiritual dreams. Here, both of us represent churches. Therefore, the woman and I dressed as brides represent a two-fold identity in the Church of Jesus Christ of Nazareth: the faithful versus the unfaithful. Our wading into the pool is symbolic of our standing in Christ Jesus. The lighted pool of water is symbolic of the Light (Jn. 8:12) and the Living Waters (Jn. 4:10; 7:38). Here, the identities of the FAITHFUL and the LUKEWARM churches in Rev. 3:7-22 are identified. The other five churches are also identified later in this document.

I remain the steadfast Faithful Church (Rev. 3:8, 10-12), immersed in Christ in the midst of the Living Waters while awaiting the Rapture. The other woman in her cheap appearance is unfaithful. She is barely immersed in Christ, and totally unprepared for the Rapture (Rev. 3:17). Her almost naked, dry appearance symbolically reveals her spiritual status through her shallow-immersion in the Living Waters as the carnal Lukewarm Church (Rev. 3:15-19). Her sudden exposure without her wedding dress but almost naked reveals her character as cheap, flirtatious and seductive.

This Lukewarm Church outwardly appears to be robust, strong, and healthy—prosperous in the Word of God—as symbolized by her full breasts and energetic body. However, her dark hair symbolically reveals lack of full spiritual enlightenment through the full counsel of the Word. She appears to be well equipped while at the same time protecting her identity as an empty spiritual shell. Her careful attempt to hide her nipples symbolically reveals her calloused neglect in feeding strong sound spiritual nourishment to the man because of her lack of spiritual revelation and knowledge, and indifference to the Word of God. (Jer. 17:5 — Eph. 5:6, 7 — 1Tim. 1:8-11 — Mt. 12:33-37 — 1Pet. 2:6-8)

This church's flirtatious and sensual behavior reveals her to be playing the role of a harlot by flaunting herself at and teasing the man. She is unfaithful to Lord Jesus Christ, her Savior and Lord, and is walking with the mind-set of a harlot in her heart as symbolically displayed by her cheap appearance: worldly trimmings in her manner of makeup, dress, and seducing behavior. She keeps the man interested by showing off her breasts to him. She wants to hold and keep him to herself as compensation through his attention and desire for her (Pr. 7:6-23). In other words, her hidden motive and need for personal security is her need of his tithes and offerings that keep her propped up while he pays for her services, which in turn helps her remain "sure footed" in the Living Waters. She deceitfully keeps him desiring her through her lively flirtation so that she can continue to spiritually seduce him.

"But you trusted in your own beauty, played the harlot because of your fame, and poured out your harlotry on everyone passing by who would have it (Ezek. 16:15).

"Therefore I will uncover your skirts over your face, that your shame may appear. I have seen your adulteries and your lustful neighings, the lewdness of your harlotry…" (Jer. 13:26, 27).

"The nakedness of your harlotry shall be uncovered, both your lewdness and your harlotry…. Because you have forgotten Me and cast Me behind your back, therefore you shall bear the penalty of your lewdness and your harlotry" (Ezek. 23:29b, 35).

For indeed, those who are far from You shall perish; You have destroyed all those who desert You for harlotry (Ps. 73:27).

This church is not teaching the man, under the anointing and control of Holy Spirit (Acts 7:51), strong and sound doctrine from the Word of God (2Pet. Chap. 2). She is not teaching him about the curse of sin and death (Rom. 6:23), the need for repentance (1Jn. 1:5-10 — Rom. 5:9 — Eph. 1:7), humility before God (Mic. 6:8 — Jas. 4:10), brokenness (Lk. 20:17, 18), obedience (Acts 5:29), HOLINESS (Heb. 12:9, 10, 14), and faithfulness (1Cor. 4:2 — Ps. 31:23) to Lord Jesus Christ. Instead, she is more focused on weekly "revenue" to pay salaries and bills, continue maintaining the sanctuary and church property, manicuring the grounds, promoting and operating entertainment and social programs, bazaars, fund raising (Jer. 17:9, 10 — Lk. 16:15), etc., while neglectful of Lord Jesus' call to feed His sheep (John 21:15-17) under the guidance of Holy Spirit. (Jn. 14:16, 17, 26; 15:26; 16:7-15 — Rom. 8:1-17, 26, 27 — Lk. 11:13) She is not equipping the Saints for spiritual warfare against Satan's endless attacks (Eph. 6:10-18 — Rom. 8:5-8, 13, 14 — 2Cor 10:3-6 — 2Tim. 2:4) nor teaching them to serve God with holy, obedient, and humble hearts. (Romans 8 — Gal. 5:16-26)

But know this, that in the last days perilous times will come: for men will be lovers of themselves, LOVERS OF MONEY [1Tim 6:10], boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, unloving, unforgiving, slanderers*, without self-control, brutal, despisers of good, traitors, headstrong, haughty,* lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God*,* HAVING A FORM OF GODLINESS BUT DENYING ITS POWER. AND FROM SUCH PEOPLE TURN AWAY! (2Tim. 3:1-5)

The color black symbolizes sin. The man is a backslidden church member with much sin in his heart (Pr. 5:21, 22 — Jas. 2:10; 4:7-10). His darkened understanding and anxious behavior reveals his desire in wanting assurance that he is right with God in his heart. However, his own personal neglect of applying himself and his time to prayer, and reading and studying the Word for himself reveals him as lukewarm and unfaithful in seeking close intimacy with Lord Jesus (Jn. 15:1-8). He wants to continually be spoon-fed the Word and prayed for. He is not responsible for nourishing himself with the Word of God (Jas. 1:21-25). He's straddling the fence with one foot in the Church and the other foot in the world (Jas. 4:4), and is double-minded (Jas 1:7, 8; 4:8 — 1Cor. 6:15-17). He is not a light in the dark, is not witnessing to lost souls or bringing them into the Kingdom of God (Jn. 8:31; 15:7, 8). He faithfully attends this church and gives his tithes, offerings, time, talents, and skills, HOPING that he will go to Heaven because of his "good works" or his parents' religious background. Not because of love and intimacy for Lord Jesus as well as consecration to live his life for Him. (1Cor. 15:33, 34)

Unknown to the man, he is NOT receiving full nourishment through ongoing sound spiritual counsel needed for personal vigilance (1Pet. 5:8) in working out his salvation with fear and trembling (Phil. 2:12). He does not know about victorious living (Rom. 8:31-39 Phil. 4:13) through LEARNING and KNOWING HOW TO PRAY for himself and for others, and through receiving STRONG SOUND TEACHING from the Word of God (Heb. 4:12, 13). This lukewarm church has a firm stronghold on this man's wallet through "seductive window dressing" that is transparent to strong spiritually meat fed discerning Christians, but densely shielded from babes (carnal Christians) who are only fed the milk of the Word (Eccl. 7:26). Not knowing the Word, these babes cannot receive the admonition to not pay attention to what is being preached in the pulpits, but to what is NOT being preached and taught by Holy Spirit (Jn. 14:26 — Eph. 4:14 — Lk. 12:12 — Gal. 1:8-10). Furthermore, to what also is NOT being taught in Sunday school classes and in mid-week evening Bible studies in vast numbers of worldwide churches under the inspiration of Holy Spirit (Jn. 16:13-15 — Lk. 12:1, 2). And so, God's Word bursts forth that glaringly declares, "MY PEOPLE ARE DESTROYED FOR LACK OF KNOWLEDGE." (Hos. 4:6) — [Mt. 18:6-9; 23:13-35 — Lk. 11:37-52; 11:23 — Lk. 12:10]

And I, brethren, could not speak to you as to spiritual people but as to carnal, as to babes in Christ. I fed you with milk, and not with solid food [meat — KJV] for until now you were not able to receive it, and even now you are still not able; for you are still carnal (1Cor. 3:1-3).

For everyone who partakes only of milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, for he is a babe. But solid food [strong meat — KJV] belongs to those who are of full age [spiritually mature], even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil (Heb. 5:12, 14).

TO RECAP: In this dream the breasts symbolize nourishment—the milk of the Word of God. The hidden nipples symbolize the disregard of feeding strong sound doctrine of the meat of the Word of God.

Two thousand years ago Jesus sent letters to "angels" (pastors) of the seven churches (Rev. 1:11, 20) in Asia Minor (present day western coast of modern Turkey) regarding the status of their spiritual conditions (Rev. 1:19). Sadly, those same alarming lukewarm and failing spiritual conditions still exist today throughout the worldwide Church of Jesus Christ of Nazareth. Many of those pastors were failing in their call as shepherds to the Lord's Flock (1Pet. 5:2-4) just as many are still failing in their call today (1Cor. 7:17-24). (A great burden rests on the Flock to pray unceasingly for their shepherds, but do they?) Also today, there are in many church pulpits "shepherds" who are "hirlings" in disguise (Jn. 10:12, 13). They have not been CALLED (Rom. 8:28) by Lord Jesus into the five-fold ministry of Eph. 4:11, 12 to be pastors (1Jn. 4:1). THEY ARE DECEITFUL, and have made their self-appointed calling a "lifetime career" (2Cor. 11:13-15). Yet at the judgment seat of Christ (Rom. 14:10), Matthew 7:21-23 will be the decisive Word that will judge them (1Cor. 11:31, 32 — 1Pet. 4:17).

But evil men and IMPOSTERS will grow worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived (2Tim. 3:13).

"FOR MY EYES ARE ON ALL THEIR WAYS; they are not hidden from My face, nor is their iniquity hidden from My eyes" (Jer. 16:17).

As for the surroundings, the large rock boulder represents Jesus Christ the Rock (2Sam. 22:2, 3   1Cor. 10:4 — Lk. 6:46-48 — Psalms 18:2, 31, 46; 28:1; 31:2, 3; 61:2; 62:6, 7; 71:3; 78:35; 89:26; 92:15; 94:22; 95:1) upon Whom His Church stands and is spiritually victorious in life (Jn. 16:33, 34 — Lk. 10:19 — Rev. 3:21). The empty animal zoo cages represent the opened gates of Hell. Satan's demonic hordes are loose upon the face of the earth now more than ever before. They stand in readiness to ensnare and devour many in the Lukewarm Church left behind after the Rapture (1Pet. 5:8). Through much fear (Lk. 12:4, 5, 8, 9) and gross unfaithfulness, some will probably surrender to the Antichrist and take the Mark of the Beast (Rev. 13:16-18   Jer. 17:5, 13). The full-bodied trees in the dark distance represent the masses in and of the world sprouting forth their endless "fruit" of unrighteousness and ungodliness. (Jn. 15:18-25 — 1Cor. 6:9, 10 — Eph. 5:5 — Rev. 21:8 — Ps. 1:4-6)

While the woman's appearance and behavior made me feel unattractive, I remained the steadfast Faithful Church (Lk. 7:23   Rev. 3:8, 10, 12). Symbolically, I was secure in my faith and righteousness in Christ Jesus (Jn. 15:1-8 — Lk. 11:21   1Tim. 6:12   2Tim. 4:7,8). My plain, prim, and proper nothingness symbolizes that I AM NOT to be appealing to the world, but that Christ Jesus—the Word of God, the Light, and the Living Waters—is Who is to shine THROUGH ME and draw all peoples unto Himself (Jn. 3:16-18, 34-36; 12:32). Through strong and sound spiritual doctrine from the Word (Lk. 11:27, 28 — Ps. 89:7), and Holy Spirit's flaming zeal and boldness (Lk. 10:19), I am to continue teaching and admonishing the Flock through the five-fold ministry (Eph. 4:11, 12). I am to operate under the anointing and control of Holy Spirit (Mt. 28:18-20) while also feeding the Bread of Life (Jn. 6:33) to the dying world as well as witnessing to and leading many souls to Savior and Lord Jesus Christ, Son of the Living God of Israel.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, BUT THAT THE WORLD THROUGH HIM MIGHT BE SAVED. He who believes in Him is not condemned, but he who does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God" (Jn. 3:16-18).

"Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. He who believes and is baptized will be saved; but he who does not believe will be condemned" (Mk. 16:15, 16).

"AND THIS GOSPEL OF THE KINGDOM WILL BE PREACHED IN ALL THE WORLD AS A WITNESS TO ALL THE NATIONS, AND THEN THE END WILL COME" (Mt. 24:14).

PERSONAL TESTIMONY

On August 20, 1985, Rev. Victor Onvigbo, native of Nigeria, was a guest speaker at Victory Christian Fellowship in Newport, Delaware, hosted by Pastor Gary Whetstone. (I've kept both newspaper ad and program flyer. After dying on October 4, 1961 for several hours, God miraculously brought Rev. Onvigbo back to life.) The meeting was held that evening at the Ramada Inn next to the Delaware Memorial Bridge. That night Rev. Onvigbo declared words over me. Upon returning to my seat, I was prompted by Holy Spirit to quickly write what I could remember. Three of only six recalled declarations (could not remember the other pronouncements) are, "You are called to be a prophet" at which time he touched my head three times and declared, "Receive." He further declared, "Your ears are spiritually opened to hear from God" as he touched my ears. He continued by declaring, "Receive power," as he laid hands on my head, chest and abdomen three times.

This testimony to the Church of Jesus Christ of Nazareth will reveal that I have not brought forth spiritual dreams supported by Scripture to the Church from my own spirit or personal understanding but under the anointing and guidance of Holy Spirit. I have operated only in the Internet realm in fulfilling my call as prophet through dreams to the Body of Christ. To date, this is how I have been guided in my prophetic call. I would like to reveal to Lord Jesus' Church the following three dreams that explain the beginning of my "dreams" calling.

DREAM ONE > May 1975 — I approached a small dark wooden table upon which sat an uncorked Bordeaux wine shaped bottle. It was filled to the brim with a deep dark red wine-like liquid. Within the liquid drifted a vapor-like smoke. It did not once stop drifting within the liquid. As I drew closer to inspect the bottle, I was suddenly brought down to the ground in a prostrated position. I was held down like a magnet and could not move. While powerfully magnetized to the ground I became VERY fearful of what was happening to me. A harsh, COMMANDING, scolding Man's Voice began to speak in a language that I did not recognize. While He continued speaking, I became aware of His great anger. As the harsh scolding continued, I continuously asked, "Is that You, Father? Is that You, Father? Is that You, Father?" The harsh reprimand continued for what seemed eternity while I continued asking the same question over and over without end. Finally, the Voice changed to my father's voice that lessened in harshness and spoke in a normal tone while continuing to speak in the same language. Eventually, the powerful magnet hold weakened and I was then able to stand up. When my father's voice finally stopped speaking, I turned to my left and saw my two sisters twenty feet away to my right. One sat while the other combed her hair. Next, a black haired, dark complexioned woman glided toward me from the left. She was dressed in a traditional Middle East style orange dress, and her head was covered with an orange veil. She stopped and stood before me with a firm look in her eyes. Although she did not move her lips I clearly heard her say, "You must change your ways."

INTERPRETATION: The bottle of "wine" represents the shed Blood of Jesus Christ of Nazareth. The stirring vapor type smoke within the wine represents the moving of the Holy Spirit. The wooden table represents the Cross of Lord Jesus Christ from which His Blood flowed to cleanse all sin after His death by crucifixion. My attempt to approach the Blood was halted by Almighty God's power and harsh reprimanding Voice (Isa. 43:25; 55:6-9; 56:1). My continuous questioning about Who was speaking brought forth confirmation through my father's voice that it was indeed my Heavenly Father speaking, and from Whom I had been separated throughout all my life because of sin. (As a child, nuns taught me that I was to always call God, "Father." I carried that advice in my heart throughout all my lost and sinful life even though separated from Him by sin.) The color "orange" symbolizes "warning" that revealed extreme caution about how dangerously close I was in going to Hell because of my strong and deep involvement in witchcraft and the occult besides a lifetime of unconfessed and unrepented sins (Rom. 6:23). The delivered interpretation of having to change my ways was a "brief" warning remark about what my Father God had harshly scolded me at length. As for my sisters, they remain close to this day.

DREAM TWO > June 1975 — Jesus appeared before me dressed in white with a brilliant light all around Him. He was MAJESTICALLY GLORIOUS in His countenance and just BEAUTIFUL to behold! He was at a distance of about fifteen feet away, and about five feet above the ground. A black book was suspended in mid air a few feet below His sandaled feet. The book cover opened up, and astonishingly each page of the book began to turn by itself in a graceful manner as though turned by a breeze. When all the pages had finished gently turning to the left, they began to turn back to the right, each page by itself, yet all pages turning closer to each other. I watched the pages gently turn back and forth like a waving fan. I continuously glanced up and down at Jesus and the book as He stood with His arms held out, beckoning me to approach Him. Although He did not speak, I felt great warmth and peace in this dream. Jesus kept a steady gaze upon me and did not move, nor did the book's pages ever stop turning back and forth. The dream lasted for what seemed an eternity.

INTERPRETATION: Lord Jesus' appearance before me was God's confirmation to me through this dream that I could only approach Lord Jesus (Jn. 6:65; 14:6) through repentance of my sins. However, I needed to know about sin and repentance through the "Living" Word   the Bible   as represented by the Book at His feet and its "turning pages." His outstretched arms beckoned me to accept Him (Mat. 11:28-30) through the reading and studying of the Word that gives one's heart revelation knowledge and faith to find, believe in, and receive salvation ONLY through Jesus Christ, the Son of God (Jn. 3:16; 6:44-58; 11:25, 26 — Rom 10:17 — Heb. 1:1-4).

DREAM THREE > July 1975 — An enormous ancient book materialized before me, suspended in mid-air. A brilliant golden light surrounded it. With the bound edge of the book to the left, the black leather cover opened from right to left by itself. A different and calm gentle Man's Voice began speaking to me and said, "From this time on I will…" and then it changed and continued speaking in a different language that I did not understand. I beheld OLD ivory colored pages with Hebrew writing neatly written on each page. As ancient as the book was, there wasn't one faded, smeared, creased, torn, dog-eared, or corner-ripped page. It was "well preserved and perfect" in appearance. I stood before the book attentively looking at each page while the Voice spoke instructively without end. The pages continued turning, one at a time. As each page turned, there would be ongoing pauses so that I could carefully glance at both pages for a few good moments before another page turned. Eventually this seemingly eternal dream faded.

INTERPRETATION: The ancient Book was the Old Testament. (It should be noted that a Hebrew book is read in reverse: the bound edge of the Book is at the right.) Since the bound edge was at the left, it was shown to me in the reverse—from the end—beginning with the PROPHETS. I did not see book name identities. The Voice that spoke to me, first in English with the few opening words, and then changing to another language was the steady, instructive, and commanding Voice of Holy Spirit. He spoke with a firm but smooth, peaceful, and flowing delivery, and never once slowed down nor declined in His pronouncements. I later came to understand that as He spoke e-n-n-n-dlessly in an unknown language He was instructing my spirit to study the Word of God—the Holy Bible—which would equip me for a future ministry of End Time dreams supported by Scripture (2Tim. 2:15; 3:16-17) on the Internet to the Church of Jesus Christ of Nazareth. END

These three dreams (number of Divine confirmation) were instrumental in preparing and leading me to finally understand that my deepest need was God's grace, mercy, gift of Eternal Life (Jas. 1:17), salvation, hope (Col. 1:27), peace (Jn. 14:27), and strength found only in His Son Jesus Christ (Acts 4:12). I finally responded to Lord Jesus' beckoning in the dream of June 1975 and accepted Him (Jn. 1:12, 13 — 1Jn. 1:7, 9   Ps. 32:5) as my Savior and Lord fourteen months later on August 30, 1976 through a televised program. Demos Shakarin, founder and President of Full Gospel Business Men Fellowship International, hosted a crusade in New York City that night. I called the phone number on the screen and a prayer counselor led me in prayer as I received Lord Jesus into my heart while sobbing remorsefully on my knees on the kitchen floor.

Because of my deep involvement in witchcraft and the occult, I remained in sinful bondage, blind, and deaf to Almighty God's call to repent (Acts 3:19-21). It took me over a year to finally understand that I needed to OBEY MY HEAVENLY FATHER'S PERSONAL AND SEVERE REPRIMAND (Isa. 1:18) TO REPENT OF MY EVIL AND SINFUL WAYS, and be reconciled (Rom. 5:8-11 — 2Cor. 5:17-19 — Eph. 2:18) to Him through His Precious Sacrificial Lamb (Eph. 2:13), His Son Jesus Christ (Jn. 14:6). It also took me just as long to understand that Jesus beckoned me to accept Him because HE LOVED ME, and that ONLY HE GIVES FORGIVENESS, ETERNAL LIFE (Jn. 6:47 — Jas. 1:17), AND PEACE (Jn. 14:27) to one's heart and soul such as no one else can. ONLY JESUS SAVES (Jn. 3:16-18 — Acts 10:43; 16:30, 31 — Gal. 4:4-7 — Eph. 2:13) By laying on of hands I received the Baptism of the Holy Spirit (Acts 11:16) at a home Bible study on October 11, 1976 while sprawled on the living room floor. While I burned up (Mt. 3:11), I immediately began speaking in an unknown language (Jn. 7:37-39 — Acts 2:1-4, 11, 16-18). I received water baptism the following year (Acts 10:47). Upon being baptized in the Holy Spirit, I was immediately drawn into reading and studying the Word with a KJV DAKE'S ANNOTATED REFERENCE BIBLE that eventually prepared me for God's call on August 20, 1985 to serve and glorify Him as a prophet through dreams (Acts 2:17, 18). I conferred not with flesh and blood for interpretations, but once briefly. I received all the dreams' interpretations through waiting on Holy Spirit's anointing and interpretive help so I could then present each dream to the Church of Jesus Christ of Nazareth on the Web. (Their links are listed at the end of this testimony.) I have worked on and posted these dreams when prompted by Holy Spirit. To this day, I am not anointed to interpret dreams although I can discern some.

Briefly, from 1989 to 1994, I received a series of End Time dreams that Holy Spirit prompted me to type and file away. (There were many other various non-related types of dreams in between.) After showing the binder of End Time dreams to a pastor in the fall of 1997, he encouraged me to pray for God's interpretation to the dreams (Gen. 40:8). After praying for Holy Spirit's anointing and help to receive interpretation to the dreams, I took a BOLD leap of faith and began with PAY ATTENTION TO GOD. Since then I have searched Scripture (2Pet. 1:20, 21) to present those which Holy Spirit showed me (Lk. 12:12) agreed with what Lord Jesus revealed in each ensuing Web posted dream to His Church. I remain deeply convicted in my spirit that the instructive words Holy Spirit's calm Voice spoke in the third dream of July 1975 were to study and deliver the Word (Josh. 1:8 — Jn. 8:31 — Heb. 4:12 — Jas. 1:21-25 — 1Pet. 1:23) to Lord Jesus' Church through dreams (Psalm 119:49, 103, 105, 114, 116, 130, 133, 140, 148, 162, 172).

From 1998 to 2003, I received five more dreams that continued to deal with the End Time.

On March 20, 2000 at exactly 2:00 AM, I received a word in my spirit after studying and researching the Word for a dream I had been working on. I immediately wrote it down, and is as follows:

"IN THIS YOU DO NOT LOOK TO A PASTOR, OR TO A TEACHER, OR TO A PROPHET. YOU LOOK TO MY WORD. YOU LOOK TO MY SPIRIT. YOU LISTEN FOR MY VOICE. YOU OBEY MY VOICE."

"OBEY MY VOICE, and I will be your God" (Jer. 7:23).

Your words were found, and I ate them, and Your word was to me the joy and rejoicing of my heart (Jer. 15:16).

Your word is very pure; therefore Your servant loves it (Ps. 119:140).

*If anyone speaks, let him speak as the oracles of God (1Pet. 4:11).

"I send you prophets …" (Mat. 23:34).

I give all the praise and all the glory to my Heavenly Father (1Cor. 10:31) for HIS CALL upon me (Rom. 8:28 1Cor. 1:26; 7:17, 20-24 —2Tim. 1:9 — 1Pet. 1:2), as well as to my Savior and Lord Jesus Christ. Because of His love, compassion, mercy, faithfulness and willingness to lay His life down for me (Jn. 10:15; 17:6-19), Lord Jesus saved me from the eternal flames of a deserving Hell because of my rebellion, disobedience, and gross sinfulness throughout my life when I accepted Him as my Savior and Lord. "Thank You, Precious Lord Jesus."

I remain surrendered to Holy Spirit's anointing to bring Lord Jesus' URGENT CALL to His Church through dreams and Scripture that admonishes her to STOP PLAYING CHURCH and COMPROMISING [fornicating in Her heart] WITH THE STANDARDS [gossip and slander, morals, abortion, homosexuality, traditions, idolatry, protocols] OF THE WORLD (1Jn. 2:12-17 — 1Cor. Chap. 5 — Col. 3:5-10).

Saints of God, BE HOLY! Draw intimately closer to Lord Jesus through daily prayer, repentance, brokenness, study of the Word, faithfulness, humility, and obedience (1Pet. 1:13-25) to Him as we await the imminent Rapture of the FAITHFUL Church of Jesus Christ of Nazareth. (Rom. 12:9-21; 13:12-14; 14:7-10 — Eph. 4:25-32; 5:1-21 — 1Thes. 5:12-22 — 2Tim. 2:19; 3:12 2Pet. 1:5-11)

*I speak in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh. For just as you presented your members as slaves of uncleanness, and the lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves of righteousness for HOLINESS. For when you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. What fruit did you have then in the things of which you are now ashamed? But now having been set free from sin, and having become slaves [servants] of God, you have your fruit to HOLINESS*, and the end, everlasting life.* FOR THE WAGES OF SIN IS DEATH, BUT THE GIFT OF GOD IS ETERNAL LIFE IN CHRIST JESUS OUR LORD (Rom. 6:19-23).

Therefore, having these promises, beloved, let us CLEANSE ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting HOLINESS in the fear of God (2Cor. 7:1).

THE BLOOD of Jesus Christ His Son CLEANSES US from all sin. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, He is FAITHFUL and just to forgive us our sins and to CLEANSE US from all unrighteousness (1Jn. 1:7-9).

But as He who called you is holy, you also BE HOLY IN ALL YOUR CONDUCT, because it is written, "BE HOLY FOR I AM HOLY" (1Pet. 1:16).

Pursue PEACE with all men, and HOLINESS*, without which no one shall see the Lord* (Heb. 12:14).

WORK - OUT - YOUR - OWN - SALVATION - WITH - FEAR - AND - TREMBLING (Phil. 2:12).

For GODLY SORROW produces repentance leading to salvation*, not to be regretted; but the sorrow of the world produces death* (2Cor. 7:10).

Beloved Saints of God, Lord Jesus has spoken: "I AM IN CONTROL." Either His Church repents and faithfully awaits His appearing in the clouds (1Thes. 4:13-18 — 1Cor. 15:50-55) to call Her Home (Jn. 14:3), or those found unfaithful and backslidden will be left behind after the Rapture. Even after they finally repent too late, they will still have to face the forewarned consequences of shock, fear, anguish, painful remorse, persecution, famine of food and famine of the Word (Amos 8:11), torment, and great, great suffering during the Tribulation (Revelation, Chaps. 6 to 18). They will eventually be BEHEADED for their faith (Rev. 20:4) in order to finally enter into Glory.

As for the lukewarm Saints, Lord Jesus will VOMIT [spue, spew] them out of His mouth (Rev. 3:15, 16). Their destiny will be Hell where their remorse will be too late. There is no Scriptural truth to the doctrine of "ONCE SAVED, ALWAYS SAVED." It's a big lie.

High As The Mountains

Isa 2:2-4 AMP It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be [firmly] established as the highest of the mountains and shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flow to it.

"My love for you is higher than the mountains and deeper than the deepest seas. My love for you is unlimited and unconditional. There is no shadow of turning with Me. I don't give up on people. You may give up or not have the maturity or patience or wisdom to know what to do or say to them. But I am not like you. My ways are higher than your ways. Don't be discouraged when you lack what only I can give you. Just come to Me and ask. Sometimes a person is not ready to be loved. Sometimes there is still too much baggage that keeps them with walls high up around them. Sometimes they are so broken that love scares them. It is unfamiliar to them. They don't know how to trust. They dare not trust.

I am the perfecter of all that concerns you. So just lay it at My feet. Allow Me to be in charge. The government is on MY SHOULDERS. When you take up a cause and don't give it to me, you then try to carry it on your shoulders. But that weight is too heavy. You cannot carry everyone else's weights. My shoulders are wide enough and My love deep enough to handle anything. You are still growing in love. Wisdom is so important when trying to walk in love. It is important not to be presumptuous about things and ask Me whatever you want to know. I will give you the wisdom you need. I will give you the patience and fortitude you need if I ask you to help someone.

Sometimes, you feel resistant to help because it is not for you to do, but for someone else. Sometimes the resistance needs to be overcome because it is for you to do and to learn from. So ask Me and I'll show you. There are situations and people who are difficult to know what to do with them or how to pray or talk to them. In those situations, you need to come to ME and I will instruct you on all you need.

My church will be established as the highest in the lands of the earth. I am preparing you My beloveds for the drama of the ages ! There is much to be done. I want you to know the depth and length and width and breadth of the love I have for you. I want you to be filled with the fullness of ME ! I love you and want the best for you. Just come to ME. I won't discard you like others have. I won't caste you aside like flotsam and jetsam. Don't believe the judgments man has made of you. Look to the TRUTH of My WORD to sustain the TRUTH in your inner parts. I am the LOVER of your soul. I do not do things to torment you. I allow testing and I allow troubles, for I know every man and woman, boy and girl. I know what it takes to change the world, the church, the lost, your family, your children. TRUST in Me, and lean not on your own understanding.

The knowledge of Me will cover the world like the waters cover the seas.
You are coming into an unprecedented time of troubles and peril. BUT I AM WITH YOU. I AM greater than all that could come against you. I am initiating a great time of GRACE that will bring in the final HARVEST, and on the back of that harvest will come great persecution and hatred that will rise up against My own. But I have a plan for the nations. I have a plan that man who is not abiding in Me knows nothing of. They mock and they spout great swelling words but in the end, I will have the last word. I am the LIVING WORD. And what I say goes ! My Words have the power of LIFE in them, and are creative to accomplish what I set out to do. TRUST in ME with all of your heart.

Surrender any areas where distrust lies. For there is no other Lover like ME. There is no one else who will lay down their life for you as I did ! SURELY in a flood of many waters, I will see you through. Do not worry about your life, what you will eat, where you will go, what you will wear. For I hold you precious in My eyes. You are My TREASURED JEWELS. I am polishing and finishing the details of your life and character so that you will live out the call on your lives with success. I want you to overcome, more than you want to overcome ! I am a GOOD FATHER. I give good gifts to My children. And this Christmas I have some very special gifts I am handing out. Yes I said, this Christmas. I know some are skeptical that I would honor this holiday because it came out of obscurity on the back of pagan traditions. But should I resent men honoring My Son ? What I do hate is the mockery of what is holy. What I do hate is greed instead of love.
But this holiday is preceded by the Festival of LIGHTS. Do I resent the lighting of lights when it is a celebration of all that My Son is and was and when people sing worship songs to Me ? Why would they want to quench it if it is not a threat to their immoral ways ? If you worship the lights, and worship the trees, and worship the festivities and forget about ME, then of course it has no meaning. But if you do all things as unto ME, does that not make it worship ? The impatience and clamoring is not of Me, nor for Me.

But know that I do not resent you honoring My son and loving on one another and helping one another during this time or any other time. All times should be like Christmas in your heart. Giving should be an all year affair. Giving and generosity are MY characteristics. AM I not generous to you ? Am I not forgiving and loving, and patient ? So do all things unto Me, and I will bless you. WALK in MY GRACE ! And give grace to others. Be a bright shining light in the midst of the times ! Shine, shine, shine your light in the marketplace of life. Let the Joy of YOUR LORD radiate around you. Take a moment to reach out to someone and touch them. Bring healing to broken hearts and acts of kindness to strangers ! And remember how much I love you and how much you are Mine, and I am yours !"

Mal 1:11 AMP For from the rising of the sun to its setting My name shall be great among the nations, and in every place incense shall be offered to My name, and indeed a pure offering; for My name shall be great among the nations, says the Lord of hosts.

Mal 3:17 AMP And they shall be Mine, says the Lord of hosts, in that day when I publicly recognize and openly declare them to be My jewels (My special possession, My peculiar treasure). And I will spare them, as a man spares his own son who serves him.
Ps 125:2 NKJV As the mountains surround Jerusalem, So the LORD surrounds His people From this time forth and forever.

Song 2:8 NKJV The voice of my beloved! Behold, he comes Leaping upon the mountains, Skipping upon the hills.

Torrents of Rain
Priscilla Van Sutphin

tearsofthefather@comcast.net

I am sending the rain in torrents and waves. And just as the natural rain washes and nurtures the earth, so I will wash and nurture the souls of men.
I am not a God afar off, but close at hand. There is nothing hidden from My eyes. As the torrents of rain fall, they can mess up the landscape. Mudslides occur, and I have some major mudslides coming…a removing of dead branches, trees and dirt and all opposition to My will.

Jer 23:23-24 NKJV "Am I a God near at hand," says the LORD, "And not a God afar off? 24 Can anyone hide himself in secret places, so I shall not see him?" says the LORD;

It is certain that the rains will come, and when they do, be prepared for new paradigms. Don't move into this without being dependent on Me. I have a new thing to do and it requires My wisdom, not your earthly wisdom. I am doing things in unusual ways and not the "normal" way for church. I am breaking down all that is religious and establishing "true religion".

James 1:27 AMP External religious worship [religion as it is expressed in outward acts] that is pure and unblemished in the sight of God the Father is this: to visit and help and care for the orphans and widows in their affliction and need, and to keep oneself unspotted and uncontaminated from the world.

I never intended for the church to become a giant of religious order. It was to become light and salt to the world. It was to become what I was to the world – the Way, the Truth, and the Life ! Denominations are an affront to the TRUTH. I am One and I long to make you ONE in US. But how can that happen when all you can see are your differences, instead of the good in each other ? LOVE is the GREATEST I said. Love is the thing that binds you together, just as it binds US together ! Without love you are just a clanging cymbal…and there are far too many clanging cymbals these days !

Love and mercy will cause people to turn their heads and say, now that is real! They will want what you have when you love. They will want ME when you learn to love ONE ANOTHER. It is in this one anothering that they will see you truly care for each other, and they want to be a part of something that is genuine and real. They need relationship for most of those on the outside are love-starved. When they see you treat each other with kindness and respect and love, then they will honor ME…because YOU ARE HONORING ME BY BEING LIKE-MINDED ! The person who lays down their life is the one who loves, the one who goes the extra mile, the one who cares enough to take time with another. So many have so little time they want to give these days. They want what self wants and not to have to be bothered sometimes. And people recognize this, and know they are not important to them. It has become epidemic in the church and yet people keep supporting this indifference.

When My judgments come, it will be evident who cares and who does not. Many will change and many will not. Those who refuse to help one another will have the candle of their church extinguished and it will be given to another.
My ways are higher than your ways. I challenged the established church in My time on earth. Those who are truly Mine will do the same in this hour, and woe to the ones who will not listen, for I am sending you prophets and apostles, and they are nobodies in the ways of the world or the churched. But they are precious and holy to ME. They will not wait 6 months to get to know you to speak for I already KNOW YOU. And I have given them what to speak. Abundant grace is in store, but so few are aware of the power of My blood, and the grace it brought. They are so focused on church growth methods and getting on TV, and being “successful” that they have lost perspective. It’s not that those things are not possible, but that the goal of the Kingdom is in conflict with that idolatry to power and position.

I AM the Desire of all Nations and I will have a pure and holy and undefiled Bride when I am finished. I am pouring out torrents of rains, the latter day rain is soon to start, so I must pour to ready you for what is coming. Don’t be afraid of getting a little messy ! Better to be a bit messy, than dirty.

Hos 6:6 NKJV For I desire mercy and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

Hag 2:6-9 NKJV "For thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Once more (it is a little while) I will shake heaven and earth, the sea and dry land; 7 and I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations, and I will fill this temple with glory,' says the LORD of hosts. 8'The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine,' says the LORD of hosts. 9'The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former,' says the LORD of hosts. 'And in this place I will give peace,' says the LORD of hosts."

Isa 61:10-11 NKJV I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, My soul shall be joyful in my God; For He has clothed me with the garments of salvation,
He has covered me with the robe of righteousness, As a bridegroom decks himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.

Joel 2:16-17 NKJV Gather the people, Sanctify the congregation, Assemble the elders, Gather the children and nursing babes; Let the bridegroom go out from his chamber, and the bride from her dressing room.
17 Let the priests, who minister to the LORD, Weep between the porch and the altar; Let them say, "Spare Your people, O LORD, and do not give Your heritage to reproach, that the nations should rule over them

House Church Networks Replacing Mega Churches
Wolfgang Simson

World's largest churches - Regional house church networks replacing mega churches

Even though influence is more important than size today, taking a look at the attendance numbers of the world's largest churches gives an impression of the developments in recent years. Much is changing: churches which had an attendance of 300,000 a decade ago, such as 'Ondas del Luz y Amor' in Buenos Aires, now have 'only' 70,000. Completely new models are popping up, such as the Indian University which became a church, regularly seeing 80,000 people attending. The membership of mega churches fluctuates strongly, so the numbers here are the attendance, not members. Yonggi Cho's church in Seoul claims a membership of 773,000, but an attendance of 'only' 253,000 in the main church and most important satellites.

What is church?
The church is starting to see itself completely differently - that is one trend which is growing stronger. It is no longer understood as a single organised fellowship (with a pastor, a building, a programme and a more or less creative name), but as an organic community of Christians in towns and regions, the sum of the members of related house churches, cells, groups and fellowships. This gives the church, as in the times of Acts, a regional instead of denominational identity. "The church in Corinth", Ephesus, Antioch or Jerusalem corresponds today to "The church in Berlin", Boulder, Beijing or Brasilia.

Regional house church networks are replacing mega churches

Such regional churches are not led by a 'Senior Pastor', but by regional teams, generally formed by the coalescing of the fivefold ministry. It is very noticeable that the traditional pastoral ministry tends not to play the key role, but rather people with an apostolic or prophetic gifting, as hinted at in 1. Cor. 12:28 and Eph. 2:20. Christian community and unity is formed by belonging to the same region or town; unity is lived out in networked house churches and large celebrations, or at least in leaders' meetings in places where Christians are heavily persecuted. One of the smaller(!) house church networks in southern China has an attendance of 400,000, larger networks number several million. The twenty largest regional (not national) house church networks in China, Vietnam and northern India would completely change the list below. For security reasons, we cannot publish any names or other details, with the exception of V. Choudhrie in India, because most if not all such large regional house church networks exist in nations which persecute or repress Christians. They generally belong to the group which missiologist Prof. David Barrett calls 'Crypto-Christians' ? underground Christianity. We believe that there are around twenty regional house church networks around the globe with an attendance of over 250,000. Hence, the list below starts with the world's previously largest known church, the Yoido Full Gospel Church, ranked 21st. Which are today's trend-setting nations?

These developments started outside the West (North America, Europe, Australia and New Zealand), so many Western pastors and Christian leaders find it difficult to take seriously. Many still understand the West to be the centre of Christianity, as in 1700, from which missionaries are sent out to complete the Great Commission. Traditionally, the USA, Britain or Germany have been the trend setting nations in the church. That is where the influential publishing houses have their headquarters; the overwhelming majority of Christian conference speakers, authors, seminars and concepts for pastor training originate there, but is seems that many are asking "What good thing can come out of Vietnam, Northern India, China, Indonesia, Nigeria, Nicaragua, Honduras, Trinidad or Argentina?" And yet exactly these - and other - non-Western nations are home to the most important trends in missionary Christianity. Are we listening?

What about the USA?
Up until now, mega churches were a typically American phenomenon. It is striking, then, that not one of the world's forty largest churches is in the USA or another Western nation. The really significant church growth is taking place basically outside the West. The Washington Post recently published a study by church researcher John N. Vaughn revealing 840 mega churches in the USA, with a weekly attendance of over 2,000 (figures of 13th May 2004). The top 5 are:

The City Church - Is God introducing a new chapter in church history? - By Wolfgang Simson

Imagine Christians meeting in your area or city again in two places, just like in New Testament days:

1. "From house to house", decentralized in many house churches, and

2. Meeting repeatedly at a real big and central place, a modern version of "Solomon's colonnades"; a big hall or stadium.

In the houses they would authentically share lives together, live organic fellowship and thus be a true shopping window of God for their neighborhood. In the large citywide celebrations they would mark their unity in Christ, express the fact that they belong together, have a big festival together and allow as many housechurches as possible to click together for the big vision and take on the shape of a regional transdenominational gospel movement. That would, just like it did before, truly transform whole cities and regions through the gospel of the Kingdom of God. And nobody could deny that "you have filled Jerusalem with this teaching" (Acts 5:28).

In many areas of the world this two-stroke-model of church (the very small combined with the very large) is stirring again, especially since the new Millennium. Authenticity in real life, the synergy of housechurch and Citychurch means this: on the small level organic communities and extended family-type communities in houses (or wherever people's lives gravitate); on the large citywide level: regular or irregular huge meetings of Christians, who overcame all small-minded barriers and understood that they are one in Christ and also one before the eyes of the world. It is as if Christians start to rearrange themselves according to an invisible magnetic field with two magnetic poles, just like the good old iron-filings on the overhead projector of our physics teacher. What is God doing here?

The corporate identity of Church Where is the true home of the Christian church? Where does its identity lie? I would like to point out the four levels on which Christianity expresses itself today: the house (cell, level 1), the one-pastor-church (the traditional congregation, level 2), the citywide or regional dimension of church (Citychurch, celebration, level 3) and transregional networks of churches, the denominations (level 4). I assume everyone is in agreement about the existence of the universal Church, the Body of Christ on earth, which, technically, would be level 5. Here I want to briefly highlight each of these four levels:

1. The cell (housechurch, "small group") is typically the church in the house, usually between 3 and 15 adults in size. Here people can live in real close relationships and therefore disciple each other. Most housechurches function organically - their members are in direct natural contact and share lives with each other.

2. The congregation (one-pastor church) is of "medium" size and typically has between 16 and 300 members. The congregation functions more formal and planned then an organic housechurch, is more organized and usually has a Pastor, staff, common worship services and different programs. This type of church often works parochially and serves members of a specific geographical area, and nearly always uses special church facilities, a sanctuary or church building serving special religious purposes. The members usually do not have a direct and natural contact with all other members any more; they are simply too big for that, and the structures of a Sunday-morning-worship-service-oriented church does not allow too much organic fellowship of all its members.

3. The celebration is the real big gathering of Christians, 300+, who gather within their city or region to document their unity in Christ, celebrate what God has done for them, expecting the return of Christ together. These celebrations are often facilitated by Christians with apostolic and prophetic ministries. Such celebrations can happen outdoors, or in stadiums, conference centers or other large halls. For those attending these meetings it is impossible to be in touch with all others, and most just happily drown in the crowd.

4. The Denomination is usually a national (or international) group of churches with a common bond, the network of all Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Mennonite or Pentecostal churches etc.

The New Testament "two-stroke model" of Church In the New Testament we expressively find only two of these four levels of church: the housechurch or cell (level one) and the celebration (level three); the church "from house to house" and the citywide corporate community called the church in Antioch (Acts 14:27), the church in Jerusalem (Acts 15:4), which met for a while in the colonnades of Solomon in the temple. The "Church of Antioch" was nothing else than the sum total of all housechurches throughout Antioch - not the sum total of all denominational congregations, since there simply where no denominations nor congregations at that time.

The housechurch offer healthy family dynamics, a private home and true nest for each person, an organic space of the church in the community, where Christians share their lives together, are accountable to each other, and not do but be the church exactly at the place where they spend most of their time, in their houses, tents, apartments, or on the roads, squares, offices and cafés.

The Citychurch was the public dimension of church, where all Christians of the City or the region came regularly or irregularly together for large celebrations, mostly breathing quite an electric and grandiose spirit of the occasion. That was the place where the housechurches could click and connect with the rest of the Body of Christ, see and become part of the big picture, find their place in the net, and experience apostolic teaching and prophetic vision. This unfailingly leads to a certain vortex-effect, making it difficult for large sections of the society to not see what is happening here. We sometimes observe these dynamics for a fleeting moment in one of the evangelistic rallies or conferences most of us know. Such a gathering of the Citychurch could literally shake a whole city, a region or area.

Geographical identity

The church in the New Testament was called after its geographical location, not carrying the label of a denomination. The church of the region or city was the sum total of all housechurches in a city or region. The Church of Ephesus, Antioch, Jerusalem or Corinth consisted of all born again believers of the city. Paul wrote his letters to "the Romans, Galatians, Ephesians, Corinthians", the corporate identity of the Body of Christ in the various areas. It is true that some cults have picked out that element of truth, isolated it from the rest of the gospel of the Kingdom, therefore distorting it and preach it as a law. It does not devalue the principle of the Citychurch if a few marginal groups have made it their special flavor. If God looks at your city, what does He see? The church in Houston, Hamburg, Taipei, Buenos Aires and Johannesburg. Do you see what He sees?

Overcoming Denominationalism

In the course of church history the congregations (level two) formed associations of churches called denominations that have a common "denominator". They trace themselves back to a certain teaching (the Anabaptists, the Baptists, Pentecostals), a method (Methodists, Presbyterians), a founding person (Lutherans, Calvinists, Mennonites) or a place (Moravians, Anglicans) or carry a confessionalist statement in their name (catholic, orthodox, independent). Today there are around 30.000 different denominations in the world. What would Paul say to that? Paul had heard from the Corinthians that they say: "I follow Paul, another I follow Apollos, another I follow Cephas, another I follow Christ". In modern day language this would read: "I am a reformed Christian; I am a Baptist; a Pentecostal; a Methodist". Paul's reply? "Is Christ divided?" (1. Cor. 1:12-13). The obvious answer is no. Paul does not mince words for denominationally oriented Corinthians. "I follow Paul, and another I follow Apollos - are you not mere men?" (1. Cor. 3:4) In other words: Paul goes on to say that this mentality Are you acting according to the spirit, or according to the flesh? Paul goes on to say that this mentality of fragmentized thinking leads Christians to stand still, drink only milk and cannot digest solid food, because they are "mere infants in Christ". Then he goes on to point out the only solution for this dilemma: the cross of Christ. At the cross of Christ there is the only real answer for the fragmented body of Christ: self-denial, the crucifixion of our pride, to let go of selfish interests and repent of the preaching of self, and humbly submitting ourselves to each other. Shall the unity of the Body of Christ remain a romantic dream, a distant vision, a cry or an empty phrase of diplomatic church politics for the next 2000 years? Or are there anywhere on this planet disciples of Christ who fear God more than men, who are radical and consequent enough to obey the clear standards of the word of God? Where is the city on earth that takes the first step?

Until today Sunday morning is probably the most embarrassing hour of Christianity, the hour in the week where all of Christendom is blown apart by an invisible wind into all directions, Christians leaving their homes and hurrying off to their different churches and preaching centers, often enough brushing by each other on their way. The times of this kind of Christianity is gone, its hours are counted, because it neither glorifies God, nor is it biblical, nor can it truly fulfill the apostolic tasks and mission which God has commissioned the church today.

Changing the Tracks: from 2/4 to 1/3 I was previously stating that biblically church is at home on two levels, one and three. In another picture we could say that Church is like a train running on two rails forming one track: rail one (the house) and rail three (the city or region). This is where Christian loyalty and accountability is expressed most healthily which can also be seen by the fact that money is collected on those levels. Today most churches have sought their identity on level two (the one-pastor-congregation) and level four (a special denomination). Most Christians are so taken up with their own set of programs and activities within their church (level 2) plus the occasional involvement through denominational agendas, that they are, in practice, effectively isolated from the rest of the body of Christ in a city or region. Many cannot afford to fellowship with Christians in their own neighborhood, because the denominational churches they all belong to run separate programs and effectively create parallel universes they feel obliged to stick with. The result is nothing short of institutionalized inefficiency and the death of synergy. Many also suffer from a drastic kind of spiritual malnutrition through long years focusing on a small fraction and part of the large church of God. As a result, they develop an unhealthy and tribalistic clan-mentality and potentially even form signs of spiritual incest - all while they might well develop a similar feeling of superiority like the Corinthians of old. They might feel "privileged" to be watching over a unique spiritual heritage or tradition, or feel outstanding because of specially treasured insights, experiences or special alliances with extraordinary servants of God.

The good news is, however, that God is changing this setup, and many Christians - especially those of the younger generations, simply do not accept this as an unchangeable fact of live. They instinctively know, that something is very wrong with the denominational system of "two & four", and that God has never created church to be that way. If it is the hand of humans that did it, it is legitimate to allow God's hand to undo it again and let the great restorer of truth, health and life also restore his own body again. It is not only globalization that drives Christians to look beyond their boxes and to seek fellowship with other Christians in their region and neighborhood, who long to share lives locally and celebrate together in citywide celebrations. It is God's spirit who is doing an extraordinary thing in our time that will bring back to life, unity and apostolic efficiency what humans have so utterly manhandled and divided.

Time for prophetic fusion In the coming months and years we will see a fusion of Christians, groups and whole churches, who recognize that they have the same spiritual genetic code, and who would like to live and work much more closely together in their neighborhood and city or region, because they feel that is what the Lords wants them to do. In a growing number of cities and regions of the world many churches will see that what they share is endlessly much more than what seems to have divided them in the past. Yes, and it will be not mere technical information, but a life changing revelation to them that they do have a powerful common denominator, a common vision, very similar values and the same heartbeat - because they quite simply have the same Lord.

Many traditional churches including many of the "new independent" churches planted in the last 20 years also share another phenomena: they do not really grow or do so only sporadic; they are facing formidable growth barriers, their members are kept busy through myriads of programs and in-house activities, the pastors are in and out of certain stages of stress or even burnout, the financial liabilities are often depressing and almost everyone knows: something is missing, something is wrong.

Sounds familiar?
Church X in Y is receiving a fascinating offer to buy a large auditorium with Z-seats. Although the project is way too large financially and practically, this is the beginning of a lively discussion. Some are just convinced that God is offering them the long awaited revival locality and space to grow for their church, others are less enthusiastic and warn to take on such a crippling financial commitment. They agree to bring this subject before God and various commissions and have it tested. But the result of this testing phase is strangely unclear, the way forward seems blocked and the parties with differing views are more divided than before. No matter how carefully they are drafting financial plans, ends just do not seem to meet, valuable members take their leave over the issue, the building commission seems to move in circles and it all looks like a dead end road. After 6 months of undecidedness a businessman buys up the auditorium and starts using it for commercial purposes.

The same course of events looks totally different, however, if you see it from the perspective of the emerging Citychurch. God is not at all offering the auditorium to "church X", but to the Citychurch, the collective body of Christians in town. God wants to bless the Body, not an arm or a leg of it and leave out the rest. What God wants is to provide a place for the Citychurch and their citywide celebrations, probably in return to many earnest prayers for revival and unity of the local Christians. If any one single congregation does not grasp that God does not see His own Body as divided as humans do, they will misinterpret God's intentions completely, and consequently try to direct all or at least the lions share of His blessings to them and through them.

The "2 percent-architecture"
I can see God again and again offering to the Christians in a number of regions and cities a really big building, auditorium or ground, a modern day version of "Solomon's porch" of the early Church in Jerusalem, so that there will be a place to convene as the Citychurch. My estimate is that the emerging Citychurch in many countries will initially attract about 10 percent of the population in their regions. If such an auditorium would be used multiple times, like an average of 5 times a week, such a center should offer space for about 2 percent of the population in a region or city.

Through death to life

Countless "prophecies", warnings, sermons and exhortations have gone out from and to Christian leaders, bishops, pastors and lay leaders for centuries decrying the utter dividedness of the Body. To what avail? The core issue is: if we continue to avoid the cross of Christ, there will be no true Church. Unless a kernel of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains alone. But if it dies, it produces much grain. This dynamic is not only valid for individual Christians, but for Christianity as a whole. But now I can see it happen: a good number of churches and groups in a region or city who are spirit-oriented, God-driven and mature enough leap out of a crippling mentality of congregational independence and autocracy, step across all small differences and reach out to each other. I already see them reconcile, cry, pray, laugh, fall into each other's arms and literally melt into something new together - a God-sized and God- shaped church. This will be the prophetic start of a new chapter in church history. How could this happen in the real world? The churches and groups who are ready for this melt into a unique movement with geographic, not denominational identity: the Citychurch * As many of all born again Christians as possible meet again and again for citywide celebrations * A ministry network (including the Eph. 4:11 ministries) is emerging as a regional pool and empowerment-structure * Many house churches emerge in neighborhoods, schools, scenes, offices and wherever people spend the lions share of their life

Some striking advantages of this development

* A milestone towards the unity of the Body of Christ will be reached

* Relief for all pastors and full time workers: everyone works less, but together we achieve more

* We will more fully use the god-given gift potentials: everyone will be able to work within the exact focus of his gifting, calling and anointing (like Eph. 4:11), and does not have to be "everything to everybody"

* Together we will leap across traditional growth barriers (like the 80- or 200-barriers)

* A new chapter of local church history starts and might well become a prophetic model for other areas and cities

* Christianity, which has been divided into ineffective small fractions would gain a dramatically higher "visibility" and a voice in the city which is difficult to ignore

* Relief for staff workers and volunteers who run programs for the sake of the programs

* Through the pooling of resources on city level there will be an immediate increase in the quality level of ministry in areas like children's ministry or biblical teaching

* Far bigger and more permanent pull - like an all-year evangelistic rally

* Common use of city-level buildings/auditoriums (which could be financed together)

* Saving resources (five medium-sized halls/church buildings might well be more costly to entertain than one rather big auditorium)

* This clear expression of Christian reconciliation will lead towards a public image correction of Christianity

* Constant informal communication and short roads to each other enhance quality of full-time ministers who work in the region, because they can start using one central office as a common resource pool

* Discipleship, multiplication and integration of new believers can happen in the house churches on neighborhood and village level using citywide resources

* Sunday morning preaching tourism will be reduced greatly, saving money, time and embarrassment

* More effective church discipline: black sheep can be disciplined on a regional level much more efficiently and will find it increasingly difficult to hop churches without changing their lives

* The high percentage of unchurched Christians and those hurt or excluded by the existing structures find a revolutionary new concept of church to click with

* Each church or ministry has particular strengths which can flow together into a pool towards a citywide synergy and corporate handling of training, evangelism, prayer, public relations etc.

* Many gifted Christians are literally divided by their "ministries"; this deadlock as well as denominational glass walls would tumble down which have hindered true cross-fertilization and cooperation long enough

* The new generation of Christians are getting an adequate platform: most of them are simply not interested in denominations, but seek small groups to be real and they like to participate in large regional or citywide celebrations

* The constant clash of available dates and the collision of separate interests would be dramatically reduced, since those serving full time will stop living in their own small world driven only by their own set of agendas, programs - and appointments

* A true postmodern structure of redeemed diversity is much more ready for the future and publicly presentable

* Christianity takes on a more meaningful shape and becomes not only a Jew to the Jews and a Greek to the Greeks, but global to global citizens, truly local to patriots, and even becomes the Y and Z to Generation X.

Leap over walls
At this point in time, I see 4 formidable roadblocks which have grown into crippling strongholds and thought-patterns in the minds of many which need to be overcome by everyone involved. (I have expanded on this in my new book "Houses that change the world") These are the four "walls" we need to leap over in faith (Ps 18:29) today before significant change will happen:

1. The institutionalization of fleshly Christianity ("Can I not be an average Sunday morning Christian just like everybody else?")

2. A denominational mindset ("I am in the world's best Church!")

3. The congregational misinterpretation of church (the one-pastor-congregation "is" the real expression of church)

4. The hierarchical, religious misinterpretation of biblical leadership (and therefore church structure) to be pyramidal and top-down

Practical steps God himself is sovereign, and true strategy flows out of intimacy with Jesus. Copying spiritual recipes for instant success is out; that is why this process will start in various shapes and forms, following no firm models, patterns and rules in each city alike. However, there might be similar dynamics and principles we need to be aware of. That is why I would like to make only a few observations about what I feel are non-negotiable elements which need to be in place before such a major reshaping of Christianity:

* It is never a structure - no matter how biblical - which changes Christianity from outside in, but a life changing encounter and relationship with Jesus, the renewing work of the Holy Spirit and a return to biblical standards to change us all from the inside out.

* A significant portion of Christians in a region or city are ready to deal with this proposal with a "Berean mind" (Acts 17:11) and pray with their open bibles about it and not hide behind human traditions.

* Those churches, ministries, groups and individuals who can agree with this vision, its values and who share a common heartbeat carefully start the process of transformation and fusion. I do anticipate between 1/3rd and 2/3rd of all born again Christians of a given area or city to move towards a Citychurch fusion in the coming years. Those churches (ministries, groups, individuals) who prefer to carry on in their traditional ways should be able to do so without loosing face, or have a standing invitation to join the process at any time in the future.

* Christian leaders are ready to stop pushing their own thing or agenda, and in humility consider others higher than themselves and become part of something much bigger than anything they could ever achieve alone.

* "Submit yourself to each other" (Eph.5:21): the end of the worldly one-man-principle of leadership requires a very significant step of humiliation: "Number one" persons (senior pastors, presidents, directors etc) of churches and ministries would have to step down and become a "number two" person - like everyone else in the priesthood of all believers. If everyone submits to each other, no one would be number one any longer, except Jesus Christ. We will have to cease working based on status and organized accountability, but work based on spiritual function and organic, mutual trust. We would have to move away from top-down leadership and delegating systems of authority to work with (not under or over) each other; not any more in hierarchical pyramids of power, but in a togetherness and synergy of gifts and callings.

* We could adopt a common statement of faith, like the Lausanne Declaration or the statement of faith of the Evangelical Alliance, or draft a new statement together in the cities or regions.

* "Seek you first the kingdom of God" - not building up your own church, ministry or empire, would have to be a common denominator and foundational value of everyone involved.

* "Seek the welfare of the city" will become more important than "each of us has turned to his own way."

A Vision For The Church At The Turn of The Millennium

By Phil Townend

This vision is based on my own experience and sense of what God seems to be doing in the world today. I do not claim it to be a `prophecy’, although I believe there to be prophetic insight here – much of it gleaned from others. The global perspective is where we start, since I am sure this needs urgent restoration across the Body. In the past certain individuals and groups – especially missionary and parachurch organisations – have carried the torch for world evangelisation. But we are all called to have the world on our hearts. For many of us the first verse of Scripture we learnt was John 3:16, `For God so loved the world…’ God has always had the whole world in focus, although He is active in every part. We too need to see things this way, His way.

From the global context, however, we need to see how these principles work out at the local level. The global and local are two aspects of the one church. If the Body is the sum of the parts, to function effectively all the parts need to work in harmony, allowing the flow of Holy Spirit life through the whole Body that is His home. So as well as having a global perspective, we need to understand what God is doing at local level and become passionate about what local church life could be like if God REALLY had His way there!

There are two dangers to avoid here: firstly, for those networking across the Body to drift into a superficial world of exciting relationships that have no ultimate effect `on the ground’ where most people are. The converse danger, however, is for local believers to get so buried in their own needs and aspirations that they neither see how they fit in the wider picture nor experience the life that flows from the wider Body.

What follows is an explanation of what I believe God is doing in the Church today, in its global and local aspects, with some concluding thoughts. You may not agree with everything I have written, but I hope it will encourage you to think and pray about the issues raised and the significant times we are living in.

GLOBAL ASPECT

The net now forming

At this very moment in history God is beginning to cover the world with a network of interlocking relationships between groups of believers in every place. Although the net is in a very early stage of development, it is forming at a rapid pace. Initially, God is joining key individuals and groups together, making critical personal and geographical connections for His future purposes. But His intention is to involve everyone who is willing to be a part of this net.

Divine initiative

In the process, God is releasing the Body of Christ world-wide from many of its traditional and `neo-traditional’ constraints in order to make room for new developments and allow for the level of joining that is required. This does not mean that old forms are being summarily discarded, but that they are being naturally superseded by new relationships and priorities. This is more a case of evolution than revolution, as God in His mercy increasingly takes `hands on’ control. While many of our endeavours and relationships, new and not so new, are being used by God, He is also overtaking our initiatives with His own in order to achieve His desired outcomes His own way! There will be no doubt in the end that it was God Himself who formed the new wineskin that is soon to appear.

The call to prayer

God has made the success of this joining dependent upon our co-operation with Him, primarily in the place of prayer. This has always been the way God works. It is all the more important now, given the difficult times that we live in and the greatness of God’s present-day purposes. Today God is promoting prayer everywhere. There is an unprecedented call to urgent prayer in and for the nations. Starting spontaneously, many national, regional and international prayer movements are emerging - and already they are beginning to connect with one another. Prayer centres committed to twenty-four hour prayer for the nations are springing up all over the place, and are also being linked. This global network of prayer foreshadows the network of kingdom life that we are talking about. Special seasons of intense intercession are happening somewhere all the time. There is a tremendous increase world-wide in prophetic revelation in the place of prayer. Flexible and mobile prayer teams are becoming a common feature in the advance of the Kingdom. Sometimes these teams are going out to prepare the ground for intensive evangelism. More often they are dealing with unresolved issues from the past through warfare prayer and acts of penitence and reconciliation. These are remarkable developments. Yet there must still be an exponential increase in prayer across the whole Body for the true Bride of Christ to come forth, ready for Christ’s return. There are some signs that this kind of increase is beginning.

The significance of Israel

At the same time, God is restoring some key understandings to the church concerning the place of Israel in His purposes at the end of the age. Israel is, as it has always been, God’s time clock. We are to watch its face more closely than ever, seeking to bless that nation and co-operate in what God is doing there and among Jews everywhere. Above all, we are to pray for Israel – especially for the peace of Jerusalem. Our attitude to Israel and what is happening in the Middle East as a whole affects other aspects of our lives, even though the relevance is often not revealed to us. We need to be prayerful and vigilant. We need to love the Jewish people unconditionally, wherever we find them. We also need to be sensitive as to how they might relate to the global net we are expecting.

The destiny of the nations

The relationship between believers in different countries – especially between those in Western and Third World countries - is of particular significance as this net forms, since any barrier obstructs God’s purposes. God has chosen to distribute gifts variously among the nations. The church in each nation needs to give what it has and receive what it lacks, each using its redemptive gift and fulfilling its national destiny, in order that the whole global Body of Christ might be built up. In particular, the church in rich nations must face up to its responsibility to release the practical resources that God has so graciously given to it, in the knowledge that God will give back to us out of the abundant spiritual treasures He has placed within His church in poorer nations. As is true from believer to believer and congregation to congregation, so from nation to nation: we need each other and the gifts that we bring to each other to be complete.

The structure of church

Another important area of new insight is to do with the way we express church. The DAWN (Disciple A Whole Nation) strategy, the Cities for God initiative and the burgeoning cell church movement are just three fresh reflections on what it means to be church at the turn of the millennium. Other ideas about how to be church in the home and in the world, or how to penetrate the profusion of subcultures in Western nations and reach minority or unreached people groups around the world, are being given variously. As has always been the case, the Holy Spirit deposits revelation as and where it suits the Father's purposes. This increase in revelation itself bears witness that the end draws closer. None of these insights are complete in themselves, but must be seen in the light of the Big Picture of what God is doing and the net that is forming.

The release of apostolic teams

An essential element in the process of change now taking place is a fresh release of apostolic ministry, according to the New Testament pattern. In contrast with some recent models, the emerging apostolic dimension is not so much about setting government in place but about releasing ministry to `go' in order to bring maturity to the Body of Christ. This `going' can be to a place, a group or a nation or nations. A key feature of this emerging ministry will be the creation of flexible, mobile apostolic teams that will move from place to place, bringing that which is lacking into local situations everywhere, establishing new churches wherever they are needed. The relationship between the local and mobile will be one of mutual submission, always looking for the leading and anointing of the Spirit. The teams will operate out of local bases, often communities of local congregations already flowing together in God's purposes. Some will grow within and out of existing missionary organisations and parachurch groups, recognising the significance of their historic role, but embracing new ways of going about their calling. The teams will vary, changing in personnel to fit particular situations. They will function relationally, as the Spirit leads. Often these teams will overlap and interact with one another naturally, as and when appropriate. There will be no set form for them, although we will see prophetic, teaching, evangelistic, healing and other ministries functioning regularly through these teams. What counts will be the gifting and anointing God wants in a particular team at a given time for a specific situation. Many teams will be multicultural and international in make-up. This will express a powerful witness to the world and into `the heavenlies' of the unity of the church. These teams also strengthen the mesh – representing translocal relationships - which link the knots in the net, so that the whole net can become strong. Some teams are already operating in a limited way. Others are beginning to form. Thousands more are needed in order to see the whole net come into place.

The manifold wisdom of God

It must not be thought that the net or the apostolic teams that operate across the net represent a simple, uniform structure – as the image of a net might imply. In fact, while the principles hold everywhere, the outworking on the ground will be a profusion of many and different expressions of church life as God makes a supreme revelation of His `multifaceted' wisdom and incarnates Biblical truth in myriad different contexts through His church at the end of the age. In many ways the variety and diversity will be greater than we see now. The wonder of it all will be the strength of the unity, the level of co-operation and the underlying faithfulness to the Scriptures that will characterise this church. What might seem structural chaos to many will, in fact, be the true organism - as distinct from organisation – that is Christ's Body, the Church.

The preservation of wine

Neither must it be assumed that present denominational and other organisational structures will necessarily disappear. When Jesus used the metaphor of wine and wineskins, he was not rejecting old wine, but simply showing the foolishness of putting new wine in old skins. There is old wine that is good, very good. But it needs the old skins. Perhaps this speaks of the accumulative wisdom of the church that is preserved in, what may seem to many of us, archaic containers, yet has brought us to where we are now and still provides kingdom life for many millions of people today. As long as it is kingdom wine, it is worth drinking. I believe there will be older structures, forms and practices that will be interwoven into this great net of kingdom relationships, becoming part of the rich variety and diversity we have already spoken about.

The call to give

All these changes call for a great release of people, time, money and other practical resources into the work of God’s Kingdom . Hospitality will become a commonplace gift, to the point where no-one can really call his home his own. Many practical comforts – especially in the West - will need to be `liquidated’ into finance for the kingdom and more often than not released into the Third World. People will be required by the Spirit to uproot and go to far flung parts of the world. The UK in particular will have a special mandate to send people. Bibles, Christian books and magazines, worship material and other resources will be needed in abundance to feed the coming growth in the church. The many apostolic teams will need to be equipped and supported to do the work they are called to do. All this will be required, despite increasingly adverse economic conditions world-wide. More than ever before we will need to know how to give, how to pray and how to trust the One who holds everything in His hands.

LOCAL ASPECT

Change at local level

Nowhere is the change that is taking place more evident or needed than at a local level. The local church is the microcosm of the global church. However, what constitutes a locality is often a complicated matter. For most believers it is important to be able to identify with some clear geographical region beyond their own group - yet without becoming as ego-centric about that area as we can be about our group! The biblical concept of a `city’ is helpful, if understood to include a town, borough or other administrative area. But it is a fact that unity can be complicated, and many of us are relating to one other at different levels, from immediate neighbourhood to large, urban conurbation. The principle to bear in mind is to pursue as far as we can unity at EVERY level, but discern the main perimeters of local church for us. Some will probably need more wisdom from the Spirit here than others, depending on specific local circumstances.

Defining local church

Bearing this in mind, we can define local church, in its simplest, biblical terms, as the sum of believers in a given area – one body of people irrevocably joined to one another, without barriers of age, race, background - together expressing the life of Christ to the community around them. This definition does not preclude variety within and between local expressions of church, but it does insist that these will be facets of one local entity and that this unity be explicit in terms of identity and vision. This is the local church that the Spirit is working to restore at this very moment in history.

A fundamental shift

While many people adhere to this definition in theory, the practice is often very different. Many still refer to their own congregation as their `local church’ and treat it to all practical purposes as a self-contained, independent structure with respect to vision and mission – even if another one meets directly across the road or operates in the same patch! I believe God is challenging this unbiblical and unwarranted autonomy. Scripture says that we are members of one another. It is only we who often restrict this to relationships and ministry within `our group’, forgetting that most epistles were written to the church in localities, not individual groups. Anyway, there is not limitation on our unity. This principle of interdependence is as true for families as for nations, and needs to be manifest in every arena – including local church, as we are defining it here. I believe that God has this issue - a vision for true local church in true unity for common territory - near the top of His agenda today, and that the winds of change at local level are there for those who have eyes to see it. That is one reason why there is such a restlessness at local church level - certainly in the West. It is a sign of the fundamental shift taking place.

The church now emerging

The fact is that many Christians – including church leaders – are no longer content being cooped up within an independent congregational structure and vision, often feeling restricted by too small a vision with little progress towards stated goals. There are probably more Christians than ever struggling within their local fellowship situation, hankering (probably unwittingly) for a bigger vision to live within. Some are frustrated where they are; others are moving uncertainly between congregations, or out on their own somewhere. Whether this is good or bad, of course, depends on individual attitudes and particular circumstances. But it is happening, and we cannot ignore it.

New alignments

One of the most significant developments locally are the many links that are forming naturally between Christians across congregational fences, usually where a common `heart' for the common territory is felt, quite often forging bonds that are at least as real, meaningful and fruitful than those experienced within their own respective groups. Some leaders are uneasy about this, because it seems to cut across their own initiatives and agendas. Of course, issues of rebellion, running from personal issues, etc. are part of the mix. Yet this restless tension and spontaneous re-aligning is to be expected when God is changing things. Upheaval of this kind always brings both good and bad elements to the surface. However, whatever negative forces may be at work, the solution is not to be reactive and try to preserve the status quo at all costs, it is to press through into what God has taken hold of us for – whatever THAT costs. When you consider that it is often at the local level that we find most resistance to change - both in human and spiritual ways - then things are bound to get interesting when God starts moving here!

The front line

When considering what God might be doing at local church level, we need to remind ourselves that it is here at the local level where for most people the `rubber hits the road' in terms of kingdom life. The local church as it exists in cells and congregations, homes and public places, schools and workplaces, is the real front line of God's kingdom. This is where the vast majority of believers live out their faith day after day, and it is not so easy here to stay focused and faithful in often mundane situations. We can so easily get side-tracked into secondary issues and petty concerns. I believe it is here that, quite frankly, the enemy gets us most battened down in various kinds of pride, complacency, self-seeking and other ways of preserving what we have – without us really being aware it! Over the generations satan has been largely successful in cutting us off from one another locally, effectively blunting the local church as a powerful force for God's kingdom in the area. If he can now get us to take the present renewal and focus inwards on our own group and its mission, he will have seriously restricted our ability to disrupt that long held hold over our localities. And if he can neutralise the church at this level, all the exciting movement at translocal level is of little consequence. Remember, just as the whole church is the sum of its parts, so is the local church the main substance of all that makes up the universal church. Because the local church stands on the front line in God's kingdom purposes, it is imperative that we listen to His voice at local level. In the light of what we have said about local church – and, indeed, the whole sweep of God's dealing with His people - I think it is entirely unreasonable and unrealistic to ask God to move powerfully in our localities, yet expect Him to leave untouched all our structures and systems – however biblical we think ours are! We really must choose to co-operate with God as He works to set His people in each place free to be all that they were meant to be as an instrument for the advance of His kingdom in these latter days.

The present renewal

I believe that much of what we are reaping now goes back to what happened a few years ago, when a fresh wave of the Holy Spirit broke out and impacted many churches in the Western world – especially in the UK. One of the prophetic 'slogans' of the time was 'Jesus wants his Church back.' This was clearly a true word from the Lord to His Church. But many people interpreted this within their own narrow mindset of what church, even local church, meant. Leaders preached a half word - `Jesus wants THIS church back', or even `Jesus wants OUR church back'. Some saw it largely in terms of the renewal of their own stream or denomination. Yet this was not what had been proclaimed. Jesus was after HIS church, ie the WHOLE thing back, the Church he died and rose again for. It follows that, if Jesus wants His Church back, it is so he can manifest his Headship over and his purposes through that Church. Why should we assume He will leave things as they were in terms of the structure of the church locally? Might He not consider the independent ways we operate as belying the unity that He Himself prayed for? There is a strong argument from outside the church that our disunity does more to prevent a lost world finding the saving love of the Father than any other single factor. As the Owner, Jesus has every right to do what he likes with what He owns - including demolishing or reordering as he sees fit - so that he can build what He has in His heart to build. For those who believe in the net now forming and the united expression of local church that is emerging, this is no surprise. We must face up to the fact that much of what exists in our localities church wise will need some radical attention before we see what we are believing for begin to take shape.

A reformed local church

The fact is God is restoring something more akin to the picture we see in the New Testament of local church life in terms of its unity, simplicity and flexibility. He is taking the best of what we have brought with us down the centuries and through more recent decades, adding new forms for the needs of the present time, and connecting the whole thing together. What will emerge is one interlinked network of believers in a given area, together covering that area with many and varied small and middle-sized groups. Older groups will bring the best out of their own particular history and multiply it, but always seeking to further the overall progress of God’s kingdom in the area (and beyond). Many new groups and new types of church life will form. The cell-based church model provides valuable principles as to how we might become much more flexible through its emphasis on small groups (although at present it is heavily postulated towards an independent church structure). Relational unity among recognised leaders is a clear prerequisite for what is coming, as is grass roots prayer across denominational and other lines. United leadership is needed to bring cohesion within the wider local Body. This must work in hand in hand with outside input `into’ the area (not just `over’ individual congregations), bringing what is lacking into the Body and knitting the local into the translocal scene.

An apostolic church

However, the relational connecting that is happening is the starting place for, not the fullness of, what is coming. It is not ultimately about having a strong group of pastors who are bringing their congregations together and flowing together for the sake of the gospel locally – encouraging though this is. Rather, it is about having the right leadership ministries released within the whole local church and surrounding community, in conjunction with appropriate help from outside, so that Ephesians 4 can be fulfilled and maturity might come. For a variety of reasons, we have tended to shy away from the key issue of the role of apostles and the apostolic in the church today. Once we realise that the apostolic is all about the church ‘going out’ and that the reason for having apostles in our midst is so that the whole church might become apostolic, then we can begin to appreciate and covet this ministry. God is restoring the so-called ‘five-fold ministries’ in these days – including the apostolic - in order to complete His mission. But this is about function not title, servanthood not government, and will more likely than not challenge many of our previous notions relating to these leadership ministries. However, if we keep in view a local (and universal) church that is growing ever closer to maturity as a teaching, pastoring, evangelistic, prophetic and apostolic community of believers, we will welcome among us those who are strategic in helping this come about.

Call the elders…

In particular we need to see true spiritual ‘fathers’ or elders take their place amongst us, in our churches and communities. By this I mean those appointed and anointed of God (not man) to provide a spiritual canopy over the territory for the sake of the people who live there – believers and non-believers alike. This is more than and different from simply a gathering of congregational leaders. It is a divinely ordained group of men (and women) sharing responsibility and authority in the Holy Spirit for specific regions. It does not even have to be an explicit group that meets and has an overt function. It may include individuals active in secular fields, exercising eldership and exerting influence there, but all joined by the Spirit towards a common vision. These elders are not necessarily of high profile or active in conventional church leadership. They will want to serve not rule, and the bulk of their ministry will relate to the hidden ministry of prayer. They will discern and build in harmony with the travelling apostolic teams we have already identified. They will release, simply by being in place, a plethora of ministry in the local community. The important thing is that these elders be recognised and honoured by the church and, to some extent, the wider community. We will know when they have come into position because of the new sense of strength, security and freedom in the Holy Spirit that will be evident – as well as the fruitfulness that will follow hard on the heels of their inauguration. This is a restoration of New Testament patterns and a fulfillment of our desire for God’s order. But beware God’s serendipity here! There is little doubt it will all look very different from what we have been expecting!

Local and translocal

It is perhaps important to stress again here the God-ordained interdependent nature of the whole church, local and translocal. As we have asserted or implied a number of times already, there is in reality only one church of Jesus Christ. So even local churches as we are defining them here are no more self-sufficient than an individual person, cell or congregation, and therefore need to be joined to the wider body to be complete and have real success. The purpose of the apostolic teams mentioned earlier is to establish, help and support local churches and their leadership as appropriate, so these churches can mature and multiply, finding their own key ministries from within as well as receiving ministry from outside. In the process, these visiting teams will be making kingdom connections - facilitating the wider networking essential for global church expansion, and also being agents for the creation of specific mutual, life-giving relationships between local churches in different parts of the world, as the Spirit makes such links. Again, this is in contrast to much of the apostling we have known in recent decades. In the past, these apostolic relationships ‘at a distance’ were mainly vertical and functioned within a particular denominational or stream context. Those will have to adapt in a changing situation. Either they will continue as a helpful but less significant support to one part of the local body, or evolve into a significant ministry to the whole local church - or simply disappear. As I mentioned earlier, some local churches (as we have defined them) will become apostolic home bases for traveling teams. However it works in each situation, there will be amazing and strategic links around the world that will mean in a very real and meaningful sense that to be part of the local church is to be part of the church world-wide.

The Flow of the Spirit

How the local church will be organised and express its life will vary from place to place as it does now, according to the history, culture and (hopefully) the present needs of that area. We must never interpret the principles here as representing or determinant of any specific form – like Macdonalds opening another virtually identical restaurant in yet another town. God intends displaying His manifold - i.e. 'many faced' - wisdom for all to see. He is a God of variety not uniformity. But there is an essential underlying understanding about unity and priorities which is non-negotiable for the future. We must be ready to die to our own ideas and desires to be part of God's greater purpose for the locality in which we live – and, indeed, his global purposes. We need to realise that perhaps more than ever before it is true that the river of God's Spirit flows where hearts are being joined, gulfs are being bridged, vision is corporate and a destiny is being pursued together.

The challenge today

At the present time it is important that each local congregation ask itself a fundamental question about how it views its life and ministry. Does it operate out of an independent mindset, expressing a unilateral vision, with only a secondary or optional regard to what else is going on locally? Or does it seek out fellow local believers, desiring a corporate vision for an area together, looking to find its place in the wider context? The latter situation must become normative for everyone to prosper. Sadly, much of the local linking that is going on today falls short of this principle, reflecting a struggle with issues of priorities. The truth is that until a group (or, let's face it, the leadership of that group) acknowledges that its own destiny and success is irrevocably tied up with that of all other groups in that area – and, indeed, the whole church world-wide - it will not give the necessary priority to finding and following a corporate vision, and in consequence will not be able to fully play its part in fulfilling God's highest purposes for that area.

CONCLUSION

The end is in sight

We have looked at the net that God is making, His fishing net. As in the parable Jesus told, God is building a net for a great catch of fish (people) at the end of the age. Looking back we can see that He has visited His church in recent years to encourage us and restore many things to us. And now its time for Him to build the end-time net. God is always moving things forward, according to His own schedule. We cannot afford to stand still or miss His timing. As the 90's started, many prophetic voices were predicting the transformation we are talking about here. One particularly respected voice prophesied that the church at the end of the decade would be almost unrecognisable from the one at the start. Yet this profound change has not yet happened: so were the prophets wrong? I don't think so. In my opinion the prophetic insight was correct, it is the church that has been painfully slow to respond to the Spirit. We are far more entrenched in our familiar surroundings and resistant to change than we think we are, and that has kept us, I believe, behind God's schedule. However, in many ways the 1990's have been a watershed for the church. We have certainly seen more failure of past methods and structures than we have success with our new ones. But most believers are agreed that there is no turning the clock back now. The scene is set for a fulfilment of the hopes of the early 90's, and, indeed, of the biblical expectation of a glorious church before the end comes.

The last great push

So where is it all going? Where does it end? Many people are talking about revival today. Others speak of great harvests of souls to come. Yet God has more in His heart than even these wonderful things. The Scriptures are clear: we know our mission mandate is fulfilled when we see Jesus return in glory. It is my firm conviction that we are entering the final stage in history and that the present stirrings in the church and the world – particularly events in and around Israel - are the beginnings of the final great `push' of God's Spirit, in partnership with God's people, that will ultimately usher in the return of Jesus. However, He will only come back to a spotless Bride in a fully evangelised world. The net represents both the Bride of Christ in its global completeness, as the body is joined together, and the Church's mission fulfilled, as it spreads over the face of the whole earth. We are all called to be part of this great enterprise.

A final warning

In all this change, we need to watch ourselves carefully. It is vital we remind ourselves constantly that it is God who is at work right now bringing about this great transformation. Rebellious, divisive and critical attitudes and behaviour on our part with regard to God's people and any existing church structures are never justified, and will seriously hamper, if not severely undermine, what God is doing at the present time, if given the space to do so. We must watch our heart attitudes, preserving the unity of the Body at all costs, following the footsteps which lead to the Cross. We need more grace than ever to stay right with God and right with one another through this time of change, looking to God to lead us forward and for us to simply find the grace to follow. Out of an undying love for the world God sent his Son to die for all people. God will only work His purposes out through those who will share in that same heart of love and self-sacrifice, and share the same vision to see the whole world netted with living Church, bearing witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ, so that the end might come.

As each part does its work…

As you have been reading this article concerning the Church at the turn of the Millennium, I hope you have been listening for what the Spirit might be saying to you through it. It is time for all God's people to be seriously asking Him to take from us all that obstructs His highest purposes through us. We then need to ask Him to fully include us in what He is doing today - both in the nations and down our street - rather than ask him to simply bless what we are doing. Expressed in different words, there is a need for sincere and radical repentance, ie. turning from that which is not lined up with God's will to that which is. We must then ask in simple sincerity: show us, Lord, our part in Your great scheme of things and we will do it. For the whole Church is built up as each part does its work. Ultimately, the church on earth boils down to you and me and every other Christian seeking to do what God tells us to do in the power of the Spirit. Let's ask God for the grace to do it!

How Do You Respond To God's Cutting Truth
Connie Giordano

Jun 21, 2004
"Truth strips them of their vices, sacrifices their idols, darts its lightnings against their easily besetting sins and absolutely requires a conformity to a crucified Christ." - Adam Clarke

Are you turning away your ears from God's Cutting Truth?

Answer these questions to find out -

How do you respond to Truth that "strips you of your vices," demands the "sacrificing of your idols," "darts its lightnings against your easily besetting sins, " and "absolutely requires a conformity to a crucified Christ"? Just how passionately are you hanging on to the "vices," "idols," and "pet sins" in your life? Do you find it highly offensive, repulsive, annoying, or even disgusting to be required to "conform" to a "crucified Christ" Who demands a "death blow" to your will and way?

How important is it to have "ears to hear"?

The Scriptures say much about the ears and hearing. To be able to hear with attention or interest, listen to, give heed to, yield to, and obey the Scriptures is a great blessing.

In fact, the Lord Jesus said in Matthew 13:16 - "But blessed are...your ears, for they hear." Deuteronomy 29:4 - We see from the Scriptures that "the hearing ear" comes from the Lord - "Yet the Lord hath not given you...ears to hear..." Proverbs 20:12 - "The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the LORD hath made even both of them."

Psalm 78:1 - The "hearing ear" listens to and is obedient to God's law - "Give ear...to My law..." It is bent or stretched out towards His promises and commands - "...incline your ears to the words of My mouth." Proverbs 4:20 - It pays attention to His utterances - "My son, attend to My words..."

So basically we can explain an "hearing ear" by three simple commands - "Give ear... to My law"; "Incline your ears to the words of my mouth"; "attend to My words."

The "hearing ear" is sensitive to God's Word and obeys it.

Two Scriptures that depict it are found in the Book of Proverbs - Proverbs 15:31 - "The ear that heareth the reproof of life abideth among the wise." Proverbs 13:1 - "A wise son heareth his father's instruction: but a scorner heareth not rebuke."

The "hearing ear" is one that listens to correction...gives heed to reproof and rebuke...and receives all punishment and chastisement from the Lord. It "heareth the reproof of life." In a wise son, it hears the Father's instruction - which includes all the checks and restraints...rebukes and reproofs...correction and instruction that come from his heart.

Are all of God's children "wise" sons and daughters? Do they all hearken to His commands as outlined in His Word? Do they all "hear" His chiding and reproof?

No, Proverbs 13:1 tells us that "...A scorner heareth not rebuke." These are those who are arrogant boasters and mockers of "harsh" or corrective words from the Lord.

2 Timothy 4:3 tells us about those who have "itching ears." They are desirous of hearing "pleasant" things from the Lord. They want "smooth" words which conform to their carnal wishes and feelings - the kind of instruction that will allay their restless and uneasy sinful desires.

2 Timothy 4:4 tells us about those who "turn away their ears from the Truth" and turn them unto fables and falsehoods.

Adam Clarke's Commentary so explicitly tells us what God's Holy Word actually does - "Truth strips them of their vices, sacrifices their idols, darts its lightnings against their easily besetting sins and absolutely requires a conformity to a crucified Christ."

These kind of people - mentioned by the Apostle Paul in 2 Timothy 4:4 - do not want this kind of Truth. In fact, they have gone so far as to "change the truth of God into a lie"(Romans 1:25). They have turned away their ears from such piercing Truth to believe any kind of "nonsense" that comes under the label of "Christian" or "God."

Lastly, Proverbs 28:9 tells us about those who turn away their ears from hearing the Law. They will not read the Bible nor expose themselves to any hard-hitting, sin-exposing, or plain-truth messages from the Scriptures - "He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination."

John 10:27 says - "My sheep hear My voice..." Nonetheless, Hebrews 3:15 warns - "...TO DAY IF YOU WILL HEAR HIS VOICE, HARDEN NOT YOUR HEARTS..."

Even though we are God's children and hear His voice, there are times when He speaks things to us that we do not like to hear. The temptation presents itself to become stubborn or obstinate to His command.

The Scriptures abound with example after example of times when the Father cried unto Israel - His people - and they would not hear.

Psalm 81:11 tells us - "But My people would not hearken to My voice; and Israel would none of Me." They were supposedly God's sheep, yet they would not give heed to His Word. They did not like His terms and refused to be ruled by His commands.

"Israel would none of Me." What does this mean? They refused or rejected God - did not incline their ear to Him...worship Him...find satisfaction in Him...were no longer attached to Him or cleaving to Him as their All-in-All.

Other Scriptures which demonstrate this resistance to God's commands are as follows - Proverbs 1:30 - "They would none of my counsel..." Proverbs 1:25 - They "...would none of My reproof." Psalm 81:11 - "...Israel would none of Me." Ezekiel 20:8 - "...they rebelled against Me, and would not hearken unto Me..." Zechariah 7:11 - "...they refused to hearken...and stopped their ears, that they should not hear." In Jeremiah 13:10, God called them "...evil people, which refuse to hear My words..."

We can hear the Father's cry of anguish for all of His children in Psalm 81:13 - "Oh that My people had hearkened unto Me, and Israel had walked in My ways!"

He desires for us to have an "hearing ear" - one that pays attention to His Word and obeys it. He desires that we receive His checks and restraints - rebukes and reproofs - upon our lives.

After all, Revelation 3:19 tells us - "As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten..." He does not cater to our whims and fancies. Today, if we hear His voice speaking to us, we must be careful not to harden our hearts against Him because it is not what we like or want to hear.

Job 9:4 - Let's remember the admonitions found in the Book of Job - "...who hath hardened himself against Him, and hath prospered?" Revelation 2:7 - and the Book of Revelation - "He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith..."

And let's be sure to always make this our earnest plea -

Lord Jesus, grant unto us an "hearing ear" and - at all events - keep us from hardness of heart.

3 Life-Changing Questions

3 Life-Changing Questions

2 Corinthians 5:11 - "Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences."

There are three very serious questions that we must ask ourselves at this point in time. They are as follows:

A. Have We Forgotten About The Terror Of The Lord?

The Apostle Paul was fully aware of the certainty of Judgment to come - for the sinner and saint alike. He had a keen awareness of the wrath and judgment of God. In fact, it became an electrifying motive that stirred him to action in the Kingdom work.

"Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord" - What was it that Paul knew? It was the "terror of the Lord."

What is "the terror of the Lord"? It is the awareness that the Lord Jesus is the Great Judge Who is coming once again to this earth "in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of His power"(2 Thessalonians 1:8-9).

It is a subject that should inspire terror and alarm in each one of us - knowing that the day is soon to come when we shall all stand before the Judge and give a strict account for everything that we have done in our bodies. We are moved to extreme gravity in our walk with the Lord when we realize that He will be very particular and very just in His evaluation of our lives.

Some questions we must ask ourselves are - Have we forgotten about "the terror of the Lord"? Do we live each day of our lives with it on our minds and in our hearts? Is it our main motivation for action in the Kingdom work?

It is sad to say - but in this day and age, there is hardly any mention of the "terror of the Lord" from the pulpits of the land. Very seldom on Christian TV or radio will you ever hear a preacher mention such a crucial topic.

Could this be why so much of the Church is spiritually asleep? Have they been lulled to sleep by the preachers singing out lullabies to the tune of "Jesus Loves Me This I Know"?

Is this all that we know? That Jesus Loves Me? Isn't it time that we also know the "terror of the Lord" as well? As we have seen, it's in the Bible right there along with the Love of God.

Have we emphasized one to the point where people are not even aware that a Judgment Day is on the horizon? Many will be in for a rude awakening on that day, and they will have the preachers and the Christians to blame.

Don't you think that it is time that we - as the Body of Christ - mature in the Faith and get a hold of this concept of the "terror of the Lord"?

So many run off to seminary or Bible School and graduate - not knowing one thing about it. Yet, Paul the Apostle used this topic as a springboard for his entire ministry of soul winning.

Something is definitely wrong here. Wouldn't you agree?

B. Are We Persuading Men?

What exactly did Paul have in mind when he said that "knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men"? How do we possibly "persuade men"?

Using the means of two specific subjects - a future day of accountability for all of our thoughts, words, and actions, as well as a day of future recompense for all wrongdoing - we endeavor to provoke people to "flee from the wrath to come"(Matthew 3:7).

Using the Scriptures, we make "men" fully aware of the consequences of going astray from God or following their own way. We attempt to convince them to be prepared for the day of accountability or judgment by preaching a strong word of repentance from all sin and holiness of living.

Some questions we must ask ourselves are - Who is persuading who here? Is the Church persuading the world, or is the world persuading the church?

Has the world convinced us to calm down and not be so forceful, straightforward, or fiery in our approach of presenting the Gospel? Have we toned down a bit and altered our message to appeal to the sinner? Have we become more concerned that we do not offend any one than that the Truth be preached? In the end, have we allowed the world to subtilely influence us to their way of thinking?

O Saint of God, who are you persuading today? In the "mission field" where God has planted you(and every saint is called to one), are you inciting men to Fear God, repent of all sin, and live holily in preparation for the Judgment Day, or are they swaying you to lighten up and compromise your godly standards?

C. Are We Fully Aware Of The Fact That Our Lives Are Lived In The Sight Of God And Men?

The Apostle Paul interjected a "but" in his statement which brought a contrast between the saint and the sinner.

Once again, we quote 2 Corinthians 5:11 in its entirety - "Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences."

He spoke of "the terror of the Lord." He then mentioned the importance of "persuading men." His train of thought is abruptly changed with the word "but." He changes his audience from the sinner to the saint - "but we."

What message does he have for the Christian? What marked distinction does he draw between the saint and the sinner?

"But we are made manifest unto God" - In other words, we have nothing to hide. We are not cringing back from God in fear. He knows our hearts. He knows that our definite goals and purposes are to live wholly for Him and to see Him glorified in this earth. We desire to please Him and Him alone. That is "made manifest" unto Him.

Not only is He acquainted with all of our ways, but men know us as well - "and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences." We live transparent lives before all. The people around us know us for who we really are. We are not fakes, phonies, or hypocrites. We do not act godly on Sunday and then live like the devil the rest of the week. We are not sweet, kind, and loving before the church members and irritating, angry, demanding, controlling, and fitful before our families.

We should have nothing to fear come Judgment Day. The subject of the "terror of the Lord" should not really alarm us if we are doing our part - persuading men and living our lives sincerely and openly before God and men.

Using the "terror of the Lord" as a springboard for your argument, are you persuading men to "flee from the wrath to come"? Are you living a life that pleases God and clearly defines what a Christian really is?

Judgment Day is on the horizon.

Knowing this will either frighten you or stir you up to get busier than ever before.

Which will it be?

May God Bless His Word.

Heavenly Workshop

Vicki Camp

… a vision portion recv.'d 2-19-'04
I was praying and in the Spirit I found myself in a room that appeared to be a workshop. Jesus was here standing just in front of me. There were people (or angels?) working here in different areas of this shop …one in a corner was working on clocks, some I saw were working in pottery, others seemed to be occupied and busy with different projects that I could not identify clearly; but -- there was metal working and wood working and engine working. This was a workshop, but one like I could never have ever imagined because of all the variety of projects! ….

Most important was that Jesus was here standing in front of me. He wore a work-apron of what seemed to be natural leather, almost full length stopping somewhere below his knees. He stood at a blacksmith's anvil which was between us there. Jesus was placing two thin rods, like sticks – one in each of His' Hands upon this anvil…… these rods were glowing red/white at the lower half ends, as if they'd just come from the fire, or blacksmith furnace.

I was then made to 'know/understand' that these were two drumsticks in Jesus Hands (!) This information very much surprised me.

Drumsticks..... however, they were made of some kind of supernatural metal, not wood. Yet, they were drumsticks as we might use in the natural for playing drums, or hollow logs or 'whatever's'. I knew their material was a heavenly metal, for it appeared as a creamy white, a pearl color having the luminescence of many colors on their surface. I knew these were constructed of strong and special elements, these two drumsticks.

I watched Jesus forming and shaping these two metal-drum-sticks – as He rubbed them against each other (!), while they were pliable in their red/white hot glow. Jesus was somehow making the drumsticks perfect in balance and shape as He worked the two sticks against each other, on the anvil (for I saw no hammer, or any other tool He used). When he was finished Jesus then slipped the two drumsticks into his tunic at the chest, at HIS' Heart they were being placed - and, as Jesus opened His' tunic just a little I saw some of the Fire at His' breast, the Fire emanating from His' Heart.. (awed....)

As if in answer to my unspoken, rather dumbfounded questions, Jesus then began to reveal some to me concerning 'these two drumsticks'; These were instruments who were being forged and fired in the furnace of His very own Heart, and then being shaped of His very own Hands -- right now,,, on His' anvil ...... and Jesus wanted me to see and understand that this is a present-time operation. As Jesus was revealing this to me, I thought of the scripture, ' as iron sharpens iron, so a man sharpens the countenance of a friend ' (my paraphrase, Prov. 27:17),,, concerning these two rods, two drumsticks of heavenly metal...... Jesus nodded His approval and His "Yes" to my heart thoughts. This was so.

Jesus spoke to me of why the two drumsticks He worked upon were important -- Theses two were soon to have a unique 'cadence' to play that will be vital for all Believers to hear and come into alignment of, each one of us, and each one of us with each other... yes, important to be at, of, and in Jesus 'beat'. He told me this is why I was being shown this vision depiction; To see that He, Jesus is working diligently presently in forming and balancing and the perfecting of these two instruments,,, as depicted to me in this heavenly workshop.

These two drumsticks will give a special beat and cadence, to be 'beat and drummed forth' to Jesus' people. This sound will be of Jesus calling and Voice as formed at His' very Own Fiery Breast and of His most holy able Hands....... Christ' Fiery Heart and Love instruction to HIS' Beloved, HIS' army of Saints who have ears to hear their Master via the 'beat & cadence' of these two drumsticks ~selah.

I feel this vision portion may have many facets of revelation which each reader may understand, receive and judge. Along with these different gleanings of each reader, I sense of Lord for my own understanding that the drum sticks of this vision/experience are depicting our Lord's two servant gift persons of apostles and prophets gifted into His Body; Gifted of our Lord into and for His' beloved Blood bought Church; And HIS' Bride in the forming,,, now....... ~v.c.
(Other folks comments and inputs to this vision are on our web site, if any are interested to read these further .....)

Heart Explosions

Mary Clark

Tonight, during worship, the Lord said “heart explosions.” Then He showed me a globe of the world, and said “I am causing heart changes from sea to shining sea.” Here is what He has to tell us about these “heart explosions,” and changes from sea to shining sea:

I, the Lord God Almighty, have spoken My heart to My beloved. I have called to you, asking that you draw nearer. I have many wonderful plans for your future in Me. I have many wonderful plans for the end of this age, and the beginning of the new age that is about to EXPLODE in your midst. Listen to My voice. Hear My whispered words, and know that they come directly from My heart:

I, the eternal King, have looked on you, My beloved, with kind favor. I am intent on bringing you into a new hour with Me, and nothing will ever stop Me. Know that My delight in you is overwhelming. It is not something easily understood by man, but nevertheless it is there – it is there in its purest form.

I am delighted to tell you that I am making changes in willing hearts – hearts willing to comply with Me, looking to Me, the Author and Finisher of their faith, to bring them into a wonderful new place. Realizing that the Almighty One has His hand on you should make you smile a sweet smile of contentment, for I am the all-powerful One, and I can and will do wonderful things in a heart that is willing to serve Me – wonderful things.

Be that as it may, many refuse Me. They want to put Me in a box or really not give Me the time of day. They wish to ignore Me, pretending that I am not there – that I hold no reign in the world or in their lives. But they are sadly mistaken. I do hold reign in the world, and in the lives of all who live and breathe in the air of this place called earth. I am a sovereign God. I am not a God who is powerful one moment and suffers a shortage of that same power the next. No! My power never vacillates. It is constant, beloved, just as My love for you is constant.

In this day, I am doing many wonderful things in hearts. I am taking hearts that favor Me and My work, and doing things that you cannot fathom. Be still and know that I am your God. I am at work in YOU! I am causing heart explosions in those hearts that are bringing about WONDERFUL changes. Be changed, beloved. Be changed by the mighty work of your God, and know that it delights Me to do this work. In fact, it is most satisfying. I want your hearts cleansed – purified by My loving, careful work. I want you to know true heart satisfaction in the work of your God – the One Who holds you dear.

So get ready to see some changes develop in your midst, and know that they come by My hand. I am working throughout the whole earth. I am bringing about a miraculous work – a stabile work – a work that will live forever. Be of good cheer! Your God is satisfied deep within by His ongoing work. He is smiling a smile of contentment over YOU. Be adjusted – be well-adjusted by the hand of your God and know the true heart satisfaction that My work brings – know the living touch of your God and walk in the wonder it provides.

I am your God. I have touched your lives in many wonderful ways in the past, but NOW I am getting ready to touch it in a BIG way – a way too BIG for words. Get ready for MAJOR assignment to spring forth, and know with each assignment that I present to you, I am equipping you for the hour to walk in My truth mightily. And know this too, beloved: The hand of your God is truly reaching forth and tweaking some areas in your heart. This will bring about an explosion in your heart that you will certainly realize. You will sit back, and say: “My God has touched My heart in a wonderful way. I am so satisfied with Him and His ways. Yes! I am satisfied with My Savior, and I want Him to be satisfied with Me. I want to embrace all that He is in the coming days. I want to walk in His truth. I want to be established in the realization that My soon coming King has given Me a testimony of His love, and I have accepted it. I have not only accepted it, I have embraced it and all that it contains. Truly, He has blessed Me. Truly, He has demonstrated His loving kindness to Me. I am not alone. I am not alone in this walk that He has given to Me. He is with Me – right beside me, and I will not question His methods. I will fall in line with His truth and walk according to His orders – according to His delight.” Yes, beloved, you will say these words, and I will say to you: “You have looked on Me as your God – your holy Savior. Now I want you to look on Me as more than that – more than you ever dreamed – more than you have ever known. For I have seen fit to reveal My love to you, and you have accepted Me and all that My love contains. Now the hour is right for a union of hearts, beloved. Now the hour is right for Me to call you My own in a new way – a wonderful new way!!!"

The Sextant
Mary Clark

sextant – an instrument used by navigators for measuring the angular distance of the sun, a star, etc from the horizon, as in finding the position of a ship.

I want you to know, beloved, that I am right on target. My plans are going forth as I have determined, and I will not fail in My endeavor.

Man uses many instruments to get his bearings, but I want man to realize that His bearings are found in Me. I am the One Who holds you secure. I am the One Who delivers you into a place of profound wisdom. Now is the hour to walk in the strength of your God, knowing that He is holding you secure, and your bearings are found in staying close to His side.

I am the God of the whole universe. I know what holds all together. I understand the inner workings of things that you do not even realize exist. "How is all of this accomplished?" you ask. I tell you, beloved, that all power, might, strength, intelligence – knowledge of man and knowledge of the living God – are contained in Me – your God. Never doubt this amazing fact.

And never doubt My great love for you. Never doubt My wisdom in creating you. I did a GOOD thing, and I continue to carry forth My GOOD plan. I am in the process of producing many times of enjoyment for My dear children. This, too, is a part of My wonderful plan – this GOOD thing that I am doing to bring forth My will in this last hour.

I am calling My children into a holy place with Me. Stay the course, beloved. Stay close to Me. Your successful arrival depends on your maintaining your focus. Don't get sidetracked by the world, but stay the course, looking to Me as the One Who will enable you to keep your bearings. I will keep you close by speaking My words of instruction. You will tell by My voice, as I speak to you, the urgency of the time. You will know that one who looks to the Beloved stays the course.

I have charted your position by My most expert hand. I fix your position in Me, moving you forward into the delight of My heart. I am moving you closer to the One Who is love, and has plans for you to reign in His kingdom of love. The finish line is in sight. The time is fast approaching when you will step into this place of wonder. So stay close. Listen to My voice, and know the delight of running the course and not having failed – not having failed the Master, and not having failed in your endeavor to bring pleasure to the heart of your God and Father – the Holy One Who enables you to keep your bearings – your bearings which are fixed, as you stay the course, coming closer to His heart.

Five Silver Planes
Mary Clark

In a vision, I saw five silver planes flying in the distance. Why did You show this to me, Lord?

I want the world to sit up and take notice at what I am about to do! I want the world to exclaim over My work, because it is a work like no other. No, never before in the history of man have I done a work like the one that I am about to do. Never in the history of the world have I sprung forth with such almighty power to show Myself to the world. You say, “But Father, what about the parting of the Red Sea? That was power, Father! And, Lord, what about the mighty flood in Noah’s day? That was power too.” I tell you, beloved, the world has never seen power like the power that I am about to exhibit. Never! No, never! Let Me tell you some things that I want you to look for. Let Me tell you some things to which you may look forward:

I am a God Who does an expert job in all that He undertakes. I am about to show you some sights that will not only get your attention, getting your eyes off the world, but I am going to show you some things that will make your heart turn flips. Yes, beloved. Your heart will flip-flop over the sights that I am about to show you.

You ask, “Well, Father, what is so unusual about five silver planes flying in the air?” I will tell you, beloved. These look like planes at a distance, but they are not planes, beloved. No, they are not planes. They are silver objects that you have never seen. They are coming your way as fast as the proverbial silver bullet. Yes, they are coming your way to show you something of great importance.

I take delight in My children. I take delight in seeing them realize their fancy – the desires of their hearts realized. I take delight in bestowing My finest on each of them. But in this day, I am doing something so stupendous that you are going to be at a loss for words. The words will not come forth to express the greatness of this hour that I am about to bring into your midst. No! The words just will not come forth. So get ready for a feeling of speechlessness to come about in your life, and know this: The Beloved is shining the light of His glory your way for a very expedient reason, and it is to reveal His heart to the nations. Get ready to go forth in My name as I direct, and express My heart. I will give you the words, beloved. You give voice to My words, because you are about to be ultimate shining examples of the living God in powerful demonstrations. You are about to see My glory for real on display in your lives. You are about to know some truths without a doubt and you will walk in this hour with your head held high in the knowledge that the One Whom you serve is not only in control, but He is leading the processional into a new place of glory.

I want My beloved children to realize something, and it is this: I have made a way for you to grow – grow fast in the knowledge of My love. I am presenting some unprecedented sights to you in the near future. So realize this. Reckon with those things that would keep you distanced from Me. Arrive safe in My arms, and let Me reveal My heart to you. For it is in knowing My heart that you will arrive to this great truth: The King of glory holds nothing back where His dear, precious children are concerned. He holds nothing at bay where the ones He adores are concerned, and in this hour He is presenting His HEART! Wonder of wonders!!! The Holy Master is about to present His HEART to His beloved children. And when this happens, look out. LOOK OUT!!! The end is near. Again I say, beloved, the end is finally near – so, so near!!!

His Glory His Presence

Cyndee Pillow

A word for the Lord's People caught in despair

We all have experienced how one small candle can bring light to a dark room. Imagine a light bright enough to light the world in the darkest of times. Imagine even still a light that would make a conscious willful decision to stay lit in these times. This would seem to be a great opportunity to show the glory of His presence in lives, yet many called to be lights sadly remain hardly a flicker.

Oppression and depression have surrounded many of the Lord's own as they have focused on the darkness so much that they have forgotten their hope and promise of deliverance. Many trials, fires and battles have created a major struggle for spiritual survival. Weary from an overload of the enemy's attacks in various areas, many have slumped into despair and hopelessness.

The Lord has a word in Isaiah 60:1-2 (amplified) that says:

"Arise (from the depression and prostration in which circumstances have kept you--rise to new life)! Shine (be radiant with the glory of the Lord), for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you!

For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and dense darkness (all) peoples, but the Lord shall arise upon you (O Jerusalem), and His glory shall be seen on you."

His glory that shall be seen on His people is His presence. We have all that will ever be needed to stand in the darkest of days that we will face. Jesus is with us and with that fact alone, we can worship and be thankful for his presence in our lives.

The Lord says,

> " ARISE and be depressed no more. ARISE and stand in MY GLORY. STAND in the assurance that I AM with YOU. Stand because I have made a covenant promise with you that I will remain with you through the darkness. I will walk through the valley, and I will walk through the fire and I will bring you across to the other side to be with me forever. I will walk hand and hand with you up the mountain and we will sit in heavenly places together. Yes we will.
> See ME now. Focus on Me again and not circumstances that have hindered your joy and your progress in Life. See My face alone again. Don't focus on the darkness but BEHOLD THE LIGHT OF MY GLORY in YOU. It is still there. You can be renewed again, but it requires a new level of faith. I will help you and this is what you must do.
> Surrender the darkness to Me. Lay it on the alter. Lay it at my feet. Let me take the darkness and crush it's affects,as my light destroys it's power. I am with you. Turn away from the distressing scenes, depressing news, oppressing circumstances, and negativity that the world sends daily. Do not be distressed nor despair. Remember that I have told you before hand that these things must come upon the earth. They should be of no surprise. Reach into your heart and remember the presence that dwells with you of Myself, and be thankful. I chose you and loved you before you ever knew Me. I called you to Myself and you are Mine. Remember and think on these things and My joy will come as a refreshing well of water spilling up and out."

Headless Horsemen
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Oct 6th, 2004
www.upstreamca.org

I heard " Headless horsemen" and asked the Lord what He wants to say.

"Some trust in chariots and horses, but MY OWN trust in ME. Some trust in their own strength to do things. But those who KNOW ME, trust in ME.
And I am making the men who trust in horses to be headless in the coming days! No longer will I extend favor to those who trust in themselves. They will be exposed for what they have trusted in. So I admonish you to come again, to buy gold from ME with which to make yourselves whole.

Those who know ME, know that I am a rewarder of those who diligently seek ME, and not their OWN ways. I am pouring out GRACE to repent and change, if you will only come seek that. I am changing the face of the church and she will not be what she has been. She will NOT be led by HORSEMEN, but by true shepherds in the days to come. I am doing away with the old order and the traditions of men, and the will be MY ORDER where I AM GOD, and where I AM PREEMINENT, so that My people will receive the care and nurturing they need to be made WHOLE.

Again I tell you that the unholy one is coming, and there will be an ascendancy for all who follow him that are wicked and too fearful to stand against his spirit. Men will betray brothers and sisters will betray mothers.
Children will be given up and parents will be reported for speaking against his ways. His ways will SEEM to have a semblance of religion, but it will be mixture and ungodliness of the highest order. You cannot stand but ON MY WORD, and IN ME. I am disciplining you now, that you might become stronger like MY warhorses in battle to withstand the assaults of the enemy.

KNOW MY WORD and STAND ON MY WORD for this one will twist it to pervert the TRUTH and hide the motive behind his actions. Do not be deceived by the false PEACE that will come. For they will say "PEACE, PEACE", then there will be sudden destruction! KEEP YOUR WATCH, oh watchmen, and do not let up until Jerusalem is made a praise in the earth.
Suddenlies are upon you! SUDDENLIES will catapult you into what I have been preparing you for soon. Suddenly the Lord will come to His temple!
Be expentant My loved ones. For I will make the horsemen headless who come against MY OWN. Remember the days of Egypt. And remember the works of old I did for them in this hour. INCREASE YOUR FAITH through the word and I will increase it through circumstance and you calling on ME for strength! WORSHIP ME in the beauty of holiness and in the spirit of TRUTH, for I am seeking after your wholeheartedness and restoring all that has been stolen. I will restore all the canker worm has eaten. "

Ex 15:19 NKJV For the horses of Pharaoh went with his chariots and his horsemen into the sea, and the LORD brought back the waters of the sea upon them. But the children of Israel went on dry land in the midst of the sea.

Isa 28:27-29 NKJV For the black cummin is not threshed with a threshing sledge, Nor is a cartwheel rolled over the cummin; But the black cummin is beaten out with a stick, And the cummin with a rod. 28 Bread flour must be ground; Therefore he does not thresh it forever, Break it with his cartwheel, Or crush it with his horsemen. 29 This also comes from the LORD of hosts, Who is wonderful in counsel and excellent in guidance.

Isa 31:1-2 NKJV The Folly of Not Trusting God
Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help, And rely on horses, Who trust in chariots because they are many, And in horsemen because they are very strong, But who do not look to the Holy One of Israel, Nor seek the LORD!
2 Yet He also is wise and will bring disaster, And will not call back His words, But will arise against the house of evildoers, And against the help of those who work iniquity.

Jer 4:29-30 NKJV The whole city shall flee from the noise of the horsemen and bowmen. They shall go into thickets and climb up on the rocks. Every city shall be forsaken, And not a man shall dwell in it.
30 "And when you are plundered, What will you do? Though you clothe yourself with crimson, Though you adorn yourself with ornaments of gold

Ezek 38:1-17 NKJV Gog and Allies Attack Israel
Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 2 "Son of man, set your face against Gog, of the land of Magog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy against him, 3 and say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Behold, I am against you, O Gog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal. 4 I will turn you around, put hooks into your jaws, and lead you out, with all your army, horses, and horsemen, all splendidly clothed, a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords. 5 Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya are with them, all of them with shield and helmet; 6 Gomer and all its troops; the house of Togarmah from the far north and all its troops — many people are with you.
7 "Prepare yourself and be ready, you and all your companies that are gathered about you; and be a guard for them.
8 After many days you will be visited. In the latter years you will come into the land of those brought back from the sword and gathered from many people on the mountains of Israel, which had long been desolate; they were brought out of the nations, and now all of them dwell safely. 9 You will ascend, coming like a storm, covering the land like a cloud, you and all your troops and many peoples with you."

10 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "On that day it shall come to pass that thoughts will arise in your mind, and you will make an evil plan: 11 You will say, 'I will go up against a land of unwalled villages; I will go to a peaceful people, who dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates' — 12 to take plunder and to take booty, to stretch out your hand against the waste places that are again inhabited, and against a people gathered from the nations, who have acquired livestock and goods, who dwell in the midst of the land. 13 Sheba, Dedan, the merchants of Tarshish, and all their young lions will say to you, 'Have you come to take plunder? Have you gathered your army to take booty, to carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to take great plunder?''"

14 "Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "On that day when My people Israel dwell safely, will you not know it? 15 Then you will come from your place out of the far north, you and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a mighty army. 16 You will come up against My people Israel like a cloud, to cover the land. It will be in the latter days that I will bring you against My land, so that the nations may know Me, when I am hallowed in you, O Gog, before their eyes." 17 Thus says the Lord GOD: "Are you he of whom I have spoken in former days by My servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied for years in those days that I would bring you against them?

Ezek 38:18-23 NKJV Judgment on Gog "And it will come to pass at the same time, when Gog comes against the land of Israel," says the Lord GOD, "that My fury will show in My face. 19 For in My jealousy and in the fire of My wrath I have spoken: 'Surely in that day there shall be a great earthquake in the land of Israel, 20 so that the fish of the sea, the birds of the heavens, the beasts of the field, all creeping things that creep on the earth, and all men who are on the face of the earth shall shake at My presence. The mountains shall be thrown down, the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.' 21 I will call for a sword against Gog throughout all My mountains," says the Lord GOD. "Every man's sword will be against his brother. 22 And I will bring him to judgment with pestilence and bloodshed; I will rain down on him, on his troops, and on the many peoples who are with him, flooding rain, great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. 23 Thus I will magnify Myself and sanctify Myself, and I will be known in the eyes of many nations. Then they shall know that I am the LORD."'

Ezek 39:1-8 NKJV Gog's Armies Destroyed
"And you, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Behold, I am against you, O Gog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal; 2 and I will turn you around and lead you on, bringing you up from the far north, and bring you against the mountains of Israel. 3 Then I will knock the bow out of your left hand, and cause the arrows to fall out of your right hand. 4 You shall fall upon the mountains of Israel, you and all your troops and the peoples who are with you; I will give you to birds of prey of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be devoured.

5 You shall fall on the open field; for I have spoken," says the Lord GOD.
6 "And I will send fire on Magog and on those who live in security in the coastlands. Then they shall know that I am the LORD. 7 So I will make My holy name known in the midst of My people Israel, and I will not let them profane My holy name anymore. Then the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel. 8 Surely it is coming, and it shall be done," says the Lord GOD. "This is the day of which I have spoken.

Dan 11:40-45 NKJV The Northern King's Conquests
"At the time of the end the king of the South shall attack him; and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter the countries, overwhelm them, and pass through. 41 He shall also enter the Glorious Land, and many countries shall be overthrown; but these shall escape from his hand: Edom, Moab, and the prominent people of Ammon. 42 He shall stretch out his hand against the countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape. 43 He shall have power over the treasures of gold and silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt; also the Libyans and Ethiopians shall follow at his heels. 44 But news from the east and the north shall trouble him; therefore he shall go out with great fury to destroy and annihilate many. 45 And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the seas and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and no one will help him.

Hos 1:7 NKJV Yet I will have mercy on the house of Judah, Will save them by the LORD their God, And will not save them by bow, Nor by sword or battle, By horses or horsemen."

Nah 3:3-11
3 Horsemen charge with bright sword and glittering spear. There is a multitude of slain, A great number of bodies, Countless corpses — They stumble over the corpses — 4 Because of the multitude of harlotries of the seductive harlot, The mistress of sorceries, Who sells nations through her harlotries, And families through her sorceries.

5 "Behold, I am against you," says the LORD of hosts; "I will lift your skirts over your face, I will show the nations your nakedness, And the kingdoms your shame. 6 I will cast abominable filth upon you, Make you vile, And make you a spectacle. 7 It shall come to pass that all who look upon you Will flee from you, and say, 'Nineveh is laid waste! Who will bemoan her? 'Where shall I seek comforters for you?"
8 Are you better than No Amon That was situated by the River, That had the waters around her, Whose rampart was the sea, Whose wall was the sea? 9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, And it was boundless; Put and Lubim were your helpers. 10 Yet she was carried away, She went into captivity; Her young children also were dashed to pieces At the head of every street; They cast lots for her honorable men, And all her great men were bound in chains. 11 You also will be drunk; You will be hidden; You also will seek refuge from the enemy.

Rev 9:13-21 NKJV Sixth Trumpet: The Angels from the Euphrates

Then the sixth angel sounded: And I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,
14 saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, "Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates."
15 So the four angels, who had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, were released to kill a third of mankind.
16 Now the number of the army of the horsemen was two hundred million; I heard the number of them.
17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision: those who sat on them had breastplates of fiery red, hyacinth blue, and sulfur yellow; and the heads of the horses were like the heads of lions; and out of their mouths came fire, smoke, and brimstone.
18 By these three plagues a third of mankind was killed — by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone which came out of their mouths.
19 For their power is in their mouth and in their tails; for their tails are like serpents, having heads; and with them they do harm.

20 But the rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands, that they should not worship demons, and idols of gold, silver, brass, stone, and wood, which can neither see nor hear nor walk. 21 And they did not repent of their murders or their sorceries or their sexual immorality or their thefts.

Erasing Indebtedness
Priscilla van Sutphin

Oct 10th, 2004
"I am coming to pour out mercy and to erase any indebtedness. I speak not of debt that is financial but debt that is sin based. I am coming to pour out My glory and in that pouring out there will be great reversals in your life that will bring My RESURRECTION LIFE to shine through you. My Light is the light of all men. I AM the WAY, the TRUTH and the LIFE. I will be preeminent in your life that all men will be drawn to Me through you. I have promised you many times that I will come and bring a great reversal, so believe that you may receive. The one who is looking forward to company, will prepare their house and sweep it clean and make sure all is ready. They will prepare food and also put on fresh clothes so as to make a good impression on their company. I have been asking you to prepare ME an habitation, that I might come in and have union and communion with you.

I am the LIGHT. And you will shine like the stars in the heavens. You are my bright and shining stars. I am going to pour into you such glory and you will wonder at the change in your own heart and the change will bring you much closer to ME. You will see as I see and hear as I hear, and feel as I feel. I AM the All-Consuming FIRE and I will burn away all that cannot withstand the test, that you may be light in the darkness to all around you!

Righteousness and justice are the foundation of My throne. Goodness and mercy will follow you all the days of your life and you will dwell in the house of the Lord forever if you will abide in ME. Come and sup with Me. Come and let us reason together about the things that are on your heart for I am a God close at hand and not afar off. Is My hand too short to save? Indeed I am WITH YOU. I am Emmanuel. So believe that I am with you. Do not act as if I have gone somewhere. I am always with you, now and forever.
Run into My arms of LOVE and allow ME to be in control. I will do all you need for me to do if you will cast ALL your cares upon ME. For I care FOR you."

Ps 89:14 NKJV Righteousness and justice are the foundation of Your throne; Mercy and truth go before Your face.

Jer 23:29 AMP Is not My word like fire [that consumes all that cannot endure the test]? says the Lord, and like a hammer that breaks in pieces the rock [of most stubborn resistance]?

John 1:3-5 NKJV 4 In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. 5 And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it.

Luke 11:4 NKJV And forgive us our sins, For we also forgive everyone who is indebted to us. And do not lead us into temptation, But deliver us from the evil one."
Luke 11:4 AMP And forgive us our sins, for we ourselves also forgive everyone who is indebted to us [who has offended us or done us wrong]. And bring us not into temptation but rescue us from evil.

Though I Speak With the Tongues of Men and Angels
Priscilla Van Sutphin

October 5th, 2004
www.upstreamca.org

tearsofthefather@comcast.net

I heard: “Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal.”

1 Cor 13:1-10 AMP
1 IF I [can] speak in the tongues of men and [even] of angels, but have not love (that reasoning, intentional, spiritual devotion such as is inspired by God's love for and in us), I am only a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal.
2 And if I have prophetic powers (the gift of interpreting the divine will and purpose), and understand all the secret truths and mysteries and possess all knowledge, and if I have [sufficient] faith so that I can remove mountains, but have not love (God's love in me) I am nothing (a useless nobody).
3 Even if I dole out all that I have [to the poor in providing] food, and if I surrender my body to be burned or in order that I may glory, but have not love (God's love in me), I gain nothing.
4 Love endures long and is patient and kind; love never is envious nor boils over with jealousy, is not boastful or vainglorious, does not display itself haughtily.
5 It is not conceited (arrogant and inflated with pride); it is not rude (unmannerly) and does not act unbecomingly. Love (God's love in us) does not insist on its own rights or its own way, for it is not self-seeking; it is not touchy or fretful or resentful; it takes no account of the evil done to it [it pays no attention to a suffered wrong].
6 It does not rejoice at injustice and unrighteousness, but rejoices when right and truth prevail.
7 Love bears up under anything and everything that comes, is ever ready to believe the best of every person, its hopes are fadeless under all circumstances, and it endures everything [without weakening].
8 Love never fails [never fades out or becomes obsolete or comes to an end]. As for prophecy (the gift of interpreting the divine will and purpose), it will be fulfilled and pass away; as for tongues, they will be destroyed and cease; as for knowledge, it will pass away [it will lose its value and be superseded by truth]. 9 For our knowledge is fragmentary (incomplete and imperfect), and our prophecy (our teaching) is fragmentary (incomplete and imperfect). 10 But when the complete and perfect (total) comes, the incomplete and imperfect will vanish away (become antiquated, void, and superseded).

When my husband wanted a divorce, for a long time, I’d felt overwhelmed and neglected, and I was very sick with Chronic Fatigue Immunodeficiency Syndrome and Fibromyalgia. I gave out to everyone else , but did not take care of me very well. I didn’t know how. So I was incapacitated to do some things to the level I would have had I been whole at the time. But the fact is I was very unhealed and physically spent. The stress of a lifetime of on and off, abuse and rejection and self neglect had taken it’s toll on the physical. And the Lord convicted me at this time, that if I can’t even love my family as much as I need to, how could I possibly do ministry and reach out to others. The scripture He used was from Luke 6 where He says to ’ love your enemies, be good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you! ‘
I thought to myself…how can I do that if I am a failure at this. I also had so much been abandoned and neglected, and defeated in my personal life and relationships that I took on whatever anyone said about me. I was a success at work or in artistic pursuits, but in all else very dysfunctional, not to mention schizophrenic.

I say this to help some understand the level of pain that some humans go through, is not understandable to others who have not been through it. A person who has not been traumatized to the level of fear for their life over and over again at an early age, hasn’t a clue how hard that is. They can only imagine it. So for some of you to understand someone like me is like asking an banana to change into an apple.
A little girl who experiences molestation or rape as a toddler or preschooler, over time develops such an ingrained fear that distorts her soul and splits it into fragments of what it had been! This is called anguish. The Lord once showed me that anguish was to the soul what a cracked vase looks like…only in your soul.

GOD is the ONLY ONE Who can translate that experience to another for understanding. THAT is why we need to SEEK HIM, and not our opinions for advise to others. I am forever appalled at my own lack in doing this at times…so I cannot say you should do this without acknowledging the GRACE it takes for me to do it. NOTHING that is good comes from ME alone. Nothing that is good emanating from

YOU comes by your own effort. If it does it is flesh and not from the Spirit. GOD is the AUTHOR and FINISHER of our faith. He alone knows what it takes for one person who has been so pummeled to get to the place of TRUST in Him that He desires. We all think it just happens and that we have some internal stamina. But the days coming to us will test that STAMINA to the inth degree! There will be persecution and martyrdom on a scale yet unseen! And the love we need to give to others comes from HIM. IT MUST COME FROM HIM. THAT is why He is admonishing us in His grace to come close to Him for more healing.

It is not a fearful thing for me to consider dying for Christ. Rejection may still at times cause me some fear, but dying for HIM does not! That may sound strange. But it is not. God heals us in degrees. He works at one level then goes deeper, and deeper and deeper, till all that opposes HIM is eradicated. Some areas are excavated while others remain dormant. ALL PRIDE, ALL FEAR, ALL INSECURITIES and PAIN, must be excavated and forgiven and dealt with. And until the wounds of the soul are eradicated which usually is not till we meet our Maker after death…then we ALL HAVE IMPERFECTIONS. I am not alone in my fear or weakness to falling prey to the enemy. Many people like to PRETEND they are invulnerable, but that is only a Pharisaical FAÇADE and certainly not in character with the WORD OF GOD, which is truth. We go from GLORY to GLORY.

2 Cor 3:18 AMP And all of us, as with unveiled face, [because we] continued to behold [in the Word of God] as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are constantly being transfigured into His very own image in ever increasing splendor and from one degree of glory to another; [for this comes] from the Lord [Who is] the Spirit.

It doesn't come from us. That is part of the wonder of His GRACE. IT IS SUFFICIENT FOR US because we cannot do it ourselves! That was coming from the Spirit and not me…His GRACE IS SUFFICIENT because WE CANNOT DO IT OURSELVES! For it is by grace we have been saved and not by our WORKS. This is not new to us, but I know from my own dysfunctional experiences that I am NOT alone in this. IT is so EASY to get into works and striving to be good enough. If I get too prideful, He withdraws grace just so I can see that it is NOT in my own EFFORT that I can do any good thing. But it is only by HIS SPIRIT that I can and am able to do anything.

This is opposite to the stiff upper lift training of perfectionism and workaholism. In that training you hear " If you don't take care of yourself, no one will! " " You have to strive to get an education so you can take care of yourself." It is training in SELF SUFFICIENCY and the opposite of this:

Matt 6:25-34 NKJV Do Not Worry (Luke 12:22-31)
"Therefore I say to you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink; nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food and the body more than clothing? 26 Look at the birds of the air, for they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they? 27 Which of you by worrying can add one cubit to his stature?
28 "So why do you worry about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin; 29 and yet I say to you that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
30 Now if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will He not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?
31 "Therefore do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' 32 For after all these things the Gentiles seek. For your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things. 33 But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you. 34 Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble.

FAITH is not perfected by the stiff upper lip. IT IS PERFECTED THROUGH TESTING!!!
Yes…TESTING! Unless we go through some things that we can't "handle", then we will never have the faith it takes to believe for greater miracles! If you can do it yourself, then you don't need GOD. So He HAS to get you in a position of desperation and being unable to do something to get you to TRUST that HE can and will do it! And until we learn the lesson, we will march around the desert some more, being tested again until we pass the test! This can be very unnerving to go through, but it doesn't mean you are a failure, but that you need more training. Just like a child learning to walk, has to go again and again, and fall down again and again before they finally can walk without falling. God knows for each person how much it will take for trust to be established. And where there has been betrayal and abuse, or mistrust, how to REESTABLISH TRUST again. The amount of love and reinforcement may just be paramount to the amount of pain and abuse received sometimes. So we cannot RUSH people through the process just so we don't have to put up with them or so they won't be a burden to us. Didn't He say, that even the weaker brother is NECESSARY? He does it all through LOVE & His great GRACE! He is SO wonderful. He never gets tired of us! People get tired of us, but HE never gets tired of us. People misunderstand us, but HE never misunderstands. And a bruised reed he does not break. He will have patience no one else has EVER had with you!

I know this because I have been the recipient of much of that grace! I remember when my mother died, I was sleeping in her bedroom on the bed she slept on. [My mother was into new age witchcraft – and had a jezebel spirit] I had one after another encounters with demons from the time of my divorce till after she died a year later. I could smell them. I could sometimes see them. I could feel them sometimes go through me or by me , trying to scare me. One time I remember waking up in a start when something sat on the bed while I was asleep and woke me…but nothing was there. Then God began to retrain me in warfare. I was in such an emotionally weak state, that I had let down my guard. But my son was also in that apartment and I didn’t want anything terrible to happen to him either.

I remember laying down at night and suddenly just as I was nodding off to sleep, I felt something attack me from the back that was the size of a man, but felt like it was crushing my lungs…and I cried out JESUS but my voice didn’t work, but three times I cried out Jesus in my spirit, and suddenly it was gone! OUTTA THERE! This is how He got me over my fear of demons. I was not just molested as a child but there was witchcraft involved. So I had great fear of darkness and death at the time. There have been many times in my life starting in the womb where the enemy tried to kill me. It was after getting saved that I suddenly would begin to see demons out of the corner of my eyes. After so many encounters, I got so fed up with these familiar spirits, and the Lord had been teaching me how to ignore them to defeat them. And finally one night or early morning I should say, I suddenly felt a pounding on the bed and a scratch on my knee, and looked up to see a full body apparition of a demonic being that looked like a man with long grey hair from the back, but it had TALONS to scratch me, and I couldn’t see the face, but it was in a long robe, and racing out the door. I remember hopping out of bed, furious with it…and chasing into the living room, but of course it was gone…I turned on the worship and began to quote from Revelations 19 and 20 to remind him or any more that might be around of their end!

That is how much more faith I had by the time God got through with me! I went through many painful experiences learning much from the Lord, and making many mistakes to get to that point. And even of late have overcome even more to know that if you really believe in HIS protection, you will be protected in ANY circumstance…but you must also OBEY His leadings. He does give us warnings and help us in all circumstances to have the wisdom we need. I remember that the first time I read ‘Pigs in the Parlor’ I was going through those lists at my mom’s apartment rebuking almost everything on the list, and sometimes I would feel things leave. I had not known anything about deliverance ministry till after the divorce, then I learned the hard way.

But then shortly after that I met a young lady who had seen in the spirit since she was in 6th grade in a Lutheran school and the Lord opened up her vision to see angels, demons, glories, etc. She taught me that the main thing for getting rid of demons was to INVITE THE LORD to come down. Then HE would deal with them. Because He had taught her this after they realized she could see them and they had tormented her. And isn’t this the same as the experience I had? By the third calling out to JESUS, suddenly the demon was gone! So sometimes it is not about rebuking, but rather about WORSHIPPING & PRAISING.

Another time, an acquaintance brought her son to me while I was still sick and alone with David, after my mom had died and we’d moved to a different apartment. She was tired of dealing with his rebellion and asked if I would keep him for a short time. I had just come out of worshipping for three hours, so it was good timing. So after she left, I looked at him, [I’ll call him Bob], and he was almost in tears. He was also tired of her rejection and conditional love. I began to pray and as I was kneeling down beside the chair he was sitting on in the living room, I felt to stroke his left arm from top to bottom.

This was kind of unusual…but the left hand in the Pigs in the Parlor book represents rejection, in the vision she had of schizophrenia. That’s a long story so not for now,but after a bit he shared a vision with me. He said while I was praying he saw three demons, navy, red, and black in color, and they were trying to put this rope around my neck, but everytime they did it, in the spirit, it would melt because of the fire on me he said!!!

He was doing drugs…so the ungodly trio of Sorcery, Divination and Witchcraft was present and trying to do something to me. Remember my mother was a witch, so spirits familiar to me. But they couldn't touch me when I was in worship and prayer! THAT IS THE PLACE OF IMMUNITY! In His presence is fullness of JOY! AMEN? Praise and worship and communicating with God is a place of SAFETY, our hiding place.

I have had many friends describe to me interferance with prayer when they just prayed for a long time. But when I worship and then go into prayer, I haven't had that experience [so far]. I'm sure there is opposition I don't see anymore, but it can't touch me when I am in worship and praise. I have had times in the last year and a half where I found it so hard to worship, but would offer the sacrifice of praise, and God would break through in communication.

Whenever witchcraft is around it tries to stifle the prayer and worship and the word. And if that doesn't work, he will send slumber your way or distractions. Anyhow…the point is that worship will break the back of the enemy no matter which one it is. Because when we worship, the Spirit comes MORE and you can actually if you were to see the Kabod, you would see what looks like a cloud around you. The air gets heavy and you can feel it on your hands.

After leading me into this arena, then the Lord began to teach me on LOVE and it's power in compassion in bringing miracles. Remember the prayer of St. Francis? If you never heard it:

"Lord, make us instruments of your peace.
Where there is hatred let us sow love;
Where there is injury, pardon; Where there is discord, union;
Where there is doubt, faith; Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light; Where there is sadness, joy.

Grant that we may not so much seek to be consoled as to console;
To be understood as to understand; To be loved as to love.

For it is in giving that we receive; It is in pardoning that we are pardoned;
And it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

AMEN"

This is the absolute essence of spiritual warfare! Just as Isaiah 58 is. We sow in the opposites to the world. Where there is hatred we sow seeds of LOVE. Where there is greed, we sow seeds of GENEROSITY, sacrifice and giving.

LOVE is as strong as death it says in the Word. Love is the greatest says the Lord. Therefore it is the most powerful weapon. So when we sow LOVE to our enemies, even when they are members of our own household…then we are fighting the good fight of faith, knowing the Almighty God Who IS WISDOM, doesn't demand of us more than He will give us grace for! I remember this story about Billy Graham that he was preaching and some witches were protesting and trying to disrupt outside, then one came in set on interruption which succeeded, but Billy told the people to just love on him. You see, Billy's son Franklin had taken to rebellion in his youth, but his parents knew to just love him. To give him the love he didn't deserve, just like God does to us.

Doesn't God every day give us love we don't deserve. It is His amazing GRACE! It is amazing that if I blow it, I can run to Him, and receive love when I am expecting a hammer to fall on me! It is LOVE when I grieve the Spirit, and instead of punishing me, He encourages me, and lets me witness to someone or pray for someone and they get healed. Then the person who blew it realizes how much love He has for us, because instead of withdrawing his love, He continues to love us into perfection. Love leads to repentance. You love on people till they wonder WHY and how can that person love me when I've treated them so badly. It heaps COALS on their heads we are told! Well, coals represent the purifying FIRE of the HOLY SPIRIT. So as I pour out that LOVE that is undeserved and unexpected. IT

DISARMS THE EVIL ONE who wanted to stir up strife and hate.

Another example from Merlin Carothers: A mother of a teen was frustrated with her daughter who was rebellious and railing on her, swearing at her. She read one of his books, and applied the principle of PRAISE in the face of the enemy. She was doing dishes one night, and her daughter started an argument and swore at her and the mother turned to her and said calmly but firmly with a smile " PRAISE THE LORD"! At which point the daughter became more animatedly defiant and swore some more. So the mother stood her ground and said, "PRAISE THE LORD"! THEN, the daughter turned on her heels, went into her bedroom and locked the door and didn't come out till morning, and she NEVER swore at her mom again! You see, the mom was able to see, it wasn't her daughter she was battling. It was the demon oppressing her. So she was speaking to the demon…"PRAISE THE LORD"! hahahaa! We WAR NOT AGAINST FLESH AND BLOOD, but against powers and principalities, etc.

We must really see it at the moment so we know what weapon to use. Call on the Lord and HE will supplant the enemy. Sometimes we also need reinforcements! EVEN MOSES had to have Aaron and Hur to lift up his arms so that the battle Israel was fighting could be won. There is a dynamic in enjoined prayer that will defeat the enemy quicker than if you do it alone. And this is important in this hour, for the enemy is coming in like a flood, knowing there isn't much more time. So we cannot be alone. The Lord has warned in past prophecies to no longer go out except two by two AT LEAST. And what He has shown me for this ministry is to develop TEAMS of people who go out to assault the enemy's territory together. People like Randy Clark have been doing that for some time now. It is effective. IT is the GOD PLAN. He did it with the apostles and we are coming into an apostolic age as well. So we cannot be doing things alone any more. We need to go in force. One can set 100 to flight, two can set 10,000 to flight and three by those standards could set 100,000 to flight!!! Praise the LORD!

So the key is, that we must learn to love one another. We must learn to sow in the opposites. We must learn to love ourselves, that we can love others. In order to love ourselves, we have to learn the depth of His love and grace towards us who BELIEVE.

Eph 3:17-19 AMP
17 May Christ through your faith [actually] dwell (settle down, abide, make His permanent home) in your hearts! May you be rooted deep in love and founded securely on love,
18 That you may have the power and be strong to apprehend and grasp with all the saints [God's devoted people, the experience of that love] what is the breadth and length and height and depth [of it];
19[That you may really come] to know [practically, through experience for yourselves] the love of Christ, which far surpasses mere knowledge [without experience]; that you may be filled [through all your being] unto all the fullness of God [may have the richest measure of the divine Presence, and become a body wholly filled and flooded with God Himself]!

SAVANT 1 : a person of learning; especially : one with detailed knowledge in some specialized field (as of science or literature)

Isaiah 42:1-4 AMP
1 BEHOLD MY Servant, Whom I uphold, My elect in Whom My soul delights! I have put My Spirit upon Him; He will bring forth justice and right and reveal truth to the nations. [Matt 3:16,17.]
2 He will not cry or shout aloud or cause His voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed He will not break, and a dimly burning wick He will not quench; He will bring forth justice in truth. [Matt 12:17-21.]
4 He will not fail or become weak or be crushed and discouraged till He has established justice in the earth; and the islands and coastal regions shall wait hopefully for Him and expect His direction and law. [Rom 8:22-25.]

"I am releasing a host of 'liberty savants' to the nations. They are those in whom is My Spirit, and those who have learned their lessons, so that they may teach TRUTH about GRACE, HOPE, LOVE, PEACE and JOY to the nations ! They will bring LIBERTY to those imprisoned by the enemy. They will not balk at the quest to establish TRUTH in the earth, no matter what the cost ! They are dedicated to ME alone. FREEDOM is on My heart. I want to see people set free. Many want to see people saved. But my heart is also to see them free from all forms of torment of the enemy.

The one who has been through much will be able to give much if they have submitted to the healing process and cried out to ME. I am coming to ruin the plans of the enemy and to override all his bulwarks to stop MY savants from going forth. There is much healing needed in all nations. I will mix and I will fix. I will tread out the grapes of wrath and nations will be shaken.
I will execute MY JUSTICE in the earth and bring millions to salvation. You are NOT alone My beloveds in your longing to see them set free from the tyranny of the enemy. That is something I have put in your heart ! I will establish MY KINGDOM and it will NOT fail. My plans do not fail. Just as My love never fails, so My plans for you are SURE.

I am making you to climb on the high hills of the earth and I will make you to shine before nations. They will be drawn to My glory in you !

Isa 40:3-5 NKJV
3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness: "Prepare the way of the LORD; Make straight in the desert A highway for our God. 4 Every valley shall be exalted And every mountain and hill brought low; The crooked places shall be made straight And the rough places smooth; 5 The glory of the LORD shall be revealed, And all flesh shall see it together; For the mouth of the LORD has spoken."

Keep to the old ways - the ways of holiness. Keep in your heart the desire to worship Me in the beauty of holiness. For I will honor the one who honors ME. I am Holy, and without holiness, no one shall see God ! When I perform My mysterious wonders, the eyes of men are to be on ME. Do not think to steal My glory. Glory belongs to Me alone ! There are consequences for trying to touch the glory ! I am stirring in your hearts an even greater love for the TRUTH ! Truth shall be your shield and buckler ! Ask for My GRACE, for I will empower you to do as I will if you ask ME. Whatever you ask, in My name, will be done !

STAND UP MY WARRIORS and beat the drums ! Beat the war drums ! For there is a release in the heavenlies coming that will bring forth more sounds of war. I AM LOOSING MY KINGDOM and it never goes forth unopposed until I come again ! But I have a huge surprise for the enemy. I have a HUGE surprise. You are My precious treasure and I am pouring out precious stones to you - special gifts from heaven to empower you for the days to come ! I WILL ESTABLISH MY GLORY IN THE EARTH ! Stand up and DANCE warrior bride ! For the sounds of shouts and laughter and joy must be heard by the enemy ! It will cause TERROR in his camp as you do this.
He has been trying to KEEP YOU from the intimacy. But when he hears the sound of the drums and trumpets blaring…indeed he knows he has something to fear ! And as he sees you worshipping and praying for revival and souls, and unity and LOVE…he is restless and nervous !

I told you that in this life you will have tribulation, but I have overcome it !
This last battle will be the worst yet ever seen on earth. PREPARE YOUR HEARTS, and withstand his attempts to discredit you and cause depression, for he is trying to steal, kill and rob all from you.
SING you singers ! Sing to ME a new song, and I will sing to you as well. I am putting a new song in your heart. A song of intimacy, a song of deliverance, a song of endearing love and appreciation, a song of JOY inexpressible for your KING of KINGS.
I am singing love songs that will break the back of death and darkness !
Be unashamed to sing to ME ! TAKE this worship into the streets and see what I do for radical lovers !

It is time to go forth NAKED and UNASHAMED ! Naked in the sense of transparency of who you are, and unashamed of the gospel of peace ! "

Then I heard the song " Blow the trumpet in Zion, Zion, Sound the alarm on My holy mountain ! Blow the trumpet in Zion, Zion ! SOUND THE ALARM !
Praise the LORD !

He Hugged Me!

Christmas time. A good time for reflection, and a time to remember what He has done for us. I feel like sharing a very personal testimony with you all, and I pray that you may be encouraged.

It was back in the beginning of year 1993. I suddenly learnt how God takes our prayers to the letter. I had just asked the Lord to “organize” my life, only to find out that God has a rather different concept of what “organize” means. Too late. I had already prayed and God was only too eager to answer that prayer. My life had been sort of messed up, so I just told God to take control. Frankly, it was like trying to quench a fire with gasoline. But then it happened; in the middle of turmoil Jesus hugged me; just like that, and everything changed.

I usually went to my room at about 8 PM to read and pray before going to bed later on. I would put some music and read some book, read my Bible and pray, or just “be” there with the Lord. That particular day in the summer of 93 I was at my brother’s house at about 4 PM and I began to feel an urgency to go back to my place and pray, although I did not have a prompt to pray for any specific issue. I took off somewhat startling everybody as I had just arrived a few moments ago, and arrived at my house about one hour later.

All the way home this desire, and hunger inside grew to an almost unbearable level. As I arrived at my place, I just went upstairs to my bedroom and immediately went to my usual kneeling place by a chair and knelt down. I could feel the presence of God in a rather unusual, very strong way, and although I wanted to pray, I was there without know what to say. I just knelt down and I said: “Jesus, would you hug me?” while at the same time I actually wrapped my arms around as if I was hugging someone. And then it happened.

All of a sudden the place was inundated by warmth as I had never experienced before. Suddenly I was literally hugging someone, I was touching someone physically; we were embracing each other. I could feel a head resting in my left shoulder, and could feel the touch of soft hair on my left cheek. I didn’t dare open my eyes, I wanted to see Him but at the same time I was scared. It was at the same time awesome and awful. I didn’t dare move either, I was just stuck there feeling this amazing love and at the same time experience the fear of the Lord in a way I never felt before.

I began to cry almost uncontrollably; the only way I can describe is like when babies cry so much that they stop breathing for moments (in Spanish this is medically called “sobbing spasm”); the fact is that I could not breathe, I just wept and wept and wept. After some time –I actually lost sense of time- I managed to speak, and I just said: “Lord, I want to go with you, I just want to go up hugging you”, for the first time in my life I heard an audible voice, if from the outside or from the inside I don’t know, I only know I heard Him say: “Conrad, I still want you here” Slowly He began to “withdraw” until I could not feel Him any more in a physical way, but His presence remained there and I can say it is still with me.

When things seem to go wrong, or I do feel down, or frustrated; when all the forces of hell seem to be loosed, and there are troubles of every kind, and trials; when it seems that all the things I gave my life too have been lost, and that all I have is ashes; and when people do not seem to understand, or even worse when people scoff or laugh at me –sometimes I even feel that some people literally laugh when reading this testimony- then I remember that night back in time and I can say “He hugged me!” Then, as the old song goes: “It is well with my soul”

He Is A Bridegroom
Dana Candler

"You have ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse; You have ravished my heart with one look of your eyes..." (Song Sol. 4:9).

The heart of God is ravished with enjoyment and delight over His people. We cannot pass by this quickly. We have known the concept of His love, yes, but often this very knowing and familiarity is what hinders us from ever entering into the depths and actually drinking from the deep wells of Love's plentitude. We cannot let common words stand-in for experienced realities. To say that He loves me is a familiar notion indeed, but to pursue, know and experience His love is a rare preoccupation. Our familiarity with the words deceives us into thinking we have personally known the exceedingly vast riches that lie beyond the realm of language and in the eternal deep of God's heart. We confuse the hearing of a concept with the actual abiding of that reality inside of us. Yet His Love is a realm that transcends all mental comprehension and leaves all utterance ashamedly barren. It is to this unknown world of eternal pleasures that we give ourselves as we begin our pilgrimage into His ravished heart.

God describes His Love in the Word as surpassing knowledge (Eph 3:19). Paul proclaims, "'...Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, nor have entered into the heart of man the things which God has prepared for those who love Him'" (1 Cor. 2:9). A raging River of affections surges within His heart. It is a holy, violent flow of love. Daniel beheld a fiery stream coming forth from before the throne of the Ancient of Days. In Psalm 36, David describes a glorious river of pleasures, the very fountain of life that God causes His people to drink from. This river of desire within His heart is the one route into the place of intimacy that we long for. We can hear a thousand teachings and read a hundred books, but we will only find the satisfaction of our search in the deep of His heart. We must plunge the Person of Jesus Christ. It is not casually or from a distance that we dive into the depths of these vast regions, but rather we enter this Ocean by a focused abandonment, a violent pursuit and a lifelong drinking.

We were made for this love. Our entire story is wrapped up within its tale. For love we were created, and in love is our eternal testimony. It is our reason, our purpose, our end and our beginning. We have heard with our ears of a God of love, and we have known with our minds that in this love is our life, but have we yet been embraced by Love Himself? Have we deeply considered love's mysterious nature that has caused the entire purpose of mankind to be a stunning narrative of holy romance? Have we been overcome with delight and wonder at the boldness of Love's pursuit? Indeed, we have not yet even begun to search its treasuries. Language we have, perhaps, but the living glories of Love's delights we have only just begun to peer into. Though love is our eternal story, we do not yet even slightly recognize or know it. This is the journey we are embarking upon. It is the voyage into Love Himself.

The Everlasting Story

To begin the great story of our existence we must start at the end. For the end of natural history best unveils the beginning and all that lies between. The end of our story, as recorded in Revelation 19, is a glorious wedding day. This passage magnificently announces the ultimate purpose of all creation and the natural order. It reveals the day when the bride of Christ meets her heavenly Bridegroom and the marriage covenant is established.

In this passage, we find a great multitude gathered together on the sea of glass like crystal. The Body of Christ, all the saints from all history, will finally be assembled together for the first time. An anticipation that has been building for thousands of years will fill the air as each person looks around in wonder, beholding with natural eyes for the first time what he or she had only ever peered into with eyes of faith. Our voice of one will sound from the throne of God, saying, "Praise our God, all you His servants and those who fear Him, both small and great!" God will fling wide the great door of invitation and beckon believers to release the song of their heart to Jesus, the Desire of All Nations! Together, we will ascribe our love and declare our affections to the One who is beautiful and glorious!

This wondrous end of natural history was purposed from before there was time. In the mysteries of eternity past, God the Father, God the Son and the Holy Spirit dwelled in unsurpassed union and intimacy. The Holy Three have always existed as a divine dance of romance, a whirlwind of affection and pleasure and love unending. It was from this pulsating intimacy that God created humanity and the natural order. Though we will always remain the creation, He formed humanity to enter into relationship with the Trinity, the Godhead. In His great mysterious heart was a desire to bring human beings into the holy river of affections known between Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and to share in this Divine communion with them. The Father desired a family, and the Son desired a bride. From this overflow of burning desire, humanity was brought forth.

Yet it was not without a determined price established before creation that this glorious union would come to pass. It was for this ultimate end and purpose of eternal intimacy between God and man that the Lamb was slain before the foundations of the world (Rev. 13:8). To bring humanity into this astounding position of nearness with Himself, Jesus was crucified, and we were hidden in Him (Col. 3:3). It was for the joy set before Him, His eternal inheritance promised Him by His Father, that He endured the cross. He had the power to lay down His life and the power to take it up again, and He laid it down by His own choosing (John 10:18). Taking upon Himself our punishment, we are clothed in the very righteousness of Christ, justified freely by His grace and given eternal peace with God. For He chose us in Him before the foundation of the world, that we might be holy and blameless before Him in love, forever accepted in the Beloved (Eph. 1:6).

When God created Adam, He said to him, "I will make a partner suitable to you." The Holy Spirit revealed to Paul that this promise ultimately speaks of Jesus and the church (Eph. 5:32). When God said this to Adam, He was declaring the hidden purpose of His heart from eternity past, the mystery of the ages, to bring forth for His Son His own bride that would be a fitting and suitable companion. He desired to bring forth voluntary lovers of God, entirely possessed by Jesus, a people who chose Him and lived out of the spontaneous overflow of their hearts rather than by mandatory obedience. The Father has kept this eternal motivation central in His administration and unfolding of all human history. He planned the wedding day, this unprecedented celebration feast, so that we, the dust of the earth, redeemed by the blood of Jesus, could end natural history where we began - in the embrace of the Son of God.

On that final day, Jesus will have affectionate partners who are voluntary lovers fully possessed by Him, and natural history will culminate with a lovesick bride in the image of Jesus, ruling the Kingdom of God with Him! "'Then the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people, the saints of the Most High...'" (Dan. 7:27). Oh how great is the mystery, this hidden plan that God has designed from before the ages!!

His Inheritance And Ours

Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Yisraelite,

Before I get into this letter, I want to bring you up to date as to a couple of miracles that have just taken place, or are they? Our sworn enemies (Ps. 83) have suddenly decided to warm up to us. The Jordanian and Egyptian ambassadors, who left Yisrael at the start of the Palestinian present war of attrition against us, are returning, and Kuwait, Libya and Morocco are forming trade relations with us. Now, doesn't that sound just wonderful?! However, we are wondering what kind of concessions have already been made by our government to merit these rewards by these nations. Somehow I don't think it is because we are removing a few settlers and dismantling their homes, nor is it a reward for releasing some Egyptian would-be-terrorists. What were the VERY painful concessions that Ariel Sharon spoke about in his speech at the annual international policy making conference just held in Yisrael? Why is a unity government being put into place with Shimon Peres as deputy Prime Minister? We will see as you tune in tomorrow to "As the World Turns"… or now that Arafat is no longer gracing the stage it could be "The Brave and the Beautiful".

"The counsel of YHVH stands for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. Blessed is the nation whose Elohim is YHVH; and the people whom he has chosen for his own inheritance" (Ps. 34:11-12). "For YHVH'S portion is his people; Ya'acov is the lot of his inheritance" (Deu. 32:9*). "For I am YHVH, I change not; therefore you sons of Ya'acov are not consumed"* (Mal.3:6). What encouraging words for those of us who have seen and experienced personally the fulfillment of Malachi: 4:6 "And he will turn the hearts of the fathers [Patriarchs] to the children [their progeny], and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with a curse"! We now have no doubt about the faithfulness of YHVH, His lovingkindness and His tender mercies. We also have the advantage of understanding the prophetic word of YHVH as it refers to this generation of His nation - His inheritance Yisrael (both houses). Even the head of the first Messianic Believers in Jerusalem, Ya'acov (James), addresses his letter to the twelve tribes that are scattered abroad and speaks to them about a Father of lights who has no variation or shadow of turning (see James 1:1, 17). Ya'acov then continues with these words: "In the exercise of His will He brought us forth by the word of truth, so that we might be, as it were, the first fruits among His creatures" (James 1:18).

YHVH said, "Ephraim is My first born [first fruit]" (Jer. 31:9), and "Yisrael is My son, My first–born" (Ex.4:22). YHVH's loyalty and consistence to His word is vital for our faith, because had He not proven Himself faithful to His covenant bride Yisrael and had He gone after another, we would have an adulterer for a husband. Likewise, if we preach another bride or another inheritance we become a false witness: "A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaks lies shall not escape"(Pro. 19:5). The commandments of YHVH enjoin us not to bear false witness, especially against the One who enacted them. We, of the redeemed remnant of Yisrael, are to sing a new song; "Sing unto him a new song; play skillfully with a loud noise. For the word of YHVH is right; and all his works are done in truth" (Psa. 33:3-4).

What works?

"Therefore thus says YHVH, who redeemed Avraham, concerning the house of Ya'acov, Ya'acov shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale. But when he sees his children, the work of mine hands*, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Ya'acov, and shall fear the Elohim of Yisrael. They also which erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine"* (Isa. 29:22-24).

We can really be encouraged today: "For behold, days are coming,' declares YHVH, 'when I will restore the captivity of My people Yisrael and Yehuda. I will also bring them back to the land that I gave to their forefathers, and they shall posses it'" (Jer. 30:2). "In those days the house of Yehuda will walk with the house of YYisrael, and they will come together from the land of the north to the land that I gave your fathers as an inheritance" (Jer. 3:18).

Yes, we are YHVH's inheritance but He also gave us an inheritance (see Josh 1:4). As mentioned in the above scripture, the land promised to our forefathers awaits redemption just as we had to be redeemed (by Yeshua). The house of Judah began to redeem their portion of the land of Yisrael, but in the course of world events and pressures all around they are relinquishing their rights to their inheritance and compromising the contract that YHVH had made with them. The big question before Ephraim, (a firstborn and redeemer), is he willing to take up the responsibility and redeem the rest of the inheritance?

Honoring Life

Rom 8:37-39 NKJV For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities nor powers, nor things present nor things to come, 39 nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

1 John 3:14-16 AMP We know that we have passed over out of death into Life by the fact that we love the brethren (our fellow Christians). He who does not love abides (remains, is held and kept continually) in [spiritual] death.
15 Anyone who hates (abominates, detests) his brother [in Christ] is [at heart] a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding (persevering) within him.
16 By this we come to know (progressively to recognize, to perceive, to understand) the [essential] love: that He laid down His [own] life for us; and we ought to lay [our] lives down for [those who are our] brothers [in Him].
17 But if anyone has this world's goods (resources for sustaining life) and sees his brother and fellow believer in need, yet closes his heart of compassion against him, how can the love of God live and remain in him?

I AM the AUTHOR of LIFE! I created the earth with a WORD. Your words can bring life or death. So will you, oh man, listen to the words of your loving Father, and DO as I have instructed? Will you lay down your life for your brother or sister who is dying? Will you show MY COMPASSION and love to this generation who needs to know there is something MORE powerful than all they have experienced? Will you lay aside your opinions, and your inclinations to judge and criticize, and only speak what I would speak? When I say lay down your opinions, I mean to kill them - to lay them to rest forever! I don’t want you to pick them up again. It will take some practice, but will you lay aside all you have learned of this world and take up MY OPINION? Will you depend on ME for wisdom. I AM WISDOM! I AM Understanding! I AM Knowledge! I AM Revelation! So will you yield to MY thoughts over your own thoughts?

[Prov 18:21 NKJV Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and those who love it will eat its fruit.]

Every time you have a negative opinion of someone else, will you take it to ME? Will you run it by ME? Allow ME to introduce you to My thoughts on that person, or any problem? Is there anything I don’t know? Am I not the ALMIGHTY GOD? You are not almighty. You are not omniscient. You are NOT all knowing! Lay down your pride and your arrogance AMERICA!
Lay down your propensity for judging every little thing! Your defiance of dependence on ME stinks in My nostrils! How much more of this offensive ODOR must I tolerate? I don’t care if that person is saved or not! I want you to come to ME for MY opinion, and I will give you what I think and how to pray!

I AM the Author of LIFE and I breathed LIFE into everything I created!
Can you say the same oh man? Do you breathe life to others. Or are you too busy judging them to love them and demonstrate My goodness? Lay down your swords especially towards your brothers! Did I not say, to LOVE your enemies. When you can do that, you have been perfected in love!

Luke 6:26-31 AMP
26 Woe to (alas for) you when everyone speaks fairly and handsomely of you and praises you, for even so their forefathers did to the false prophets.
27 But I say to you who are listening now to Me: [in order to heed, make it a practice to] love your enemies, treat well (do good to, act nobly toward) those who detest you and pursue you with hatred,
28 Invoke blessings upon and pray for the happiness of those who curse you, implore God's blessing (favor) upon those who abuse you [who revile, reproach, disparage, and high-handedly misuse you].
29 To the one who strikes you on the jaw or cheek, offer the other jaw or cheek also; and from him who takes away your outer garment, do not withhold your undergarment as well.
30 Give away to everyone who begs of you [who is in want of necessities], and of him who takes away from you your goods, do not demand or require them back again.
31 And as you would like and desire that men would do to you, do exactly so to them.

This is the law of life and love! This is what you must learn! Truly there is no bitterness in you if you can do these things. So I am asking you to ask of Me what you lack in this area of love, until you can do this! Lay your life before me and let me extract all that hinders you, and pour into you all that I can of My love so then you can respond in love instead of defensiveness!

Do you want true prosperity of life? Do you desire true freedom to be all you want to be and do? Then listen to me today and do not turn your heart away from coming to ME for this LIFE I offer you! I offer you LIFE abundant and that means free from your own. MY LIFE. Do you want My life? Do you want abundance in all you are and do? Then lay aside your life, and take on MY LIFE!

Prov 12:28 NKJV In the way of righteousness is life, and in its pathway there is no death.

Phil 1:20-21 NKJV according to my earnest expectation and hope that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ will be magnified in my body, whether by life or by death. 21 For to me, to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

Rev 2:10 AMP Fear nothing that you are about to suffer. [Dismiss your dread and your fears!] Behold, the devil is indeed about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested and proved and critically appraised, and for ten days you will have affliction. Be loyally faithful unto death [even if you must die for it], and I will give you the crown of life. [Rev 3:10,11.]

Rev 22:1-4 NKJV The River of Life
And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding from the throne of God and of the Lamb. 2 In the middle of its street, and on either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bore twelve fruits, each tree yielding its fruit every month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. 3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His servants shall serve Him. 4 They shall see His face, and His name shall be on their foreheads.

“I am planning a surprise attack. The enemy knows it’s coming, but he hasn’t a clue where. It will just IGNITE like WILDFIRE, and it will not be able to be put out. For the breath of the Lord will feed it. It will not happen where everyone thinks it will happen. It will not come as a surprise to those who have My heart. For they have been shown for years what is coming. It will spring forth, like sparks on a dry, dry land. All that is combustible will burn.

All that is dry will be burned…and then filled with the RIVER of LIVING WATER. This river that will flow, will NOT dry out. It will never die. It will continue to flow till the Son of Man is seen in the air.

This River brings Resurrection LIFE and will give life to all who desire it!
To those who do not desire this river of fire, it will come with judgment and there will be consequence that is unbearable. My fire will consume all that cannot withstand the test. Everything the enemy has done to try to stop it will fail. All who are desirous for more of ME and waiting will RECEIVE.
It will purify hearts and it will divide sheep from the goats. Those who oppose it will not be able to stop it. NOTHING can stop it! NOTHING!

It will bring LIFE to all who desire LIFE instead of the death they have had to endure. I am a GOD OF ABUNDANT LIFE, and this LIFE will never die. When the apostles were touched at Pentecost, did any of them give up later? Did they not receive EVERYTHING they needed to do the work of the Kingdom Thomas was the only resister, but in the end, he did as I desired. All paid a price for what they received, but even that was not their own strength, but given them. My GRACE IS SUFFICIENT FOR YOU! There is nothing I give you to do, that I don’t also give you the GRACE to do it. That is one parameter that tells you whether it is Me or not telling you! If I ask you to fast, I give the grace to fast. If I ask you to leave everything, if your heart is willing, then I will give you the GRACE to do it! MY GRACE is sufficient for you!”

2 Cor 12:8-10 NKJV Concerning this thing I pleaded with the Lord three times that it might depart from me. 9 And He said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for My strength is made perfect in weakness." Therefore most gladly I will rather boast in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. NT:714 arkeo (ar-keh'-o); apparently a primary verb [but probably akin to NT:142 through the idea of raising a barrier]; properly, to ward off, i.e. (by implication) to avail (figuratively, be satisfactory): KJV - be content, be enough, suffice, be sufficient. NT:142 airo (ah'-ee-ro); a primary root; to lift up; by implication, to take up or away; figuratively, to raise (the voice), keep in suspense (the mind), specially, to sail away (i.e. weigh anchor); by Hebraism [compare OT:5375] to expiate sin: KJV - away with, bear (up), carry, lift up, loose, make to doubt, put away, remove, take (away, up).

“Where ever this River flows, there will be LIFE. Where it is not wanted or allowed to flow, those places will become like swamps and stagnant water that does not bring any life, but rather death. Remember that when the enemy comes in like a flood, I will raise up a standard against him.”

Isa 59:19 NKJV So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west,
And His glory from the rising of the sun; When the enemy comes in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD will lift up a standard against him.
OT:5127 nuwc (noos); a primitive root; to flit, i.e. vanish away (subside, escape; causatively, chase, impel, deliver): KJV - abate, away, be displayed, (make to) flee (away, -ing), put to flight, hide, lift up a standard.

“This will be something no man can take credit for. I am erasing the sibling rivalry out of My church. There will be a coming together for those who TRULY FOLLOW the LAMB! Those who come to salvation in this hour will not be heavy laden for long time. There will be a rapid conversion and deliverance from bondage and death because of the apostolic power I will pour into My bride! It will NOT take years and months for people to change. They will be changed in moments. MY LOVE that will flow like a river will transform them as it will transform YOU and there will be such change it wreaks to the body, that all will be unrecognizable compared to before it flows down from the throne.

There will be SIGNS and WONDERS, and some of them will be most spectacular! I am putting on a light show that none will forget! My NAME will be lifted high. And many who were SO skeptical and antagonistic will repent and be saved most quickly! There will be swift judgment for those who touch My bride! I AM YOUR ROCK OF DEFENSE. DO NOT FIGHT FOR YOURSELF, BUT RECOGNIZE THAT I AM WITH YOU. AND ALL THAT YOU DO WILL BE DONE IN LOVE FROM THIS TIME OF EXPLOSION ON. You will find yourself to be TRULY a new creation in Christ! And all those you touch will have this same experience in ME.

Many will be shocked into submission, who thought their own ideas were much more weighty and important. I will destroy the confidence of the wicked and proud. And they will know there is a GOD in heaven and on earth and there will be NO excuse for blatant rebellion, save a reprobate heart.”

“ Nothing that has been can compare with what I am about to do. DO NOT look to the former ways…but only seek MY WAY! My ways are higher than your ways. YOU HAVE NO IDEA HOW MUCH I LOVE YOU and DESIRE that YOU be fully MINE! I am yours, and you are Mine, My beloveds. Don’t let the enemy think he can disqualify you from anything I have planned. Keep your eyes on ME! I will uphold you with My righteous right hand! “

Hidden Mysteries

Bill Burns

I will now reveal that which has been hidden, but I have not come to reveal only sin that has been hidden; I have come to reveal the hidden mysteries of the last days, says the Lord. I will reveal the thoughts and intentions of your heart that you may be set free and no longer be taken captive by those intentions. I will set at liberty those who desire to walk in freedom in this day, and I will reveal to you the open door and the anchor of your soul, that which the enemy has used against you. I will bring these things to the light that you may be free. I will bring revelation and the knowledge of the times and the seasons in which you live. These things I desire to reveal to My prophets, for I do nothing unless I first reveal it to My prophets, says the Lord.

In this time of new beginnings, I declare a special Jubilee. It is a day of Jubilee like no other, it will be a double portion of that which is written in the word. You will be a standard, for the favor of the Lord will shine upon you. I will bless you in ways that you cannot even understand in this time, for I will do exceedingly abundantly above all that you could imagine, for this is the Jubilee of the Lord of this day, says the Lord.

Get ready to rejoice, for that which has passed away is being removed, and you will receive your inheritance in this time, says the Lord. Take it and apply it; believe it and then receive that which I do and give Me glory for each revelation of My presence and My intervention and the signs that I give to you. Surely you shall see the goodness of the Lord in the land.

Hineni - Here am I

Ephraim Frank

Shalom Friends,
Last week's Parashat Va'Yeshev introduced us to the Yoseph story. In chapter 37 verse 13 we read: "And Israel said to Yoseph, 'Are not your brothers feeding the flock in Shechem? Come, I will send you to them.' So he [Yoseph] said to him [to Yacov], 'Hineni - Here am I'." Several weeks ago we mentioned in one of the Friday letters the idea of making a "calling card" documentary film in order to introduce (to the Jewish population in the State of Israel and around the world) the phenomenon of the Israelites waking up to their identity. It is high time for Yoseph to step into the light…
Below is the vision statement for you to read, consider prayerfully and also to pass on to any individual, group, organization or fellowship whom you think might be interested in this venture. If you have any questions please feel free to ask us, and we'll try to answer as best we can. May you enjoy a blessed Feast of Lights, in Him Who is the Light of the World.
Ephraim and Rimona
Hineni (Here Am I) Documentary Film – Vision Statement

For the past decade or so we have been witnessing the fast growth of a movement which may be termed the "restoration of the whole House of Israel." Thousands of Bible Believing Gentiles are discovering that they are fulfilling scriptures which pertain to the Northern House of Israel/Ephraim as described by the Word of YHWH. This awakening is making such a deep impact upon these individuals that their entire outlook on life, as well as their lifestyle, is undergoing a paradigm shift. Alongside this particular move, many Christians the world over are becoming interested in Israel, in Hebraic roots and in the role that they are to play in relationship to these matters in the critical days ahead of us.

Many of the individuals who are involved in this movement of the Spirit desire to return to the Land of their newly discovered ancestors, but alas, the Israeli authorities as of yet do not recognize them as eligible for Aliyah (immigration to Israel) However, more and more Israelis, from all walks of life, Orthodox and secular alike, are becoming aware of this phenomenon. But more than simply waking up to this, they are actually starting to see that these very people may be the only ray of hope in these very trying times for the Jewish people in the Land of Israel. Others have gone as far as to make studies of the "lost tribes" and of their possible whereabouts, or about the role that Christian Zionists could play in the dynamics of events surrounding the State of Israel and its future.

The time therefore is ripe for Ephraim-Israel to come out of his hiding and present himself to his brother Judah in an accurate manner and say: "Heneni, here am I."
Judah is on a quest to find his lost brothers and the latter must respond. In these days of mass media communications we are very fortunate to be able to reach the masses quickly, accurately and effectively. Yes, the nation of Judah in the State of Israel (and in the Diaspora) is waiting to be reintroduced to the other House of Israel whose occupants have come to the staggering revelation of the faithfulness of their covenant-keeping Elohim and King through His Spirit of Holiness (Ruach HaKodesh).

A calling card in the form of a professional and accurate documentary is therefore a timely and absolutely imperative endeavor! Such an expose', although a large and ambitious undertaking necessitating much footage from far and wide, will deliver a message of love and hope which comes from the heart of Ephraim who is scattered throughout the world. The skills, the will, the funds and the equipment needed are no doubt already available in Abba's economy; they just need to be uncovered.

At present talent, professionalism, time and energy have already started to be invested by Duane and Millie Whittlef, (Minnesota) Ephraim and Rimona Frank (Israel) and others.

A thorough study of this topic of Ephraim has been done and is also an ongoing task that will be put on video tape and DVD and distributed among the nations and prayerfully on Israeli television as well as on US TV via a documentary channel.

Having studied video thought, techniques, documentaries, camera work and editing on professional editing equipment, Duane and Mille believe a very professional presentation can be put together. Some of the projects they have already completed are video biographies, teaching videos, wedding ceremonies, business seminars, Church and Messianic synagogue services and numerous others.

If you are one of those whose heart is saying "Hineni" - here am I" - we elicit your prayers and your contributions in the form of funds, video/film footage that you have available (of your own "Israelite" life experiences), skills, important contacts or constructive ideas. Please be in touch with:

Heaven Is Opening

Ron McGatlin

Heaven Is Opening - Are We?

The "Glories of Heaven" are opening to those who truly humble themselves and draw near to God. There are today those among us who have hungered and thirsted to the point of laying their lives before Him in worship and are rising to praise Him with their whole heart and life.

Mat 5:3-6: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, For theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are those who mourn, For they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek, For they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, For they shall be filled.

The reality of the Presence of God is overwhelming those who have mourned and suffered and now have a humble and merciful spirit - those who have moved beyond the veil caused by pride. Intimate oneness with God is reserved for those with pure hearts and humble spirits..

Mat 5:7-10: Blessed are the merciful, For they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart, For they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, For they shall be called sons of God. Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, For theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

The veil caused by our pride can prevent us from intimacy with God. Beyond that veil is the spiritual reality of a potential face to face intimate relationship with God. It is the poor in spirit - the meek - the persecuted - the mourners - those hungering for the substance of the righteousness of God - those who have NO PRIDE left in themselves or their work, their games, their religion nor anything else except to know and be known intimately by Christ Jesus - it is the pure of heart who will see God.

There is an intimate reality being more widely discovered today than in the past. More people of God are finding the greater foundational substance of love. Being in love with God and loving those around us is the foundation of prophecy and the law. Prophecy and law are foundational in relating to God on earth. Yet there is one thing more primary and more foundational in God; it is face to face intimate oneness in love with God. Face to face involves clearly knowing spirit to Spirit. The law and the prophets are often dim sayings that require interpretation or explanation - like seeing in a glass dimly. Experiencing the love of God and then loving others with the overflowing love of God in us is the greatest reality experience on earth.

Mat 22:37-40: 'You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.' "This is the first and great commandment. "And the second is like it: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' "On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

1 Cor 13:12-13: For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I shall know just as I also am known. And now abide faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

The "then" in 1 Cor 13:12 refers to a season of maturity. The previous verses (10-11) speak of the season of maturity.

1 Cor 13:10-11: But when that which is perfect (mature) has come, then that which is in part will be done away. When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

We are entering a season when the potential for the maturing of the Bride of Christ is beginning. In the scope of history of God and man a maturation of intimate oneness with God is emerging. Open heavens exist for those who will open their minds and hearts and humbly lay aside anything necessary to love God with their whole heart.

There is a significant difference in being loved by God and being "in love" with God. God's love is passionate for every person but only those who abide in Him and return love to Him with all their hearts are "in love" with God. "In love" means a fully reciprocated love.

Pursue love - it never fails.

Lots of love,

Good Politics or Godly Principles
Ron McGatlin

Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD, The people He has chosen as His own inheritance. Psa 33:12

Woe to you, O land, when your king is a child, And your princes feast in the morning! Eccl 10:16

Sincere appreciation is due to all those who serve in the area of politics and government to bring forth the purposes of God. Godly morality cannot be legislated and forced upon a nation of people but God can work through faithful men and women to make room in government for godly principles and morality to be honored and established by the will of the people.

Just as important as making room for godly morality to exist and grow is the effect of leadership's example set by men and women in political offices. The principles and patterns of life demonstrated by respected leaders will have an affect on the people. The good and the bad actions of leaders seem to have somewhat of a permission and an enticement effect for the people to do likewise. The people are somewhat encouraged in the direction of the life patterns and principles demonstrated by leadership at all levels from parents, school teachers, and sports stars. to presidents.

As important as good government is, it cannot create a holy people with godly morals that will build a chosen nation for God. God works individually to capture and change the hearts of the people.

Psa 33:12-15 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD, The people He has chosen as His own inheritance. The LORD looks from heaven; He sees all the sons of men. From the place of His dwelling He looks On all the inhabitants of the earth; He fashions their hearts individually; He considers all their works.

The government of God is within His people and first must be developed in us as King Jesus rules and reigns in individual lives. Government will eventually be affected by the godly lives of the people as God intervenes on their behalf. (Luke 17:21)

Psa 33:16-19: No king is saved by the multitude of an army; A mighty man is not delivered by great strength. A horse is a vain hope for safety; Neither shall it deliver any by its great strength. Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear Him, On those who hope in His mercy, To deliver their soul from death, And to keep them alive in famine.

A nation of individuals with corrupt personal morals will eventually have a corrupt government and will not continue in the blessing and favor of God.

A nation of individuals living holy lives of godly moral values will be blessed of God.

A nation of individuals who value the Word of God, hear His voice by His Spirit and obey will impact the world.

As the love of God is poured out by His Spirit upon those seeking Him with their whole hearts the people are cleansed by the blood of the Lamb and empowered by the Holy Spirt to walk in the world as Christ is in the world.(1 John 4:17) Individually one heart at the time our nation must experience the reality of the love of God in His Presence and become worshipers of the Most High God who reigns over the affairs of men.

As we individually and corporately praise Him we become a nation of praise to God chosen as His inheritance. The salvation of America rest in the people worshiping and praising Him until they are abiding in His Presence and saturated with His love.

Pursue love - it never fails.
Lots of love, Ron McGatlin

His Arrows

Lanna Perry

Jul 20, 2004

> Isa 49:2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me;

That verse in Isaiah 49:2 is interesting. The Lord uses us to speak out the Word of God and sends us out as a arrow with great precision.

Isn't that cool though? I mean the Lord doesn't throw the arrow and ever "miss". He throws the arrow with exact precision knowing where it is going to go and where it has to hit. It hits bullseye everytime. That's pretty amazing.

I think the preparation behind the arrow is amazing too. He moulds us, sands us down, polishes us, sharpens us, all in the exact timing, and proper way. So if we try and run off, and find out where we are supposed to "hit", where that "bullseye" actually is, we will run off not completed, we will run off, and it just slows the process down, because unless the arrow is completely "complete" then when God throws the arrow, it may not fly properly, or if it isn't strong enough when it hits the bullseye the arrow may snap, or it may not even fly. It just wouldn't perform the way it was made to.

Isn't that just a wonderful analogy of us as christians with Christ. If we are not allowing God to shape us and do what He wants with us, we are not performing the way that God intended. We won't be able to do what He wants us to do freely by the empowerment of His spirit, because we won't be "ready" to do it yet, there will still be more "shaping us up" that the Lord wants to do in our lives.

So as children of God we should continue to wait and welcome joyfully the shaping and the cutting off and the moulding knowing that it will result in us being prepared in perfection and when the Lord "sends us out" we will hit target exactly the way HE designed us to.

I think there is another element to the "arrow making" though, it's the intimate process which is involved in making the arrow and crafting it to perfection. The intimate "relationship" if you can say that, between the Maker and the "subject". He is continually thinking of this "subject" and "interacting" with this "subject", putting HIS "mark" on the "subject".

A connection is established in that time spent "together" that time where the subject is placed in a place of surrender before the Maker to allow Him to do what HE desires. WITHOUT that process.....WITHOUT the process of allowing the creator to do what He wants to do and that deep "relationship" that is formed there, the "subject" getting to know the Master's amazing nature, His creativity, His gentleness, His character, His goodness, His love and care, His perfect precision with you, and the Master interacting with His "subject", knowing His subject more than anyone else EVER, knowing the subject inside and out, without this process nothing can be done.

When the arrow breaks, it goes to the Creator to be fixed, when the arrow has done a great job and hit target, the Creator takes it back to give it a good "polish" and He stands back so proud at His creation.

But see, the Creator treasures the time spend with that "arrow" alone. Before it gets sent out, once it's been sent out and the Master brings it back, and without that arrow continually coming back to the place where it was created the arrow will "die" in a sense. It will be left out in the cold, if it gets broken, no-one to heal it, etc...it's only through continually going back to the place where it was created that the arrow LIVES in a sense, the arrow continues to do it's duty, what is was created for, but all that only stems out of a deep "relationship" with the Creator of the arrow.

The Creator desires that deep intimate time of refining, creating, polishing, cutting more than anything else. The Creator designed it for HIS pleasure and HIS purpose.

Whoa, now that was a major revelation. Isn't that just the message for today. As "arrows" children of God, we have to constantly be in that place before the Creator above ALL else. Away from that we will die.

It also has an evangelistic side to it, those arrows who have been created and decided to run off (yes arrows with legs.. LOL) and not allow the Creator to take them back to where they were first created will surely die.

He Is The Lord Of The Silent Harvest

Francis Frangipane

Recently, I had a dream in which I found myself inside the mind of a dying man. The man had been in a coma or drug induced unconsciousness for some time; his family had been praying, but they did not know whether or not he had accepted Christ's sacrifice. All they were sure of is that, throughout his life, he had resisted their efforts to lead him to Christ.

In the dream, I became so acutely aware of the man's state of mind that his thoughts, feelings and struggles almost seemed my own. Although his eyes were nearly closed and his vision clouded, through a break in this visual fog he saw his loved ones at his bedside. I watched as he tried to reach toward his family, but outwardly his arm never lifted. Inwardly, I heard him speak their names, but no sound whispered through his lips. A loved one held his hand and asked, "If you hear me, squeeze." He heard and pressed his fingers tight against hers, but to the eyes of all his hand clearly remained limp. He was conscious, but perfectly incapable of responding. He could hear their prayers; he felt the wet warmth of their kisses on his face.

Unprepared for Eternity

The pride and isolation that had, throughout his life, stood as guards over his heart were gone. A physical catastrophe had overtaken him. Death approached and he knew he was unprepared for eternity. Submerged beneath his placid exterior, a war had raged for his soul and God had won. Subdued by the relentlessness of God's love, he was finally at peace. During his time in the hospital he had silently prayed and accepted Christ as his Savior. I was watching his last effort to tell them as life ebbed out of his body.

Suddenly, the alarms of hospital monitors filled the air and I now found myself in the room looking down at the lifeless body of a man who had just died. The room was buzzing with nurses, while his family huddled in a corner, grieving. The idea of their loved one dying without receiving Christ was more devastating than the reality of death itself. In my sleep, I stirred and, as I woke, I heard the Lord speak to my heart, "Tell them he is with Me."

God is Good

A couple days have passed since I had this dream. During this time, as I pray, I am increasingly aware that there are many of God's people who have been carrying a deep and troubling heartache about the passing of an unsaved loved one. Obviously, this dream does not apply to all, but there are some for whom this experience is divinely directed. I submit it to you in a general sense, because the Holy Spirit has assured me He will bear witness to your heart.

Yet, I have also felt an urgency to pass this dream to you. I am convinced that the Lord has an important work for you, yet the enemy has used the questions about this event to sow doubt into your soul, not only about your deceased loved one, but doubts also about God Himself and the power and gift of prayer. As a result, your confidence in looking to God has diminished, and this is at a time when it is vital for you to stand for other members of your family.

Finally, even with all the questions and mysteries of life, we must not let the unknown obscure the face of the known. God is good. I only know the nature of God by looking at one reality: the life of Christ. I know God loves me because He sent His Son to die for my sins. Indeed, Jesus said, "He who has seen Me has seen the Father" (Jn 14:8). When we look at Christ, we see God.

Sudden "Opportunities" Before Death

Some of us have lost loved ones in sudden tragedies, where they had apparently no time to repent and turn to God. Yet, let me remind you that many people who have had near death experiences, tell of seeing their "whole life flash before [their] eyes." Others who were in accidents tell of "time slowing down" and the movement of life almost stopping. I believe that, even in what seems like a "sudden" death, time itself accordioned out: it stretched and slowed until that person entered a different realm of time. There, they saw the highlights and shortcomings of their lives and again had an opportunity to accept Jesus Christ.

Beloved, in spite of what we do not know about the mysteries of life, this one thing remains eternally true: God is good. He does not desire that any man perish and He will fight to save us, even to the moment of one's death. Let us, therefore, cast our burdens upon the Lord, for He truly cares for us. And let us again run with endurance the race set before us, for He who has promised is faithful.

Lord Jesus, thank you for dying for my sins. Lord, there are many issues I do not know, but I do know that You are good. Those things I do not understand, I give to You, trusting You with myself and those I love.

Hidden In The Secret Of My Presence

My Own Hidden In The Secret Of My Presence

Psm. 31:20-24 19 Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men! 20 Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence from the pride of man: thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues. 21 Blessed be the LORD: for he hath showed me his marvellous kindness in a strong city. 22 For I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee. 23 O love the LORD, all ye his saints: for the LORD preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer. 24 Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the LORD.

My people are about to see the greatness of My goodness for it has been laid up for those that fear Me. My heart is always turned towards the welfare of My people. I never slumber and I never sleep, and My thoughts are always turned toward My people, and their welfare.

And some, so many times, have felt rejected and abandoned by man, but I tell you that My thoughts were turned to them to hide them in the secret of My presence from the snares of men. What they perceived as rejection from man, was the protection of a loving Father. I have protected them so often, and so many times, from situations and from people that would have wrought destruction in their lives. So I hid them in the secret of My presence, where they were covered and protected.

And often I have even moved out of the way those that came with evil in their hearts, and that had evil plans and plots against My Beloved. I changed the course of those intent on doing wickedly towards My own, and I changed the path of My own so that they would not fail into a snare prepared for them at the hands of these. Knowest thou not that I have even given others over to the lust of their hearts that I might preserve My faithful ones?

But the enemy of the souls of My Own, has come with words of condemnation, even heaping coals on the head of My Beloved. The father of all lies has come to inflict wounds into the heart of My Own, telling them that they don't fit in, that they are unacceptable, that they are not worthy, and that they don't belong. Oh, he is the father of all lies, and the truth is not in him. And it has caused some of My people to begin to have to have fears and doubts about themselves. And it has even caused them to separate themselves from Me.

But, the lie has been exposed, and the truth has been revealed. And now the eyes of My people will be opened to My marvelous kindness. That which they thought was the rejection of man, was My loving protection. Oh, I have hidden My Own in the secret of My Presence hidden from the wickedness of man. Oh how great is My goodness that has been laid up for them that fear Me.

Eyes to see. This day the eyes of My people will be opened to see My marvelous kindness, love and protection from the wickedness of man.

Baruch haShem!

Adonai Elohim says:

"Yes, the I AM comes in the WIND, a Great Storm that will blow away all debris cluttering and defiling My house. Prepare the way, for I come; I come shockingly soon to a Temple rebuilt, beautiful and clean!

I direct you to bend as a reed, firmly planted in Living Water. Your source to continually keep you supple; able to bend, sway and be made low but not crushed nor broken/cut off from Adonai Elohim.

Come before me in humility, bow down, I will lift up. As you repent, love, honor, worship, and adore ME, the Holy One of Isra'el, I shall write My Torah upon your tender hearts, covenant people to Me from before and beyond all time.

In your midst are those [prophets] who say STAND, STAND, STAND up...but these words come NOT from ME. Their pride will reap what it has sown. The great I AM SOON STANDS!

They do not wish to obey My Torah (my instruction), nor do they observe as loving sons. They say "We need not for the old, the ancient paths, only the NEW".

I weep, I AM grieved, I AM angry! The sly deceiver further encompasses My own. In their freedom that I provided at GREAT COST, My only Son, Yeshua haMashiach -- they choose their own way, the path of desrtuction to their souls. As it first was, they forget ME, they forget My deeds and wonders for their sakes. By revealing their rebellious hearts, they oppose El Elyon, I AM.

Fall upon your faces and weep for these, your brethren, they are falling, falling, falling.

I again declare haTikva, You know HIS name! I sent HIM as sacrifice in your place...I have sent HOPE, the HOPE, HE IS HOPE! HE is the Way, the Truth and the Life for all men.

Blow the Shofar and warn the great assembly, My Wind comes, obey and live, obey and life eternal is yours, obey and 'Come up here to Me' -- safe, secure, sealed."

Heavenly-Minded Campanologists

Catherine Brown

A Company Of Heavenly-Minded Campanologists!

"No one knows about that day or hour, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father."* Matthew 24:36 (NIV)

On Sunday evening just before I went to bed, I had a vision of Jesus ringing a small handheld bell. Puzzled at the picture before me, I asked, "What are you doing Lord?" He replied, "I want to teach my children the art of heavenly campanology."

As you can imagine, I was somewhat perplexed (probably much as you are now. <smile>). I paused in my mind and thought about what campanology meant. I reached for the dictionary to refresh my memory, which stated "the art or practice of bell ringing."

A SPIRITUAL RIDDLE

The Lord was gracious and patient with me as I pondered this spiritual riddle! He spoke to me again. In the vision he held the bell out to me and said, "Would you like to try?"
Feeling rather clumsy and awkward I said, "Lord, I can't do that. I don't know how."

Still smiling, Jesus said, "It's funny, child, but that is what all my children say the first time I ask them this question."
With this, the Lord permitted me to see back in time, and I saw a line of anointed men and women of God who have preached the Gospel with power and compassion down through history. The Lord revealed how they had each taken a turn to line up and learn how to play the bell that Jesus was holding in his hand! Amongst them I saw John Wesley, George Whitefield, William J. Seymour, Martin Luther King, Kathryn Kuhlman, Smith Wigglesworth, and countless other preachers and revivalists. They appeared to have had the same conversation with Jesus as I was currently experiencing.

LEARNING TO IMITATE JESUS

I was still feeling slightly confused, but felt encouraged to "have a go." The Lord began to ring the bell in his hand, and I also took up a small bell in my hand and started to play. It really was a wonderful experience playing a tune on the bell with Jesus, and I was amazed at how easy it was when I concentrated on following Christ and His lead; it was so simple to echo and imitate what He was doing. The harmony was beautiful. I felt wrapped up in unity with Jesus.

When the vision ended I was left with a sense of the strategic nature of what I had just seen, but had not yet fully understood. I prayed for wisdom and discernment and slowly the spiritual conundrum began to make sense. Deep in thought and prayer, I earnestly pursued the fullness of comprehending the message Jesus had shown me. Holy Spirit spoke to my heart, "Child, what you have seen and heard is about listening to my Spirit; it is about understanding the times, it's about heralding the message from heaven, and it's about being in harmony and unity with heaven. It's about healing and it's about salvations."

HERALDS OF THE GOOD NEWS

I started to think about occasions when bells are rung in communities, cities, and nations. I pondered how bells are rung to warn us in times of crisis, such as war and times of national disaster. Bells are rung to gather people together, often to announce critical/crucial information. Sometimes bells are rung for celebration (such as a wedding or church service), but often bells are rung to let people know of impending disaster, gathering people together to make preparations and prepare rescue plans.

I recapped on the vision, and heard the Spirit of the Lord say, "I am seeking a company of heavenly-minded campanologists, those who are willing to be heralds of the Good News."

WAKE UP CHURCH! JESUS IS COMING BACK!

In my heart of hearts, I had a profound sense of the importance of understanding the time and context of such a message and call from God the Father in this hour. It occurs to me that very few of us could sleep through the sound of a bell ringing. Similarly, Jesus does not want us to sleep through this wake up call to the church. The spiritual symbolism of the bell in the hand of Jesus is a wake up call to the church to rise up and preach the Good News, because time is of the essence. God loves us too much to allow us to die in sin, and so he is sending a wake up call to the church and the nations of the world. Father wants to remind us, in his mercy, that Jesus is coming back.

In the vision, as long as I concentrated on imitating Christ, I was able to follow the Master with ease. We, as believers, need only focus on following Jesus and we will be fully equipped in his love, grace, and power to share the Good News of the Gospel. No matter how nervous we may feel, or how little experience we may or may not have, no matter our age, our gender, our social standing, our culture, Jesus calls us to be heralds in His hands to allow the message of God's love to ring out loud and clear in our lives, from our hearts, in our words and deeds and thoughts. We must proclaim and declare the Gospel with boldness. Let our minds be full of Christ and our mission be to say and do what we hear our Father saying and doing. May each one of us walk in the reality that we are revival flames in His hands. Each one of ours hearts set ablaze with love for Jesus, each one of us longing for souls with His passion.

ALL FOR JESUS

God is releasing a fresh anointing on the earth to raise up an end-time army of preachers, revivalists, and those who will bring healings and salvations to the multitudes in the name of Jesus Christ. We may be nearer to the second coming of Jesus Christ than we realize. Only Father knows the time of Jesus' Second coming, but we are called to prepare and be ready for that time. Dear child of God, open your heart today and receive a fresh anointing to share the love of God. Trust Jesus to give you words to say and pray. Release your resources into mission. Give with a glad heart of your time, your energy, and your heart. It's all for the glory of Jesus.

Lord, we desire to be your company of heavenly-minded campanologists!

Blessings in Christ,

The Bread Of Heaven
Catherine Brown

"Lord, Please Heal Our 'Temporary Spiritual Amnesia'" by Catherine Brown

Aug 19, 2004

Whilst in prayer recently I had a beautiful vision of Jesus with manna in His hands. In the vision, one by one, people approached Christ and took a piece of manna from His outstretched palm. Some ate the manna straightaway and their countenance was instantly transformed; they were just so happy and full of peace and joy! Others put the manna in their pocket, which seemed a strange thing to do. Those who did not eat the manna straightaway seemed to forget they had received a gift of provision from Christ. Others would not even approach Jesus for the manna. They looked so tired and angry. Jesus continually held out his hands, desiring to give his children manna. The ones who refused the manna became full of bitterness and a dark cloud covered them. Jesus was brokenhearted over this.

"THE MANNA IS MY MERCY"

I asked the Lord what the manna meant. He replied, "Child, the manna is my mercy. Mercy is my provision in this hour for my children. There has never been such a need for absolute mercy, because there has never been such a lack of mercy in the world and even in my church. To lack mercy is to walk in the spirit of the world. I have given my grace to the church, that in faith my bride may be robed in mercy.

"At the ends of the Age I will come to judge the quick and the dead, but this hour has not yet come. Blessed are the merciful for they shall receive mercy. Mercy and forgiveness flow down in unity from the throne of Grace. Mercy triumphs over judgment. Above the cherubim, the children of Israel learned that I am enthroned on the mercy seat. The ark of my presence, the altar of faith in your hearts, is still the place of my abiding mercy.

"Mercy is your strong tower in times of trouble. Mercy washes away all roots of hatred and bitterness. My mercy redeems the mindset of man. Mercy is a river, and mercy washes each of my children clean. Mercy is purity and mercy is peace. Mercy is full of love and grace. Mercy is wisdom. Mercy heals cruelty and heals all wounds. Mercy is the meeting point between heaven and earth, because in my mercy I commune with my children. Mercy is the power of the Age to come, poured out in this age. In your frailty, my mercy is your protection and strength. Mercy is given freely to my children in Grace. Mercy is the fruit of loving me and mercy is my Father's gift to His children. Mercy disarms the powers of darkness. Mercy covers all. Mercy triumphs over judgment. My mercy is blood-bought, and my unconditional love and mercy are full of Life.

"Beloved child, my mercy is new every morning. Mercy is part of your Kingdom identity and my mercy releases your destiny, because mercy prepares your heart in compassion for the mindset of the Kingdom and the agenda of your King of Kings. Mercy brings you into the inner courts of my Father and mercy compels you to a lifestyle of kindness and compassion."

WHAT IS MERCY?

1. Compassion or forgiveness shown towards an enemy or offender in one's power.

2. Something to be grateful for.

"The Lord your God is a merciful God" (Dt 4:31). Mercy originates in the Father's heart and flows into ours through the Holy Spirit. God our Father forgives our sins through the atoning sacrifice of His Son, Jesus Christ. This is a beautiful work of Grace. Jesus said, "Father forgive." There was a cost to mercy, but Jesus paid the price, as mercy and forgiveness flowed like a mighty river from the Cross of Calvary. We are delivered from judgment in God's mercy.

When Jesus taught His disciples about mercy, he taught them that mercy leads to purity of heart and purity of heart releases us to see Jesus face-to-face. God's word inspires us to choose the way of mercy, so that we might become so full of God's mercy that it would overflow from our hearts into the lives of all that we encounter.

"Blessed are the merciful for they will be shown mercy" Mt. 5:7 "Blessed are the pure in heart for they will see God" Mt. 5:8

Forgiveness is an act of mercy. If we withhold mercy it means we are withholding forgiveness in our hearts towards another. God wants us to understand that as we forgive and do not judge each other, then we are able to look at one another in and through the perfection of Christ.

"Do not judge, or you too will be judged. For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you." Mt. 7:1

We are commanded to love one another. Without mercy we become mean, and this in turn permits bitterness to take root in our hearts.

MERCY – THE BREAD OF HEAVEN

"'I am the bread of life. Your forefathers ate the manna in the desert, yet they died. But here is the bread that comes down from heaven, which a man may eat and not die. I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. This bread is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.'

"Then the Jews began to argue sharply among themselves, 'How can this man give us his flesh to eat?'" John 6:48-52

Mercy is Jesus' manna (bread), life to us in this world. We cannot survive as believers in this world without the mercy of God. Daily we need to receive a fresh revelation of the mercy of our Father, given to us in Christ. In God's mercy we gain access to the fullness of our heavenly Father's heart. Without mercy operating in our lives, we will lack intimacy with Jesus.

Without a staple diet of bread or rice, we would die. Without God's mercy operating in our lives, we would be dead in our sin. God calls us afresh to the Cross to look again at the incredible, sacrificial cost of mercy. He calls us again to be washed in the blood of Christ and receive His mercy. It requires humility to receive mercy, but what will we choose?

Will we be like the Pharisees, who in their religious bondage, could not and would not receive the mercy of Jesus Christ? Will we be so blind that we will allow this pearl of great price to fall from our hands? Will we be like the many disciples who said, "This is a hard teaching. Who can accept it?" Will we turn our back on our precious Savior and no longer follow Jesus because we are too arrogant or ignorant of spiritual truth to receive his mercy? Will we, like those lost souls, walk in offense and deny the Lordship of Christ in our lives?

OFFENSE – THE GREATEST OPPONENT TO THE MERCY OF CHRIST

"On hearing it, many of His disciples said, 'This is a hard teaching. Who can accept it?'

"Aware that the disciples were grumbling about this, Jesus said to them, 'Does this offend you? What if you see the Son of Man ascend to where He was before! The Spirit gives life; the flesh counts for nothing. The words I have spoken to you are spirit and they are life. Yet there are some of you who do not believe.' Jesus had known from the beginning which of them did not believe and who would betray him. He went on to say, 'This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless the Father has enabled him.'

"From this time many of the disciples turned back and no longer followed him." John 6:60-66

COMMANDED LOVE – LIVING IN GOD'S MERCY

Perhaps some of you have suffered in this life and may be wondering if there are times when we might justify withholding mercy...broken promises, betrayal, rejection, abandonment, brutality, pain. The answer is an unequivocal 'no'! Christ calls us to total forgiveness, and total forgiveness includes loving the offender in the mercy of God. It is never too hard to forgive, because mercy is a work of grace in our lives. God commands us to love one another. Loving means forgiving, and forgiving means living in the mercy of God.

In my life I have known many instances where forgiveness has not been an easy choice to make. Through many kinds of abuse, violence, and heartbreak Jesus taught me to love -- one offender at a time. Jesus is the bread of heaven and His living word is mercy in our souls, to our souls, and through our souls. Withholding mercy speaks of desiring to inflict punishment on another. To withhold mercy is to place your agenda above the compassion of Christ. Grumbling against another quickly leads to hardness of heart, and hardness of heart soon leads to the sin of offense.

TEMPORARY "SPIRITUAL AMNESIA"

Offense is when we "think" we have a "right" to be angry because someone has hurt us. We hold resentment and unresolved anger in our hearts towards that person, all the while justifying our wrong attitude. We become self-righteous because we place our perception of what we think is "right" above the perfect righteousness of Jesus. We think our opinion, feeling, and insights in a matter are more important than any others. In offense, we suffer from "temporary spiritual amnesia" with respect to the wonderful mercy Jesus has poured into us, that we might also pour into others. Offense distracts us from God's Kingdom agenda and "untreated" offense will consume our hearts with unforgiveness.

LORD, RESTORE OUR "MERCY MEMORY"!

I believe Jesus wants to heal His bride and restore her 'mercy memory'! God calls us to be imitators of Christ and to live a life of love (Ephesians 5:1).

"Father, in humility we come to ask you to forgive us for being hardhearted and for withholding mercy to others in our lives. Forgive us for any time we have walked in offense. We choose now to walk in mercy. Please heal our temporary spiritual amnesia and restore our mercy memory. May your mercy fall on us today like sweet spring rain and bring healing and restoration to all our relationships, beginning first with you. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen."

How Much Time Do We Have

Ron McGatlin

Through the past centuries and decades there have been many speculations and predictions that the world would come to an end at a certain time. Bible readers have come up with many different scenarios as to events that must happen or have already happened before the "end of time". Interestingly enough time has ended or will soon end for all of the people who made those predictions. Their time along with everyone else of their season ended.

The reality is that time for me and for you is going to end soon, perhaps sooner than we perceive in our thinking. If you are a young strong person it may seem to you that it is very far in the distance before time runs out for you. Now past 71 and looking down a much shorter road it seems to me it has been no time at all since I was thinking those same thoughts - thoughts of such a long road of time ahead. A long road with plenty of time to seriously consider the fulfillment of destiny and purpose of my life - plenty of time to become all God wants me to be and plenty of time to do all that is to be done - tomorrow or some day perhaps soon in the long future ahead..

You may have heard the old saying "life is too short" for some reason or another. Truly our days in this life in time are precious - too precious to let them be stolen away in the misadventure of "unlove" and all of its disorders.

Love brings the adventure of life and peaceful order of spiritual serenity. Our life is in God and God is love. Separation from God is separation from love and separation from life. A day in the manifest presence of God is a day in His love and a day of life. A day apart from His presence is a day of lack of love and lack of life. Lacking love brings disorder, strife, and loss of life.

1 John 4:8-9,16: He who does not love does not know God, for God is love. In this the love of God was manifested toward us, that God has sent His only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through Him. And we have known and believed the love that God has for us. God is love, and he who abides in love abides in God, and God in him.

Jesus has come that we might have life and have it more abundantly.

John 10:10: "The thief does not come except to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly.

God is love. The thief (enemy) is "unlove". The thief steals life - Jesus gives life. This is a practical daily reality as well as an eternal principal.

How much time do we have? Only the days, weeks, and years that have not been stolen by "unlove" the rest are all lost. One day in His manifest presence is better than thousands elsewhere. In His manifest presence, grace (empowerment) is poured into us. Abundant life fills our being and we are charged with the creative energy and wisdom of God. More can be done in one year empowered by His grace than seventy years of striving.

The kingdom of God coming forth on earth in the hearts of His people is a grace empowered, love based, spiritual and natural order of life.

Pursue love - it never fails.

Lots of love, Ron McGatlin

The New Face of Revival

Ron McGatlin

Limitations are being broken off the church. Stadium Christianity is becoming a reality. Millions are gathering in stadiums and large venues for prayer and fasting across Africa this week. Hundreds of thousands have gathered for prayer and fasting in the US and other nations answering "The Call".

45,000 gather on Sunday Mornings in a football stadium in India for church. Countless miracles - extreme intimate worship - high praise - deep intercession - spiritual visions are some of the hallmarks of the fresh expression of Christianity.

The gatherings of "Stadium Christianity" for prayer and worship wouldn't be coming forth without the Spirit network of multitudes of smaller gatherings in churches, home churches, workplace groups, soaking groups and other fresh expressions of Christianity. People are starved for the reality of the manifest presence of God - the love of the Father - the intimacy of the Bridegroom - and the river of life of the Holy Spirit.

Humility is coming forth as hearts are melted in the manifest presence of God by the love of the Father and the passion of Christ. The new face of revival is coming forth from a heart of humility, purity and holiness, in intimate love. The shallow shine of "spiritual pride" and elitism is giving way to the joy of serving in love.

The clergy and laity gap is giving way to a kingdom of kings and priest. The cast system of clergy and laity - pulpit and pew - leadership clique and congregation - which developed in the institutional church has greatly limited the work of God. The new face of revival is dissolving the gaps and releasing multitudes of dormant gifts in humble men and women young and old. No longer is the work of God limited to a few on the platform but is growing to include all of "those who believe".

Mark 16:17-18: "And these signs will follow those who believe: In My name they will cast out demons; they will speak with new tongues; "they will take up serpents; and if they drink anything deadly, it will by no means hurt them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will recover."

John 14:12: "Most assuredly, I say to you, he who believes in Me, the works that I do he will do also; and greater works than these he will do, because I go to My Father.

The miracle working power of God flows through believers in whom Christ dwells - the "Christ in you" generation in whom the character and nature of Christ is being formed. The release of limitations off multitudes of men and women is producing far greater works than the platform only could produce.

Col 1:27: To them God willed to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles: which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

Pursue love - it never fails.

Lots of love,

Hurricanes of Destiny

Gary Coldiron

"And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; THE SEA AND THE WAVES ROARING, Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming upon the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken." (Luke 21:25-26)

It was nearing the end of October in the year 1998 when, on a warm afternoon living in the northern Houston region, the Lord without warning spoke in my spirit. He told me that there was a hurricane moving across the Atlantic that needed to be watched. He said that the spirit behind the hurricane was our ministry's personal enemy.

I called my pastor's home and spoke with his wife that Monday evening and shared the word that I had heard earlier. We both decided that it would be a good idea to pray about the information and see what the Lord would want us to do, if anything.

The next day, on a Tuesday, I took the matter back before the Lord. I asked Him if He wanted me to go to the Gulf of Mexico, point my finger high to the eastern sky, and command in faith the looming hurricane to be broken up. Suddenly, I had a vision of another man standing on a Gulf shore doing just that, and the Lord said that the action had already been done.

In the days to come I observed with much interest, as the rest of the world did, this hurricane make its' approach south of the entryway between the Mexican peninsula and Cuba. It made a beeline towards Honduras and then, on the 27th of October, unexpectedly and amazingly stalled. It sat stationary for close to two days. By the time it moved and went ashore, it poured so much water onto the land that it caused mass flooding. The great winds and rain of those days killed over ten thousand people. What a tragedy!

The infamous hurricane remembered is commonly known today as Mitch. This was a furious storm that seemed to have a mind of its' own. After going inland and pounding Honduras with incredible fury, it cut back into the ocean and reversed direction, making its way northeasterly back into Florida. Interestingly, though, it never did make it deep into the Gulf. By nature, it probably should have done so. And I believe it took this unlikely course because one man stood on the shore days earlier and commanded it not to come in.

Nevertheless, we can learn a valuable lesson from that incident. I now know that you don't command your adversary to stop and bind him from affecting you without following through and destroying his power. Though your words may have the power to stop your enemy dead in his tracks, if he is not dealt with properly, he'll just go somewhere else and manifest death. And this death is usually released on a mass scale. As an observation concerning this thought, I believe that Jesus sent demons into a herd of pigs for a distinct reason. I submit that it was for our learning benefit. The Lord was not interested in killing off a multitude of innocent pigs for no purpose. Rather, He wanted His followers to view as a hands-on example just what happens when the enemy is cast out without further action. Instant death taking place on the peripheral, like the pigs quickly drowning, soon results. Thus, you have to understand that the unfruitful tree that you pluck up by the roots must be planted into the sea (Luke 17:6). Realize that the enemy you bind has to have his goods spoiled. Only then will your opposing work not harm others.

The power in naming Ivan

The judgments of September are here…the snipers of October are soon to come. The signs of this special End Times year are strong upon the earth. My goodness friends, do you understand what's happening around you? Presently, only once before had the Lord talked to me about a deadly hurricane…until recently.

As the large and lumbering water-laden Hurricane Frances approached Florida last week, close on the heels of the compact, fast wind-driven Hurricane Charlie, the Lord spoke to me once more about a hurricane. He told me not to focus on Frances, as so many was at the time, or look back at Charlie, but to set my attention on a more dangerous hurricane becoming a force in the mid-Atlantic – the one named Hurricane Ivan. I heard in my spirit that Ivan, the 3rd hurricane, would be a combination of the two before it – having both of its' predecessor's qualities; much rain, much wind, hard-hitting and widespread. And also, and more importantly, it had a spirit behind it - like Mitch.

Therefore, it's a cold-hearted killer – as Mitch was. With that in mind, suffice it to say that Ivan has yet to hit Cuba, Mexico or America and it has already taken the lives of over 60 people in the small islands behind it, leaving great destruction in its' tracks.

Quite incredibly, have you heard national television commentators refer to this hurricane as "Ivan the Terrible" and "Ivan the Killer?" It's so sad that people do not understand the biblical principle of people having what they say. Death and life remain, as God said, in the power of the tongue. There is and always will be power in mankind's words.

At this time, I'm not forecasting doom concerning this hurricane; though, no outcome would surprise me. I've learned a long time ago that just about anything can happen when God's people stand up in true faith. In fact, there is good news within this inside information: Since it's a spirit driving this storm, we know that it can be stopped.

I do know, though, that the events of this hour are signs to acknowledge in this Last Days. Presently, anyone observing recent weather and geological events around the world must recognize that the earth is currently staggering with intensified typhoons, earthquakes, hurricanes, floods, etc. In my opinion, these physical disturbances are being employed as a shout that warns the inhabitants of the earth of impending judgment.

Calculating the appropriate action

I do have one piece of prudent advice for anyone intent on confronting this hurricane as it enters into the Gulf of Mexico. I strongly sense that this hurricane, because a spiritual wickedness in high places entity is most likely behind it, must be approached by a humble Believer or Believers that have a faith built up through prayer and fasting. I sense that this Being is of the powerful type that only goes out through that. Hence, check yourself over thoroughly before you go out there. And don't just stop this storm to save one section of land at the expense of another. The world doesn't need the aftermath of another Mitch. And Ivan has that kind of potential.

One last comment: Watch and pray as a precaution for the people of New Orleans. In my estimation through prayer journey experience, this is a place with a clear destiny for destruction if it doesn't repent. It's also a below sea-level city that would be devastated by the direct hit of a Category 3, 4 or 5 hurricane. Now, I'm not saying that Ivan will strike New Orleans. Only God knows Hurricane's Ivan's future. I do know, though, that New Orleans was struck a couple of years ago by two hurricanes turned tropical storms. I wonder if a third hurricane, such as Ivan, is part of her destiny.

Grace to you and peace multiplied with love and mercy from God the Father and our Lord Jesus Christ.

Hearts of Darkness Hearts of Light

Angel Dahilig

In a dream, I was inside a church... perhaps my church.
Before me, I saw the pews in the sanctuary with people sitting in them.
My field of vision, was focused on only a few of the pews.
The rest of the pews, and the people, were shrouded to me, because the edges of my field of vision fading into darkness.
This effect, zoomed my attention right on these pews, and especially upon the people seated in the pews.
I did not see their faces clearly, but rather my attention was drawn to the area of the heart.
Then, I noticed a few of the people had lights, like the light of a warm candle, glowing from within their chests...
But, only a few, perhaps one or two.
The rest of the people, had only darkness there, no light, but empty of light.
This made me sad to see no light, no warmth from the light.
I was surprised, that so few, out of so many, had this light.
You could not "normally" tell by looking at them, which ones had the light in their hearts,
and which ones had only darkness.
I could only see because God's Spirit showed me what only He can see.
For God sees into the heart.
They all sat in the same pews.
They all sang the same songs.
They all came to church.
They all claimed to be Christians, believers and followers of Christ.
But, not all had the light in their hearts.
Some still were in darkness.
(John 5:42)

Those who had the light,
were those who truly knew their God,
(1 John 4:7, 1 John 4:12)
and were also KNOWN BY HIM.

Heaven On Earth

Ryan Wyatt

Birthing Manifestations Of The Realm Of Heaven On Earth

In recent months, the Lord has taken me up several times, in the Spirit, to a particular place in the Heavenly realm. I call this place the land of promises. This place was lush and flourishing with the life of God. The very atmosphere of this place was radiating with the presence of the Lord. It had the feeling of Spring when all things are new and refreshing. All around I could see rainbows reminding me of the promises of God throughout His word and the personal promises and prophecies that have been delivered from His mouth to His people throughout history. I instinctively knew that this was the place where these promises were found, activated, and brought down to the earth realm. God is currently speaking something at this time to the Body of Christ about His promises and the fulfillment of them in these end-times.

In this experience I simply laid down in the grass in order to enjoy the heavenly atmosphere of this place. While lying there I saw two angels approaching me and they began to feed me with honey. Honey in the Bible is symbolic of revelation. I believe, in this experience, the honey represented a spirit of wisdom and revelation that was being placed upon me in greater measure in order to comprehend, in the spirit, the things that were about to take place. The angels left and I then saw Jesus approaching me from a distance. The light emanating from His being was blinding, yet incredibly inviting at the same time. As He reached me and stood before me I was undone within myself. There was such purity and holiness that emanated from Him. It really is an experience that is impossible to describe in earthly terms! While kneeling in His presence, I suddenly realized that the light emanating from Him was encompassing me and I was beginning to glow with the glory of His presence. The love and intimacy that we shared in that moment, even without spoken words, was out of this world! The Lord then spoke to me with a voice that shook me to the core. It was as if every fibre and cell of my being was shaken and awakened by His voice. What He said surprised me: "Know My Holy Spirit!"

The Lord then turned and walked away, but as he left, this mist or glory cloud, began to completely envelop me. I knew it was Holy Spirit! The atmosphere changed when this other member of the Godhead moved in. The Holy Spirit spoke to me and said that when He is present He brings with Him the atmosphere of creation. He then said something that astounded me: "Ask what you will and it will be done for you!" Without words being spoken, Holy Spirit began to communicate to me different scriptures that verified the truth of this experience. How many of you know that you can read certain scriptures hundreds of times throughout your life but when He, the Spirit of Truth, comes upon you as the spirit of wisdom and revelation, He reveals and uncovers hidden revelation. He took me to Gen 1:1-3, which begins the story of creation, and then to Luke 1:26-45, the story of Jesus' conception in the womb of Mary. In the same way that Mary was chosen to conceive Jesus within her womb and bring Him forth into the world, so too, we as believers are chosen through intimacy and impartation from heaven (conception), to bring forth the Son of God to the world through displays of heavenly glory and power. Before diving into the story of Mary's visitation, I want to present a key in the life of Jesus that I call "synchronization" because it is a secret to bringing manifestations of heaven into the earthly realm.

Synchronization: A Key To Bringing Heaven To Earth

I believe that Jesus came to this earth and lived His life as a prototype of what is possible and available for each one of us. Jesus lived in a place of such intimacy and fellowship with the Father on a daily basis that He just proclaimed and decreed what he saw and heard His Father doing and the realm of heaven was immediately ushered into every situation He touched. You see, Jesus did not do any miracles as God! He was most definitely the Son of God but He laid down His power as God and limited Himself as a human in the very same way that we are limited. The only difference between Jesus, in His human life, and us is that he lived a life completely yielded to the Holy Spirit. Jesus lived out of John 5:19-20-He simply kept himself in constant communion with the Father and Holy Spirit. Then He did what He saw the Father doing and said what He heard the Father saying. Jesus was one who synchronized heaven and earth and therefore He was the very gateway for the power and reality of heaven to come into our natural realm. What do I mean by synchronized?

Jesus lived with a higher reality than many of us have. He lived everyday with the revelation that He had access to the supernatural realm and if He could just see and hear what was going on in heaven with the Father and simply proclaim that on the earth, then mighty demonstrations of power would be ushered into every situation. The Lord at this time is emphasizing our need for the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him to be able to comprehend the supernatural realm around us. The spirit of wisdom and revelation gives us anointed eyes and ears to be able to access heavenly realms and to co-operate and co-labor with the plan of heaven for each moment of our lives. This end-time generation is destined to be a generation that manifests the King of Glory and His kingdom realm to a people blinded from the truth of Jesus Christ. Just as Jesus synchronized heaven and earth and did mighty miracles, signs and wonders, so also, we as believers are called to be the "gateways" of heaven and manifest the Kingdom realm to everyone around us.

Paul stated in Galatians 4:19, "My little children, for whom I labor in birth again until Christ is formed in you." He also prays in Ephesians 3:19 that we would all be filled with the fullness of God. You know, a cup is not completely full until it is overflowing! Likewise, we are not completely full until Christ is so formed in us that He overflows through our life with great demonstrations of heavenly power and glory! God has given each one of us awesome promises, individually and corporately, through His word. Many believers strive in the natural to see the promises of God brought to pass but it's only as we access heavenly realms and enter into divine friendship with God that our promises are fulfilled. Let's gain some additional revelation on the process of birthing promises through the story of Jesus' conception in the womb of Mary.

We Are Called To "Bring Forth The Son" Into The World

Remember, the Holy Spirit told me in the experience mentioned at the beginning of this teaching that the key to seeing promises birthed is found in Luke 1:26-45. The first thing we read in verse 26 is that Mary has a visitation from the heavenly realm by an angel. The first thing proclaimed from the mouth of this heavenly being is Mary's identity in the sight of God! Gabriel says in verse 28, "Rejoice, highly favored one, the Lord is with you; blessed are you among women!" The very next verse says, "But when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and considered what manner of greeting this was."

The angel then says in verse 31, "And behold, you will conceive in your womb and bring forth a Son, and shall call His name JESUS." You've got to notice the parallel here between the physical conception and birth of Jesus and the spiritual birth that you experienced the moment you were saved. Did you know that at the moment of your salvation experience the Lord Jesus Christ was "conceived" in your spirit and now your calling and mission in life is to know Him intimately and "bring forth the Son" through your life for the world to see Him in all his majesty and glory? For this reason, it is so important to the Lord that we receive a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him, and through anointed eyes and ears, learn to access the realm of heaven. Ephesians 1:18 says that the reason we need illumined eyes is so that we "may know what is the hope of His calling and what are the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints." Notice that this verse says the glory of "His" inheritance in the saints, not our inheritance. Jesus' inheritance is to have a Bride madly in love with Him, without spot or wrinkle, which as His body, manifests the glory of heaven just as He did through His own body while alive on this earth.

The very beginning of the conception experience of Jesus is marked by a heavenly visitation granted to Mary, the person chosen to "bring forth the Son!" Likewise, if we want to bring forth the Son in our lives then we have to learn to access heavenly realms, because that is where the seed of heaven comes from. The Lord is currently raising up and training a remnant of people who will dwell in heavenly places, through the spirit of wisdom and revelation. These ones, marked by Throne Room encounters, will carry that atmosphere to the world with them! Anyone who has ever had an encounter with the Lord in the heavenly realms is marked by that experience forever. There will always be an element of heavenly DNA and atmosphere that these people will carry with them. Can you imagine a people who learn to dwell in heavenly realms and carry that presence with them at all times? This characteristic will mark each member of the great and terrible army that the Lord is raising up in these end-times!

Encounter and Impartation (Conception) From Heaven

The first key to realize here is that the conception of Jesus began with an angelic visitation from the realm of heaven! Our God is jealously seeking a people who will ascend the hill of the Lord and dwell in the throne room of heaven. A couple years ago I had an experience in Kansas City with Jill Austin and a group of about 50 other people. An intense atmosphere of the Holy Spirit moved into the room and there were many laid out on the floor just soaking in His presence. Suddenly my spiritual eyes were opened and I began to see what was going on in the spirit realm around these people. I saw a whirlwind come down from heaven carrying multitudes of angels. This whirlwind wrapped around the people lying on the floor and was pulling them upward in the spirit. Meanwhile, the angels were going around sprinkling something on the hearts of those on the floor. I asked the Lord what they were doing and He said they were ministering spirits sent to carry His presence from the Throne Room of heaven and impart it to these people. He said that He was imparting a fresh hunger for heavenly things to their hearts. The direction of their heart's hunger and craving was literally being redirected by the impartation from heaven!

Many of us try and try to see the promises of God's word fulfilled through some rational ascent and belief in the Word of God. But the Word of God is simply meant to lead us into an encounter with the Author of the book. John 5:39-40 says, "You search the scriptures, for in them you think you have eternal life; and these are they which testify of Me. But you are not willing to come to Me that you may have life." It's ludicrous to think that a husband and wife should expect to conceive and give birth to a baby without first experiencing intimacy together. In the same way, we as believers can't just go to the Word and see the Lord's promises (of a great healing revival, for example) and expect to see it happen just because we read it. Mighty demonstrations of God's power and glory are only birthed and manifested on the earth "through" ones who have learned to encounter the Lord in intimacy. Paul says in Ephesians 1:3 that we are "blessed with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ." The only way to see spiritual blessings in heavenly places turned into manifestations of blessing in the natural realm is to access the heavenly places and bring them back with you. Our promises are accessed in the heavenly realm where we are seated with Christ! Each time we as believers have an encounter with the Lord we are filled with more of His fullness and carry more of His presence and we are changed from glory to glory.

Identity

Now, the next thing we see in the midst of Mary's angelic visitation is Gabriel declaring to her the identity she has before God. Gabriel says, in Luke 1:28, "Rejoice, highly favored one, the Lord is with you; blessed are you among women!" One of the biggest reasons we aren't seeing more displays of God's power throughout the Body of Christ, besides a lack of intimacy, is confusion over our identity. I recently heard Bill Johnson make this statement: "In the world, before a person is saved we 1) Do things, 2) in order to gain an identity, 3) so we will be accepted. However, in the Kingdom, as born-again believers, it is backwards from the world. In the Kingdom we 1) are accepted, 2) being accepted is our identity, and out of our identity we 3) do things!" I find it interesting that in Luke 1:28 the Greek word for "highly favored" is used only one other time in the entire New Testament. We find it in Ephesians 1:6, "to the praise of the glory of His grace, by which He made us accepted in the Beloved." The word "freely given" or "accepted" (NKJV) in this verse is the very same word used for "highly favored" and this word is only used in these two places. The word is "charitoo" and it means, "highly favored," "accepted," or "freely given." Mary was the one person on the earth who was chosen to "bring forth the Son of God" and she was called highly favored and beloved of the Lord. The one other place that word is used in Ephesians 1:6-it is talking about every born again believer being accepted in the Beloved. Just as Mary was used to bring forth the Son of God, so also, we will be used to bring forth the Son of God in all His glory!

This Bridal Paradigm message that is spreading across the earth is deeply rooted in the heart of God. There are places all over the world beginning to teach out of Song of Solomon and our identity as the Bride of Christ and as Sons of God. It is no mistake that "Intimacy with God" is one of the most prominent messages in the Body of Christ at this time. Without deep intimate fellowship resulting in heavenly encounters with the Lord we will never know our identity and, therefore, never take dominion and destroy the works of the devil by the power of God.

So how do we get to this place of intimacy and encounter? Mary wondered the same thing. Gabriel lays out the plan and promise of God for her life and she responds in verse 34 saying, "How can this be, since I do not know a man?" Don't we all respond the same way when God calls us to something, yet see all the promises in the Word of God that aren't being fulfilled in our lives? Every one of us could have any number of excuses why God couldn't use us in the supernatural realm to see miracles, signs and wonders in our day. In ourselves we are nothing and it would do some of us a lot of good to realize that! But remember, we are highly favored because of His grace and we are freely accepted in the Beloved! We've been given free access to the Throne of Grace (Heb. 4:16) and encouraged to seek the things above (Col. 3:1-3).

Intimacy With The Holy Spirit and Waiting On The Lord

So what was the answer to Mary's question as to how this could all be accomplished? Verse 35 says, "And the angel answered and said to her, 'the Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Highest will overshadow you.'" Let me take you back to my heavenly encounter for just a moment. In my experience the Holy Spirit came in and overshadowed me and He said to me, "Ask what you will and it will be done for you!" It seemed that in that situation of being immersed in a place of intimacy with Holy Spirit that anything was possible! Just like in the beginning in Genesis 1:2-3, the Spirit of God was hovering over the face of the waters and in that atmosphere God said, "Let there be light", and there was light. When Mary was overshadowed by the Holy Spirit, conception took place and the impossible was made possible! In my encounter, before Jesus walked away, with a voice that thundered and shook my entire being in the spirit and the natural he said, "Know My Holy Spirit!"

I'm prophesying to you now that in the coming days there will be a renewed interest in the Holy Spirit. Many in the Body of Christ are afraid to worship the Third "Person" of the Godhead. They feel they should direct all their attention to the Father and the Son. But it was Jesus that said He was going away and was sending the Comforter, the Holy Spirit in His place. Holy Spirit is just as much God as the Father and the Son. The bible says to worship "God" and God consists of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. For too long the church has prostituted the anointing! People want the service and the acts of the Holy Spirit without the intimacy of the Spirit. So many times people are operating out of the gift or the anointing within them but with no real power from on high upon them. Some of the strongest anointings in history have rested upon the people who developed an intimate relationship and exchange with Holy Spirit! We need to be released to worship and adore the Holy Spirit because it is Him that tells us of Jesus anyway. It's the Holy Spirit that brings the manifestation of heaven to earth!

Years ago I had an experience that reaffirms my emphasis on intimacy with the Holy Spirit. I was soaking in the presence of the Lord one day and telling Holy Spirit that I wanted to know Him more. Suddenly the whole atmosphere in the room changed and I was filled and overshadowed by the Holy Spirit. I immediately entered the realm of the spirit and found myself floating in a river. I was weeping as waves of His presence coursed through my body. Suddenly, this eagle mask appeared in my hand and I heard the Lord say, "Put it on!" I obeyed and as soon as I put the mask on my face, in my vision, wings started to sprout and grow out of my back. The wings sprouted and I suddenly shot out of the water and began to soar in the heavenly realms. I could literally feel the sensations of flying in my natural body! In the midst of soaring I ran into Jesus and He was stunning! He reached out a scepter and touched my forehead. My whole body instantly turned golden and I could feel "purpose" enter my spirit like electricity. I was infused with the purposes of God. This was one of the times when the Lord reaffirmed my calling and commissioning to the ministry. When I left Him I began to fly over cities and regions and, with great clarity, the Lord began to give me prophetic insight into these places. Just as I was coming out of the experience, the Lord spoke to me and said, "You will find this in Isaiah 40:31." Now this verse is a very popular verse and I knew it well. But at the time I did not have the scripture reference memorized, so I quickly went to it to find out what it said. I studied it out and Holy Spirit brought an amazing revelation to me. The verse says, "But those who wait on the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint." The Lord directed me to the words "mount up" and I discovered that the Hebrew word means "to sprout," just as the wings in my experience sprouted.

The Lord is bringing clarity to the body of Christ on how to enter the realm of the spirit through the model of "waiting on the Lord." My experience taught me one of the most valuable lessons I've ever learned and that is how to engage the Lord. As we wait in the overshadowing presence of the Holy Spirit, we are given eyes and wings through the spirit of wisdom and revelation, to engage the realms of heaven and encounter the Lord! We are called the "Royal Priesthood" in the Word of God and, as priests, we must learn to wait on the Lord and minister to Him. We are also called Kings and Priests in Revelation, but it's only as we learn to minister to the Lord as priests that we will attain the power from heaven to rule and reign as kings over the works of the enemy!

Prophetic Declaration of The Plans and Purposes of Heaven

Now we come to the fulfillment of God's promise to Mary. She has had a visitation from heaven, received an impartation by the Holy Spirit, and was encouraged with the reality of her identity and how she is seen in God's eyes. It's after all this that she finally aligns and synchronizes herself with the plan and purpose of heaven. In the creative atmosphere of heaven overshadowing her she proclaims in verse 38, "Behold, the maidservant of the Lord! Let it be to me according to your word." Then conception took place. A seed from heaven was planted within her and she "brought forth the Son of God," the greatest gift and display of heaven ever brought forth in all of history!

Allow me to dwell, for just a moment, on Mary's proclamation of agreement with the plan and purpose of heaven. Mary did something that Jesus did everyday of His earthly life. Jesus would hear and see what the Father was saying and doing in heaven; He would simply go proclaim it and heaven would invade earth. Let me give you a personal testimony of this in my own life. Several months ago I was in Australia ministering at a church on Sunday morning. I heard clearly from the Lord that I was to step up to the pulpit and, without any preaching, I was to immediately release a healing wave. He said the altars would be filled with healing testimonies. I simply did as He said and I never got to preach! I lined people up and listened to their testimonies of healings and miracles for an hour and a half. The next week I was in Tanzania, Africa and preached again at a church on Sunday morning. Just as I was about to step up to the pulpit I felt a wind blow on my left hand and I heard the Lord say, "My healing angels are here. Release a healing wave right away and I will do signs and wonders in your midst!" I thought, "Yeah, I've clearly heard from heaven, so this is gonna be fun." I simply decreed to the people what I heard from God about the healing angels and I released the healing wave. For the next 2 hours I stood up front and listened to the testimonies of God's power. All in all there was one paralytic completely healed that was pretty much carried into the service because her legs were paralyzed and her arm was shriveled up. I saw her walking and saw her healed and outstretched hand! There were also over 5 blind people and over 5 deaf-mutes healed along with dozens of other healings and deliverances! Heaven had invaded earth simply because I had a supernatural encounter with an angel, heard from God, and proclaimed it to the people.

There is power in our decree just as there was in Mary's. Her declaration of agreement with the plan and purpose of heaven, which came from her visitation, is what eventually brought the conception of Jesus to pass. We are told to do the same in Job 22:21-30. The scripture tells us to acquaint ourselves with the Lord (Intimacy), receive instruction from His mouth and lay up His words in our heart (hearing from heaven) and because of this we will lay our gold (our identity) in the dust and the Lord will become our Gold (our new identity). It goes on to say that we will have our delight in the Lord and make our prayers to Him and verse 28 says, "You will also declare a thing, and it will be established for you." It goes on to talk about how our declaration, out of intimacy with the Lord, will actually bring freedom and deliverance to the bound and guilty (bringing heaven to earth).

I want to encourage all of you reading this that God is ready and willing to bring His promises to pass in your life. However, it is through our co-operation and co-laboring with Him that the supernatural is manifested in the natural. We are His vessels and we are the gateways through which His glory will be displayed on the earth. Press into Him more than you ever have before. Ask Him for a release of divine hunger that will drive you deeper into Him. Like Mary, it is simply through intimacy, engaging the realm of heaven, and declaring what you see and hear that brings heaven to earth! The scripture in Luke goes on to say in verse 39 that Mary arose and went. As she entered Elizabeth's house and simply greeted her, Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. May we all lay down our gold and receive the Lord as the true Gold in our lives and may we arise and "go" as we display the glory of heaven. The deposit of heaven that will rest on you after engaging the revelatory realm will simply overflow and people will be filled with the Holy Spirit. Mary called herself the "Maidservant of the Lord." There was also a prophecy given in Acts 2:18 about menservants and maidservants. It says, "And on my menservants and on my maidservants I will pour out My Spirit in those days; and they shall prophesy." That means you!!

Father I pray that you would visit everyone reading this with a heavenly visitation. One encounter with you can shake regions! I pray for the spirit of wisdom and revelation to be released in greater measures so that your people might really begin to engage the supernatural realms of heaven and experience You. Holy Spirit, I pray that you would make yourself real to each one reading this and cause a boldness to be released. Overshadow us, rest upon us, and fill us afresh! May we be vessels who truly cause heaven to invade earth!

Holiness is Coming

Then he instructed me, ``Do not seal up what you have written, for the time of fulfillment is near. And when that time comes, all doing wrong will do it more and more; the vile will become more vile; good men will be better; those who are holy will continue on in greater holiness." ``See, I am coming soon, and my reward is with me, to repay everyone according to the deeds he has done. I am the A and the Z, the Beginning and the End, the First and Last. Blessed forever are all who are washing their robes, to have the right to enter in through the gates of the city, and to eat the fruit from the Tree of Life. ``Outside the city are those who have strayed away from God, and the sorcerers and the immoral and murderers and idolaters, and all who love to lie, and do so. Rev 22:10-15 LB

My Children,
Holiness is coming to My church through brokenness and contrition. I am not making thee holy to become a reputation or a name, I am making you holy that you may see Me and abide with Me forever. Therefore, wash thy Garments, confess thy sins as I reveal them to you.

Soon the humble and holy will inherit the earth. Soon My elect will rule and reign with Me. Guard thy words and may they be few, for many men have recognized their call and advertised themselves and labeled themselves in a spirit of pride. These I must abase! As it is written: Humble thyself in the sight of the Lord. I will lift you up! Cry out from thine heart to be cleansed and I will wash away every stain and remember them against you no more.

Run not in a race to become holy, holiness will come to the heart which desires to see Me. Holiness is the transforming work of My spirit wrought through Grace. It is My eternal will that you be made holy in My sight. Holiness is the eradication of evil as sins are laid on the altar and yielded up in My presence to be consumed.

Soon all you hold dear will need to be offered upon this altar, for all that you hold dear has divided thy loyalty and thy love. I will not destroy those you place on the altar, I will return them once you realize the need to place all on the altar. Thou shalt have no other gods before Me!

I hear you say, "where does it start?" Confess the pride of thine own goodness and acknowledge that there is but One Good... "GOD." Thou shalt find thine eyes opening to true holiness and thy desire will to be as I am. You will confess before Me thy very nature as sin. This confession will transform you and you will be among those who are holy and will continue on in greater holiness." Delay not thy confession! Much work needs to be done this day!

Blessings,

But God had mercy on me so that Christ Jesus could use me as an example to show everyone how patient he is with even the worst sinners, so that others will realize that they, too, can have everlasting life. Glory and honor to God forever and ever. He is the King of the ages, the unseen one who never dies; he alone is God, and full of wisdom. Amen. Now, Timothy, my son, here is my command to you: Fight well in the Lord's battles, just as the Lord told us through his prophets that you would. Cling tightly to your faith in Christ and always keep your conscience clear, doing what you know is right. For some people have disobeyed their consciences and have deliberately done what they knew was wrong. It isn't surprising that soon they lost their faith in Christ after defying God like that. 1 Tim 1:16-19 LB

But Christ as a son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end. Hebrews 3:6 KJ

And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come. Matthew 24:12-14 KJ

Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, 2Thes. 2:3-4a KJ

Children of God,
Make no mistake as you are given eyes to see. A great shaking has come to My house! I have purposed this from the beginning of time. For a refiner and a fuller am I.
As it is written:
"Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven. And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain. Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:
For our God is a consuming fire. Hebrews 12:26-29 KJ

I say to you My children, continue steadfast as you see the day of My appearing approaching. Continue in meetings and in comfort one of another. Yes, gather more and more as the evil day has come upon the face of the whole earth. Yes, I will draw My elect from among the dust, I will cleanse Her garment, I have promised and I will fulfill this in your generation. Yes, and those who decide to please Christ Jesus by living godly lives will suffer at the hands of those who hate him. In fact, evil men and false teachers will become worse and worse, deceiving many, they themselves having been deceived by Satan. But you must keep on believing the things you have been taught.

Amen,

Hold Tight

joshua2000@delaware.net

I was dressing this morning and started to cry uncontrollably. I came into the computer room and started crying out to God and this is what I heard:

My heart weeps for My house, for My house will not hear My pleas for repentance. My sorrow goes so deep. My heart breaks at every turn. Why children? Why won't you turn to Me with your whole heart? Why does the world have such a pull upon you and your families? I have pondered over this for ages, and I have only one answer. The world holds more for your heart than I do, so you think!

The wages of war are so costly. But the wars must come now, for My people would not repent and turn from their wicked evil ways. These wars will cost you more than you care to pay. There will be great wailing and gnashing of teeth heard on the streets. For the soon coming despair will outweigh anything that the world has ever experienced. Many will bemoan the very day they were born. The homosexual community will be destroyed. I will not be mocked. I am not a bastard. I am the true Father of all creation. Why do you, church, think the enemy created? Why do you think he is in control? You will soon see who is in control, and for some it will be too late, for others, they will finally see that all I have spoken is coming to pass and they will fall upon their faces in total worship of a loving and caring Father. Hold tight to what you have in Me, church! Hold tight, for it will be worth it all in the very end.

Much destruction on all sides. Many will be running to and fro, and many will be seeking places of refuge, but will be unable to find any. Total disaster awaits this world as you see it. I am not a God of destruction, but I do destroy when necessary. As you read My Word, you will see destruction after destruction and devastation on all sides. This was because My people refused to follow My voice. I sent My Son, so His blood would be an atonement for sins, but even that has been trampled under foot. I am left with no alternative, but to bring destruction, so I can rebuild My world once again.

Woe upon woe. Sorrow on all sides. But I will be with My remnant in all this. You who have chosen Me in the years past have chosen a good thing, all those who chose the things of the world will reap what they have sown. Go church and preach My gospel to a lost and dying world. For My Son will soon return for a glorious church, one without spot nor wrinkle.

I ask you to abide under the shadow of the Almighty until My Son's soon return.

Honor Life

Rick Joyner

August 2, 2004
Last week we discussed how the ultimate slide of humanity into the abyss of darkness will begin with the betrayal of doctors with their most basic trust to save and preserve life. Instead, they will start to freely take lives. As this trend has been growing in the last few decades, we are not far from again seeing man rise to the ultimate arrogance-determining to play God by choosing who should live and die by their own discretion.

Medicine has risen to become one of the most esteemed professions in the last century, and this has been well earned. However, as we are warned in Proverbs 16:18-19: "Pride goes before destruction, and a haughty spirit before stumbling. It is better to be of a humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud." When pride gets a foothold into anything it can fall to a darkness that corresponds to its exaltation. As we read throughout the Scriptures, the foremost reason that the Lord will judge the earth is for the pride of man. The ultimate form of this pride is thinking that we have the wisdom to choose who should live or die. At this point judgment must come, because by this fallen humanity is crossing the line to incorrigibility, as is well documented by what happened in Nazi Germany. Soon it was not just individuals who were deemed to be "useless eaters," and therefore killed, but a whole race was then deemed unworthy of life by minds that had become some of the most demented in history.

As we see mankind becoming increasingly calloused about aborting their young, it will cross over to killing those who are born deformed. It will also go to the other extreme of killing the aged when they are no longer deemed useful. This is another, even greater extreme of the pride of man because one of the ultimate forms of humility is to honor our fathers and mothers. This is the only commandment that comes with a promise, that we will remain long in the land that the Lord has given to us (see Exodus 20:12). The reverse is also true-when we cease to honor our fathers and mothers we can be sure that our time left on this earth will be short.

Contrary to this trend that is now growing in many nations, the redeemed will be growing in their love and respect for life. Christianity is a faith that loves and cares for people from the womb to the tomb. As both the young and the old are increasingly threatened, we must resolve to serve both even more. We must give ourselves to the best education and preparation of our young and to the finest care of our elders, helping them make their last years on earth some of their finest. One of the answers to the education of the young is for the elders to be able to impart their wisdom and knowledge to them. This will also be one of the most fulfilling things that our elders can do, and will help to keep them young and alive. One of the most invigorating things for any person is to be needed.

This ultimate pride of man that seeks to determine which of the old or young should live is the ultimate maturity of the doctrine of "the survival of the fittest." To deem someone that has physical or mental problems as too expensive to be allowed to exist is the exact opposite of the nature of God. When man fell, truly becoming both sick and insane, God did not deem us as too expensive to help, but paid the ultimate price for our help. When we serve the sick or aged, it is for our sakes as well as theirs. It is in this way we can start to identify with the Lord's heart for "the maimed, and the halt, and the blind," (Luke 14:21 KJV) which we all are in a sense.

Even so, as health care costs continue to skyrocket, the cost of helping one in need will increasingly become the criteria of whether they deserve to live or die. We will also see many of those who will be given treatment that will actually be used for experiments, even as much as to see them healed. Doctors, who now save so many lives and help so many people, can be the most vulnerable to the ultimate pride of playing God with people. Not all do of course, but as the medical professions continue down the trail of being a business more than a calling, the door is opened wider and wider to this ultimate depravity.

Jesus is often referred to as "the great Physician" because of His devotion to healing. Some have estimated that as much as two-thirds of His ministry while on the earth was devoted to healing and deliverance. He came to reveal the nature of the Father. By this we know His most basic desire is to see people healed, to deliver them from their afflictions, and from the bondage of the devil.

The Lord said that we would do the works He did and even greater works after He went to the Father (see John 14:12). We will see this come to pass before the end of this age. We will see believers lay hands on hospitals and everyone in them will be instantly healed of every kind of affliction. Plagues that are sweeping over continents will be stopped by intercession. The deeper that darkness comes upon the rebellious, the greater the light that will come. When sin increases, we will see the grace of God abound even more (see Romans 5:20).

Jesus was also especially devoted to helping society's castaways to be made whole. Those who are in true unity with Him and His purposes will likewise have this basic devotion. As the Lord said in John 10:10: "The thief comes only to steal, and kill, and destroy; I came that they might have life, and might have it abundantly."

Jesus is the "Prince of life" who came to lead us in "the path of life." He offered "living water," and the "bread of life." His words were "words of life," and He was the light of Life who came to give us "eternal life." Everything about the Lord revolved around the giving of life. The ultimate enemy that He will destroy is death.

The Father gave Jesus life to have "in Himself" (see John 5:26) to give to others, but He came to lay down His own life for our sakes. In the ultimate paradox, the way the Lord gave life to the world was by dying, and He has likewise said to us, "For whoever wishes to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake shall find it" (Matthew 16:25). Our calling is to count the lives of others with the greatest value, but to easily lay down our own.

It is the ultimate devotion to give life to others. To sacrifice one's own life is the mark of the true followers of Christ. However, this definition of life the Lord made clear is not in our possessions. True life, which is eternal, is knowing the Father and the Son whom He sent (see John 17:3), and to believe in Him (see John 3:16). In all of these things we must never let our devotion to healing the body eclipse our devotion to healing the soul. These are not mutually exclusive and actually go together, but we must still keep them in proper order.

"I am the light of the world; he who follows Me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life" (John 8:12).

"I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in Me shall live even if he dies, and everyone who lives and believes in Me shall never die" (John 11:25-26).

"The thief comes only to steal, and kill, and destroy; I came that they might have life, and might have it abundantly" (John 10:10).

The Pit Of Destruction
Rick Joyner

Aug 13, 2004
Last week we discussed how crucial it is to esteem the value of life. It is the reason why this was the first test of Solomon's wisdom, as it is a value that is fundamental to wisdom. However, history teaches us that this is a value that gets harder to hold on to the more difficult the times become. At the end of this age, during the greatest times of trouble that the world has ever known, the devil, the one who was the murderer from the beginning, will be unleashing his last and most desperate fury upon the earth in an attempt to kill all that he can. The result will be that those who are controlled by him will casually kill multitudes. They will seemingly have no pang in their conscience, but rather will be rewarded for their deeds, as those who kill the most will become the most celebrated. As mankind falls into its deepest darkness and depravity, this will be measurable by their lack of esteem for life.

The Nazi regime degenerated to the point where whole families, and even whole neighborhoods, could be wiped out at the whim of a relatively junior officer, while some of the most brilliant minds were devoted day and night to determining how they could kill people more cheaply. It was just a foretaste of what is to come. In contrast to this, those who grow in the true wisdom of the fear of the Lord will also be growing in their esteem for the value of life. These will be given increasing power to give words of life, even resurrection life, as they grow in this true wisdom.

For this reason we should all be devoted to imparting the words of life every opportunity we can. That words can give life is one of the great marvels. Let us determine every day to sow seeds of encouragement, hope, and faith. We should recognize the encroachment of discouragement and hopelessness as the beginning of enemy strongholds that must be resisted. Above all, we must value the most valuable gift that has been given to any—the value of life.

Again, as we proceed toward the end of this age, one of the most prominent, distinguishing characteristics between those who serve the Lord and those who serve the devil will be the esteem for life. One of the primary entry points for the spirit of death into Nazi Germany was through the medical community. We can expect the same for what is to come. When this profession, which is supposed to be fundamentally devoted to the preservation and protection of life, starts to be used to kill, it will eventually open the floodgates of death.

Before developing this theme further, please allow me to make an important observation about our present, American, medical community. What I am about to say applies to different degrees to other countries, especially Western nations, but it would be too much of a generalization to attribute it to all of them.

First, we should all keep in mind that if we are alive today we probably owe this to at least some degree to the medical community. If it had not been for the advances they have made in medicine, the world would almost certainly have suffered plagues such as were released during the Middle Ages many times over. We should also be very thankful for the quality of life and even life itself, which has resulted from the medical community's devotion, diligence, and brilliant use of the gifts and talents that God gave to them. For this reason we too should be devoted to encouraging doctors and any other health industry workers for their work.

However, there are some very dark practices already gripping modern medical science—the very ones that preceded the turning of medicine in Nazi Germany into one of the most diabolical tools the devil ever had in his hands. If they are not addressed and reversed, we can expect the same results.

The fall from grace in medicine usually begins when it changes from being a calling to being a business. There are still doctors who are true healers, whose devotion and fulfillment comes from seeing the sick made well. However, these are increasingly rare. Too many doctors today are just professionals, and their practice is a business more than a calling. To them their patients are more like commodities than people. Hope is still the most potent medicine ever devised for any disease. One of the greatest tragedies of modern medicine is that doctors have, to a large degree, been deprived of being able to administer this medicine for fear of potential lawsuits or other consequences to their business if anything goes wrong.

It would not surprise me if 99 percent of physicians are ignorant of what I am about to tell you, and would dispute it, but the cure for cancer could have been found a long time ago, and would have been found if cancer was not such big business. The same is true of almost every other degenerative disease.

The chemicals that are used in chemotherapy cost about ten dollars, while they are sold to patients for fifteen hundred dollars or more. When you are mostly dealing with professionals instead of true healers, who are running a business more than a true hospital, there is really no incentive to find a cure for cancer. Where is the incentive for the pharmaceutical companies to find such a cure, especially if it turned out to be an inexpensive cure? I personally have become convinced that such is in fact the case.

Everyone has cancer cells in their body. A normal healthy immune system will eradicate them easily, keeping them from gathering to become a tumor. However, the chemotherapy that is used to fight tumors attacks the immune system, making future tumors inevitable. Alternative medicine has found ways to eradicate tumors while strengthening the immune system instead of destroying it. Why are these not more widely known or used by "traditional" medicine? I honestly believe that 99 percent of doctors and most people are ignorant of these facts because a system has evolved that is so self-interested and so devoted to self-preservation that it resists and attacks everything not coming through it. Sound familiar? Sounds like many church institutions, does it not?

This is why many of the great advances of the gospel have had to come from outside of the church institutions. Some great revivals and advances of the gospel have come out of denominations, but they are now rare because it is hard for such to maintain the ability to take risks, which is required to walk in faith.

It is not likely that many doctors have even thought through these things, even those who are true healers that are trying to do the best they can. They are just doing the best with the knowledge that they have been given, and within the system as it is. They can draw from the encouragement of many patients that have truly been helped, at least for a time. However, the plot of the movie The Fugitive is more prophetic than many supposed. A doctor who discovers the fraud in medical research will be deemed far more dangerous than any mass murderer by that establishment.

This is not to imply that such a diabolical fraud is to be found in all medical research, or even most of it. Probably, the majority of doctors and researchers are sincerely trying to do the very best they can. It is the system, which has an entity behind it that is bigger and more powerful than any individual. When you start touching, not just a multi-billion dollar business, but a multi-trillion dollar business, it will get very dangerous.

In this format of the Word for the Week, I do not have time to back up and establish some of the statements that I have made in a way they deserve. I am not a doctor or an expert in this field, and many who are have been addressing them. I believe it will become a major issue in the future, even affecting presidential races. In spite of what I have said, I still believe we have the best medical system in the world. It has cancers within itself, and they must be addressed or soon the whole body will die. The answer is to get rid of the cancer, not kill the body.

I think the legal system in America likewise has some very deadly cancers growing within it that will soon have to be addressed. Even so, having traveled throughout much of the world, I think it is still one of the best legal systems there is. The world is the world and we should not expect perfect solutions in this world until the King returns.

Even so, I have talked to too many doctors who are genuinely horrified at what is happening and for these things to continue much longer without being exposed. A growing number are already sounding the alarm. Those who know me, and my message, know that I am not given to paranoia or conspiracies. Even in this I am not ready to put the blame on any individual, as I know that we are not warring against "flesh and blood," but against higher spiritual powers (see Ephesians 6:12). There are probably some individuals who know what is happening, and have given themselves over to evil. In general, I do not believe that this is the case. I think the system has taken over the people instead of the people running the system.

Again, even though more doctors are seeing what I am describing, greed is driving much of the medical industry. The warnings are presently being treated the same way that they were in Nazi Germany. The momentum of a dark and deadly evil is permeating the medical industry. It is growing in power and is already dominant. There are some who are being salt and light, but not enough. The medical system is headed to the place where doctors will decide who should live or die, not by whether they could be treated or healed, but by the patient's usefulness "to society." Remember the "useless eaters." That is how it began in Nazi Germany, and this same philosophy is now growing in even the most advanced, free nations.

Abortion is the biggest gate of hell, giving hell entry into the medical community in a way that will make it one of the enemy's most powerful fortresses for his evil devices. It is the snuffing out of life at its most vulnerable stage. Almost any beast that is a mother would willingly sacrifice its own life for the sake of its young. When we sink below this to even casually killing our own unborn children we have in some basic ways fallen below the beasts. This is ultimate depravity, selfishness, and darkness of soul.

Jesus came to save "the maimed, and the halt, and the blind" (Luke 14:21 KJV). He came to save sinners. His grace is more than enough to forgive those who have had abortions, and heal them of even the emotional scars. Some of these, who have experienced firsthand the horrors of abortion and the destruction of a precious life within their own bodies, are becoming the greatest champions of life. Others have had their consciences seared by the experience, and will not live as they could have, neither feeling, loving, or experiencing life, because of their moral and spiritual calluses. Every abortion also kills part of the mother like few other things could.

Those who serve the "Prince of life" will love life. They will esteem honor and protect it, even at the risk of their own lives, just as our Savior gave His life so we could live. The Reformation that released the great increase of knowledge that we are now experiencing (see Acts 3:15), began on the foundational principle that salvation was individual, not corporate, and that there had to be personal faith, not just membership in an institution, to be saved. This gave infinite and eternal value to every individual, regardless of what condition their body was in, because they had a soul that could live forever. This was the foundational belief that gave birth to democracy and free enterprise. For the last five centuries, if you look at where freedom and true, lasting, prosperity spread, it was where these great Reformation truths were spread.

As II Corinthians 3:17 declares, "Now the Lord is the Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty." Freedom is a basic characteristic of anything that God is truly in. The most basic freedom of all is the freedom to live. One of the devil's ultimate strategies is to take our lives away. To do this, one of his most basic strategies is to take our freedom away so he can give the power of life and death to his followers who are under his control. We will address this issue in more detail in the coming weeks, but for now we must set in our hearts that death is an ultimate enemy, and to love, esteem, and protect life is a fundamental characteristic of Christianity.

Wisdom
Rick Joyner

Aug 10, 2004
The very first test of Solomon's wisdom concerned the respect for life. This is the fundamental test of all true wisdom. Life, in itself, is the ultimate gift, and is greater than any treasure. This is why the right to life, and euthanasia issues are so crucial. Once doctors who have sworn to protect life, and do all that they can to save life, begin to twist their vows in order to take life, the slide into the most tragic and diabolical forms of injustice has begun. When these begin taking other people's lives at the discretion of those who have set themselves up as judges, deciding who is worthy of life, human beings have been made into automatons, not lives.

The One who gave life is the only one who has this right. Life and death are the ultimate issues, and in the end these are what the ultimate conflict will center around. True wisdom, true righteousness, and justice will always be found with those who esteem life itself as too precious to ever take needlessly.

So how does this relate to the death penalty? First, to adequately address that issue would take far more room than we have in this Word for the Week format. However, let me state that God, when He established His law, the standard of righteousness and justice, also established a death penalty. He alone has this right, and He thought that it was right in some circumstances. Jesus, who established the even higher law of liberty, also established that He was willing to forgive at least some who were deserving of death under the law.

So what is my conclusion? This is still an issue that needs Solomon's wisdom to decide, and I feel that every case must be decided on its own merit. I think that those who conclude, on the basis of a humanistic philosophy of human goodness, would be the first to also turn their backs on "the useless eaters" and let them be killed. Human goodness based on humanistic philosophies is that whimsical, and that irrational.

I am personally very thankful for the American system of justice which so esteems the taking of a life that it has the involved, exhaustive appeal process which does all it can to insure that any execution is indeed just. When I watched the Timothy McVeigh execution, the unrepentant Oklahoma City bomber who had himself murdered so many innocent lives, I confess to still feeling sorrow at his death. However, that does not mean it was not just, or the right thing to do.

I think if any judge who has the power to decide such an issue loses his or her sense of sorrow over a life so taken, they should resign their position. Doing even the right and just thing to someone who truly deserves it does not mean that we still should not feel sorrow at any life lost. The Lord Himself said in Ezekiel 33:11, "As I live!' declares the Lord God, 'I take no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but rather that the wicked turn from his way and live."

I personally do not want to lose the sensitivity where I would take pleasure in the death of anyone. I have prayed for the souls of Saddam Hussein and Osama ben Laden, for years. I pray that they will be converted and trust in the cross of Jesus for their salvation, and be with us in eternity. Would that not be the ultimate victory of good over evil?

If I was the Commander in Chief, and had the opportunity to take out any terrorist who was threatening innocent lives, I would do so without having to think about it. It is the mandate of those who are in positions of civil authority, according to Romans 13:4, "... for it is a minister of God to you for good. But if you do what is evil, be afraid; for it does not bear the sword for nothing; for it is a minister of God, an avenger who brings wrath upon the one who practices evil."

As the apostle made clear, it is the responsibility of civil authority to avenge evil. I am thankful for a government that is trying to do this. However, I am not in civil authority, and my responsibility is for souls. To understand the will of God on earth, we must understand this distinction between the responsibilities of civil and spiritual authority. They are different. A civil government that did not avenge evil would be rebelling against its mandate. The church would be rebelling if it did. We need to give to Caesar what is due to Caesar, and to God what is due to Him.

We must also understand this distinction between civil and spiritual governments if we are going to understand the times. In Romans 13 we are told to obey all authority because it has all been given by God. Does that mean we should have obeyed the Nazis? How about the antichrist? These are valid questions, and we will address them. These are issues that we may very soon be facing, and the wise will have resolved them before they are upon us.

House Of Nations

Jill Austin

July 10, 2004

All of a sudden, what I kept seeing was these tents. God mentioned the tent. God mentioned...and I'm just going to start moving in this, and as I'm giving the word, if you feel like part of this is for you then you catch it too. In other words, there is always impartation when the prophetic is moving. He started off immediately; what I saw up in Canada was a tent. And the Lord said, "Tent of glory! Tent of meeting! Tabernacling! Tabernacling! Tabernacling!"

He says, "I am going to tabernacle. I am going to tabernacle."

What I saw was this tent of glory! Tent of glory! Tent of glory! And I kept seeing like a tent city. I kept seeing a warehouse over this tent and this warehouse had body parts in it. This warehouse had body parts! It was body parts of the miraculous! Body parts of the miraculous! What I kept seeing was new hearts coming down. I kept seeing new hearts coming down. I kept seeing new legs coming down. The Lord says that you are even going to be seeing crippling diseases being healed. He says, "I am going to open blind eyes. I am going to open deaf ears. I am going to deal with MS. I am going to deal with insanities."

Profound New Visitations

I just kept seeing from a warehouse a miraculous place and the Lord says, "It's going to be like Moses."

And what I kept getting was Moses...and it's Exodus 19. I felt like the Lord said that many of you are going to be going into heaven on the sapphire sea and eating with the Lord. And many of your places are going to be places of visitation. It's going to be a place of heaven touching earth. It's not only going to be the miraculous. In Exodus it talks about how a company of them, how 70 of them went up to the Sapphire Sea and they ate with Him. I just feel God is going to bring an anointing of coming into places of heavenly dimensions, heavenly visitations, and eating with Him.

But I also feel like the Lord said, "Get ready! I'm going to release profound new kinds of visitations! I am going to take you into that smoky, black realm of God."

What I kept seeing is the fear of the Lord! What I kept seeing was the holiness of God. I saw a lot of fun. I saw this place of real family and intimacy. But I felt like the Lord said, "Is that a priest? Is that a priest?" You are going to be releasing mantles of ones that will minister to the Lord...but minister to the people and come with the sword of the Lord. And again, I saw the Hebrews 4:12 [anointing]: "For the word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword..."

A New Breed of 'Apostolic Five-Folders'

What I kept seeing was this warehouse, this warehouse of miracles. But then what I kept seeing was radical realms of visitation. What I kept seeing was also a releasing, where it's almost like the Lord says, "You are going to go back and uncap ancient wells of tent revivals." Tent revivals.

What I saw was The Voice of Healing. What I saw was this magazine of The Voice of Healing. "But," the Lord said, "it's going to be different." It's not just going to be faces of ten or eleven men. What I saw was a young...not young...the Lord corrected me on that. But the Lord said, "New breed of apostolic five-folders." What I saw was tent meetings.

Face-to-Face Encounters with God

And the other thing I kept seeing was circuit riders. I felt like the Lord is going to [set apart] a group of men and women and they are going to catch the fire and they are going to go into beachheads; they are going to set up tents out on fields. People are going to come because there is going to be so much healing; it's going to be like the old time healing days. It is going to be sparked.

The Lord says, "It's going to be like Aimee Semple McPherson"; she was a Canadian and it's going to be part of the Canadian root system of radical signs and wonders. So I just kept getting, "Glory, a city of glory." I kept getting that the tent meetings were going to have an open heaven. It was going to be Exodus 19 and it was going into this thing of face-to-face, secret place, intimacy, harvest, radical harvest, signs and wonders, souls. But I also got this intimacy of the secret place, of hearing the voice, and face-to-face encounters with God.

"I Am Going to Give you Revelation...to Break Open"

He says, "There has come a religious professionalism to the conference scene." I just feel like you are going to be breaking, breaking an old kind of conference thing - this professionalism of the speakers. It's going to be more like Tent City. A lot of unknown faces, unknown people. Young, old, women, men, different colors are going to be preaching - signs and wonders. There is going to be an anointing. I just kept feeling like the Lord says, "Get ready!"

And there is going to be a sound. There is going to be an angel now. There is going to be an angel that is going to stand over the tent and there is going to be a trumpet and there is going to be a sound of trumpets. I feel like the Lord says, "I am going to give you revelation from the counsels of God to break open mysteries, to break open seals, to break open things that are over." It's like you are going to have an understanding of the Word and the Spirit. But I see that angels are going to be releasing a sound and people are going to say, "I don't just want to go to that conference, I want to go where there are tent meetings that are emerging all over the nations." There is going to be a catalytic spark. He is going to start to birth it. But it's going to start to become a new kind of thing where people are going to want to come and sit in the dirt.

The "Tent of Meeting" Anointing

You see, in the old days they couldn't come in a plane. They would get snowed in. They would have to camp out. Whole villages would get saved. Whole towns would get saved. I just feel like we are going to start moving in a thing where it's much more home grown, much more real, much more "the feel of the nations." I tell you this prophetically. I feel like many of you will also take jumps and start renting tents. Let's give the Lord a clap offering.

I got this yesterday morning. But I kept feeling like the Lord said, "New breed." Different ages. And when I saw The Voice of Healing (magazine) and I saw all men on it. The Lord says, "No, that will offend My heart. I want to kill the Old Boys Club. I want family. I want fathers and mothers, all ages, all colors. I want those that carry the weight of heaven." Because Holy Spirit is the great equalizer. Holy Spirit is the one. And, do you have the goods? Do you have heaven backing you up?

The Lord says, "There is a new anointing, and its tabernacling." It's an anointing of the "Tent of the Meeting." It's an anointing of Houses of Prayer on the move. It's almost like, what I thought was movement, like wheels moving with the glory. It's going to be wheels of revelation moving with the glory. It's like a moving throne. It's like a moving place of glory. I feel like the Lord says, "I'm on the move. My glory is on the move. It's going to look very different. I want you to be hungry. But I want you to be ones that go into whole communities."

Hedge Of Protection

John Paul Jackson

Jun 21, 2004

The grip of terrorism seems unshakeable in our nation. Its effect is everywhere: our airports, our power plants, our schools, our government, our churches, our media outlets. Every few weeks, we watch as another act of atrocity is committed overseas and we wonder: "When will they strike here again?"

We are facing an arena of attack unlike any we have faced before. Our soil, our land, our shield, our hedge, our protection, has been violated. A crack in our armor has been discovered—and the enemy is looking for other cracks, other chinks, to enter through. Sadly, there are plenty of them there—we have committed many sins as a nation.

The hedge of protection that God has placed around us has been removed. All throughout Scripture, God told Israel, "I will protect you. My hand will be upon you. I will push back the enemy who comes to your gates."

But when Israel sinned against God, He was equally clear: "I will remove my protection from you." That's what's happening in America. The protection of the Lord may be lifting.

Here is a profound spiritual principle: the degree that your protection is removed from you is the same degree that sin exists in your life.

September 11, 2001 was a warning call. We can respond in a way that will stop terrorism from ever occurring again in our land. How? All we have to do is repent of our national sin. Before September 11, the FBI says it thwarted more than 100 terrorist attempts to attack our nation. What made September 11 different? God's hedge of protection had been lowered.

In 1993, during the first Gulf War, we had an opportunity to turn back to God, but we didn't. Since that time, four denominations have agreed to bless homosexual marriages and ordain homosexual pastors. Since that time, more babies have been aborted. Since that time, adultery has run rampant. Since that time, our justice system has continued to treat the wealthy and famous differently than it treats the poor. The Ten Commandments have been removed from our courthouses. Since that time, we have had a president who was impeached for lying (but not removed from office) and become famous for an adulterous affair; we honored him as our leader.

As I go before the Lord on these issues, one Scripture rings continually in my ears "If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land," God says in 2 Chronicles 7:14.

The great thing about repentance is that it heals the cracks in our armor. The key to stopping future terrorism on our soil is repentance. I'm not talking about repentance for a day, but true, godly sorrow for ungodly beliefs. True repentance produces change. This is the call on our lives; this is the call on our nation.

God can—and will—restore the hedge of protection around the United States if we repent. We need God to pour out the spirit of intercession upon His Church. We need to ask for the Holy Spirit to pour out the conviction of sin. It's my prayer that God will double the size of our nation's intercessory groups, gathering hundreds and thousands to earnestly pray and repent. We must be convicted of our sin.

God wants to give us a warring spirit to provoke us to never stop fighting the good fight. He wants a people who will walk through the cities of America and ask God to move in them. There are many ways in which terrorists could be successful in their attacks on our soil, but God is blinding their eyes.

If we cry out, and we repent, everything will change. The scourge of terrorism will be broken. Will you bend your knees and cry out to God in repentance? Will you humble yourself and seek His face? Will you turn away from the things that grieve God's heart? If you do, He promises to heal our land. What are you waiting for?

If we do not recognize our growing irreverence for God, this nation's hedge of protection will continue to weaken, terrorist attacks will occur, and many lives will be lost, because sin separates us from God's presence.

Hedge Of Protection Is Being Removed

ISA 5:5 Now I will tell you what I am going to do to my vineyard: I will take away its hedge, and it will be destroyed; I will break down its wall, and it will be trampled.

(I asked the Lord to tell me more about the coastline regions and the dangers that they might face in the near future. This is what He told me. I sought more answers and information based upon the word that He had given to me on Jun 17, 2004. I do not relish sending forth messages like this, but I believe that I am to be obedient to warn you.)

"The coastlines are far from Me and my desires. All who live in large metropolitan cities will be targeted soon. Remain in Me and I will remain in you. The branch cannot survive unless it is rooted into the tree. Many of you are far from Me. Because of your great sins and wayward ways, these things are coming. If I speak to you concerning your safety, then you should move. "

(The Lord showed me a picture of the state of California. I looked at it as if it were a 3-D layer of ground with its boundaries. I saw it waver from side to side and rock back and forth. I then saw ocean waves begin to spill over onto it as it rocked back and forth. It sank and then seemed to come back up again.)

(I then saw bomber planes drop bombs below onto the ground. Concentric circles, or waves, came forth then from this action below. I saw what looked like an arm or hand coming out of the water. Someone or others, were attempting to rescue or grab this arm out of the water. Eventually it came out and what I saw was the Statue of Liberty. It had evidently been hit and now people were attempting to help erect it again.)

"I tell you that many of the freedoms that America once had, will be lost. You were once a land of liberty and promise, but I tell you that you are far from Me. You think that you will always be safe and that the wall of protection is round about you. You are wrong. Are you safe from danger when you are far from Me? Have you gone to your prayer chambers and prayed about these things? I tell you that I have warned, and warned, and warned you. A foreign power will enter into your borders; and yet, I will protect my people, says the Lord. "

(This vision/word finished with one more scene. I saw the land of America from the air, and it had a net of some sort that had been placed on top of it. Now, I saw a great hand reach down and take this net that once had been secured on top of America and was now, taking it off. It had been pinned down in all directions, and had been safely fastened to the ground around it. I watched this great hand take the entire net and ropes that held it into place, and toss it away. I sensed that now the hedge of protection that had for many years, been safe upon our nation, was now being removed.)

Be Joined To My Head So That Will Function As You Should Stephen Hanson

June 26, 2004

[18] And he is the head of the body, the church; he is the beginning and the firstborn from among the dead, so that in everything he might have the supremacy. Col. 1

1CO 12:14 Now the body is not made up of one part but of many. [15] If the foot should say, "Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," it would not for that reason cease to be part of the body. [16] And if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body," it would not for that reason cease to be part of the body. [17] If the whole body were an eye, where would the sense of hearing be? If the whole body were an ear, where would the sense of smell be? [18] But in fact God has arranged the parts in the body, every one of them, just as he wanted them to be. [19] If they were all one part, where would the body be? [20] As it is, there are many parts, but one body.

"There are many ministries around that think that they know Me and that they serve Me, but I tell you that they are building their own kingdom. They have put so much emphasis upon the eye or the foot, or the hand, that they have neglected the head. Can a body function without its head? There would be no hand or foot or eye, if this were so. I tell that some will step down in this hour because of these things."

(The Lord showed me a picture of a man who was upon a horse. However, he was very much like the "headless horseman" that you read about in classic literature. Then in the midst of this, coming down from the sky was a beautiful golden crown and a gold sword that shimmered as it approached me. As I watched this, they slowly came and were laid upon the ground.)

The Lord then said:

"I gave up these things so that I might be joined with the Father. I forsaked an earthly kingdom for a heavenly one.
Then my kingdom became one which is everlasting. My spirit is being poured out more and more; but I will not tolerate parts of my body elevating themselves above my head as they have. Be joined to my head so that you will function as you should. "

> “And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.” Revelation 13:11
> “I said unto the fools, deal not foolishly: and to the wicked, lift not up the horn: lift not up your horn on high: speak not with a stiff neck. For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south. But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another. For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red; it is full of mixture; and he poureth out of the same: but the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them. But I will declare forever; I will sing praises to the God of Jacob. All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off; but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.” Psalm 75:4-10

God’s faithful Son, the Holy Lamb who was without spot or blemish, looked upon the cross, with a heart filled with compassion, with a heart that beat with the Father’s love. It was the Father’s love that compelled the Son, to walk His predestined course. It was the Father’s abundant love, which moved in power upon the Son’s heart, so that His focus was united with the Father’s desire to see that the captives were set free. Prisoners, who could not perceive their own captivity, because great darkness covered the earth, so that the hearts of many men became hardened to the goodness of the Lord of all creation.

There is no greater love that man will ever hope to comprehend, than in understanding God’s purpose in allowing the innocent, precious blood of the Lamb to be shed upon the cross. Strength, revelation, purpose, salvation, redemption, prophetic proclamation, awaits the man who gains insight into the purpose of the cross and is released from his captivity to the darkness. As the eyes of a man’s heart begin to perceive the message that God has spoken to mankind through the cross, man’s thoughts and desires will be influenced by the power, mercy, and longsuffering of God’s love. It is God’s holy love that will strengthen the heart and mind of a man, so that he is able to stand with his faith firmly established in God. He will gain strength to stand firmly positioned on God’s foundation of truth, so that no matter what words of deception are heard calling from out the darkness, he will not be moved.

Behold, those who seek after righteousness and truth, “the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world” has made a way of escape from out of the darkness, so that man is able to perceive the mysteries that exist within God’s eternal kingdom. Through the redemptive blood that the Holy Lamb shed upon the cross, the way prepared, was brought to pass, so that sin and death would no longer have any claim to a man’s life. Through the blood shed upon the cross, the Father’s divine plan of redemption was established upon the earth. Man will begin to understand the riches that exist within God’s kingdom of eternal light, power and authority, as they awaken to the understanding that their souls have been redeemed by the precious blood of the Lamb.

Through Jesus Christ, the Holy Lamb, God visited the earth and redeemed man’s soul from the grave. Love is the power that sent the Lamb to the earth, love is the power that kept Jesus Christ upon His predestined path, and love is the power that raised the Son from the grave. And it is God’s love that was released upon the earth, in a great outpouring on the day of Pentecost, so that man could become partakers of God’s holiness. Now, whosoever believes within his heart that Jesus is the Christ, the Holy Lamb of God, is welcomed to partake of God’s Holy Spirit.

The Holy Spirit, which reveals God’s divine love toward man, was released upon the earth, enabling men to understand God’s longsuffering, mercy and compassion toward them. God’s love is shed abroad within a man’s heart, so that man is empowered to walk as Jesus Christ walked upon the earth. The Holy Spirit, God’s holy, divine love, provides man with evidence of God’s power and righteousness. It is God’s Spirit released into a man’s life that will deal with his old nature, which was influenced, formed and fashioned, by the darkness. It is God’s supernatural love that will transform thoughts and desires perverted by the darkness, so that man is able to walk renewed, restored according to God’s divine purpose for man, and able to love with a love that is aligned with the Light.

> “Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people, and hath raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began.” Luke 1:68-70

All praise, honor, and glory unto the Lord of our salvation, who is able to force loose the hand of deception, so that man may escape from out of the clutches and control of the enemy of his soul. The enemy of God, whose nature of death and destruction is aligned with the plans and purposes of darkness, continues to pervert the revelation of God’s mercy toward man. God has declared that Jesus Christ, the Holy Unblemished Lamb, is the horn, the strength of our salvation. It is through Jesus Christ that the Spirit is given, so that power and strength is obtained to push aside the hand of the deceiver, whose voice has held a firm grip upon man’s thoughts and opinions. The hand of deception that has held man in bondage to the realm of unbelief, where faith is quenched and love grows cold, will be pushed aside through the power of God's divine love, received through the Holy Spirit.

The Holy Lamb, the faithful Shepherd over God's flock, "will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick." God's love, which contains all the elements of God's power and authority, purpose and plans for man, held Jesus Christ upon His predestined course. This same love has now been made available to mankind, through the Holy Spirit. As man calls upon the name of Jesus Christ, God will be faithful to release His healing waters of restoration, the flowing, living presence of the Holy Spirit, into a man's life, so that man's soul is quieted, able to rest in the comforting arms of God's love. Those who have partaken of God's Holy Spirit, who have been redeemed from the grave, will be renewed in their understanding, able to perceive that Jesus Christ has provided their salvation from out of darkness.

Those born again of the seed of righteousness understand that Jesus Christ, "the horn of our salvation," was endowed with divine power, by the Father of all creation. And that it is this same power at work within their lives, which is conforming their thoughts and desires to that of the nature of the Holy Lord. God's love flowing through their lives has and will continue, to provide power to overcome thoughts of condemnation, covetness, doubt, hatred and lust. Because Jesus Christ is the horn of their salvation, their strength and power to walk wholly devoted to the Lord, they will not desire to profane God's holy name by taking any praise to themselves. Those changed by the power of the Holy Sprit will give all honor and glory to God alone for the transforming work that He has done in their lives, and in the lives of others.

> "And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon." Revelation 13:11

The "beast" who rises up from the sea of mankind's unrepentant, self-focused existence, has not been baptized into the healing, life transforming waters of God's Holiness. He has not partaken of the living waters, his focus is earthly, carnal, his heart and mind have not been changed according to God's nature of divine, holy love. The beast's power and authority has not been established upon the foundational truths that Jesus Christ has established, but upon the sifting, ever changing sands of deception that the dragon, Satan, uses to uphold his doctrine of self-centeredness.

Because God's finger of righteousness has not written upon the tablets of the beast's heart His Holy commandments, he will not have experienced a transformation of thought and emotion. God has not become his first love. Unselfish, holy, brotherly love is not an experience that is established within his life. Because the beast that speaks like a dragon has not been convicted of his need to live in holy obedience to the Lord, he finds it natural to take the glory, which belongs to God, unto himself. He finds it natural to desire that others give praise unto his gifts and talents, his thoughts, and ideas. Because the Holy Spirit has not been given access to reign and rule upon his desires, his lust perceives no boundaries, so that what he sees with his natural eyes become the desire that guide his heart.

The beast who proclaims that his power and authority comes from God, who reports that he speaks for the Lamb, Jesus Christ, may deceive man; but God is never deceived. God looks upon this man, and proclaims that he does not speak the mind and will of Jesus Christ, but of the dragon. The beast may claim authority according to his interpretation of the Word of God; but God declares, I do not know him. The beast may have learned to speak great, swelling words so that he is able to influence the thoughts and emotions of men, and take them captive to his desires; but God continues to declare that the words spoken by the beast will not lead men into freedom. The words spoken by the beast will continue to hold man in captivity to ideas and understandings that Jesus Christ desires to set men free from.

> "And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah made him horns of iron: and he said, thus saith the Lord, with these shalt thou push the Syrians, until thou have consumed them." 1 Kings 22:11

Zedekiah the son of Chenannah made horns of iron for the king of Israel, King Ahab. As the horns made by the hands of a Zedekiah were lifted up before the king, Zedekiah prophesied that King Ahab would gain victory over those who opposed him. But Zedekiah was a false prophet, who spoke words influenced by a lying spirit. Yet, the King of Israel received Zedekiah's lies as truth, his lying words catered to the Kings desires. Other prophets, who stood before King Ahab would herald Zedekiah's false words of victory as truth. Other prophets, influenced by a lying spirit, would join Zedekiah in his proclamation that King Ahab was assured victory on the battlefield.

Yet, when a devoted prophet of God, Micaiah, bore witness to the truth of what God had revealed to him, he would be rejected, imprisoned and fed the bread of affliction and the water of affliction. Micaiah belonged to the Lord; his reputation before the King of Israel was not his first priority. His devotion was to God, so no matter what suffering he might encounter from the hand of King Ahab, he would speak only what God revealed to him. Micaiah, contrary to the words spoken by the prophets who fashioned horns of iron, proclaimed there would be no victory for King Ahab in battle. Micaiah proclaimed that he saw, "all Israel scattered upon the hills, as sheep that have not a shepherd."

The King, who was presented with iron horns fashioned by the hands of a man who sought to please his desires, loved a lie over the truth, and would not gain victory on the battlefield for the children of Israel. Just as the beast who rises from the sea, his emotions influenced by the carnal, earthly nature, wears his two horns, fashioned by the hands and ideas of man, will not gain eternal victory, salvation from the darkness, so it is for those who would listen to his words of self-focused deception. The beast may proclaim that God goes with him, and that his authority is of God, but the words he speaks mirror his own selfish desires. The words he speaks reflect the nature of the dragon, who feels no remorse as men lie dying upon the battlefield.

Yet, God, in His infinite mercy, looks upon the sheep that "have not a shepherd", and continues to send out His true servants, proclaiming there is victory to be found. God's holy servants, who live in obedience to God, will speak words of truth, which proclaim that salvation is not obtained through the might of men who wear "iron horns." Men who speak words of deception, promise victory, but they are not able to deliver, because their strength lies with man, and not with God.

The Holy Lord will continue to send out His servants, who will declare victory is not to be gained by looking to men who love the praises of others, and who live according to the selfishness of pride. Man may be deceived by those who wear "iron horns", men who proclaim victory will be gained for those who continue to follow their lead into battle. But God will not be mocked. God is able to reveal the truth to His scattered, lost flock, that salvation, freedom from the darkness, is found only in turning to the Son, trusting Him, and submitting themselves unto God's righteousness.

The horn of our salvation, Jesus Christ, is the holy, obedient Shepherd who drank from the cup of suffering. He was obedient unto the will of the Father. And He was afflicted for man's sake. The Holy Son of God bore man's sins upon the cross, so that man would be able to drink from the cup of baptism, and partake of God's Holy Spirit, able to bear witness to the power of God's great love. Through the sanctifying presence of God's Spirit moving upon man's heart and mind, the inside of the "cup", a man's vessel, is made clean, ready for the Master's use.

Yet, the beast who rises up from the sea, whose nature is earthly, carnal, wears horns that represent his own self-focused thoughts and ideas of what relationship with God should be like, works to make the outside of the cup clean, but in prideful ignorance forsakes the inside. Because he has not partaken of the cup of baptism, the Holy Spirit, he does not understand that the inside of the cup, man's vessel, is full of what he has partaken of; that is, the dross that was wrung out of the mixture held within the Lord's cup.

Jesus proclaimed that "the disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord." Jesus also spoke that, "it is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord." For a man to take it upon himself, and fashion horns of power and authority so that men will bow in honor of his superior talents and abilities, is to behave as if he is greater than the Master, wiser than the Master, above the Master, in many ways. His pride has blinded him to the truth of submitting in humility unto the Lord.

If a man continues to walk according to his own preconceived ideas of what Christian authority represents, seeking his own way, and not God's, he will needlessly bring destruction upon himself. His pride will cause blinders to be put upon the eyes of his heart, so that he is hindered from seeing God's hand of mercy. In seeking his own way, lying spirits will influence the thoughts he thinks, and the words he speaks. He will walk in delusion, proclaiming he speaks with God's authority, but in truth speaking words that reflect the nature of the dragon. In this, he will find that peace escapes him. Unless he repents and calls upon Jesus with a sincere and humble heart, with a desire to serve God and those to whom God calls him, there will be no release from thoughts that belong buried in the grave.

When man understands, through the leading of the Holy Spirit, that Jesus Christ is the horn of his salvation, the only true source of strength and power that is able to save man from thoughts and desires that belong in the grave, then will his heart humbly seek to live in obedience to the nature of the Living God. Deception will flee as the Spirit begins to reveal even greater truth to the power that lies behind God's love. When man receives revelation to the nature of Jesus Christ, the words that fill his mouth, will seek to give all honor unto the Father for His abundant, holy love that has been released upon the earth.

> "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Which things also we speak, not in the words, which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."

Heart Of Stone - Heart Of Flesh

So often we hear the same old words of doubt concerning the love of God. So many people confess their fears and lack of trust in God's ability to love them. They think that they have to deserve His love by being good and doing their best, otherwise God would not love them.

They don't understand that God's love is unconditional, and is not based on their love for Him, or lack of it. God is love ... His very nature is love, and He loves us no matter what ... That's why He sent His only Son - "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son ..." John 3:16

He sent Jesus for that reason ... because He loved us ... as bad as we were, as cold and heartless, full of sin and ugliness, yet He loved us. He does not place any condition on His love, our goodness is not prerequisite for it. His love is free and is not bound by any rules and regulations.

He desires for us to love Him back ... But if we don't, He still reaches out to us through the darkness of our lives. His love cuts through the web of lies, and through all the barriers we have erected ...

God loves His creation ... He loves people ... God hates sin, but He loves humanity. He has made provision for every single person in this world to get to know Him, to partake of His goodness, to enjoy the benefits of His Kingdom, long before we loved Him.

True love loves beyond any reason ... True love doesn't depend on responses to that love, but continues to love with the passion and compassion, with understanding, and it is the gift that keeps on giving throughout the lifetime, into the eternity.

And once our eyes are opened to the wonders of such love, it is hard to resist it, and turn away from it. But, as we receive it in our hearts, may we not be selfish to keep it for ourselves, but allow it to change us, and transform us into the love itself, so it can be multiplied and spread throughout this cold, heartless world.

People need to see the love of God in action ... That love needs to become alive, needs to take the form of the flesh once again, and walk this earth, selflessly giving, sharing and feeding, so the cold, stony hearts of men would be touched by the warmth and transforming power of that love, and become the hearts of flesh, being able to give back to God the kind of love that loves forever.

God gave the body to His love in the person of Jesus - He touched all around Him, doing good wherever He went ...

But, Jesus is the Firstborn among many brethren! We too have the same ability to love unconditionally, to give and do good, to love with the same kind of love we have received, so that the world may know that GOD LOVES THEM.

We need to shine the light of that love into their darkness ... For how will they know if they are not told, how will they see if they are blind ... how will they follow if there is no leader?

It is time to set the captives free, to give from the Bread of Life and feed the multitudes, to dig wells in the deserts, and allow the rivers to water the parched ground of the earth. This humanity are earthly vessels, dry and cracked, and it is time for RESTORATION of all things unto our God!

Winds of the Holy Spirit, blow upon us and spread us around, to touch untouchable, to love unlovable, to proclaim the goodness of our God, and His Good Will toward every man ... (2 Pet. 3:9)

Love is calling in the streets ... CAN YOU HEAR HIS VOICE???

God's DNA
Jasminka Diehl

16 Dec 2003 GOD'S DNA

If there is one thing that we can learn by being around God, it would be that He doesn't do anything just for the sake of doing it. He has a PURPOSE for everything. His nature is not impulsive. I just have a very hard time perceiving God as the one that has to fix His mistakes. Presented that way it shows imperfection in God, but we know that God is perfect.

So than, what can we say about the sin? Did God make mistake by creating the man, and by that condemning him to the life of pain and suffering? Did God make mistake by creating the angels, whose one third has turned against Him? Did God know what would happen? Could He who is perfect create something so imperfect? Did He leave all to the chance and circumstances, or was there some greater plan, some purpose that is clearly eluding our human mind?

God is the spirit, He is all knowing and all powerful ... To understand Him, we need to get deep into deepest parts of our being, and allow our spirit to commune with the Eternal One, so we can find the answers to these valid questions, that are essential to our existence.

There is a purpose to everything that God does. He is the God of purpose. This purpose is written on the every page of the Bible - we have examples of people that have followed God, and we can see their clearly defined destiny and purpose, etched within the very fiber of their being.

When God would say or do something, there was always the reason behind it. We quote the scriptures and sing songs about His greatness and power, yet with our words and our lives we have reduced Him to the individual who has to fight this ages long war against evil. We have made Him weak and small, we have forgotten who God really is.

He is The God! In the Beginning there was only God. He is the God that has created everything! He created the universe and the stars, He created the earth and all the planets ... He is all in all, and everything came out of Him. From His spoken Word whole creation came into being.

Did God know that man was going to sin? Did God know that Lucifer was going to rebel? We have a definite YES to all of it. Revelation 13:8 speaks of God's infinite knowledge and His provision: THE LAMB WAS SLAIN FROM THE FOUNDATION OF THE WORLD.

God knew what was going to happen. He knew all of the rebellion and sin that will corrupt and destroy the perfection of His creation, yet He went ahead and did it anyway. And I have to wonder WHY!

We take for granted all of His love, we go after the gifts and His callings, we dream of His Kingdom and the Heaven, we are in the love with the Bridegroom, yet do not understand His ways, we do not comprehend the full truth and the nature of His heart.

There are mysteries that are hidden, and they are about to be revealed - for the time is drawing near and is upon us!

I can see the Garden, in the beginning ... God coming down in the cool of the day, to walk and talk with Adam. Desire for fellowship means not liking the loneliness, it means sharing your life with somebody else, sharing your dreams, your plans ...

God has created perfect world ... So why than was sin introduced? Was it just a chance? Why did satan had to meet a man? With all the planets available in the whole universe, couldn't have he been cast out to some other planet in some other distant galaxy, far away from the man?

Or was there a plan for the two of them to meet? Certainly, God has the ultimate power and control over everything. Nothing depends on the mere chance, but is created and orchestrated with a purpose, by Him alone.

If God created everything, which He did, the man too is just a creation, made out of dust. What gave him life was the very breath of God. But still, he is just a creation. He still is not a family. What defines the family is the same DNA they all carry, the genes from the parents ... Man, being just a creation, didn't have God's DNA - therefore he wasn't part of the Family.

So what if, before all the creation, God had a plan to have a Family. That's why the BLOOD had to be spilled, and the sin had to be introduced ... So that the earthly, carnal man (creation) could die, and be reborn (born again) by the blood of Jesus, the Son of God, and through that New Birth come into God's Family.

Through the New Birth we get new DNA, God's DNA, which is incorruptible, perfect DNA. That is why God can say to us: BE YE HOLY AS I AM HOLY! He wouldn't say it if it wasn't possible. Holiness is His nature, and as His children we inherit that same nature, same DNA. Jesus was the firstborn among many brethren. He became the way!

Once again I want to emphasize that God never does anything just for the sake of doing it. He has a purpose for everything. He is purpose driven, and there is no chance or coincidence in Him.

Are we just a mere men that work, toil and fight throughout this human life, just hopping to make it until we get to heaven, when all our problems will disappear, and we can live forever more on the "streets of gold"?

Or, are we the true children of the Most High God, made for greatness, having intimate relationship and knowledge of our Father, understanding His purpose and walking in the wisdom, bearing the fruit and ushering the Kingdom, spreading the Good News, being the true witnesses to His greatness.

So, do we believe the traditions of men, that are without the power of God, and do not really bring men out into the sphere of heaven, but are leaving him to toil in the dust of the earth?

Or do we knock and it shall be opened, do we ask and it shall be given to us ... Do we seek and we shall find?

Can we finally become the true witnesses to the greatness of our God, so that the whole earth could be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord?

Hold On To My Promises

Milt Ortiz

March 18, 2004

My people of Zion, hold fast to the promises which I have bestowed upon you through My Word and through the mouths of My prophets. For these are not empty words spoken in vain, but the voicing and revealing of My plan for your life for the purpose of giving you vision and renewing your hope and faith in what I am going to do and that I am capable of doing it. Heaven is rejoicing even as My sons and daughters of thunder proceed forth with the call and anointing of God on their lives. Remember to keep praises in your mouth and stay pliable to My work in you, for I am preparing you for glorious days, says the Lord.

Hijacked On The Way
Ron McGatlin

Much of the church is on the move from one place to another - from institutional and highly structured to a less structured, less formal, Spirit led, more intimate experience with God. Small intimate groups of church are forming. Many based in homes or businesses.

A transient condition has developed much like the pioneers and explorers of new lands in centuries past. Small groups of pilgrims or explorers would break off from the safety of their imperfect homeland in search of something better. The small groups in transit became vulnerable to hijackers who plundered them and stole their valuables and supplies. Pirates at sea and raiding parties on land were a risk that they took in their attempt to reach a better place.

There is no doubt that God is bringing about the massive changes in the landscape of church. There is also no doubt that the enemy seeks to corrupt the work of God and prevent people from making a safe and successful move to the new place. There are principalities, powers, and spiritual wickedness that are seeking to hijack the small groups and take control of the people to divert them from the plan of God. (Eph 6:12)

The hijacker may approach as a friend of God, even a minister of light and then after gaining confidence, begin to release strong spirits of deception and an altered focus for the group. The deception and improper focus may range from a focus on "worldly carnal living" to a focus on "hyper spirituality". Once the group is off the intended road they become isolated. They are cut off from other parts of the body and become easy prey for controlling deceptive spirits to take over and lead them toward disorder and eventually destruction.

A deceptive spirit is a cruel task master and may come in the appearance of truth and light but eventually turns toward the darkness of criticism, judgmental attitudes and fear. The deception of carnal living and "hyper spirituality" may both be operating in the same group at the same time or either one may be the dominant attack on a group. The cruelty of the deceptive spirit is that the people cannot see they are deceived and believe they are spot on. Usually, not until strong negative consequences occur will the person begin to reexamine their life and beliefs.

If the attack on the group is toward a focus on carnal living, a spirit masquerading as "freedom" will lead them toward partaking of the fulfillment of perversions of natural appetites and pleasures. Younger people are sometimes particularly vulnerable to this diversion of focus but all ages can be deceived. There will be tolerance for carnal pleasures and worldly ways with little or no discernment of the spirits behind the activity. While the people may be led to think they are only throwing off the "old restraints of religion" they are truly being diverted from the ways of God onto a side road leading to disorder and destruction.

If the attack on the group is "hyper spirituality" there are some warning signs to look for. There will be a sense of superior "pure" revelation or understanding of Scripture above and beyond what others see. There will be elitism with a sense of superiority over others in discernment and gifting.

There will be an underlying belief that the leaders and their close followers are the only ones around that have got things really right. Others who have some difference of understanding are often characterized as of the devil and generally blamed for things that go wrong.

There will be strong devotion toward the leader or leaders and those who dare to disagree are ostracized in one way or another. Leaders who could help the group's eyes to be opened are dumped on with the mud of accusation to discredit them with the group and separate them from the people.

There are other characteristics and signs of these deceptive attacks but there is one quality or lack thereof that will always identify the deceived minister of mixture posing as a minister of light. It is not gifting nor revelation nor Bible knowledge but the distinguishing quality is the presence of the pure holy real love of God. Self sacrificing love will never really be present although it may be professed and pretended.

In reality the person does not know the true depth of the love of God. They may think that they know Him but have never really tasted the all consuming love that overcomes the world - the love that brought Jesus to and through the crucifixion - the love that caused Him to become sin for us.

The sweetness of the reality of the holy intimate love of God that changes the harlot to a pure and holy Bride is not really experienced and demonstrated in those who are yet in bondage to deceiving spirits. They will not poses this love and will not be able to see it in others who do have it. They will see others through the filter of their own hearts.

What can we do to assure our group a journey safe from hijackers?

See that the loving presence of God is manifest in our group. If we don't have it go where it is and get it. Allow Jesus to fully heal us of all painful experiences of the past. Love those who have harmed us and love those around us. See that our group stays connected to other groups and several (not just one) of God's loving leaders. Be subject to one another and do not follow any man that does not demonstrate the pure holy self sacrificing love of God. Follow the Jesus in man.

Look for the love - follow the love - it never fails.

Lots of love,
Ron

Church Planted Over The Internet - USA

I recently received an e-mail from a friend on the East coast of the USA who had led someone to Christ over the internet. It turned out that the person lived in Austin, Texas, as do I. My wife Felicity and I met the couple; three short weeks later, they had a new church in their house. Yesterday evening, there were already 12 participants, and we had a fabulous time! For me, that is another example of finding 'people of peace' (see Luke 10) in their home, bringing Christ into their sphere of influence. Similar things are happening all over the nation," says Tony Dale.

Since a regional conference in Raleigh, North Carolina last year, twenty new house churches have formed. It doesn't stop there, though: the new movement has already started thinking about multiplying itself, and is training the next generation of church planters using Tony and Felicity Dale's "Getting Started" material.

How Many?

The Lord's heart is sorely grieved over the walk of many of His own - those who profess to KNOW Him in all ways but yet are far from HIM. HE has wept many tears and His heart has been grieved by those who go forth 'In His Name' while seeking their own agendas. So many of us have been shedding His tears and feeling His pain as we eagerly await His Glory to fill HIS Temples but find His Glory has been staid because of pride, self exaltation and vain self glorification. Although my heart weeps for those "Christian" eyes that are blinded and ears that are stopped, I weep even more for the Lord. HOW MUCH MORE must HIS heart weep for HIS own? HOW MUCH MORE must HE be hurt by the very ones calling Him "Lord, Lord?" HOW MUCH MORE must HE continue to watch those who profess they are His, follow their 'own' self seeking agendas and plans? HOW MUCH MORE until HE stands to HIS feet and says: "ENOUGH IS ENOUGH?"

He has waited so patiently for those of His own who are only partly following Him to "see" for He would have NONE be exempt from HIS GLORY that is descending upon His Faithful and true. He truly has much grace for us .... However, HE will NOT be mocked and HE will NOT be deprived of His Glory Fillling His True Temples and that time is fast upon us. Even in His final crying out to His own, HOW MANY still will not have eyes to see or ears to hear?

HOW MANY still will not see that they do not follow Him in every way? HOW MANY will 'miss' His Visitation, His Glory and all that He has for His true followers? HOW MANY will say "Why didn't I see what I was doing?" HOW MANY will say "Why didn't I see the false doctrines I was spewing forth that had come from within another or from within my own flesh? " HOW MANY will say "Why didn't I see how I have hurt His own Beloved, in the guise of using HIS Name, while trying to elevate myself within the brethren and even within myself?" HOW MANY will say "Why didn't I see that my talk was not a true walk?" HOW MANY will say "Why didn't I see His warnings that I needed to heed before it was too late? HOW MANY will say "Why didn't I see that my time was truly running out for the necessary changes to be made?" HOW MANY will say "Oh Lord, Why didn't I see?"

HE will NOT be robbed and His Glory IS set to descend upon 'His holy temples.' HOW MANY will receive HIS Glory? HOW MANY because of their own self righteousness will watch it pass them by? Beloved, it is time that we stop "Exalting OUR 'Stand' OVER the Blood of Jesus." It is time to stop "Exalting OUR difficulties OVER the Blood of Jesus." It is time to stop "Exalting OUR stubborn and our 'oh so correct theologies' OVER the Blood of Jesus." This is the time for His Glory to inhabit His faithful and true. HOW MANY, HOW MANY will the veil be lifted from their blind eyes and their deaf ears unstopped to hear? HOW MANY?

(A dear sister and a strong sister in the Lord, from S. Africa, had sent me these scriptures the other day which He gave her while her own heart was weeping for HIM and with HIM. Very clearly He is speaking to us, HOW MANY will hear?)

Isa 22:4 Therefore said I, Look away from me; I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me, because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people Isa 22:5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity by the Lord GOD of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains

Mic 3:1 And I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel; Is it not for you to know judgment? Mic 3:2 Who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones; Mic 3:4 Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings. Mic 3:5 Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people err, that bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him. mic 3:6 Therefore night shall be unto you, that ye shall not have a vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and the sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them. Mic 3:7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all cover their lips; for there is no answer of God.Mic 3:8 But truly I am full of power by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin. Mic 3:9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.Mic 3:11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us.

Isa 63:1 Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save. Isa 63:2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winefat? Isa 63:3 I have trodden the winepress alone; and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury; and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.Isa 63:4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

Isa 62:1 For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth. Isa 62:2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name.Isa 62:3 Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God. Isa 62:4 Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called Hephzibah, and thy land Beulah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married. Isa 62:6 I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the LORD, keep not silence, Isa 62:7 And give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.Isa 62:8 The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured: Isa 62:9 But they that have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and they that have brought it together shall drink it in the courts of my holiness. Isa 62:10 Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a standard for the people.

Isa 62:11 Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

Isa 62:12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called, Sought out, A city not forsaken.

So many of My Beloved have been crying out to ME and seeking My face as to the pressures and times you have been going through and you have looked for 'reasons' - but I say to you .... Set your sight upon ME and Rest In Me - do not 'toil' to look for reasons but "rest in My presence."

As I carry you into that higher place, KNOW that I WILL do ALL that I have promised! You have been obedient to My calling and you have been obedient to My work, even with the sands of adversity swirling round about you. Do you think that I would forsake you or abandon you now? Many are swimming in a sea of financial problems ... Many can only see a big debt with no way out. Many are in dire need of a healing... I am a miracle working God do you not think that I have the resources to turn you around? Do not fret over finances for greater will be your testimony of how your God delivers and provides. Believe that I heal now as I always have healed. Everyone will see what your God can do. Your God is greater than the largest debt you can imagine or the greatest of disease and sickness. Your God is greater than ANY problem that is currently besetting you.

Know that I AM close and not far away. Continue to stand on the Words which have been spoken over you. Do not allow the enemy to steal them from you or your hope for I AM your hope, your refuge and your strength. All will be done by MY hand that the I AM shall be glorified. The only thing that you must do is trust in ME as I will perform your miracle and I will do it quickly, for none of My Own will be ashamed.

The eyes of your Lord move to and fro, seeking those who would serve Me. Seeking those who would truly follow Me and give ALL to Me. As I sought, I saw you saying ... "Here am I Lord, a vessel empty and ready to be filled with You." I have emptied you still more, cleansing you and filling you with Myself. I have been making you ready. Ready for the work I have called you to do ... a joint heir and servant ready to move into the place I have called you to go.

Rise up and be alert for the very circumstances and opportunities that you seek are presenting themselves, having the potential of bringing GREAT CHANGE into your life. You will never be the same! Seek My face and yield to My plans. Have I forsaken even one of My chosen? No, I have not forsaken even 'one' of My chosen - you have gone through the fire "for Me." I have been purging and making you fit for My chosen vessel and you have not been forsaken or abandoned.

There is a great breaking forth as everything is lining up for "your day", the day for which you are longing. What the enemy has used to attempt to destroy you - I AM using to perform the miracle that will be your testimony. Beloved, I extend to you, MY PEACE, take it - the peace that I have given you as your sign that I AM bringing forth the miracles that you need. Take My Peace, the peace of KNOWING that I have heard each prayer, each cry and each pleading now KNOWING that I AM answering each of your cries for help.

FEAR NOT - that I will not do as I said I would do. FEAR NOT - that I will not meet your every need as I have promised. FEAR NOT, that I will not keep My Word to you. FEAR NOT, My Beloved child, for I AM always with you. Through 'every moment of your life', I AM there with you. I have given you the love and support that you have needed to make it through the most challenging of times and you will always come through 'whole and well.' Where-ever you go, I AM right there with you. Your destiny In Me is at your door and I shall provide every need. -The road ahead may challenge you but you are more than capable of meeting and overcoming any obstacle in your way. If ever you have a doubt - let My wisdom be your guide.

Beloved, I AM a vast God. My vastness so supersedes all that you can imagine. That is why you can't fully comprehend what I AM doing and will continue to do in your life. My ways and thoughts so supersede your thoughts and ways, seeing the beginning from the end and I AM never too late, but always on time. FEAR NOT - My chosen one, for I AM RIGHT ON TIME IN YOUR LIFE. You have been moving into a new realm of the Spirit. You will now see new manifestations of My Spirit. You will have a new understanding in the Spirit in a new and powerful way. I AM your source and you will comprehend Me as your source as never before. I AM your source and your power, it comes from ME, saith the Lord and I AM bringing change into your life. A change that will be seen by those around you. Just as I wrestled with Jacob, you have been wrestling with your God, and I have changed you. As you have said "I will not let go until you bless me", I AM BLESSING YOU! My Word says "IN DUE SEASON", this IS your season and time. You have sowed in faith over the years and your due season is here.

Arise, My child, let no condemnation come against you, for there is no condemnation for those who are in ME! Feel MY FAITH flooding over you NOW!!! I AM coming in 'like a flood' and driving away your enemies and "ALL who have risen against you shall fall to the ground." I will satisfy all of your needs and there shall be no doubt that it is the I AM who is leading you! Faith has opened the door and you shall be far from oppression - you shall have MY heart and My heart is for you and the lost. Do not look to feelings as feelings will lie - look to ME knowing I AM giving ALL for My Beloved. Stand firm on everything that I have already spoken to you, knowing that the I AM ALWAYS fights the battle.

Precious in the sight of your God is My child who puts his trust in ME. You have put your trust In Me, entrusting me with your very life and everything that pertains to your life. You are precious in My sight. Have you trusted in vain? I say No, My child. I HAVE NOT FAILED YOU AND I WILL NOT FAIL YOU! You have trusted Me for all and now see ALL come to pass!

His People Are Crying, "Holy!"

Mary Ellen Gilliland

Heaven and earth cry out, "Holy!" And you are crying out, "Holy." You are singing, "Holy." You are praising and worshipping Me as "Holy." Come then, and understand with Me what this means: it means divine order. It means that all the earth, through you, worships Me. It means that My will can be done on earth as it is in heaven because "hallowed is My name." Holy is My name.

Oh, rejoice in this, My beloved, that things are right in heaven and on earth because My people have cried out and are crying out, "Holy!" See--wait, watch and see--what I will do.

His Pocket Watch
Robert Cummings

Jul 22, 2004
Received this message on July 20, 2004 from Robert Cummings, Sr., a Prophet and Warrior Priest of YHVH . Robert sent the following: "a Word just now from YHWH -- 'at face value', and 'AND CALLETH THOSE THINGS WHICH BE NOT AS THOUGH THEY WERE'. "

After an inquiry of Abba asking, "What would you have us to understand about these phrases from Your mouth to Your Prophets ears?" This is what YHVH shows and speaks:

What YHVH [God] is showing: HE shows the FACE of a pocket watch with an attached chain being held in the palm of a large hand -- the hand of the skilled watchmaker. HE is smiling and looking at the inner workings of HIS creation; precisely and finely crafted to last forever! HE holds it one way in the light and then tilts it and looks from a different perspective. HE is admiring the pocket watch and its exquisitely harmonious inner workings --- all the while examining as though performing a final visual inspection before allowing it's final release.

What YHVH [God] is saying: "This timepiece is one with many intricacies that only I can fully comprehend and appreciate. I have set my stamp of approval upon this watch(man). When I place my name upon My creation, I AM doing this with great pride and love for all that WE have endured together to come matured to this place and time.

I AM about to place My creation on display with spectacular fanfare, lighting, sound, color, costumes and backdrop.....as a most magnificent opera....a Holy GRAND OPENING for all to see. Many will marvel at this great work that I have done....no man may boast of all that has been accomplished and that shall soon come.

Many surprises for My Remnant Warriors, many wonderful surprises are in store for those who hold true...just a moment more, not much longer, all will come into focus with clarity. My work as a rare museum piece, a grand treasure--many will SEE and be amazed; they will turn from their SIN and bow down before ME in great awe.

I AM the GREAT I AM! I hold INTIMATE KNOWLEDGE of this instrument which I lovingly hold this day in My Mighty Right Hand. This instrument of My making, a beautiful and humble tool for My use and good pleasure. My laborious work has been precious time spent with you....many, many hours have gone into smoothing away rough edges and molding and refining the object of My affection.

YOU, My end-time Remnant Warriors are this proudly displayed timepiece. YOU are My precious ones, My called-out ones, My set-apart ones, My wall's watchmen warriors. You are the markers of time in obedience. YOU are now qualified as my instruments of Spiritual victory, peace and reconciliation to those lost in the quagmire that the enemy has created in this world...soon slotted for redemption. Oh, yes, soon to be redeemed by the only one worthy to loosen the seals of the scrolls, Messiah Yeshua (Jesus Christ).

I AM Your Adonai Elohim, Your YHVH, Your Abba.....I AM faithful and True. I have filled you with my shalom and simcha [My peace and joy!]. O, Prophets -- mine -- pass it on, yes, just pass this peace and joy right on to all in the camp for My name's sake and Glory. Give it away, call it forth in My Body. Watchman Warriors, blow the Shofar in the great assembly, pass it on straight away! This is preparation for the GREAT WAR for ALL souls upon the earth.

"With My eyes, I can see things from a far superior vantage than any man can determine. Man's estimation stops short, and aborts the destinies and honor that I have designed for many. Man elevates man unto places of prominence by criteria not mine. " As they sit high in the sky, puffed up with pride, I shall pull them down," says Elohim Adonai.

"Man's limited ability can view most things in this life at 'face value'. This is not always a flaw, yet, I purpose a much higher level of spiritual sophistication from MY appointed/anointed top level Generals," says Adonai, who is the Commander of the Angel-Armies.

No longer little children, but rather--your task to quietly discern of all that is placed before you. Have you not heard "All that glitters is not gold", and "all that sparkles is not a precious gemstone for the assembling of My crown." Some of the rocks littering Boaz' field may be diamonds in the rough, just waiting for you to redeem them...oh, kinsman redeemer....do your duty!

Prayer warriors and prayer intercessors...CRY OUT TO YHVH for their redemption! Call forth and ask for the reclaiming of billions and billions and billions of souls. Pray, war, intercede!!! I AM calling you to fight--for your warfare is not with flesh and blood but against principalities and powers of the air ... FIGHT!!! Be brave and courageous....no delay! Victory, Victory, Victory!!! Have you not read the end of the book? Victory! Shout, Victory!!!

Man has not my degree of understanding, nor complete knowledge of My ways...you see dimly now and in part...for I AM the creator of ALL. Who hung the moon and the stars and the sun and clouds in the sky? It was I, YHVH....did you have part in creation? Man can only see on the surface and does not discern the essence, or core character of My highly crafted jeweled pieces of usefulness. Man's judgment lacks without MY Ruach haKodesh (My Holy Spirit)and knowing My son Yeshua.

It is I who have conceived, nourished, crafted and with great skill worked to perfection in your lives My Endtime Remnant Warrior Armies. It is Your Abba who has honed to perfection events and circumstances for your good. I AM the Aleph and the Tav. I AM polishing and cleaning for the final time.

SOON My Great Work will be displayed for all to observe. My own, My remant people will cheer! YOU will shout Halleluyah's and dance and sing. For I AM good! MY WORK in each of your lives is good! Now you will be glad and understand....rejoice!!! ALL TIME AND BEYOND IS MINE, AND SO ARE YOU!!!

I tell you My treasures, FOLLOW ME, my last plea...just follow ME!

I AM lowering the glass cover on MY precious work and as it snaps into place for the final time, all of heaven is hushed!!!

My watch(men) Remnant Warriors completed and displayed in splendor; they resonate with mercy, grace, justice and love from My heart, prepared for this last HARVEST in Holiness!!!

Love,
Abba

Consecrate Yourselves
Robert Cummings

Jul 21, 2004 So many not only in the world but in the body of Messiah that are part already of the Great Falling Away and will not make it. ONE crying in the wilderness and shouting from the house tops Truth & Revelation told us in secret commanded to be proclaimed openly letting the chips fall where they may separating even more the goats from the sheep and the wheat from the tares, the Plumbline straight and narrow, the Rod of Iron and standard of the Wrath of the Lamb, the Lion of Judah, the KING of kings, with HIS eyes of fire our own and HIS voice of Justice and Judgment our own as HE slays HIS enemies by HIS Voice in our mouth:

"Therefore have I hewed them by my prophets, I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and Thy judgments are as the Light that goeth forth" Hosea 6:5

ONLY THE REMNANT WHO ARE WILLING TO TAKE "HIS" DESTROYING WEAPON IN THEIR HAND, THEIR WEAPON OF SLAUGHTER IN OBEDIENCE TO YHSHUA'S FLAMING EYES AND

VOICE OF COMMAND; "Slay utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women: but come not near the man with the mark, Seal, and begin at MY Sanctuary. then they, (we) began at the ancient men which were before the house". Ezekiel 9

"....... Defile the house ..... smite; let OUR eyes not spare; neither have WE pity ......

NOW I KNOW YOU FEAR "ME" FOR THOU HAST NOT SPARED THY SON, THY ONLY SON FROM "ME" ....

OH THE PUNY FEW REMNANT THAT MUST FEAR YHWH IN ABSOLUTE TRUTH AND JUSTICE AND WITH THE VOICE OF YHWH THROUGH US AS THROUGH MOSES SAY:

"Thus saith YHWH Elohim of Israel, put every man (and woman) his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate through out the camp, and slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbor" Ex 32:27

"For Moses (YHWH) said, Consecrate yourselves to day to YHWH, even every man upon his son, and upon his brother, that HE may bestow upon you a Blessing this day". 29.

OH REMNANT PUNY FEW, WHO ARE YOU ? ARE YOU INDEED ONE OF THE PUNY FEW REMNANT ?

"THUS SAITH YHWH, SEE WHAT I HAVE BUILT I AM BREAKING DOWN, AND WHAT I HAVE PLANTED I AM PLUCKING UP, THAT IS THE ENTIRE LAND. AND DO YOU SEEK GREAT MATTERS FOR YOURSELF ? DO NOT SEEK THEM, FOR LOOK, I AM BRINGING EVIL ON ALL FLESH, DECLARES YHWH. BUT I SHALL GIVE YOUR LIFE TO YOU AS A PRIZE IN ALL PLACES, WHEREVER YOU GO". Jeremiah 45:4-5

INDEED PUNY FEW REMNANT, ARE YOU, ON THE SIDE OF YHWH ? ARE YOU DECLARES YHWH, ARE YOU ?

THEN PREPARE TO TAKE UP MY SWORD BY THE WORDS OF MY MOUTH IN AND THROUGH YOU AS "I" SLAY MY ENEMIES IN TRUTH AND JUSTICE AND ESCAPE WITH YOUR LIFE IN "ME" ONLY.

thus ends the Word of YHWH

in LOVE and devotion to my King YHshua

Pray Your Flight
Robert Cummings

Matthew 24
20 But Pray ye that Your Flight be not in the Winter, neither on the Sabbath day: 21 For Then shall be Great Tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

Shalom last day Remnant,

In 2001 my 4 year old granddaughter Abigail asked my daughter Lisa, Mommy, what are we going to do when we can't buy anything, where will we get our food and water ? My daughter said I don't think that is going to happen. Abigail said yes it is Mommy, I know it is because Jesus (YHshua) told me it is. Lisa had never talked with her daughter about anything like this.

This year 2004, Abigail now 6 (7 in July) said to my daughter. Mommy, I have to go to the Wilderness. Why Abby ? Lisa asked. Because Mommy I really want to know who I am. Lisa said, well in the wilderness, you might not survive you might die. Abigail said, well then I would be with Jesus (YHshua) and I would really know who I am. From the mouth of Babes.

"And to the woman (Israel) were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the WILDERNESS, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent." Revelation 12:14

Please keep in mind, "those who Believe in Messiah YHshua are grafted into Israel the olive tree and are no longer Gentiles (goyim) - those of the nations. You are either of the house of G-d or you are of the nations". Paul Wilbur May 26,2001 at Christian Assembly Columbus Ohio.

So when You Who believe in Messiah read of Israel you are reading of YOURSELF. Christians separate themselves as not being part of Israel and not being Israelites but only their friends. That is False ! READ Romans 11:17-24 your grafted into the Household of Faith, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, ISRAEL. No longer goyim, Gentile.

For the past three months YHWH has been speaking loudly in my Set-apart Ear about Matthew 24:20 and preparing this WORD from HIM to the Remnant who Love, Fear, Hear and Obey HIS Voice above all no matter what the cost or sacrifice.

Five days ago YHWH woke me up at 4 am with these words: "pray that your flight, pray that your flight, pray that your flight". I got up and for over one hour these were the words I kept hearing over and over and over. (Question, will you Hear His Voice when HE says GO, Flee ?)

I will write Matthew 24:20-21 (1) as YHWH has given it to me by first impression (2) and then I will write the word meanings of this verse (3) and what they are when put together collectively as one verse. Please read this Word straight through first to get the whole picture and watch it come together with understanding at the end.

vs20 "But pray ye that your Flight be not in or during, the STORM and TEMPEST neither at the APPOINTED TIME".

vs21 "for THEN (what THEN ? the Storm and Tempest at the Appointed Time) shall be Great Tribulation such as has not been since the beginning of the world until this time, no, nor ever shall be."

THE DAY OF YHWH (L-rd) is soon, very soon upon us.

HE, Messiah, says there is a FLIGHT; Strongs concordance #5437 flight, phuge, foog-ay, fleeing, escape, #5343 phule, foo-lay = FROM.

HE, Messiah, says not in WINTER #5494 storm, tempest, Season. #5494 is akin to the base #5490 chasm, Vacancy, impassable interval - gulf. The word season in the Hebrew also means Appointed Time #4150.

HE, Messiah, says not on the Sabbath. The Sabbath is a sign between Elohim and HIS people Israel, US, Exodus 31:13;17.

Strongs Hebrew #226 owth, oth, Signal;

Hebrew #225 mark = consent (to observing). Appointed Time Strongs Hebrew

#4150 mow'ed, mo-ade' - appointed (sign, time), (place of, solemn) assembly, congregation, (set, solemn) feast, (appointed, due) season, solemn (-ity), synagogue, (set) time (appointed).

The FLIGHT can not be in or during, the Storm & Tempest at YHWH's Appointed Time of Tribulation. WHY ? Then it is too late for you; vs22 ... no flesh would be saved... saved Strongs #4982 sozo; sode'-zo = deliver, protect, preserve.

Remember WINTER #5490 = chasm, vacancy, impassable interval, gulf. It's like the bridge of passage across the gulf or canyon has come fallen down no way to cross over, go Before the Storm to Escape.

PRAY, Strongs #433 aneko an-ay-ko To attain to; be proper, be fit; (this is a high spiritual intimacy with YHWH each day thus HE has enabled you to attain to a proper & fit relationship with HIM hearing His Voice talking with HIM each day. (Adam & Eve before the fall we can now have in Ruach (Sp-rit) John 4:23-24.

YOUR #5216 humon, own selves (self) hoo-mone' #5310 yourselves.

NEITHER #3366 mede, may-deh' = not even #3361 qualified negation, G-d forbid.

With these word interpretations now let me quote Matthew 24:20 in KJV then with the translation interpretation.

KJV "But pray ye that your Flight be not in the Winter neither on the Sabbath day".

from Messiah to me:

Being properly spiritually fit having Attained to obeying MY commands and Hearing & Obeying MY Voice at all times your Own Self, be ready to Flee and Escape when "I" (YHWH) say go, BEFORE the Storm & Tempest break down the time and opportunity to GO to the Place of Provision and Protection "I" have prepared for you and shown you and will guide you, for "I" would forbid and would not have you Flee at MY Appointed Time of tribulation during the Storm & Tempest "I" am allowing. (MT. 24:20)

vs21 "for THEN shall be Great Tribulation such as has not been since the beginning of the world until this time, no, nor ever shall be"

Just as YHWH warned Mary & Joseph in a dream to FLEE to Egypt BEFORE the slaughter of the children as Herod tried to kill Messiah, so is YHWH telling us the Remnant who will hear, fear and obey HIM only. Matthew 2:13-23.

This is a world wide event. Each of us YHWH has been showing where in our region of the world (not all go to Israel) HE has prepared and shown and directed we should GO when HIS Voice says go (Rev. 12:14). IF this is not You then seek ask and knock for this revelation of preparation and direction. (6 year old Abigail is hearing to go to the Wilderness)

I have heard preachers say, well we all need to be ready, these preachers don't know what being ready is. Jer. 12:10.

Remnant saints, If we are not Obeying the Word, Torah, and HIS Commandments, we will not hear HIS Voice when to flee for HE will not speak to us in disobedience. ONLY a Obeying remnant are sealed:

Revelation 7:1-3. vs 3, "saying, Do not harm the earth or sea or trees, until we have SEALED the bondservants of our Elohim on their foreheads".

The SEAL is a Mark, a Mark is your Belief system in what you DO and OBSERVE TO DO in Obedience to Elohim (G-d). Torah & Commands. LK. 8:21;11:28.

Why is Matthew 24:20 So important ?

Please be very patient here in reading and understanding what I am about to share with you. This by the Voice of YHWH (L-rd) not only to me but others; YHWH is judging the four corners of the world, all mankind, for not observing HIS True Sabbath. It is the only Command all the world including Israel that is not being Obeyed and Observed Correctly.

YHWH has told me personally direct from HIS Throne Room this WORD on June 29, 2003:

THIS NEW MOON AND SEVEN JUST DO IT !

MY SABBATH IS SEVEN DAYS AFTER THIS

NEW MOON JUST DO IT !

OBSERVE MY SABBATHS AFTER EACH NEW MOON !

So you see, the Sabbath isn't the seventh day of each pagan Saturday calendar day that the Hebrews are on; Dueteronomy 31:29 "For I know after my death ye will utterly corrupt yourselves, and turn aside from the way which I have commanded you; and evil will befall you in the Latter Days; because you will do evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke Him to anger through the work of your hands".

Nor is it the pagan Sunday every seven days on the same pagan calendar that the Christians are on. Jeremiah 16:19 "..... the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited Lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit".

But seven days after each new moon crescent is seen in your region of the world.

Keep in mind the Roman ruler Constantine and the Pontificus Maximus Decreed a Christian Decree in 325 AD doing away with everything Hebrew in our Faith in Messiah our REDEEMER. THE GREAT FALLING AWAY.

Daniel 7:25 "And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to CHANGE TIMES AND LAWS: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time. Daniel 12:9 : "And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed TILL THE TIME OF THE END".

The Time Of The End is here Remnant saints !

The True Sabbath is Regulated by each new moon just as the Hebrew Feast and Months are.

The Forth Command is Remember the Sabbath day to keep it Set-apart. (H-ly) Just as Leviticus 23:1-5 says of the Sabbath, Hebrew Feast and Hebrew Months. Read the record of Truth in all of Lev. 23.

Look up the words moon, moons, new moon.

To be properly spiritually fit to HEAR HIS voice say GO and know where to go we need to be in Obedience to HIS Torah & Commands.

Especially the Sabbath Regulated by HIS Sign the New Moon each Hebrew Month. SEALED (marked, belief and obedience to HIS Torah & Commands) by HIM.

Psalm 104:19 "HE Appointed the Moon for for Seasons": (Appointed Times).

Psalm 89:37 "It shall be established forever AS the MOON, and as a faithful witness in heaven."

How Puny Few know this and are obeying and doing it ? Matthew 7:14... and few there be that find it.

Pray Your Flight

Pray that your flight is BEFORE the Tempest and Storm and the Appointed Time of HIS Great Tribulation.

Abigail, 6 years old, "Mommy I need to go to the WILDERNESS". Revelation 12:14.

Being properly spiritually fit having Attained to obeying MY commands and Hearing & Obeying MY Voice at all times your Own Self, be ready to Flee and Escape when "I" (YHWH) say go, BEFORE the Storm & Tempest break down the time and opportunity to GO to the Place of Provision and Protection "I" have prepared for you and shown you and will guide you, for "I" would forbid and would not have you Flee at MY Appointed Time of tribulation during the Storm & Tempest "I" am allowing. (MT. 24:20)

Yours in and by the Set-apart Ruach (H-ly Sp-rit) unto HIM WHO is the only ONE WORTHY in all heaven and earth to open the Seals of the BOOK, Messiah YHshua !

This New Moon and Seven MY Sabbath is Seven days After This New Moon Observe MY Sabbath's After Each New Moon

Howard Pittman's Testimony

[excerpts]
On August 3, 1979, Howard Pittman, a Baptist minister for 35 years, died while on the operating table during surgery and had a near-death experience. After angels showed him the second and third heavens, he was taken before the very Throne of God where he was given a message to share with the world.

"When the angels lifted my spirit from my body, they carried me immediately to the second heaven. We did not have to leave that hospital room in order to enter the second heaven. We entered there in that same room where my body was, just passing through a dimension wall. It is a wall which flesh cannot pass through, only spirit.

"As we moved through that dimension wall into the second heaven, I found myself in an entirely different world, far different from anything I had ever imagined. This world was a place occupied by spirit beings as vast in number as the sands of the seashore. These beings were demons, or fallen angels, and were in thousands of different shapes and forms. Some of the forms were so morbid and revolting that I was almost to the point of nausea.

"When I first arrived in the second heaven, I knew immediately in what direction I must go to reach the third heaven where God was. I don't know how I knew that, but I did. I also knew that if I was going to get my prayer answered, I was going to have to appear before God the Father in the third heaven. I was aware that I was traveling in that spirit world under the protection of the Holy Spirit, and that the angels who were escorting me were also moving about under the protection of the Holy Spirit.

"As we moved about there in that world, I was greatly disappointed that my escorts did not take me in the direction of the third heaven where God was. Instead, we moved in the opposite direction. As we moved from place to place in that world, I learned many things about demons.

"I did things differently in the spirit realm than what we do here in the physical world. For instance, we did not communicate with our mouths and ears, but rather, we communicated with our minds. It was like projecting our words on thought waves and receiving the answer the same way. Although I could still think to myself without projecting, I discovered that this really did not benefit me because the angels could read my mind.

"I could hear different sounds in that world, but I did not hear with my ears. I heard with my mind, but I was still able to "hear" those sounds. When we traveled, we traveled mostly at what I call the "speed of thought." When we traveled at the "speed of thought", there was no sensation of movement. The angel would say where we were going and we were there. There were other times when we did not travel in that manner, and I was very much aware of movement while traveling. One of those times when I was aware of movement was when they brought me back into the physical world and allowed me to see the demons working here. We moved about here somewhat like floating on a cloud. Still, I had the sensation of movement.

"When we started the tour of the second heaven, the angels began by showing me the different types of demons. Each demon was revealed to me in a form that indicated his area of expertise, and I soon discovered that there is no such thing as a "general practitioner" in all the demon world. The demons are all experts in their fields. They have only one area of expertise which they do very well. "At one time during this tour of the second heaven, I watched the demons within their own related group and I experienced an awful feeling. It was an overwhelming, oppressive, and morbid feeling. This feeling came to me shortly after I had entered the second heaven and I wondered what was causing it. It was at this time that I learned that the angels could read my mind because my guardian angel said to me, "That feeling you are wondering about is caused by the fact that there is no love in this world." The angel was telling me that in this second heaven there is not one bit of love! Wow! Can you imagine all of those demons serving a master they don't love and the master ruling over beings that he doesn't love? Worse than that, their companions are working together for an eternity and they do not even love each other.

"I started reflecting on what our physical world, called the first heaven, would be like without love. If God had not introduced his love here in our world, then we would be living in a no-love atmosphere like the second heaven. By God giving us his love, we are able to return that love and then love one another. Can you imagine what it would be like in your own home or your community if it was totally void of love?

"My escorts then told me that they wanted me to see demon activity in the outside world. I was then escorted outside the hospital directly through the brick wall into the streets of that city. I was amazed as I watched all the activity of the humans in the physical world. Going about their daily pursuit, they were completely unaware that they were being stalked by beings from the spirit world. I was totally flabbergasted as I watched and horrified as I saw the demons in all shapes and forms as they moved at will among the humans. "When the angels decided that I had seen enough of the demons at work in this physical world, I was taken back into the second heaven just by passing through the dividing, dimension wall. Once back inside the second heaven, my escort guided me in this direction of the third heaven and I was happy at last. After all, this was where I had wanted to go all the time. Even at this stage, my physical life was still my primary concern.

"Suddenly we came to a most beautiful place. I know that I've already reported how terrible that second heaven was, so you can imagine how surprising it was to find anything beautiful over there. God would not allow me to retain the memory of why this place was so beautiful. I do remember that it was the most beautiful place I'd ever seen. This place looked like a tunnel, a roadway, a valley or some sort of highway. It had a most brilliant light all its own and was completely surrounded with an invisible shield. I knew that the invisible shield was the protection of the Holy Spirit.

"Walking in this tunnel, or along that roadway, or valley, or whatever, was what appeared to be human beings. I asked my escort who they were. He told me, "They are saints going home." These were the departed spirits of Christians who had died on Earth and they were going home. Each of these saints was accompanied by at least one guardian angel and some had a whole host of angels with them.

"I wondered why some saints were accompanied by only one angel and others had many. I was watching as the saints passed through the way that all saints must take to go home. Here it was, the passageway from Earth to the third heaven.

"Instead of allowing me to enter, the angel stationed me before the gates, slightly to one side. He instructed me to stay there and watch as the saints were permitted to enter into heaven. As the saints were allowed into heaven, I noticed a strange thing. They were permitted to enter only one at a time. No two were permitted to enter those gates at the same time. I wondered about this but it was never explained to me.

"When the last of the fifty saints had entered into the third heaven, I started to enter but my escort stopped me. He told me that if I entered I could not come out and that I would have to stay there until the Father brought me back. The angels told me that all who enter the third heaven must remain there until brought back to this physical world by Christ Himself.

"When the angel said I could not enter unless I stayed. I protested, "But if I can't come out then my body will die! That will defeat my whole purpose!" was my emphatic rebuttal. Still my physical life, even at this point in time, was more important that anything else. My escort told me to stand to one side of the gates and present my case. He assured me that God would hear and answer my request. "As I stood before the gates, the sense of joy, happiness, and contentment radiated out from heaven. I could feel the warmth it produced and as I stood there to plead my case, I could feel the awesome power of God.

"Boldly I came before the throne and started out by reminding God what a great life of love, worship, and sacrifice I had lived for him. I told him of all the works I had done reminding him that I had accepted him when I was quite young and that I had served him all my life for all these many years. I reminded him that I was now in trouble and only God could help by granting me an extension of my physical life. God was totally silent while I spoke. When I had completed my request, I heard the real, audible voice of God as God answered me.

"The sound of his voice came down on me from over the gates even before the words hit me. The tone of his anger knocked me on my face as God proceeded to tell me just what kind of life I had really lived. God told me what God really thought of me and even others who did as I had. God pointed out that my faith was dead, that my works were not acceptable, and that I had labored in vain. God told me that it was an abomination for me to live such a life and then dare call it a life of worship.

"I could not believe God was talking to me in this manner! I had served him for years! I thought I had lived a life pleasing to him! As God was enumerating my wrongs, I was sure God had me confused with someone else. There was no strength left in me to even move, let alone protest, yet I was panicking within myself.

"No way God could be talking about me! I just could not believe that what God said was referring to me! All of these years I thought I was doing those works for God! Now God was telling me that what I did, I did for myself. Even as I preached and testified about the saving grace of Jesus Christ, I was doing that only for myself in order that my conscience might be soothed. In essence, my first love and first works were for myself. After MY needs and wants were met or satisfied, in order to soothe my conscience I would set out to do the Lord's work. This made my priorities out of order and unacceptable. Actually, I had become my own false God.

"Only now as I was here before him being chastised did those two portions of scripture become crystal clear to me as to their true meaning. As God told me about my true motives, I could see plainly for the first time how my works were dead. Because God was displaying his wrath toward me, I could not stand nor could I speak. No strength was left within me as I was nothing more than a wet rag lying there writhing in agony.

"It needs to be stated that at no time while God was chastising me did God say I was not saved nor did God say that my name was not in the lamb's book of life. God never mentioned salvation to me at all but only spoke about the works produced through my life. God told me the type of life I lived was an unacceptable life for a true Christian. As God spoke to me of my dead works, God indicated that there are some people who are not saved but think they are. "When God was through with me the interview was over as suddenly as one would turn off a faucet. I was not allowed to linger or even reflect on what God said. The angels immediately carried me away as if I were a wet rag having no strength in myself. Totally annihilated, I could not even gather my thoughts.

"The angels carried me back through the second heaven, through the dimension wall, and into the hospital room where my body was lying. It was not until I reached the bed upon which my body lay did I regain my composure. As I regained my composure, I vehemently protested, "No! No!" I told the angels, "God did not answer me! God did not say yes or no to my request! Please, oh please, take me back!" I pleaded with the angels.

"Upon my arrival back before the third heaven, I was brought to the same place from which I had previously pleaded my case. Not nearly so bold this time, I remembered how God's wrath had floored me beforehand. Nevertheless, I had asked God for a favor and God had not answered. Wanting his answer no matter what it was, I timidly started pleading my case again.

"This time God did not knock me down but let me talk. God did not talk to me in anger but started out answering me in a tone of pity. Before it was all over, God was speaking in sorrow.

"Opening my plea by quoting scriptures to God, I began by telling him all about Hezekiah. I told God that I figured out that Hezekiah was the "good-old-boy" type, that the intentions of his heart were pure, but he seemed to be unable to translate out those intentions into everyday living. Here I was, an insignificant nothing and the smallest creature in all his universe, bartering words with this great and awesome God who had created it all.

"I said, "Father, if You will grant this request, I promise you I will do better the next time."

"The Lord answered me thusly, "Howard Pittman, you have promised before." God did not have to say another word. There they were, all the promises I had made to a holy God in my past entire life. Not one of them remained whole. Somehow, someway, I had managed to break them all. With nothing left to say, no words in all my vocabulary, nowhere to go, I fell on my knees before him. All I could say was "Amen" to my own condemnation. I knew that if at that moment God would banish me into the pits of hell, it would be just to say "amen" to my own condemnation.

"At that moment God did not demand justice but showed me mercy. The scales fell from my eyes and my soul was suddenly filled with light. That powerful, awesome, all-consuming God was now not evident. There on that throne dealing with me was my REAL Father. God was no longer a distant God, but a real, genuine Father. The realization of his being my true Father and my best friend came to me for the first time in my life. The wonderful relationship I had enjoyed with my physical father and the wonderful love we shared for each other was suddenly brought to mind yet magnified a thousand fold. For now I was with my real Father, the one who loved me so much that God left all of his creation to deal with me, the prodigal son.

"For the first time in my life, I saw in my mind's eye who God really is. For the first time I met God as God truly is, my real Father, my very best friend. As the realization of who God is flooded my soul, great and painful sorrow also came. Sorrow came when I realized that through disobedience I had hurt my Father. This realization and sorrow produced actual pain which was not just a guilt feeling but actual pain similar to what one would experience in the flesh when one sustains a physical injury. At this point in time, God started dealing with me in sorrow and no longer did the tone of his voice express pity. Instead, the sound was of genuine sorrow. I suddenly realized that God was hurting too. God was hurting because I was hurting. Being a true and just God as God is, God had to allow me to suffer the pain and God could not lift it from me. Although God had to allow me to suffer the pain, God would not allow me to suffer it alone. God the most High, the most Supreme, the Creator of all, the Father of all would not let me suffer alone.

"By this time I suddenly realized that my physical life was not so important after all. What I was really concerned about now was what my Father wanted. His will had suddenly become the first thing of my life and my physical life was no longer important. This is when God gave me back my physical life. Only when I reached a place that my life did not mean anything to me, did God give it back to me. Now that the prodigal son had returned, the Father could talk at last. God could tell me what my trip to heaven was all about and that God had a message God wanted me to tell people on Earth. "I now repeat for you point by point the entire five point message that God gave me to deliver to this world today."

Point number one: "For those who call themselves Christians, this is the Laodicean Church Age in which we live. A high majority of so-called Christians are, in fact, living a deceived life. They talk Jesus and play church, but do not live it. They claim to be Christians and then live like the devil. They have bought the great lie from Satan who tells them that they are alright. He tells them that it is alright to go to church on Sunday and attend mid-week services but as far as the rest of the time is concerned, they are to get all they can out of life. As far as their Christian life is concerned, they believe they are comfortable and have need of nothing and as a result, they are only lukewarm Christians if Christians at all."

Point number two: "Satan is a personal devil."

Point number three: "To the whole world, this is Noah's second day. As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the days of the coming of the son of man. Humans took no thought of what Noah was saying nor did humans believe that anything was about to change. Humanity could see the storm clouds over the horizon, but yet did not believe the rain was imminent. Notice the close parallel today. Humanity can see all the signs of the last days, yet humanity does not believe that anything will change. He does not believe in the impending coming of our Lord and he does not prepare to meet God."

Point number four: "For those who claim to be Christians, they are supposed to be ambassadors for Christ here on Earth. One cannot have any true witness or power in his life unless that one lives his Christian faith at all times, twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. To be a true Christian one must live it, not just talk it. To honor God with your lips and not your heart is not acceptable. Those who accept the responsibility of teaching, preaching, or any leadership role have much for which to answer.

Point number five: "God is now in the process of recruiting an army with which God will shake this old world one more time. By working through his soldiers, God will produce great miracles that will shake the established hierarchy of the so-called organized religion that is in this world today. These soldiers that God is now recruiting will demonstrate the power of God to a greater extent than did the disciples in the Pentecostal age. Now the recruitment has begun in earnest because God is about to perform the great miracles through his army that God promised us God would do in the Bible. John the Baptist brought the spirit of Elijah into this world and he did not even know he had it. John denied it, but Jesus confessed that it was so. The purpose of that spirit was to make straight the paths of the coming of the Lord."

His Presence - The Fountain of Life

Angel Dahilig

Rev. 12/03/2004

Isaiah 43:10-11 (NLT)
10 "But you are my witnesses, O Israel!" says the LORD. "And you are my servant. You have been chosen to know me, believe in me, and understand that I alone am God*. There is no other God; there never has been and never will be. 11* I am the LORD, and there is no other Savior.

Psalms 36:9-10
9 For with you is the fountain of life; in your light we see light.
10 Continue your love to those who know you, your righteousness to the upright in heart.

The LORD was standing in the darkness.

I would not have known He was there, had He not spoken to me.

But as soon as He spoke, I felt His presence, as a person standing before me.
His presence was quiet, still, and unpretentious.

He said to me, as I almost walked past Him,

"I AM the 'Fountain of Life', yet [My] people pass Me by, to run to the prophets."

And I heard "Isaiah 43".

I felt the LORD's heart, and I knew that we do not truly seek HIM.

We don't truly wait upon Him, to linger and drink of The LORD, "The Fountain of Life".

We don't inquire of the LORD as those who truly put their trust in Him.

Yet, I felt in His quiet presence, His availability, His waiting, His patience with us, and also His loneliness and sadness of heart, when we, His people, choose to pass Him by and flock to others first, to "hear from Him".

But, He is always waiting for us to come to Him ourselves. I did not feel it was wrong to read or listen to prophets and teachers, but we should come to Him FIRST, relying on HIM as our source and life.

Let Him speak to us, teach us, and lead us, by His Word (the scriptures) and His Holy Spirit. Then we will have discernment when we hear others.

Seek Him FIRST.

Spend time with Him in quietness, in prayer with thanksgiving and supplications for all.

Adore Him.

Linger in His Presence.

Learn at His feet with prayer, praise, and Bible scripture reading and study, so His Spirit can work in our hearts and wash us by His Word.

Don't pass Him by.

He is waiting...

in the stillness,
in the quietness,
and in the darkness
for you and me.

Jeremiah 29:11-14
11 "For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you a hope and a future.
12 Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you.
13 You will seek me and find me when you seek me with ALL YOUR HEART.
14 I will be found by you", declares The LORD, "and bring you back from captivity."

Psalms 46:10
Be still, and know that I am God.

Matthew 6:33
But seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things [that you need] will be given to you as well.

Matthew 11:29
"Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls."

Isaiah 30:15
This is what the Sovereign LORD, the Holy One of Israel, says:
"In repentance and rest is your salvation, in quietness and trust is your strength, but you would have none of it."

Psalm 134:1
Praise the LORD, all you servants of the LORD, who minister by night in the house of the LORD.

Psalm 63:6
On my bed I remember you;
I think of you through the watches of the night.

ALIVE to the ETERNAL OBJECTIVES, GOALS and Exploits of LOVE one for another for YHVH's name's sake and HIS GLORY!

HEARD: "team up, 'two are greater than one' ... get positioned for greater strength and discernment, team up, line up, formations -- no lone wolves in My Army .... for My Glory !

DO NOT BELIEVE THE LIES THAT IT IS TOO LATE! Too late for what? It is not too late for you, turn back to Your Abba...for your ideas of life and purpose upon this earth--for My thoughts are not as your thoughts and My ways are not as yours...Gentle Ones, listen to MY HEARTBEAT.... How the Kingdom Will Come

Rick Joyner

May 3, 2004

Robin McMillan, senior pastor of MorningStar Fellowship in Charlotte, had an important and profound insight into the gospel of the kingdom. It seems that every message to date which has claimed to be the gospel of the kingdom was devoted mostly to bringing men back into obedience, and was usually demonstrated by having men submit to other men. Certainly obedience to the Lord is an important issue, but it was not the main emphasis of the Lord's own teachings on the kingdom. His message was overwhelmingly devoted to the authority of the kingdom of heaven over the kingdoms of this world in power, not just the subjugation of men. The practical application of this was that the kingdom of heaven could heal any disease, cause cripples to walk and the blind to see, multiply food, and even allow one to walk on water when necessary. This is why Paul wrote I Corinthians 2:3-5, and 4:20:

> And my message and my preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, > that your faith should not rest on the wisdom of men, but on the power of God. For the kingdom of God does not consist in words, but in power.

Of course, reversing the disobedience of man since the Fall will be a top priority of the coming of the kingdom, and we do not want to belittle this issue. However, this must come from the understanding, and the application of the superiority of the kingdom of heaven over the earthly realm. The authority of the kingdom is about much more than just getting people to obey-it is the truth of God's ability, His authority over everything. His authority can part the Red Sea, close the mouths of lions, or even calm a storm. This is the authority of the Lord that we are praying will come to earth, which Jesus demonstrated with His life, and we are called to demonstrate with ours.

Hebrews Eleven, called "the faith chapter," recounts the amazing things accomplished by the Old Covenant saints through faith. In II Corinthians 3:7-11, we are told that the glory of the New Covenant is much greater than the glory of the Old Covenant. We should therefore expect to see greater things done by those who live under the New Covenant than those who lived under the Old Covenant.

This implies that New Covenant prophets should do even greater works than those accomplished by the Old Covenant prophets. They set a standard to which we have not even come close to equaling, much less exceeding. However, before the end comes you can be sure that in every way the glory of the New Covenant will exceed that which was done under the Old. It will be so great that at the end even the Jews will become jealous of it, so jealous that they will turn to the Lord.

Since Robin McMillan started emphasizing this in his message, he has seen a number of noteworthy miracles. We are excited, but by no means satisfied. We must see more, a lot more. We are called to see much more, as we are called as messengers of a better covenant. We must never settle for anything less. This is not pride or arrogance, but the determination to see it demonstrated that the New Covenant is greater than the former. The Lord Jesus Himself said in John 14:12:

> Truly, truly, I say to you, he who believes in Me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go to the Father.

We are called to do the "greater works" as a testimony of where He now sits, which is at the right hand of the Father. As the book of Hebrews illuminates, there were no other messengers, not even angels, who were called to sit where Jesus now sits. He is the Son, the very builder of the house, and all others are but a part of the house He is building. This is the gospel of the kingdom-the demonstration of the fact that He is the King above all kings. His authority is over heaven and earth, and He can therefore release through His messengers dominion over the very nature of the earthly realm.

Obedience to the King is crucial for living in the kingdom. Being an ambassador for the kingdom is crucial as well, but this is often twisted into simply trying to get men to submit to other men. What we are after is much higher than that. Those who truly understand the kingdom and its authority, will have a profound respect for all authority. They will give honor to those to whom honor is due. They will pay their taxes just as the Lord instructed, and respect the authorities of this realm as also being servants of the Lord (see Romans 13). Even so, bringing the kingdom to earth is much more than bringing submission and obedience to authority-it is bringing the unlimited resources and power of the kingdom of heaven to the earth. This must be our resolve-to demonstrate our King's authority over all things.

Hear This, Oh My People!

Angel Dahilig

Oct. 27, 2004
Oh, my dear people, Hear this!
"The LORD hears his people when they call to Him for help.
He rescues them from all their troubles.
The LORD is close to the brokenhearted;
He rescues those who are crushed in spirit.
The righteous face many troubles, but the LORD rescues them from each and every one."
Psalms 37:17-19 (NLT)

14 The LORD says, "I will rescue those who love me.
I will protect those who trust in my name.
15 When they call on me, I will answer;
I will be with them in trouble.
I will rescue them and honor them.
16 I will satisfy them with a long life and give them MY SALVATION!"
Psalms 91:14-16 (NLT)

My people, you are not forsaken.

Your hope lies not in a man.
Your salvation is not in a government.

Your hope and salvation are in Christ Jesus alone!

He shall remove our asherah poles, and bring down our high places [of false trusts and securities].
They shall be toppled from their place [in our hearts]!

Then, we will see Him! High and lifted up!
His banner and standard waving,
a solid and sure High Tower of Refuge and Salvation, to all who trust in Him!

"Hear this, Oh My people!
Return to your Mighty Fortress!
Return, and put your trust in Me!
Christ Jesus!
Yeshua HaMassiach!
Your Only Hope and Salvation!"
Amen.
Psalm 118:8-9
It is better to take refuge in the LORD than to trust in man.
It is better to take refuge in the LORD than to trust in princes.

Isaiah 43:11
I, even I, am the LORD, and apart from Me there is no savior.

Hear 'The Sound' Of Taking Ground

Dorothy Hedlund

PRAYER TARGETS of the Lord for Intercession
- April 29, 2004

QUICKLY THINGS WILL TURN AROUND

[JESUS speaking] By reason of urging and stirring you have been reminded of 'the corporate word.' This is not the day of a word hidden… or of mystery… but a word for all to be heard. Get you to the high place and LISTEN… before doing anything else... LISTEN… and I will speak. The Kingdom is being established and many, soon, will be commanded TO TAKE NEW GROUND. In recent past, elect 'captains' and 'generals' in My army may have thought, in fact - they were LOSING GROUND. This trial has proved them 'sure' in taking, now, the HIGHER GROUND. I AM ABOUT TO MOVE, QUICKLY & DECISIVELY, TO TURN THINGS AROUND. As a part of a great wheel, I will SPIN YOU into POSITION.

[In a repeated vision, I saw the game show, "The Price is Right" wheel, spinning. At first stop it arrived at "Bankrupt" where it remained for the appointed time until a great hand then spun it again. It stopped at the upright place on the wheel just to the right of the prior one: "The Jackpot."]

Again I say unto you: everything that the enemy meant for harm, shall be TURNED AROUND. You have become so weary & worn, some even enduring much scorn - that, even now, you find it difficult to believe this word - too good to be true. But let Me assure you, beloved, I am the Lord your God WHO DELIVERS YOU. Yes, YOU… the one reading this even now. I will deliver YOU. I will show you wisdom. I will show you "how."

THE DAYS OF MAY

You are about on your calendar to enter "the days of May" - during which time I will approach you with the word of prior year: "May I....?" Give Me PERMISSION to work in your behalf, and I WILL MOVE IN to stand in the gap. I am the Captain of the Hosts, and I fight FOR YOU. You were brought to the end of yourself - that We might entrust to you, now - MUCH HIGHER GROUND.

Strong winds are shifting to turn ships around. Strong winds are blowing, can you hear the sound? Things that have laid stagnant, immovable - will begin to 'creak' with sound - as their moorings are loosed, and I push them free from their 'settled positions' in the ground. Shock will result in some - while in others, joy.

EARTH-MOVING MACHINES

EARTH-MOVING MACHINES, LONG RETIRED into storage places for keeping - are about to be RESURRECTED, a surprise to the earth. I speak of 'LeTourneau machines' - massive in construction and ability. In the Spirit you will feel the ground shaking by the progress they bring for which they were built and made. Their "operators," too, WILL BE COMING OUT OF RETIREMENT… "veterans of war"… driving these big rigs once more. You wonder at the symbolism with which I speak - but those who search out wisdom will know, by the Spirit, the message I bring. THE LANDSCAPE WILL CHANGE as the structures of man are torn down, the land cleared, and Kingdom authority in regions established once more.

MY BUILDERS ARE READY TO BUILD! They have counted the cost! Many were tested and refined in a fire of great loss. The architects have My plans! In vision they have seen the details I've given them by both "eye" and "ear" heard.

THE GENERATIONAL ROAR

Many of you have been tormented by the enemy - but now the sword of the Lord shall be felt & seen. "Terrorists of the Spirit" will strike TERROR in the heart of the true enemy. This one, Satan, is raging because he has known there was going to come forth the day of the "GENERATIONAL ROAR." UNITY OF PURPOSE in this army of Mine shall bring together the generations. Those of great wisdom - will assist those much younger with "legs to run." And those RUNNING across the earth with My word - shall look to the WHITE EAGLES who overhead soar. Neither will find success without the other: fathers with sons, daughters with their mothers. All this I speak as truths in the Spirit.

THE FATHER'S DEALINGS

I have seen too many casualties in My army in recent skirmishes endured. Attacks to "heart" and "home" have wounded and destroyed. Beware of THE GATE OF PRIDE - spiritual or otherwise - for by it the enemy gains access to your soul, and thus follows destruction.

Those gifted with mercy and compassion must rescue the perishing (My own, lost sheep) - and bring 'the cast down' home. Those still of pride, however, must enter their season of 'the hammer that breaks the rock.' DO NOT interrupt the process - or MORE CASUALTIES you'll see. LEARN TO KNOW THE DIFFERENCE between those I call you to 'rescue from the fire' - and those, for now, to leave alone. They are never 'alone' - We will deal with each one, carefully.

THE STONE FURNACE shall purify many wayward ones still positioned, upon returning - to be priests and kings. This is not their time of 'grace removed' - but of THE FATHER'S DEALINGS. All this is done in love to bring about their best and good - even though His disciplines may seem harsher than they should. This time of 'TOUGH LOVE' will turn many believers, deceived, back to Me.

DO NOT JUDGE THEM - or you, too shall be. Weep for them, stand in the gap WITH ME. Ask the Father for DELIVERANCE for those deceived. But for the grace of God - go you. If your heart cannot love - neither shall you accurately "see" - for personal judgments cloud the picture bringing inaccuracy.

PROTOCOL FOR WOMEN & MEN

DAUGHTERS OF GOD… act like the Bride of Christ, desiring no other lover. You are Mine. AND MEN OF GOD - rise up as His sons, chivalrous in duty & calling, highly esteeming those of feminine gender called to serve at your side. Cover and protect these chosen elect. In honoring them, they will honor you for reflecting MY HEART to them, and the honor due.

BE STRONG IN THE LORD AND IN THE POWER OF HIS MIGHT… as genders join, to battle and fight.

In these days of service and advance, MORE AND MORE YOU WILL BECOME ONE… a glimpse of the body who will function together at last. The strength of warriors abide in you both.

MALE & FEMALE HE CREATED THEM … two but one in image. Like spirit and like spirit will join for creation works upon the earth. Those 'dead' [i.e. soul-life, self] will serve as a LIVING ARMY, marching side by side. There are those purified, who walk in the fear of the Lord - who, together, shall ROAR in a POWER RELEASE.

"MAY I" . TURN YOUR WORLD UPSIDE DOWN?

MAY I… do as I please? Are you committed to integrity? MAY I… turn your world upside down to correctly bring things at last around? MAY I… use you to stand against all odds as a people of faith? MAY I… make you into a 'spectacle of grace?' MAY I… change your nature and name? MAY I… impart heaven's seed into the midst of your frame? MAY I… expand your womb to hold what I bring? MAY I… use your voice to sing MY SONGS for Me? MAY I… transport you away, to show you mysteries for this day?
I can hear the corporate "YES!" OF MY CHURCH! Even now, in the heaven-lies, your voice is heard!

Angels, held back, shall now enter into your battles & fight - for this they have waited…. to serve you… their delight. They far outnumber those of the evil one - AND WILL NOT BACK OFF until YOUR BATTLE is WON! Encourage them, friends, by the Word that you speak. WORSHIP IN SPIRIT - and the enemy will retreat. Across the globe heaven is partnering with earth - that My glory be shown, that new things be birthed.

OPERATE IN THE GIFT OF ENCOURAGEMENT

PRAY DILIGENTLY for the 'hand of the five-fold' - they are My own, and 'the hand' at the wheel [of the earth-moving machines]. LEARN TO ENCOURAGE, LEARN TO UPHOLD, LEARN GENUINE EXPRESSIONS OF LOVE - that My Church be built up, encouraged, refreshed, and bold. WITHHOLD NOT APPRECIATION from whom appreciation is due - do you now, also, want someone to encourage you? In doing so, these great earth-moving machines shall function without breakdowns…with 'LOVE TANKS' FULL. YES, I've heard it said that I am your greatest reward - BUT MY WORDS OF LIFE & LOVE…IN YOU… MUST BE RELEASED. My words IN YOU were designed to LIFT OTHERS UP as on 'thermal winds' to soar. You are the body… appreciate the part each one has. The 'less comely parts' are often those for whom much is planned.

And one last thing in this message I bring, one more "MAY I?" that I would ask:

MAY I SPEND MORE TIME WITH YOU?…

…to prepare you for the task? I have a portion love for you that I can share with none other, placed in Me, by Father. Also in YOU is something uniquely yours… for Me, none other.

COME OFTEN APART… to give, receive. I shall draw you CLOSER than EVER YET EXPERIENCED, deeper into realms of Me. You will remain in position secure, on the ever-ascending path of life - if MY FACE you continually see and seek. THE FIRE IN MY EYES will bring ALIVE all who continually stop to gaze at Me. I release to them fountains of LIFE and waters from the deep.

PRAYER TARGETS of the Lord for Intercession

1. Pray for encouragement for 'generals' and 'captains' who have seemed to have lost ground. Identify leaders and AGREE WITH ME for turn around.

2. "Prepare the way" for the Church to enter 'the May gate' (as African pastors do) - then march on ahead of them! Go on through!

3. Pray that strong winds continue blowing to turn the fleet of ships about (agree with those who have been given like vision & dream)

4. Pray that those awaiting their 'day of visitation' begin to move anew (where once things seemed stagnant, immovable . people, ministries). Identify such people and 'pray them through.'

5. Pray for the LeTourneau machines (5-fold ministries) to be released, with their operators of great wisdom" coming out of retirement.

6. Pray that the generations join together in UNITY OF PURPOSE for the sake of joint 'generational roar.' Pray also that men & women 'roar together' with the voice of the Lord - for power release.

7. Pray that "deceived sheep" receive a truth release and 'rescue team.'

8. Pray that the 'gate of pride' be dealt with in many lives.

9. Pray for the 'continued disobedient' to receive the BENEFIT of the Father's dealings - that His TOUGH LOVE release be received.

10. PRAY FOR WISDOM for those in the Church to know the difference between those needing 'rescue' as the perishing - and those in their season of 'the hammer that breaks the rock.' Intercessors and leaders Must remain positioned in truth, love, mercy, and grace.

11. Pray for a release of unity between men & women serving together, directed by God's protocol - in honor, serving side by side. (song) "We will break dividing walls, we will break dividing walls, and we shall be ONE."

12. Pray that the Church truly grasp the message of encouragement, that the body be built up and the five-fold 'officers' strong.

13. Pray that MANY ENTER THEIR SECRET PLACE season, spending more quality/intimate time with the Lord.

14. And to the question placed before the Church: "MAY I. COME, AND TURN YOUR WORLD UPSIDE DOWN?" - we, Your people, Lord, decree:

"YES! YES! YES, LORD! - C O M E !!! "

Humanism

Dale M. Sides

Dec 1, 2004

A prophetic word must be delivered to the universal church of Jesus Christ dealing with the encroaching lie of humanism and its erosion of our Christian belief system. Even though this word may not be popular, it is a present truth that needs to be recognized because the lie of humanism is a cancer eating away at the Body of Christ. This perversion of truth is destroying our vitality and laying the foundation for the religion of the antichrist from which he will endeavor to deceive the very elect. The writing of this word is not directed toward any one person or specific aggregate of believers, but is for the whole Body of Christ. We all, both Christian believers and leaders alike, need to heed this warning. This subtle danger has been growing among us and has now gained a stronghold in our generic Christian belief system.

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica of 1911, humanism is "in general, any system or thought or action which assigns predominate interest of the affairs of men as compared to the supernatural." The Second Edition of Webster's New International Dictionary says that it is "a contemporary cult or belief calling itself religious but substituting faith in man for faith in God." In a simple statement, humanism is the belief system that subtly magnifies the importance of mankind above the importance of God. To bring this into proper focus, it is Baalism with a modern veneer; it is worshipping the created thing above the Creator.

As we understand humanism and see its effects, we will see that it is encroaching upon the church and modern beliefs through the New Age movement. Although nature worship may seem novel today, it is simply an age-old belief with a face-lift. We see this doctrine introduced in the Garden of Eden when Satan said, "ye shall be as gods." The strategic culmination of this lie will be seen when the antichrist, as a human, sits in the temple of God to be worshipped—elevated to the position of God and endeavoring to show that he is God (2 Thessalonians 2:4).

The belief system of humanism has existed throughout history, but its recent invasion into the church of Jesus Christ through New Age beliefs has made it become a "clear and present danger" to the Body of Christ. It is now operating very cleverly under the guise of compassion where mankind and the care of mankind are elevated above the purposes of God. Telltale signs of it are clearly seen when churches do not preach holiness but substitute convenient beliefs that elevate the human element and require no obedience to Almighty God. More and more, we see that churches are built for the comfort of people and not for the presence of God. When social issues become the dominant theme in churches, instead of biblical truth, and the purposes of God are relegated to a secondary priority, it is certain that the disease has infected and contaminated the doctrinal system of those congregations. Humanism is cloaked as a counterfeit compassion where the greater focus is on the creature rather than on the Creator.

This doctrine will be the cohesive force to pull all religions, even Christianity, into a false unity. This is the pillar of the antichrist's one-world religion. This is the doctrine that will endeavor to deceive the very elect of God in the end times (Matthew 24:24). Since this is a prophesied end, hopes of reversing its effect on the world are futile—that is until Jesus appears on the scene and throws the antichrist and his damnable heresy into the lake of fire. Since there is a prophecy of this encroachment, this exposé may not reverse the whole belief system. However, it can serve to enlighten those who would not be deceived into following the mass hysteria and "band wagon" doctrine that is engulfing the world in the wake of its flow.

New Age Encroachment

We must realize that the devil, in his attempt to deceive the world, is not going to jump out from behind a tree, dressed in a red suit with a pitchfork in his hand and say, "Okay, I've come to deceive you and prepare for the coming of the antichrist." He is going to subtly divert individuals away from following God by baiting them with whatever he can. Ultimately, he will expose the hook in the bait but most assuredly, he will adapt and repackage his age-old methods to fit modern times.

This New Age belief system that will unify world religions is nothing more than the Old Testament disclosure of Baal worship in a new package. It is worshipping the created thing above the Creator. We see this in references to Mother Nature, Greenpeace, Free Willy, and "Tree Huggers." Baal worship had groves of trees on a hill, which we now call "save-the-environment." It had "free love" and sexual practices that are now called personal liberty and/or choices. If we really want to take off the gloves and call a spade a spade, Mother Nature is nothing more than the Queen of Heaven. Nature worship has always been a big deal because people need something to see when they have no revelation of the true God.

As dangerous as nature worship was and still is, it pales in comparison to the real aim of Satan's deception—to steal God's glory. What better way to deceive people than to get mankind to worship God's ultimate creation: humans? This is humanism. You have to give Satan credit—this is one of his better ideas. He has taken the most prized creation of God—His masterpiece (Ephesians 2:10), His under-ruler and companion—and deceived it into worshipping itself. When a man sits in the temple of God showing that he is God, Baal worship will crescendo.

Incidentally, to show the folly of man and humanism, someone said to me recently, "Do you think the antichrist could possibly be a clone—someone created by mankind with the ultimate gene pool of perfection?" My response was, "Good question, but only if the "brain trusts" could get a copy of Jesus' DNA, and I don't think His is for sale."

Self-Helps

It seems that if anything proposes to aid people, then the practice of it gets lauded to the heavens. It seems a simple matter to appeal to a congregation by telling them that a particular method or resource will "help" the people. It automatically becomes legitimate and is authorized in houses of worship and by church authority. Shelves of Christian bookstores are lined with self-help titles of books, magazines, and periodicals that emphasize the bettering of one's self. We see items all the way from Christian diets to the anointing of making money. Please don't misunderstand me, many of the items serve a good purpose, but the question we must ask is: Is the purpose to build people as a separate entity without contributing to the person's destiny to serve God? If so, then self-helps are serving mankind instead of mankind serving God. As clever as this is, a discerning eye of spirituality can easily see through this ploy. Mankind, even one's own self, can very easily become the center of one's focus instead of God.

I see this clearly as a frequent traveler to the nation of India and observing Hinduism, the native worship of that particular land. For example, Transcendental Meditation has become a commonly known practice for self-helps but beneath the surface, it conjures the same demons and false gods as Hinduism. My good friend, an apostle and minister in Fairfield, Iowa, the headquarters of TM1 in the United States, told me that local pastors in Fairfield have told their congregations to avail themselves to the TM practices to help them relax. They even tell the flock of the folds to go to the TM chapel and meditate in order to facilitate this. In other words, to facilitate the comfort of the people these leaders say, "Forget about the commandment to not have any other gods and go meditate." Through this practice, man and his comfort have become the focus of belief and not God. We see the same thing in yoga or martial arts. We can get so focused on the importance of people that we often fail to see that the activity violates the commandments of God. The logic becomes what does it matter as long as it helps the person?

Another prime example of a self-help tool in the church is the prayer of Jabez. Please do not misunderstand me, the actual prayer of Jabez was and still is a good prayer, but the reason the booklet has sold millions is because it is a "bless-me prayer." People could use the increase that comes from praying the prayer for the good of God and the kingdom, but all too often the focus is upon the person's gain and not upon God. We need to be mindful of 1 Timothy 6:5 NKJ, which says to withdraw from those who suppose that godliness is a means of gain.

Are We Having Church for God or People?

There is a growing movement in Christianity to have our churches more comfortable for people than they are for God. Is the measure of a good church the presence of God or the thickness of the cushions in the pew? Do we tailor-make our services for the convenience of people, giving orders of service to ensure that we dismiss on our timing and not God's? Do we rehearse our church services in a methodical fashion to make sure that nothing new or unknown interrupts the flow of worship? Do we try to inhibit any movement of the Holy Spirit by making sure that spontaneity and congregational involvement in the church service is discouraged?

Some of these elements are explained under the heading of "all things must be done decently and in order." They may have an element of good in them, but when the whole picture is put together, the acid test is still this: Is the church man-oriented or God-oriented? This is just another example of how subtle the worship of the created thing over worship of the Creator can be.

What? Homosexuals in the Pulpit?

As volatile as this next statement may be, it needs to be made in light of the worship of mankind being elevated above God's opinion. Homosexuality is strictly banned and is called an abomination in the Word of God (Leviticus 20:13). But now in major Christian institutions, this blight upon Christian behavior and moral conduct is being considered under their doctrine of inclusion. This is nothing more than a continuing perversion of man's opinions having preeminence over God's precepts. Romans 1:26 and 27 gives the details of God's opinion of such behavior, but we in the church oftentimes gives more earnest heed to the opinions of mankind than the opinions of God as stated in His Word.

The acceptance of homosexuality is a manifestation of how New Age beliefs have encroached upon the church. It is obviously not new because God had a solution for it long ago. It was punishment and the eradication of the evil thing in Sodom and Gomorrah. Oftentimes the accepted Christian norm for these actions now are to either ordain the offender or to send them for counseling while we subliminally accept their behavior. This is nothing more than a perversion of worshipping the created thing instead of worshipping the Creator.

These issues would not be issues at all if we understood true compassion versus counterfeit compassion.

Counterfeit Compassion

God commands us to love one another (John 13:34), but not at the expense of loving Him first (Matthew 22:37–40). The subtlety of humanism is that the emotional compassion for people outweighs our allegiance to God and the importance of obeying Him rather than man. Is it possible to love people more than God? Of course it is and that is a blatant sin of idolatry. The first and great commandment is to love God with all our hearts, minds, souls, and strength, and this is the only mandate that cannot be overemphasized. Throughout the Word of God, there is always a balance of understanding when viewing perspectives of the truth. Extremism (when one point of view is magnified at the expense of another) has all too often become the norm in Christianity. We dare never magnify the importance of mankind at the expense of the purposes of God. When it is, counterfeit compassion emerges.

Unfortunately our concern for people surpassing our allegiance to God is often witnessed in Christianity and this is the basis of counterfeit compassion. This has grown up around us and subtly overtaken us; without notice we have been diverted from the righteous judgments of God and are worshipping humanity rather than worshipping God.

In giving an example of humanism and counterfeit compassion, I would expect to see the rage and fury of humanism explode upon me when I mention Mother Theresa. Being a convener of apostolic fellowships in India, I am rather well versed in the opinions of native Christian leaders in India concerning her. Mother Theresa was no doubt a wonderful person with a great compassion for people, and she helped thousands of them. However, it is well known among the national Christian leaders in India that she forfeited witnessing privileges concerning Jesus Christ in her ministry. She was commended, as she should have been, for her demonstration of goodwill and helping the underprivileged, but to appease the government of India and to not offend the Hindus of Calli, she magnified people at the expense of her allegiance to God. Even though canonized by the Roman Catholic Church and revered and loved by millions, she was a major proponent of humanism. Seeing her stand before the Judgment Seat of Christ will be very interesting. This is an example of counterfeit compassion when the value of humans and even physical life is elevated over the commandment of God to proclaim the great commission.

Certainly, the Bible encourages us to do good—to feed the poor and to visit the fatherless and widows. This is true love and shows an element of compassion but it can easily be perverted if humanity and the importance of humans are emphasized over the importance of God. We must love others because of God's love for them and us, not instead of God's love for them.

Love Never Fails?

We have all heard the quotation "love never fails." Is this an unconditional statement that always applies, or a conditional statement made to Christians who are trying to get along with each other in the church? Question: Did love fail in dealing with Lucifer? The Word of God very clearly itemizes the punishments of Lucifer's disobedience (Ezekiel 28:13–18). He was banished from heaven and sealed with a fate of doom and punishment. Did love fail with Lucifer? The obvious answer is yes. Will it fail with certain people? The answer is again obviously yes since we see certain of them being thrown into the lake of fire with Lucifer. So, there is a place where the commandments and judgments of God are supreme over compassion and even forgiveness. The place of the balance between compassion and judgment needs clarification because humanism makes no provision for punishment of people, since people are the supreme cause of its existence.

Even though vaguely related, the issue of punishing children for disobedience arises at this juncture too. Humanism has no provisions for punishment because it has elevated people to the highest tier of importance and has no higher realm of judgment than self-preservation. Humanism will condemn a parent for disciplining a child. When the Bible says to spare the rod and spoil the child, humanism will even contradict itself when disallowing benefit/consequence if the consequence includes punishment. Along these same lines, humanism denounces capital punishment. Although this may seem deeply spiritual, it is not biblical.

Is War Justified?

Humanism will place the value of human life above the value of God's righteous judgment. We need to recognize that God is supreme in His judgment over mankind and that man was created in the image of God and not God in the image of man. We also need to be reminded that when the importance of mankind is elevated above the commandments of God then true justice and righteous judgment will appear as harsh or unfair.

Even though the book of Ecclesiastes tells us in chapter 3 that there is "a time of war and a time of peace; a time to hate and a time to love," humanism will disallow God working through others to inflict punishment where punishment is due. It counts it an unrighteous thing when God charges righteous judgment. Humanism will deny these realities and not allow the existence of war or punishment for disobedience.

(Please be reminded that I am not opposed to true compassion and the withholding of merited judgment against people. My point in discussing these issues is that humanism will deny God the righteous choice and decision of punishing disobedience.)

At the writing of this, a coalition of nations is attacking an evil regime (Saddam Hussein's) and thousands upon thousands of people are demonstrating in the streets. Humanism is their platform, decrying justice for a mass murderer. Why? Because humanism has elevated itself to lofty heights and has made the rights of mankind supreme to the judgment of God. Within humanism, there is no place to police itself.

Recently on a church bulletin I read: If we Christians are to love our enemies and instead we are attacking them, then how can war with Iraq be right? If I had the time and inclination to discuss the issue with the pastor of that church, I would have asked him, "Who is the Prince of Peace?" He would have rightly said, "Jesus." Then I would have said, "That same man will descend from heaven with the armies of the Lord to impute judgment on the ungodly for their ungodliness in their ungodly habitations (Jude 14,15). So then by your logic, is Jesus the minister of sin?" God reserves the right to punish evil, but humanism (the religion of that Christian minister) denies Him that right.

Certainly Christianity is the belief of a kind and forgiving God, but the Lord of the Host (army) is used four times more than any other description of God in the Old Testament, and "sell your coat and buy a sword" is used the same amount of times (one) as "turn the other cheek." Love and forgiveness are valid concepts in Christianity, but so are punishment and retribution. Forgiveness and mercy are more commonly emphasized because humanism is more popularly taught at seminaries than spiritual warfare.

The First and Great Commandment

The subtlety of the devil's deceptive move of humanism upon people is clearly seen when we view the first and great commandment and its relationship to the second one.

Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. Matthew 22:36–38

This seems easily understood, and then the second is like unto it.

And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Matthew 22:39

The subtlety and success of humanism is not to negate or deny either of these commandments, but to reverse the order of them. The devil transposes the importance of these commandments and therefore establishes the doctrine of humanism. As I mentioned before, Satan has not come to us dressed in a red suit, but in a two-piece suit, standing in pulpits trying to convince us that social issues are the matters at hand rather than spiritual ones.

Humanists recognize the need to love individuals and to care for the more unfortunate ones. They will feed the poor, but will they witness to them? They may tolerate them but will they confront the evil in them? Will they be motivated to love and care for the needy by guilt or by obedience to God?

We must realize that this perversion of our belief system is a very, very deceitful thing. Yes, God has put tenderness and care for others deep in our hearts, but when the United Way shows pictures of starving children, are we moved by our emotions for people or by our allegiance to God?

This is a very, very tricky matter. The following biblical example will show how tricky it is and help to clarify the importance of the issue.

A Biblical Example of Humanism

Matthew 16:23 NKJ deals with perhaps the strongest rebuke ever given to a believer. Jesus looked Simon Peter, the leader of all the apostles, straight in the eye and said to him, "Get behind Me, Satan!" The context of this occurrence reveals the subtlety of humanism and also the Lord's admonition of how serious it is to the overall belief system of a person.

It would do us all well to remember the more remote context of this rebuke. Just two verses before, Peter was lauded to the highest honor by Jesus saying it was not flesh and blood which had revealed to him the identity of the Son of Man, but the Father in heaven. Then while in an honorable position, Jesus bestowed upon him the keys to the kingdom. However, only four verses later, the leader of all the apostles and the man to whom the keys to the kingdom were given was publicly and sharply rebuked and exposed that Satan was working through him! What caused Peter to err in such a fashion? Humanism.

It is interesting that this section of Scripture is the one referenced by Roman Catholicism conferring the first papal office upon Peter. Will they likewise be so consenting as to grant the first pope the first rebuke for satanic humanism? No one is immune.

In the context, Jesus had been telling His disciples that He would be crucified. Peter in his well-meaning (but deceived) state, rebuked the Master by saying, "Far be it from You, Lord; this shall not happen to You!" Jesus looked Peter in the eye and said, "Get behind Me, Satan! You are an offense to Me, for you are not mindful of the things of God, but the things of men."

No one wanted to see Jesus die. If anyone would have bathed Peter's words in solace and comfort, it would have been the shepherd and bishop of his soul, Jesus Christ. However, Jesus rebuked Peter, knowing the dire importance of standing firmly on the will of God in the face of suffering.

In a personal question, do you savor the things of men more than the things of God? Will you deny God's punitive retribution on mankind if it violates your comfort? Would you deny God (as if you could) the privilege of venting His wrath on disobedience? Do you personally think that you are above punishment for disobedience? Do you think that love never fails and do not consider that it has failed and is continuing to fail? These personal questions are asked not to condemn you, but to show you that neither you, nor I, nor anyone else, is immune to the doctrine of demons of humanism.

The strength of humanism is its subtlety. We all are possible offenders and violate the commandments of God by elevating man and even the care of man above the will of God.

Mercy and Punishment

Oftentimes it can be overheard in Christian conversation the point/counterpoint of God's mercy versus His judgment. As interesting as this discourse becomes, we can now easily see that its tenets are in humanism also. Look at how deceptive the argument has become. The opposite side of mercy is not judgment, but punishment.

To visualize a balance between mercy and punishment, imagine a scale with equal portions on both sides. If we put total love and unreserved forgiveness on one side of the balance scale, then we must put deserving punishment and godly retribution in an equal amount on the other side. One problem we have had with the encroachment of humanism is that we have not balanced the mercy side with the punishment side.

Therefore, when we begin viewing true compassion and forgiveness, we do not have a true system with which to define it. This again shows us the fallacy of counterfeit compassion. True compassion means that God loves mercy and withholds punishment, but without punishment, mercy has lost it strength. Jesus taught us to turn the other cheek and love our enemies, but He also said to sell your coat and buy a sword.

When dealing with mercy and punishment, the verb "judge" is the action that is taken, and either mercy or punishment will be the result of the decision that is made. Surely God delights in mercy (Micah 7:18), and He does withhold His punishment—at least until people begin taking His goodness for granted, and then He is quick to remind them who He is and who is supreme. Remember, God is not a man that He should lie. What He says, He will do. Examples of this are abundant throughout the Word of God. When Samuel hewed Agag to pieces before the Lord in Gilgag, it was an example of God's righteous retribution on disobedience. Likewise, when God had mercy on David and did not require his life for having Uriah killed, God showed His mercy. The point of this discussion is not to debate whether God was righteous in directing Samuel to do this nor is it to negate the charge against David, but to show that God does mete out judgment and mercy. One time punishment came, and the other time mercy came. Imputing punishment does not mean that God is unrighteous.

Following this line of consideration, King Saul was also judged for his disobedience. He was weighed in the balances and was found wanting and was rejected as king over Israel. Does this mean that God did not love Saul? Does this mean that God unjustly punished Saul? Did God not have mercy on Saul?

These are valid questions, but humanism gives no answer because the advancement of mankind is its aim. Conversely, true faith is the advancing of God's purposes and allowing God to decide what is best for mankind. God does prefer mercy, but He also charges retribution for disobedience.

Some people have said that in the New Covenant God's punishment was eradicated. This test of logic must be judged against the "counter example" of logic. Elymas, the sorcerer and false prophet, was smitten blind in Acts 13. Ananias and Sapphira died for tempting God in Acts 5, and the seven sons of Sceva the High Priest were severely injured by the demon they were trying to exorcise. It is accurate to say that the blood of Jesus availed much more forgiveness, but we cannot afford to allow humanism to be elevated above true godly belief, even when the forgiveness of the blood of Jesus is considered. My contribution to the discussion is that God did not change when His covenant changed. More of God's mercy is availed to us by the blood of Jesus, but because Jesus died on Calvary does not mean God's nature or His desire to carry out His perfect will was changed.

Another example of humanism invading the church is the subject of the nation of Israel. Many members of the church of Jesus Christ have become well informed over the past years of the need to pray for Israel. This is a major breakthrough in church doctrine to replace "replacement theology." Yes, Israel is the viable interest of world politics, but this does not eradicate the prophecy of God's punishment still to come on them. This brings the subject of humanism and godly judgment upon Israel into a more focused perspective. In the church's zeal to pray for the peace of Jerusalem, let's not be blind to the fact that they must still go through the time of Jacob's Trouble before the end comes (Jeremiah 30:7; Daniel 9:24).

If, in our haste to pray for the peace of Jerusalem, we overlook the approaching fulfillment of the end-time prophecy of Jacob's Trouble, we could be praying against the will of God. This happens within the church because of the influence of humanism. Its effect is to cause us to not recognize that God still has unfulfilled judgment against Israel.

These examples have been cited to show that God's judgment is going to fall on the earth and that we cannot magnify men above God's judgment.

Conclusion

Humanism, by the self-defining terms included within this article, is when we savor the things of men above the things of God. We must never allow ourselves to elevate man's importance above the commandments of God. Humanism has carved out a tenet within our society called, "the god of our belief system" and also "the god of our comfort." These belief systems will not allow individuals to venture into the consideration of God's judgment upon the people of the earth.

We can see the growing emergence of a one-world religion and the coming reign of the antichrist. Humanism is worshipping people; Greenpeace is worshipping nature; Save Willy is worshipping animals, and Tree Huggers are worshipping plants. Mother Nature and Baal are on the same team and Satan is preparing the antichrist to be the captain.

Yes, we can see humanism growing in many places, but the most dangerous place is in the church. Are the very elect being deceived?

Humanism is a growing concern among all Christians and subtly will leech away sound faith and doctrine. When mankind and social issues become more important than God and righteous judgment, the encroachment has come upon us. All Christians should be on guard against this perversion of doctrine. This is an ever-growing concern for ministers and all believers who have regard for the sanctity of truth and the preservation of a godly belief system.

Heavenly Workshop II
Vicki Camp

Pre: In the first part I published: In the Spirit in a vision, I found myself in a heavenly workshop, and I watched as Jesus fashioned two metallic pearly colored drumsticks on an anvil, rubbing these two red/white heat fired rods / drumsticks, against each other. He then placed them in His tunic, next to HIS' Fiery Heart,,, shown me in part - a glimpse into Jesus furnace of Heart Fire.
Part II
Jesus then stepped away from the anvil. He walked a short distance, just a few feet away to a new place in this heavenly workshop, where He now stood at a table, a workbench. I followed Him and stood again looking to see.......

As I watched Jesus, He slipped off his leather apron and laid it on the table. In His hand now was a pair of very long bladed shiny silver scissors, and He cut out a large circular piece of material from this raw leather. On the table's side and on shelves above it, there were many open jars and glass containers and even a few small cans looking like common paint cans to me, with different colors splashed on their outer rims. Jesus dipped his fingers into some of these containers, one at a time, and He began to rub this large round leather piece he was working on with these substances, rubbing with his fingers and sometimes the palms of His Hands, in steady circular motions, at times applying strong pressure and at other times a very light touch.

Jesus was very concentrated on this task, but also I saw happiness on his face as He worked this leather, kneading and making it more supple. His eyes were intent but soft and His lips slightly parted and upturned at the corners in a sure contentment of happy 'working' as He applied to this task. I watched in fascination as He rubbed these ointments, various fluids of different colors and substances in turn, from the various containers, into this leather piece He had cut out.

After some time He gave a happy sigh of accomplishment, as Jesus lifted the round leather piece with both hands, stretching out full the round leather piece up in front of His face, seeming to inspect and admire it,,, and I was surprised to see that his round piece was now a lovely deep purple colored leather, and it was no longer rough but now smooth - even though I had seen many many colored substances being kneaded into this piece, all of it was shown evenly colored a deep purple (!), with the piece having a soft shiny smoothness to it's finish now.

As He placed it back on the table I saw that there was now a shallow circular bowl laying there, that appeared to me to be a reflective metallic bowl, of a rich medium blue color. Jesus now began fitting the purple leather piece onto the top of this base, and I realized as I watched, that this was to be 'the drum' for beating and sounding. He was making and creating this project -- His' drum for sounding.......
"Ah,,,", I thought, "now I can see what Jesus is making so carefully and tenderly of attention and so powerfully with His very Own fingers, at this work bench - a drum for the drumsticks of HIS' Heart Fire to beat upon."
Jesus eyes looked to me and He smiled, letting me know again with His nod that I was understanding correctly, even though once more I had not spoken this out loud..... He knew my heart thoughts.

With the long silver scissors, using the pointed end of one blade, He now poked even spaced holes around the circumference of the leather piece. With each hole he made He carefully applied ointment of a red color from a large wooden basin-bowl he reached into, followed by a blue colored oil from a tall gold vase-like container which He also reached into. Jesus rubbed these two substances into the new punctures, rubbing into each hole thoroughly, and then over the whole piece he massaged these two, both the red and blue substances, into the whole leather piece, front and back. He finished all up with water, which I saw Him pouring from a great white pitcher, all over this piece of leather and through the holes punched,,,,,, so much so was there water, a fizzing bubbling water, that it soaked the purple leather piece into a soft thickness, and the waters filled the shallow blue base beneath, splashing and spilling over, and off the work-bench - so much water, for I saw that this white pitcher supernaturally did not run out of water, but kept pouring and pouring, well beyond it's measure..... from Jesus Hand held.

Then Jesus spoke, kindly explaining some of what I had been shown,

"This piece of My work-apron I wore closely, and this once raw leather skin you may liken to My Body, My people that have died to self and flesh yet they are most Alive In Me! My own special people.
The red ointment and the blue oil you may liken to My blood applied with My Spirit anointing; I finish all with the washing of the Living Water by My Word. All I apply to full absorption.
My silver sword of justice, as the silver scissors you saw, does cut and try these ones, proving them unto full strength – My strength made perfect in their weakness.
This is a royal company, thus the purple. These who make up this purple colored likeness you are being shown are My own special treasure; My Body being now shaped and stitched and placed together on the firm reflective of Me heavenly blue base, thus the rich blue color.
These ones are Mine, given Me by My Father; I bought and paid for them -- they inherit with Me and share My Throne; I love these ones beyond the telling to you and beyond your present full understanding just yet...but you and all who are mine, must receive this understanding - I love you and care over you, forming you for Myself, as you were shown .... Now watch again, daughter."

And I saw that purple leather piece now begin to glow, and roll slightly and jump (this is best I can describe), for it was animated / alive / quickened ...... in Jesus Hands.

Next I saw an even more amazing sight, which is very hard to describe with words, but I will try...... Jesus reached up very high with His right arm, and as my eyes followed I saw there was no ceiling or roof on this work-shop !...... there was only night sky above us, with stars and planets glittering against this velvet dark backdrop of night. Somehow supernaturally Jesus reached up so far into the galaxies, so very deep into this night sky,,, then pulling back down with His Hand a long cord of -- Light (!),,,, white Light cord of a golden-white color which shone in beauty. And I was made to 'know' that this was a three strand cord of perfect witness of Himself our Lord, a cord that cannot not be broken, for it comes forth, is brought forth of Jesus Own very Arm of strength,,, from the eternities ~ selah.

Jesus, working in eagerness was now attaching, tie-ing the circular leather piece through the holes around it's edge and onto the shallow rich blue base, or kettle piece (?), of this unusual drum he was creating on the work table. He used the heavenly cord of Light to secure all firmly, with some areas doubled of cord, and in other places the cord crossed many times, as He wove and tied it lovingly together .... , and the finished product drum gleamed and shone in a vibrancy that is beyond my description ability here.
I thought as I looked, "This is a truly a drum of “wonder” !" ..... as in, our Lord's 'signs and wonders'.

Jesus nodded again to me,

"Yes. This is truth, for this drum of My sounding forth, is a true wonder of My Own making, by My Own Fingers, of My crafting and Ownership and righteous care."

At this time, when Jesus had finished the drum, I noted commotion and soft murmured cheers coming from the many people or angels who also had been working in the different areas of this heavenly workshop. As I took my eyes from Jesus and looked about this heavenly workshop, I saw all the workers were turning our way, looking towards Jesus as He held up the finished drum that purely shimmered and reflected the sky's natural night-lights shining down upon us in the open ceiled workshop.
Jesus lifting high His' finished drum for all of us to see .... and now as my eyes centered back onto the drum, I noted again that rather than an inanimate sounding instrument as a natural earthly drum which a human artisan might build, Jesus' created drum appeared as alive, pulsing and shining of The Light cord and the vibrant reflective color of blue base, with and the smooth now taut deep purple top skin .... as He presented it thus before us all to see His handiwork, finished.

"I want you to understand this scene I show you as a similitude, daughter. I want you to write this vision and tell it to my people, for those who will hear. The drumsticks I fashioned of creamy white pearl-like material from Fire may be likened to bone, Even as the raw unfinished at first leather, may be likened to flesh.

Soon at the time appointed I will sound forth to and through My Body, My special people, bringing forth a new beat that is of old; Sounding through those of My very Bones and My Flesh of communion; My people who are attuned and in tune by My Spirit; These are those who will so beat with My Own Heartbeat that they will march in My cadence of perfect supernatural unity, for these ones are formed of My Fiery Heart, My Body closeness, of My Own Hands -- in holiness unto Their Lord.

My Holy Spirit 'sounding' will cadence Our beat, outward and EVERYWHERE to all living creatures, in great waves. Yes, all heavens and the earth will hear, see and know.
The multitudes of people upon earth will most assuredly understand fully that I am Lord and Savior at that time, and some of them will even change, attuning to Our rhapsody, running into Our pinions of protection, finding Life, even finding Life of MySelf with My Bride. She will speak, singing My beat throughout the air waves with Our 'sounding', and the many miracles will be great of My might. Those with open hunger to see and hear will see and hear and be fed, for they will come and be healed of Me, Jesus Christ - even as I have always afforded to mankind. Those who will not partake, nor see or hear unto acceptance are judged.

This Wonder of eternal Light binding cord; My 'sounding' creation of Love beat will no longer be hidden in that time, but She will stand in that season firmly upon Her moon, in Glory displayed gown, crowned of heavenly Lights, bridled unto the cadence of My Light cords, and in chords of 'sounding' Life. She and I will flash forth into the earth Our Voice, in a final calling.

Tell this to my people; tell them to be pliable in eagerness; To be found in company of My 'sounding' being formed today – for My soon coming cadence will shake all of the heavens and all of earth; Yes, this will be so even before I set my feet back down upon My footstool, My earth, to declare the ending."

After Jesus finished speaking, I gasped quietly as I watched Jesus rise right up through the open roof, and I saw Him stand there at a distance amongst the stars and heavenly bodies. He sat down placing

His' new created drum between His knees. Jesus reached into his now changed tunic, for His garments were also now bright Light as was His' whole head,,,,, Glory Light that was almost blinding for me to look upon against the dark night surround; I squinted to see, as He took out the two drumsticks of pearly colors, these that still glowed brightly of red/white Fire heat from His' Heart closeness. With a now strong countenance showing forth Jesus raised the two drumsticks to begin His 'beating sounding' on His newly fashioned and created "wonder" drum,,,the two metal rod drumsticks from His' Fiery Heart raised high…..

Simultaneously we, everyone in this heavenly workshop where I stood, including myself, fell totally quiet in anticipation of Jesus 'beat and sounding' as we all then fell to our faces ~ to worship,,, under a sudden descending cloud of Shekinah presence that flowed down and pressed upon us of Glorious weight.
- this vision/experience portion faded, and I continued in His' presence, in stillness and awe.

Is Anything Too Difficult For Me

Miqua Miles

My Dearest Child,

Is anything too difficult for Me? Rejoice in this change in your life - despise not the day of small beginnings for out of these shall grow a mighty giant of hope and joy by My leading. - Just rest for a while until the fullness of My joy bubbles up in you for . in resting you will regain your strength and vision. Yes, I know you might feel unsure and a bit insecure in your own ability at this time, even though you asked for this. Let Me re assure you, I AM your Father, will I allow this 'birthing', this 'new thing' if I knew you couldn't handle it?

Be aware of this though - even like a natural baby, this will grow and mature only through LOVE, (even when it's 'teething-time). It may turn out to look different to your understanding and early expectations - but- a new thing is firstly NEW. I AM leading you on this new path by My Spirit. Rejoice for the first hurdle has been crossed. Where you are –

I AM Lovingly
Your Father

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He makes me to lie down in green pastures; He leads me beside the still waters. He restores my soul; He leads me in paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for You are with me; Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me. You prepare a table for me in the presence of my enemies; You anoint my head with oil; my cup runs over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever. Psalm 23 :1-6

I Am A God Of Memorials

Julie Baxter

Today the Spirit of the Lord surrounds me as I reflect upon this day in our nation, Memorial Day. A day to reverence and respect those men and women who have died fighting for the freedom I enjoy every day of my life.

As the Spirit hovers a message is incubating in my Spirit and I sense I had better find my quiet place and listen and I heard a message from the Spirit of the Lord, the Spirit of the Bridegroom says to His Bride being formed today".

"This is a day like any other day in your life. You enjoy my freedoms, my pleasures, and my provision and feel my delight upon you. You do what you must do and think no further afield than how to prepare for your own. You are like nearly every shepherd I have.

My spirit is grieving over the shepherds who do not and will not look further afield to My scattered flocks. My spirit is grieving over those who are so busy taking care of every detail of their sheep's lives they spend all their time with the sheep they have rather than leaving those comfortable sheep in their fold to go out to find and comfort the one lost one.

Today I will call a Holy Day - A Day of Memory - A Day to take time to remember those who have died for your freedom. Those who have put on garments of peace and safety, camouflaging themselves and fighting deadly enemies so that you may have peace.

But today I call my church to stop spending all her time with herself. Today I call my church to use this day and every day to begin to wage warfare against my enemy, by simply making friends with those who do not know me. Today I call my church to begin to stretch forth to other vineyards and other shepherds and join themselves without regard for boundaries and possessions.

Today - I will remember and I ask you to remember that you who are engraven upon the palms of my hands, you whose names are written in my book, I ask you to remember that even as you do it for the least of those you consider outside your own circles you do it to me and for me.

If you do not reach out, beloved, if you do not believe that my blood is sufficient for others even as it has been for you - then I tell you - I will not remember you in my book. But rather, you will be among those who say, "Lord, Lord, this and this and this I have done in your name" and I will reply, "I never knew you."

I never knew you intimately enough to beget children of your faith.
I never knew you intimately enough to have been your every waking thought.
I never knew you intimately enough to have you telling everyone you know me, that I am the ONE who saves, heals, fills, and comforts. I never knew you intimately enough that you would leave your daily bread for time in my Word, learning where I feed at noon, and how I move mountains and where I rest in eventide. It is so painful, I never knew you. And you never knew me.

Today - a brand new day I give you.
What memories shall we make?
What memorials shall we place?
How will you be remembered?
Will you remember ME?"

I Am At Work In You

Musa Opiyo

April 3, 2004
Indeed some of My children have wondered whether I am at all working in their lives. You see evidence of My work in others, you see an opening to revelation in many, yet there does not seem to be any activity in much of your daily life. Because of this, the enemy has caused many to doubt My presence and to wonder whether I have left them. Yet My dearly Beloved, far from it, I AM accomplishing a hidden work in you. For most of your life you have associated My work in and around you to be something you see with your physical eyes, yet this is not so, for deep within the recesses of your heart I am forming My character in you. Your trials will be turned into opportunities to leap over obstacles with hinds feet.

Behind the curtain I am working the impossible, accomplishing the unimaginable and bringint to pass that which I have spoken and promised you. Do not be discouraged nor lose heart For the silence and the lullness you feel is the Almighty working his hidden work. Sometimes beloved I have to veil what I am doing in your life in order that you would not speak words of unbelief or retreat for fear of what I will take you through. The Christian walk of faith and trust, whereby you have faith and trust in the fact that I am God and that I am moving whether you see it or not.

But believe Me you will be most surprised at the finished product. I will not promise you smooth roads. In fact, you will a various levels be met by obstacles, trials and tests that are so huge, that it will taken only complete faith and trust in Me to move your mountain. Once again I say do not lose heart. Do not lean on your own understanding but acknowledge Me, and I will surely direct your paths and lead you in My righteousness.

Stand On My Promises And Enter My Rest

Musa Opiyo

April 4, 2004

Stand On My Promises

I go before you to make your paths straight. Though narrow, it leads straight to Me. But it is a path on which we both shall walk for I have promised never to leave you nor forsake you. Seek My wisdom in this hour for you cannot afford to run without a vision, for without a vision the people perish. I would not have you ignorant of the devil's devices, for he is pulling out all the stops and is more slick and sly than ever in order to lead many of My own through deception into a life of darkness, unforgiveness, hate and devoid of My love. Do not give him the time nor the day, but yet stand on My promises for they are truly yea and amen.

John 10: 14 "..And when he brings out his own sheep, he goes before them and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice."

Enter My Rest

In My presence there is a fullness and an abiding of My Joy. For where the Spirit of the Lord rests there is life, freedom and joy. My Spirit desires that My people enter My rest. For My rest is not a physical rest. My rest is coming to a place where My peace which passes all understanding, My Joy which makes you full and the presence of the Spirit abides in you and you have the assurance of this rest in you whether there is peace around you or not. Many are indeed devoid of My peace, My Joy and My everabiding rest. If only My people would quiet themselves and be still and know that I am God and know that I am present in their situation. Oh My people, enter into My rest. Trust in Me and do not lean on your own understanding. For great turmoil shall soon break out across this earth, yet you shall be a beacon of light, that city set on the hill where you shall shine with My Abiding Glory. That day is now. Come into My rest.

I Am Coming For The Prodigal

I Am Coming For The Prodigal and For His Older Brother

mkap@insightbb.com
http://home.insightbb.com/~mkap/

4/12/2004

The Lord has been speaking to me from the parable of the Prodigal son. Luke chapter 15.

The Lord is drawing the prodigal back into the fellowship of the body of Christ. But He is not just coming for the prodigal son. He wants his older brother also.

The Lord says, "I will parade the prodigal in front on the older brother in hopes that his heart will become jealous for Me".

To the older brother the Lord says:

"There is no limit to the inheritance I have provided for you. Just try and see if you can spend more than I can provide. My Love and favor towards you is unending. You will see this is you stop trying to earn My love and instead start spending it.

You can not divide My love up into equal parts and pay it out like a workman's wage. Tear down the walls of jealousy, pride and competition and let's have a party. I will serve as the main dish. Come feast on ME!

I am bringing in the prodigal. If you will learn his lesson you will do well. The trough of self righteousness and religiosity is not far from the trough he was eating from. If you will embrace him with love and humility and esteem him highly you will see a great time of feasting and growth.

However if you despise him and seek to put you're heavy yoke around his neck, I will shut the doors of heaven on you and you will experience a time of great famine. One way or another, I will reveal your starving heart and make you hungry for me.

My desire if for you to come to Me.

I am raising up passionate lovers unto Myself. Chaste ones that will give up even their natural desire's to have them filled by me. I will dance them in front of you. Join in their dance. For now is a time of plenty. Come feast on my love. Have the wisdom of Joseph. Fill every room of the warehouse of your soul.

Those who come and feast on me I will fill them to overflowing. But to those whose desire is to feast on themselves, I will take even that away from them.

What is better in the eyes of the Lord. Those who say they will follow with all their hearts but then later withhold from Him. Or those who struggle with giving all of their hearts and then give in".

"I am calling to the gate keepers. Let your prayers be mighty".

I Am Lord Of The Harvest

Mat 9:37 Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; Mat 9:38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest.

The great I AM, the Alpha and Omega is calling you to come up higher this day. Enter into My Throne Room that you may hear My heart beat for this hour.

I see the lost, the broken and the destitute; those under the heavy oppression from the enemy of their souls. But where is My church, where is My bride? She is distracted with the busyness of the world, this world and all that is in it, which will soon fold away along with the heavens.

Look around you, see the fields white unto harvest. I AM the Lord of the Harvest, seek Me for the direction you are soon to take, but for now draw away unto Me. You must be prepared to reap this great harvest at My direction, by My Spirit. This harvest will be brought in BY MY SPIRIT. I AM the director. You will be bold, you will go out By THE POWER OF MY MIGHT. You will speak words that will cut into the heart and it will bring many to their knees before Me.

What is this dross I see before me? You are making your own plans for the future. Where are My plans for you in your heart? YOUR LIFE IS NO LONGER YOURS BUT MINE; BOUGHT WITH A GREAT PRICE. I speak these words so that you may be smitten in your hearts to lay down your lives for others, as MY Son laid down His life for you! THERE IS A COST BEFORE THE GLORY! It cost My Son everything before He received the Glory, before He was seated at the right hand of the Father. I REQUIRE THE SAME OF YOU.

Where are those that are prepared to disciple My new lambs. Intercessors stand in the gap so that the church will be ready to receive this GREAT HARVEST; the sheaves are being prepared to be brought into the barn.
The I AM.

Eph 1:22 And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, Eph 1:23 Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.
Col 1:18 And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence.
Eph 4:15 but, speaking the truth in love, may we grow up in all things into Him who is the head - Christ.
Submit to My headship, submit to My leading. Many are running to and fro thinking that they are accomplishing something for My Kingdom. Now hear this Beloved, My Word says that those who are led of the Spirit of God are the sons of God. Those who are not led by the Spirit are still My children, BUT NOT MY SONS.
Romans 8:14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.
Seek My face My children as to what dross is still to be purged out of you so that you can hear My voice. I will deal gently with you, but you must first cease striving and running to and fro and come to Me says the Lord.
Mal 3:3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.
Oh My children, perilous times are ahead, if you are not in My Spirit, if you are not submitted to My guidance and My guidance only, how will you stand in the season to come and almost is.
There are some who have been purged and made ready; these are My forerunners, but I still have many children lagging behind in My army. Cease from your striving, cease from dead works and simply sit at My feet and hear My words to your heart.
2Timothy 2:21 If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honor, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.
Hebrews 9:14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?
I seek to refine you, to fine tune you to hear My voice directing, prompting you in the way you must go.

Seal the Cracks !!

Blessings to you in the name of Jesus Christ.
Blessings of Strength, Wisdom, Peace and Joy in Him.

I submitted this word back on 9/26/02. The Holy Spirit has brought this word back to my remembrance for the body of Christ. We must rise up as One body and One voice (Ephesians 4:1-6) and know this is all for Him and in Him and about Him. Our Lord, Our King, Our salvation, Our strength is Jesus Christ. We live because He lives in us. We breath because He gives us breath. We are to be One body letting His love and all that He is within us reach out to each other and beyond into the world. I implore you today....to Seal the Cracks in the wall. Let us work together that Jesus Christ would accomplish all things through us here and that we would see realms of Heaven while we are here in the earth.

Yes, the Lord is placing the spirit of Nehemiah into those who have been calling out for unity and restoration of the Body of Christ. A people who are ready to take action and build up, restore, renew and rise up. We are His body. He uses our mouth to proclaim "good news" He uses our hands to do the work of His business and to heal, He uses our legs to move wherever He sees He is needed, He uses our feet to walk in peace and to stand up in strength, He uses our heart to comfort with compassion, He uses our arms to hug the lonely and hold up the weak and hurting, He needs our BODY to be who HE IS through us. Nehemiah wept over the condition of the walls of Jerusalem and took action. Let us come together and be His body. Let us together…
Seal the cracks in the wall !!

September 26, 2002
Today, I humbly come to you my brothers and sisters in Christ.
In the Spirit; the Lord has shown me a great wall that was built to keep the enemy out. The body of Christ, His children were all gathered as one in a tremendous circle. He has shown me that we are supposed to be standing so close together so that nothing (no darkness, no division, no strife etc.) could break through, so that nothing could come in against us, but there were cracks in the wall of this circle. The enemy has been seeping in through those very cracks.

He said, IF My people, who ARE called my name will humble themselves and PRAY...and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways (distractions, idols, religion, sin, traditions, motives, time constraints, strife, control, jealousy, and.......THEN............I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land. 2 Chronicles 7:14.

Today, I am making a call out to all of us ....We must pray hard!!! We must seal the cracks in NOW!! Please take just One day to fast and pray solely for our leaders. Those who have given their lives for us. Those who the enemy will go after first because they have chosen to lay themselves down for us. Please pray for your pastor, for the preachers and teachers (five-fold ministry) that you so dearly love and draw from all the time that they would be refreshed, revived, healed and strengthened. Pray, Pray, Pray, ...As they have been called and chosen to bring the Life and Love of Jesus Christ to you, they must continue to receive Life and Love and strength through our prayers for them unto God.

In Joel 1:14, It says; DECLARE A HOLY FAST, CALL A SACRED ASSEMBLY. Summon the elders and ALL who live in the land to the house of the Lord your God, and CRY OUT TO THE LORD.....! ! !

Joel 2:21-Be not afraid, O land; be glad and rejoice. Surely the Lord has done great things!!
(He is doing greater now and is about to do even more)

SEAL THE CRACKS IN THE WALL !!!! Praise Him like never before and worship Him before His holy Throne. He is so worthy. We must stand together in Unity in our God to fight. It is time to get mad at the enemy for everything he has taken and everything he trying to do because he knows his time is short and coming to an eternal end. We must fight and cry out to God for He is listening. It is time to take a stand and fight in the name of the Lord. It is time to walk in victory and stop feeling defeated. No more defeat, No more discouragement, no more division.
Seal the Cracks!!

If you have been in the boxing ring with the enemy and its the 11th round and your tired; its time to draw from Jesus and come in with that left hook and knock that devil out. The Champions belt of honor and victory already has your name on it..... We have won !!!! We have Jesus Christ. We have an eternal promise.

We have been given His strength to fight this good fight. We must use our swords and our armor for this battle. It is time to pray like we have never prayed before. It is time to stop looking at all the distractions in this world and at your job, and in your home and look to Jesus. Greater is He that is in me than he that is in the world. If we continue to look at those things the enemy is using to distract us we will lose focus on the Great I AM. That is his job to get our eyes from looking to Our strength. Today we must make a decision to take our eyes and lift them up to Jesus. We must remember to fight in the spirit and not flesh and blood. Lift up your brother and your sister and do not beat them down. Love, Love, Love…then watch God move. Its not about you, its all about Him. We are all on One team. Know that God has called each one of us old and young. It is high time to awake and cry out to Him with a shout and loud cry and the enemy and his armies will flee in the name of Jesus. Every injustice WILL bow to the name of Jesus Christ

The Praise you have in you is a great weapon.

Pray for your leaders, pray for your elders, pray for the preachers, pray for your wife, pray for your husband, pray for your family, pray for the lost, the hurting. So that their will be no cracks in the wall and circle of Life God has placed around us. Pray. Pray. However you pray, just pray. When you walk into the house of the Lord ...think about simply walking into the room where Jesus is on His throne and imagine there is no one else there but you standing before His throne. When you begin to praise Him for who He is and worship Him in spirit and in truth; you will find Life, and strength and healing like you have never seen before. Walk into His sanctuary with this one thing in your mind, in your heart and in your vision; Jesus Christ. Be a living sanctuary. If we all understand we are coming before His holy throne and we seek His face individually we will see a move of God corporately and a humbling and a unity. There will be an explosive move of the Lord. We must seal the cracks in the wall.

I believe we will see the Glory of God. Bow before Him, Trust Him, Don’t hold back from God...Seek revival within your self and surely there will be a great corporate revival in this land. If we will let Him do it in us ...it will come together. He is saying Now, Now, Now is the appointed time ......COME, COME, COME....NOW IS THE TIME .....SEAL THE CRACKS IN THE WALL.........SEAL THEM WITH PRAYER, SEAL THEM WITH PRAISE, AND SEAL THEM WITH WORSHIP UNTO OUR GOD WHO REIGNS IN BEAUTY, WISDOM, STRENGTH, AND GLORY AND HONOR!!!

Get out your spirit filled caulking guns (prayer, praise, worship, love, peace, wisdom) and begin to seal the cracks so that nothing can come in to divide the body. We are all One in Him. We must fight together.
Mighty is the army of the Lord. Joel 2.
Seal the cracks in relationships, seal the cracks in the church, seal the cracks in your life so that it is just you and Jesus. Glory.

In the power and glory and blood of Jesus Christ ...Amen and Amen...

I Am Pouring Out My Spirit

THE THIEF DOES NOT COME EXCEPT TO STEAL, AND TO KILL AND TO DESTROY. I HAVE COME THAT THEY MAY HAVE LIFE, AND THAT THEY MAY HAVE IT MORE ABUNDANTLY. (John 10:10)

O, My people, are you seeking the abundant life that only I can give or are you allowing the enemy to have victory over you? Of course he is gathering all his forces to come against you, My people, as he knows his time is short in which to draw you away from Me. My beloved ones, put on the armor I have provided for you, and go forth to dispel the enemy, knowing that I go with you.

THAT WE SHOULD BE SAVED FROM OUR ENEMIES AND FROM THE HAND OF ALL WHO HATE US. (Luke 1:71)

Beloved, an important part of the abundant life is the infilling of the Holy Spirit which I am pouring out in unprecedented measure in these last days and I would admonish you to embrace it with all your hearts.

AND IT SHALL COME TO PASS AFTERWARD THAT I WILL POUR OUT MY SPIRIT ON ALL FLESH; YOUR SONS AND DAUGHTERS SHALL PROPHESY, YOUR OLD MEN SHALL DREAM DREAMS, YOUR YOUNG MEN SHALL SEE VISIONS; AND ALSO ON MY MENSERVANTS AND ON MY MAIDSERVANTS I WILL POUR OUT MY SPIRIT IN THOSE DAYS. (JOEL 2:28,29)

My people, 'those days' are the days you are living in and the time for the pouring out of My Spirit is now. As you observe the evidence of your sons and daughters ministering in prophecy, your old men dreaming dreams and your young men seeing visions you shall know that I am pouring out My Spirit. There are many who will reject this infilling of My Spirit but they do this to the detriment of their ministries for Me. The Holy Spirit provides the power and anointing to go forth and operate in the ministries I have destined for you, My children.

What does the Holy Spirit provide for us, you may be asking?....

~ He will help you to be obedient to My Word

I WILL PUT MY SPIRIT WITHIN YOU AND CAUSE YOU TO WALK IN MY STATUTES, AND YOU WILL KEEP MY JUDGMENTS AND DO THEM. (Ezek. 36:27)

~ It is He, the Spirit, who gives life, of ourselves we can do nothing..

IT IS THE SPIRIT WHO GIVES LIFE, THE FLESH PROFITS NOTHING.(John 6:63a)

~ He reveals truth unto us and tells us of things to come.

HOWEVER, WHEN HE, THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH, HAS COME, HE WILL GUIDE YOU INTO ALL TRUTH, FOR HE WILL NOT SPEAK ON HIS OWN AUTHORITY, BUT WHATEVER HE HEARS HE WILL SPEAK, AND HE WILL TELL YOU THINGS TO COME. (JOHN 16:13)

~ He helps us overcome our weaknesses and makes intercession for us.

LIKEWISE, THE SPIRIT ALSO HELPS IN OUR WEAKNESSES. FOR WE DO NOT KNOW WHAT

WE SHOULD PRAY FOR AS WE OUGHT, BUT THE SPIRIT HIMSELF MAKES INTERCESSION FOR US WITH GROANINGS WHICH CANNOT BE UTTERED. (Rom 8:26)

~ He reveals to us the things God has given to us.

NOW WE HAVE RECEIVED, NOT THE SPIRIT OF THE WORLD, BUT THE SPIRIT WHO IS FROM GOD, THAT WE MIGHT KNOW THE THINGS THAT HAVE BEEN FREELY GIVEN TO US BY GOD.(1 Cor. 2:12)

~ He gives us the Gifts of the Spirit.

NOW THERE ARE DIVERSITIES OF GIFTS, BUT THE SAME SPIRIT.(1 Cor. 12:4)

~ He convicts us of sin in our lives.

AND WHEN HE HAS COME, HE WILL CONVICT THE WORLD OF SIN AND OF RIGHTEOUSNESS AND OF JUDGMENT. (John 16:8)

~ He produces fruit in the lives of believers.

BUT THE FRUIT OF THE SPIRIT IS LOVE, JOY, PEACE, LONGSUFFERING, KINDNESS, GOODNESS, FAITHFULNESS, GENTLENESS, SELF CONTROL, AGAINST SUCH THERE IS NO LAW. (Gal. 5:22,23)

~ He will instruct you in spiritual things.

BUT THE HELPER, THE HOLY SPIRIT, WHOM THE FATHER WILL SEND IN MY NAME, HE WILL TEACH YOU ALL THINGS, AND BRING TO YOUR REMEMBRANCE ALL THINGS THAT I SAID TO YOU. (John 14:26)

~ He will bring healing to the sick as you pray for them.

...TO ANOTHER GIFTS OF HEALING BY THE SAME SPIRIT. (1 Cor. 12: 9b)

~ He will manifest the working of miracles through His people.

...TO ANOTHER THE WORKING OF MIRACLES. (1 Cor. 12: 10a)

My precious people, I tell you, in the midst of a troubled world, you have a great need to be filled with the Holy Spirit as the people were filled, as recorded in the Book of Acts. Receive My Spirit with joy and go forth in the power and anointing contained therein and minister as I shall direct you. Allow the Spirit to give you powerful words of testimony to speak forth to unbelievers and see them receive Me as Saviour. Believe in the power of the Spirit to bring healing to the sick as you pray for them. I yearn to see the fulfillment of the life of the Spirit come into being in every church across your land with the evidence of the work of the Holy Spirit manifested everywhere.

I Am Releasing Favor To You

Shirley Lise

I am breaking apart the hierarchy that has been at work. I am disassembling strongholds. Make room for My miracles. This is a day of great grandeur for those who have put their trust in Me, and a day of joy and gladness for those who know the Lord their God.

Rest in Me. Rest in My loving arms. I am moving out on your behalf, addressing issues that have come about. Trust in Me and do not let the enemy side-track you. Do not listen to the lies. I have given you My grace to see you through. I have invested time into your circumstances. I have built a hedge of protection round about you and given you My power to ward off the darts of the enemy. I have given you strength beyond comprehension and I will lead you out and on into the depths of My Spirit. Though many say they are in control, I am the One who sees all and who changes and arranges things, so pick up speed and run the race undaunted.

I have provided you with all that you stand in need of. I have given you insight into those things that are at war with My Spirit, and I am coming to bring the haughty to their knees. I will pull out from under them the rug, the platform from which they perform and I will address issues of the heart. Jesus saves and He will bring salvation to your household. He will bring you into the free flow of the Spirit of the living God. Just acknowledge Me and do not bow down to the pressures of the ungodly.

I will dethrone kings and raise up the lowly. I will break apart the web of lies that has held captives and release them into liberty in My spirit, says the Lord. I will make a covenant with My Beloved. I will introduce to them the beatitudes, understanding of what it means to walk humbly with the Lord their God.

This is a day to rejoice. I will bless you beyond all you could think or ask. I will lead you into the promises, one by one, and you will rejoice when you see what I have done. I have spoken to you about division, about separating the wheat from the chaff, about decisions regarding moves. Be ready to “let go” of those things and people who are a hindrance to your movement on into the fullness of the calling upon your life and I will take you on and into the full inheritance. I will bring you into the full scope of the ministry of Christ. I will preach the gospel via your mouth. I will fill it with words of truth, words of wisdom from the Heavenly Father.

I have fully-equipped you to press into the call. I will mobilize you, set your feet to music, and thrust you on and into the mandate. I will propel you forward and into the depths of what I am doing. So get ready, for I am releasing favor to you. Go with the flow. Make the break from contentment and let My Spirit stir you up and propel you on.

The Times And Seasons Have Changed

Shirley Lise

"....You know how to discern the appearance of the sky, but you can't discern the signs of the times! An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and there will be no sign given to it, except the sign of the prophet Jonah." Matthew 16:3-4

"Do this, knowing the time, that it is already time for you to awaken out of sleep, for salvation is now nearer to us than when we first believed." Romans 13:11

Position yourself for great gain. Open the eyes of your understanding to see that I have done a great thing in the land, that I have reached out across the borders and united hearts in My kingdom for My kingdom purposes. I have overcome barriers, torn down blockades, and released a fresh revelation of My kingdom into the hearts and lives of those who have truly sought Me. I have broken through resistance and made a display of My splendor to the nations.

Know this, that I cannot be contained or restricted by the hands of men, that I override authority given to men to establish My own parameters and will not be boxed in by the status quo. I am not a respecter of persons, but freely give to any who would come unto Me, and I will send My Spirit forth into the lives of men, women, and children who desperately seek Me.

You will see that I am not pleased with those who lord it over those in their midst and that I am taking authority out of their hands and placing My heart and My rule into the hands of those qualified by Me. As I do, these shall stand up and take notice of what I am doing. They shall look on and understand that the times and seasons have changed, that a new order, divinely appointed by the Lord God their Maker, has been put into place. They will look on and observe what I have done and know that I have positioned My spokespersons within their midst to make known these mysteries. Their hearts will be changed and they will embrace the move of My Spirit to take those of no reputation to the nations.

This is the time and season of the great intake of a harvest from the nations, and My harvesters are sitting on the brink ready to be thrust out into the fields. The groundwork has been done and the way has been made straight. There is no more delay. Multitudes who are in the valley of decision will be confronted with a choice as to whom they will serve.

Watch and you will see the nations tremble as I release a wave of My Spirit that will bring multitudes into My kingdom in this hour. Position yourself for movement out of the comfort zone and onto frontlines. Be ready to be moved out at a moment's notice.

Gain Momentum

This is the mandate for which I have called you. You shall run with passion in your heart for the Lord your God. You shall be counted amongst the Elect. You will be brought into the fullness. I will write My word upon your heart, engrave it in your mind. You are able to carry it out and into the places ordained for you. This is the call to which I have called you. This is the mandate, to run with great grace into those things prepared for you.

Lift up your head and do not be bent low, for I have lifted the veil and appeared to you in truth. I am the Lord of Heaven, the Maker of Heaven and Earth. I am the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords and I shall reign. I shall reign in the hearts and lives of those who know My name, and just as I promised, I shall take you on and into the fulfillment.

This is a day of change, a day of great anticipation. I will clothe you in righteousness, in garments of praise. I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life. My life I give to you. Walk in the way, the narrow way. Understand that I have been at work behind the scenes, putting all into proper place and perspective. Dance, delight yourself in Me. Be set free to sing and praise My name. Be free to make My ways known to all who are searching for truth.

Gain momentum. Move in the direction I would lead you. Go in accordance with My will and purpose. Make Me the center of all you do, and when you are caught in a dry place, let Me wash over you with My love and humility, for there is no other way to move into the fullness than to let Me walk you on and into momentum with My Spirit.

Produce fruit for the kingdom. Declare praise within the assembly. Declare My ways to the people. Let Me lift you out of complacency and position you with a trumpet onto front lines. Reach for the top and do not stop short of what I have made available for you. I will usher you on. I will cause the passion you once knew to be rekindled and to bring life to multitudes within your jurisdiction.

Ample opportunities are coming your way to be taken into the mainstream of ministry. Study the details. Have them firmly established in your mind. I will use you to implement the things being taught you, the skills being dispensed to you. This is the way outlined to you, so go forward in it. I will qualify you for the job. I will give you the tools to perform tasks set before you. I will equip you with everything you need. Venture out and in the direction opening before you and I will lead you into all I have promised to you. I will take you into the mainstream in ministry, but also into the marketplace, and great skill and expertise will carry you into areas of newness.

Open wide your heart to receive all I am pouring into you in this day. Receive love and blessing from a Heavenly Father who will never abandon His own. Walk out in liberty. I will break the power of the enemy to dissuade you from moving forward, so press in and press on and into all I have for you, and I will see to it that you prosper in this day!

I Am Starting The Sifting

Robyn Cavalera

by (robyajesusfreak@bellsouth.net)

You are going to see a lot of changes. There will be things happening that you would never expect. Earthquakes? More than that.... Heavenly QUAKES!!!

I am starting the sifting NOW! There will be hard times ahead. I have warned you before, now I say it again. Hard times ahead. I am not going to "lift" you out of it, I am going to sift you BY it. If you are waiting for a great "uplifting" you will be disappointed and swept away by the force of the sifting.

I am the Rock. I can NOT be moved! I am the only thing that will UPHOLD you in this time. I designed it all this way, so you will grow stronger and closer to ME than ever before. If you run from the Rock, or hide in the mountains, they will fall on you. Those great building you have built will fall. They are nothing to ME.

Only the Truth Church will stand, and that is My Word. My people, who know My voice will stand on the Rock despite the winds that blow, as they are My Church. I have called them. They know My voice, and know that all that is being said, by some, is not true.

As others cry to you Peace, Peace, they lie, for there is no peace coming but a Sword. I have waited long, and now I will settle with the UN-just, and the UN-righteous. But you will SEE it My children, for then you will grow even stronger as you see the storm all around you, yet in My Presence there will be Peace that passes all understanding.

I Am Stirring Your Passion

Jana Alcorn

I am purifying My Church with a love fire that will burn and blaze the way for an impact revival that will hurl My message around the globe. I am now burning the love in the hearts of My Children and it will penetrate the barriers of the past.

I am washing the eyes of My servants so that they may see Me more clearly. I am going to give new visions of My sufferings and new visions of My work, so that the message can be strong and not diluted. I am preparing for a force so mighty in the Earth that it will shake the foundations of your thinking of the past.

This fire will burn uncontrollably and you shall get back on focus and back on target and you shall remember the price that was paid and you shall be enflamed with My purposes, My motivations, and My objectives, says the Lord!

I AM the Author of Your Life

Priscilla Van Sutphin

April 14th, 2004 4:44 am

www.upstreamca.org
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

I couldn't sleep, and smelled a waft of rose perfume type smell, so got up to see if He wanted to talk, and it was 4:44 am again ! Tonight when I'd gotten home from a prayer meeting also, I had smelled roses as I sat down at the computer.

Felt led to share this:
Tonight as I prayed for a friend, I saw a vision that I think applies to many in the body of Christ. I saw a narrow dirt path with tall thorns and brambles lining it, and it led down to a place that finally opened up to a broader place, though the path was still narrow to green verdant fields with flowers, and then down the path further was the Lord Jesus standing with arms open waiting to embrace His beloved friend and there were tears coming from His eyes. As he reached the arms of the Lord, Jesus drew him to Himself and embraced him to His chest and then you could see bright light emanating all around the person, glory had filled them, and these little thorns, and stickers that had accrued along the path fell off them, then the Lord began to walk with him, not that He hadn't walked with him before, but that now there was this greater intimacy…and immediately I thought of Enoch or Noah who had walked with God.

Heb 11:5-6 AMP
5 Because of faith Enoch was caught up and transferred to heaven, so that he did not have a glimpse of death; and he was not found, because God had translated him. For even before he was taken to heaven, he received testimony [still on record] that he had pleased and been satisfactory to God. [Gen 5:21-24.] 6 But without faith it is impossible to please and be satisfactory to Him. For whoever would come near to God must [necessarily] believe that God exists and that He is the rewarder of those who earnestly and diligently seek Him [out].

Gen 5:24 AMP And Enoch walked [in habitual fellowship] with God; and he was not, for God took him [home with Him]. [Heb 11:5.]

Jude 10-25 AMP
10 But these men revile (scoff and sneer at) anything they do not happen to be acquainted with and do not understand; and whatever they do understand physically [that which they know by mere instinct], like irrational beasts--by these they corrupt themselves and are destroyed (perish).
11 Woe to them! For they have run riotously in the way of Cain, and have abandoned themselves for the sake of gain [it offers them, following] the error of Balaam, and have perished in rebellion [like that] of Korah! [Gen 4:3-8; Num 16:1; 22:1-24:25.]
12 These are hidden reefs (elements of danger) in your love feasts, where they boldly feast sumptuously [carousing together in your midst], without scruples providing for themselves [alone]. They are clouds without water, swept along by the winds; trees, without fruit at the late autumn gathering time--twice (doubly) dead, [lifeless and] plucked up by the roots;

13 Wild waves of the sea, flinging up the foam of their own shame and disgrace; wandering stars, for whom the gloom of eternal darkness has been reserved forever
14 It was of these people, moreover, that Enoch in the seventh [generation] from Adam prophesied when he said, Behold, the Lord comes with His myriads of holy ones (ten thousands of His saints)
15 To execute judgment upon all and to convict all the impious (unholy ones) of all their ungodly deeds which they have committed [in such an] ungodly [way], and of all the severe (abusive, jarring) things which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him.
16 These are inveterate murmurers (grumblers) who complain [of their lot in life], going after their own desires [controlled by their passions]; their talk is boastful and arrogant, [and they claim to] admire men's persons and pay people flattering compliments to gain advantage.
17 But you must remember, beloved, the predictions which were made by the apostles (the special messengers) of our Lord Jesus Christ (the Messiah, the Anointed one).
18 They told you beforehand, In the last days (in the end time) there will be scoffers [who seek to gratify their own unholy desires], following after their own ungodly passions.
19 It is these who are [agitators] setting up distinctions and causing divisions--merely sensual [creatures, carnal, worldly-minded people], devoid of the [Holy] Spirit and destitute of any higher spiritual life.
20 But you, beloved, build yourselves up [founded] on your most holy faith [make progress, rise like an edifice higher and higher], praying in the Holy Spirit;
21 Guard and keep yourselves in the love of God; expect and patiently wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ (the Messiah)--[which will bring you] unto life eternal.
22 And refute [so as to] convict some who dispute with you, and on some have mercy who waver and doubt.
23 [Strive to] save others, snatching [them] out of [the] fire; on others take pity [but] with fear, loathing even the garment spotted by the flesh and polluted by their sensuality. [Zech 3:2-4.]
24 Now to Him Who is able to keep you without stumbling or slipping or falling, and to present
[you] unblemished (blameless and faultless) before the presence of His glory in triumphant joy and exultation [with unspeakable, ecstatic delight]-- 25 To the one only God, our Savior through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory (splendor), majesty, might and dominion, and power and authority, before all time and now and forever (unto all the ages of eternity). Amen (so be it).

[Felt the context of this passage important to look at]

"There is coming a shaking of significant proportions to the body. This shaking will cause many to fall away out of fear. But you, My beloveds, do not fear the shaking. Do not fear My coming into the church, and recreating what I want "church" to be. I have looked for a people who will LOVE ME and who will be faithful as I AM FAITHFUL. I have chosen you before the foundations of the earth to be in this army that will go forth through the earth. I am going to transform you into the bride I want you to be. Those who do not desire this tranformation will be disappointed. Many who refuse to come to My heart, to be transformed by My glory, will become hostile to those who want to be changed. Many will be jealous when they see the fruit that you will bear, and the power that you will wield through intimacy with Me.

You will be hated for My name's sake throughout the earth. But I will use you to do great and mighty things and to help reap a great harvest out of this earth. You will not be afraid of their faces, for you will be perfected in LOVE as I pour out My Spirit on all flesh. For devastation is coming. The destroyer is coming to try to counter this move of Mine. But know that I WILL BE WITH YOU. NOTHING WILL SNATCH YOU OUT OF MY HAND.

NOTHING WILL BE ABLE TO STOP WHAT I WANT TO DO IN YOU AND THROUGH YOU.

I will accomplish all I set out to do. Harvest time is a season of intense reaping and much work to be done. Sheaves must be gathered, grains must be shucked and cleansed. There is much work ahead. There is no need to compete for the work to be done is PLENTIFUL ! Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision ! So stop thinking small. Stop thinking that you need to make a place for yourself. Caste off all competition. I am drawing you to Myself to give you a greater vision for what is to be ! That all selfish ambition will be annihilated. For it is I who will pour out My Spirit. It will not be because of YOU. It will be because I have desire to see all who are called to come, to receive the TRUTH of My LOVE for them. My Spirit will be poured out on all flesh so that no one will be able to say, " it is because I did this, or I did that, that He has come ".

Though I am pleased with your earnestness of prayers and fastings, it will not be because of them, that I pour out My love, for I have planned this from the beginning of time. It is I Who led you to pray. It is I Who led you to fast and gave you the GRACE to do it ! It is I Who has empowered you to do MY WILL. You will not be able to boast among yourselves, except in ME.

NOTHING will be able to quench what I WANT to DO ! NO man or woman will be able to lord it over others, that they have done this, or done that !
It is I Who brings the increase ~ It is I Who molds and equips the bride ~
It is I Who will pour out My Spirit and will REAP a great HARVEST ! I AM THE LORD OF THE HARVEST. I AM THE LORD OF LORDS ! I AM ABLE TO ACCOMPLISH IT IN MY OWN DOING IF I SO CHOSE ! So do not strive to make known YOUR accomplishments ! For it is I Who have given you the strength and tools to do as I command.

John 13:16 NKJV Most assuredly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master; nor is he who is sent greater than he who sent him.

Guard your hearts against the PRIDE of life, for great power will be given to the humble. Honor ME, and I will honor you ! I LOVE YOU AS NO OTHER LOVES YOU ! I am doing all to accomplish MY WILL in your life, that you may live out the call on your life to glorify ME.

1 Peter 5:5-10 NKJV Likewise you younger people, submit yourselves to your elders. Yes, all of you be submissive to one another, and be clothed with humility, for "God resists the proud, But gives grace to the humble."
6 Therefore humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time, 7 casting all your care upon Him, for He cares for you.
8 Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil walks about like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour. 9 Resist him, steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same sufferings are experienced by your brotherhood in the world.

Rom 12:16 NKJV Be of the same mind toward one another. Do not set your mind on high things, but associate with the humble. Do not be wise in your own opinion.

I Am Not Slack
Priscilla Van Sutphin

April 18th, 2004
www.upstreamca.org

I am not slack as some count slackness. My will, WILL be done on earth as it is in heaven. The heavenlies are invading the earthly realm. It will be restored before the awesome and terrible day of the Lord.
My life is everlasting life. It is RESURRECTION life. I will resurrect in My people all that has died, all that has been stolen and robbed from them.
Only BELIEVE and do not be unbelieving. TIMES are changing. I am not a man that I should lie, nor a son of man, that I should change My mind !

Just as the seasons change, so the order of things is changing for a time, because I HAVE A HARVEST TO REAP ! The tsunami of people will flood into the Kingdom, and there will be a majestic demonstration of My love and power all over the earth.

Hide yourself in the shadow of My wings ! Do not get so busy that you neglect your own sanctification and empowerment for doing things that compete with affection for Me. You are Mine and I am yours for all of eternity. I have placed My Spirit in you, that you could be LED by Me.
But you must desire to be led by ME. You must give up your will and yield to My will, in order to walk according to the Spirit. I said to walk in the light as I am in the light ! Be holy as I am holy. You cannot do that unless you have time with ME, that your mind would be renewed daily, that your heart would be renewed daily; that you could be filled up with all you need to get through each day.

Many people go to time management counselors and seminars, and read books on it…but I have a course to take, and it's called PRIORITY management ! Seek FIRST the Kingdom of God and HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS, and all these things will be added unto you. Will you learn to TRUST that I really can take care of you, that I really WANT to heal and deliver you ? Will you really TRUST that I know what is best for you ? I am a LOVING FATHER. I do not give a stone when you ask for bread ! I will complete MY WORK IN YOU HOWEVER, so that you will come forth as GOLD ! Every thing I do has purpose. Every thing I allow has purpose ! All things work for the good, for those who are called according to My purpose !

Many of you are still holding on to your defenses….still holding on to control over your life. Please let me take this weight off you and help you to walk in MY WILL, that your life may be a living sacrifice, pleasing to Me. Let me unwrap the cords of fear, and death, perfectionism and drivenness, rebellion and rejection. Come into MY arms and LET ME love you ! Push past the fear of intimacy. Push past the distractions that make you feel like you aren't doing enough ! Listen to MY voice, and not the voice of the harsh taskmaster who wishes to keep you from My presence. Learn to REST in My arms. Learn what it is to be still and know that I AM GOD. I said in quietness and REST you would be restored. Come to that place of restoration and let me touch you. LET ME restore all that has been wounded ! Press into ME for the fullness of what I want to give to you ! Do not fret, it only steals from you. Let me fill you with MY peace ~ ! Lay aside all striving. Open the door and let the King of GLORY come in !

Isa 30:15 NKJV For thus says the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel:
"In returning and rest you shall be saved; In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." But you would not,

Isa 32:17-19 NKJV The work of righteousness will be peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance forever. 18 My people will dwell in a peaceful habitation, In secure dwellings, and in quiet resting places, 19 Though hail comes down on the forest, and the city is brought low in humiliation.

Ex 40:35-38 NKJV And Moses was not able to enter the tabernacle of meeting, because the cloud rested above it, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle. 36 Whenever the cloud was taken up from above the tabernacle, the children of Israel would go onward in all their journeys. 37 But if the cloud was not taken up, then they did not journey till the day that it was taken up. 38 For the cloud of the LORD was above the tabernacle by day, and fire was over it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their journeys.

Ex 33:22-23 NKJV So it shall be, while My glory passes by, that I will put you in the cleft of the rock, and will cover you with My hand while I pass by. 23 Then I will take away My hand, and you shall see My back; but My face shall not be seen."

When true glory comes, note the reactions of the people…

Lev 9:23-24 NKJV And Moses and Aaron went into the tabernacle of meeting, and came out and blessed the people. Then the glory of the LORD appeared to all the people, 24 and fire came out from before the LORD and consumed the burnt offering and the fat on the altar. When all the people saw it, they shouted and fell on their faces.

Num 20:5-6 NKJV So Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the assembly to the door of the tabernacle of meeting, and they fell on their faces. And the glory of the LORD appeared to them.

1 Kings 8:10-11 NKJV And it came to pass, when the priests came out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the LORD, 11 so that the priests could not continue ministering because of the cloud; for the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD.

2 Chron 7:2-3 NKJV When all the children of Israel saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD on the temple, they bowed their faces to the ground on the pavement, and worshiped and praised the LORD, saying: "For He is good, for His mercy endures forever."

And I asked the Lord what He wanted to say…

" My people are not prepared for the glory to come. They are getting closer, but need to understand the significance and HOLINESS of MY PRESENCE in it's fullness. I AM HOLY. YOU cannot look at My face uncovered. IN MY PRESENCE is fullness of joy, fullness of love, fullness of peace, fullness of humility and every good thing that you need. You cannot stand before ME. My people are learning more of My love, but they need to also have reverence and a holy fear of the LORD. My glory exposes, and so it has been doing it's work in your hearts to cleanse you from things that have defiled you for a long time. For when it comes in fullness, every haughty thing will be laid low !

I AM LOVE, but I am also JUSTICE. I AM MERCY, but I am also filled with WRATH for the wickedness that is on the earth. Do not think that the LION of JUDAH is meek like the Lamb. I demonstrated the LION when I came into the temple and found them buying and selling. I said, that My FATHER's HOUSE shall be a place of PRAYER FOR ALL NATIONS.

…NOT a place of buying and selling…NOT a place of unfair scales and balances…NOT a place of gossip and competition. And so I will come into MY TEMPLES and make all things NEW. I will SANCTIFY you with My glory ! I will break every chain that has been put upon you by the enemy, and I WILL have a GLORIOUS BRIDE ! Hold on My beloveds, for all will be made new !

Do not get discouraged by the upheavals you will see in this world that are coming, nor the false peace, but KNOW that I AM WITH YOU and will never leave you behind. I will finish the work I have started in you and nothing will ever be the same, once I have done My mysterious work. I will make you living FLAMES OF FIRE ! And you will go forth BOLDLY proclaiming MY KINGDOM and DEMONSTRATING it to the world. And you will be hated by many for My name's sake. But I will use you to humble the prideful in their own opinion and those who are wicked will come and lay down their goods at your feet because of what I do in you ! Do not be afraid of the enemy's threats and seeming advances, for did I not say, when the enemy comes in like a flood, I WILL RAISE UP A STANDARD AGAINST HIM ?

And you are that standard My loves ! YOU WILL BE THAT STANDARD as I put the finishing touches on you ! I am pouring out my oil of anointing and you will be filled as you lay at My feet !"

Num 16:19-21 NKJV And Korah gathered all the congregation against them at the door of the tabernacle of meeting. Then the glory of the LORD appeared to all the congregation. 20 And the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, 21 "Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may consume them in a moment."

Judg 7:2 NKJV And the LORD said to Gideon, "The people who are with you are too many for Me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel claim glory for itself against Me, saying, 'My own hand has saved me.'

1 Chron 16:24-25 NKJV Declare His glory among the nations, His wonders among all peoples. 25 For the LORD is great and greatly to be praised; He is also to be feared above all gods.

2 Chron 5:13-14 NKJV indeed it came to pass, when the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the LORD, and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the LORD, saying: "For He is good, For His mercy endures forever," that the house, the house of the LORD, was filled with a cloud, 14 so that the priests could not continue ministering because of the cloud; for the glory of the LORD filled the house of God.

Intimacy and Warfare

A sword in its scabbard (undrawn) appeared as a distant object, that seemed out of reach initially, it felt as though this was a gift offered by God to be reached out for.

In the picture as I looked closer I could see the handle, it was made of gold.

The blade was mostly obscured by the sheath, so that only the very top part of the blade could be seem.

The blade was silver in appearance glinting and looked very sharp and strong.

Interpretation (enlarged)
A sword in its scabbard appeared as a distant object, that seemed out of reach initially, it felt as though this was a gift to be reached out for.
In the picture as I looked closer I could see the handle, it was made of gold.
The blade was mostly obscured by the sheath, the very top part of the blade could be seem.

God is offering us a gift that we need to seek Him for, it is not yet ours.

The undrawn sword (illustrates that we have not yet taken hold of this weapon in our warfare), the scabbard hides almost all that can be seen of the "potent violent" part of the weapon, only a hint of this power gift is perceived , far more is yet to be discovered and experienced than we can know).

The Gold handle represents INTIMACY with Christ, this is key to drawing the sword and using it. In effect we wield the sword holding it in union with Him. This power comes from dwelling in the presence of Him being deeply in love with His presence and whole hearted in our worship.*

The blade (top of - it was mostly hidden) was silver in appearance glinting and looked very sharp and strong.

More is to be revealed about this Holy sharp penetrating source of power from above. We do not yet know the anything like the full extent of the implications of this road of intimacy. Revelation cannot come however without experiencing intimacy. Only by taking hold of the gold handle will the blade come into view. Only by entering into the fullness of our relationship with Christ will we experience supernatural anointing for warfare that will bring victories that would be impossible by our human efforts.

I Await You In The Currents And Streams Of My Love!

The Flow Carries Away The Filth

NOTE: This morning I was resting in the Lord and was thanking Him for Himself and the life we have in Him, and was meditating on some of the metaphors such as the "river of life" and the "waters of life" and such things. Then in my spirit I heard, "THE FLOW CARRIES AWAY THE FILTH".

GET INTO THE FLOW!

"Precious ones, come into the waters of life for unless you willingly align yourselves to Me and "jump" in, respond the to promptings of My Spirit and draw near, you cannot experience the fullness that you yearn for. This is not a spectator sport. Your participation is required. Just as you can tell your children to wash up, and demonstrate it yourself, unless they willingly engage and wash up and you assist them in the washing process, they will remain very dry, very unclean! To get washed you need to get wet! Beloved this is YOUR INVITATION TO GET WET! To "get wet" you need to jump into the flow of My life and Spirit and submerge yourselves completely in Me.

"Don't worry about others and their opinions. Only concern yourself with your own hearts. How hungry and thirsty are you? Are you willing to settle for being dry and empty? Jump in and align yourselves to Me. Come into the flow of My heart and receive the fullness that is bursting from My heart to yours! Get into the flow!

THE FLOW CARRIES AWAY THE FILTH

"Beloved ones, come and draw near, for as you come under the waterfall of My Spirit, My waters wash away all the filth. As you humble yourselves under the mighty waters of My Spirit, you will have all those cakes of crud and miry clay wash off and dissipate and fall away from you. I shall remove the heaviness of what weighs down upon your hearts and minds and give you a clean heart. Come into the flow of My Spirit!

"Like all the waters, as you submerge under the CURRENTS of MY SPIRIT, the currents will speedily remove and CARRY AWAY the residue of filth and ALL THOSE things that are not of Me. Come and willingly jump into the flow, and let the waters carry away all that is not of Me! The waters will not only carry it all away, but the waters will refresh and renew and bring a deeper life and fulness to you.

I AWAIT YOU IN THE CURRENTS AND STREAMS OF MY LOVE!

I Came That You May Have Life

Musa Opiyo

April 8, 2004

I came and died that you might have life and have it more abundantly. I have given you authority to not only tread on the enemy but command a release a hundred fold of what was stolen, pressed down, shaken together and running over. I desire that you, My people, live an abundant life. Abundant life may mean doing well financially as well as good living, and spiritually speaking, the abundance of My presence and My power flowing through your lives. Many in My body have come into conflict with the prosperity message. I am an abundant God and I do not withhold things from those who ask. Yet I provide with the reason for you to provide for your brethren who are in need.

Isaiah 53: 6-9 Is this not the fast that I have chosen; to loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, to let the oppressed go free, and that you break every yoke? Is it not to share your bread with the hungry, and that you bring into your house the poor who are cast out? When you see the naked, that you cover him, and not hide yourself from your own flesh. Then your light shall break forth like the morning, your healing shall spring forth speedily, and your righteousness shall go before you, the glory of the Lord shall be your rear guard. Then you shall call and the Lord shall answer, you shall cry and he shall say, 'Here I am'.

I have called you to minister unto the needy. How can you do so if you are broke and barely able to survive? I have not called you to survive and get by but I have called you to live in My abundance so that you shall be indeed the salt and the light that I have called you to be. I have called you to further My Kingdom of hearts though your giving. You have said all you can say. You have prophesied all you can prophesy. But if My Word it not applied practically, what good is that?

My Spirit longs that you are free from the chains of bondage to sin, sickness, discouragement and all that is contrary to My Word. There is a need for a revolution of your mind. Who do you see yourself as? When you look in the mirror, do you see yourself as I see you, or are you conformed to a mindset that is still bound to the law?

Romans 12: 2 And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God.

It is time for My church to step out in faith and reach this earth for Me. It is time to shine with the abundance of My authority and grace unto a hurting people. This is My heart. I will no longer allow squabbles and unchanged mindsets to ground the work that I am doing to a halt. I am raising up Josephs' in this hour who will bring forth a godly administration and government to My Body. Those who know My heart and those who have sought after Me with their all. Creative power and miracles shall proceed from the words they shall speak, for they shall be My Words, says the Lord.

I Have Drawn My Sword

Susan Cummings

2004-The Year that I Have Drawn My Sword

I say to you, that the stone has been rolled away this year, and you have been summoned forth from thy cave of hidden-ness and into My Glorious Light of Truth! You will no longer walk in the past, or think in the past, or be dictated to by the past, for I have severed every tie from you, and have set you free to walk in your liberty! For this is the Year that I have drawn My Sword, and My People will walk by My Sword, and will wield My Sword, and will live by My Sword!

No more will you walk in the shadow of another, and feel as though you had no voice of your own. I will now be your voice, and I will speak through you, and you will speak with My Words, and you will speak with My Heart, and you will speak with My authority, and you will speak as I decree, and you will see My Hand go before thee. For I will perform My Word as it is spoken forth.

No more will you speak of the past, nor of the struggles of the present, but you will speak as My Voice, and declare to My people the victory, and the liberty of My Name. You will know and see My Face and clearly walk uprightly before Me, and will show the way to My People, and will bring them before Me, and will cause them to be in My Presence as you obey Me. It is not your person they will see, but it will be Me. My voice will be heard from your lips, as you obey Me and speak forth and I will do what I have said.

No more will you know the constant shadowing of the enemy over you, and the never ending tirade against you for I have stood up, and have said, No More! You are Mine, and this day I bring you out into My Light, and into My Purposes, and into My Destiny for which you were born. Yes, I created you to live in this hour, and to walk forth full of My Power. That is why the enemy has tried to prevent this day from coming. But, I have said that I Am on the Throne, and I Am! What I have created, will be released, and will be seen once again in the earth!

No more will My People be dictated to, controlled, abused, and forced as ways of preventing them from coming into their inheritance! For I Am the Redeemer Kinsman, and I have restored all the injustices and the false weights against you, and this year, I will bring forth the Truth and the Justice will be Mine! I paid the price for your Victory and you will yet see what I have prepared for you, as you follow Me! For I Am Faithful and I Am True and I will show all things unto you.

No more will you yield to the Lie and to the Deception that has held you back. For as you step forth this day, you will break forth into My Light of Truth and into My Brightness of Day and be no longer conformed to the image that held you captive. You will not be stooped under the weights any more, and will not be subject to fear, but unto My Joy! For I Am the Bright and Morning Star and have shown you the way of Truth. No longer will you be walking on the wayward paths of doubt and unbelief but of faith and of Life!

No more are you to cower under the accusations of the enemy and the taunts and ridicule of the liar. But you are to cut off the voices that speak against you and tear down all the high things that tower over you and pull down all the lofty things that rage against you, and bring them under your feet! It is time to rise up and to walk as Mine, and to know your Place. It is time to speak to your enemies and to declare your emergence from their fetters! There is no longer any chain that can hold you, for I have paid the price for them all. You are free!

No more will you look for others to speak for you. No longer will you pay others to fight for you. No longer will you run for cover when trouble comes to your land. No longer will you hide from those who hate you and threaten you. No longer will you pay for other people's mistakes. No longer will you cover for other's sins. No longer will you hide things for deceitful people. No longer will you be at the beck and call of taskmasters. I Am your Lord. I Am your Covering and will be your Defense. For I have arisen this hour to stand in My House, And My People will know their God!

No more will the world say, where is your God? And mock you and belittle you, and cause you to be hounded by fear and terror of their scourgings. I Am now in the midst and will now be seen amongst the nations. It is time for the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to be known by this generation. No more will My House be empty and lifeless and Godless. There is a Living God, and I Am in the midst of thee!

I have said that as the darkness has now risen up and made it's stand in the earth. So AM I!

No more will men stand in My House with unclean hands and unclean lips and speak My Word falsely and lie to My People. I now stand in My House, and they will be judged by My Word that they will speak, as it will now perform the act for which it was released. My Word is Holy! My Vessels will now be Holy! My House will now be Holiness unto Me!

For I have arisen this day, and now will all things be fulfilled as I have stated in My Word, in the days that now are before you.

For My Sword is now drawn, and My people will live by the Sword of My Truth, and will walk by it's Power and Light, and will see the Day of My Vengeance and the Year of My Recompense!

Steering Clear In This New Year
Susan Cummings

Now that you have begun to walk through the New Door that was opened unto you, it has become apparent to you that the enemy also knows of your progress. The warfare has increased to match the assignment that has been given. It is no surprise to you, as you have walked this way before, but you know also that time no longer has the same effect now. For time has accelerated and has given way to My Purposes concerning My People now.

As all things come into fulfillment, the time will accelerate, and everything will progress so that you may fulfill your assignments and bring forth the harvest at this time. You have seen the beginnings of the acceleration. Already things don't fit, or keep in their sequence like it used to.

Both natural time, and the spirit are adjusting to My movings. Readiness is being made in the heavens for the next release upon you, My servants.

Take nothing for granted. Make good use of your time, and remain at rest. Many distractions have been unleashed against you to prevent you from walking in My timing. For it is important to remain in step, and in tune. Do not allow trivial things to rob your focus or your peace. Lay all things at My Feet, and hold nothing tightly that would bring your focus off of the task at hand.

I have told you your task. I have shown you what must come to pass. I know your steps in the sequence that they will fall, and do not need to remind you of them. Keep your eyes upon My face and allow nothing to draw you away from Me.

I am ushering in New Directives and many changes will be seen in the days to come, as to your placement and advancement. I am bringing forth all My Plans concerning you, and My People, and you will begin to walk in them this year. It is time for My Remnant to walk and to be and to do, in the earth. No longer will I be hidden and no longer will things be veiled.

Just as the enemy is being revealed at this time, so am I! As time now accelerates, so does the unveiling! For all things now strain towards the release and to the glorious culmination of My return. I will bring forth My Hand in plain sight of My People and they will know that I Am their God. For as the antichrist rises up to sit for his hour, I also rise up to rule and reign in My House.

There will be no fear in My Own. They will be full of My Might and Power and will walk in Me in the earth as a witness and as the Truth, even unto the end. For My Word is True. You have been made ready by Me, and I know you by name, and will be in you, and with you, as you follow My lead. Do not detract from your course. I have laid your path and will be upon you mightily as you walk in Me. I will reap with My Sickle, and reap a full harvest, in these dark days ahead, and I will do it through you! Fear not, but rise up!
For I have unfolded the scroll and it has already begun.

I Have A Plan
Becky Mclendon

olds@intrastar.net

I have felt the Lord impress me with the statement: "I have a plan," and today, after a time of intercession in my spirit, I believe He gave a word for His own.

"I have a plan. Are you willing to wait for its perfection? A day, a month, a year, ten years, 100 years, a millennium? Does it matter? I have a plan, and you are part of it. Your agenda is NOT a part of it. Do not try to speculate the "how" and the "when" of it. It will be when it will be. To try to force My plan would be presumption, as Abraham going in to Hagar to reap the son of promise. Do not try to rush it or work it your way. For your ways are NOT My ways, nor are your thoughts My thoughts. To try to force My plan or rush it is sin, and swift and strong will be My correction to keep you on the path. Know this, you are in a time where remaining on the path is vital. So, yes, swift and strong are My corrections.

"Be willing to wait, no matter how long it "takes" for My plan to reach perfection. Be willing to finish your course, content with where you are and who you are, but ever diligent to seek Me and My orders for you. I will order your every step and correct your every MISSED step.

"To wait for My plan is NOT idleness. Occupy your land until I come. To wait for My plan is to TRUST Me wholly with your life and your situation.

"Wait. A day, a month, a year, a century, a millennium. What is time to Me? I have a plan, and I know it well. I conceived the plan before time began and you are a part of it.

"Rest. Rest in Me. You will not be disappointed."
Amen and Amen.

Coming To The Edge Of Destruction
Becky Mclendon

olds@intrastar.net

A group of "us" (whoever that could be) were taking a walk in a wilderness area (Looked like Utah ...Zion National Park) I was leading the way and had my walking staff with me to help me over the rugged areas. A couple of people were in an OLD BROWN pick up truck driving, perhaps because they couldn't make the walk. They were right behind me. There were other hikers behind the truck walking much more leisurely.

We came to a lovely trail, rugged, but beautiful. I went on UP the steep trail, with the truck creeping behind me. I was looking in all directions, taking in the view and talking over my shoulder at the group. I just HAPPENED to turn my face forward and looked down. I was RIGHT ON THE EDGE of a HUGE SHEER DROP OFF...thousands of feet below me was the ground below...This cliff dropped STRAIGHT DOWN...NO LEDGES or anything to break a fall. I STOPPED ..the toes of my boots hung over the edge and the truck was moving right in behind me.. it touched my back and I held up my hands and said very calmly: STOP, BACK UP VERY SLOWLY AND TURN AROUND. I was tottering on the edge. After a few very frightening moments of feeling the heat of the truck's motor, and feeling the bumper pushing me forward, the truck finally eased backwards. I looked to my right and saw a trail that gradually led DOWN the side of this cliff, but then I realised. If we go DOWN there, we have to turn around and climb BACK UP this thing, and get back home before dark. So I directed the whole group to make a very cautious U turn and go back the way we came. The path to the RIGHT would have only gotten us to the "bottom" of the WRONG WAY without the pain of the FALL. I woke up. EXHAUSTED with severe weakness, pain and shaking in my knees. (tottering knees: in scripture, feeble knees = great fear)

" To minister LIFE to My people is to minister out of REVELATION of the word, because My Word is a Person: Jesus Christ, and Jesus must be REVEALED to us in order for us to preach a true gospel. To whom much is given, much is required, and when you are given My revelation, you are expected to walk close to My word and not venture out on paths that could lead to sudden death. If you get too "confident" in "revelation" over Truth, the enemy is RIGHT THERE to lead you down a wrong path, SOUNDING LIKE ME ALL THE TIME. If you are a LEADER, you will lead the "followers ' with your words and actions. to the edge of the cliff. You will hear My voice of warning to STOP! Back up! and TURN AROUND and GO BACK WHERE YOU STARTED, but the "followers" who are now eager for "revelation" at the expense of Truth might keep pushing you forward and over the cliff, balking at the message to STOP and REPENT, for many people thirst for more strong drink as opposed to My living waters.

"As prophetic people you are DOUBLY accountable: for your own souls and for the sake of those who are "following" because the words we speak "sound good to them." Beware thinking you can stand, lest you fall, and take heed that you not cause any of My little ones to stumble in your stumbling. For I the Lord change not. Consider the heights from which you are capable of falling, and turn to the One who keeps your soul against that day." Amen

Isaiah 35:1-4 The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the LORD, and the excellency of our God. Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence; he will come and save you

Tainted Phone Line
Becky McLendon

<olds@intrastar.net>
Recently I went to prayer with a long time prayer partner concerning recent issues in my life. There was a tremendous breakthrough in the spirit and for the first time in a long time I felt "normal"..(Whatever THAT is these days...smile) We talked about being under the BLOOD and I have been playing and singing the good old BLOOD songs for several days. My prayer partner saw clear waters all around me and said, "Not just a little mist either, but a downpour of clear water." She also reminded me to anoint my house and telephones to block any further spiritual deception from coming in or going out across those lines. Funny, I had "thought" I had grown beyond the need to do spiritual warfare. Beware thinking you can stand...there is a fall close by! Anyway, the dream came last night:

I dreamed that a technician was working on my telephones and was able to detect WHICH lines were "tainted". He held them up one at a time and said: "This one is tainted." I recognized the telephone number of each one and gave the technician permission to cut that line of communication. He was about to finish up and said, OH here is one more. It was the line to a person here in town whom I have talked to for over 20 years! At this point, however, I said CUT IT. So he did.

The Holy Spirit is that "technician" who is able to go into the communication system and identify all "tainted" lines. He will point them out one at a time and show us the "number" on that line. WE must give Him permission to "cut the line" so that no more perverse, tainted communication be shared. Some of these decisions to CUT IT may be painful, because we have been communicating for a long time. But if He shows it, our hearts must be so turned to let Him CUT IT so that we can more clearly hear from the Lord.

The Angry Woman
Becky McLendon

I want to share a dream I had very recently. Though I know it was mainly for me, I feel there is a word for others too.

I dreamed a friend and I were outside a house, which appeared to be "ours". An angry, religious woman came to us and said to us, "I don't like what you are doing; I will go into your house and throw all your dishes outside and break them...ALL of them. I will destroy you." She stormed into the house and began to throw the dishes out. I heard pottery breaking, crystal, china, and glassware. The dishes were things we had collected and treasured over a period of time . Some we even thought were "from God." She was throwing them out with great force. It was fearsome as I saw the bits and pieces flying through the air in clouds of dust and landing all around the house in the yard.

My friend and I lay face down on the ground while the tirade went on. We realized that there WERE things that were not "right with God". We wept before God, and waited before Him in humility and contriteness.

When the angry woman finished her tirade and the dust settled, my friend and I looked at each other face to face and smiled. We discovered that we each held on to a plate that we had kept and covered with our bodies. The plates each had rainbow stripes proceding from the rim to the center and we held them very closely to our hearts. The angry woman had not utterly destroyed every dish in our house; what GOD had given us remained. All the other "stuff" we had accumulated that was NOT God had been destroyed.
End of Dream.

In spite of all that is coming our way, and no matter how much is destroyed in the "house" We hold that which is true from Him and near and dear to our hearts. All else must be destroyed. We must LET it be destroyed. Also, God made a covenant with Noah with demonstration of a rainbow. He has established that same covenant with us. That covenant is our "plate" upon which we can feast upon our Lord, eating the whole lamb, so that death passes over us.

Lie at His feet until the tirade is over. Confess your sins before Him and seek a clean heart and a right spirit. Forgive, forgive and forgive those who have hurt you, used you, or persecuted you. EVEN the "angry woman. Forgive yourself for sins committed. Remain silent before Him until He says, " Rise up, your faith has made you whole. Now GO and sin no more. "

God DOES use the "angry woman" to execute His swift judgment on what we have "kept" that was NOT Him. It brings us to swift repentance and returning to Him and His ways. He has promised "Lo I am with you always, even unto the ends of the world; so, be strong and very courageous, do not fear or be dismayed , for the Lord your God is with you."

I know Whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which has been committed to Him against that day. IT WILL REMAIN.

Amen.

A Praise

O, Lord, My God,
For so long I have bemoaned the iniquity that resided in my very being,
and when it came to its fulness,
You caused a fiery dart to penetrate my heart,
exposing it in all its horror.

So dark it was, and so strong,
yet with Your swift judgment, it leapt to the forefront.
I fell to Your feet in utter broken dispair, crying, O, JESUS!
And what did You do?
You spoke instantly.
You said, "Lo I am with you always, even unto the end of the world!"

But LORD, I cried, "Even after what I did and what I have been for so long?"
I dispaired more, the darkness trying to completely take me over.
Death thoughts.
Oh yes, death would be a quick relief from my grief and from having to face this.
Fear struck hard.
Fig leaves could not cover me, nor could any flimsy excuses or justifications.

I held my heart and wept bitterly, once again crying Your name.
You spoke again, instantly.
You said, "Be strong and courageous, do not fear or be dismayed, for the Lord thy God is with thee...."
But LORD, I wept, "My accusers are after me, and rightly so."

I quoted Your words over and over, Jesus.
I held on to you for dear life, still wanting to die.
You spoke again, instantly.
You said, "You shall LIVE and not die."
But LORD, I whispered, "To LIVE is so hard. I will have to walk this through."
You said, "I will not leave your soul in Hell."

Suddenly I knew something more about my Savior.

I added those words to the others You had spoken.
The accuser of my soul told me I was no use to God anymore.
"Lord, I have heard that one before, and You made the accuser a liar.
But THIS time, Lord, I know I am no good to You."
You spoke again, instantly.
You said, "CALLED according to My purpose."

What amazing grace!
What tender mercy!
Suddenly I know what SALVATION is.
It is NOT about me.
It is all about You, Jesus.
The life I live in the flesh I live BY THE FAITH OF GOD.
Your faith sustains me.
"Called according to My purpose."

The weeks have passed.
Wave upon wave of tears, crying and praying.
For mercy.
Mercy for me, and mercy for those who hate me,
and mercy for those who love me.
For it turns out, that the ones I think hate me may have shown me the most love, because they stopped me in my tracks and made me run back to You.
Back to my First Love.

Something is happening.
The clouds have left.
A strong anointing fills my soul.
An anointing to SING to DANCE to PLAY INSTRUMENTS.
To preach to whomever will hear Your words.

I have touched the keys of my piano and my keyboard, LORD.
It flows once again.
I hear Your love and your mercy as I draw my bow across the violin strings.
It SINGS a song out of a broken spirit and turns it to healing.

The Son shines again for me.
All I can say, O, Lord, is this:
"THANK YOU, LORD,

for saving my soul.
THANK YOU, LORD,
for making me whole."

I rise up from the place at Your feet, and see the glisten of tears and oil upon them.
FORGIVEN is stamped across my NEW heart
DELIVERED is written in my mind,
And "HOLY to the Lord" is written across my forehead.
And this time I KNOW Your salvation.
Your oil flows from the top of my head to the hem of my garment.
And I throw my hands to Your heavens and declare:

"I am beloved of my Beloved,
beauty brought up from ashes,
and I wait for the rest.
It will come.
THANK YOU, LORD."

Amen.

I Have Been Patient

Judy Curmi

9-1-2004
You don’t know what I’m going to do and neither does anyone else, for my ways are not your ways and my goals are not your goals. Many of the things men focus all of their attention on have no lasting or eternal value. They do not even register in my book.

Keep your eyes open in the days ahead, for I have begun to roar and the earth has begun to shake. Bit by bit I promised I would ratchet up the “disasters” and I would make myself known. I will be heard in the midst of the storms. I will be heard in the depths of the darkness that has darkened men’s hearts.

Lightening will light up the sky and signs will abound in the sun, moon and stars.

I have been patient. I have withheld my judgments in mercy, but I say NO MORE! No more will mankind defy me with impunity and an egregious* attitude, for no man can stand against me and win. No man can withstand me when I move in might and power.

The winds and the rains are being unleashed. The ground will quake and melt away. The seas will roar. There will be distress and perplexity among nations, for you, Oh man, have boxed yourself into a corner from which there is no escape. It was a trap from the enemy all along, but you followed him willingly.

I do not tempt man, but I will not forever block the path that leads to your undoing. You would not choose the better portion, but instead that which was corrupt and defiled. You wallowed in your dirt. You wallowed in your uncleanness and you loved to have it so.

Watch now and see what I will do. For some I will just lift my hands of protection, for others my hand of provision, for you would give me no credit, nor would you give me glory. Instead you gave all the credit to yourselves.

So now you will see what I will do. How will you respond Oh man? Will you finally give the glory to ME, the One who created and sustains your very life? If you do not bow to me willingly, then I will bring you to your knees with my mighty right arm. The victory will not be yours but mine.
Your Abba

Egregious: Outstandingly bad; blatant; outrageous*

Luke 21:25-28 And there will be signs in the sun, in the moon and in the stars; and on the earth distress of nations with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear and the expectation of those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of the heavens sill be shaken.*
Then they will see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Now when these things begin to happen, look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption draws near. [NKJ]

Ps. 44:1-3 We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us what work thou hast wrought in their days, in the times of old;
How thou didst destroy the Gentiles with thy hand, and establish thy people; how thou didst vex the kingdoms, and strengthen thy people.
For they inherited not the land by their sword, neither did their own arm save them; but they right hand and thine arm and the light of thy countenance, because thou wast pleased with them.

Ps. 98:1 O sing to the Lord a new song; for he has done marvelous things; his right hand and his holy arm have gotten him the victory.

Isa. 51:5-8 My righteousness is near; my salvation is gone forth and my arms shall judge the peoples; the islands shall wait for me and on my arm shall they trust. Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look also upon the earth beneath; for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wear out like a garment, and they who dwell in it shall perish in like manner; but my salvation shall be forever, and my righteousness shall not pass away.
Hearken to me, you who know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear not the reproach of men, neither be afraid of their revilings.
For the moth shall eat them up like wool and like a garment; but my righteousness shall be forever and my salvation from generation to generation.

I Have Fashioned You By My Own Hand

Susan Cummings

I have fashioned you by My own hand, child. You have been with Me from the beginning. For I knew you in My Heart before I ever spoke you forth. I sent you into the world for this hour and time. You have never been out of My Will.

Everything that has been in your life, has been according to My Plan for you. I knew your beginning and I know your ending. You will be with Me. Everything in between is also with Me. For I have called you to walk closer to Me than ever, at this time. There is nothing about you that is not Mine, nor apart from My knowledge or My Heart.

You were born for this hour. You are My Vessel in which I live. There is nothing for you, but Me. There is nothing for Me, but you. For we are One. You are Mine. You have been redeemed with My Blood. I am your Kinsman Redeemer, and your King, you are My Own.

I will reveal to you, the depths of that Union as you walk with Me.

There is no other place, but at My side. For you sit with Me in the heavenly places, till My Father releases Me to come for you. Until then, know that My Hand is upon you, and My Mark shows all that you are Mine. I will live through you, until the day of My Return. So, walk forth in freedom, child. Nothing can remove you from Me.

You have chosen Me as your own, and My Covenant with you is eternal. What has been wrought through My Blood is Eternal and is True. I have embraced your choice, and have brought you to My side. Remain with Me. Stay by My side.

Do not leave My side so easily. Allow nothing and no one to have the ease of separation between us. Allow nothing to distract your heart from Mine. Keep your heart leaned upon Mine and beating with Mine. There is no other place for you, but at My side. My Spirit within you bears witness of My Love for you.

Distractions will come to lure you away with alluring words of faithfulness and loyalty, but no one if faithful but Me. My Word is Truth. Pleasure is only a mask for pride, as it entangles the soul in deception and binds them to it’s rule. Give no thought for the pleasures of this world, as it entangles and darkens the purity of your heart.

Diversions will become quicker in this hour, as the enemy knows he has a short time to rule, so he comes with enticements to separate the children from the Father. But Mine will not listen to his voice, as they do not follow another, but will not be diverted from My side. So, the diversions will bring the hidden to the light and all will be removed to it’s rightful place. Then the Truth will be known.

Delays will no longer plague you, my child. For I have decreed your birth, and your finish, and all things will become as I have stated. For My Word has gone forth concerning you, and it will be accomplished. My Plan has gone forth from the very beginning when I spoke you into existence, and it will surely become all that I uttered, now look, it will come forth. It is time.

Rise up, child. Do not doubt and fear anymore. Know that I am bringing all to fruition and will be by your side, as it is accomplished. Nothing has been denied, or has been lost. I have seen all things, and I make the choices for you. I have chosen well concerning you. You have not yet seen My choice for you. But it will come. It is time.

Walk forwards. Stand firm, and see the day that has dawned. It is as I have shown to you. I have come to reveal all things. Even in this hour of trial, will My Glory be seen. For I AM the Lord and your God. I have chosen this day to bring you forth, and for you to walk In My Purposes. You will see My Word come. You will see Me rise up. You will walk with Me through the trials and the darkness, walking hand in hand with Me.

Nothing can stop what I have begun.
Nothing can stop what I have decreed.
Nothing can stop My Word.
Nothing can remove you from My Hand.

Great upheavals will come as the birth pangs increase in the earth and shorten to it’s travail and final struggle. All things are in motion. The choices have been made, and all is in readiness. My Word has shown you this hour and yet, so many choose to look away.

But you will not. You will look ahead and see Me in the midst of it all, and you will know My Love in you and through you, as you see My Hand pass through the lands. For you hold My Hands. You will walk the lands and see My great work that I will bring forth.

Men choose their courses, but they do not know their God. They walk forth with nothing but their ideas, but have no hope to sustain them. They think they are wise, but will fall in the Hour of the Truth. For none can come to Me, but Mine.

Your destiny has been established, and you have come to know it, as you have walked with Me, but now you will live it, as you yield to My Voice and follow Me this new way. All has changed, as you have rightly discerned, and only the blind now walk in their vain devices to their demise. There is no Truth but In Me.

Leave the old ways behind. Take My Hand and look not back again. But place your trust fully In Me, and see the new day that has come. I haven’t brought you this far to leave you. You are Mine. You will be My Abiding Place in the earth, as it passes through the birth pangs. For My Wisdom has ordered all the events of your life up to this day, and now I can break forth with the rest of it, for you have given Me the key, your heart. It has always been your heart, child. For that is where My Love abides.

Get ready, all of My Children. For even in great darkness, will I be your canopy.

My Fire will burn over you as you have seen. But more than that, it will burn through you, as I release it to the lost. For I send you to the lost, to my hurting ones.

Give them my fire.
Give them My Love.
Give them My Heart.
Give them My Word.
For the first wave will now hasten the birth.

I Have Given You The Call

Susan Cummings

I have given you the call to sit at My Feet. It pleases Me that you have made room for Me, and have chosen to come to Me. It is the greatest of gifts that I have, which is Myself. Many do not want Me as their treasure, and they run after manmade, perishable gifts, rather than their God.

So many, want to know what I am saying, but don't come to Me to find out. They run after my leaders seeking a word, and they don't seek Me, the giver of all wisdom. They do not love the Truth, for if they did, they would leave all behind and seek after it with all they have. I am not enough for them. So, they run, always thirsting for Me, but never finding Me.

The Famine of the Word is their portion. It is the season of famine and hardship, and it will be reaped fully. For My People do not care for the things of My Kingdom, but only of their comforts and ease. Only of their desires and what they plan for their lives, and not of what I have chosen for them. So, they will get what they want, and it will be dust in their hands, and rotten in their stomachs. What is not given by Me, will have no life in it. For I Am the Life and the Light of men.

My Truth and My Light has always been available in each generation. I have called to each generation with the same call. Each chose their paths, and each reaped their choices. So will this final generation. But it will reap the fullest, for they had the greatest Light and rejected it for their own ways. So, the famine will burn through the land, and the hardships will bring suffering on the rebellious and the wicked.

I have told you of the coming waves. I have shown you their course. I have warned and cried till no one listens anymore. Now, the Word itself will be their judge. The fiery waves now come, as I have shown you and they will no longer delay. For I no longer call to a rebellious house, but will now be found among My Own. For they have chosen Me as theirs, and have prepared a place of Habitation for Me to dwell in.

Now My Habitation will be seen, and felt, as I move amongst them. My Own will not fear, nor lack, in this season. For I Am the Life, and Mine will go in and out through Me, and not stumble.

I have brought forth Mine from the womb of preparation and purification, and they have been brought forth now into My Purposes. The birthing is complete. What I have wrought within them will now be seen through them. For I am coming forth from within My People, and through them in this hour. My Vessels are ready for My Use.

The Birthing is complete. Now I will bring forth the maturity and the establishment of My House will be evident, in the ravaged land. For My House will be full, and will be the Light that will be seen in the darkness. I AM the Resurrection and the Life, and no man will be found In Me, but Mine who paid the price to come to Me.

You have had your call. Now I am answering the response to My Call.

I Have Heard Your Cry

Betty Hamalainen

(bless@joyofthelord.org)

I have heard your cry how you felt that you were all alone, but I have been right here in your midst. You could not see me because of all that was going around about you. I will give you hope, I am going to wash you afresh with my word, I will take the logo word and make it a living word within you. You shall again rejoice as you once did and even a greater joy will come to you.

Be not anxiously looking about you, keep from looking to right and to the left but look straight unto me, lift up your eyes for your redemption is drawing near, allow me to be who I am, I am your vindicator, I am your healer, I am your deliverer, I am the need of all that you need, just put your hope and trust in me.

You shall see that which I have spoken to you will come to pass, for I am the living God I change not for I still dwell in the fire for I am the consuming fire that will consume all that is not of me in your life and all that has been troubling you has been working out together for your good for now you have a strong desire to be all that I have chosen you to be. You are not so consumed with yourself your lower nature but your eyes have now turned towards me.

My word is light unto your path so that you by faith can look in the pitch like darkness and behold my face, and you will be steady, you will see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living, just be patient as you wait upon me and see that I am all that I said that I am. Drop that which some have told you and put fear in you, but it was not my fear but it was the fear from the enemy. I have not given to you a spirit of fear, but I did give to you my spirit of power, my love and I have given to you a well discipline mind. It is because you have chosen to go the way you feel instead of by faith in my word that you fainted, but I say arise out of your darkness for your light has come, it is the light of my word that will shine through the darkness.

Rise up out of the depression that you have sat in for a long time, you have not paid attention to my word, but you have paid attention to the lies of the enemy, but I say to you this day arise and do not look back for I am doing a new thing and I will cause the rivers to flow into your midst, I will bring the rain that you so cried out for, I will also bring the fire that you wanted so bad to cleanse you and is not my word like fire? Will you not behold it and is not my word like a hammer that breaks the hardest heart, and is not my word like water that cleanses you? Yes my word is all of that and even more, for my word creates.

Don't worry about what men may say, but look to me and be saved, delivered and set free.

I Have Not Forgotten You

Olivia Long

faithbuildersministries@the-i.net

January 21, 2004

I have given My Beloved so many wonderful promises. My righteous ones who have been waiting, ready to move on in My plan and sometimes you wonder have I forgotten you?

For some it seems as though family is crumbling around you. Some are seemingly sitting in darkness praying just to have comfort and peace and hopefully that there will be ultimate deliverance. Some are very lonely and depressed. Some have made tragic mistakes and feel they can't be forgiven let alone move forward. Some are in the midst of uncertainty and hopelessness. Some feel like you are suffocating under the weights that have beset you. For some there are doubts, fear or anger and you feel abandoned. Some have grown weary from the waiting. Some are battling with an illness that says you are at death's door - you are in need of a healing, a miracle healing and you feel so helpless and vulnerable. Some ask why haven't my prayers been answered? Why is this tremendous hurt still besetting me? Why am I suffering? When will I see an answer to my financial problems? Why don't you tell me what to do? What did I do wrong? Some have even gone your own way and you depend on the words of others instead of My Word. You have trusted in your own thoughts rather than Me and wonder if there can be any hope that I will still use you? Some are distraught for you know My promises for you but still you remain in a waiting mode, not getting anywhere let alone accomplishing anything for My Kingdom purposes. Some have a great fear that you will blow it, that after you have waited so long and so patiently even when everything in you screams to move forward, still you stand - now concerned that at the moment I move you will miss it. The enemy wants you to believe I have forgotten you by besetting your mind that I won't see your needs or answer your prayers and to whisper in your ear that I AM not listening and have forgotten you.

My Beloved, I CANNOT forget you because I am a God of justice.

My Beloved, hear me and believe Me in what I say unto you. I HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN YOU !!! Now is the time that I wish to remove any areas of doubt - any areas of fear - any areas of anger or bitterness. Instead of despair I bring you hope. Know that through this lengthy storm that you have been enduring, where you sometimes think I have been doing nothing, that this is when I have been doing My greatest work in you.

Haven't I said that you are engraved in the palms of My hands? Haven't I said that I will make a way where there is no way? Haven't I said that I will provide for your every need? Haven't I said that I would heal every hurt?

Forgotten you? Beloved, I CANNOT forget a child of mine! When others have abandoned you in your hour of need, I have never abandoned you! Although the answers seem agonizingly slow in coming, Beloved, the answers ARE coming!!! NOT ONE PROMISE I HAVE MADE UNTO YOU SHALL FAIL, FOR I HAVE SPOKEN IT! Haven't I said that I will come with a vengeance, a God of recompense? SURELY, I will come and save you and SURELY, I will move you into your Kingdom position.

The battlegrounds have been many, but still the hope in Me was always deep in your heart so that nothing or no-one could tear you from Me. For all who have listened to Me, spent time with ME, obeyed Me, depended on Me even through all your failings, and still you wait upon your Lord and you will see Me move in unprecedented power and glory upon you. I HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN YOU. I know exactly where you are and what you are going through, trust Me, I have it all under control.

I HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN YOU and you have My unfailing and unending love and My plan for your life. I will never leave you alone or forsaken. Your answers are coming and they will be the 'correct' answers and they will come RIGHT ON TIME. I HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN YOU and I shall come to you. Prepare your hearts for I AM coming!!! This long season of heartaches, tests and trials is coming to an end so prepare the way for the Lord!!!

"For the Lord thy God is a merciful God. He will not forsake you, neither destroy you, nor forget the covenant of your fathers which He swore unto them." Deut. 4:31

"For the Lord loves justice and does not forget His saints (holy ones, consecrated ones); they are preserved forever, but the descendents of the wicked shall be cut off." Psalm 37: 28

"Say to those who are of a fearful and hasty heart, Be strong, fear not! BEHOLD, your God will come with vengeance; with the recompense of God He will come and save you." Isaiah 35:4

I Have Put My Scroll Within You
Susan Cummings

I have put My Scroll within you. You have been given your portion of My Word to speak forth. When I placed it there, I told you that you would go and speak forth My Word and see what I would do. That time has come. It is time to prepare to move, and to go, and to do My Will.

Much has been given to you, and much has been placed within you for the days ahead. You haven't always understood the call, but you remained trusting Me anyways. That is why I can use you. You have not denied My Name. So many quit, after they don't get what they want out of the deal, and when it doesn't please them. But you remained faithful, even when it cost you greatly. I see your pain. I know your struggles. I hear your cries. I birthed every one of them.

The burden of My Word is growing within you. The cry will get so great within you, that you will trumpet forth the Word, and sound the alarm, and strike the earth with My Rod. Yet, you fear to trust that what you have within is you enough. I AM the Living Word, child. It is Me that is within you. I AM enough. What I have placed within you, is Myself. I am coming out now.

I AM the Word upon the Scroll that is now being unrolled. I AM revealing Myself to men upon the earth. I AM the Living God, whom they have rejected. I will be seen by men, and they will mourn for their beloved, whom they have turned from, but I will not receive them, as they did not love Me, nor would they turn to My Ways.

MY Word is their judge. My Truth has always been the Righteous Standard, and it still is. It is raised up for all men to see, and those who are Mine, stand under My Banner. I have given time, and more time, but still men go their ways, and now they will see and eat of that tree.

Never think that you are without excuse. For even My Word judges you. But you asked Me for Grace, and I extended My Hand to you. My Blood covers you, because you received My Grace to embrace it. Remain close by My side, and obedient to My Voice. Those who are Mine, and who now walk away from Me, to go after their own ways, will be forever separated from Me, from now on. For the Hour of Grace has lifted. Now is the Hour of Travail. For the birthing has begun.

Multitudes are in the Valley of Decision.

The cries of travail have begun.

Multitudes cry out for My Justice from beneath My Throne.

Multitudes cry out from the dust of the earth, as their shed blood reaches Me to it's fullest.

The cup is full.

The Righteous cry out for souls. The Incense rises before My Throne, and stirs My Heart.

The cries of warning have also gone out to the ends of the earth.

The cries of the Trumpets now sound forth.

You also must cry out. For you have been given My Word. It has become a part of you, and cannot be separated from your path anymore. Each step you take, will release another portion, and each day you obey, will reach another soul for My Kingdom. Delay no more.

Trust the Word written within you. I will do what I have given to you to bring forth, for it is Me, that will be seen and heard. I AM being seen in My People once again. Do not doubt or fear, but move forth, and it is My Voice behind you that you will hear. I have given you your portion, and your field to reap.

Step through the door.

It Is All Up To You

Yolanda Ballard

(LionOfJudah1920@wmconnect.com)

Come apart from the cares of the world and rejoice for the King of Glory is in your midst. This is not the time to dwell upon all that could weigh you down, but it is the time to forsake the cares of the world. Yes, cast them aside and I will pick them up for you. For I have provided for you your every need. I have died so that you would be able to live abundantly with Me by your side leading and guiding you into all Truth. Yes, I AM filling you up this day with My grace and truth as you partake of My glory. As you lose yourself in My glory, I AM filling you with all the ammunition that you need to defend yourself against the evil one.

I AM even admonishing you to come apart from the cares of the world and abide in My presence as I fill you with My resurrection power. As you forsake the works of the flesh and abide in Me, I AM taking care of your every need. Abide in Me. Let My words abide in you. Let My faith take you through. All you need to do is rest in My faithfulness to bring forth the Promised Land in your life. Let Me take you to the other side where My victory reigns and My sovereign will rules.

This is the day and the hour to make a choice of who you will serve. Life and death lies in the power of your choice. Yes, you can choose life in My word, or you can choose to carry your own burdens, your own cares, but they will weigh you down. And you will not have My strength. You need My joy, My peace and My love ruling and reigning in your life, and that only comes as you forsake all and follow Me.

My kingdom consists of love, joy, and My righteousness. Every time you choose to walk in My will, strongholds fall that have been set up to hinder you. The enemy's plan is to hinder you from truly worshiping Me with your life, not only when you bow before Me, but as you choose to be a living sacrifice of praise before Me.

I choose you to be My warriors of Light. I choose you to be My bride and My beloved. I choose to live My life through you. What do you choose? Your future lies this day in your very own decision. Cast off the cares of the world. Pick up your cross and follow Me and walk in My glory. My yoke is easy and My burden is light. Let this be your testimony. They loved not their life unto death. They overcame by the blood of the Lamb, and the enemy was defeated.

It Is Time To Get Free

Daniel Black

takeustotheriver@juno.com

"Surely the Sovereign Lord does nothing without revealing His plan to His prophets. The Lion has roared-who will not fear? The Sovereign Lord has spoken - who can but prophesy...." Amos 3:7-8 NIV "...a spirit of prostitution leads them astray; they are unfaithful to their God." Hosea 4:12b NIV "Come, let us return to the Lord, He has torn us to pieces, but He will heal us; He has injured us, but He will bind up our wounds. After two days He will revive us, on the third day He will restore us, that we may live in His presence. Let us acknowledge the Lord; let us press on to the knowledge of Him..." Hosea 6:1-3a NIV

How can I but prophesy what the Lord has spoken, what He has revealed to His prophets. People of God, the spirit of prostitution have lead you astray! Don't pursue the desires of the flesh. The flesh cannot go past the outer court of the Spirit. But we have continued in our flesh, dazzled by our sin. We have been bound by the Spirit of prostitution, and the Spirit of the Lord has said that it is time to get free! It is time to return to your first love.

See, most of us don't truly love God, like ancient Israel, we just love what He can do for 'ME'. We would not give God the time of day, because we have lost our first love. The Lord says that it is time to stop looking for love in all the wrong places. It is time to stop prostituting yourselves to the lusts of the flesh! He says to return.

God is breaking loose. He is coming out of the box for a massive visitation! But because the Body is lost in her ways, because they are to busy being prostitutes and enjoying the worldly desires that the wickedness of their heart lusts after, she will miss it! The Church is missing it. Get FREE! We cry out for the Lord. Well here He is. You can't see Him because the god of this world has blinded your eyes! People get FREE!

"I love you. But you do not love Me. And the wages of your sinful lusts is death. O Beloved, you have prostituted yourself away from Me. Material things will pass away, but My judgments will stand. Memorial. O Bride return after My presence. Acknowledge Me. Press into Me. I say REPENT for seasons of refreshing in My Spirit."

Right now, I begin to declare freedom to the captives. Church, this is your wakeup call! GET A HELMET because God is on His way, sword in hand. It is time to get free. Before He tares us to pieces, are you willing to save your life?

It Is Time For Revolution

Jeannette Rodgers

June 23, 2004

Revolution-
(1) a sudden, radical, or complete change
(2) a fundamental change in the way of thinking about or visualizing something

A day to remember, A day to stand up, A day to arise, A day to be revolutionized, A day for revelation, A day to be One with Him as He is One with you, A day to say I can, A day to say He is the Great I AM, A day to push, A day to press, A day to say yes and Amen, A day to know, A day in which our Father has created for you to know His love for you, A day in which our Lord is alive in you, A day in which the enemy no longer has chains around you, A day for a new beginning, A day that you will be set free, A day that God Almighty has made a way, A day that was created for you to say He lives in me with Dominion and Power and Majesty and Glory and Life and Wisdom, A day to put one foot in front of the other and move toward your destiny in Jesus Christ of Nazareth who dwells in you, for you to walk in Him , in the Spirit, in Love, in authority, A day of new mercy, A day to be forgiven and A day to forgive others, A day to forgive yourself, A day to love, A day to let yourself be loved, A day to reveal who HE is within you, A day to say I am coming out, A day to say I am coming in, A day to say I am coming up, A day to say I am healed, A day to declare Jesus is Lord, A day for salvation, A day to shout HE IS RISEN, A day to say I can see, A day to shout I AM rich, A day to say I AM is strong in me, A day to remember that you are no longer a victim but victorious, A day to let go of the past and live in the present that God has given you, A day where you know you are the apple of His eye, A day your marriage is restored, A day your heart is made whole, A day that you will know if you are single that God is your husband, your provision, your protection, A day to know your children will come in, A day to let go and let God, A day to soar, A day to say IT IS TIME!!! A day to be revolutionized in Him and through Him and for Him. It is Time!!

Go forth; for it is high time to stand up , rise up, push forward, press on , look to Him, follow His steps, listen to His voice, look to the Lamp that lights the Way before you.

It is high time to be revolutionized. It is time to reflect on the revelation that He has shown, that He has spoken from the beginning. All things that He has spoken shall come to pass in due time. His spoken word became flesh...you were called upon before entrance into your mothers womb. You were not a mistake, you were not an accident, you were called here by God to fulfill a great purpose for Him in this earth. You were created beautiful in His eyes. Your name was spoken by God and you were brought into existence for such a time as this. There is nothing that can keep you down because the Lord Jesus Christ is holding you up. There is nothing you can not do because you can do all things through Him who gives you the strength to do so. You are not defeated because He is victorious in you.
You are not broke down but being built up.
For those who are crucified with Him live with Him.

2 Corinthians 4:7-11
[7] But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellence of the power may be of God and not of us. [8]We are hard-pressed on every side, yet not crushed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; [9]persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed-- [10]always carrying about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our body. [11]For we who live are always delivered to death for Jesus' sake, that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh.

IT IS TIME....The Lord is saying, IT IS TIME!!!! We must come up higher now , for the time of this season is drawing to an end and one that is coming will be one of great and tremendous and mighty, and strong growth. For this season has been a difficult one for many; but the Lord God Almighty has set forth a word for HIS remnant and He is saying;
IT IS TIME!!!

There is purpose in all that I have set out to accomplish in you and through you. There is nothing that you have endured that I have not seen. It is MY strength saith the Lord that has held you during this process of elimination of self, of motive, of agenda so that I could arise within you. For in this hour to whom much is given much is required. I have looked to and fro for those who have stood in the fire and have not run. I have watched where you could have taken the easy road but chose the narrow, the difficult , the humbling way to Me. I am calling for a chosen and faithful people who will lift up and hold MY banner unto all nations to declare MY name and reveal MY glory that has come from all that you have endured through, unto all people. IT IS TIME!!!!

Be ready!! Know your place, Know your position, Know where I have called you to stand. For I alone will do this great work through you and My glory will shine in darkness and MY light will remove darkness. For where I AM saith Adonai, there is no darkness. Let us go for as you abide in ME, I shall abideth in you. I will speak through you, I will heal through your hands, I will deliver through my authority and dominion through a spoken word that will breathe upon My people who call upon MY name and to every dry bone will come life. For I am calling a great and mighty army into place. I will hold you up, I will strengthen you, I will sustain you and keep you in places you would never imagine you could stand. You will know that I AM that I AM has sent you and kept you through this commission (co-MISSION). This CO-Mission is one in which we will walk together.
This is... the great C0-Mission.

IT IS TIME!!! Greater Revelation, Great Revolution, to fulfill the Great Co-Mission in Jesus Christ. You may not be understood, its all right, you may think your alone but it is a mission between you and Jesus. He is there with you right now. Walking with you. Yes, He is the One who enables you to walk in Him. Don’t try to explain it, don’t try to justify it, don’t try to even understand all of it. Just do it!! Fulfill all that He has called you to do.

IT IS TIME!!

IT is the Day!!!

Abundant Blessings,

It is Time Now My Church

Ayman & Hala Mikhail

Mar 25, 2004

It is time now My church. It's time now to wake up and to stand before Me. It's time to get rid of the many things that burden you and make wrinkles on your face and put heaviness on your shoulder. I'm no longer going to accept the dualism in your life, worshiping me and following your idols. I Am going to interfere. The reason why is because I love you. Love is the driving force to stretch My Mighty Hand. I am going to (do two things:) to cleanse you and to equip you. I Am going to cleanse you from fear . I know about the heaviness of your fears and the different kinds of fears (1st John 4:18). I will cleanse you from unpurity and unholyness. I am going to uproot the idolatry from your very life. I am going to deal with your suspicions and doubts. The very deep places of pride will be exposed and dealt with. My Hand will go to the hidden places of the sin and dirt in you. My Hand will deal with your lies, your inferiority and your unstraight double hearted life. I Am going to cleanse you from the wrong priorities.

I Am going to equip you with new level of High grade abilities. I will teach you to walk in humbleness. I will equip you with new understanding about true worship. True worship that gathers both your prayers and your praises in an overwhelming way that will have the greatest impact. You will get astonished from how true worship is something different. You will enjoy my presence and you will practice through worship my authority.

I will also equip you with new level of faith. The faith that moves mountains. The faith that lifts you to see things form my view not yours. The faith that gives you to walk in boldness and courage knowing who is your God. The faith that honors Me. And from My side I am going to support you with signs and wonders. Physical and inner healings will be your daily practice. Deliverance and setting free will be the very things that accompany you.

I Am going to heal & restore relationships that My enemy have broken. I Am speaking restoration of broken families & broken connections. I Am speaking unity.

I'll deliver you from the slavery spirit that the enemy used to put you under for ages. Now I'm speaking deliverance from slavery. Now I'm calling you to practice the sonhood & no longer the slavery. No more slavery for whatever the master is.

My bride, I Am going to wash you with My Water (My word. Ephesians 5:26) and My Blood (John 19:34), so you will never be the same (Isaiah 54:2-5). I am stretching My Hand, what will be your response.

As given to

It Is Time To Rise Up
Susan Cummings

What I have told you, will be seen, exactly as I have given it to you. For I have called you to stand before Me and to speak forth those things that I have now begun to reveal to this generation. For the time of revelation has been given. My Own will come to Me and will receive Truth from My Hand and not from a middleman anymore.

No more will My People accept stolen bread, or spoiled meat, but they will eat My Living Word, and they will obtain it from Me. I am calling each of My People to meet with Me. They must each know Me for themselves, and be able to stand in the time of darkness that has come.

Every man, woman, and child will know what they believe, whom they believe in, and what the Truth is. For I am requiring all My People to walk in Truth, and to be responsible for their own walks. There is no middle ground. Either they serve Me or they don't. Now it is time to walk with Me.

It is Time to Rise Up!

What I have spoken to you in My Word is True, and will come to pass as I have stated. It will not happen as many men have declared it to happen, and as they have chosen to believe it will. It will happen as I have written it. My Babes know the Truth, and they can see clearly. Men have chosen to see what they want to.

My Word, is a Living Word, and it shall bring forth every aspect of My Will, for the Time is Now, for My Purposes to be seen amongst My People.

Prepare for My Winds.

For they have begun to blow and will increase even more, and will blow until nothing is left standing, but My People. For I am showing all things for what they are. My People will stand firmly planted in Me, and all else will fall under the weight of My Winds.

Prepare for the Rains.

For they have begun, and I have told you to begin to run for they will overtake you if you do not obey. I have brought forth My Rain of Truth, and it will become a Deluge, and it will wash away all uncleanness and will bring forth a clean and holy people. It will also release the former and latter rains that have now come to the time of full birth.

It is time for the Latter Rains, and it is Now that they will pour out in My House. No more will it be looked for, dreamed about, prayed in, or delayed, for it is time, and it is NOW. It has begun to rain. It has begun to blow. It has begun to shake.

Prepare to Run.

I have told you it was coming.

Do not deter from what I have told you to do. Do not stop advancing, as I have fully prepared you, and am with you as you go. Do not fear what others think, but fear Me! Remain focused and continue on!

For I am the Lord and what I have spoken, I will do, and I will do it through you!

It is time to rise up, and see what I will do!

Circumstances and Situations
Susan Cummings

Circumstances and situations do not determine your outlook. It is I that should be your determining factor. Am I not the One who lives within you, and who guides you daily? Then why do you allow circumstances and situations to determine your daily outlook and your focus?

Rethink your position. It is time that you cease trying to arrange everything to fit your ideas, and instead lay it all down at My Feet, and let me pick up those things that I desire for you that day. When you begin to do this, then your peace will return. Your focus will be sharp, and your problems will not be seen as insurmountable.

You must begin to realize that I hold all things in My Hands concerning you, and that I know what you need, and when. I know just how to bring it forth, and what you will need to walk it out. So, remain at My Feet. Do not run to and fro seeking advice. I am right beside you and within you.

Can two walk together unless they agree? Unless you and I walk in agreement, there will be no balance and growth unto maturity, in your life. You must settle it in your heart and mind that I am able to guide you. You must line up your life with My Word and allow it to change you.

Until you do, you will have the ups and downs and the continual struggle to overcome. It is time to bring it all down and leave it there at My Feet. It is where it all belongs, as you are to carry no other burdens than Mine. The Burdens that I bring to you, are Mine, and they are mutually shared. I lay nothing heavy upon you, that I have not already carried, and that I have not given you the ability to walk through.

As you change your thinking, and your choices, I will line up everything and you will see many changes. I have been waiting for you to choose. I have been waiting for you to surrender your will to Me. Come to Me and allow Me to refresh you and to strengthen you for tomorrow.

Tomorrow is a new day, and it is a day that I have made just for you.

Will you walk it with Me, or will you walk it alone?

Vision of the Great Hall - Part Six
Susan Cummings

"The Spring of Empowerment"

I hear the sound of roaring water coming from ahead of me. I walk towards the sound and seek the source of the roaring. It is quiet of all other sounds except the sound of the rushing water. I am anticipating the scene in my mind, as I walk towards the water. I can imagine a beautiful waterfall and gorgeous scenery.

But as I get closer, I am surprised that it is not as I had thought. I draw near to the source of the roaring and it is coming forth from a spring that has erupted from the ground. It is like an artesian well that has suddenly become alive and is now flowing forth for the first time, or after a long time of silence.

The ground is hard and barren. It is like rock or shale like in appearance. It is very colorful, yet lifeless. There is little vegetation around. Then, I am stunned! I realize that I am back at the scene of the Great Hall. I am at the place of the desert meeting the land as it opens up to the Great Hall.

I do not see the Great Hall, nor do I see the people, but I know the area, and I feel it is nearby as I stand there. I wonder why I am back. I look at the water that is gushing forth with such a roar and intensity. It is surprising that a small spring can make such a loud roar, I am thinking to myself.

There is no one else around, and I choose to stay and rest by the spring for awhile. I sit down by the spring and watch as the water gushes forth and runs along the ground, bringing life to the hard rock area. I watch as the water runs along the ground, with not much soaking in, but running swiftly along as if driven by the wind. As I watch, I do notice some beginning to soak in some places, and the land does change it's color some as the water penetrates the hard shell of the top rocky layers. It seems to drink it in faster now in areas.

I lean forwards and reach out to touch the spring, and am surprised that it is not cold at all, but hot. It is a hot springs. It is a spring that is roaring loudly in it's rushing along the rocky land, but it is hot like a still hot spring would be. I watch it in wonderment. It is pleasant to touch and to feel it on my hands. I slide over and stick my feet and legs into it. It is very hot and feels great. I look around and still no one is around. So I feel led to slide in all the way.

I enter the hot spring and am delighted at it's warmth and it's current that flows by me. It is not big in size, but I do fit into the spring nicely. I feel such life and energy entering into me from the hot spring. I do not know how long I am in the spring, but I realize that I don't need air as I am under the water. It is alive!

I am again shocked! I emerge from the depths of the hot spring and I suddenly am aware that I should have known that any source coming from the Great Hall would have life in it. As I was thinking these thoughts, the Lord spoke to me. He said, "It is true that this is a life giving source, as you have discovered. I AM the LIFE of MY People. But My People forget so easily, and do not take what is theirs by inheritance. They live their lives with very few victories and very few times of refreshing."

"You have come back to the Great Hall as you have discovered. I have brought you full circle, so that you would know that what I showed you will now come to pass. It is time for My People to know Me, and to know their places in My Body. It is time for My Word to live within them."

"The spring opened up, because I have chosen to break forth into the lives of My People in a big way now. No longer will I be silent, but will roar over My People. That is why you heard the roar and came to investigate. So it will be with My Own, they will hear My Roar, and search for it's sound, and they will find Me. It will be as you have done today. It will be a time of refreshing for those who choose to draw near to Me now."

"The ground of My people's hearts has been like the Shale rock that you see all around here. But with Me bringing life to them, I will begin to penetrate those areas of hardness and will bring change, as they rest IN ME, and drink deeply of Me, in their times of Intimacy with Me. As they come and rest at My Feet, I will penetrate those hard issues and break it's hold over My People. I will set them free from the bondages that hold them captive."

"The transformation has already begun in My House, as many have heard the sound of My Roar, and have begun to come to Me. Many more will follow as they see the spring burst forth, but I say to you child, that it will burst forth as a raging river shortly. Right now I have begun the emerging as a hot spring, but it will soon become a flood of My Fire. Warn My People. Warn them not to think they can come to Me then. For they need the strengthening of the hot springs now, before the Flood of Fire comes, or they will not be able to abide in it. It will bring destruction to those who have not prepared themselves."

"For I AM a Consuming Fire. I AM the LIVING GOD and I AM HOLY. All who come to Me, must come to Me and allow Me to cleanse them and make them clean. Otherwise My Glory will consume them as Fire. I have begun the release and it will increase into a raging flood. It is time now to totally abandon yourself and freely enter into Me, just as you did by entering into the spring completely. Unless you totally die to all that you are, you cannot be transformed into My Image. You will still try to hold onto your images. You must let all go, in order to walk in My Power to come."

"There is great Glory coming into My House. Prepare My People for the greater visitation. Warn them to humble themselves, and to prepare their hearts. For I have begun to visit My House already, and many are receiving Me, but they still hold onto their traditions and mindsets. There will be no traditions IN MY House! I AM in My House! The old ways of ministry are passing away, as I Am rising up and taking over. Man will no longer be in control of meetings."

"I Am going to BE the meeting!"

"It will be a Meeting between My People and their Living God!"

"Look at yourself child, and see what you now have entered into." I climbed out of the water, and stood on the ground. I looked, and I was on fire. I was burning with a fire that was like a garment that I was wearing. I did not feel the fire burn me as a real fire does to destroy, but I felt such a Love burning within me. I could feel His Fire within me and upon me. I have felt this fire before, and have begun to walk in it some, but now it was like it was greater."

The Lord said, "This is the endowment of My Fire and Power that your generation will walk in upon the earth. We will clothe you with ourselves. Just as the Father and I are One, so will My People know us in that way. You will walk in Union with us, and will know us within and upon you. Your generation is called to do the greater works than I did upon the earth. It is time. It is time to walk in that depth of relationship with us."

"This empowerment comes through Union with us. It is not bought, or taught. But it comes through intimacy with Me. I AM the Way, the Truth, and the Life, and no man comes to the Father, except through Me. It is time to know the Father. It is time to be full of the Holy Spirit and to be clothed with Fire."

"It has begun. Some are entering in at this time, and many more will yield to Me, but I warn them that I will not wait for them to decide. I Am moving in the earth, and I Am bringing My Word to pass, and I will come as a flood shortly. Prepare yourself to run! Prepare for the rains and the winds as I have told you! For great storms will come on the heels of the greater release. You have only begun to see the storms upon the earth. Much greater will now come, as I Am now roaring in the earth."

"Only those hidden in me will not be devastated by the storms. They will be clothed with Me, and I will be their covering. I am preparing you to stand and to see Me pass over the earth once more. It is a time of great upheaval. For the enemy knows I have come, and He is in distress that his hold on Mine is broken. No more will Mine walk in defeat! I am their God, and I will bring them forth, into My Light and into My Truth! I am bringing forth My Hidden Ones."

"Now comes the storms and the floods, and also the flaming river of My Fiery Glory. Both come as the transition period is complete."

"It is the time of the end. It is the day of My Judgment in My House."

"It is the time of the Beginning. It is the Day of My Power in My House."

"Walk upright before Me, My People. The time has come to know your God, and to walk in Union with Me! Never again will you be enslaved to men or to the world, but will be wholly Mine. You are bought with My Blood. You are redeemed and set apart unto Me. I now take what is Mine, as Mine. I will now be seen IN You and through you."

"It is My Word that will burn within you. It is the Burden of that Word that will compel you to go forth into the world. It is My Heart that will show you My Ways and Plans and will bring forth the lost ones as you stretch forth your hands in MY Name. I will show you where to go, and will bring you by My Hand into those areas. So, begin to Walk with Me."

I looked and the roaring hot spring was pouring forth and spreading out all over the area where I stood. It was following no path, but the Lord's. For the Spring that roared forth from the ground was the Lord Himself, flowing out to the nations. He is moving and is coming forth as He said. For the Time of the Empowerment of God's People has come.

It has begun.

It Is What’s Within You That Counts

Susan Cummings

I see your heart. That is what I look at.

Men look upon your person and your talents and abilities. They decide what they will believe about you by their own opinions and desires, and not upon what I see. They do not look through My Eyes, but choose to see through their own beliefs and filters.

My People are falsely weighed down by other people’s expectations and opinions. It is not My Will for them to please others, but to please and serve Me. I am to be their total and complete desire and motivation for service. So, they should not be controlled by them, nor placed in bondage to those who rule over them.

It is time for My Own to lay down their weights and burdens.

It is time to come out from the captivity and bonds from others.

It is time for My Own to walk in obedience to Me alone.

It is what’s within you that counts! I made you, and formed you, to be One with Me. When you begin to look to others, and desire to please them, and look upon others for approval and for your identity, then you have taken your eyes off of Me, and have gone after false gods.

Turn back from your pursuit of men, and come to Me!

I am the God of your Salvation. I am the Living God. There is no other apart from Me. There is no other to which you can turn and to be saved, or given true Life. I AM the LIVING WORD!

Why would you go to polluted waters for a drink? I AM the LIVING WATERS OF LIFE!

Why would you feast off of dead carcasses for your sustenance? I AM the LIVING BREAD!

Come to Me, and remove the constant striving and fleshly works from your Life. Rest in Me!

When My People come to Me, and give Me their whole heart, life, and future, then I can bring them fully into their destiny. I cannot birth forth what is not of Me. Neither can you give forth what is not within you to give.

What is within you? Is it Me, or another?

Who is leading you, and controlling you? Is it Me leading you, or another who controls you?

I do not control. I have given you a free will. You alone must choose.

Each day you must come to Me, afresh.

Each day you must choose whom you will serve.

Each day you must pick up your cross and carry it.

Come to Me all who are thirsty and heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Come to the Living Waters for your Sustenance and Healing. Stop going after false gods and idols and the approval of men. Look unto Me!

My Justice Will Prevail
Susan Cummings

My Justice will prevail
Throughout the great travail
For the earth is now about to give birth
To the final wave of My Truth

The Truth will so clearly disclose
What is truly false and what is Mine
As the wave of My Holy Justice
Rolls across the face of the globe

The scales are tipped and made ready
Multitudes positioned in the great Valley
Shakings and Siftings have now prepared
Those of Mine who will now be spared

My Judgments are True!
And My untold Mercies are new
But the Believing Remnant is so few
Yet, they have walked the path into the New

Prepare the way, before Me!
Inhabitants of the earth, Prepare!
For My Justice has been meted out
And the travail has now begun

Look unto your life, and judge what I say
For My Word has given you the Way
Yet, so few truly embrace My Word
And will now go out from before Me

Nations weighed in the balance
Men called by My Name have played the game
Such will now be put to the test
Seeing their sins will now give them no rest

For I called, and few answered
Reached out, and few embraced Me
Sent My Son, and only the remnant do believe
What more can be given, none!

Watch, and Pray, and seek My face
Oh, men of the earth among the human race
Never before have men seen this day
Nor will it come again, as it is written, in My Grace

Fully coming forth, and fully will it be reaped
Each man will now walk his course, and many will weep
Mockers and scorners say, where is this day?
Yet they blindly cannot see the way

There is no forgiveness for the rejection of My Spirit
Given as the Light of men, and the Life of all
He gave wisdom to those who asked
Many chose to go their way, without Him

And as Esau, they now lose their inheritance
And will wander the earth, empty and void of Light
Who among men, have desired Me above all?
So many, so many, will now fall a great fall

My Justice will truly prevail
For I have tipped the end-time scales
Only My Holy Ones, will now in My Truth, prevail
For they have counted Me as Precious

For I Am Holy, and I AM Just!
I will be amongst My Own!
As the nations go into the violent dust
Their way paved by their own lusts

Cry out for the Light of My Truth!
Oh inhabitants of the earth
Leave your idols and your sins
For you are facing a new and terrible birth

Behold, I AM your God!
And I have come to gather My Own
They will now enter into My Tents
To join with Me, in the Divine Romance

Holy Union given unto My Own
Judged by Me, before My Throne
Wholly Mine, and bought with My Blood
Now, receiving for all their trials, in this time of the great flood

Watch, and see Me as I now pass by
For My Justice will now be served and not denied!
All is in place, as it has been prophetically decreed
The wicked one will rule with his seed

A Season of Justice will now be served
Purging the wayward and making them pure
Nothing will ever be the same
For I have now entered the game

I Know Whom I Have Believed
Chip Brogden

Jul 1, 2004
The Scriptures exhort us to "grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ." Our spiritual growth may be generally discussed as occurring in three seasons of development. Please do not us this teaching to examine where others are, but use it to examine yourself and see if you are indeed growing and maturing in the knowledge of Christ.

I will use the terms "immature" and "childish", but not with the intention of disdaining the young. I am simply contrasting maturity with immaturity, adulthood with childhood. My children are immature, but I cannot expect them to be anything other than immature so long as they are children. I am lovingly committed to their long-term growth. In the same way, let us not despise the spiritually immature or the weak in faith. Instead, the Word tells us to receive them and watch over them. For those of you who are further along, never forget how many years of God's dealings it took to bring you to the level of experience you take for granted today.

With those words of introduction, let us discuss the beginning season of the Christian life.

The Child Says, "I Know WHAT I Believe"

In the beginning of the Christian walk we are primarily concerned with WHAT we believe. We depend heavily upon other Christians, the pastor, or the church to tell us what we should believe. Our belief systems are established according to what we hear, see, or are taught during these formative years of spiritual development. Not being experienced in the ways of the Lord we naturally give attention to those Christians who have known the Lord longer that we may learn the essential doctrines of our faith. Whoever or whatever influences us as a spiritual child will usually shape and mold us into what we will become twenty, thirty, or fifty years hence.

Participation in Sunday School classes, Bible studies, church attendance, retreats, conferences and seminars is seen as a desirable and necessary step towards becoming a strong Christian. Memorizing a catechism, statement of fundamental truths, or doctrinal position is often a prerequisite to church membership. As the particular belief system is identified and reinforced, the young Christian may come to identify with social labels such as Fundamentalist, Evangelical, Charismatic, or Conservative. Labels are important to the spiritually immature because it allows them to sum up an entire ideology in one succinct title which provides instant recognition and camaraderie with those of the same genre. Baptists believe certain things, as do the Methodists, the Presbyterians, the Lutherans, the Catholics, the Pentecostals, and even the so-called Non-Denominationals or Independents. Identifying yourself as one or the other immediately brings you into the good company, fellowship, and relationship with others whose particular belief systems most resemble your own.

New Christians (or old Christians who remain childish) are acutely interested in WHAT they believe, seeking to have all the I's and T's of their personal theology dotted and crossed. In the process they usually major in the minors and strain out a gnat to swallow a camel. Doctrinal discussion and religious wranglings are the seedbed of most vain speaking, arguments, hurt feelings, biting and devouring.

Once they are settled into WHAT they believe it is nearly impossible to convince them otherwise, and any perceived threat to their belief system is met with hostility, anger, confusion, even depression. I heard of a Bible study that was devoted to a particular issue. An outsider posed the question: WHY do you believe this? The indignant answer was, "Because the Bible says so" and a chapter and verse reference was given. But how do you know the Bible is true? Because the Bible is the Word of God. How do you know the Bible is the Word of God? Because the Bible says so. And so on.

Christians at this stage of spiritual growth cannot reply, except to say that you just have to believe it by faith (even though God has never required us to believe something without offering substantial, albeit invisible, proof - but that is a topic for another discussion). The leader of this Bible study could answer to WHAT she believed, but she could not reply to WHY she believed it because her particular belief system would not allow for a frank and open discussion on the inspiration of the very Scriptures she was citing. God said it (or the pastor said God said it) , I believe it, and that settles it. End of conversation.

Children are often told to do thus-and-so, and when they invariably ask why, the answer is usually, "Because I said so." Such an answer is sufficient for them at THAT stage, but when the child becomes a teenager a simple "Because I said so" is insulting. As an adult it is offensive. Why is this? Because it does not allow for input, feedback, or questions. What is lost? The experience of LEARNING and becoming mature.

Is the Bible the inspired Word of God? Well of course it is. But not because it says it is, and not because the pastor says so or the church says so, or I say so. Do you know WHY it is the inspired Word of God? Have you ever wondered why? "Because the Bible says so" is sufficient enough for a new Christian, but you most move beyond the elementary if you ever hope to experience or lead others into the full knowledge of Christ.

The Young Adult Says, "I Know WHY I Believe"

The one who knows WHAT they believe is always threatened by the one who knows WHY. Unfortunately some never grow to the point that they ever ask why. They see no need to ask why, and therein lies the reason for their perpetual childhood, their incessant carnal fighting and vain blabbering. To ask why is to commit the unpardonable sin! To question the church, its leaders, or its teachings is to jeopardize your eternal soul! People with faith are not supposed to ask why. People properly submitted to authority are not supposed to ask why. If you don't know why, they say, focus on what, and don't worry about why.

Allow me to say it as plainly as I can: to discourage the asking of WHY is to stunt the spiritual growth of yourself and others. An immature Christian is one who does not permit himself or others to question anything incorporated into their belief system.

Yes, it is true that many who grow up in the church and begin asking WHY often appear to backslide or end up leaving the church altogether. This healthy questioning, searching, and seeking for truth Jesus called "hungering and thirsting after righteousness." The promise is, "They shall be filled." They are The Blessed, not The Backslidden. Jesus is simply leading them elsewhere because He cannot fill them where they are. The quest for Truth, and the subsequent filling, almost never takes place WHERE YOU ARE, but WHERE GOD WANTS TO BRING YOU. If you are hungry and thirsty for what is right, for what is true, then you will be filled. It did not say where or how, only THAT. I cannot presume to say where or how He may lead you, only that He will.

You see, knowing WHAT you believe brings a certain aura of satisfaction and security which is akin to nursing at your mothers breast. It is an important first step in the Christian life, but that is all a first step, a means to an end, not THE end. We are not suggesting that you do not have to know WHAT you believe. We are saying that real progress begins when you begin to get an inkling as to WHY you believe it. This is the middle stage of spiritual growth. Like knowing what, knowing why is an important step, but it is not the end either. It is merely a rite of passage between childishness and maturity. It is the literal enlargement of one's capacity for Truth, and of course, for Christ Who is Truth. It is the spiritual equivalent of puberty, a time of great change, rapid growth, and of great turmoil, emotionally and spiritually.

An exciting thing begins to happen in the spiritual life of the Christian who desires to grow and mature. It is hoped that after some progress in spiritual things, once the new Christian has experienced a few defeats or disappointments, that he or she will ask, "Is there more to the Christian life than what I am experiencing?" Oh, blessed question! How God has worked long and hard to bring the Christian to this point! And the Answer which God so desires to give us is, "Yes! There is more to this Life! You have but scratched the surface!" The Question often comes to us in the middle of a church service, when everyone else seems to be worshiping the Lord and having a good time. We try to join in but the Question continues to bother us week after week until we resolve to do something about it.

But what usually happens? The church will often reassure the babes that all is well as long as they ignore how they feel, keep attending church, reading their Bibles, saying their prayers, etc. Nevertheless, the One asking the Question will not go away, and it indeed is the bidding of the Spirit of Truth Himself which ignites and fans into flame the holy desire to launch out into the Deep, the very Depths of Christ. WHAT they believe is no longer good enough, and they want to know WHY. Instead of discouraging these questions, we should welcome and invite them. We even ought to take the initiative and begin asking them of others.

What emerges after this period of soul searching, asking, seeking, and knocking is a core set of values and beliefs that are refined in the fiery furnace of real-life experience, not taught or learned out of a textbook or Sunday school class. It is the difference between singing, "Great Is Thy Faithfulness" because we know the words to the song or because we have truly experienced the great faithfulness of Jesus Christ. We know WHAT we are singing, but more importantly, we know WHY we are singing. And WHY we desire fellowship with other believers. And WHY the Bible is the inspired Word of God. And so on.

Most importantly, Christians at this stage of growth are liberated from the limiting beliefs imposed upon them by other people, even other good people. The younger children are full of argument, opinion, defense, and either/or thinking. For them, the less they think they know the more distressed they become. Pose a question to them that is not in their catechism (literal or figurative) and they will be off to look up the answer so they can impress you with the solution the next time you meet. They haven't yet learned that there will always be someone in the world who is smarter and can come up with a more brilliant argument, right or wrong. It seems their whole goal is to confound the world with WHAT they believe.

Not so the Christians with some maturity. The Christians at this stage realize they don't know as much as they thought they did, but they know what matters. They are no longer straining out the gnat while swallowing the camel. They do not have as many answers, but neither do they have as many questions. Their spiritual life follows a steady, even course.

The Mature Adult Says, I Know WHOM I Believe

There is a certain downside to the intermediate stage of growth, and that is a danger to lean upon our own understanding. Now that we know WHY we believe we are apt to begin teaching the younger ones. People will look to us for answers. We tend to tell them all we know, even more than we know. We are in danger of falling prey to an intellectual faith instead of a Spirit walk. Naturally speaking, teenagers and college students have a lot of knowledge. In fact, according to their own mind, they are smarter and more enlightened than anyone over the age of thirty. Once they reach thirty they will realize how little they really knew about life. Academic learning is no substitute for experience, and experience takes time. In spiritual things we will always be growing. Even the spiritually mature will continue to grow and learn.

We must see the process of maturity through to completion. To illustrate, let us imagine that we here on earth desire to reach the moon. That is a definitive goal which we can see. We can measure the distance and make plans to reach the moon. To us here on earth that is the ultimate in space exploration. Now let us imagine that one day we reach the moon. Just as we become acclimated to this enormous triumph, our eyes turn upward yet again and we see the vast expanse of space, the innumerable stars, planets, and galaxies, stretched out before us for more than 15,000,000,000 light years, and enlarging its borders faster than we could ever hope to keep up. We will never get to the end of it.

Suddenly, we realize all that we have accomplished in reaching the moon is but a drop in the bucket. In the grand scheme of the universe it is so small as to be infinitesimal. Of course you had no idea that the universe was this large while confined to the atmosphere of Earth, but now, having journeyed a bit beyond, you see just how large it is.

This, in a nutshell, is what it is to find ourselves lost in the depths of Christ. The edge of the universe is beyond our reach, but even it is finite in terms of size. This vast universe is summed up into Christ. The Creator is larger than the creation. So it follows that the more we know of Him, the less we realize we know. All the learning and spiritual experience of all the saints since the foundation of the world hardly makes a dent into the richness of Christ.

Job was left speechless after his encounter with God. He entered into a dialogue with the Creator thinking he knew what he was talking about. Thoroughly confounded and reduced to nothing, Job regretted having spoken of things that he knew nothing about. His idea of God was totally shattered. Before he had heard about God, but having seen God, he realized he didn't know anything. Ironically, his confessed ignorance was higher and more noble than the wisdom of his counselors who claimed to know God, but had never seen Him.

This is the difference between revelation and head-knowledge, between seeing for yourself and merely hearing about. The man who says, "I don't know" is finally beginning to know. Once he can see, he can say, "I know whom I have believed" and be accurate, even though he doesn't know anything in and of himself. It is a case of owning nothing, but possessing everything. The Christian is poor in spirit, yet blessed with every spiritual blessing.

Christianity is a spiritual paradox designed to confound man's wisdom and reduce him to Christ. If it were only a teaching or a philosophy, it would be easy to follow. But Christianity is not a teaching or a philosophy, it is a Man. Take away the Man and there is no Christianity. It is all about giving up your own life in order to receive the Life of Another.

The more I write, the more I realize I don't know anything. A million words cannot convey HIM. Everything of me is filthy rags; who am I? Who am I, really? What do I know? Nothing, not one thing. Oh, I've seen a little fragment, and I can hardly express THAT, much less anything beyond that. I am a man of unclean lips, in a generation of people with unclean lips, and like Job there is not much else to do but sit in the ashes and loathe myself. There have been times when I laid down my pen or shut off my computer and said I would never write again. All that I thought I knew I realized I did not know. What I did know I could not find words to describe.

We don't know this Jesus we think we know. He is Wholly Other, totally, supremely, magnificently GOD. Only God can remain silent while we speak blasphemies and heresies in His name. He allows mankind to distort and misrepresent and bring people to a place of despair, just so He can then step in and reveal Himself for Who He really is. And He is never, ever, ever, ever what you thought. Nothing is as you have been told. And then, once you meet Him, you cannot describe Him, except to say He is nothing like what you had been told. Beyond description.

When we realize we don't know, then Christ becomes our Wisdom so we CAN know. When we are children we are apt to say, I know WHAT I believe. As we grow out of infancy and begin to wrestle with the deeper questions and issues of the Christian faith we will learn to say, I know WHY I believe. The ultimate experience, however, is to be brought to a place where we can say with confidence, I know WHOM I believe.

Knowing WHAT is a beginning. Knowing WHY is progress. Knowing WHO is maturity.

There is a time in our life when we penetrate the veil and from henceforth we KNOW Whom we have believed. It is no longer a question of belief, reason, argument, or opinion. We simply know.

Wait a minute, someone will say. First you say we cannot know Him, then you say that we can know Him. Which is it? All I can say is, it is both.

The child is preoccupied by WHAT, the young adult is consumed by WHY, and the mature believer is obsessed with WHO.

A brother wanted to know what holiness was. So, he found over 200 Scriptures on the subject, arranged them in order, and committed them to memory. Yet, he still didn't know what holiness was.

He felt empty inside. Finally he met an elderly sister who was holy. He finally saw Holiness, and it struck him to the ground. He then knew, because he saw. What he saw was not a concept or a teaching, but Holiness living through the elderly saint. It was not a virtue or a code of conduct, but a Person, Who was expressing His holiness through a yielded vessel.

Another brother was in a similar situation. He was emphatic about what he believed until someone with equal or greater argument confronted him. This occurred one day and someone pointed out several supposed "errors" in the Bible. This caused the brother to be very alarmed. He went to the same elderly lady and informed her of these alleged errors and wanted to know her opinion. She simply stated that the knowledge of God did not depend upon the answering of these questions. He thought, perhaps not to you, but to me it is important! So he spent the next year investigating what this other person had told him and found it to be untrue. But, had he simply known God He would not have found it necessary to study the whole thing and reason it out. The elderly sister was right, the knowledge of God did not depend upon the answering of those questions. If you know Who, knowing what and why become less significant.

No one illustrates this better than Paul the apostle. As the final hours were upon him, what was his testimony? He did not say, "I know what I believe." A man of extraordinary intellect and education, he had forgotten more about Judaism and Christianity than most people will ever know.

He did not say, "I know why I believe". Of course he knew why he believed. He didn't have to say it. The years of persecution and prison had made him better, not bitter. For the first time in his life he knew what real joy was. But even knowing what and why would not be enough to carry him through this much suffering.

What was his secret? "I know WHOM I have believed, and I am confident that He is able to keep that which I have committed to Him."

You can start out with WHAT, sort through it with WHY, but it ultimately leads to WHO.

Who else? Christ as all in all. Everything leads to Him. All the questions, all the answers. Everything is reduced to Him, for He is the sum of all spiritual things. When we are reduced to Him, then we will be satisfied. Let us lose our life that we may gain our Life and know Whom we have believed. Amen.

I Love My Church

Heidi Cummins

Tell them: I LOVE MY CHURCH!

I will surprise you by My greatness, says the Lord.

I will surprise you by what I am doing and what I will do.

All glory belongs to Me and Me alone.

I saved you for My glory! I saw you kicking about in your sin and I pitied you. I knew you could do nothing for yourself. I saved you by My righteous right hand and I am going to reveal Myself to others who you think I cannot possibly save. I WILL reveal Myself to them because I want to. Despite what you may or may not do. Because I want to. You are just along for the ride. I want you to be a co-laborer with Me. THAT gives Me profound pleasure!

I AM God. There is no other.

You will see and give glory to Me because you know that it is I who does the saving, the redeeming, the sanctifying. It is Me says the Lord. There is no other.

I want My Church to know that I love them. I love My Church, My called out ones. You are My prized possession, of My own choosing. How I love you! You cannot understand how much I love you, but you can accept what I have done for you. Rest in My love. Take heart and rest in My love for you, My chosen ones!

The world will marvel at how much I love My church. I have called you out to put you on display and show how beautiful you are to Me. When I say that you are My treasure, My prized possession, I mean what I say. That is what you are My beloved. Do not think that you are unlovely. Oh no, you are all glorious within. You ARE My treasure, something of great value to Me. I created you for Myself, for My pleasure.

So rest in My love. You will be like one who has found contentment in My eyes. Enjoy My love for you. Delight yourself in Me. This brings Me tremendous joy and satisfaction to see you contented in Me. Do you know this?

Watch and see what I am going to do, says the Lord. Watch and marvel! You will be in awe! You will be astounded! Mark My word, I love My Church and I am going to display My glory in Her in these coming days. Watch and see the revealing of My true sons and daughters in this hour!

Watch and see and believe!"

The World Will Have To Deal With The Cross

Heidi Cummins

Jesus asked one of His disciples, Peter, "Who do you say that I am?"

Jesus is bringing this question to the whole world right now and asking this present generation, "Who do you say that I am?"

The people of the world(including the Church) will have to deal with the reckoning of the cross. It is being brought to their attention- Jesus is bringing it to the forefront of their attention.

They will have to make a choice. The whole world will have to make a choice about Jesus. They will either accept Jesus or reject Jesus based on who they believe Jesus is.

There is no more middle ground. There is no more wiggle room. You are either for Jesus completely, or you are against Jesus completely. You can't be half for Jesus anymore. You can't be half against Jesus anymore. It is all or nothing.

The choice is your's and your's alone to make. Mom, Dad, brother, sister, relative, friend, cannot make the choice for you. It must be your's and your's alone. By your words, you be held accountable.

To the world, Jesus asks "Who do you say I am?"

Every individual's destiny, hinges on that question.

Soon it will be answered by every person on the face of the earth. Those in the world will give their final answer. There will be no turning back. This will be their final decision.

It’s Later Than You Think

Dee Hoetmer

10th May 2004

Do you not discern the times or the season Beloved? The season is late, even unto the end of an era, an epoch.

Great things will come forth now, even suddenly. The heavens are soon to fold away into a scroll and great darkness will cover the earth. The evil one is spewing out his hordes from the gates and portals of hell. He is sending them forth, even those he has reserved for this time, to wage war on the saints.

Isaiah 34:4 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig tree.

Revelation 6:14 And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

These things must come to pass, all that has been prophesied will come to pass. Even the son of perdition is soon to be revealed. Great upheaval is soon to occur, in the nations and in creation.

2Thessalonians 2:3 Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

Do not let fear possess your heart Beloveds, for those who have honored MY name, I WILL NOW HONOR. You will go forth as My dread champions, you will disseminate many of the foe who have been sent forth to beguile and lead astray those not IN My h Heart.

I am not sending you My prophet of doom and gloom, BUT OF GREAT LIGHT AND LOVE, for as you behold these things coming to past, I will lift up My banner over you, proclaim you MY DREAD CHAMPIONS OF WAR and send you forth. It is by My Spirit in you, that you will go forth!

The peoples will see you as MY SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF GLORY. The devil and his hordes will cringe at the sight of you. He is even now cringing at what I am bringing forth in you Beloved, a PEOPLE MIGHTY AND STRONG IN BATTLE.

As the son of perdition is revealed, there will be persecution Beloved, BUT KNOW THIS, they can do nothing to you that I do not allow, even death will be stayed by My hand.

This is a time to rise up, be bold and do great exploits IN MY NAME.

Those who have given Me honor, those who have favor with Me, will lack nothing. Beloveds. YOU WILL LACK NOTHING, in this time of coming turmoil.

Even as we now speak, I AM orchestrating things for your provision. I will, in a word, “move heaven and earth” to see that My perfect will come to past in your lives, MY BELOVEDS, MY BEAUTIFUL

BELOVEDS!

I Am Coming To Reign In Holiness And Justice
Dee Hoetmer

It is with much pacing about the floor, in sorrow and travail of spirit, that I write the word of the Lord this day. The Lord said to me three times "write it down"

Be prepared My People, I am a God of Love and Mercy, but also of Holiness and Justice.

Will you continue to tread under foot those who are poor in spirit? You religious Pharisees who know My Word but do not have My Love, I am coming to judge you! Repent before I come with a swift sword on My swift steed!

You have muddied the waters with your feet. You have trampled My Word under foot as you have manipulated its true meaning, for your own ends. No more shall it be so, for I will remove My true sheep from under your care. I will take them under My Wing and nurture, restore and heal them.

You have kept captive those who are called for My End Time Army, with your control and false doctrines. I AM releasing them from bondage; I AM putting them into My Mighty Army. Yea, the very ones you thought you owned to manipulate and control for your own ends, will be no more. You will look for them, but will not find them, for I will remove them from your fold and place them in My fold!

Oh haughty ones with unrepentant hearts, I have called and called, spoken and spoken, but you heeded it not. With a thunderclap and with a roar from My Throne, these will be removed from under your care and nurtured by My Spirit, to become part of My End Time Army.

And what of you my false shepherds, you have a small window of time to repent and truly seek My face, before I come to you. Did I not tell you that judgment will first come to My house, you have been warned.

Eze 34:7 Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD; Eze 34:8 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, BUT THE SHEPHERDS FED THEMSELVES, AND FED NOT MY FLOCK; Eze 34:9 Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD; Eze 34:10 Thus saith the Lord GOD; BEHOLD, I AM AGAINST THE SHEPHERDS; AND I WILL REQUIRE MY FLOCK AT THEIR HAND, AND CAUSE THEM TO CEASE FROM FEEDING THE FLOCK; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; FOR I WILL DELIVER MY FLOCK FROM THEIR MOUTH, that they may not be meat for them. Eze 34:11 For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I, even I, WILL BOTH SEARCH MY SHEEP, AND SEEK THEM OUT. Eze 34:12 As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. Eze 34:13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country. Eze 34:14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. Eze 34:15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD. Eze 34:16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: BUT I WILL DESTROY THE FAT AND THE STRONG; I WILL FEED THEM WITH JUDGMENT. Eze 34:17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, between the rams and the he goats. Eze 34:18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have eaten up the good pasture, BUT YE MUST TREAD DOWN WITH YOUR FEET THE RESIDUE OF YOUR PASTURES? AND TO HAVE DRUNK OF THE DEEP WATERS, BUT YE MUST FOUL THE RESIDUE WITH YOUR FEET?

"RETURN, AMERICA, TO THE LORD YOUR GOD"
-Hosea 14:1

40 Days of Corporate Prayer & Fasting for National Repentance
September 24 - November 2, 2004

FINAL THREE DAYS OF CONCENTRATED PRAYER & FASTING
October 30 - November 2

"Return to Me.and I will return to you." --Zechariah 1:3

"Come to Me, all you who are labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you and learn from Me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy and My burden is light."
--Jesus of Nazareth; Matthew 11:28-30

In accordance with II Chronicles 7:14:

"If my people which are called by My name, will humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways;
then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

MANY are continuing in a variety of 40-Day and other God-appointed protracted fasts and prayer disciplines. Leaders are issuing calls to special prayer and fasting vigils. Churches and networks have orchestrated unbroken 24/7 prayer and fasting chains, and some individuals and members of churches will be maintaining a more severe closing fast, like an Esther fast. (Esther 4:16) Some churches and groups are also engaging in corporate Ezra fasts. (Ezra 8:21-23)

THESE FINAL THREE DAYS will continue to be marked by repentance and a "crying out to God" - for mercy, for the exposure and thwarting of all assassination and terrorist attacks, for cleansing and deliverance from sin, transgression and iniquity, for the dismantling of occult systems and shields, for the tearing down of the strongholds of pride, deception and lies, for the election of God-fearing men and women into public office across the USA, for the speedy legal settlement of all contested election results, for safe passage into future days, and for grace unto obedience for the believing Church in America to fulfill the Great Commandment (Mt 22:37-40) and the Great Commission (Mt 28:18-20).

PRAYING THE NEWS after the Nov 2nd elections will help settle disputed vote counts, release grace into the divided soul of the nation, and continue to restrain terrorists and the evil one.

".for the Lord your God is gracious and compassionate. He will not turn His face from you if you return to Him."
-Hezekiah, II Chronicles 30:9-10

"THE UN AND THE TERRORISTS. DESIRE TO BRING AMERICA UNDER SUBMISSION TO A GODLESS GLOBAL SOCIETY AND REMOVE HER AS A PROTECTOR OF ISRAEL" - (Excerpted from article by Bill Wilson, Word Of Life Ministry, www.dailyjot.com; Original titled "Election Significance") Tuesday's Presidential election is of paramount significance from a Biblical perspective, otherwise why would the enemies of God be so actively working to influence the outcome. When I say "enemies of God," I mean those who support the secular humanist agenda or deny the deity of the one true God, Jehovah. There are a myriad of issues before the nation from health care costs to jobs, but none are nearly as important as the soul of the nation, which is at stake in this election.

The United Nations, an ardently secular organization that wishes to establish a one-world government, has taken sides in this election-a precedent of huge proportions. U.N. Secretary General Kofi Annan, two weeks before the election, parroted the Democratic Party's talking points by saying the war in Iraq is illegal and the world is not safer with the removal of Saddam Hussein from power. Mohamed ElBaradei, the U.N.'s nuclear watchdog, launched the "October surprise" which implied recent U.S. negligence in securing explosives known to be missing for over 18 months. Democratic Presidential nominee John F. Kerry has since used the issue despite its veracity being thoroughly suspect.

Now al Qaeda has joined its more mainstream Muslim brethren with a very public opposition to the reelection of President George W. Bush. A video tape obtained by ABC News thought to be genuine al Qaeda by the FBI and CIA threatens consequences for reelecting the President, it says "People of America, that was the verdict, now for the sentencing: As participants and partners in the crimes of the regime, you too shall pay the price for the blood that has been spilled." The video tape also says, "Allah willing, the streets of America will run red with blood, matching drop for drop the blood of America's victims."

The United Nations and the terrorists want George W. Bush defeated. Not because they wish to broker peace, but rather because they desire to bring America under submission to a godless global society and remove her as a protector of Israel. The United States is the only obstacle to the advancement of Islam against Israel and it is the only superpower rooted in Christianity. The anti-American factions see George W. Bush as the one man standing in obstruction to their diabolical plans. It is your choice as an American Christian as to the direction of this nation. It is in your hands. As Joshua said, "And if it seems evil to you to serve the Lord, choose for yourselves this day whom you will serve.but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

PENTAGON ACCOUNTS FOR "MISSING" EXPLOSIVES; U.S. TEAM REMOVED AND DESTROYED 250 TONS OF IRAQI MUNITIONS - A spokesman for the Pentagon said Friday that a U.S. army unit removed 250 tons of ammunition from a weapons depot in Iraq and later destroyed it. The explosives' whereabouts have dominated headlines since Monday, when the United Nations' nuclear watchdog reported that close to 400 tons of explosives had gone missing from the al Qaqaa storage facility south of Baghdad. The Airborne company's former commander told reporters his unit removed some 250 tons of explosives when it was at al Qaqaa on April 13, 2003.

Video evidence emerged Thursday night that potentially proves U.S. troops were at the Iraqi military base where tons of high explosives went missing -- before the weapons disappeared. A Minnesota television crew embedded with U.S. 101st Airborne Division in Iraq recorded the video at the al-Qaqaa munitions base in April 18, 2003, nine days after the fall of Saddam Hussein. Rebroadcast by ABC News, the footage shows troops inspecting what appear to be the now-missing explosives, still in barrels stamped with International Atomic Energy Agency markings. (CTV.ca News, Bell Globemedia Inc.)

The question of what happened to the explosives has become a major issue in the closing days of the 2004 presidential campaign. Democratic presidential hopeful John Kerry says the missing explosives are an example of the Bush administration's poor planning and incompetence in handling the war in Iraq.

The Washington Times on Thursday quoted John A. Shaw, the deputy undersecretary of defense for international technology security, who said he believed Russian special-forces personnel, working with Iraqi intelligence, "almost certainly" removed the high-explosive material from Al-Qaqaa. Shaw said he believed the munitions were moved to Syria in the weeks before the March 2003 invasion. (Fox News)

SERIOUSLY ILL, ARAFAT LEAVES MIDDLE EAST TO SEEK LIFE-SAVING TREATMENT IN FRANCE

-- PRAY that redemption come to the houses of Yasser Arafat, those in his related organizations and the entire population of the Palestinian/Arab people in Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Syria and Lebanon.
-- PRAY that at the time of Yasser Arafat's death, whenever that occurs, the entire Palestinian population, in their grief, be affected in ways that would lead them to seek the true God, and in their seeking, they would experience a saving encounter with Yeshua, their Messiah.
-- PRAY that the anticipated bloodshed resulting from organizations contending to fill the power vacuum left after Arafat's death WILL NOT OCCUR and that a reprieve would come and allow a time of great harvest of souls in the Middle East region and around the world.
-- PRAY that, upon his death, Arafat will not be buried on the Temple Mount in Jerusalem, as he has ordered.

A weakened Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat left the West Bank for the first time in 2-1/2 years on Friday and flew to France for treatment in a military hospital. He was stretchered inside. He was expected to be flown to Percy military hospital in Clamart, near Paris. The sleek and modern hospital has a strong reputation for treating blood disorders including cancer. Palestinian officials and Arafat associates say he has been unable to eat and suffers from vomiting and diarrhea. They have offered conflicting explanations for the symptoms, ascribing them at different times to a severe flu, an intestinal infection, gallstones and a blood disorder, possibly leukemia.

France has traditionally good ties with the Palestinians and wants to raise its profile in Middle East peacemaking. It has kept close ties to Arafat, saying he is central to any Middle East peace, while other Western states have avoided contact with him. Arafat's slide into illness has raised fears of chaos among Palestinians, whose 4-year-old uprising has stalled. The death of a leader whom Israel and its U.S. ally see as an obstacle to peace could shuffle the cards in the Middle East conflict as the United States heads into a presidential election on Tuesday. (Reuters, Washington Post, 10/29/04)

ARAFAT ROBS THE PALESTINE INTERNATIONAL BANK - (Middle East Forum, By Issam Abu Issa, founder of the Palestinian National Coalition for Democracy and Independence, a Palestinian democratic reform movement.) I returned to Ramallah from Qatar after the Oslo accords and in 1996 founded the Palestine International Bank (PIB), hoping to build a thriving economy in the newly autonomous PA areas.

On November 28, 1999, Arafat dissolved the PIB's board of directors, and the state-controlled Palestine Monetary Authority took over the bank, whose assets amounted to $105 million, a confiscation of my own, my shareholders', and my clients' private assets for Arafat's personal use. Many of us who worked with or lived under Arafat see him as a man exclusively concerned with power, money, and personal gratification. He heads a dictatorial regime staffed by gangsters. Arriving penniless in Gaza and the West Bank from exile in Tunisia, many PLO members amassed wealth, built villas in Gaza, Ramallah, and Amman, and sent their children to the best schools in the UK and the U.S.

The Palestinian Economic Council for Development and Reconstruction, an organization meant to channel funds from donor countries like France and Germany, became a mechanism by which to enrich Arafat. Authenticated PLO papers signed by Arafat instruct his staff to divert donors' money to projects benefiting himself, his family, and his associates.

Between 1995 and 2000, Arafat's thugs beat up at least 11 elected members of the 88-member Palestinian Legislative Council (PLC) because they voiced views in private and in public that were opposed to Arafat's. One of Arafat's favorite slogans was "Democracy of the Guns." Arafat believes true power lies in force, whether directed against Israelis or against his own people.

Arafat's failed leadership is one factor responsible for the evolution of Palestinian extremism and fundamentalism, as well as a culture of death and despair among the Palestinians. Increasing numbers of Palestinians blame U.S. and Israeli officials who calculated that a Palestinian dictatorship would make a better negotiating partner than a Palestinian democracy. When growing pressure in the Palestinian territories forced Arafat to find a scapegoat for his political failure, mismanagement, and economic plunder, he turned his guns toward the Israelis.

FRANCE FINANCE MINISTER SEEKS FUNDING FOR MOSQUES - (Intercessors Network, Intercessors.Network@Comhem.se) France's finance minister, a presidential hopeful, says mosques need state funding and it's time for a century-old law banning financing for religious groups to be modernized, according to excerpts of a new book hitting the shelves on Thursday, October 28. Nicolas Sarkozy, in his book "The Republic, Religions, Hope," says extremism is festering in underground mosques and Islamic groups don't have money to build houses of worship. "What is dangerous is not minarets, but caves and garages that keep clandestine religious groups hidden," Sarkozy says in the book, according to excerpts published in Le Monde and other French newspapers Tuesday.

Unlike Jewish and Christian groups with a history in France, Islam is relatively new here and needs a helping hand, Sarkozy says. "In light of our past experiences and our errors, let us prove our modesty and tolerance. Have we already forgotten our crusades?" The proposal to modify a 1905 law banning state subsidies for religious groups is sure to spark debate in France, which cherishes its secular underpinnings.

In My Image and Likeness
Terry Suggs

What is man that God is so thoughtful of him? Why did God place such a high value on a man's life? Why is man so important? Why was God so concerned about man that He (Jesus, God's Son) got into a body, lived as a man, reconciled and restored man back to Himself?
Why did Jesus allow Himself to be beaten, mocked, humiliated, His bearded pulled out and then crucified? We know that He did this because He loved us, but there were other reasons as well. He wanted man restored to his original position that he had before Adam sinned against God and lost it.
Jesus is the value of man, for it cost His life to redeem mankind. It cost the life of God the Son.
It pleased the Father to bruise His Son.
Adam did not have a natural father. Jesus did not have a natural father. They were both born of God. They had God's characteristics and nature.
Psalm 8:4-6
What is man that you are mindful of him and the son of man that you care for him?
Yet you have made him a little lower than Elohim and you have crowned him with glory and honor.
You made him to have dominion over the works of your hands; you have put all things under his feet.
Gen 1:26
God said, let us (Father, Son, and Holy Ghost) make mankind in Our image, after Our likeness (Express image, mirror image), and let them have complete authority over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the tame beasts and over all the earth. So, God created man in His Own image, and in the image and likeness of God He created him.
Then Lord God formed man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath or spirit of life, and man became a living being (another speaking spirit).
He was first created by God then his body was formed and what God created was put into the body.
Genesis 3:8-10
God loves to fellowship with man.
Luke 3:23-38
Man is the offspring of God.
I Cor. 6:17
But the person who is united to the Lord becomes one spirit with Him. Paul the Apostle was inspired by the Holy Ghost when he said that without Christ I can do nothing.

I Cor. 3:16-17
Do you not discern and understand that you (the whole church at Corinth) are God's temple (His sanctuary), and that God's Spirit has His permanent dwelling in you (to be at home in you, collectively as a church also individually?
If anyone does hurt to God's temple or corrupts it (with false doctrines) or destroys it, God will do hurt to him and bring him to the corruption of death and destroy him. For the temple of God is holy (sacred to Him) and that temple you (the believing church and its individual believers) are.
As He is so are we in this world.
Acts 17:28-29
For in Him we live move and have our being, as even some of your own poets have said, for we are also His offspring.
Since then we are God's offspring, we ought not to suppose that Deity (the Godhead) is like gold or silver or stone, (or the nature of) a representation by human art and imagination, or anything constructed or invented.
Man is much more than a physical being.
Man is an eternal creature.
Hebrews 2:6-11
It has been solemnly and earnestly said in a certain place, what is man that you are mindful of him or the son of man that you graciously and helpfully care for and visit and look after him?
For some little time You have ranked him lower than Elohim. You have crowned him with glory and honor and set him over the works of your hands.
For you have put everything in subjection under his feet. Now in putting everything in subjection to man, He left nothing outside of Man's control.

But at present we don’t yet see all things subjected to him (man).

But we are able to see Jesus Who was ranked a little lower than Elohim for a little while, crowned with glory and honor because of His having suffered death in order that by the grace (unmerited favor) of God (to us sinners) He might experiemce death for every individual person.

For it was an act worthy of God and fitting to the divine nature that He, for Whose sake and by Whom all things have their existence, in bringing many sons into glory, should make the Pioneer of their salvation perfect (should bring to maturity the human experience necessary to be perfectly equipped for His office as High Priest through suffering.

For both He Who sanctifies (making men holy) and those who are sanctified all have one Father. For this reason He is not ashamed to call them brethren. For He says I will declare Your (the Father’s) name to My brethren, in the midst of the worshiping congregation I will sing hymns of praise to you.

James 1:18

And it was of His Own free will that He gave us birth as sons by His Word of Truth, so that we should be a kind of first fruits of His creatures (a sample of what He created to be consecrated to Himself).

Romans 8:29-30

For those whom He foreknew (of Whom He was aware and loved beforehand, He also destined from the beginning foreordaining them) to be molded into the image of His Son, and share inwardly His likeness, that He might become the Firstborn of many brethren.

And those whom He thus foreordained , He also called, and those whom He called, He also justified, (acquitted, made righteous, putting them into rightstanding with Himself).

And those whom He justified, He also glorified, raising them to a heavenly dignity and condition and condition or state of being.

John 3:17-18

For God did not send the Son into the world to judge (to reject, to condemn, to pass sentence on) the world, but the world might find salvation and be made safe and sound through Him.

He Who believes in Him (who clings to, relies on Him) is not judged (he who trusts in Him never comes up for judgment; for him there is no rejection, no condemnation – he incurs no damnation); but he who does not believe (cleave to rely on, trusts in Him) is judged already (he has already been convicted and has already received his sentence) because he has not believed in and trusted in the name of the only begotten Son of God. (He is condemned for refusing to let his trust rest in Christ’s name).

Psalm 82:1-7

Man has a position as representatives of God, and a position of children of God.

God stands in the assembly (of the representatives) of God; in the midst of the magistrates or judges He gives judgment (as) among gods.

How long will you (magistrates or judges) judge unjustly and show partiality to the wicked?

Do justice to the weak (poor) and fatherless; maintain the rights of the afflicted and needy.

Deliver the poor and needy; rescue them out of the hand of the wicked.

(The magistrates and judges) know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in the darkness (of complacent satisfaction); all the foundations of the earth (the fundamental principles upon which rests the administration of justice) are shaking.

I said, you are gods (since you judge on My behalf, as My representatives); indeed, all of you are children of the Most High.

But you shall die as men and fall as one of the princes.

I Cor. 6:2-3

Do you not know that the saints (the believers will judge and govern the world? And if the world itself is to be judged and ruled by you, are you unworthy and incompetent to try (such petty matters) of the smallest courts of justice?

Do you know also that we (Christians) are to judge the very angels and pronounce opinion between right and wrong (for them)? How much more then (as to) matters pertaining to this world and of this life only!

John 5:26-27

For even as the Father has life in Himself and is self existent, so He has given to the Son to have life in Himself and be self existent.

And He has given Him authority and granted Him power to execute (exercise, practice) judgment because He is a Son of Man (very man).

Jesus as the son of man had dominion over everything in this world.

Psalm 115:15

The earth has He given to the children of men.
John 14:12
Jesus said, I assure you most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, He will himself be able to do the things that I do, and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.
A man in God's image and likeness was to rule over the creation of God.
God's first man failed to keep his position.
God's second man Jesus restored man to headship.
Adam had dominion and authority over all the earth.
Jesus the last Adam has authority over heaven and earth.
Adam did not have a natural father.
Jesus did not have a natural father.
John 3:35
The Father loves the Son and has given (entrusted, committed) everything into His hand.
Jesus was called the last Adam. Adam operated on earth the same way that Jesus operated on earth.
I Tim. 1:9-10
Knowing and understanding this: that the Law is not enacted for the righteous those who are already made right through accepting Christ, (the upright and just, who are in right standing with God), but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinful, for the irreverent and profane, for those who strike and beat and even murder fathers and strike and beat and even murder mothers, for manslayers.
For impure and immoral persons, those who abuse themselves with men, kidnapers, liars, perjurers and whatever else is opposed to wholesome teaching and sound doctrine.

Hebrews 1:2-3
But in these last days, He has spoken to us in the person of His Son, Whom He appointed Heir and lawful Owner of all things, also by and through Whom He created the worlds and reaches of space and the ages of time He made, produced, built, operated and arranged them in order.
Jesus Is the sole expression of the glory of God (the Light Being, the out raying radiance of the divine and He is the perfect imprint and very image of God's nature, Upholding and maintaining and guiding and propelling the universe by His mighty Word of power. When He had by offering Himself accomplished our cleansing of sins and riddance of guilt, He sat down at the right hand of the Divine Majesty on high.
II Cor. 5:17
Therefore if any person is ingrafted in Christ (the Messiah) he is a new creation (a new creation altogether), the old (previous moral and spiritual condition) has passed away. Behold the fresh and new has come!
II Cor. 6:18
And I will be a Father to you, and you shall be My sons and daughters, says the Lord Almighty.
I Cor. 3:21-23
So let no one exult proudly concerning men (boasting of having this or that man as a leader), for all things are yours.
Whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas, or the universe or life or death, or the immediate and threatening present or the subsequent and uncertain future, all are yours, and you are Christ's and Christ is God's.
II Cor. 19
It was God personally present in Christ, reconciling and restoring the world to favor with Himself, not counting up and holding against men their trespasses (but canceling them) and committing them to us the message of reconciliation (of the restoration to favor).
II Peter 1:3-4
For His divine power has bestowed upon us all things that are requisite and suited to life and godliness, through the full personal knowledge of Him Who called us by and to His Own glory and excellence (virtue).
Now our minds have to catch up to where God has placed us.
I Cor. 2:16
For who has known or understood the mind (the counsels and purposes) of the Lord so as to guide an instruct Him and give Him knowledge? But we have the mind of Christ (the Messiah) and do hold the thoughts (feelings and purposes) of His heart.

Philippians 2:5,13

Let this same attitude and purpose and humble mind be in you which was in Christ Jesus.
Who, although being essentially one with God and in the form of God (possessing the fullness of the attributes which make God, God, did not think this equality with God was a thing to be eagerly grasped or retained.
For it is God Who is all the while effectually at work in you energizing and creating in you the power and desire, both to will and to work for His good pleasure and satisfaction and delight.
Ephesians 4:18-25
Their moral understanding is darkened and their reasoning is beclouded. They are alienated, estranged, and self banished from the life of God with no share in it; this is because of the ignorance, the want of knowledge and perception, the willful blindness that is deep-seated in them, due to their hardness of heart (to the insensitiveness of their moral nature).
In their spiritual apathy they have become callous and past feeling and reckless and have abandoned themselves (a prey) to unbridled sensuality, eager and greedy to indulge in every form of impurity (that their depraved desires may suggest and demand.
But you did not so learn Christ!
Assuming that you have really heard Him and been taught by Him, as all Truth is in Jesus (embodied and personified in Him).
Strip yourselves of your former nature (put off and discard your old unrenewed self) which characterized your previous manner of life and becomes corrupt through lusts and desires that spring from delusion;
And be constantly renewed in the spirit of your mind (having a fresh mental and spiritual attitude. And put on the new nature (the regenerate self) created in God’s image, (Godlike) in true righteousness and holiness.
Therefore, rejecting all falsity and being done now with it, let everyone express the truth with his neighbor, for we are all parts of one body and members one of another.
Ephesians 2:5-6
And He raised us up together with Him and made us sit down together (giving us joint seating with Him) in the heavenly sphere (by virtue of our being) in Christ Jesus (the Messiah, the Anointed One).
Even when we were dead slain by our own shortcomings and trespasses, He made us alive together in fellowship and in union with Christ; He gave us the very life of Christ Himself, the same new life with which He quickened Him, for it is by grace (His favor and mercy which you did not deserve) that you are saved (delivered from judgment and made partakers of Christ’s salvation.

Romans 8:17
And if we are His children, then we are His heirs also; heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ sharing His inheritance with Him.
Only we must share His suffering if we are to share His glory.
John 15:19
You are not of this world but only in it, no longer one with it.
John 1:12,16
But to as many as did receive and welcome Him, He gave the authority (power, privilege, right) to become the children of God, that is, to those who believe in adhere to, trust in and rely on) his name.
For out of His fullness (abundance), we have all received (all had a share and we were all supplied with) one grace after another and spiritual blessing upon spiritual blessing even favor upon favor and gift heaped upon gift.
I Cor. 1:8-9
And He will establish you to the end (keep you steadfast, give you strength, and guarantee you vindication; He will be your warrant against all accusation or indictment so that you will be) guiltless and irreproachable in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ (the Messiah).
God is Faithful (reliable, trustworthy, and therefore ever true to His promise, and He can be depended on); by him you were called into companionship and participation with His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.
I Peter 1:23
You have been regenerated (born again), not from a mortal origin (seed, sperm), but from one that is immortal by the ever living and lasting Word of God.
God seed or the Word of God is the incorruptible and indestructible seed. A seed will produce fruit of the kind of seed that it is.
We were born of the incorruptible, indestructible seed of God. It will produce sons and daughters of God. The incorruptible seed produces incorruptible fruit.

Ephesians 1:22-23
And He has put all things under His feet and has appointed Him the universal and supreme Head of the church, Which is His body, the fullness of Him Who fills all in all (for in that body lives the full measure of Him who makes everything complete, and Who fills everything everywhere with Himself).
Ephesians 2:18,22
For it is through Him that we both (whether far off or near) now have an introduction (access) by one Holy Spirit to the Father (so that we are able to approach Him).
In Him and in fellowship with one another you yourselves also are being built up into this structure with the rest, to form a fixed abode, dwelling place of God in (by, through) the Spirit.

Ephesians 3:19
That you may really come to know practically, through experience for yourselves the love of Christ, which far surpasses mere knowledge without experience; that you may be filled through all your being unto all the fullness of God, may have the richest measure of the divine Presence, and become a body wholly filled and flooded with God Himself!

Religious traditions make the Word of God ineffective. No one can keep the law. But there are some still teaching a legalistic doctrine, because it lets them manipulate and intimidate their listeners. The law was given to show us that no one could possibly keep the law of God. Jesus is the One and only One that could fulfill the requirements of God’s law. He lived a perfect and sinless life.
He bestowed His righteousness upon us. He imputed His righteousness to us, It means there was a heavenly transaction when pour out His blood on the mercy seat, and cleansed the books and the sins of every man.
He obliterated our sins. He took them away forever.
Calvary covers every sin ever committed except blasphemy.
Ephesians 4: 12-13
His intension was the perfecting and the full equipping of the saints (His consecrated people), that they should do, the work of ministering toward building up Christ’s body (the church),
That it might develop, until we all attain oneness in the faith and in the comprehension of the full and accurate knowledge of the Son of God, that we might arrive at really mature manhood (the completeness of perfection), the completeness of personality which is nothing less than the standard height of Christ’s Own perfection, the measure of the stature of the fullness of the Christ and the completeness found in Him.
Remember “as He Is, so are we in this world”.

The Spiritual House
Terry Suggs

Haggai 2:9
The latter glory of this house (with its successor, to which Jesus came) shall be greater than the former, says the Lord of hosts; and in this place will I give peace and prosperity says the Lord of hosts.
I Peter 2:5
Come and, like living stones, be yourselves, built (into) a spiritual house, for a holy (dedicated, consecrated) priesthood, to offer up (those) spiritual sacrifices (that are) acceptable and pleasing to God through Jesus Christ.
Ephesians 3:3-4
And that the mystery (secret) was made known to me and I was allowed to comprehend it by direct revelation, as I already briefly wrote to you. When you read this you can understand my in sight into the mystery of Christ.
Col. 2:
For in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily. And you are complete in Him, which is the Head of all principality and power.
Col. 3:1-4
If you then are risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sits on the right hand of God. Set your affections on things above not on things on earth.

For as far as the world is concerned, you have died, your (new real) life is hidden With Christ in God. When Christ who is our life shall appear, then shall you also appear with Him in the splendor of His glory.

Galatians 2:20

I have been crucified with Christ. (I share in His crucifixion). It is no longer I who live, but Christ (the Messiah) lives in me; and the life I now live in my body I live by the faith in adherence to and reliance on and complete trust in the Son of God, Who loved me and gave Himself up for me.

Ephesians 5:8

For you were once darkness, but now are you light in the Lord; walk as children of Light (lead thee lives of those native-born to the light).

Col. 1:11-13

You are strengthened with all might according to His glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness. Giving thanks unto the father, Who has qualified and made us fit to share the portion which is the inheritance of the saints (God's holy people) in the Light.

The Father has delivered and drawn us to Himself out of the control and the dominion of darkness and has transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His Love. In Whom we have our redemption through His blood, which means the forgiveness of our sins.

John 14:20

At that time (when that day comes) you will know for yourselves, that I am in My father, and you are in Me, and I am in you.

I John 4:13

By this we come to realize, receive, recognize, and understand that we abide live and remain in Him and He in us; because He has given or imparted to us of His Holy Spirit.

v. 15 Anyone who confesses or acknowledges, owns that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides (lives, makes His home) in him and he abides (lives, makes his home) in God.

I John 5:11-12

And this is that testimony that evidence, God gave us eternal life, and this life is in His Son.

He who possesses the Son has that life; he who does not possess the Son of God does not have that life.

Col. 1:27

To whom God was pleased to make known how great for the gentiles are the riches of the glory of this mystery, which is Christ within and among you, the Hope of realizing the glory.

Luke 17:21

The kingdom of God is within you.

I Cor. 11:7

A man is the image and reflected glory of God.

II Cor. 3:18

And all of us as with unveiled face because we continued to behold in the Word of God as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are constantly being transfigured into His very own image in ever increasing splendor an from one degree of glory to another, for this comes from the Lord Who is the Spirit.

II Cor. 4:7

We possess this precious treasure (the divine Light of the gospel) in frail human vessels of earth , that grandeur and exceeding greatness of the power may be shown to be from God and not from ourselves.

Col. 2:9-10

For in Him the whole fullness of Deity (the Godhead) continues to dwell in bodily form (giving complete expression of the divine nature.

And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life in Christ you too are filled with the Godhead-Father, Son and Holy Spirit- reach full spiritual stature. And He is the Head of all rule and authority(of every angelic principality and power.

God has prepared His people to receive of the fullness of His life at this point in human history. This is not just a move of God we are experiencing. This is all God this time.

Pray like it is your last day on earth. Don't be distracted now. Let things rest that are we are doing to appease our fleshly desires.

Some are still not aware of the time we are in. They go to church just to have a social gathering. God wants us to be in tuned to the direction of the Holy Spirit. Some great sermons are preached, but there are not many souls won to the Lord.

There are masses of hurting and physically ill people seeking God for help in churches where there is no clue about what God wants to do to help them. God is looking for someone to show Himself strong in.
This is your golden opportunity to step up to the front in God. Just get into serious prayer times. Let God talk to you through His word.

Matt. 14: 17-21
They said to Jesus, we have nothing but five loaves and two fish. Jesus said bring them here to me. He gave thanks and blessed and broke the loaves and handed the pieces to the disciples and the disciples gave them to the people.
They all ate. 5,000 men, not including the women and children
Matt. 14:25-29
And in the fourth watch (between 3am and 6am) of the night, Jesus came to them saying, take courage! I AM! Stop being afraid.
Peter answered Him, Lord if it is You, command me to come to you on the water.
He said "Come". So, Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water. And he came toward Jesus.
Matt. 14:35
And when the men of Gennesaret recognized Him, they sent around into the surrounding country and brought to Him all who were sick. And begged Him to let them merely touch the fringe of His garment, and as many as touched it were perfectly restored.

Step out of your boat of limitations, and procrastination, your boat of doubt, fear, unbelief, your boat of apprehension, and uncertainty. Step into the unlimited spiritual realm. Step out to where I AM, where all things are possible. Come to me. It is My righteousness, My Spirit, My word, and My faithfulness, My power, My fullness, My compassion, My Strength, My Grace, My goodness and mercy, My wisdom, My ability and your faith in my faithfulness that causes all things to be possible for you.
Come to me with your weaknesses, your negativity, your procrastination, your weak faith, your uncertainty, your hopelessness, your imperfections, your cowardice and shame.
Come to me because you are sons and daughters of The Most High God.
Col. 1:16
For it was in Him that all things were created, in heaven and on earth, things seen and things unseen. Whether thrones, dominions, rulers, or authorities, all things were created and exist through Him (by His service, intervention) and in and for Him.
17)And He Himself existed before all things, and in Him all things consist (cohere, are held together)
Col. 2:9-10
For in Him the whole fullness of deity (the Godhead) continues to dwell in bodily form (giving complete expression of the divine nature.
10)And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life (in Christ you too are filled with the Godhead-Father, Son and Holy Spirit) and reach full spiritual (stature) and He is the Head of all rule and authority (of every angelic principality and power).
18) Let no one defraud you by acting as a umpire and declaring you unworthy and disqualifying you for the prize.

Col. 3:1

If then you have been raised with Christ (to a new life, thus sharing His resurrection from the dead, aim at and seek the (rich, eternal treasures) that are above where Christ is seated at the right hand of God.

And set your minds and keep them set on what is above the higher things, not on things that are on earth.

10) Clothe yourselves with the new (spiritual self) which is ever in process of being renewed and remolded into (fuller) and more perfect knowledge upon knowledge after the image (the likeness) of Him who created it.

11) In this new creation, all distinctions vanish. There is no room for and there can be neither Greek nor Jew, circumcised nor uncircumcised, nor difference between nations (whether alien) barbarians or Scythians (who are the most savage of all) nor slave or free man: but Christ is all and in all (everything an everywhere , to all men without distinction of person).

Colossians Chapter 1, Chapter 2

God has translated us into the kingdom of His dear Son. God has translated us into the kingdom of all power, all wisdom, all might, all glory, all faith, all fullness, all spiritual blessings, all spiritual understanding, all supply, all riches, all patience and longsuffering.

My children I have not left you in a forsaken place but I the Lord have walked with you through every level and stage. You have known the abundance of My presence in your lives through My financial blessing upon you, through My Joy and My peace which surround you continually and through My love. Yet if I do not also take you through the fires and the hard pressed moments then how will you know Me as God and fully realise My ALL surpassing power?

Know that it is My purpose to see you grow in Me. You will only mature and come to an even deeper spiritual understanding when you have been through the valley and you have experienced My sustaining power. Keep your faith locked on Me and upon the fact that I AM who I say I AM and that no matter what the natural circumstance, you serve a supernatural God.

At this time I will level your mountains and raise the valleys. I will show you that you do not sustain yourself, but that I alone Am your source of strength. Declare My praises for surely they shall bring the strongholds of the enemy down. Life and death rest in the power of your words. Decree My words of life to your situation. Do not speak that which you will not bear responsibility to. Take hold of My promises by faith, for you are victorious warriors.

In 2004 things will never be the same as before. I say to you my chosen and anointed vessels that 2004 will be the year of the open door. I say to you who have been faithful to me and have not denied my name that in 2004 I will make them of the synagogue of Satan to come and worship before your feet and to know that I have loved you. It will be a time of breakthrough and it will be a time a deliverance. In 2004 you will be set free from all those things that have been holding you back and you will be released into the fullness of your calling, saith the lord. I will change things and I will make all things new in 2004, saith the Lord.

In 2004 violence and wicked imaginations will increase. In 2004 many shall marry, and many shall run to and fro. In 2004 it will be as it was in the days of Noah, saith the Lord. You will experience thunder and lightning. The winds will blow, and the rains will come. Hailstones will cover the earth like snow. The rivers will overflow, and the waters will cover the earth, but the earth shall not be utterly destroyed, saith the Lord.

In 2004 men will seek to make good to be evil and evil to be good. Incest, sodomy, and all manner of sexual perversions will increase. In 2004 it will be as it was in the days of Lot, saith the Lord. The earth will shake and fire will fall from heaven. But I say to you, my intercessors and chosen vessels, I have heard your cry; therefore, you shall not all perish, saith the Lord. I will send my angels to watch over you and your loved ones. They will protect you and lead you out of the judgment that is coming, saith the Lord.

In 2004 idolatry, witchcraft and devil worship will increase. In 2004 it will be as it was when I carried Ezekiel my prophet back to Jerusalem and showed him the secret sins of the children of Israel in my house, saith the Lord. Nothing will be hidden, saith the Lord. Those things done in darkness will be brought into the light, and those things done in secret will be shouted from the housetop. I am a jealous God, and because of my anger I will utterly destroy the house of the Lord, saith the Lord, but I will show mercy to whom I will show mercy, and I will reserve for myself a remnant people, saith the Lord.

In 2004 it will be as it was in the days of Moses, and the days of Aaron, and the days of Samuel, saith the Lord. They called upon my name, and I the Lord answered them from the midst of the cloudy pillar. Soon you will not be able to look upon the faces of my chosen vessels because of my manifested glory, saith the Lord. I will visit you in the cloud by day, I will visit you in the fire by night, I will visit you in the thick smoke, and I will visit you in the cloudy pillar, saith the Lord. In 2004 open visions will increase. In 2004 dreams will increase. In 2004 miracles will increase. In 2004 you will experience a new move of my Spirit. 2004 will be known as the year of the creative healing revival. Yes, in 2004 things will never be the same as before. In 2004 you will experience both my judgment and my manifested glory, saith the Lord.

In Christ-ed Life
Doug Fortune

Aug 8, 2004
In our studies of destiny, we have discovered a Life, the eternal zoe Life of God without beginning or end, that Jesus came to give to US abundantly (John 10:10). It is a Life originating in Christ, lived in Christ and ultimately consummated in Christ... the IN-Christed life.

I used to have a Christianity that was more ENCRUSTED than In-Christed. I was encrusted in layers of inaccurate beliefs and mindsets that had slowly hardened over the years. I had built a Charismatic / Pentecostal cocoon for myself. I died in that cocoon, suffocated by my own doing. I was resurrected out of that cocoon into a new life. In reality, it's a Life older than time itself, just new to me. I don't know that I yet walk in the total fullness of that Life, but I am 'laboring to enter into the rest' of that Life.... resting in the finished work of Christ (Heb.4:11). My personal calling is to help facilitate the release of that Life through teaching and impartation, helping facilitate destiny in the lives of others.

Much of our entering into and manifesting the In-Christed Life has to do with the renewing of our minds (Rom.12:2), "For as he thinketh in his heart, so IS he..."(Prov.23:7). With that in mind, let us consider some Scriptures that speak of the progression of the In-Christed Life.

CALLED in Christ -

Romans 8:29-30 speaks of our being CALLED; "For whom He did foreknow, He also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of His Son... them He also CALLED: and whom He CALLED, them He also justified: and whom He justified, them He also glorified." The word translated as called is kaleho in Greek, meaning to call forth. It is from kelyouo, which means to incite by word. The Father foreknew us, foreordained us, and by His words spoke our calling into our being.

Isaiah 55:11 speaks of this WORD, this calling; "So shall My WORD be that goeth forth out of My mouth: it shall not return unto Me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it." The Father spoke His WORD, the deposit of Christ into you before the foundation of the world. Contained within that WORD that you heard from the beginning is the power to bring that WORD to manifestation in your life. The Father says it will prosper in the thing for which He SENT it! You are SENT, my friend! You are SENT with the destiny and purpose of the Father that He spoke into you from the beginning.

CHOSEN in Christ -

"He CHOSE us- actually picked us out for Himself as His own- in Christ BEFORE the foundation of the world..." (Eph 1:4)

"for many be called, but few CHOSEN." (Mt. 20:16)...

"Ye have not chosen Me, but I have CHOSEN you, and ordained you..."(Jn. 15:16)

To bring clarity on this subject, let us consider a progression in the seedbed of Gen.1:26-27:

CALLED - "God SAID, Let us make man..." God speaking His purpose

CHOSEN - "in Our image and likeness" - God choosing what kind of man to make CREATED - "so God created" - God bringing to manifest that which He had called and chosen.

The man that He has CHOSEN is the Man in the image and likeness of God that is inside each of us. That man is the One with zoe (Spirit) Life. We also have a choice and it is this, "For whosoever will save his life (psuche in Greek- the soulish life) shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it."(Matt.16:25). We can choose to live in the soulish Adamic man, or we can choose to live in the Christ man who is the REAL you. "For in Him we live, and move, and have our BEING..."(Acts 17:28).

This is why many are called, but few are chosen... it is not that the Father is out to exclude anybody. It is that many choose to live in the deception of the soulish psuche life, rather than the Christ Life. Thus few are chosen because the man the Father has chosen is the Christ-Man, Christ IN you the hope of glory. We are CHOSEN in Christ!

CREATED in Christ -

"For we are His workmanship, CREATED in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath BEFORE ordained that we should walk in them."(Eph.2:10)

To bring clarity, let us examine a spiritual principle at work:

God CREATES things in spirit before he FORMS or manifests them in the natural realm. He separated light from darkness the first day, yet it wasn't till the fourth day that He made the sun, moon and stars. And just like the Father CREATED man in Genesis chapter One but didn't FORM him till chapter Two; we were created in Christ before we were FORMED in the womb. The word translated as create in Genesis One is bara in Hebrew, giving the idea of creating something out of nothing... the Father SPOKE this man into existence. The word translated as formed is Genesis Two is yatsar in Hebrew meaning to squeeze or mold into a form... the Father molded this man from the earth. The substance of the man in Genesis One was spirit or breath (same word in Hebrew-ruach) as God SPOKE. The substance of the man in Genesis Two was earth.

These two men found complete expression in the Man Christ Jesus as He is the Last Adam. Did you catch that?... Jesus Christ was the LAST Adam, and He formed a perfect union of being a Spirit-Man manifested in a natural / physical body... "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us..."(John 1:14). He was the LAST Adam so that WE may become the Second Man - Christ manifest in His many-membered Body; "For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ."(1 Cor.12:12). We are no longer IN Adam as Jesus Christ was the LAST Adam; our true identity is created IN Christ!

CONSECRATED in Christ -

As we read through Exodus chapters 28 and 29 we find much pertaining to CONSECRATION- that which is set apart to the worship of God. Specifically pertaining to the consecration of Aaron and his sons as priests set apart unto God and the consecration of the tent of meeting. Without going into great detail, we can read of the garments of consecration they were to be clothed with and the ram of consecration they were to eat.

My friend, you and I are to be a "tent of meeting", a place of communion between God and men, clothed with Christ (Gal.3:27) and feeding upon His body and blood (Jn. 6:56). We are set apart, consecrated as priests unto God after the order of Melchizedek, and this consecration is only possible IN Christ.

The life of Melchizedek was without beginning or ending of days (Heb.7:3), eternal Life... and that is the Life Jesus Christ came to give to us abundantly. This is the Life that is consecrated unto God, for it is His very Life in Christ manifesting through us.

CRUCIFIED in Christ -

Only something dead can be resurrected. "For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God."(Col.3:3) "Knowing this, that our old man IS crucified WITH HIM, that the body of sin might be destroyed..."(Rom 6:6) Some are trying to 'die daily" by effort and sacrifice... this may sound noble, but it leads to a deadly form of pride - false humility. (When Paul penned those words, he literally faced physical death on a daily basis because of the culture he was in.) Dead things don't need to die daily, they're already dead. Dying daily puts the focus on OUR sacrifice and denies the power of the cross. Jesus said "...if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.(Jn. 12:32). It wasn't just one Man on the cross, YOU were there also IN Christ. When He died, you died... it didn't stop there though.

CONTINUE in Christ -

When He was resurrected, you were resurrected... or rather, the Christ Life within you was resurrected. Adam was not resurrected, he was dealt with ONCE and for all, for Jesus Christ was the LAST Adam. This is why Paul says "...nevertheless I LIVE, yet not I, but Christ lives IN me." (Gal. 2:20) "Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall CONTINUE in the Son, and in the Father." (I John 2:24-25) We are to continue in Christ, in that which we heard from the beginning - the destiny that He spoke into us before He even formed us.

CONSUMMATED in Christ -

"Making known to us the mystery of His will- of His plan, of His purpose. And it is this: In accordance with His good pleasure which He had previously purposed and set forth IN HIM, He planned for the maturity of the times and the climax of the ages to unify all things and head them up and CONSUMMATE them IN Christ..."(Eph.1:9-10)

* We WILL see the fulfillment of Gen.1:26-28; a many-membered MAN (male and female) in the image and likeness of God, filling the earth and subduing it...

* We WILL see the fulfillment of Eph.4:13 "...that WE might arrive at mature manhood, the completeness of personality which is nothing less than the standard height of Christ's own perfection."

* We WILL see the 'teleios' Perfect Many-membered Man, the Second Man...

* We WILL see the manifestation of mature 'huios' Sons of God...

Most of this progression is actually PAST tense-CALLED
CONSECRATED

and then there's-
CONTINUING CONSUMMATION

It's really a matter of becoming who we ALREADY ARE in Spirit, in Christ... bringing that finished work to manifestation in our individual and corporate Life. Let us press on to the 'mark' of manifesting the Life of Christ in the world, "because as He IS, so are WE in this world." (1 John 4:17)

Incredible Love

1 John 3:1-3 AMP
1 SEE WHAT [an incredible] quality of love the Father has given (shown, bestowed on) us, that we should [be permitted to] be named and called and counted the children of God! And so we are! The reason that the world does not know (recognize, acknowledge) us is that it does not know (recognize, acknowledge) Him.

2 Beloved, we are [even here and] now God's children; it is not yet disclosed (made clear) what we shall be [hereafter], but we know that when He comes and is manifested, we shall [as God's children] resemble and be like Him, for we shall see Him just as He [really] is.

3 And everyone who has this hope [resting] on Him cleanses (purifies) himself just as He is pure (chaste, undefiled, guiltless).

Heb 3:12-13 AMP
12 [Therefore beware] brethren, take care, lest there be in any one of you a wicked, unbelieving heart [which refuses to cleave to, trust in, and rely on Him], leading you to turn away and desert or stand aloof from the living God. 13 But instead warn (admonish, urge, and encourage) one another every day, as long as it is called Today, that none of you may be hardened [into settled rebellion] by the deceitfulness of sin [by the fraudulence, the stratagem, the trickery which the delusive glamour of his sin may play on him].

“I want you to know My children, how incredibly in love with you I am! I want you to experience that love more than anything! My Son came and shed His blood on the ground, & on the cross, that you could have this restoration of love that enables you to come into the throne room asking for grace in time of need. You are constantly able to access the throne room of heaven due to the blood of Jesus! There is not any time the doors of heaven are closed to your cries. I am present always to listen to whatever your heart wants to express or ask!

My Spirit lives in you, so that you have INSTANT ACCESS!!! Whenever two or more of you are gathered together, I AM in your midst. And anything you ask as touching ANYTHING on this earth, I will do as you pray in the Spirit.

You have not because you ask not many times. The power of agreement on any issue of need magnifies the request! Agreeing prayer is powerful prayer. This is why husbands and wives praying together is something the enemy loves to DISRUPT! He knows that if the two of you ask as touching anything, then I will immediately dispatch angels to answer! IN these times, you especially NEED AGREEING PRAYER. The enemy is trying to block you from praying together and corporately so that he can interfere with prayer requests in some way. I encourage you to pray together whenever possible for the most important things especially, and watch how mightily I will move!!!

I am looking for intimacy with you in the secret place because I am eager to shed My love in your hearts, and to answer all your needs. As the fire is purging you, you will find more and more of your prayers being answered and more swiftly than ever before. There is a build up of heavenly reinforcements going on for I AM about to do some very mighty things on your behalf! So keep your eyes steadfastly upwards and proclaim the TRUTH of the WORD into your lives and the lives of those you love and care for! Trust that when you pray that I WILL answer. Anticipate ANSWERS to prayer! For the believing heart will always anticipate! The unbelieving heart doesn't expect action. And after time and again of unbelief in their hearts, they gradually stop praying.

Some of you have been so pummeled in your walk that you have been quenched and discouraged, but I am REVIVING you. I am RESTORING all that has been stolen and I will once again pour out the Spirit of MIGHT, and you will be empowered to do all your heart longs to do, and My heart longs you to do! I have a river of honey I am yet to pour out that will alter the way you see everything! When it is poured out, you will see with new eyes, and hear with new ears. You will understand much better all things relating to Me. Know that it will not fail to come! I am tipping the giant jar of honey and all you need to do is look up and lap it in! GRACE, GRACE, GRACE is coming to you. You can't imagine how long I have longed to do this great and mighty mysterious act! Now the honey will begin to flow like a river that starts out peaceful and calm, but as it goes through rocks and hedges, it becomes more and more filled with turbulence and becomes RAGING RAPIDS! So will My river escalate in it's power and being poured out! And as it flows out, it will impart incredible LOVE for Me, and for each other, and a realization of so many things you have longed to understand.

The best thing is that I am doing it just to show how much I love you, and not because you have prayed enough, or fasted enough, or worshipped enough! For just as a bridegroom tries to find things to please his wife, I also look for things I can do to bless you and please you, and show you My love! I love surprises and I have plenty in store for you!

From the Frying Pan into the FIRE

Mal 3:2-3 NKJV "But who can endure the day of His coming? And who can stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire and like launderers' soap. 3 He will sit as a refiner and a purifier of silver; He will purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer to the LORD an offering in righteousness.

Isa 43:2-3a NKJV When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you shall not be burned, Nor shall the flame scorch you. 3 For I am the LORD your God, The Holy One of Israel, your Savior;

Ex 3:1-2 NKJV And the Angel of the LORD appeared to him in a flame of fire from the midst of a bush. So he looked, and behold, the bush was burning with fire, but the bush was not consumed.

Ps 50:3 NKJV Our God shall come, and shall not keep silent; A fire shall devour before Him, and it shall be very tempestuous all around Him.
Ps 66:12 NKJV You have caused men to ride over our heads; We went through fire and through water; But You brought us out to rich fulfillment. \
Matt 3:10-12 NKJV I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance, but He who is coming after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not worthy to carry. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire. 12 His winnowing fan is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clean out His threshing floor, and gather His wheat into the barn; but He will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire."

"Many of you feel like you have been in the frying pan and this is true. In the frying pan, a lot of things get burned up. I am desiring to release you from anything that would compete with My time with you! I am a jealous Lover, and I want you to come forth as gold refined in the fire! Ask for the Spirit of BURNING and you will receive it! Ask for purifying fire and it will come to cleanse you. Be brave My beloveds, for the frying pan will lead to the FIRE of My LOVE being poured out, and greater and greater things you will do in My name! Some of you have a limited view of WHO I AM, and how powerful I am. You think I need you to do everything, when what I am desiring is your time, so that My love can permeate your soul and transform you into the person I want you to be. Then you will hear, and you will do. But can we just have this time My beloveds to soak and become more in love with the God Who loves you? Will you come and dance with Me, and walk with Me, and learn from ME, and be filled up by ME with My love, that when I ask you to DO, that you will hear clearly, and OBEY?"

Jer 23:29 NKJV Is not My word like fire [that consumes all that cannot endure the test]? says the Lord, and like a hammer that breaks in pieces the rock [of most stubborn resistance]?

"I want you to eat the SCROLL and get My Words into you, because you need them to build a strong spiritual immune system! You need to fight with My word, and to speak it and the meaning to those who will want to know Me. So get it on the inside, meditate on it, listen to it, eat from it, that you may be strong in the power of My MIGHT! And so that you may discern the true from the false!"

2 Kings 1:9-14 NKJV Then the king sent to him a captain of fifty with his fifty men. So he went up to him; and there he was, sitting on the top of a hill. And he spoke to him: "Man of God, the king has said, 'Come down!'"
10 So Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, "If I am a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men." And fire came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty. 11 Then he sent to him another captain of fifty with his fifty men.
And he answered and said to him: "Man of God, thus has the king said, 'Come down quickly!'"
12 So Elijah answered and said to them, "If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men." And the fire of God came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.
13 Again, he sent a third captain of fifty with his fifty men. And the third captain of fifty went up, and came and fell on his knees before Elijah, and pleaded with him, and said to him: "Man of God, please let my life and the life of these fifty servants of yours be precious in your sight. 14 Look, fire has come down from heaven and burned up the first two captains of fifties with their fifties. But let my life now be precious in your sight."

"The days of Elijah are upon you, and there will be a mighty demonstration of My power. But you must walk in the Spirit of Might with CONFIDENCE that when I tell you to do something, you will not HESITATE to do it! So I have you in the frying pan, that all that cannot stand the test will be burnt off, and that all that remains will bring forth MY LIFE, and that you will obey without any argument, doubt or hesitation, or procrastination. Jesus only did what the Father was doing. THAT 100% dependency on Father is what I am trying to build in you My sons and daughters, that every step will be ordered. Remember I said I will keep him in perfect peace whose MIND is STAYED on ME. And I said the steps of a RIGHTEOUS man are ordered by the Lord. You must appropriate My righteousness."

Ps 57:4-5 NKJV My soul is among lions; I lie among the sons of men
Who are set on fire, Whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword. 5 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens; Let Your glory be above all the earth.

Ps 97:3-5 NKJV A fire goes before Him, and burns up His enemies round about. His lightnings light the world; The earth sees and trembles. The mountains melt like wax at the presence of the LORD, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

“ Indeed your souls lie among the lions, the sons whose tongues are arrows and spears. So I have sent you out to be lights in the darkness, and the darkness is getting darker, but so will MY PRESENCE get stronger and stronger within you as you submit to the FIRE of My presence and ask for healing and deliverance. The FIRE of My presence will burn off all the dross that remains until you are able to do all I want you to do. So stay in the place I want you, and submit to my fire, I say SUBMIT TO MY FIRE! And I will also pour out the FIRE of MY LOVE that will consume all the fears, and all the worldly desires. For when you see ME as I really am, so in love with you, then you will have a knowing that is more than brain knowledge, but you will be more and more filled with MY LOVE, and then will reflect My glory, My character, My heart attitudes and desires! If you WANT to be a living flame of fire , then all you have to do is ask, and it will be done. I will bring you forth as GOLD, and you will inherit the nations!“

Ps 104:1-4 NKJV Praise to the Sovereign LORD for His Creation and Providence - O LORD my God, You are very great: You are clothed with honor and majesty, 2 Who cover Yourself with light as with a garment, Who stretch out the heavens like a curtain. 3 He lays the beams of His upper chambers in the waters, Who makes the clouds His chariot, Who walks on the wings of the wind, 4 Who makes His angels spirits, His ministers a flame of fire.

Isa 64:1-2 A Prayer for Help
1 Oh, that You would rend the heavens! That You would come down!
That the mountains might shake at Your presence — 2 As fire burns brushwood, as fire causes water to boil — To make Your name known to Your adversaries, that the nations may tremble at Your presence!

Isa 66:15-16 For behold, the LORD will come with fire and with His chariots, like a whirlwind, To render His anger with fury, And His rebuke with flames of fire. 16 For by fire and by His sword the LORD will judge all flesh; And the slain of the LORD shall be many.

I have an invested interest in your children and the youth of this generation and I will have an army dressed in white, and with a flaming sword they will devour their enemies! It is not a time to pretend, or to be half-hearted. For what is coming against you is NOT half-hearted but full of hate and fury. So gird your loins with strength by praising ME in the beauty of holiness, and stand firm with the WORD against the enemy of your soul.
Do not give in to doubt and rejection. I am purging you with fire, that all that doubt, all that unbelief, all that rejection and intimidating fear will LEAVE and not return. YOU WILL KNOW THAT I LOVE YOU, AND OTHERS WILL KNOW THAT I HAVE LOVED YOU! Also know that it is by GRACE alone you are saved, by GRACE alone you are healed and delivered, not because of STRIVING! NOT because of works in fleshly pursuit of selfish ambition! But by MY GRACE ALONE. What I do now, will be by My power alone, and not because of the good works you have done or by your goodness, but solely by My love for you!”

Joel 2:3 NKJV A fire devours before them, and behind them a flame burns; The land is like the Garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; Surely nothing shall escape them.

Amos 5:6-7 NKJV Seek the LORD and live, Lest He break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and devour it, with no one to quench it in Bethel —
7 You who turn justice to wormwood, and lay righteousness to rest in the earth!"

Zech 2:5 NKJV For I,' says the LORD, 'will be a wall of fire all around her, and I will be the glory in her midst.'"

The Wickedness of the Wicked

Ps 7:9-17 NKJV
9 Oh, let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish the just; For the righteous God tests the hearts and minds. 10 My defense is of God, Who saves the upright in heart. 11 God is a just judge, and God is angry with the wicked every day. 12 If he does not turn back, He will sharpen His sword; He bends His bow and makes it ready. 13 He also prepares for Himself instruments of death; He makes His arrows into fiery shafts. 14 Behold, the wicked brings forth iniquity; Yes, he conceives trouble and brings forth falsehood. 15 He made a pit and dug it out, and has fallen into the ditch which he made. 16 His trouble shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down on his own crown. 17 I will praise the LORD according to His righteousness, and will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

" My heart is tested everyday at the wickedness of the wicked. Every day the wickedness is increasing. Satan is launching many untoward attacks. But remember that I have said, that when the enemy comes in like a flood, the Lord will raise up a standard against him! Do not forget my sons and daughters, whose you are! I will use you to raise up the standard. I will explode inside of you and you will carry my glory from your home into the streets and paths of the nations.

Do not think because of the heaviness of your trials that I have forgotten you. I am purifying and refining, and I am doing a Divine reversal of all things, that your hearts may swell with JOY inexpressible and overflowing! I AM RESTORING. And all things will be made new. The harvest is white and the workers are few so I will use all who are willing to go for Us. Nothing will inhibit your ability to go. Finances will be provided or bypassed by supernatural means. Do not think that I am limited in how I provide for you. I am going to surprise you in many things. I have many, many surprises up My sleeve! I am not limited, and because I live in you, you will not be limited. Think "GREATER THINGS I WILL DO!" Anticipate healing and miracles. Anticipate multiplication of food, and all forms of provision. Do not think because I don't have this, I can't do that! EXPECT ME to act when you ask. Ask and it SHALL be given you, I have said. So look for more, when it seems all hope is gone. Watch how I can multiply anything you need!

Lean on Me for understanding and wisdom for all you do. I am forcing you to be more dependent on ME, than yourself! IF you could do it alone, then it wouldn't be called FAITH!

If it all depended on you, then where would there be room for ME? Religious men and women want law and order, but I want to heal and deliver souls! I am a jealous GOD, and I will have no other gods before Me. I am not limited in My power! I am the God who drives diviners mad, and empties the coffers of the rich and wicked into the hands of the poor and humble! NOTHING is impossible with ME!

Is there something that SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE? NOTHING is impossible with ME!
There is nothing you are concerned about that I can't fix. There is nothing spoken that cannot be reversed! There is nothing done wrong that cannot be undone! I AM a RESTORER. AND you will be restorers of the breach! I know My sheep, and they know ME! My sheep hear My voice and they FOLLOW Me! The voice of another they will not listen to! Grace and GLORY will be poured out till they are running over in you and onto others around you! I am not slack concerning My promises. IT WILL ERUPT SUDDENLY, as you fulfill each day' s instructions!

REACH OUT AND TOUCH SOMEBODY! ASK for Divine appointments and they will be given you! Heal the sick. Cast out demons, & raise the dead! ASK and you shall RECEIVE! Knock and the door will be opened. PROCLAIM FROM THE ROOFTOPS WHAT YOU HEAR IN YOUR EAR! Know that I will back up your words when you speak MY Word! Signs and wonders follow the preaching of the WORD. IF I am lifted up, I will draw all men unto Myself! So TESTIFY of all I have done! Honor the blood of Jesus and all will be undone!

I am coming soon with My terrible swift sword and judgment will be swift to the wicked who will not turn from his sin! Consider the souls dying daily without the knowledge of My love and grace! CRY out! WEEP and travail, and watch what I will do. ASK for MY HEART OF COMPASSION and I will give it. ASK for MY LOVE and I will give it! Anything you need comes from the Father above who gives generously to all who love Him! Every good and perfect gift comes down from the Father of lights with Whom there is no turning!

My love will flow like a river of HONEY and it will melt every hard heart. My LOVE leads to REPENTANCE! My love is as stronger than death! If you are filled with the fullness of My love, then you will have all you need to go forth! Look upon ME!
Cling to ME! EXPECT AWESOME THINGS which you do not deserve! For it is by GRACE alone that My power and love now comes! And will I not avenge those who hate My beloveds? Love your enemies and you will heap COALS of fire on their heads. Love one another as I have loved you! BY THIS all men will know that you belong to Me!

End Time Prophetic Vision and Insight.

And that is to give some understanding of what God is about to do in the earth, and as a guide to intercessory prayer.
To that end we are offering a growing collection of articles.
Some of these are prophecies, some are visions and some are commentary on the scriptures.

Theme Scriptures

The following verse from Hosea shows God speaks by prophecies, visions and similitudes. (Similitudes are the symbols, types and allegories written into the bible; scriptural insight is the light the Holy Spirit has given to understand the similitudes of the prophets.)
"I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, by the ministry of the prophets." (Hosea 12:10) Hence this is a theme scripture here for the material we present.
"He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches." (Revelation 2:7, 2:11, 2:17, 2:29, 3:6, 3:13, 3:22)
I pray that this material will bless you as it has blessed me.

b: an initial experience: INITIATION
c: the formality by which a civilian is inducted into military service
2 a (1): inference of a generalized conclusion from particular instances -- compare DEDUCTION 2a (2): a conclusion arrived at by induction b: mathematical demonstration of the validity of a law concerning all the positive integers by proving that it holds for the integer 1 and that if it holds for an arbitrarily chosen positive integer k it must hold for the integer k+1 -- called also mathematical induction

d: the inspiration of the fuel-air charge from the carburetor into the combustion chamber of an internal combustion engine e: the sum of the processes by which the fate of embryonic cells is determined and morphogenetic differentiation brought about.

I heard the Lord say “induction” so looked it up as above, and asked what He wanted to say…

“You are almost near the point of induction My beloveds. I have been awaiting this day longer than you have! I have looked forward to this day for centuries and millennia! You may feel like it has taken forever to come, but it has taken longer for many others. All is in perfect timing in My Kingdom! I am facilitating a grand change in the scheme of things. In the midst of your enemies, I am setting up a table of delights. I have given each of you weapons of varying kinds and together, we shall fight. I will never leave the side of My Bride! I will not allow you to be muzzled anymore!
What you hear in your ear, shout from the rooftops! Prophesy to the winds!
Prophesy to the demonic realm. Prophesy to those in darkness!
Ps 124:7-8 NKJV
7 Our soul has escaped as a bird from the snare of the fowlers; The snare is broken, and we have escaped. 8 Our help is in the name of the LORD,
Who made heaven and earth.

Many of you have been driven out of the church, but there is more than the church to speak to! Take hold of ME and speak what I give you to speak, as I come and draw you nearer to My heart, I want you to prophesy to all I tell you to! Do not limit your thinking. Do not limit how I want to work. Do not look at what is in defeatism, but look at what can be and speak into the dry bones! Call them to assembly through prophetic proclamations! I will give you utterance as never before!

I am laying an axe to the root of jezebel in My church, that will bring forth shaking and disassembly of the distant parts. So what comes forth will be new and invigorated by a revelation of the Cross and the Blood of the LAMB.
For you will overcome by the power of your testimony and the blood of the LAMB! I will release new revelation if you will but come to ME and hide in My arms of rest, ceasing from your own efforts and just allowing me to blow you where I will. I am going to assemble the dry bones and she will rise and become the BRIDE I want. Those that scatter and do not gather with Me will be shown for the tares that they are. I will have a church based on relationship and not on hierarchy and pride. I will bring down Leviathan in your midst. And I alone will rule and reign over those who are truly Mine!

I am laying foundations in your heart and I am reestablishing TRUTH in My church that will lay a SURE foundation for the days to come…as they are approaching quickly. I have been working on you for a long time, and I will bring to fruition all I have planned. I will not leave you comfortless. You are coming forth as gold! I am refining and I am cleansing and I will cause a revolution of all that has overtaken My church. She will be a NEW CREATION in ME. Hold on for the ride of your life! And keep your eyes focused on ME.

Isa 31:4-5 NKJV God Will Deliver Jerusalem
For thus the LORD has spoken to me: "As a lion roars, and a young lion over his prey (When a multitude of shepherds is summoned against him, He will not be afraid of their voice Nor be disturbed by their noise), So the LORD of hosts will come down to fight for Mount Zion and for its hill. 5 Like birds flying about, So will the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem. Defending, He will also deliver it; Passing over, He will preserve it."

Bridge Over Troubled Water
Priscilla Van Sutphin

March 24th, 2004 2:44 am
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

I AM Your bridge over troubled waters. I AM the Breath of Life! I AM the Living Waters of LIFE! I AM the One, the TRUE, the FAITHFUL ONE!
And I am calling you to build bridges of peace between brothers and sisters all over the world. I am calling you to lay down your lives. To lay down all selfish ambition and pride. To lay down all that would try to steal My glory. Does it make peace to argue? Does it make peace to dispute? Does it make peace to criticize and judge one another? Peace is sown in kindness and love!

James 3:18 NKJV Now the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

James 3:18 AMP
18 And the harvest of righteousness (of conformity to God's will in thought and deed) is [the fruit of the seed] sown in peace by those who work for and make peace [in themselves and in others, that peace which means concord, agreement, and harmony between individuals, with undisturbedness, in a peaceful mind free from fears and agitating passions and moral conflicts].

Phil 4:4-6 AMP
4 Rejoice in the Lord always [delight, gladden yourselves in Him]; again I say, Rejoice! [Ps 37:4.] 5 Let all men know and perceive and recognize your unselfishness (your considerateness, your forbearing spirit). The Lord is near [He is coming soon]. 6 Do not fret or have any anxiety about anything, but in every circumstance and in everything, by prayer and petition (definite requests), with thanksgiving, continue to make your wants known to God.

Surely the days are getting darker, but the light in you will shine brighter if you will learn the lessons I have been trying to teach you! REJOICE in all circumstances for I am coming to set all things right and you must not be critical of others of the faith. Remember that when I was on earth, I told My disciples that if another preached the gospel, even if he was not with us, to let him be! I have not put it in your hands to be the angels who divide the sheep from the goats. You just do what I have told YOU to do, and be faithful to the things I have said to you, and I will bring about the admonishment that others need, if you will just PRAY for them! And if you will WAR with WORSHIP, in this time, it will be an effective weapon. Listen for MY voice on how to bring effective intervention for those caught in the trap of the enemy. But do NOT act as the judge.

I am your sufficiency! Pay heed to the call to seek My face, and do not worry what is wrong with others…just worry what is needed for your own life to be healed. Give up all bitterness and fault finding, for as you judge, you will be judged. For those who show no mercy, will be shown no mercy when they need it! Whatever YOU want, do that to others. Think how you would want to be treated! Think how you would feel! THINK before you speak and ASK and the door will be opened for you to receive the wisdom you need to confront and to love on others and to encourage others to higher levels of righteousness. How would YOU want to be dealt with? What motivates you? If you are criticized harshly, does that make you want to change?

LOVE on others and you will receive love. ASK for MY LOVE. I have plenty for all who will ask and spend time with ME! I will not refuse anyone who comes with sincerity of heart, not seeking your own ambition. I will ALWAYS do what is best for you. I am a good Father, and I give good gifts to My children. But I will give what is BEST for you…not just everything you ask for! I'm not a sugar-daddy! For I am forming MY CHARACTER within you. Praise, REJOICE, and war with thanksgiving and worship and you will see the VICTORY!

Reprobate Hearts
Priscilla Van Sutphin

March 23rd, 2004 2:22 am
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

Jer 6:29-30 KJV The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire; the founder melteth in vain: for the wicked are not plucked away. 30 Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

Hebrew: OT:3988
ma'ac (maw-as'); a primitive root; to spurn; also (intransitively) to disappear:
KJV - abhor, cast away (off), contemn, despise, disdain, (become) loathe (some), melt away, refuse, reject, reprobate, utterly, vile person.

Titus 1:16 KJV They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

Rom 1:28-32 KJV And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient; 29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers, 30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, 31 Without understanding, covenant breakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful: 32 Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

2 Tim 3:5-9 KJV Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. 6 For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts, 7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. 8 Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith.
9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was.

Greek NT:96 adokimos (ad-ok'-ee-mos); from NT:1 (as a negative particle) and NT:1384; unapproved, i.e. rejected; by implication, worthless (literally or morally): KJV - castaway, rejected, reprobate.

My sewing machine broke down and when I turned to check the clock on the computer, it was 2:22 am…so asked the Lord if He wanted to talk again and got an affirmative…and He said " reprobate hearts". Then asked again, what He wanted to say…

" I am coming to execute My will in the earth before the rise of the antichrist comes to full fruition. I am readying My people for a display of My power and glory that will bring in the harvest of souls in the earth. The earth will cough up salvation. The fear of ME will fill the earth again. No man will have an excuse for their disdain of Me! The times however will be tumultuous as the battle of the ages ensues.

There are ways to encourage love that I have tried. I have tried to instill it through preaching of men, and to impart with revival, and men shut down the move, because it didn't fit their ideas of how I should do things. So since they interfered and were unrepentant in their hearts, I will now bring situations and calamity that will draw men's hearts together as they come to see and realize what is really important in life. Perilous times ensue and I have been warning and warning for a long time, yet it has done little to change people. There is still apathy and complacency, though some are changing. So there will be now an escalation of events that will lead you into the TRUTH that I want you to live, and not just talk about! Talk is cheap as you say. It is ACTION that counts.

If you tell a child over and over that you love them, but never demonstrate it through what you DO, then they come to hate even the word love, as to them it means NOTHING. Everything is then in doubt in their minds, because it is not lived out and there is no trust in others. And in too many who call themselves by MY name, there is the same inaction. Apathy and complacency need to be shaken off. I am calling you to live the ONE ANOTHERS.

John 13:34-35 NKJV A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; as I have loved you, that you also love one another. 35 By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another."

The heart that is willing to change and wanting to change…I WILL HONOR and help to change. The person who is unwilling to change and not giving thought to change, not caring how he lives or acts, will be turned over to a reprobate heart because his will is only towards SELF, and what HE wants. Unwilling to forgive, only loving self, and incapable of love towards others, they will bear the consequences of their own hearts. I am calling for a generation who desires the COMPASSION I HAVE and who are willing to pay the price to have it. I have said that if you suffer WITH ME, you will share in My glory. Some of you think you have suffered greatly, and yet in China people have been dismembered for being Christian. In Sudan, they have been maimed, tortured, raped, dismembered and killed. In Egypt, they may lose their family, their job, their ability to have any freedoms. They are mocked and disdained by the whole of those around them. It is time for the church in AMERICA to awaken to call of MY HEART's CRY!

I am crying for those I see every day, every hour, every moment, suffering and hungry, jailed and tortured, maimed and tormented for MY SAKE. They know the cost and have counted it. They know that not everything is perfect if you are a believer. They know more about the truth of the gospel than most of my people here and in western societies, because they have suffered greatly for MY name's sake. You think you have suffered when the pastor doesn't let you prophesy. You think you have suffered greatly when you are rejected of men…and you are correct, but you have not suffered to the point many others have. In your pride, you thought you never would!

Those who hold onto their pride and arrogance in the days ahead will be taken away and suffer great loss. So I am warning you once more that you need to humble yourselves in My site, and to repent of your pride and arrogance. For I will ONLY EXALT THE HUMBLE in this hour! It is a new day and a new church I am building. HUMILITY and LOVE and FORGIVENESS will be the hallmarks of it's foundation. GRACE will adorn it's walls, instead of pride and self righteousness. Take heed that you stand not in your own strength, but in the blood of the LAMB! Ask and you shall receive, knock and the door will be opened. I am full of mercy and lovingkindness for those who are contrite in their hearts and spirits; for the one who loves and adores me above all else.

Mark 9:50 NKJV Salt is good, but if the salt loses its flavor, how will you season it? Have salt in yourselves, and have peace with one another."

John 15:12-14 NKJV This is My commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. 13 Greater love has no one than this, than to lay down one's life for his friends.

John 15:17 NKJV These things I command you, that you love one another.

Rom 12:10 NKJV Be kindly affectionate to one another with brotherly love, in honor giving preference to one another;

Rom 13:8 NKJV Love Your Neighbor (cf. Mark 12:31; James 2:8)
Owe no one anything except to love one another, for he who loves another has fulfilled the law.

Rom 15:4-6 NKJV Now may the God of patience and comfort grant you to be like-minded toward one another, according to Christ Jesus, 6 that you may with one mind and one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Rom 15:7 NKJV Therefore receive one another, just as Christ also received us, to the glory of God.

1 Cor 12:25 NKJV that there should be no schism in the body, but that the members should have the same care for one another.

Eph 4:2-3 AMP Living as becomes you] with complete lowliness of mind (humility) and meekness (unselfishness, gentleness, mildness), with patience, bearing with one another and making allowances because you love one another. 3 Be eager and strive earnestly to guard and keep the harmony and oneness of [and produced by] the Spirit in the binding power of peace.

Eph 4:32 AMP And become useful and helpful and kind to one another, tenderhearted (compassionate, understanding, loving-hearted), forgiving one another [readily and freely], as God in Christ forgave you.

Eph 5:19-20 AMP Speak out to one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, offering praise with voices [and instruments] and making melody with all your heart to the Lord, 20 At all times and for everything giving thanks in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God the Father.

Sanctuary
Priscilla Van Sutphin

March 27th, 2004 3:33 am
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

I Am your Sanctuary. I Am your Resting Place. I Am your Infinite Security and your Deluxe Accomodation! Heaven is My throne and earth is my footstool. Yet I have made YOU My dwelling place! I've said, For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. Isa 60:2 KJV

Isa 11:9-12 NKJV
9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain, for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD as the waters cover the sea.

10 "And in that day there shall be a Root of Jesse, Who shall stand as a banner to the people; For the Gentiles shall seek Him, and His resting place shall be glorious."
11 It shall come to pass in that day that the Lord shall set His hand again the second time to recover the remnant of His people who are left, from Assyria and Egypt, from Pathros and Cush, from Elam and Shinar, from Hamath and the islands of the sea.
12 He will set up a banner for the nations, and will assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

I will make My name GLORIOUS. There will be no excuse for people to blaspheme My name, for over and over and over again they will even see it on the news that I, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob am the ONLY TRUE and LIVING GOD! I will heal the sick and raise the dead, and there will still be scoffers, for unbelief and wickedness have grown, yet there will be a most glorious Harvest of souls in the earth and many MIGHTY SIGNS and WONDERS. Many will come to the rising of My glory, yet many also will choose to refuse. Spare not! Lift up your voice and proclaim what I tell you. For I AM coming and there will be great tumult, yet great victories in My name! I will show MY MIGHTY HAND through my true witnesses!

Men’s hearts will fail at all that is coming to the earth in days ahead, but in the mean time, many hearts will be rent for recognition of their sins and recognition of Who I AM! The difference between darkness and light will be more disparate…yet you will shine like the stars in the heavens and I will use you ALL mightily who are willing to STAND with ME! For a mighty HARVEST of souls is coming and there is no need for competition , for there will be so many fish to clean, that there will not even be enough to do things the way they have been done…You will need to do CORPORATE deliverance, and CORPORATE HEALINGS as there will be multitudes in the valley of decision and so many will flood into the church as waves of My glory is poured out into the highways and byways.

At the same time, there will also be fierce opposition by many and my people will have to make a choice to COUNT THE COST of standing with ME. RECOGNIZE the signs of the times. See what is happening in the mideast. Watch what is happening in Israel and you will see the signs of what is happening in My church. Israel is surrounded by hatred, yet hearts are softening in many around them, as they are tired of war and violence.
Just as in Iraq, many are tired of the old ways and want freedom from all that obstructs true freedom. The prince of Persia is battling for the souls of men, even as he has done in the past. Lift your voices in prayer and praise and watch as I bring down the walls of Islam in the nations! Watch as millions come into the KINGDOM! Testimonies by people of various walks of life will become NEWS items, because of dramatic miracles! People will begin to falter in seeing what they cannot hardly believe. Their belief systems will be shaken to the core!

Matt 18:2-4 AMP

2 And He called a little child to Himself and put him in the midst of them,
3 And said, Truly I say to you, unless you repent (change, turn about) and become like little children [trusting, lowly, loving, forgiving], you can never enter the kingdom of heaven [at all]. 4 Whoever will humble himself therefore and become like this little child [trusting, lowly, loving, forgiving] is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

The faith that I want in you is the faith of a little child. A little child does not have to worry. A little child only looks to their parent for what to do. A little child just TRUSTS that what the parent is doing is for their good.
He doesn't go around discussing with all his friends how worried he or she is about all the things happening to them…what if this or what if that! He or she is trusting there will be food on the table when they return home after playing in the afternoon. They trust that there will be a house to come home to after school. He doesn't go around depressed when he is sick even, he will still PLAY and act as if nothing is wrong. He won't be paralyzed by circumstances as much as adults are. A baby in the arms of his mother trusts that he will be fed and changed and cared for.

In My Word, I have said that you are to BECOME as little children…so this is a process I expect in My sons and daughters. You have to unlearn years of opposite training or dysfunction and as you are healed more and more, and go through many trials and circumstances…you learn that you can trust and rely on ME; that I AM FAITHFUL. And I hold the keys to death and hell. I AM the ALMIGHTY GOD WHO CAN DO ANYTHING. But unless that is tested, you would never learn would you? You would stay in your SELF-sufficiency.
You wouldn't be able to RECEIVE as a child receives. And many of you have trouble receiving. You are used to providing for yourself, and doing everything yourself. Many of you have a spirit of INDEPENDENCE from Me, as opposed to DEPENDENCE on ME! In the days to come it is VERY important that you learn to look to ME each step of the day, that each decision is made by leaning into the HOLY SPIRIT, and not relying on your own spirit. Such independence in the days ahead could cause you great pain, or even death.

The sons of God are those who walk according to the SPIRIT, who lean on MY understanding and NOT their own! Keep your minds STAYED on ME, and you will have peace that passes understanding. EVEN in the midst of your enemies, I will set a table before you! That will take TRUST. And many of my children are not healed of their TRUST issues. I am not impatient with you, and I am not the harsh taskmaster driving you to do and do and do! I want you to learn to lean on ME, and to be conscious of MY PRESENCE in your life. I LIVE INSIDE YOU! I AM EMMANUEL; GOD WITH YOU.

If you will REST in ME, and listen for MY voice without striving…you will hear. I speak through many ways and means. But I speak! I am not aloof like a "god" of stone or wood that is dumb and cannot speak. I AM THE LIVING GOD and I care for MY OWN!

[Aloof: Function: adverb: at a distance]

Jer 23:23-24 NKJV
23 "Am I a God near at hand," says the LORD, "And not a God afar off?
24 Can anyone hide himself in secret places, So I shall not see him?" says the LORD; "Do I not fill heaven and earth?" says the LORD.

Isa 49:15 NKJV "Can a woman forget her nursing child, And not have compassion on the son of her womb? Surely they may forget, Yet I will not forget you.
Isa 49:16 AMP Behold, I have indelibly imprinted (tattooed a picture of) you on the palm of each of My hands; [O Zion] your walls are continually before Me.

Prov 17:1 NKJV The LORD Tests Hearts
Better is a dry morsel with quietness, than a house full of feasting with strife.

Job 1:21-22 NKJV And he said: "Naked I came from my mother's womb, And naked shall I return there. The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away; Blessed be the name of the LORD." 22 In all this Job did not sin nor charge God with wrong.

Isa 30:15 NKJV For thus says the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel: "In returning and rest you shall be saved; In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." But you would not,

Isa 30:16 AMP And you said, No! We will speed [our own course] on horses! Therefore you will speed [in flight from your enemies]! You said, We will ride upon swift steeds [doing our own way]! Therefore will they who pursue you be swift, [so swift that]

Isa 32:17 AMP And the effect of righteousness will be peace [internal and external], and the result of righteousness will be quietness and confident trust forever.

Tasmanian Devil

Isa 8:12-15 NKJV
12 "Do not say, 'A conspiracy, 'Concerning all that this people call a conspiracy, nor be afraid of their threats, nor be troubled. 13 The LORD of hosts, Him you shall hallow; Let Him be your fear, and let Him be your dread. 14 He will be as a sanctuary, but a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense To both the houses of Israel, as a trap and a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 15 And many among them shall stumble; They shall fall and be broken, be snared and taken."

There is a character on television called the Tasmanian devil and he spins up a storm, dust flying everywhere, mad as a hornet. He has a ferocious appetite. I saw this cartoon character and as I asked the Lord what the Lord might want to talk about.

“Just as the Tasmanian devil runs out of steam, and mostly just puts up a façade of terror, so the enemy is doing to many of you. But I have the upper hand and I will bring down the walls of Islam that the gospel will go forth.
Do not think that all Muslims are rioting in the streets and hating everyone. Many are embarrassed by what is happening and their hearts are being softened that they can receive the truth of My love. If you want to fight this mask of terror, then rise up and worship and dance on the injustice that has been done to them. For centuries they have been in bondage with no one to say “RELEASE”. Pray for the haunts of evil to be unmasked and unveiled.

For in this hour there are many ramparts of the enemy that I will bring down. Witchcraft abounds all over the world in many forms, from compromise to Satanism, and they are all one in My eyes. All have been caught in the snare of the enemy and his lies. WHO will fight for their FREEDOM? Who will consider that for generations they have known nothing but bondage? Will you enter into My room of compassion and mercy that you can feel MY heart and MY tears for them? Will you pray that the VEIL of DECEPTION be removed, and that the walls of lies will come tumbling down? The prophets have been told to pray the occult shield is removed. Agree with this and come into agreement and watch what I will do!

The nations WILL open up! There is nothing that I cannot change! There is nothing beyond the power of the Blood of the LAMB! Jesus is the LAMB Who took away the sins of the world. NOTHING is beyond His ability to transform. Realize that I will have a HARVEST and this harvest is the harvest prophesied in ancient times in so many ways. I will not come until that harvest is reaped! And I will come before yet to empower My sons and daughters to GO FORTH and REAP in the power of the Spirit of Elijah that the power of the enemy will be confronted with great FAITH. For if you exercise great faith, then I WILL FOLLOW IT WITH SIGNS and My mighty WONDERS!

So I am building your faith through the things I am doing that you will be able to STAND in the days to come! Faith is built when you go from one challenge to another and see that I upheld you in it and through it.
A HOLY BOLDNESS will overtake you, and there will be a reestablishment of apostolic holiness that will usher in an apostolic age. MY LOVE will be poured out in unprecedented measure, so that the bondages of fear and insecurity and compromise in My church will be broken. You will be catapulted into your destinies as transformation takes place. Nothing will be impossible for you, for I will be with you in a more powerful way. Continue to worship Me and be EXPECTANT! For I WILL raise the bar! You will go higher and higher and you will FLY with Me. You will SOAR to new levels of manifesting My love and GRACE.

Induction
Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite,

This past week our family experienced another one of those events where the present meets the future. Here in Israel, when you have a child (boy or girl) you always bear in mind, somewhere deep in the recesses of your mind, that at the age of 18 they will join the Israeli Defense Forces. Throughout the children's growing up years you are reminded daily of this reality; there is always someone you know who has a son or daughter somewhere in the land who is at the forefront of a battle against an enemy that does not want you to be living in your own home.

Our 'turn' came as we took our son to the induction center this week. Just as Steve shared last week in his letter, we met the same scenes. The night before many of our son's friends came to the house for the farewell party. Our daughter (who will go to the Army next year) brought some of her friends as well. They all enjoyed a variety of barbequed meats that abba (dad) prepared. At one point during the evening, the electric hair-cutting razor was taken out and a couple of heads of hair were transformed to stubble. For some reason the music had to be turned up to the point where everyone in Israel could hear it, and amazingly some of it was right out of the days when dad and mom were doing their tour of duty in the Army (60's and 70's).

Early the following morning it was off to the induction center, where parents, brothers, sisters and close friends came to bid the loved one farewell with a final kiss and hug before the new recruit was take off on the bus. It was a jungle of emotions; from excited hoopla to tears (especially moms'). I had quite a memorable experience as just before the bus was to drive off, my daughter, camera in hand, wanted to position herself for a last picture. We had been standing on a little grassy area, but when she stepped over some pipes a lever that turned on the sprinkler system was move by her foot and I took a direct shot right in the front of my pants. It broke the mood of the crowd, as they all turned to see one of the dads getting soaked by this sudden spurt of water.

As I sloshed back to the car with this fresh 'anointing', I heard the Spirit speak these words: "Just as your son, your firstborn, was inducted into compulsory military service so am I going to call those (who are ready) of "Ephraim" (my first fruit) into basic military training." As I pondered those words, scriptures began to come to mind. "This war is not against flesh and blood"; "The weapons of this warfare are not carnal"; "Cast down all strongholds"; "Build watchtowers"; "Destroy the works of the devil", but most of all learn to love one another "just as I love each and every one of you".

If you or others are still walking in, or entertaining spirits of bitterness, unforgiveness, resentment, envy or jealousy etc. toward others in the greater Body of Messiah, especially if you know who you are as YHVH's firstborn, you must repent from unbelief! When Yeshua died "all men died, therefore we no longer look at any man after the flesh" (2 Cor. 5:14-15) therefore it is waste of time and energy to be in conflicts with one another. It also means that you have lost the battle within yourself and with the particular spirits behind each of the attitudes entertained. We cannot be in this Army if we are at war with some flesh and blood person. If this is the case, the enemy still has a foothold in us. Yeshua knows the thoughts and the intents of the heart, and since He is the captain He will not tolerate the enemy's presence in His own camp.

Learning to walk in Spirit and in Truth is YHVH's boot camp. If we do not have His training to use the tools or the weapons appropriately the enemy will have a foothold through ignorance and deception.

To our surprise our son returned home that same evening, but when we picked him up at the bus stop he was no longer in civilian clothing. His handsome frame was now in the uniform of the Israeli Navy. As we approached we could already see the change in him. I felt in my spirit that here was another type of our induction into Yeshua's military service. In one day, in one moment He gives us His uniform. From that moment on, when we look at one another we see the dress and insignias of the Army of YHVH. Even though our son did not have a weapon at this time, he had his identity tags, papers, and fatigues. YHVH has given to us everything pertaining to life and godliness and His own personal dog tags. It is only by faith that we wear and walk in this uniform.

The call at this time to a remnant of the redeemed Israelites is to prepare for war, as these are very serious days. For some of you, your school days are over. You have had enough Torah teaching and academic knowledge. At one point Moses reminded the camps of Israel what YHVH spoke while at Mount Sinai "You have dwelt long enough at this mountain. 'Turn and take your journey… See, I have set the land before you; go in and possess the land which YHVH swore to your fathers -- to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob -- to give to them and their descendants after them'" (Deut.1:6-7).

The Captain of the Army of Israel is standing at the banks of the Jordan with His sword drawn, just like in the days of Joshua.

"Moses My servant is dead. Now arise, go over this Jordan, you and all this people, to the land which I am giving to them -- the children of Israel. Every place that the sole of your foot will tread upon I have given you, as I said to Moses. From the wilderness and this Lebanon as far as the great river, the River Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites, and to the Great Sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your territory" (Joshua 1:2-3).

As we can see from this scripture, YHVH intends for Israel to conquer and take everything that He has promised them both in the natural and in the spiritual. In our case, He wants His kingdom manifested on earth as it is in heaven. Satan is not going to yield up one iota of territory that he thinks is his; it will take weapons and an obedient Army trained to move in unison with His Spirit. You may have been taught some form of spiritual warfare, but the one that Yeshua is preparing the Believers for, accomplishes in them a work of sanctification first, "till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Messiah" (Eph 4:13).

Insatiable Hunger
Jasminka Diehl

Is 55:8,9 "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord."

"For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

His call to us has always been to come up higher, for our tendencies have always been to procrastinate and get settled in a routine, being satisfied with a norm and a standard we have set for us from the standpoint of our human achievements and accomplishments, rather than from the heavenly perspective.

Such a perception limits our growth in wisdom, knowledge and understanding of heavenly things, binding us to this natural realm of limitations, where Faith doesn't have enough room to expand and grow, so that truly impossible things would become possible, simply because ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE TO THEM THAT BELIEVE ...

To believe, we need to learn of His ways and enter the sphere of higher living, adjusting to the eternal perspective of the law of heart of God, that defies the logic of men and leads to the higher ground, where the knowledge of His person is available and is given to all that hunger and thirst for His heart and His righteous ways.

By drawing near to Him, one thing becomes obvious: THE MORE WE KNOW, THE MORE WE REALIZE HOW LITTLE WE REALLY KNOW. For there is such awareness of His awesomeness, His greatness, His incredible vastness, and also of our inability to comprehend and know the fullness of His Person.

He has told us to ask and it shall be given to us, to seek and we shall find, to knock and it shall be opened to us. Luke 11:10 says "For EVERYONE that asketh receiveth, and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened". That is the awesome assurance and promise to us, straight from His heart of love, and is settled forever in heaven (in the realm where all things are possible).

He speaks softly to our hearts, awakening this yearning within us. Love is calling us to get to know Him and His everlasting ways, His arms wide open - He wants to share Himself with us.

Drawing closer and pursuing Him leaves us with so many questions we are all of a sudden faced with, and attempting to answer them just by our human understanding will produce the wrong fruit that will not last, withering away and perishing for the lack of knowledge.

The understanding of how little we really know is a good place to be, and God wants us to seek the Truth, to find the answers to our valid questions. But these questions here are not used as a reason to sin, to produce doubt and unbelief. Such things are product of our human imperfection and mind reasoning.

These questions are rather used to draw us even closer to Him in CONTINUOUS pursuit of truth, and are actually helping us in gaining that higher ground by allowing Holy Spirit to lead us and guide us into ALL truth, opening the portals of the Kingdom of Heaven, by letting it spread from within us and saturate the earth.

As the followers of Jesus, we can see only Him as our heavenly Pattern. No other will do! No matter how good and how holy they are, still they are just a mere men, and they too follow Jesus as their example. So, we always should pattern our lives after Jesus - there could be no other choice.

His life, His ministry, His words and teachings - all came out of LOVE, and all can be applied in our personal lives. It should be our PRIORITY to become like Him (The Son of God).

Each one of us is called into maturity (perfection). The questions we have are there so we can seek

Him, and find the answers in the knowledge of the heart of God. If it produces pride and strife among us, we are eating from the wrong tree. We are eating of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. The knowledge of who God is should be used to produce the fruit in our lives - not the doctrine; to shine forth the light and dispel the darkness, to open our eyes to the spiritual realm and ultimately transform our heart and our nature, so we would reflect that heavenly realm, and be the image of the true LOVE.

Passion for God and People
Jasminka Diehl

There is a whole world out there ... saved and unsaved ... with REAL needs ... They are real lives that need touch of God, and it can be done only through OUR hands, OUR time and OUR effort ...

Our lives shouldn't and cannot be self-centered, serving our own purpose ... All the revelations and all the knowledge and all the teachings we have are nothing, if we don't reach out and give of what we have ...

Writing and reading articles is good ... going to church is good, doing some charity work is good ...BUT, we are called to FORGET ourselves, to give our lives and share everything we got, to love with the love of God and do good to all we can, anytime we can. We are called to be holy, imitators of Jesus. That way we wouldn't be just some humanitarian organization that helps because they see the need, but we help because we love.

Duty gives, than leaves and than forgets those in need ... Love, on the other hand, gives and than stays, and continuously cares.

We need to realize that sharing our lives is what separates us from the world ... World says ME and I ... We should say others and God! Me and I shouldn't exist in our vocabulary ... Paul speaks of it so adequately in Galatians 2:20 : "I AM CRUCIFIED WITH CHRIST; NEVERTHELESS I LIVE; YET NOT I, BUT CHRIST LIVETH IN ME; AND THE LIFE WHICH I NOW LIVE IN THE FLESH I LIVE BY THE FAITH OF THE SON OF GOD, WHO LOVED ME AND GAVE HIMSELF FOR ME."

My prayer is for our total transformation that only deep hunger for the heart of God would bring it about. My prayers is that we would allow those living waters to flow freely and saturate all around us. My prayer is that we would walk straight into the darkness of people's lives and shine the light of God, bring the life and wholeness, hope and love into that cold, heartless world.

Kingdom of God is not about us, but always about God and others. The example of the true King and His true love is found in the life of Jesus. May His passion for the world become ours. May we not just read about it, but may we live it! For God so loved the world (not just few of us) that He gave His only begotten Son ... (John 3:16)

There is shifting taking place in the Realm of the Spirit and it is manifesting in this natural realm.

As our faith is tested, the outcome of the impossible situation is determined by that faith, when the Realm of the Spirit is pushing forward into the natural, and by faith we open the door to Kingdom of Heaven, to enter in and manifest itself - all the time advancing, going forward, gaining momentum and transforming this kingdom of men into Kingdom of our God, gaining the ground and taking all unawares by surprise.

We cannot depend on people anymore, but have to make God our PRIMARY source. When the need presents itself, God already knew about it long before it even manifested in the natural. Faith means our daily living by trusting God with every moment of our life, it is depending on Him for everything,, and giving thanks for those provisions on daily bases.

Faith is found in the impossible and not in possible circumstances. Without impossible there would be no need for faith.

Being our true pattern, Jesus, when His personal need presented itself, told Peter to go catch the fish, and in its mouth he would find provision for that particular need.

That way He didn't run the risk of having that need met out of human compassion and goodness of their hearts, but have rather completely depended on God, in the knowledge that God knows the need and the best way of meeting it.

Does that mean that God will not use people to meet the needs and support the work in spreading of the Gospel? God forbid! But we need to come to the place of total dependency upon God, and let Him choose the way and the vessel He would use. That way all the glory would truly go to God, for God will be the only one responsible for the outcome of the awesome provision.

May this year be the year of understanding the truth of God's Word that will flood our hearts with renewed and lasting passion for His ways and His heart, so we would get to know Him in such a way that would cause the whole generations to come to the saving knowledge of our God.

Are we those people that will usher Kingdom of God in its fullness, by not just talking about it, but by living it day in and day out, and that way spreading it all around us. Thus saturated in the glory of God we can give the world no other choice but LOVE.

For love is stronger than hate, love is there when all else fails. When we allow that love to completely transform us by being rooted and grounded in Him, our roots will go deep in His heart, and there will be no power that is stronger than love of God that is shed abroad in our hearts.

So may the unveiling of the sons of God take place, may the transformation of our hearts produce the permanent indwelling and habitation of the Glory of God, so we would truly be City set on the hill, the light that shines in the darkness, and true brethren of the One that has gone before us to show us the way - Jesus, the Firstborn among many.

1 Peter 2:9
"But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."

Indoors Or Outdoors
Bill Yount

www.billyount.com
(theshofarhasblown@juno.com)

"GOD IS MOVING THE FURNITURE IN HIS HOUSE ONCE AGAIN.... NOW THERE IS INDOOR AND OUTDOOR FURNITURE!"

People have asked me, "Bill, what seemed to activate your prophetic gifting and launch you into the ministry?" I tell them... "Trouble!"

Other people have asked me, "What seemed to bring about your maturity in the Lord to hear Him more clearly?" I tell them... "Double Trouble!"

The worst things that have happened in my life that I thought would do me in, have actually catapulted me and given me an international ministry!

I was shaken to the core when a year and a half ago the attack against my heart came and the doctors were giving me a heart catherization. My heart had stopped beating during that procedure on the table and they used those paddles to shock my heart back to beat again. At times I have wondered where certain insights or revelations have come from since then, but it seems easier to hear the Lord when you are sensitized through suffering.

Recently after receiving a fresh word from the Lord, I asked Him, "Father, Where did that word or revelation come from? How was I able to hear that?" I sensed the Lord answered me: "Bill, I put that revelation inside of you when your heart stopped on that table that day. Would you like to have some more revelation?" I said, "Jesus, put a hold on the revelation for now... please!"

But most of my spiritual growth came by staying in the same church for thirty years. For some reason when others were 'called' to leave and go elsewhere, the Lord forgot to call me! I had to stay in my church after the honeymoon was over. I had to stick it out through storms, hurricanes, and shakings.

Once I started to leave on my own and the Lord warned me... "Don't you leave! I don't want you messing up any other church!" I stayed so long I had roots growing down through the church floor into the very foundation of that Rock Christ Jesus.

After thirty years my roots have grown so deep that nothing moves me now. I have seen it all, heard it all and now I have an anchor that holds and grips the Solid Rock. Have you discovered that marriage and church was not created to make you happy? It was created to conform you to the image of Jesus Christ.

I have noticed that when God moves the furniture of His House around is when we become vulnerable to the enemy. How many of you have ever gone into someone else's house and said to them. "I don't like the way you have arranged your furniture in your house so I am leaving!" Sounds like we are thinking of the furniture more than the owner of the house.

If we really love the owner of the house we will accept the way he arranges the furniture. And you will even respect and learn to love the furniture and its arrangement for it is a reflection of the owner himself!

The furniture is actually apart of the owner himself. He owns the furniture too. The furniture is not ours. I sense the Lord saying. "Hands off the furniture please... Let go of My furniture but never let go of your relationships with each another. When you do, that is when you let go of Me!"

I see us as the House of the Lord. I see each person as a fine piece of royal furniture of a King who lives here. I see Jesus in each one of you. God is arranging and moving some of you around inside of His House. But let Him place you. Don't try to move yourself. I have never seen a piece of furniture try to move itself.. for it doesn't know where it is suppose to be... only the owner and builder of the house knows where each piece should go! Don't try to move any other furniture either for you may scratch it or damage it.

Learn to love and respect God's furniture wherever He places it. He will honor you for it. I sense the Father saying. "I'm not arranging my furniture to please you. I'm arranging it to please Me!"

I have never heard of one piece of furniture telling another piece where it should be in the house. That's the owner's decision. Furniture can't talk.... that's an added blessing. Has your sofa ever told you when you decide to move it... "Don't do that. Don't move me over there. I don't want to be around that piece of furniture... it looks so old, it must be an antique! Or I am so much older and wiser and built better so don't move me next to that new piece of furniture for it doesn't look like it knows anything next to me!

If we have a problem with the furniture we will have a problem with the owner... God Himself!

I am discovering more and more that just like in our own homes God has some outdoor furniture. In fact I am sensing that much of God's furniture was made to be outside the church doors for the lost to find rest and comfort in.

Whether the furniture is inside or outside the House, the furniture is still His... For God's House is in each piece of furniture! If you are discovering that you are a piece of outdoor furniture, make sure you stay in close relationship with the inside of the House. Remember you are apart of God's House and when the storms and winds come you will need the protection of the rest of the House to cover you.

I can't tell you of the devastation in thirty years that I have seen over church splits and people leaving churches because of things they didn't agree with. Often children inherit the hurts from their parents and turn away from God. I have seen divorces come form the roots of bitterness of church hurts. I have seen people die and even suicides.

Paul says. "For this reason, many are sick and asleep (die ahead of their time) because you are not discerning the Body of Christ."

The furniture is not ours.... "Hands off the furniture please."

I asked the Father. "Lord, was I created to be an indoor or outdoor piece of furniture? I heard the Father say.... "Yes!"

Intercessors Release
Maria Inello

February 18, 2004

My intercessors I speak release to you this day. For indeed many of you have been hidden by Me in the cleft of the rock where I have trained you to hear My voice and to pray according to My Spirit. You have many times been through seasons of dryness in which My voice has sounded distant, yet, you have been persistent in your praise and worship to Me. You have danced even as David danced despite the many 'Michals' that have tried to silence you through criticism and mockery. Yet I your Lord say arise. Arise and worship for even now angels have been dispatched to war on your behalf. Your weeping and travailing has endured in this night season, so watch out, because My everlasting Joy is about to overtake you. You know not how many are touched by your unknown prayers, unknown to men, yet heard by your everlasting Father. Do not give up but even now press into the heart of God. I love you, says your God. Continue to offer up your prayers and praises as incense before Me, for they are a sweet smelling sacrifice.

Ask For The Rain
Bill Inello

February 9, 2004

The Lord is saying, Ask for the rain. For in this season he is releasing his rain from heaven to water those seeds that he has planted within many of his people. The winds of refreshing and renewal will blow upon his Beloved and with his abundant rain bring forth the desired harvest. This shall not come about in our own strength but by the power and the wisdom of the Holy Spirit (Zech 4:6). Ask for the rain, says the Lord.

Hidden Treasures
Bill Inello

February 8, 2004

"Treasures, there are hidden treasures within each of you, My beloved children. My beloved, as you continue to come to Me, I shall fill you with My righteousness and I will draw out from you that which was buried deep. You are My precious gems, and I hold each of you in the palm of My hand. Join with the angels in heaven, and cry 'Holy, holy, holy is the Lamb who was slain, the earth is full of his glory.' For worship shall tear down the strongholds of satan. Worship Me with your whole heart, and do not hold back from Me, says your God. For when you praise Me, My windows in heaven automatically open out to you with every spiritual and physical blessing you need. I need some worshippers who will worship Me in spirit and in truth. I call for you, Beloved, to lift up your hands, and declare your praise and commitment to Me. For in doing so, the enemy's forces are scattered."

"I am a God who trains your hands for war and your fingers for battle. I will launch you out to the battlefield when you are fully ready. For now, My people, you must undergo much preparation. I will take you through My fire, but you will not be burned. And once you are out, you will be My warriors dressed in My armor of light ready for battle. Some of My children think they can outrun the devil with their own understanding, but I say, do not be wise in your own eyes. My Spirit I put within you to be your guide and direction. Listen to the sound of his voice speaking to you, for he will direct you on the right path to victory. This is what I have said unto you today."

In The Cloud Of His Glory

Susan Cummings

I am standing, and all around me is a swirling, living cloud. I say, it is swirling, because it has no specific direction of it’s flowing as it encompasses me. It moves at the direction of the Lord, as it is His Spirit that is in the Cloud. It ebbs and flows around me, with the movement of the Lord’s heart. It also is living, because it pulses and radiates with His Heart Beat, which you can feel all around you as you stand IN HIM.

Every color that is imaginable is IN HIM. He is all around me, and is surrounding me with Himself as He displays His colors to me, and they are alive with His Radiance. I can feel the colors and their love towards me. I know that sounds silly, but everything about the Lord, displays His Love. His Light, His Colors, His Cloud, His Glory, all reflect His Love towards His Child. For He is Love.

There is no fear in His Glory, only His Love and His Peace. It is like standing in pure Light and Love that is full of His Person, that is His Glory……. And it is the secret place for His Own. This is where we are hidden IN HIM. Nothing can enter here, but through the BLOOD. It is the BLOOD, that gives us the Key to His Glory Cloud.

I am standing here, and the living cloud swirls, and changes, and moves as the Spirit wills it to. It flows by the mind of the Father, and becomes what He desires, as we are there with Him. I can feel His Heart. I can feel His Love. I can feel His Concern for His Children. I can feel His arms reaching out for them.

I feel such a strong pull on My Heart. I can feel My Heart expand and stretch outwards with the desire for His People, and it amazes me how little we realize His Care for us all. He is ever reaching out, ever searching for that one who would draw near to Him, ever seeking for those who understand and who pay the price to come to HIM, and who want to stand IN HIM.

I feel His burden. He cares for each one who struggles to know Him. He is moved with their frailty of faith and their lack of vision, yet they still continue to try. He knows their pain and sorrows, and their constant battle with their flesh and minds. He treasures them greatly, for they are HIS, and He knows them by name. He sees them in the night, crying tears of frustration and of hopelessness, and He wipes away their tears and places them in His bottles, and treasures every one of them. He looks upon His Children, and sees them through the BLOOD, and calls them each to Himself. For such, are these ones, the kingdom now fully comes………

I feel led to move forwards in the Cloud, and so I begin to step forwards. I do not feel afraid, even though there is nothing but swirling colors all around me, but I do feel like it is changing as I move. The longer I stand in the Cloud of His Glory, the less I feel of me, and am aware of me, and the more I become aware of Him, and what the Father is feeling and doing. The illumination of His Presence transforms me into His Vessel and that means nothing of me is alive, only available to Him. An empty vessels that awaits it’s filling in absolute surrender, with no thought for it’s life or future use. It does not matter. Only the Father’s desire matters. Only the Father matters. My thoughts are becoming His. I feel free.

As I move further into the Cloud, as if that is an accurate description of my movement, but it’s all I can refer to, I feel freer and freer, like I have emerged from a shell into my true form, somehow. There is no weights, or restraints, or cares that remain in me, and I am totally HIS. I cannot remember when I have felt like a new creation IN CHRIST, such as this, but it all comes into focus now. It is a real place and position for us all, as His Children. We can stand IN HIM, and be totally HIS, and have nothing IN us that is separated from HIM!

There is a light ahead of me. I am surrounded by the living lights and colors, but there is a different light ahead of me. It is distinct and separate from the living light, yet the same. It is a LIVING FLAME. I can see it burning in a seeming distance from me. There is no spatial measurement in the Cloud, as you cannot measure God, so it is hard to distinguish how far I am from it. Yet, I can see it ahead of me. I walk towards it.

The closer I get to it, the hotter it becomes. I can feel it burning through me as I approach. I cannot go any closer as I feel My drawing nearer would defile it. I know that the Father has cleansed me, yet, HE IS HOLY, and is fearful to behold. The flames burn with HIM. He is LIVING FIRE, and LIVING LIGHT. He is a LIVING GOD. The flames are burning around the FORM of the FATHER. I can feel Him in the Fire. I can see His burning eyes as they behold me approaching. I cannot stand anymore…..

Everything within me cries out to Him, for mercy. I know He has brought me here, yet His Holiness consumes me, and I cannot live in His Holy Presence. He is a Holy God. He is a fearful RIGHTEOUS JUDGE, and a GLORIOUS KING. My mind cannot grasp Him, but only lay in yielded ness to HIM. Many thoughts flow through me as I lay before Him.

I can hear His heart beating. I am stirred, and awaken, as if from sleep. I can hear His Heart beating. Where is it coming from? I look around, and I can see Jesus standing next to the Father. The Burning Flames are still there, but now Jesus is next to Him. I notice that Jesus comes closer and I am able to sit up. With Jesus here, I can stand being nearer to the Father, and Jesus smiles. He says, "That is because of My Grace. My Word says that I draw all men to Myself, and you can stand here because of Me."

It is simple, yet profound to grasp. We can stand IN HIM, and be ONE with Him, because of His Grace to draw us, and to behold Him, face to face. At that moment, it dawned on me, that I had stood face to face, with the Father, and had not grasped it! Jesus, again smiles at me. He says, "You cannot grasp or understand or perceive the person of the Father, except by Me, for I AM the GATE through which all men come to the Father. You cannot see His Face, unless I reveal it to you, or unless the Father brings you to Himself."

"You, and others like you, are coming to the Father, for He is bringing His People into a greater revelation of Himself. You are being brought forth into HIM, so that you can know HIM, and then His People can know HIM. It is time for God's people to walk as ONE with us, in true relationship. I said in My Word, in John 17, that there would come a time that this would be so. Now is that time."

"It is time for you, and those chosen like you, to come and meet with us, and become those LIVING TORCHES, that draw them to us. It is time for MY People, to know ME, says the Father." I look, and the Fire of the Fathers Glory burns even stronger. It seems as if it magnifies a thousand times as I look at HIM. I sense such a stirring within Me, for HIM. I can hardly keep from casting myself at His Feet, into the Flames. I care nothing for my safety, only to be like HIM. Only to be with HIM…..

"You can be with Him, daughter, Jesus says." I turn, and look, and Jesus is standing next to Me. He has a burning torch in his hand. He is looking at the Father with me. He turns to me, and says, "It is right to want to be one with us, as you were created to know us, and to be one with us, as that was the original relationship that we had in the beginning. It is your spirit drawing nearer to us, and crying out for us, for liberty. That will soon come, for our return is soon. But for now, you must return, and give His people His Words."

"Speak the Truth, in Love, and never harm one of HIS. Always feed them with the LIVING WORD that we will speak to you, as you seek us, and read the Word. Never give them bread that is not food from our table. For many give bread that is not from our table, and my people are starving. You must reverence the WORD above all else. As you do, it will remain LIVING and fresh food that nourishes. But, if you lose respect and honor for MY WORD, then you will cease to cherish it, and it will become a stumbling stone for many, because it is no longer given IN LOVE, but in greed. It turns to a stone, because greed comes from a lack of respect and a ceasing of honor and submittance to MY Word. But if you ever keep MY WORD before you, then you will feed them with a true heart, and they will grow and know Me, for you will show them the way."

Jesus then reached out to me, and held the torch to me. He said, "This is yours. It is lit with the Flame of the Father. The Flame of the Father lit the Menorah, which stood before the Ark. Just as I stand before the Father now. It is an eternal flame, but men failed to keep it lit. The Light went out in the Holy Place. Men are not faithful, and do not have their hearts set upon MY WORD. They take their eyes off of Me, and do not fear Me."

"You have been called to be a Torch Bearer. You must carry the BURDEN OF THE WORD. You must show MY WORD, the LIVING WORD, to those I send you to. I am calling many to this task. For the Hour of great darkness has come, and the LIGHT OF MY WORD will dwell among men, all who are Mine. It is your choice to carry this torch. It will be your burden to bear, and your destiny to walk in. Many will come to this place and receive MY WORD, and embrace it fully, or they will not. Just as you do this day."

I stood and watched as the fire danced upon the torch. I felt such a longing for it, yet, I also felt a fear rise up from within me as I thought about taking it. The Lord said, "That is the true Fear of the Lord. If My People would allow the true Fear of the Lord to guide them, they would not so easily stray from Me or deny Me. They would be fully yielded to Me, and would not struggle as much as they do in their sins, for they do not allow MY WORD to do it's complete work in them. So they live only partially in victory, and remain in their flesh and carnal ways, and do not know the fullness of the relationship with us."

I reached out for the Flaming Torch, and Jesus put it in my hand. It fit right in my hand like it was made for it. Jesus smiled, and said, "You were made for Me. Why would not MY WORD feel like it was made for you. I AM the LIVING WORD, and you now hold MY HEART in your hands. The BURDEN OF THE WORD that burns in this torch before you is MY HEART. It is MY HEART that ignites the WORD, and it becomes alive and creates the Father's Will in the earth. I still live to do the Father's Will, and so will you."

"Go, and allow the WORD to burn within you, and upon you, and become the BURDEN of the Father through you. That is what is meant by, being the salt and the Light of the world. How can men see, unless a LIGHT is lit, and how can they understand, unless one is sent to them, to point them the way?"

I began to feel the BURDEN OF HIS HEART as I stood there holding that torch. I could feel His Concern for them, and for their burdens and captivity. I could feel a great stirring deep within me, as I began to walk forwards, and the Cloud of His Glory began to fade…..

True Promotion Comes From Me
Susan Cummings

In this hour many run to and fro claiming that they have now advanced and have attained great new levels and positions and have now been promoted and are ready for the glory. But I say to you, that promotion comes from Me, alone. Many run to and fro in My Name, and make claims of greatness, but are actually running in their own delusions and empty hearts.

The way to promotion is through death. I bring My People through the furnace of affliction, and the fiery trials of life, so that they are purified and learn of Me, in the process. There is no glory in death, but there is LIFE in Me.

None of Mine run unless I send them.
None of Mine point to themselves, but point all men to Me.
None of Mine ever strive for position or ranking, but leave all their futures up to My Choices for them, and they embrace Me in them.
None of Mine speak in My Name, unless I give them My Words to speak, for they properly fear and reverence Me, and My Word.
Where is the Fear of the Lord, amongst the ones who call themselves by My Name?
Where is the Reverence for Me, and for My Word?
Where is the Respect for people and their brethren?

I say to you, that it will not remain so, for I am coming to deal with each, and to cause them to see their true foundations and hearts. I will expose all false motives, pride, arrogance, promotions, egos, and self wills. Either Mine will lay their lives upon the altar, or they will walk out into the darkness and into deception, apart from Me.

I will not tolerate the use of My Name or Word falsely, anymore!

I am Jealous for My Name, and for My Word!
I will promote who I choose, and where I choose. Man will not dictate to Me, who they want. I AM God. It is MY House, and not theirs , and the people are My Sheep, and the their flock. Who is man, that He would assume to be the head over Mine?
It will be plainly seen who is the Head over My House!

I am righting the wrongs that have been allowed in My House, and bringing correction where it is due. No more closet deeds, and back room plans! I see all, and know it before they do it. Now it will be brought out into the light. For I have repeatedly told you that I have returned. Man does not believe me. It has always been that way, even from the beginning…..

I am bringing Mine to the forefront, who are faithful and who have My Heart for My People. They will now lead, and will prepare the people for Me. They will faithfully teach the people the difference from the holy and the profane. The Truth will be embraced in My House, and it will be clear and not dark anymore!
Sin is Sin, and Holy is Holy! My People will know the difference!

The Standard is being raised up. True Humility and Love will order MY Own, and they will not harm one another. The Truth will be upon their lips and their lives will be marked, and ordered by My Word. For they will be Lovers of the Truth.
True Promotion comes from Me, and it is Mine who will now displace those who were unfaithful…..

Vision of the Cresting Waves
Susan Cummings

Tonight as I was sitting at my computer, the Lord flashed a vision of cresting waves before me.

The waves were coming in rapid succession, one right after another, following closely behind the next one. Each wave was rising up higher and higher, and they were cresting as they came closer. There was not a lot of noticeable distance between the waves that I could see.

They seemed to be riding upon each other's flow, and were timed just exactly in sequence with the others rise and fall. They had a strip of shiny lining at the crest of the wave. The waters of the ocean were blue, and not dark at all. They were relatively calm, except for the incoming waves.

There was no storm that could form these waves, nor was there a noticeable wind that drove them. It seemed that they came in on their own volition, as they were brought forth by the Lord.

The next scene:
People were scattered among the beach, and some began to notice the waves coming in from afar. They began to gather, and to watch, as these waves were not normal. They were not moved by the seasons or weather. So many, were just standing and watching.

Others, picked up their belongings and began to leave or change their places on the beach frontage. You could see that those who were moving seemed to be making speedy changes to their positions. They did not wait for the others, but quietly moved away.

I watched as the people lingered and chatted easily about the waves with each other, and commented on their meaning. But they did not seem to care about their course or their coming in. They only wanted to watch the scene.

The next scene:
I watched, as the waves began to rise up further, and become more beautiful as the sun began to shine upon them. The glittering lining atop of each crest glowed in the bright light of the sunlight. It seemed to mesmerize all who watched.

I noticed a shadow under the waves as it came closer to the shore. I did not see it before, as it was not close enough to see, and no one was paying attention. The shadow underneath the waves was very large, and the waves seemed to be on top of the shadow, riding upon it.

Then, as it got close to the shore, a huge beast rose up out of the water. The waves had only been a glittering trail left by the beasts underwater motions, as he swam for shore. The people who had been watching were totally unable to move, as it came to shore. They were mesmerized by it’s fierceness and it’s beauty. They were not discerning of it’s evil.

The Lord then said to me, this is the beast that sits upon the waters. It will rise up, as you have seen it. Those who are mine, know the signs of it’s coming, and will move to where I lead them to. Many will be caught unawares and not see the true form of the beast, and will not escape it’s trap. It will be too late.

The hour is come, for the beast to soon rise and to sit upon his seat for a time. I have repeatedly told My People to prepare themselves, but few believe that they will live in that hour, or see it.

They have become conditioned by the world and it’s enticements and have not remained separated from its deceptions. So they will perish from their lack of knowledge.

But Mine know Me, and know the hour that is come, and are not partakers of the world or it’s mindsets. They have remained pure and close to Me. They will see the false, and know it’s coming. They will help many to see the Truth.

My Word has proclaimed the hour, and few can see the lateness or the signs, for many look for another, but they do not yet see that it has already came and gone. So few truly read My Word or study it, if they had, they would have oil in their lamps and they would see.

The waves are now moving upon the waters in rapid succession, and now will the events come rapidly and in succession, as My Word has said. Who will stand when they come in, and who will found in Me?

Intimacy

Jon Hamill

Inconvenient Intimacy" is about to Overthrow "Illegitimate Intimacy"
In November 2003, while in New England on a ministry trip, the Lord spoke to me about the year to come. That 2004 is a pivotal year, in which He is calling His people into a season of what He termed "inconvenient intimacy." Though speaking of intimacy, the word came forth like thunder as though it were a mandate for the year. I knew immediately in my spirit that He was yearning to call forth corporate and regional solemn assemblies, significant gatherings of repentance, prayer and fasting. These solemn assemblies would be inconvenient in the natural for many - whether in time, money, sleep, or even in spheres of relationships, these solemn assemblies would cost believers deeply to call, and to participate in. But they would be catalytic to greater dimensions of intimacy with God and governmental breakthrough so needed at this time.

Watch by Night

Recently the Lord brought this word back to my attention a number of ways. The first was through a brief vision. I saw Jesus by night at Gethsemane, dressed in a dark red robe, His hair moistened by dew and by His own sweat. In the vision He motioned to me with His hand and said simply, "Come pray with me." Christ's invitation in the vision is being given as a mandate to many in the body at this hour - a season of inconvenient intimacy, involving night watches of prayer and repentance until "the day breaks" and His justice is released into lives, churches, into regions and even nations.

A Second Call

The Lord also spoke on "inconvenient intimacy" through a dream. I was in a house of prayer that stood virtually empty. A man went to a microphone in front of a stage and declared, "45 minutes until a second Call!" It was clear he was referring to a solemn assembly similar to those from the Call movement led by Lou Engle and Che' Ahn. But with little time left before the event began, the seats of the auditorium were virtually vacant. I found a place in the third row from the front, and talked briefly with two beloved intercessors in the second row before going forward to pray.

Interestingly, one of my intercessory friends I saw in the dream had gone through heart surgery, and had not been at church for months as a result. Amazingly, the morning after my dream the two intercessory friends showed up unexpectedly at church - and sat in the second row!

In the dream the Lord asked me to pray Revelation 19:11 for God to war against the stupor satan was trying to bring to keep God's people from gathering together to repent and pray. To my remembrance I have never prayed before in a dream, but the anointing and authority released in this dream was beyond anything I have ever experienced. While the intercession was going forth, the house of prayer began to overflow with people suddenly gathering for this "Second Call." I awoke from this literally trembling.

We Need the Experts

Later during the church service, the Lord reminded me of a warning He had given during the Kettle Tour, a prayer journey through the northeast that ended literally days before the tragedy of September 11, 2001. A friend telephoned in a dream she had in which she was suddenly and unexpectedly pregnant. She looked down at her belly, and realized that just as suddenly, she had come to full term - and there was nobody around to help her deliver this child. She began calling out "Call 911! Call 911! We need the experts!"

Each of us on the journey had our own interpretations - all of which were true. God was giving us Psalm 91:1 protection. The baby of revival is about to be birthed, and we need to prepare. The Lord was joining the Call movement of societal repentance to the International House of Prayer movement, which focused on Amos 9:11, the restoration of the Tabernacle of David.

But none of us perceived the "call" that would come from God's gracious heart amidst the explosions and confusion and darkened skies of September 11. Call 911. A call for the northeast and for America, resounding as a trumpet amidst the tragedy, to awaken from stupor and arise in prayer and service to meet the challenges of the kairos hour.

I am by no means prophesying another tragedy for our land as a means to motivate prayer. What I am saying is that God is releasing to His body in America another call-- another trumpet is now beginning to sound, calling Christians to gather for repentance and prayer on a massive scale. I don't know how the trumpet will sound, or what its melody will be, but we are prophetically less than an hour away from the full expression of this second Call. Whereas God was releasing Amos 9:11 in the first call, He is releasing Revelation 19:11 as a significant expression of the second Call. In righteousness He is establishing justice, moving through the doorways of an open heaven to war against the stupor and slumber so many of us have fallen back into. It is time to awaken and gather for Solemn Assemblies across the land - the experts are needed!

Illegitimate Intimacy

This brings me to my third prophetic experience, which was simply a whisper from the Lord while praying over the gay marriage issue that has brought Boston, Massachusetts to the forefront of the news lately. The Lord spoke that "Inconvenient Intimacy" is set by Him to overthrow "Illegitimate Intimacy."

It has been amazing to see the massive gatherings of gays and lesbians at the Statehouse on Beacon Hill in the city covenanted to the Lord as "A city on a hill, a light to the nations." They are gathering to convince politicians that their expression of intimacy should be legitimatized by a law allowing them to marry. As Massachusetts is a major root of our nation, what transpires in this pivotal state often finds expression across the land - "For if the root is holy, so are the branches."

It is therefore interesting to note the proclamation this state carries on its license plates - "Massachusetts, the spirit of America." What spirit will prevail in this region covenanted to God by our forefathers? What is God asking us to do on behalf of the land in this season of inconvenient intimacy? Bigotry and hatred only mar the countenance of Christ as expressed through His people. Truthfully, we have no option but to pray!

It is also interesting to note the 911 terrorists launched their attack on the World Trade Center from Boston. And it was in Boston, only 11 days after September 11 that 50,000 Christians gathered for the Call New England, which was the second Solemn Assembly planned by Lou Engle and Che Ahn in the Call movement.

Establishing God's Presence

My friend Katherine Puleo has been holding prayer meetings each Friday at the Boston Statehouse for almost a year now. I had the privilege of ministering on Beacon Hill with Katherine in September. During that time the Lord quickened to me David's covenant with God in Psalm 132 for a lifestyle of 'inconvenient intimacy' until His presence was established in Jerusalem. "I will give no sleep to my eyes, nor slumber to my eyelids, until I find a dwelling place for the mighty God of Jacob." This is an amazing revelation. David in essence poured out his life to see God's presence established in the governmental structures of the governmental city of Jerusalem.

And this is the invitation that the Lord is mandating in this hour. His call is for His intercessory forerunners to covenant with Him to give no rest to their eyes, nor slumber to their eyelids, UNTIL GOD'S PRESENCE IS ESTABLISHED IN THE GOVERNMENTAL STRUCTURES OF THE GOVERNMENTAL CITIES OF THEIR REGION! This is the core commitment needed to see the restoration of the Tabernacle of David as Amos prophesied.

Please pray for Boston, and for the Northeast. Pray for leaders and intercessors in the region and nation to be strengthened by the Spirit. Pray for gays and lesbians to find And please be sensitive to the whisper of the Holy Spirit that is now a mandate for our land. Whatever the cost, it is time to gather together for fasting, for repentance, for worship and intercession in this season of inconvenient intimacy. Please let us heed God's invitation to gather for a "Second Call"--- the experts are needed at this time!

Intimacy Revealed
Stephen Penney

Aug 3, 2004
How can I be totally humbled before the living God, and yet at the same time Jesus is my best friend in the whole world? That is a good question. I like it when people ask good questions, or as proverbs calls them, questions inspired by wisdom. Like how do we understand the relationship between Father Son and Spirit?

The Bible constantly says things in little triplets, one part from the Father's viewpoint, one from the Spirit, and one from the Son. The Psalms and the prophets are full of these little triplets, each saying the same thing from a different perspective. What I hadn't expected was that the Glory Cloud thought would be like that too!

The Church Exodus was seeing the Father's view on the church and how He is leading us out from slavery into the wilderness place by His Glory Cloud. The Glory Cloud part was from the Spirit, revealing how he longs for us to know that place with Him. He is the Glory Cloud. But there was something missing, there still is really as all these thoughts are incomplete and just glimpses of a depth of what He is doing.

I was reading in Joel 2:12-13, although it could have been anywhere really and the Lord was saying, (as He does throughout), about How His heart is broken because His people rebelled and how He longs to love and forgive, and to heal them:

'But now - it is Yahweh who speaks – come back to me with all your heart, fasting, weeping, mourning.' Let your hearts be broken not your garments torn, turn to Yahweh your God again, for He is all tenderness and compassion, slow to anger, rich in graciousness and ready to relent.

And I wondered - why did Israel do that? Why did they leave Him to follow idols, when He was offering love and healing and forgiveness? Then I thought - this has nothing to do with Israel! We are exactly the same!

The Lord is offering us an incredible gift. He offers it freely because He has paid the price. Why is it that we go our own ways? Why do we rebel against that love? Why is it that I would rather do some flesh thing that numbs the pain for a short while?

I guess I can't always say for someone else, but I can say why I do it. It comes from a doubt of the love of the Lord being enough. Like - I know I have been called to be a prophet, and that is a lonely path. But there is glory at the end, at the end He at the end He will say 'well done good and faithful servant.' if I am a good and faithful servant. (Matthew 25:21 + 23)

So I should knuckle down and accept the suffering as a good servant of Jesus Christ. Accept the loneliness as going with the territory and just get on with it. As it says in Matthew 10:37-39 about having to loose father, mother, son, daughter for the sake of the gospel; or 19:10-12 where it talks of becoming eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom.

That is easier said than done sometimes though, and I think that we have accepted the biggest con of all time if we believe that this is the way it is! Yes You and I have been conned by the enemy into thinking that! We see so clearly the narrow gate and the hard path, (Matthew 7:13-14), that we miss the reason we are taking this route!

The Lord wants us to be His Bride, or at least part of it. That is the most intimate relationship of all, it is emotional, it is spiritual, and it is physical. The Lord has designed our very beings for intimacy. He wants deep intimacy with us... He has designed our spirits for intimacy.

We as prophets are called to walk a path alone, without much human support, this is absolutely true. To be able to be used by Him we need our flesh ways stripped away - absolutely true. The thing that is also true is the reason that he does this is to bring us to a place of holiness, so that He can have an unprecedented intimacy with us

The enemy lies and tells us that when we get through this it will be cold and lonely out there this is poppycock, piffle, bilge and balderdash! We are going through this for one purpose only: So that we can have an intimacy with Him unheard of since Moses. This is what our hearts truly long for and we often daren't even admit it to ourselves, for fear of having it taken away.

To be the Bride of Christ we will also love one another as He has loved us. So there will be human relationships between the refined ones as well.

When Paul says about young people choosing not to be married, where he says I wish everyone could be as I am, it always seems hard and cold, but was he really saying - I know an unparalleled intimacy with Christ because of being stripped of fleshly things. Was that what he wanted everyone else to be able to share?

These are only embryo thoughts, not really thought it through, but I know inside me there is a fear of the loneliness of former times. The refining we face can be a very isolating thing. There is a real fear that I will be left not only with nothing, but in a dry and weary land where there is no water.

That is where we are at the moment this is the refining, we are being taken into the wilderness. We are seeing the dry and weary land, and are thirsting for Jesus, but look at where He is taking us: I have seen you in your sanctuary... to behold His power and glory, (the glory cloud) Because your love is better than life my lips will glorify You. My soul WILL be satisfied

Will be satisfied - not might be, perhaps, or partially, or the emotions but not the physical, or spirit only, or anything like that! His promise is total, complete, nothing missing. I know my soul isn't satisfied yet; but Jesus thank You, thank You that we do not need to fear, that You have promised us that in that dry and weary land - You will give us what our hearts are longing for!

After that it still talks about persecution - so that continues; but we are in the presence of His glory cloud – we know that sanctuary presence. That next part about lying awake at night, meditating on Him – Do you find sometimes you can't sleep because you are just so excited by Him - It is where it is at isn't it?

Jesus - we have to face some really dreadful emotional yukk in this refining, but we so desire that place in Your sanctuary. We so desire to be in Your holy of holies, we simply do not want anything to cause us to miss out, no human striving, not holding onto any bitterness, not trying to justify ourselves. Help us to let go, help us to not strive for acceptance, but be filled with You, and who we are in You.

Give us the strength and grace to walk out the pain, not trying to escape and numb it,(ouch that is a hard one for me!), to walk more and more into YOUR healing, to trust you to take the pain away in your way in Your timing Lord.

YOUR will be done. Jesus we need you - we need to know You in that depth - our hearts will be satisfied with nothing less. Fill this empty space inside of me, this ache; fill it Lord, with more of YOU!

Jesus - I am satisfied if you take everyone away - but I need someone to hug me. Lord I need to know you on a physical level, to feel You. Lord we need to know that depth in you. We refuse the lies of the enemy. Lord please forgive us for believing that You only had a hard path for us to walk. When in truth we have been running from Your love.

Lord you have told us so many times how great your love is and I've tasted a little of your love and it is like honey on my lips. Yet we still believe the lies that our hurts have told us. Jesus fill us with YOUR truth. Forgive us JESUS, wash us clean with your blood and write your truths deep on our hearts like never before - We need more of that honey!

Thank you for shedding your blood for us, so we could TRULY LIVE! Lord please come and totally cleanse once again - we need You Jesus, we need to come away changed because of Your forgiveness. We truly desire to walk knowing that truth. - That all this heartache is for one purpose only - to truly be able to know the depth of Your love.

Following that prayer I remembered Ephesians 3:16-19 - the prayer of Paul for those guys in Ephesus. It is a totally inspired prayer; it says something of what God's heart is:

Out of His infinite glory, may He give you the power through His Spirit for your hidden self to grow strong, so that Christ may live in your hearts through faith, and then, planted in LOVE and built on LOVE, you will with all the saints have the strength to grasp the breadth the length, the height and the depth; until knowing the LOVE of Christ, which is beyond all knowledge, you are filled with the utter fullness of God.

This is God's purpose for us, individually, and together with all the saints. There is no room in this whatever for any fear of abandonment, fear of walking comfortless in a weary land because of our calling! Hallelujah – the Jesus part of the Glory Cloud is a part of total intimacy with Him – complete with nothing missing .

This thought is certainly not all mine – The Lord uses each of us to sharpen each other and lead us deeper into Him. Not only that but I feel there is a lot more to come as He speaks through this, and uses it in some small way to stir up your heart too! Oh and one more verse – doesn't really seem to fit, but I felt Him say it so I will add it. Acts 1:4 ..He told them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait there for what the Father had promised…

There is still a time of waiting for this promise to be fulfilled, the purifying is not over yet – I guess as we feel the flames licking around us, that is hardly an inspired revelation! But He is going to do this. We will know all 3 aspects of the Glory Cloud – we will have that spirit understanding of what it is like to be totally humbled before the Lord – and totally in love with Him at the same time!

In The Out Door

Sandy Warner

Dearest, this is the year of open doors. Do understand the doors swing both ways. As much as I want you to walk through the doors that I grant you, the enemy also wants to lure you through his doors. Demonic doors automatically swing open when you get in a hurry and then ahead of Me. I realize this has placed My fear within you and I have heard your prayer over these matters. All you need to know at this time is to earnestly follow your conscience, that Spirit within you that grants you My abiding peace as you walk through your daily choices. Follow the sign of My peace and obey My Word. I will alert you if you are about to walk through the wrong door and in the wrong direction. If you feel pressed, see it as a red light, and learn to wait upon Me for when to move and how.

Neh 9:20-21 NLT
You sent your good Spirit to instruct them, and you did not stop giving them bread from heaven or water for their thirst.

Doing The Dailys

Sandy Warner

As you go forth in ministry, it is important that you learn to keep your mouth clean. Brushing your spiritual teeth is allowing Me to clean your speech and your tongue with the washing of My Word. Daily maintenance of repentance and confession before Me will develop a lifetime habit and protection. The curses of witchcraft are hurled through the air and will land upon those who do not maintain their mouths. The tongue can give life or destruction and it is time My own grew up into the adulthood of daily washing.

Isa 54:14 AMP
You shall establish yourself in righteousness (rightness, in conformity with God's will and order): you shall be far from even the thought of oppression or destruction, for you shall not fear, and from terror, for it shall not come near you.

Old Tests Are For Healing
Sandy Warner

Jun 16, 2004

When you suddenly find yourself caught in an old test, one that you have taken before, rejoice. This is your chance to get things right from places where you have stumbled in your past. Dear ones, this circle of pain is not allowed to make you fall, but to bring healing deep within your soul.

Sometimes there are tiny threads of past disappointments that are like little ingrown hairs. Life grows around them as you press on in life and they are ignored and unnoticed. When it is time to repair an old wound, I allow this little pain to work its way toward the surface of your heart. Before you know it, there is a red area, a pocket of infection that has become openly transparent. Give these old places to Me and I will lance these pimples with My sword. I will draw out the infection with My love and grant you the warm balm of My healing Word. Always remember that when you ask Me for forgiveness, I do not keep a record of your sins, you are completely forgiven, My beloved child.

Ps 130:3, 4 NLT
LORD, if you kept a record of our sins, who, O Lord, could ever survive? But you offer forgiveness, that we might learn to fear you.

Invincibility

Priscilla Van Sutphin

Aug 6th, 3004
www.upstreamca.org

Hab 3:19 AMP The Lord God is my Strength, my personal bravery, and my invincible army; He makes my feet like hinds' feet and will make me to walk [not to stand still in terror, but to walk] and make [spiritual] progress upon my high places [of trouble, suffering, or responsibility]!

2 Cor 3:18 NKJV But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, just as by the Spirit of the Lord.

“You are complete and whole My beloveds, only in ME. I am the Source of all you need. It is in My Righteousness you must stand and tell the enemy to GO!
If you try to stand on your own righteousness, how can you stand? For you are all falling short of the glory of God. You are being transformed into My image day to day, grace to grace, glory to glory! The more you are sanctified, the more you reflect My glory! I said to work out your salvation with fear and trembling. Do you tremble at My name? Is it ME you fear? Is it ME you are depending on? Or is it YOU, you are depending on? If you depend on you, why do you need ME? If you can live in control of your own life, then why did you need a Saviour?

If you depend on your own righteousness, then you will not be standing in the place of GRACE, and instead you will be standing in your OWN righteousness and your OWN efforts! THAT is NOT a good place to be My Beloveds. FOR the Galatians were in that place when Paul wrote his letter, and how did he say it? ‘Who has bewitched you, oh foolish Galatians? ‘ For if you begin to stand on your own efforts instead of the CROSS for salvation then you are not standing IN ME. YOU are standing instead outside of My grace where the enemy can abuse and pummel you! BUT, if you are standing in ME, dependent not on your own efforts, but MY SACRIFICE at the cross, then you are SAFE, hidden in the shadow of MY wings!

Have you shed your blood for the world? Have you been nailed to the cross?
For when you try to work out your own salvation without ME, by your own efforts and striving, then it is like you are trying to nail your own hands and feet to the cross instead of accepting what I did for you. When you walk in guilt and shame, and self punishment and self blame, and self condemnation, giving in to the lies of the enemy, then you are OUTSIDE the camp! You are outside of My GRACE and therefore VULNERABLE to the enemy’s torments!
YOU MUST STAND within the shadow of MY WINGS, sheltered by MY BLOOD, by MY SACRIFICE and DEATH. There, in the covering of blood is the atonement for all your sins, and nothing can touch you, just as in Goshen, When they applied the blood, none of them was touched by the most evil enemy of DEATH!!! Now if death could not touch them covered in the blood, then why do you think you can be vulnerable to anything except my love when you are under it? It is only when you step out from under it, and into your own works and efforts and striving, that then, you are vulnerable! The more you are healed and delivered, the more covering you have so long as you don’t give in to the tempter, and step into self condemnation, guilt, shame, unforgiveness, anger, rejection, self rejection, rebellion, etc…

So the longer you walk in the Spirit, and the more you spend time with ME, the more healing and deliverance you get. The more the strongholds are broken in My presence, and the more wisdom and guidance you are able to receive. The more the WORD gets into your being, you are able to fight with it. But you MUST BELIEVE IT! When you don't or are not sure, the enemy knows and will do his best to defeat you. The WORD is your immune system defense network! As you grow in the TRUTH that you know, then the stronger you get and the more able you are to FIGHT with ASSURANCE of My promises, and see the victory. And the more healed and delivered/sanctified you become, the stronger and formidable a foe you are to the enemy's forces!

All will have times of dryness and testing in your walk where it seems that things are no longer the way they were. Each new level of glory has it's transition period. At each new level, there are new enemies to conquer. The testing will be more severe, so that as you are healed and come through you receive more GRACE and GLORY!

Now a word about patience! For as you grow in love, so you grow in patience.
Without patience there is a lack of love, so each trial and test brings more endurance and more exercising of patience so that patience is WORKED into you! AS you EXERCISE it…just like a muscle…it gets STRONGER! So let patience have it's perfect work! Keep going, do not look back at all your failure, but instead THANK ME even for the failures. For with each failure, there is more death to self, and more growth, and more learning of the things that you have needed to learn! Joy comes in rejoicing EVEN IN THE FAILURES, EVEN IN THE TEMPTATIONS, EVEN IN THE SUFFERINGS, and AFFLICTION. And as you learn to rejoice in these trials and tests, then you will OVERCOME. Overcoming comes by rejoicing in ALL things. Accepting that all things work for the good to those who are called according to My purposes. Will I not work all things for your good if you are called?

Learn to FORGIVE YOURSELF, for I see many of My beloveds, being too harsh on themselves, while others turn to their own ways and selfishness. Do not give in to unforgiveness towards yourself which leads to self-punishment and self-judging. As it opens the door to torment. The enemy then comes in like a flood with self condemnation, and anger, because you can never feel JOYFUL for yourself.

YOU ARE MADE IN OUR IMAGE. IN OUR IMAGE WE MADE YOU! SO STOP LOOKING AT YOURSELF WITH DISDAIN AND DISAPPROVAL AND ALIGNING YOURSELF WITH THE ACCUSER AGAINST YOURSELF! He is telling you you're a failure, and you're agreeing. YOU need to BREAK that agreement when he tempts you, and do not allow it. Tell him you are accepted in the Beloved! You are MINE, and I am yours! Tell him you are My favorite one! Tell him I LOVE YOU! For that is the truth. I WILL NEVER STOP LOVING YOU! DO you hear me My beloveds? I will never, never, never leave you nor forsake you, but I will ALWAYS love you!

I am a good FATHER Who gives good gifts to His children, and this night, I am launching a full on attack on the enemy on your behalf. I KNOW the tests, and I know how he has been sneaking around and trying to torment.
But his time is short which is why he is so ravenous. KICK HIM OUT!
SPEAK MY WORD AND MEAN IT! SHUT the door on all his lies. Watch what you say, and be quick to listen and slow to speak! REMEMBER MY LOVE ALWAYS! Make a remembrance of the many times I have come through for you and think on those times. It will strengthen you in the days ahead! Keep your eyes upward, and remember WHOSE you are!

Phil 2:12-14 NKJV   Light Bearers
Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; 13 for it is God who works in you both to will and to do for His good pleasure. 14 Do all things without complaining and disputing,

Roustabout
Priscilla Van Sutphin

August 7th, 2004
www.upstreamca.org

Main Entry: roust·about Function: noun
1 a : DECKHAND
  b : LONGSHOREMAN
2 : an unskilled or semiskilled laborer especially in an oil field or refinery
3 : a circus worker who erects and dismantles tents, cares for the grounds, and handles animals and equipment

The following details a Roustabout job description:
The primary tasks of a Roustabout is drilling aboard the oil rig. Additional tasks include unloading supplies from the support vessels and producing wells service units.

I have many job openings for roustabouts. So I am calling on you those who are interested in drilling for OIL. Do you have the muscles for the job? Do you have and interest in piercing through darkness? Do you like the idea of plucking people out of the darkness and into My LIGHT? Do you like unloading My supply of love and tenderness, kindness and goodness to others? Are you willing to SERVICE all who come to Me for freedom? Then this is the job for you! I have many gifts to unload in this hour, and much to teach to those who are going to come by the power of My Spirit!

If you are willing, then I am willing to pour into you all it takes for this job! And I will also prepare, equip, and service your needs that you can do it! I will provide all that is needed. The only thing is you have to be dead! You have to be dead to your ways and means, to your ideas and opinions, and to your will, and to be willing to obey all orders from your Chief Commander! If you are willing to do this, then I will impart all that is needed.

I am building in you spiritual muscle for exercising authority over all that hinders the lives of others. You will trample on serpents and scorpions and you will scale heights not seen before in your dimension. There is much to do, so I have room for ALL who are willing. Another requirement is that you do not squabble with other roustabouts, but that you honor one another, and love one another as I have loved you! You must put aside all judgments and criticism and allow ME to be COMMANDER in Chief! When you come up against opposition, you must all be in agreement. That will happen because when I come to equip you, I will break all chains that keep you from loving each other. Love is the greatest, and it is when you know the fullness of My love, that you can be filled with the fullness of My power!

All other roustabouts will have the same done to them, so that you will know each other by your love for one another! And NOTHING will be withheld from you to build the KINGDOM OF GOD! You will move in the Spirit without opposition to each other, because of what I DO in you! I will remove all the rough edges off my diamonds. Your perfection is not dependent on your efforts, but on MINE. I WILL COME and release My fire if you will just ask. I will perfect all that concerns ME!!! And I will perfect all that concerns YOU! I am shining you up and then there will be a great wave that fills My house. Those that shine like diamonds will stand out. PURITY will once again be established in My church, and TRUTH will replace all apostasy, and compromise. Even cults will turn and be changed as I touch ALL who call on My name! Many will be shocked into submission. I am lengthening the sword and sharpening it, that I have put in your hands. You will need two hands to hold it, and you will ONLY use it as I LEAD! I WILL DIVIDE THE FALSE FROM THE TRUE, AND THERE WILL BE GREAT WEEPING ON THAT DAY.

SO KEEP YOUR EYES ON ME, AND KEEP YOUR HEART BENT IN PRAYER AND WORSHIP AND THE WORD. DO NOT GIVE IN TO DISMAY OF ALL THAT IS GOING ON AROUND YOU. KEEP YOUR EYES ON ME MY BELOVEDS. KNOW I AM COMING SOON.

{diamonds are used in drilling}
Mud-rotary drilling-this method is used for drilling through soft rocks, sand and clay layers especially in the search for coal, oil or gas. A special mix of clay and water is forced down the drill hole turning a rotary bit, with rock chips returning in the "mud" slurry. This method is used for holes up to 3km deep and can be done from ships or offshore platforms especially in the search for oil and/or gas. A person who collects the chips and identifies the rock type and other information is known as a "mud-logger".

Diamond core drilling-this method involves a pipe encrusted in industrial diamonds being used to drill through rock layers, with a "core" of rock being left in the centre of the pipe. This core is recovered and gives information not only about the rock types, but also about the relationships between the rock layers in detail.

Intercession Over October 31

Sandy Warner

Oct 30, 2004

We unite together and pray as one,
As we stand on behalf of Your kingdom.
Forgive us our sins when we are led astray.
Our flesh is corrupt, it keeps us from Your ways.

As the enemies gather to curse our land,
We gather in faith in Your power to stand.
It's not in ourselves to hold up a shield,
Or in our own might with our swords to wield.

The blood of Jesus is our great power to fight.
It covers our backs that no curses will alight.
We humble ourselves, thanking You for Jesus' blood.
His blood lifts us up, above all demonic flood.

By Your Spirit we connect in Your true love.
Your banner is spread out in heaven above,
Reigning Supremely over demonic hordes.
We gather together and call You Lord.

We pray for our loved ones both near and far
To cover their backsides from the bizarre.
We ask You replace that power to curse
With blessings upon us, to reimburse.

We lay in ruins among our decay,
In the stolen years of pain and delay.
Instead rebuild us through our prayers and love.
Please send us Your Spirit, Your sweet, sweet Dove.

Jesus' blood puts all devils under foot.
As we command, "Back off, we want our loot."
We rest in Jesus as we rise in faith.
We burst forth in freedom above the scathe.

Let this year be mighty in the power of Your blood
As You reveal Aaron's rod, the one that has bud.
Drenched in Your Presence before Your great ark
Now releasing Your power among the dark.

Go forth oh rod to protect and defend.
Demarcate the line among every man.
Cover the righteous with mercy and declare
The Justice of God among men everywhere.

It is time to level the playing field,
To balance the scales from what was yield
From the crops of men not given reward.
Now bow the knee that Jesus Christ is Lord.

Ps 110:1-4 NKJV
The LORD said to my Lord, "Sit at My right hand, Till I make Your enemies Your footstool." The LORD shall send the rod of Your strength out of Zion. Rule in the midst of Your enemies! Your people shall be volunteers In the day of Your power; In the beauties of holiness, from the womb of the morning, You have the dew of Your youth. The LORD has sworn And will not relent, "You are a priest forever According to the order of Melchizedek."

To Stand Together
Sandy Warner

Oct 31, 2004

To Stand Together
Who is your son?
United into one.
One in mind, purpose and heart.
Together and united you fought.
Your hearts are pure
from jezebel's lure.
He will stand
as he becomes a man.
Learning as you go
with many lessons in tow.
Righting the wrongs and joined in one song.
Planted in prayer,
he's always there.
Right by your side
and won't be denied.
It's a tough one I know.
But onward you will go.

Mal 4:6 NKJV
And he will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with a curse."

Barometric Signs
Sandy Warner

Oct 27, 2004
There are many kinds of signs in heaven and earth. I use everything to point the way to My Word. In the days to come I have appointed many signs and wonders. My most precious of signs will be planted within the callings of My children. Those who have child like faith shall especially be glorious barometers of My Word. Their humble hearts, their hungry hearts, their joyful anticipation of My good gifts, all these shall shine as signs in unique ways. The world may call them fools for the trying, but they will only know the glory in the living. Their very lives will reflect My Word, in their actions, their Words, and in their hearts. Within the very story of their lives, I will have woven the golden thread of My glory as they simply look to Me and walk it out naturally.

There will be times when My anointing will so heavily rest upon their signs that they will become like giant steam engines, longing for the relief valve to express what I AM building within them. Come forth oh chosen generation, come forth, and become the signs you are destined to be in Me.

Isa 8:18 KJV
Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

The Signs And The Wonders
Sandy Warner

Oct 29, 2004
Listen to the story of My signs and wonders. It was a sign when John leaped within the womb as Mary walked into the room. It was a wonder that John's spirit recognized Jesus. It was a sign when Jesus was lifted up on the cross, it was a wonder when His act became salvation to all mankind. It was a sign when Hosea married Gomar, it was a wonder when he experienced My heart of love for her. It was a sign when the mantle struck the waters, it was a wonder when they parted. It was a sign when Moses carried the rod, it was a wonder when he used it. It was a sign when Paul was the best of the best in his natural strength only to consider himself the weakest and the worst in the end. It was a wonder when My glory was made perfect in miraculous strength - through Paul's stripping. It was a sign that Joseph was given the dream of his family bowing low before him. It was a wonder that it was accomplished through his prison experience. It was a sign when the Israelites wandered for 40 years in the wilderness. It was a wonder that their shoes were preserved.

And even today My signs and wonders continue. So many lives tell a story, portraying My message to the world. To be a sign is to literally live out My message through your daily life. To be a wonder is when I multiply it for the sake of multitudes. It is a glorious joy to be a sign and a wonder and by far one of the most joyous ways to hear Me speak.

My Word will be in you, upon you, around you, through you, and you will live it, know it and recognize it in the most intimate of ways. People climb the highest mountains to be able to receive what you will experience every day, by simply being called to be a sign and a wonder.

Ps 71:5-8 NKJV

For You are my hope, O Lord GOD; You are my trust from my youth. By You I have been upheld from birth; You are He who took me out of my mother's womb. My praise shall be continually of You. I have become as a wonder to many, but You are my strong refuge. Let my mouth be filled with Your praise and with Your glory all the day.

Surgery From Your Past Is Necessary

Sandy Warner

Oct 25, 2004
Precious one, yes it is Me. Sometimes I bring your past before you for a specific purpose. You may think you are repeating old cycles of old pain. It may concern you that you will fall into the ditch and never rise again. Yes, you have circled this journey before, as even your parents did before you. Yet, listen to My voice. THIS time it is different. I have brought you to this door for a specific purpose. It is time to cut off the old shame, the old pain, the old mind-sets, the old habits, the old misunderstandings, the old lies and be RELEASED. You know this is behind you and I have already planted seeds in you that are a different flavor. Do not allow the enemy to steal your new hopes and transformations for old lies. Allow Me to take you through this process of inner healing and wash the layers of your past in the blood of My Son, the One Who took the stripes on His back so that you would be healed.

Isa 53:5 KJV
But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

In Psalm 84
Mark Kaphaem

Finding Ourselves in Psalm 84 - We Are His Tabernacle

The Lord has been speaking to me from Psalm 84.
As I was singing the worship song "Better is One Day", the Lord began to sing it back to me in a beautiful and touching way.

How Lovely is Your dwelling Place, O' Lord Almighty.

"You are My lovely dwelling place"

One thing I ask and I would seek, to see Your beauty.

"You are My beauty".

To find You in the place Your Glory dwells.

"My Glory dwells in You".

Better is one day in Your courts, Better is one day in Your house, than thousands elsewhere.

"You are My Tabernacle, You are My house, I dwell in you".

Read Psalm 84, and as you do, allow the Lord to sing over you. We long to dwell with Him in His Presence, His beauty, His Glory. He longs to dwell with us, within us, in His Tabernacle on this Earth. We are the Home of His Presence, His Beauty and His Glory.

As I was meditating on this, I saw a gathering of believers in worship. I saw a template of the Tabernacle in heaven being placed over them. The closer they came to lining up with this template, the more light and Glory and Power flowed into the gathering. Until at last they lined up perfectly and there was an incredible powerful surge of Heaven into the Gathering. At this point there was no barrier at all between Heaven and Earth and the two locations became one.

I began to sing a worship song to the Lord with a new melody for "We are climbing Jacob's ladder". The reality of a open Heaven. Now, open not only to angels, but to sons and daughter's of the Lord

Most High.

A chorus came to me.

Let Your wind Blow, Let Your wind Blow,
Let Your wind Blow, Let Your wind Blow,

I Am Your Tabernacle, I Am Your Tabernacle,
I Am Your Tabernacle, I Am Your Tabernacle,

My heart is Your Throne, My heart is Your Throne,
My heart is Your Throne, My heart is Your Throne,

Then back to the verse

I am a house for, Your Glory, I am a house for, Your Glory,
I am a house for, Your Glory, I am a house for, Your Glory,
I am, Your Beauty, I am, Your Beauty,
I am, Your Beauty, I am, Your Beauty,
Open Heaven! Open Heaven! Open Heaven! Open Heaven!

The Lord is bringing us into a new realty. As we walk in this new realty, we will find ourselves in a new place. We will no longer be just Earth Dwellers. We will be citizens of Heaven. Ambassadors of the Kingdom of God on this Earth.

Beloved ones. Meditate on these things until they become reality in your life. This is the key that brings an "Open Heaven".

I Saw A Mountain As A Tower

Ron McGatlin

"I saw a mountain as a tower - a great tall communication tower/mountain sending out waves of worship across vast areas. The tip of the mountain was as a crystal substance that radiated the Spirit across the land. The crystal clear sound of pure love of God without mixture will touch the world. The Lord is saying, It is the love of my Father through a pure and holy channel kissing the earth with consuming passion. The response of the consumed ones is a melted heart and worship that touches heaven - the very heart of the Father. The fire of jealous wrath will be poured out as coals of fire from heaven upon any who dare touch the apple of His eye, those consumed lovers who worship Him in spirit and truth at all times and forever.

The harvest will be drawn by His love not corralled. When HE IS TRULY LIFTED UP all men will be drawn to Him. This is NOT a short term project. All of the upward roads you have traveled over long distances and various terrains are now turned upward - ascending the mountain of humility and brokenness of life into the heights of purity and holiness of His glorious life. I hope to hear from you more of what God is doing at the mountain but sense it is a mountain of passion - great intensity of consuming love. Heaven Is Opening Now! Keep low to the ground."

I Saw Angels Turning Cartwheels

Bill Yount

I Saw Angels Turning Cartwheels Over the Nation's Capitol, Shouting...'WE ARE ON A HOLY ROLL!'"

A vote for righteousness on November 2nd seemed to shake down an avalanche of angels over Washington D.C. as the White House began to be decorated with yellow-gold ribbons. I heard the Father proclaiming, "Salvation is coming to My House... The White House will become a Light House with a burning fire, branding nations for eternity during the next four years!" I believe we will see a whole nation born again in one day in the next four years somewhere in the earth!

I sensed the Father decreeing, "I will restore the years that the cankerworm and palmerworm have eaten from this nation, and I will redeem time and will cause these four years to stand still on My spiritual timetable to accomplish what no other four years could ever do. These next four years will be known as the longest four years in America's history because of what I will accomplish! I will cause one day to seem like a month in government time. Remember one day with Me is as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day (2 Peter 3:8)!

"Because My people have begun to awaken and turn to Me in prayer and have begun to turn from their wicked ways (complacency being the most wicked way in her), I will begin to heal the land with signs and wonders and miracles. Healings in My Body will begin to be contagious, spreading throughout the land with medical breakthroughs with whole cities coming under the power of My influence!

"If My people keep humbling themselves and keep praying and keep turning from their wicked ways and keep pressing their foot on the neck of the enemy, My Kingdom will come to earth as it is in heaven! I promise you, you will see heaven on earth!

"Keep turning to Me...We are on a holy roll."

I Heard The Father Say.... "I Am Beginning To Prophesy Through Commercials, Candy And Clothing, Especially Over The Holidays!"
by Bill C. Yount

(theshofarhasblown@juno.com)

For those who think this word maybe 'way out there'.... remember God is way out there! He can do anything... just like He's God!

I sense the Lord is not only beginning to clean up the media and secular businesses but He will actually begin to prophesy through them.

Have you seen the commercial on television that has the cargo plane passing over and dumping money on the city, a little girl's birthday party and etc.

I sense the Lord saying, "It is time to dispatch those who work in my cargo section to fill the plane to full capacity to begin dumping my blessings upon the earth, cities and even little children's birthday parties! The rain of My Spirit is beginning to fall upon the just and unjust... all flesh!"

Another commercial that has been popular for some time is the one about the cell phone.... "Can you hear me now?" (God) Watch for television commercials to have bold prophetic statements to the Body of Christ and the world also! Though seemingly unnoticed by many, these words and images will pierce through darkness and cause God's word and light to rise, interrupting sinful programs and movies as these commercials are brought forth bringing conviction.

I sense the Father saying, "I will begin to meddle in the candy industry." I sense the Lord is going to begin to name some new candy bars. When these are named they will release a prophetic anointing every time the name of the candy is mentioned. These names will have power to call forth life and salvation.

I am sure this prophetic candy is bound to have a heavenly taste to it that will be out of this world! People will end up tasting and seeing that the Lord is good! I saw angels anointing candy bar wrappers like God anointing prayer cloths of apostle Paul. Names on popular candy wrappers will speak prophetically to whomever reads or speaks their names. Candy wrappers will become like anointed prayer cloths throughout the land.

Already God has named a few candy bars in the past unknowingly speaking to the world. One I sense is called the 'Milky Way' candy bar.... "The heavens declare the Glory of God!" Another is 'Symphony' by Hershey.... "Calling forth harmony and unity into the Body of Christ through God's divine order.

Concerning clothing, I sense the Lord is redeeming now the name of 'Levi's'.... a trademark name for denim jeans and trousers. I sense a prophetic anointing is being imparted to this clothing line. The name of these jeans will begin to call forth the 'spiritual' Levites this hour who are chosen to assist the Temple priests... the building of God's House. This line of clothing will be tailor made to fit these ones God will call into His Kingdom!

Another popular name I sense being anointed prophetically in the clothing line of jeans is 'Wrangler'. A 'Wrangler' is one who wrangles. 'Wrangle' means to dispute noisily or angrily; to quarrel.' I sense the Lord anointing 'wrangler' clothing to tame the tongues and lasso a new breed of young men and women who will have the "tongue of the learned to know how to speak a word to those who are weary."

Look for new names written down in Glory that will become trademarks put on commercials, candy and clothing beginning over the Holidays. Angels will be busy.

"Earth, Earth... hear the word of the Lord!"

I'm Buying
Bill Yount

"I Heard The Father Shouting Hilariously, "I'm Buying... It's On Me!"

For some 'only God knows' reason, all of Heaven seemed to be intoxicated as though staggering under the influence of an overwhelming joy that was shaking every mansion in glory! I hate to compare heaven with a drunk but have you ever seen someone so full of wine and while he is under the 'influence' he shouts aloud to everyone in the house. "I'm buying... It's on me!" Someone may ask him at that moment, "Why?" And he answers. "Just because I want to!" He normally wouldn't do this under normal conditions but the condition of being beside himself for that moment caused him to become an hilarious giver who could not be reckoned with.

It was as though something was causing the Father's heart to skip under the influence of 'joy unspeakable and full of glory, as I heard Him shout to the earth. "I'm buying... It's on Me!" I sensed He was sovereignly choosing to release and transfer heavenly finances and riches onto the earth to answer long awaited cries for provision to do His will in the earth! The Father kept repeating the phrase hilariously. "I'm buying... It's on Me! I'm buying bicycles, airplanes, airwaves, and nations. I'm buying dreams to come true for My people! I'm buying anything that my people can't afford in order that they may fullfill their calling and destiny! One scripture seemed to become rehma piercing poverty, doubt and unbelief.... "He has given commandment to bless and He has blessed and I cannot reverse it!"

I heard the Father proclaiming over the earth to His people... "Don't look to the heathen and wait for their riches and wealth to be transferred to you! That makes me jealous! Look to me! I will use the heathen to bless you but only as you look to me. First you must taste and receive of My riches in Glory that I have for you. No wealth on earth can compare to mine. Another scripture seemed to be activated this hour in the heavens and the earth... "But my God shall supply 'all' your need according to His riches in Glory by Christ Jesus!" I then saw what appeared to be a 'bank teller' angel picking up the key to Heaven's bank. I then heard the Father say to the angel. "Open it up and empty it out upon the earth! This is the hour for financial miracles upon the earth!" As this bank began to empty itself upon the earth, I saw it filling up again as it was emptying out. I couldn't believe it at first. What was filling Heaven's bank up again so it could continue to be emptied upon the saints and even sinners was simply the words 'thank you!' When a blessing from heaven came to earth no matter how big or small it appeared to be, the words 'thank you!' would push provision out of heaven's bank onto the earth and it would flow back toward the person who was being thankful for what they had received.

I sensed that those two words, 'thank you!" was what may have caused heaven to reel and stagger like a drunken man as the Father came under the influence of a joy that only comes from the earth that intoxicates all of heaven! I sensed the Father asking one of the angels... "Was that a 'thank you' from earth that I just heard?" The angel responded. "That 'thank you' came up by faith not by their feeling or sight. But that one is causing your heart to skip a beat again and your heart monitor is going crazy!"

I want to make clear that this spirit of giving being released in the area of financial blessings onto the earth is being sovereignly activated by the Father simply, "Just because I want to!" But what seemed to continue the ongoing blessings once they were released this hour was being thankful. Giving thanks to God our Father when your brother or sister gets blessed before you do. Giving thanks to the Father of all mercies when God chooses to bless your enemy first instead of you! Be thankful. What I saw coming is so awesome, it is enough for all of us to receive.

Again I hear the Father full of joy, joy, joy down in His heart shouting, "I'm buying... It's on Me! Just because I want to!"

"I'm buying the farm!"

Israel And The Church

David Silver

THE MYSTERY of the OLIVE TREE

In Romans 11 Paul talks about a mystery. There are several other places in the Bible that also speak of mysteries and I think that if the Bible calls something a mystery, we need to make a point to understand what the mystery is. So I want to talk about the mystery in Romans 11. Lets go there & take a look.

Romans 11:25 For I do not desire, brethren, that you should be ignorant of this MYSTERY, lest you should be wise in your own opinion, that blindness in part has happened to Israel until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. (NKJ)

Lets go back to the beginning of the chapter ....

Romans 11:1 I say then, Has God cast away his people? God forbid.

The answer to the question is GOD FORBID - some translations say CERTAINLY NOT. To my understanding either rendition is a very strong Biblical statement that the wide spread doctrine of REPLACEMENT THEOLOGY (that the Church has replaced Israel) is not scriptural. - to say the very least ! Lets read on ....

Romans 11:11 I say then, have they stumbled that they should fall? CERTAINLY NOT ! But through their fall, to provoke them to jealousy, salvation has come to the Gentiles.

I understand this to mean that the Jewish people as a race have fallen temporarily from God's grace and the Gospel of Salvation has come to the Gentiles in order for them to provoke the Jews to jealousy. Right here we see that God’s plan was always for the Gentiles to bring the Jewish people to a knowledge of their Messiah.

Romans 11:17 And if some of the branches were broken off, and you, being a wild olive tree, were grafted in among them, and with them became a partaker of the root and fatness of the olive tree,

Lets take a closer look at this. In scripture Israel is often referred to as the OLIVE TREE. So lets picture an olive tree - it has roots, a trunk and branches. The roots are the Patriarchs, and the 12 tribes and the natural branches are the people who by birth are the seed of Abraham.

Romans 11:24 For if you were cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and were grafted contrary to nature into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, who are natural branches, be graft- ed into their own olive tree?

So we see that the majority of the natural branches, the Jewish people, have fallen from the tree. What happens when a branch falls from a tree - it dies. And now Gentiles, being the wild branches have been grafted into the tree. But the end of the verse tells us that the Jewish branches WILL be grafted back in.

There are two main points I want to bring out here:

1/ The Gentile Church has NOT replaced Israel, but has become part of Israel

Eph 2:11 Therefore remember that you, once Gentiles in the flesh - who are called the uncircumcision by what is called the Circumcision made in the flesh by hands--

Eph 2:12 that at that time you were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel & strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world.

Eph 2:13 But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ.

Eph 2:19 Now, therefore, you are NO LONGER STRANGERS and FOREIGNERS, but FELLOW CITIZENS with the saints and members of the household of God,

Brothers and sisters - did you really realise that God counts you as FELLOW CITIZENS of the COMMONWEALTH of ISRAEL. This needs to be rooted deep into your heart.

But DON'T FORGET Paul's warning ....

Romans 11:18 …. do not boast against the branches. But if you do boast, remember that you do not support the root, but the root supports you.

Lets make another picture - we have the trunk of the Olive Tree - ISRAEL. We have most of the natural branches broken off & laying spiritually dead on the ground. We have the Church which has been predominantly made up of the grafted in branches for nearly 1900 years now and who have been either looking upwards waiting to see the Lord coming back or looking sideways at each other, but almost never looking back down the tree upon which they sit. If they would look down they would see the arch-enemy of Israel & the Church standing at the base of the trunk, with an axe, trying to chop the tree down. If the tree falls the natural branches and the grafted in branches die. We have the luxury of knowing the end of the story, that the OLIVE TREE survives, but it is up to us to pray towards that end. Only the natural Jewish branches who believe in Yeshua, and the grafted in Gentile branches are in a covenantal position with God to be able to do that.!!!.

The natural branches will be grafted back in - so what will that mean for the Church

Romans 11:12 Now if their fall is riches for the world, and their failure riches for the Gentiles, how much more their fullness!

Romans 11:15 For if their being cast away is the reconciling of the world, what will their acceptance be but .... LIFE FROM THE DEAD ?

I used to think that this meant life from the dead for the Jewish people, but I now believe that this means LIFE FROM THE DEAD for the Jews & the Church. Have you truly seen the power & miracles that we read about in the book of Acts happening around you? I believe that only when the missing branches are grafted back in, will the full power of the book of Acts seen again.

Is it any wonder that Satan tried to keep this from the Church and is it any wonder that the LORD told us in Romans 11:25 For I do not desire, brethren, that you should be ignorant of this mystery, lest you should be wise in your own opinion, that blindness in part has happened to Israel until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in.

I am sure we all know the story of the Prodigal Son. It is a perfect picture of what we are talking about today. The younger brother, the Church has been living in the house of the Father while the elder brother, the Jewish people have been out there squandering their wonderful inheritance. But the Father wants his son ISRAEL to come home to Him - He is waiting to see Israel running up the path towards His house. Don't you think it would please the Father to see His other son searching the highways & byways of this world looking for his brother, to gently pick him up & bring him home. What a day that will be - it will be LIFE FROM THE DEAD.

When The Lord first placed the vision for Out of Zion in my heart, I thought it was primarily to personally evangelise the Jewish people, but as I shared the vision with about 30 non-Jewish students at a bible school in Russia, the Lord showed me that here were 30 more potential evangelists to the Jewish people of the CIS. My ministry would be far more effective if I could impart the vision for Jewish evangelism to the Church. As we read before in Romans 11, Salvation has come to the Gentiles to provoke the Jews to jealousy (Romans 11:11). The Lord has destined the Gentiles to bring the Jews to Salvation in Yeshua. This can be seen in the following scripture

Isaiah 49: 22 "Thus says the Lord God - Behold I will lift my hand in an oath to the nations; and set up my standard for the peoples, They shall bring your sons in their arms and your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders "

This is now being fulfilled in the natural by ministries like Exobus and Ebinezer, who are physically bringing home the sons and daughters of Israel, but they also need to be brought home spiritually.

WHAT PART CAN YOU PLAY ?

In closing, let us take a look at what you can practically do to fulfill God’s call to the Church to provoke the Jews to jealousy.

I am in no way suggesting that you go down to the local synagogue with a bible and soapbox. The Jewish people have been verbally and physically abused enough for 2000 years in the name of Jesus. But pray for divine appointments & make the most of them. Learn how to be effective in witnessing to Jewish people. Please feel free to request a copy of Helpful Tips for Jewish Evangelism.

2) If you live by, or work with Jewish people, pray for them, be a friend to them, take every opportunity to share your experiences about the God of Israel with them. Gently and lovingly bring them home to the Father’s house. Tell them He loves them and is waiting for them to come home to Him. But they also need to hear that the only way to do this is through repentance & inviting Yeshua to be their Lord & Savior. Share Old Testament scriptures that talk about God’s love for the Jewish people and the verses that clearly point to Yeshua as Messiah.

3) Pray and intercede for Israel - remember you are fellow citizens .

4) If you are limited in what you can do personally, perhaps the Lord would have you support prayerfully and materially a Jewish orientated ministry like Out of Zion. (Romans 15:27) It pleased them indeed, and they are their debtors. For if the Gentiles have been partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister to them in material things.

It Shall Come to Pass

Hearken To The Voice Of The Lord http://www.angelfire.com/in/hislove/ montagud@telus.net

November 30, 2004

O, My people, open your eyes to see and your ears to hear what the Spirit is saying unto you today. Age old prophecies of events to take place in the last days of time are fast being fulfilled. O, My precious ones, so few of you have knowledge of what has been prophesied to take place in the latter days. You may be reading accounts of end time events but you pass them by, thinking they will not take place in your lifetime.

O, My people, I need to warn you that these times of chaos throughout the world shall only accelerate and I desire that you be ready to meet them headlong.

What does My Word say about the last days?....

And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God, that I will pour out of My Spirit on all flesh; Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your young men shall see visions, your old men shall dream dreams. And on My menservants and on My maidservants I shall pour out My Spirit in those days; and they shall prophesy. (Acts 2: 17,18)

O, My people, even now is this Scripture being fulfilled and My Spirit is being poured out on ALL flesh...the saved and unsaved alike. I am giving the youth of the world powerful prophetic messages and countless young men are seeing visions and old men are dreaming dreams. Again, I would say to you, mothers and fathers, pray for your young people for I have chosen them to pick up the mantles of the elderly and run with them throughout the world, teaching and preaching and winning the world for Me. Many of these young people shall be endued with powerful healing ministries and miracles of healing shall follow them.

My beloved people, hear the voice of the Lord, know that I am speaking to each of you today, calling you to My side to receive all that I have for you, to prepare you for the days ahead.

When you are in distress and all these things come upon you in the latter days, when you turn to the Lord your God and obey His voice (for the Lord your God is a merciful God) He will not forsake you nor destroy you, nor forget the covenant of your fathers which He swore to them. (Deut. 4:30,31)

My Word is truth and if you are obedient in following My Word in the latter days I shall never leave you nor forsake you. I shall be with you through all the tribulation that shall come upon you. I have not promised that you will not encounter difficult times but I do promise to be with you and bring you safely through all tribulation. I shall pour out upon you, My power and anointing and you shall accomplish great things for Me even in the midst of perilous times.

He who rejects Me, and does not receive My words, has that which judges him....the word that I have spoken will judge him in the last day. (John 12:48)

My precious ones, be careful to study My Word diligently and to put it into practice in your lives so that you not face My judgment when I come.

I Saw Jesus' Eyes
Judy Curmi

3-28-98

We were out in the Port Au Prince slums in a place called City Dump. It was a place of total and abject poverty and squalor with no electricity, no sewage disposal, and no water except the runoff effluent from a local factory. Pastor Cassy was giving out 4-oz cans of milk to the children.

One place, as the children were lining up from the shortest to the tallest, Jesus looked RIGHT AT ME through the eyes of the littlest boy present. The child was approximately 2 – 2 ½ years old. He was dirty and had just run through a puddle of green slimy water to get to us. He had a top, but no pants or diaper and no shoes.

The encounter only took a few seconds, but I was in total shock. I felt like falling down before those eyes right there in the mud and squalor.

No one can outstare Jesus.

No one will HAVE A THING TO SAY IN THEIR DEFENSE, if they get looked at like that.

Your soul is stripped bare. You know there is no excuse you can make and nowhere to hide.

The eyes were:

Stern Compelling Fiery
Piercing Questioning
All authority and All power.

The Fear of the Lord struck me very powerfully. It's impossible to explain in human words. I was very shaken up. This, I felt, was the message of the eyes:

"Judy, no one wants to do this work. Will you abandon me, too? …If you want to abandon me, it won't be the first time. Virtually everyone abandoned me at the cross."

I found out the next day that this was a place where typhoid, malaria and dysentery are all found. Government officials won't go there. Pastor Cassy has not been able to get doctors and nurses to go there. Most other missionaries won't even go there. The one exception has been Roman Catholic Nuns of the Sisters of Charity, Mother Teresa's order.

I Saw The Bride

Heidi Owens

I was just walking in the evening air with my children. While I was practicing a song I am learning in Hebrew, I saw a vision of the Heavenlies

I saw the Bride being carried in a palanquin. Mighty warrior angels on all corners, making certain nothing in heaven or on earth could stop the Bride from reaching her Beloved. Around the palanquin was a vast army of cherubim and warrior angels. They said in a loud, wonderful chorus: "here is the Bride of the Son of Man! Make a sure path all you princes and principalities, for the Bride is coming to the bedchamber!"

The palanquin was adorned with gems, all the colors of the 12 gems of the ephod. Each gem seemed to sing a different song, relay a different thanksgiving hymn. The poles were golden, and strong, making certain nothing touched the Bride or her litter. The veil protecting the bride was white gauzy linen, woven with gold, so that none could look on her before she met her Bridegroom.

I watched this palanquin with its mighty host pass through vineyards, and young girls cried out: "Here is the Bride of the Son of the Most High God! We will press new wine for their honour!" They tossed grape leaves in the air and celebrated the passing of the Bride through the vineyards.

When the palanquin reached the chambers, the Bridegroom stepped out, and parted the veils. His light was so powerful and pure, the Bride was completely hidden from view. He walked her to the chamber and all the host of Heaven began to sing: "At last the Bride is home with her Beloved! At last the Heavens rejoice!"

I saw the Lord smile and say "It is pleasing to have the Bride in my house with my Son. What I have put together, let no man take apart"

When I asked the Holy Spirit about these mysteries, He said: "The time of intimacy is here. I am moving the people of God into a level of intimacy that can only be from on High. There will be tears and joy, breaking and healing, and they will know the heart of the Most High God! They will know His heart is for them, and they will be undone. I am pouring out the peace, and the love of the Father, I am breaking hearts for the Lost as my people come into new intimacy with Him."

"This season, I am making it clear, what is religion and what is relationship, and the Bride will sing out loudly, "My beloved has a relationship with me!" A new freedom in worship will come, a new communion, when my bride enters into a deeper intimacy with me, with the Lord Most High."

I saw the Bride come out of the chambers, beautiful and round with love. Pregnant and ready to give birth. The Spirit said to me, "Bring forth a new intimacy, Daughter of Zion! Call forth the nations into the embrace of the Father! Birth healing through your groanings, and joy through your praise. Daughter of Zion, dance on the back of the enemy, take back hearts and land and show them to the palanquin waiting just for them."

Oh Lord, God of all Creation! Praise your Holy Name! We long to be in the deepest of intimacy with you. Lord we want to be pregnant with the fruit of Heaven! Break us Lord, Holy Spirit, woo us into that place of total surrender, total trust, total intimacy. Oh Precious Bride, we thank you for choosing us, for Your love which casts out all fear. Make us worthy Oh Lord, to be called your Bride in this hour!

Amen

Preparing for the bridegroom's coming

Heidi Owens

Aug 07, 2004

I woke up this morning leaping out of my bed with great expectation that has been in me for some days now. I asked the Lord about this vision I had last night, and all about the bride chambers. This is what the Lord spoke to me:

"I am taking my people through a time of purification. Get ready for a setting aside time. This time of preparation comes before the palanquin is sent to carry the Bride. There must be a cleansing, stripping, wearing off of the old self, so that only the virginal purity remains."

"Just like Hadassah preparing, I am taking the Bride through a season of preparation. Preparation for the night you will spend with the King. There was a selection process, and now the consecration. Cleansing and scrubbing, "dietary" cleansing, and deep perfuming. There are new robes and fine adornments for you that I cannot place upon a filthy body. Sometimes the cleansing may burn and be uncomfortable. Sometimes the "food" will make you vomit out all that is impure in your belly. Sometimes the humility of your nakedness as I strip away the rags will leave you feeling vulnerable. Sweet perfume will be so fragrant you will forget every foul stench you've ever known. Even the overwhelming beauty of your new robes will bring you to tears

There is coming the hour, when I am making my Bride a warrior Bride. A Queen must be prepared to battle alongside her King. And the Bride will be so strong and ready, she will be able to go into battle in her pregnant state. This is why there is so much preparation."

I saw the Lord holding the Bride in His arms as He stripped her bare of all the rags she clung to. She leaned into Him and cried until His robes were soaked from breast to floor. He covered her nakedness, with a tremendous light, and her vulnerability was His alone. In a breath He anointed her to her very spirit, and the fragrance filled the room. Even the hosts of Heaven began to rejoice and at it filling the air. With a piece of His robes He dressed her. The linen was the purest white I've ever seen. It covered her bareness, which was now bathed in splendour."

When He laid her to rest on a bed of pillows and silk, He said to me, "Daughter come and see, here is all I have for this child." I came with Him to a room full of coffers, armour golden and strong... There were war banners and Jewels, and He called this room "ta rooah muzhav", saying it was her place only.

When she woke up, He showed me a room with a table and three chairs. He said, now we eat with the Bride, she needs good fruit." We sat a while, and while she ate he fed her from His plate, the choicest pieces. She ate like a child hungry after a famine, and He patiently fed her until she was full for a moment.

He looked across the table to me and said, "Daughter of Zion, bring the rest to me, so I can make them ready for my Son." With this He kissed my head and warm sweet oil poured out on me. My hair became sticky and dripped as I went out from there.

"This is the season" says the Spirit of the Lord, for "the mature to bring in the immature, for the loved to bring in the unloved. Those who bring the bride to the King must be consecrated themselves. Bring yourself into a time of preparation and sacrifice before the Lord!"

Oil and thorns
Heidi Owens

Aug 07, 2004
More stages of this vision came to me as I went throughout my day. I went to the market and saw so much of it my mind became blurry.

I looked out as I went from the House of the Lord. All around I saw a countless number of people dressed in rags. I could hear each of them saying, "Here I am, unworthy and alone. There is no hope for me."

I was actually quite surprised to see people who I knew in the natural, crying out like this. My heart was filled with grief. Deep aching sorrow gripped me, and I began to call out: "There is One! There is Hope!" but no sound came from my mouth, only a breath. I became frustrated, wondering why none of them could hear me, and I tried to shout. They walked past me as though I was not there.

"Action," said the Spirit of God. "Action will accomplish the purposes of God."

My head dripped oil, and left a puddle where I stood. It began to spread. People began to walk in it, slipping and falling. I tried to help them to their feet, but the longer I stood, the more the oil spread, and the more people fell. Their ragged clothes soaked with oil. As they fell they began to weep, salty tears mingling with sweet oil, and many, many people began to fall in this oil.

"Stand, make a mark and go on," the Spirit said, so I began to walk. Everywhere I walked, the oil left pools, and people dressed in rags fell.

As I came to the edge of the marketplace, a group of men stood in the gateway. "How are you leaving this mess behind you?" they asked crossly. "We need to keep the undesirable in rags, the fine clothes are for the likes of us!"

"The Lord rebuke you!" I shouted. "How dare you withhold the love of the Most High from ones such as these? You speak false teaching and your love is poison in a bottle, what palanquin could carry you but the palanquin lined with thorns!?" I raised my hand and light was cast upon these ones, showing the rags they wore. Their garments looked fine but in effect they were made of flimsy garbage.

Picking up stones they came after me, seeking to stone me, but the Bridegroom said "Here is no adulteress, she is my Bride. If you seek to stone someone, stone yourselves, for you are as adulterous as any I have ever seen." Hearing this, they looked into His face in astonishment and died.

"Daughter of Zion, walk out with me." he said. "Let me show you where to spread your oil. See what has happened because you waited on me?" He indicated that I turn and look behind me. Among the people who had fallen in this oil, I saw the Lord, taking them to the place where they would prepare to meet the Bridegroom. "Here I thought the banquet table would have many vacant seats, and now I am rejoicing to see differently. Let us not walk, but rest in this palanquin together, and I will show you what I have next for you to do?"

I looked where the men had fallen dead and saw thorns grow up from that place. "Kind and gentle Master, please, mark that place well, so others won't walk there and have their poisonous thorns prick them an infect them."

"For you, Daughter of Zion, I will, but where I am taking you next there are many such men. You will know them by their fruits and they will despise you for yours. I will be with you, and they will not harm you."

He called the place something that sounded like "moor havar" and a fiery angel stood before it. With Him by me, I rested.

Then I was able to focus on the natural again.

AMEN!

I Raised The Jeweled Broadsword
Heidi Owens

Aug 08, 2004

When the Lord brought me to the place where He had this task for me, He set me down on the ground. "Daughter of Zion, here is the land where milk and honey must flow. This land is captive by the thieves who steal, and gluttons who devour. They will try to distract you, because they hate you, and the fruit you bear. They will try to keep the brides from coming forth. Be strong, no one will be able to stop you in this task."

The heavenly guardians stood with the palanquin at the edge of the land. I looked deep into the land before me, and it seemed to be fine to my natural eyes. From the horizon a man approached me. He seemed determined. "Do you come in peace?" he asked. "Or do you come to set the captives free? If you have, then you will surely die."

"If you have in your possession the Bride of my Master's Son, then I can not come in peace." I said curtly. He began to hiss and seethe. His eyes became red as blood. He looked as though he would tear at my throat, and I said loudly:" The Spirit of the Sovereign LORD is upon me, because the LORD has appointed me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent me to comfort the brokenhearted and to announce that captives will be released and prisoners will be freed. He has sent me to tell those who mourn that the time of the LORD's favour has come, and with it, the day of God's anger against their enemies. To all who mourn in Israel, he will give beauty for ashes, joy instead of mourning, praise instead of despair. For the LORD has planted them like strong and graceful oaks for his own glory"

Hearing this the man held his ears and cried out," Daughter of Zion has come to steal our bounty!" alerting the others of my arrival. All at once I was surrounded by many men, all looking alike. Their countenance was like a dark cloud closing around me. "No Daughter of the King has ever come this far! You will surely die now!"

By my side was a broad sword covered with jewels like the ephod. They seemed to shine more brightly than ever now, and they covered every inch of the gold sword. I raised the sword, and touched the heavenlies. The light from the throne room poured out through the clouds, and cut down the men. Sword in hand, I stepped over them and walked on into the land.

Each house was like a tomb. I could see that no vineyard bore fruit, and no field of grain would come to harvest. I became concerned, and asked the Lord, "How are these eating?"

"These ones have never eaten" He said, "The oppressors have taken the harvest all their lives."

When I came to a bridge, there were children hiding underneath it. I climbed down under it, and they seemed to be unable to speak. "Why hide? Here is the hand of one who is sent to free you."

"The masters said the Daughter of Zion had come, we heard them shout it. These many years we were afraid of her, for they told us she was a destroyer of yokes. Our yokes are all we have."

"Know this," I said, "I am a destroyer, a berserker. I am sent to free you, and give you the yoke of my Master, which is light as air. This land will flow milk and honey now, the devourers have been cast out. The thieves have been struck down. Everything you sow you will reap from here on."

As I spoke many came from hiding places. They explained to me that this bridge was forbidden, because it was a route to the King's house, and He wasn't interested in filth like them. I groaned in my spirit when I heard this, and said. "All who would come to the house of my Master, my Father, follow this path. Here is a standard sent up for you." And I held the broadsword up into the light, twelve gems casting a glorious light before me, all around us.

Walking across the bridge, I looked back, and saw a multitude coming with me. The angels and the palanquin following behind them. I could not take my arms down and the broadsword seemed light as a feather.

I looked up and the Spirit of the Lord said "Well done good and kind Warrior Bride. Let the masses follow you to the house of the Lord. Daughters of Zion arise and take up your swords, bring the people into the gates of the house of the Lord Most High." Warm oil poured out from above, and dripped down the broadsword and down my arms to the legs which carried me ad to the ground, leaving a trail behind me. "Don't worry about losing a single one of these; they follow the fragrance of the Bride who shows them the way." explained the Spirit of God.

When we reached the gates, they opened wide. The Lord was there and scooped up all these children of His just like this girl I had seen before. The palanquin came beside me and the Lord said, "Rest now, the battle has just begun."

Confronting the dragon
Heidi Owens

Aug 10, 2004
While this celebration continued, I looked out of the gates and beyond the lands of my Master. "Have I rested enough? I feel I must get strait to my task? Know, Lord my time with you is sweet and good, but I feel deep groaning in my belly, deep pain which I know is not mine."

"We will go out together, and see what's going on far away." He smiled at me.

In the palanquin, He sat with me, while we were taken to the lands I saw. We spoke about His children and His plans for them. Listening with attentive ears, I soaked in every word He said. He spoke of some I knew in the natural, and showed me their deepest hearts. He showed me some I only know through the spirit, and told me how this intercession was touching them. All the wile, I could feel my heart beat pounding deep within me.

We came to a beach. The guardians helped me put my armour on there. My Lord said to me," I have faith that you will find the dragon, kill it, and meet us again. Go across the water, and when you reach the far shore, the dragon will have smelled the fragrance of you, and be waiting. It doesn't hide, and pride is its weakness. You will have help there, and these will meet you on the other side of the mountain." Saying this, He took me in His hand and placed me upon the far shore.

The shore littered with corpses, was a stench in itself. Now I understood why the dragon would know me by my fragrance. Just as my Master had said, it came out from behind a crop of rocks, taunting me. "Daughter of Zion! Ha! Is this the best the King has to challenge me!? You lowly little child, I will enjoy devouring you, and killing you slowly. You are a fool for coming here; your Master has sent you here to die." The beast paused a moment and considered me. I stood saying nothing, only staring back angrily. "Perhaps, Daughter of Zion, we can make an arrangement. There is no queen in my realm; none of them pleased me so I ate them. You however seem different, stronger, and more powerful. Take this crown, wear it and declare me lord, and I will spare your life today."

It walked around me, considering, sniffing, calculating, waiting for my reply.

"Father of Jezebel, hear me. Nothing you have could be of any value to me, except the land here you have stolen form the captives, littered with bodies and poison. My Lord has sent me to destroy you, and I will do it gladly."

"Your Lord is a coward, who cannot fight His own battles. He sends a child, an innocent, to take on ME!"

Hearing this, I became wild with anger. Taking my broadsword I slashed one of its wings off. It became enraged and tried to slash me with its tail, when all at once a warrior angel stood on it. I swung again and cut off its tongue. Raising my sword over my head and aiming back, like a javelin thrower, I sent it strait to the belly of the beast. It screamed a horrible shrieking scream, and fell dead. The warrior angel stepped down and stood beside me.

"Don't touch that," it said to me when I reached to take my jeweled sword out of the belly of this thing. "Don't defile yourself with this filth."

"But my Lover gave me this sword, I must have it back."

Reaching, the warrior angel pulled out the sword, and a great groaning came.
The belly of the beast split in two and many, many captives, children of my Master began to fall out. "We take these to the House of the Lord," said the angel. "Look here, the beach is clean again, and the passage through the hills is visible."

I washed each person in the water by the shore, and we set out, the Lord and the palanquin only a short distance off. When I looked back, all that was left of the dragon was a pile of stone. We called this place something that sounded like "mak lanoo hoveh" and met my Master.

I Smile Upon You With My Favor

Sandy Warner

Oct 13, 2004
My child how often I have seen you look down because of your self image. It hurts Me so much to see your downcast eyes, when I love you so much! Your image shall change as you look upon My face, for you shall become like Me. Dear one, when you look into My eyes, you will only see the eyes of great love. I have placed My favor upon your life. Allow the generosity of this gift of favor to soak through to your heart. Finally, may it shine back through your eyes and may they never be downcast again, dear one.

I will bless you as you learn the language of My love. Each and every day will become an adventure as you see it through My heart for you. I want your eyes, your ears, all of you grafted into My stream of living Words, that I may reach the deepest most inner recesses of your soul. How I want to reach you!

Sometimes you have felt like you did not fit in to anyone's mold, but that is all right because I made you exactly to fit My own. You know, you are a lot like Elijah. He was somewhat of a loner and he isolated himself in his thoughts. But once I lit his flame, there burned such a holy passion for My Word, he would stop at nothing when I sent him. Few saw Elijah as a tender man. But that too I placed within him. I want to keep you tender. Guard your tender heart and keep it soft and pliable and ever yearning to hear My love language. Your heart is most precious and I do not ever want it to grow numb with hopelessness again.

You have earnestly asked Me for wisdom and I have liberally planted My wisdom within your life. I quicken your nuggets of truth like rich gold pieces, planted at the right time and the right place. Listen to My voice quicken your very words back to you, and let Me bless you with your own gifting. You are My master builder, and much will be accomplished through the wisdom that you have so carefully nurtured all these years.

Thank you for your intercessions, My love. You continue to rise above the ashes of your life as My burnt offering, liberally sprinkled along life's road. I see you standing tall among the crowds below. You stand out to Me. You are My hidden treasure, My gift and My sign. I will teach you the language of the prophets and you shall be My sign, My living Word and My message to the world.

Let Me fan your flame. I will continue to blow My winds upon you to make your torch grow hotter and hotter. It is My joy to bring you back to life and this time I intend to make you a wild one for Me. There will come a day when others would sell all they had for just one touch of what I will give you. Yes, for all the wounds you have suffered, I have now placed a torch within your hand. You know little of it now, but eventually you will even fan yourself with this torch of My Presence as often as you need it. I can hardly wait to see the look on your face when you discover this for yourself. Dear, dear beloved. Look up to Me, let your eyes settle into My eyes and let the joy of My liberal favor upon your life shine through your own.

Num 6:24-26 KJV
The LORD bless thee, and keep thee: The LORD make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee: The LORD lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.

Calling Forth The Hidden Seeds

Sandy Warner

Oct 20, 2004
There are times in My Spirit when all things come to fruition and it becomes time for you to prophesy and declare that the hidden things become manifest. I plant My seeds of promise and destiny within your womb and they grow in faith until the time for manifestation.

It is time for you to call forth what I have planted within you to become manifest. Prophesy, declare, write, pray, preach, sing, intercede, bring it forth. Release the hidden seeds from long ago onto earth and let My Spirit have full power in their fruition. Come forth, oh Words of God. Come forth and bear fruit on earth as it is in heaven. All things are coming ripe for the harvest. Rejoice oh bride. All of heaven rejoices with you.

Hag 2:19 NLT
I am giving you a promise now while the seed is still in the barn, before you have harvested your grain and before the grapevine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree have produced their crops. From this day onward I will bless you."

Grow Up And Eat The Meat
Sandy Warner

Oct 22, 2004
My people, I AM going to speak strong meat to you. You are still drinking milk and you need to increase your strength through protein. It is not My speaking that causes a problem, it is your inability to receive My Words of strong passion, both in love and war. Know you not the Voice of your Creator? Am I not the God of holy passion, the One Whose love is pure and intense? Feel My heart as I mount up with strong meat. Feel it build as I dismount the layers in your own hearts that would yet resist My voice to go deeper into the things of your God. I have called you forth for strength this day, now eat My Words and swallow them. I shall continue to feed you My meat until these strongholds fall in your mind-sets.

Heb 5:12-14 NKJV
For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the first principles of the oracles of God; and you have come to need milk and not solid food. For everyone who partakes only of milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, for he is a babe. But solid food belongs to those who are of full age, that is, those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

Learn To Abide
Sandy Warner

Oct 24, 2004

LEARN TO ABIDE
Come forth My beloved Bride.
I AM by your side.
I AM both in you and with you...
Now learn to abide.

Did you know it's a season?
Yes I AM your reason.
I AM your taste and see...
Now receive that I AM pleasin'.

I AM good Words and good fruit
I AM ankle deep to boot.
I AM here to help ...
Now let Me gather your loot.

> 1 John 2:27-28 KJV But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

The Great Hour Glass of Time
Sandy Warner

It is I Who holds the times and seasons in the palm of My hand. In a time of great delay, the sands of time were held back, then released once again to flow, one grain at a time. My people have suffered a great delay in answered prayers and promises. Yet, with each grain of passing, I distributed My Word like falling manna upon the earth. The gathering and keeping of My Word has been like a giant dam, storing up a large volume of promises and power, coupled with prayer and faith. And now, the last grain of sand has passed through to the other side. All heaven holds their breath as I, the Lord of Heaven, declare what is to come.

My hand is even now upon the hour glass of time; I AM the Just One, I will overturn. Where injustice was on top, now justice will reign. Where enslavement towered, liberty will ensue. What was once the tail, now will be the head. Watch now as I begin a new work and turn the tables and the tide.

Yes, the world is shaking, trembling and even perishing, but that is part of this powerful turn over. As I topple those powers who were unjustly on top, I will take them to the bottom of the pile. Make sure that your treasures are not My enemies, for My enemies are destined to be under foot.

Watch the new flow begin. Watch the enormous collected wealth of generations of promises begin to flow with fulfillment and purpose. Watch with anticipation as the harvest of all things falls into place!

Even as the birth canal stretches and opens to allow the baby to pass through, so has My hour glass enlarged its passage. Therefore, as I overturn this great hour glass of time, one grain of sand will still fall one at a time, but the flow will hasten. Eventually as the weight of the collected grains begins to dawn upon the hearts of My people, active faith will reunite with yesterday’s hope. One person at a time will leave the mind sets of yesterday and suddenly realize the tables HAVE turned. My people will come alive and KNOW I AM the Just One. I have heard their prayers; I have grieved with them and the shouts and groans of their most silent tears have kindled My heart like no other. They shall know Me, even as I know them. They shall know the Just One, Who is their Abba Daddy.

Deut 28:12-14 NKJV
The LORD will open to you His good treasure, the heavens, to give the rain to your land in its season, and to bless all the work of your hand. You shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow. And the LORD will make you the head and not the tail; you shall be above only, and not be beneath, if you heed the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you today, and are careful to observe them.

1 Cor 15:24-28 NLT
After that the end will come, when he will turn the Kingdom over to God the Father, having put down all enemies of every kind. For Christ must reign until he humbles all his enemies beneath his feet. And the last enemy to be destroyed is death. For the Scriptures say, "God has given him authority over all things." (Of course, when it says "authority over all things," it does not include God himself, who gave Christ his authority.) Then, when he has conquered all things, the Son will present himself to God, so that God, who gave his Son authority over all things, will be utterly supreme over everything everywhere.

These Are My Servants Across The World
Sandy Warner

Oct 17, 2004

Wild in enthusiasm, brave in your touch.
Wild in your passion, I need you so much.
I am growing you up - to be holy bold,
So that you will do - what you are told.
It's a fact and it's a must.
It's all of you for heaven or bust.
Heaven's great treasures,
in you to full measure.

These are the ones who are sold out for Me.
With their hearts in their hands for all to see.
Come free My people and delight their way.
Using nuggets of humor and they will stay.
I am watching you all from heaven above.
You delight My heart and My heavenly Dove.

It's all in the keeping, of My power to do so.
Wave your right hand and say that you know.
That you will trust Me in every way.
As I move you forward from this very day.
Now take a rest,
in what I do best.
Don't simmer and stew,
just say a big whew.

Be kind and not gruff.
Be bold and not tough.
I will weave it all in to teach you My stuff.
Bring Me your troubles and bring Me your cares
Untangle the fetters and untangle the snares.

Communicate what's on your heart to say

This will keep you from being led astray.
Wisdom is sure and will build her house.
From the meek one who wanted to remain a mouse.
From a mouse to a lion from a child to a man.
It's My glorious work multiplied all over the land.
He's My man and you are the plan.
To move into position at My right hand.

Holy Spirit breathe upon our letters.
Tenderize our hearts and remove the fetters.
We welcome You into our midst
Please abide with us and be our guest.
We lean upon You to provide our meal
Our hearts are humble, before You we kneel.

2 Cor 3:2-3 NKJV
You are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read by all men; clearly you are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink but by the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of flesh, that is, of the heart.

To Purge Abandonment
Sandy Warner

Oct 11, 2004
Yes, dear ones, I love you so much that I am willing to take you to far away places, or even have far away places come to you, just to set you free from your past wounds. At times you have felt like you are stripped naked, but I want to assure you, when in the pure Presence of My love, you are always clothed and safe. I would never abandon you to shame and I AM always with you in ways that you have yet to discover for yourself.

I know that issues of abandonment in your lives and in the lives of your loved ones have brought you through a trail of tears. This has become your private cross that you have born in silence. Beloved ones, the pain from these issues was not your fault. Circumstances may point to your failures, but I know the truth. Do not accuse yourselves. It hurts Me when you do this.

You have lived behind the closed doors of isolation long enough. Your joy will be returned to you in full - and you will never be alone again. You will be gathered with 3 generations of My kindred heart family.

John 14:18 NLT
No, I will not abandon you as orphans--I will come to you.

Unclean Soul Ties
Sandy Warner

Oct 15, 2004
Keep a watch care posted on the door of your soul. When you join with others who are like minded, always remember to keep your soul pure before Me. I make all things new and bring My people into My image. It is a process and until complete, wounds and soul giants taint lives with mixture.

It is for you to discern and purpose not to allow the union of your soul with their places of mixture. In these days of joining, both men and spirits are finding their common denominators for greater synergy. This is My work and a sign of the end of the age when I separate the wheat from the tares. Be sure that in your joinings, you flee compromise and stand for a life without mixture. In so doing, I shall greatly multiply your authority, boundaries and metrons. As I have spoken through My prophets, - to a people without mixture I shall pour My Spirit without measure.

Prov 16:17 NKJV
The highway of the upright is to depart from evil; He who keeps his way preserves his soul.

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." (Philippians 4:8 KJV)

Intense Spiritual Warfare

Barbara Lynch

joshua2000@delaware.net

Word of The Lord

July 27, 2004

There is intense spiritual warfare going on at this very second. My Holy Angels are in mortal combat with the enemy over the souls of the saints. This warfare has been raging for some time now and the enemy is prevailing. My saints must keep themselves armed with their weapons of warfare. They must not let down their guard for one moment. I have made a way of escape and all must take this avenue of escape at this given time. Keep your eyes totally fastened upon Me and allow Me to conquer the enemy of your soul for you. Many are beginning to fall at this given time, but soon and very soon My church will rise up victorious on all sides. Ride the wave of victory that I have placed you on Church and do not allow the enemy to dethrone you.

This is your hour of complete victory on all sides. This is your hour that you must rise up victorious in every situation. Do not take your eyes off of the prize of the high calling that I have upon your lives. Keep focused! Keep focused! For the enemy would love to devour you at this given time. He is throwing many darts at My Chosen Ones, but remember what I have spoken in Isaiah 54, No Weapon formed against you shall ever prosper. Come on church rise up above these fiery darts and ride the victory wave.

Take heed to the voices of My prophets and do not allow the enemy to close your ears to My Words of direction at this given time. My prophets are listening intently for My directions, and they are taking them to the church. Church, rise up and listen to what saith the Lord at this given time.

I have already come and plowed up the fallow ground. Allow the seeds to take root and then go forth under My Victory flag and destroy the enemies&#8217; camp on all sides. Great salvations await My church. Great rewards await My True Body of Believers. Manifestation after manifestation will occur as My Church walks forward triumphantly.

July 30, 2004

Dear Children:

I write this letter to you, to let you know how very much I love you. You are forever etched upon My heart and I am forever watching over you. At this given time some of you are swaying under the heavy hand of the enemy. But I say unto you, hold on! Hold on, for I am coming for My church. I am coming to restore all that the canker and the palmer worm has stolen.

KJV Joel 2:25. And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, My great army which I sent among you.

This is a time of much confusion in the Body, but I am coming to clear up the confusion and to bring order back into My House once again. The enemy has had his time, and now, I am coming after My Bride and I shall wash you white as snow and you shall no longer be swayed by the evil one.

I Corinthians 14:33. For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.

Restoration is coming into My House and great shall be the salvation of My people. Those who are called by My name shall do mighty exploits at this given time. Stand up. Dress yourself in your battle gear and go forth and slay the giants in the land. Did I not promise complete restoration? Then the church shall see complete restoration. I am restoring the land. I am bringing back My Holy anointing into the houses that have laid wasted and desolate.

Acts 3:21. Whom heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, which God has spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets since the world began.

All shall see the Glory of the Lord, for the days of Joel are coming upon My churches throughout this entire continent. No one will be left out. All who call themselves My Children and walk in My statutes shall know of My Holy anointing upon their lives.

The reapers have been sent out to My churches and they are doing the final works before My Holy spirit overtakes the churches. America shall know My Glory once again. She will stand in a state of repentance and she shall cry out to a Holy God and I shall hear from My Holy mountain and I shall sustain My True People. The floods shall not overtake them, for they shall be protected by My strong right arm. For I am truly Jehovah Jireh to My chosen people, who are called by My name.

Matthew 13:30. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, &#8220;First gather together the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn.&#8221;

Matthew 13:39. The enemy who sowed them is the devil, the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are the angels.

James 5:4. Indeed the wages of the laborers who mowed your fields, which you kept back by fraud, cry out; and the cries of the reapers have reached the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

Rejoice church! Look up, for your redemption doth draweth nigh.

I See You My Daughters

Olivia Long

faithbuildersmins@sbcglobal.net

May 1, 2004

I see you, My daughters, I see the deep heartcries of My own. You have been in a desperate situation and time and have tasted the mire and the desperation that many of My Beloved have been living in for much of their lives even unto this moment in time. I see My daughters who have cried out night and day for true love from their earthly fathers as they continue to seek their acceptance and love. I see as fathers continue to suppress their daughters even under the pretext of doctrinal issues and traditions of religion. I see the loyalty of your fathers to Me but I also see the areas of jealousy, competition and the pride of man that they exhibit towards you. To you, My daughters, know that you have a Heavenly Father who cares about you more than you can ever think or imagine and that it is My desire that your earthly father will see you as I do... You have been in painful situations because of your earthly fathers and they have not been easy upon you and it has taken great faith on your part to remain afloat. My daughters do not think that the I AM does not see or feel your pain. Know that My hand is not short and know that I AM able to deliver you and promote you into the destiny I have for you.

I see you, My daughters, I see as husbands continue to try to manipulate and control you again under the pretext of doctrine, tradition and even pride in who they are. What My beloved ones fail to understand is that when I brought forth man, you were already in him. Woman was not brought forth at another time but you were inside man when he was created ready for Me "to bring out" - to stand beside him 'as one'. I see "your" pain, My daughters.... I see the pain as you follow Me with all of your heart and I see the pain as husbands continue to tear down even though, in their own eyes, they never see this as happening. Men who profess to follow Me and all My ways but ever so subtly are tearing down their wives. My daughters, again do not think that the I AM does not see or feel your pain or of what is happening. I did not create man to control their wives in order to elevate themselves whether it be in the spiritual arena or in the natural. You have stood and you have prayed for your husbands to see, to truly see what they are doing and to have the Godly marriage that was sought for you from the very beginning. You have stood but you have also watched as the situation does not change. Yes, I see you, My daughters and KNOW that I will bring you forth and into your destiny.

I see you, My daughters, I see as the church who operates in My Name, continues to belittle you in lieu of their traditions and doctrines. Teachings that bring down My creation, My daughters to a level you are not to be. My own are not to operate separately but together in one accord. I see, My Beloved, as the church and religion tries to separate you from your destiny but again, KNOW that I will bring you forth and into your destiny.

I see you, My daughters. I see your desperate situation, I see, hear and feel your desperate cries as you seek only to come forth in what I have for you - seeking with all of your heart your Heavenly Father and Husband who loves you with such an unconditional love and devotion that is sometimes hard to comprehend living under your natural conditions. You have felt the desire to give up. You feel as though you are going under. You are partaking and tasting what so many of My daughters are living under, even now. Through it all, I have equipped you to minister to those who are the downcast.

I am not a God Who is slack toward My promises to you. Know that I will do what I have said I would do in your life. Out of desperation comes My Glory. Out of defeat comes My victory. Because of your obedience and persistence with Me amongst your most difficult situation, comes My Glory and My power. Out of your persistence you have run the race and will now win the prize of My high calling on your life. You have been prepared through the winds of adversity and you will be crowned with My glory to be a light and beacon in this world of darkness. Up until now the light has been hidden or partially obscured but no more. No more will I allow My daughters to be suppressed. It is time the basket is removed completely from over the light. I have empowered you to do the ministry I have called you to and I have equipped you to do it... You have tasted your calling already but it is nothing compared to what you will see happen before your very eyes. The enemy has tried to stop what I AM doing in your midst but he has failed. There is an open door before you that will be a 'final' break of the old ways. Any, in their heart and by their actions who continue to suppress you will be brought low but it is My desire that fathers, husbands and the church see that I am establishing My daughters in the forefront of what I AM doing. Either they will be beside you or they will lag behind and stand alone.

My daughters, I see every moment of your sufferings, remember My Word: "I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us." As Naaman you have not given up after one dip in the pool, nor after two dips. I have called you, it IS coming, nothing can stop it! Don't be discouraged after a few dips but wait for number seven. I see you, My daughters and now - stand and watch as you see the I AM perform the miraculous in your life. Your eyes will see things that you have never seen before. Up till now My ravens have been sustaining you, but now the I AM steps into the situation.

My daughters, I have had you on stepping stones and I have walked you 'across the water" from your side of religion, and to the faith walk to MY side. I AM a consuming fire... let Me consume you and you to consume Me. Let all that is mine be yours. My daughters, grasp and lay hold of each word I have given you. Speak it as though it's already happened and give Me the praise. Focus on Me, focus on My Word. I send many to encourage you and some are sent by the devices of the enemy to pull you down, but remember I AM always the final authority! I see you, My daughters and I say the time for striving to belong in your rightful place is over. The I AM Who has called you WILL perform it. Remain steadfast in your faith in Me, do not waiver, do not become discouraged, the He that has called you is faithful!

In Total Awe

Father, what is it that you are trying to reveal to me, at this given time?

Daughter, a great explosion is about to occur in My Body. It will be to such a degree, that all will stand back in total awe at what the Lord has done. This is a time of great persecution throughout the land, and great tribulation upon the earth. Look at the signs around about you! Look at the weather conditions! No one has seen this in such intensity before and they will never see it again, for I am about to conclude My works upon this earth.

The thunderings and lightings are proceeding forth, even as we speak.

I was at home when this part of the prophecy came forth. I was interrupted by a phone call, but I knew there was more to come and this is what God spoke that evening in our service right after praise and worship

Church you are like the five foolish virgins who thought they had forever to get their lamps prepared. I tell you My children, and I tell you now, if you would only see what is going on in the heavenly realm; if you would only see how My angels are scurrying about getting things prepared; you would run and get your lamps full of oil.
